PRIMA; THE FIRST THINGS, IN Reference to THE Middle and Last Things; OR, THE DOCTRINE OF REGENERATION, THE NEW BIRTH, The very Beginning of a Godly Life.

The Sixth Edition, compared and revised with the last London Quarto Edition, enlarged and corrected by the Author.

Delivered by ISAAC AMBROSE, Minister of the Gospel at Preston in Amounderness in Lancashire.

1 Cor. v. 17. If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away, behold all things are become new.

GLASGOW-COLLEGE,
Printed for Mr. James Cullen Preacher, Archibald Ingram, James Dechman, John Hamilton, and John Glasford, Merchants in Glasgow. M, DCC, XXXVII.
To the Worshipful, The Mayor, Aldermen,

And other Inhabitants of the Town of Preston in Amounderness.

THE Apostle Peter knowing (as he saith) 2 Pet. 1. 14, 15. that shortly he was to put off that his Tabernacle of the Flesh, as our Lord Jesus Christ had shewed him; therefore endeavoured that God's People, after his Decease, might have those Things he taught them alwvse in Remembrance: And thus it came to pass, that to this Day we have that Portion of holy Writ, which he then left in Writing. If Peter's Practice be imitable in this Kind, I suppose the same Duty lies on me. Revelation have none but many Stitches and Infirmitie, which I take to be Forerunners of my Departure hence. Some Things, and among the rest, these First Things I have taught you; what remains now, but that, after my Decease, you might have these Things alwvse in remembrance? To that Purpose, the same I delivered once to your Ears, I now present to your Eyes; as you were then pleased to hear them, so I trust you will now peruse them: Only, one Thing you may please to observe through this Treatise. That whereas, in the Name of Christ, I often beseech, exhort, command the Unregenerate to believe, to be reconciled to God, to pray, to fall on this, or, that Duty; it is not as if they could do any Thing of their own Strength or Power, but, because Jesus Christ, in exhorting, entreating, commanding, puts forth his own Power, and his own Strength to enable them. While Paul exhorted the saylor to believe in the Lord Jesus, that he might be saved, God enabled the saylor to believe. Life and Power is conveyed to the Soul in Gospel-Commands and Exhortations. While Ezekiel prophesied over dead Bones, Breath came into them, and they lived: So, while the Prophets of the Lord do preach over sinfull, and impenitent Hearers, who are like to the Prophet's dry Bones, the Breath of Heaven, the Spirit of the Most High, in the Ministry of the Gospel, enters into them, and so they are made new Creatures, and see the Kingdom of God. I have no more to say, only, I beseech God, you may receive a Blessing by these poor Labours upon your poor Souls: It is the hearty Prayer of

Yours to be commanded in all Christian Services,

Isaac Ambrose.
To the Reader:

Of many Books there is no end, and much study is a weariness to the flesh. Ecclef. 12. 12. The Experience of this Truth (especially in these latter Days) hath sometimes put me to sad and serious Thoughts. How should a Christian furnish himself with a sufficient Library to help him on in his Way Heaven-ward? Should he buy up all the Ancients, or (in case he want the Tongues) should he buy up all our modern English Writers, positive and polemical, they might fill his Closet, but he should find no End of buying, as there is no End of making Books: And if he resolvedly fell to reading, he might conclude with the Wise-man, Much Study is a Weariness of the Flesh; nay, in such Variety, he would find the most of his Study to be impertinent, to improitable, that he might further conclude, Such a Study is a Loos to his Soul, and rather an Hinderer, than an Helper of it in the Way to Heaven. To prevent this, some have advised Christians to choose out, amongst that World of Variety we now enjoy, such Authors are as most suitable to their Genius and Employment. The Lord Verulam, with some others, give their Opinions. That, if the choice and best Observations, which have been made dispersedly in our English Sermons (leaving out the Largeness of Exhortations and Applications therewith) were set down in a Continuance, it would be the best Work in Divinity that hath been written since the Apostles Times. And Dr. Hackwill repeats almost the same Words, saying, That the Sermons of this latter Age, specially in this Land, have doubtless been more exquisite and effectual, than ordinarily they have been in any precedent Age; insomuch as it is observed, that if there were a choice Collection made of the most Accurate since the Entrance of Queen Elizabeth, to these present Times (omitting the large Application therewith) it would prove one of the rarest Pieces that hath been published since the Apostles Times: Indeed, had we such a Book extant, I would advise the Christians of our Age to buy the Bible, and that Book, and to study them, and no more, as to their Spiritual Good: But, alas! this Book is rather wished for, than hoped after; we may expect and wait for it till our Eyes wink in our Heads, and be never the nearer. However, it was my Design to have carried on such a Business as this in the main necessary Things; not that I would read over all Authors on all Subjects, but that I would limit myself to such Subjects, and then, upon them call out the best and choicest Observations of many godly and learned Authors. In this Design I have practised and observ'd these Particulars:

1. I have brought into Method the Duties of a Christian, which I call, The Middle Things, in reference to The First and Last Things: The Matter I have for the most Part drawn from others, only the Method I have framed, as the Lord hath enabled; and wherein all Authors, that ever I saw, were silent, I have thereto added, to compleat the Work, for the Matter also.

2. I have purposely omitted the many Controversies and tedious Disputes of this Age: For my Part, I see little Edifying in them; nay, is not the Fat and Marrow of Christian Religion lost by them? Were I to advise against any Error, Heresie, I had rather bid my Adversaries read some Books of positive, practical Divinity, wherein Truth and Religion is laid out in its Life and Power, than all the voluminous Controversies that ever I could write, or ever have been writ by any other of the Sons of Men. I deny not, but these Kind of Books (the Spirit concouring) may convince Mens Judgments; but the other sort works both on Judgment and Conscience, on their Heads and Hearts: The controversial Way of Arguing, pro e contra, I cannot but approve; but the Way of the Spirit, in which he leads and convinceth the Soul irrefistably, I must needs prefer. Hence you see the Reason of the Method I have propounded; wherein I dare say (yet with a Spirit of Submission) the Workings of the Spirit, the Breathings of Christ, the Pantings of a Soul after Christ are more fully manifested, than in all the jarring Pamphlets which this Age hath copiously afforded: My Desire is both to inform, and to reform; to inform the Judgment, and to reform Life.

3. I HAVE the rather fallen on this Subject of Duties, both because necessary in their Way, and because they are so much opposed by many of our Age, who surely are not acquainted with them (with the Workings of the Spirit in them, and by them,) for otherwise it could not be so: If this Error spread, it will quickly eat out all Religion, and throw down Souls to Hell. Their Pretence is, who are the Abettors of it, That they have found out a near and easy Way to Heaven: But, I rather believe Christ (saith Rutherford) who tells us, it is a Way of many Miles, strait, narrow, and thorny; indeed, the meritorious Way to us is easy, but the Way of a Christian Conversation (whether they will or no) lieth through Duties; it is not Words, Lord, Lord; but Working, Sweating, Running, Wrestling, Fighting, Striving, Overcoming, Bleeding, Suffering, Abounding in the Work, Denying ourselves, Taking up the Cross, Enduring Temptations, Sowing to the Spirit, Serving the Lord with all Humility, and with many Tears and Temptations, Watching, Praying, Taking Christ's Yoke upon us, Selling all our sweetest Delights, Keeping the Commandments of Christ, which however they are not grievous, yet they are not so easy, as that only the bare Act of Believing should be the only Gospel-work. Matth. 7. 21. 1 Cor. 9. 24. 25. 2 Tim. 4. 7. Luke 13. 24. Rev. 2. 7. Acts 14. 22. Rev. 1. 9. 1 Cor. 15. 58. Heb. 12. 4. Matth. 16. 24. James 1. 12. Gal. 6. 8. Acts 20. 19. Matth. 24. 42. and 11. 29. 1 John 5. 3. Might we still lie in our Ivory Beds, under no Law, no Obligation of doing, no Danger of sinning, no broken Bones, no Terrors, no Sense of Sorrow for Sin, no Progress in personal Repentance, Mortification, Sanctification, no Care of watchful Walking to perfect Holiness in the Fear of God, no abstinence from worldly Lusts, no Striftness of Conversation, but only believe that Christ hath suffered, and Christ hath done all Duties for us, repented for us, mortified Lusts for us, walked strictly and holily for us, this were an easy Work indeed. For my Part, I would not make the Way to Heaven longer than Christ hath made it; but, if we believe the Scriptures, we shall find other Commandments on us under the Gospel, than believing only for Righteousness; Rom. 12. 1, 2, 3. Eph. 5. 1, 2, 3, 4. Col. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4. 1 Thess. 4. 1, 3. James 2. 13, 14, 15. 1 John 3. 17. There is the Righteousness of Christ received by us, and working in us; the first is the Righteousness of Justification, the second of Sanctification, and our Establishment lies in both.

4. I
iv.

To the Reader.

4. I have in every Duty, prescribed the Manner of performing it; not that I would tie every Spirit to this particular Way or Method; those who are accustomed to these Exercise of Devotion, may perhaps devise more fitting Courses, or Ways of proceeding, than these are; and it is Reason, and a Point of Wisdom, for every Man to make use of those Rules which in his own Experience he findeth most proper to his own Disposition, and most powerful for his own Reformation: Only, the Reader, that is better furnished, may please to make use of these; and I trust (by God's Blessing) he will find them profitable; which if he do in any Measur, it shall be to me sufficient Joy, Contentment, Recompence.

5. I have made use in this Treatise, not of one or two, but of many precious Men; as, Angier, Ab, Ball, Bolton, Burroughs, Byfield, Downham, Dyke, Goodwin, Gouge, Hooker, Leigh, Mason, Rogers, Shepherd, Torpel, White, &c. that the Adversaries of Duties may see what a Cloud of Witnesses are for Duties. It was sometimes Elijah's Trouble, The children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars, and I, even I only am left, 1 Kings 19. 10, 18. But 'twas the Lord's Encouragement of Elijah, I have left me seven thousand in Israel which have not bowed the knee to Baal. I bless God it hath encouraged me, and methinks it might trouble the Opposites, that not only many Thousands of God's People, but many Elijab among those Thousands, should appear with me, and against them. This is one Reason, why I choose rather to bring in the Authors, who seem to be, and indeed are Pillars in the Temple of our God, Gal. 2. 9. Rev. 3. 12. than to speak only in my own Dialect, or altogether from my own Invention.

6. I have writ nothing, but in some Measur I have, by the Lord's Assistance, practised the same, and felt the Comfort of it in my own Heart and Soul; yet, by way of Caution, I desire the Reader to remember, if at any Time in the Exercise of any of the Duties within written, he also feels his Heart warmed or savingly affected (which is the very Spirit, Power, Grace, Comfort, Tretence, and Sweetness of Christ) that he consider, it is not the Duty, it is not the bare Ordinance that elicits such divine and noble Acts in the Heart and Affection, but it is the Blood of Christ, the Intercession of Christ sprinkling these Duties, that makes them work such Graces in the Soul. In this Case, the Blood of Christ is as the Salve, and Duty is as the Cloth or Leather to which it sticks, and by which it is applied. Now from the Cloth (the Duty) comes no Virtue; no, no, it is only the Blood of Christ which by Duty heals and cheers the Soul. Many have wondered why sometimes they are so lifted up in Duties, and sometimes again they are no more moved by them than a Mountain of Brass is moved by the Winds: Why should the same Truth, the same Scripture, the same Meditation affect me at one Time, and not at another, when I am as fitly disposed to be affected as at the first? Why should the same Instruction, the same Reproof, the same Consolation awaken, wound, and receive my Spirit at one Time, and move me no more at another than a Charm doth a deaf Adder, as the Psalmist speaks? Psal. 58. 4, 5. I grant, in respect of the Subject, the spiritual Sense is sometimes benumbed, and sometimes it is awakened; but in respect of the Efficient, it is only Christ's Blood, Christ's Intercession that doth all by an admirable and secret Operation. I have no more to say of this Book, only, the Lord give a Blessing to it, and to the Reader of it: So prays Thy Servant in Christ Jesus, I. A.
A short Account of the Life and Character of Mr Isaac Ambrose.

As there has been a considerable Demand for the Books writ by Mr. Ambrose, and more particularly, of late, for this his Prima, Media, & Ultima, the Publishers were encouraged to undertake this Impression of it; which has met with all desired, yea, unexpected Success: And, as they judged an Account of his Life and Character would, no Doubt, be most acceptable to the Reader, they have been at some Pain to get a genuine, tho brief Account thereof; which is as follows.

Mr. Isaac Ambrose was born in the Year 1591, and, tho we are at a Loss to know his Parentage, yet, by the Figure he made, both in the learned World, and more especially in the Church, it appears his Education was liberal, and himself assiduous in his Application to his Studies; of which he has given evident Proof in his Writings, (it being impossible that such precious Fruit should grow either in a barren, or, uncultivated Soil) through all of which there shines the greatest Piety, Zeal for God's Glory, and Concern for the Salvation of Souls.

During the long Parliament, under Oliver Cromwell, he was settled at Preston, in Lancashire, where he laboured in his Ministerial Work, for a considerable Time, with great Success, and regarded of all; from thence he was removed to Garstang, within ten Miles of Preston, where the Act of Uniformity found him in the Year 1662, which was the second Year after the Restoration of King Charles II. when he, with near two thousand more Ministers, Lecturers, &c. were silenced and laid aside from the publick Work of the Ministry, for not conforming to the Established Church of England, and he was never again restored during Life: Yet that Time was not spent in Inactivity by him, but employed to the most valuable Purpose; for then it was he revised, and gave the finishing Stroke to the greatest Part of his Works, and wherein he composed other Parts of them, particularly his Discourse concerning Angels, which was the last of these his Performances; through which, and through all the rest of his Works there run a constant Stream of Piety, holy Devotion, and Meditation, and the greatest Fervour of Spirit; which very well agrees with the following Character given of him by a very learned and eminent Hand*: While speaking of the Reverend Mr. Isaac Ambrose, he says, "He lived and died a Nonconformist, and was a Man of that substantial Worth, that eminent Piety, and that exemplary Life, both as a Minister and a Christian, that 'tis to be lamented the World should not have the Benefit of particular Memoirs concerning him from some able Hand." The same Author adds further, "One Thing that was peculiar in him deserves to be mentioned here: 'Twas his usual Custom once in a Year, for the Space of a Month, to retire into a little Hutt in a Wood, and avoiding all human Converse, to devote himself to Contemplation. Possibly, by this Practice, he was fitter for his sacred Ministry all the rest of the Year. He lived, in the latter Part of his Life, at Preston, and when his End drew near, was very sensible of it. Having taken leave of his Friends abroad with unusual Solemnity, as if he foresaw that he should see them no more, he came home to Preston from Bolton, and set all Things in Order. In a little Time some of his Hearers came from Garstang to visit him: He discoursed freely with them, gave them good Counsel, told them he was now ready whenever his Lord should call, and that he had finished all that he had designed to write, having the Night before sent away his Discourse concerning Angels to the Presbs. He accompanied his Friends to their Hortes, and when he came back, shut himself in his Parlour, the usual Place of his Soliloquy, Meditation and Prayer; they thought he stayed long, and so opened the Door, and found him just expiring. This was in the Year 1664, Ätatis 72. He was holy in his Life, happy in his Death, and honoured by God, and all good Men.

The
The New Birth.

JOHN III. 3.

Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of GOD.

E read in the former Chapter, John 2. 23.
When Jesus was at Jerusalem, at the feast of the passover, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did: Amongst those many, here is one of them (faith Aulin*;) what one? of all Men the most unlikely is a Jew, of all Jews a Ruler, of all Rulers a Pharisee; John 7. 48. Have any of the rulers, or Pharisees believed on him? But howsoever it seem thus unlikely unto us, the Spirit of God bloweth where it listeth; here is amongst many Believers one Nicodemus, verse i. and he is a man of the Pharisees, a ruler of the Jews; a Jew, a Ruler, a Pharisee, God is able even of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham, Luke 3. 8. yea, we see here, (be they never so stony,) our Saviour melteth one of them with a Miracle, and by a New Birth he will make him a Son of Abraham indeed. A Miracle brings him to Christ, and Christ brings him to a New Birth: The First Nicodemus confesseth, John 3. 2. Rabbi, (faith he to our Saviour,) we know that thou art a teacher come from God, for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him. The Second our Saviour affirmeth, as if he had answered, To say I am sent from God, and not to be born again, will never help thee to Heaven; thy Confession is right, that I am sent from God, but thy Conversation is wrong, that art not born again: Thou comest to me with Confession of thy

The New Birth.

Faith, but here is a further Catechism, another Lesson; and therefore, as thou called me Rabbi, it thou wilt be a Scholar in my School, thou must learn these Principles, these Rudiments, these First Things, this Text, this A, B, C of Christian Religion, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

In Prosecution of which Words, (all tending to this one Point, the New Birth) we shall follow the Order set down by the Holy Ghost, where is,

1. The Necessity of it, no going to Heaven without it, Except.
2. The Generality of it, every Man is bound to it, a Man.
3. The Manner of it, how a Man is wrought in it, he must be born again.
4. The Issue of it, what Effects are annexed to it, The Kingdom of God, and sight of that Kingdom; a Man that is born again shall see the Kingdom of God; and, Except a man be born again, he shall not see the kingdom of God.

These be the Branches, and of every of them (by God’s Assistance) we shall gather some Fruit for the Food of your Souls. The first Branch is the first Word, Except.

This Except is without Exception; for unless we are new born, there is no going to Heaven; before we live here, we are born; and before we live there, we are new born: As no Man comes into this World, but by the first Birth, so impossible it is that any should go to Heaven in another World, but by the second Birth: And this gives us the Necessity of Regeneration.

Docet. Except a Man be new born, he can never be saved. It is our Saviour’s Speech, and he confirms it with a double Concession, Verily, verily, I say unto thee. Twice verily, which we find not any where but in John’s Gospel, and no where in the Gospel so oft, as on this Argument: How then should we disbelieve this Truth, where we have such a Witness as Christ, such a Testimony as his Verily, verily, I say unto thee?

Again, God the Father thus counsels, not only Nicodemus, but all the Jews of the old Church, saying, Make you a new heart, and a new spirit, for why will you die, O house of Israel? Ezek. 18. 31. Notwithstanding all their Privileges (for they are Israelites, to whom pertains the Adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises, Rom. 9. 4.) Yet here is [unum necessaríum] one Thing necessary, that must crown all the rest; they must have a new Heart, and a new Spirit, that is to say, they must be new born, or there is no Way but Death; from which Death, see how the Lord pulls them with his Cords of Love; alluring, wooing, questioning, Why will ye die, O house of Israel?

And yet again, not only the Son and the Father, but the Holy Ghost too will avouch this Truth; He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches. And what’s that? To him that overcometh, will I give a white Stone, and in the Stone a new name written: yea, I will write upon him new Jerusalem, and I will write upon him my new name, Rev. 2. 17. and 3. 12. The Meaning is, He that is new born, and doth overcomes sin, God’s Spirit will give

give him his grace, the white Stone, and his Kingdom, the new Jerusalem, and a new Name, the Name of Filiation, (faith a Modern, Aretius in loc.) whereby truly he is called the new born Son of God. See here how Old things being done away, all things are become new, 1 Cor. 5. 17. by a new Birth Man has got a new Name, a new Inheritance; and therefore as the Spirit, to the new Birth is called a Fire that purgeth away Dross, and makes Souls bright and new, so that we must pafs thorow this Fire, or no Passage into Paradise.

Nor is this Doctrine without Reason or Ground.

For, Except by the second Birth, Man is First, unholy, and therefore most unfit to enter into Heaven. Without holiness no man shall see God, Heb. 12. 14. And what is Man before he is new born? if we look upon his Soul, we may see it deformed with Sin, defiled with Lust, outraged with Passions, overcarried with Affections, pining with Envy, burthened with Gluttony, boiling with Revenge, transported with Rage, and thus is that Image of God transformed to the ugly Shape of the Devil: Or should we take a more particular View, every Faculty of the Soul is full of Iniquity, the Understanding understands nothing of the things of God, 1 Cor. 2. 14. the Will wills nothing that is good, Rom. 6. 20. the Affections affect nothing of the Spirit, Gal. 5. 17. In a Word, the Understanding is darkned, the Will enthralled, the Affections disordered, the Memory defiled, the Conscience numbed, all the Inner-man is full of Sin, and there is no Part that is good, no not one. But what say we of the Body? sure that is nothing better, it is a rotten Carrion, altogether unprofitable, and good for nothing. Should we view it in every Part and Member of it? the Head contrives Mischief, the Eyes behold Vanity, the Ears let in Sin, the Tongue sends out Oaths. Come we lower, the Heart lodgeth Lust, the Hands commit Murder, the Feet run to Evil; all the Senses are but so many Matches to give Fire to Lusts, Deceits, Envies, and what not? How needful now is a new Birth to a Man in this Case? Can he enter into Heaven, that favours all of Earth? Will those precious Gates of Gold and Pearl open to a Sinner? No, he must first be new moulded, and sanctified; or he is excepted; Except a man be new born.

Secondly, Except This, and Man is God's Enemy; no greater Opposition than betwixt God and a Sinner: Consider we him in his Essence, or in his Attributes? in his Essence he is called Jehovah, both in respect of his Being, and of his Promises; in respect of his Being, and to God is contrary to Sin; for Sin is ataxy, Disorder, Confusion, a Not-being; and God is Order, Perfection, Holiness, an absolute and a simple Being: In respect likewise of his Promises, wherein there is a main Opposition to Sin; for howsoever he promiseth a Reward to the Regenerate, and so the Name Jehovah is a golden Pledge unto us, that if we repent, he will forgive us; yet, withal he promiseth Storms and Tempest, Fire and Perdition to the Unregenerate: And thus his Name and Nature is altogether opposite to Sin and Sinners. But view we those Attributes of God, I mean his Justice, Truth, Patience, Holiness, Anger, Power; his Justice in punishing the Impenitent according to his Deferts, his Truth effecting those Plagues which he hath spoken in his Time, his Patience forbearing Sin, Destruction till they are grown full ripe, his Holiness abhorring all Impurities, He cannot behold Iniquity, his Anger stirring up Revenge against all offered Injuries, his Power mustering up his Forces, yea, all his Creatures against his Enemies; and what can we say, but if all these Attributes are at Enmity with sinful Man, wo worth to Man because of Offences! better he had never been born, than not to be new born; alas, what shall become of him? Can he that is God’s Enemy see God in his Glory? no, there is no Way but one, Except he repent, Except he be born again.

Thirdly, Except] by a new Birth, Man is without Christ, Eph. 2. 12. for If any Man be in Christ, he is a new creature: And if he be not in Christ, what Hopes of that Man? It is only Christ that opens Heaven, it is only Christ that is the Way to Heaven; besides him, there is no Way, no Truth, no Life; and, if we be in him, as the Branch in the Vine, it is of Necessity that we bring forth good Fruit: Upon these Terms his Death is effectual, if we become new Creatures; or otherwise, all his Merits (his Blood that was shed, his Body that was crucified, his Soul that was agonized) they are nothing unto us, we nothing bettered by them: He died for all, but his Death is not applied, his Kingdom is not opened, have only unto them that have learned and practised this Rule of Exception: Except] a man be born again.

Fourthly, Except before Excepted, a Man is a very Limb of Satan, a Child of Darkness, and one of the Family of Hell. Consider this, ye that are out of the State of Grace, in what miserable Thraldom is your Souls? Should any call you Servants, or Slaves of Satan, you would take it highly in disdain; but take it as you please, if you are not regenerate, you are in no better Cafe: Paul appeals to your own Knowledge, Know ye not, that to whomsoever you give your selves as servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey? Rom. 6. 16, 23. If then ye obey the Devil’s Suggestions (which you do, being unborn) what are you but the Devil’s Servants? And if he be your Master, what is your Wages? You may see it in the last Verse, The wages of sin is death; Death of the Body, and Death of the Soul; Death here, and Death hereafter in Hell-fire. Alas, that Satan should have this Power on Man! that he who is the Enemy, and means nothing to a Sinner but Death and Damnation, should be his Lord, and tyrannize it over him at his own Will and Pleasure! Would any Man be hired to serve Lions and Tygers? And is not the Devil a roaring lion, walking about, and seeking whom he may devour? 1 Pet. 5. 8. To serve him that would devour his Servant, is a most miserable Bondage; and what Pay can one expect from Devils, but roaring, and devouring, and tearing Souls? In this Plight are the Servants of Corruption, Slaves of Satan, so I rightly call them; for, Of whomsoever a man is overcome, even unto the same is he in bondage, 2 Pet. 2. 19. To wind up this Point, Lord, who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle, who shall rest in thy holy mountain? If we believe David, Not he that slandereth with his tongue, or doth evil to his neighbour, or giveth his money upon usury, or taketh a reward against the innocent, Psal. 15. 1, 3, 5. No, such are the Servants of Satan, and here is Matter of Exception against them; Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

The Sum of all: Without Regeneration no Kingdom; for whether we consider Man in regard of himself, or of God, or of Christ, or of Satan, he is (Except he be new born) unholy, God’s Enemy, out of Christ, in Satan.
The New Birth.

Use. And if the new Birth be thus necessary how should we labour to be born again? I mean not, as Nicodemus, to enter into our mothers womb again, and be born; It is not the Seed of Man in the Womb of our Mother, but the seed of Grace in the Womb of the Church, that makes us blessed: and if we are thus born by Grace, then are we sanctified, made sons of God, Heirs with Christ, over whom Satan can have no Power at all. Now then, as you tender your Souls, and desire Heaven at your Ends, endeavour to attain this one thing necessary; * Lift up your Hearts unto God, that you may be washed, justified, sanctified in the name of the Lord Jesus; and that by the Spirit of God you may walk in new Ways, talk with new Tongues, as being new Creatures, created unto good Works. Thus would you wait on God in his Way, I trust the Lord in Mercy would remember you, and his Spirit would blow upon you, and then you would find and feel such a Change within you, as that you would bless God for ever, that you were thus born again: Otherwise how woful are you, considering this Bar in Heavens Door, to keep out the unregenerate, Except a Man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

Thus far of the Exception; we now come to the Person, that is in a Nisi prius in the Front, Except: This is the Party that must prosecute the Cause, a Man.

A Man]

AND this Man] is every Man, and every Part of Man: It implies all Men, for all are bound to it, and all Man; for all the Parts of his Body, and all the Powers of his Soul are to be renewed, or he cannot be saved: The Word then is general, whether we respect genera singulorum, the Kinds, all Men; or singula generum, the Individuals, all Man, or all the Parts of Man, Body and Soul.

We will first begin with the Kinds.

Doct. 1. All men (or all mankind) must be regenerated before they be saved; not one of all the Sons of Adam that shall ever go to Heaven, except he be born again: May your Contemplations (guided by God's Word) go into that Paradise above, there walk the streets, behold the Towers, view the Subjects, from the one end of heaven to another; and whom find you there? Not one that lives and dies in sin; there is not in it, nor shall enter: into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie, Rev. 21. 27. Yet if such repent them of their sins the gates shall not be shut against them; All the Saints that now walk in the Light of it, were Sinners; but first they were purged by the Lamb, and sanctified by the Spirit; first they were regenerated, and so they were saved.

You may object, If all Men that go to Heaven must be new born, what shall become of Infants, that die ere they be born? Can a man enter the second time into his mothers womb, and be born? (said Nicodemus.) But can a Man enter into the second Birth in his Mothers Womb, (say you) and be born again, before he is once born?

† Thus is the language of God, I said, Behold me, to a nation that was so called by my name, Isa. 65. 1.
‡ Thus whilst the Minister speaks it is Christ comes with power in the Word, Ezek. 18. 31.
* Pray, because God bids you pray: it may be he will come in when you pray. When Simon Magus was in the gall of bitterness, Peter bids him pray, Acts 8. 22.
† Not that we can wait by a power of our own, but he that saith, Therefore will the Lord visit that he may be gracious to you, Isa. 10. 18. He draws and gives a power to wait on him, and he comes in, when he hath waited, in the fittest time.
The New Birth.

I answer [To be born again] supposeth to be once born indeed; therefore according to the Letter, our Saviour speaketh of a Man already born into the World, that he must be born again: But if we seek out the sense [To be born again] (as our Saviour interprets) is to be born of water and of the Spirit; and so may Infants not born into the World, be born again. Thus we read of Jeremy, The Word of the Lord came unto him, saying, Behold I formed thee in the belly, I knew thee, and before thou camest forth out of the womb, I sanctified thee, Jer. 1. 5. And thus we read of John the Baptist, the Angel of the Lord saying of him, that he should be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb, Luke. 1. 15. By these Examples we see what the Lord can do; yea what he doth indeed, altho' we know not how, nor can it be observed by us.

You may yet object, [To be born again] is (faith our Saviour). [To be born of Water and of the Spirit:] Now Water is the outward Baptism, and the Spirit is the inward Grace (thus all Ancients have confirmed this text, faith Hooker) but Children not born (howsoever they are sanctified by the Spirit) they cannot be baptized with Water, and therefore they cannot see the kingdom of God.

I answer, In Cases of Extremity, or Impossibility, if actual Baptism be wanting, vocal is enough, and thus far some of our Adversaries grant us; Tho' it be wanting indeed, (said Aquinas, 3. part. q. 68. art. 2.) yet Baptism in Desire is sufficient to Salvation: And to this End he cites Austin, saying, Sanctification may be without Baptism, and Baptism without Sanctification; if Sanctification be, the Baptism be not, it avails to Salvation; but if Baptism be, and Sanctification be not, it avails nothing at all: Our Conclusion is this, All Men, (or all Mankind) young Men and Maidens, old Men and Children, Psal. 148. 12, all must be regenerated, or they can never see the Kingdom of God.

Doct. 2. Secondly, As all Men, so all Men] all the Members of his Body, all the Faculties of his Soul. Sanification (if saving) must be perfect and entire, tho' not in Respect of Degrees, yet in Respect of Parts; every Part and Power of Body and Soul must have its Part of Sanctification, tho' no Part his full Perfection, before the Dissolution of our earthly Tabernacles: Hence (say Divines) there is a Regeneration or Sanctification (it is all one) inchoata and consummata; inchoata, begun in this Life, consummata, perfected in that other: And of this faith our Saviour, Mat. 19. 28. Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye shall also sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel: We speak not of this Regeneration, but of that which brings to this, for we must be regenerate here, or have no Part there with God in his Glory.

And should we consider Man in his Parts, every Part must bear a Part in this Birth; his Body must be regenerated, his Soul must be renewed: We will begin with the Body; As ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness, and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness, unto holiness, Rom. 6. 19. As every Member of the old Man is full of Sin, so every Member of the... new born Man is to be renewed by Grace: To instance in some of them, The heart, that in the old Man is full of evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies, Mat. 15. 19. In the new Man, it is the Member that must first be renewed; here Grace first seats it self, and after is dispersed over all; as in natural Generation the Heart is first framed, so in spiritual Regeneration the Heart is first reformed. Some call it the first Mover of all Mens Actions; For as the first Mover carrieth all the Spheres of Heaven with it, so doth the Heart carry all the Members of the Body with it; and therefore it is, that the new Man begins first with his Heart: For, if that Fountain be right, all the Streams of his Defires, Purposes, Affections, Speeches, Actions, Conversations run sweet, and clear and pleasant. Again, the Eye, that in the old Man is the Broaker, that goes between the Heart and the Object, to make up the sinful Bargain, that which our Saviour calls an evil eye, Mat. 6. 23. St Peter, an adulterous eye, 2 Pet. 1. 14. In the new man it must be exercised on other Objects, I made a covenant with mine eye (faith Job ch. 31. 1.) why then should I think upon a maid? I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills (faithDavidPsal. 121. 1.) from whence cometh mine help. Again, the Ear, that in the old Man is stopped against the voice of the charmer, charme he never so wisely; Psal. 58. 5. or if it be open, like Death’s Porter, it lets in Sin and Satan at every Occasion; in the new Man it must be the Gate of Life, or the Door of Faith; therefore there is not a Member that the Devil more enveth than the Ear, as we see in the Man possessed with a deaf Devil, Mark 9. 25. who possessed that Sense, as the most excellent, to hinder him from hearing. Again, the tongue, that in the old Man is a world of iniquity, that defileth the whole body, that setteth on fire the course of nature, and is set on fire of hell, Jam. 3. 6. In the new Man it must be the Trumpet of divine Praise, or (as David calls it) the pen of a ready writer, Psal. 45. 1. uttering only thofe Things which the Heart enditeeth in Sincerity and Truth. To sum up all in one, the Heart is it, where Grace begins first, and is felt left; and therefore faith God, Son, give me thy heart, Prov. 23. 26. And therefore prays David, Create in me a new heart, Psal. 51. 10. And therefore wills Solomon, Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life, Prov. 4. 23. Would any Man that is regenerate encounter Sin in his Heart, it were impossible to break out into Action; would the Heart of any Man that is born again, but meet Sin with this Dilemma: If I commit this Sin, I must either repent, or not repent for it; if I do repent, it will cost me more Heart-break, and spiritual Smart, than the sensual Pleasure can be worth: If I never repent, it will be the Death and Damnation of my Soul: sure this Thought conceived, and rightly followed in the Heart of the Regenerate, would be enough to crush Sin at the first rising of it; and so it is, for if he be regenerate, he doth not Sin, Whosoever is born of God doth not commit Sin, 1 John. 3. 9. He is moulded anew, and all the Members of his Body are conformed to the Sovereignty and Rule of Grace, yea his body is preferred blameless, holy, acceptable unto God, 1 Thess. 5. 23. It is a member of Christ, the temple of the Holy Ghost, Rom. 12. 1. Happy Man that is blest with this Body! Sure,
The New Birth.

a Man thus born again, he shall see the Kingdom of God.

Secondly, as the Body, so the Soul of this Man is to be renewed by Grace; Therefore glorifie God in your body and in your spirit, (faith Paul, 1 Cor. 6.
15, 19, 20.) The Body and the Spirit must both glorifie God; and as all the Parts of the Body, so all the Powers of the Soul.

First, the Understanding, that in the old Man, Ephef. 4. 18. is blind and ignorant about heavenly Things, or howsoever it may know many Things, yet never can attain to saving Knowledge; in the new Man it must be a-pointed with the Eye-salve of the Spirit, Rev. 3. 18. inspired with the Knowledge of divine Truths, especially with those sacred and saving Mysteries which concern the Kingdom of God. Again, the Will that in the old Man affects nothing but vile and vain Things, is forward and perverse in the Ways of Goodliness; in the new Man it must prove and approve what is the good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God, Rom.
12. 2. Yea, it must attend and be subordinate to the Grace of God, fifth God indeed, and God only works in us both the will and the deed, Phil. 2. 13.
Again, the Memory that in the old Man is slippery in the Things of God, or if naturally good, yet not spiritually useful; in the new Man it must be sanctified to good Performances; and altho’ it cannot encrease to a great natural Perfection, (for Grace doth not this) yet the Perfections it hath must be straight, and right, and guided to God-ward; Remember the Lord thy God, faith Moses, Deut. 8. 18. Again, the Conscience that in the old Man sleeps and slumbers, or if it be-awake, tears and rores, as if a Legion of Devils now possessed it; in the new Man it must be calm and quiet; and yet not sleep or slumber, but rather in a friendly loving Manner check and controul whereoever sin is, yea never be quiet, till with kind and yet earnest Expostulations, it draw the sinner before God to confess his Fault, and to seek Pardon for it. Again, the Affections that in the old Man are senfual, inordinate, bewitched, and set on wrong Objects; in the new Man they must be turned another way. Mary Magdalene, you know, was given to unclean Lufts, but the Lord diverted this sinful Passion, and so she became penitent, and thirsted after Grace. To sum up all, all must be renewed, the Understanding, Will, Memory, Conscience, Affections.

But to feel more of their Sweetness, I will pound these Spices, and dwell a while on them. Now then for your better Acquaintance with the regenerate Man, and that you may know his Difference from the Man unregenerate, observe, I pray, these Passages:

First, I say, in the new Man the Understanding must be renewed; so the A-postle, The new man is renewed in knowledge, Col. 3. 10. And this Knowledge implies two Habits, (Sapientiam) Wifdom, and (Prudentiam) Prudence, Col. 1. 9. First, Wifdom, and that is speculative. Secondly, Prudence, and that is practical. By the one the Child of God having the Eyes of his Mind opened and enlightened, doth see the Mysteries of Salvation, the secrets of the Kingdom, the whole Counsel, and the Wonders of the Law of God: by the other he is enabled with a judicious sincerity, to deliberate and determine in Cases of Conscience, in the Practice of Piety, and the experimental Passages of a chriyan Man.
If we consider the First, (Wifdom) how is it possible that a Man that is unregenered should know the Mysteries of Salvation
Salvation? It may be he may go as far as the Power of natural Discourse, and Light of Reason can bear sway, he may be furnished with store of rare and excellent Learning, and yet for all this want the true Knowledge of spiritual Wisdom. Why so? Because all his Knowledge, like the Light of the Moon, is discharged upon others, but never returns and reflects upon his own Soul; he should know, but knows not the Darkness of his own Understanding, the Disorder of his own Affections, the number of his own Conscience, the Deadness of his own Heart; but the Man regenerate (know he never so little) he hath the saving Knowledge, and in this he exceeds the greatest Robies, the profoundest Clerks; he only knows God with a steadfast Apprehension, he only knows himself a most mean, base and contemptible Thing; his new Birth hath learned him how wicked a Creature he naturally is, and therefore in that Respect he is odious to himself, and loathsome in his own Eyes: Or if we consider the Second, (Prudentiam, Prudence) how is it possible that a Man unregenerate should experimentally know the Practice of Piety in a christian Course? Should we instance in this Mystery of Regeneration; Here is one Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews, and a teacher of Israel; yet as learned as he was, if he confer with Christ about the Salvation of his Soul, he is strangely childish, and a mere infant; tell him of the new Birth, and he thinks it as impossible, as for an old man to return into his mother's womb, and be born again: The natural Man cannot discern the Operations of Grace, he knows not that dark and fearful Passage, which leads from the State of Nature (through strange Terrors and Torments of Soul) into the rich and glorious Happines of the Kingdom of Christ; whereas on the contrary, the regenerate Man (that hath had the Experience of the Power of Godliness upon his own Soul) he can see and judge of the Light of Grace, he can taste and relish of the Fruits of the Spirit; and hence it is, that many a silly One (Man and Woman) whom the Worldly-wise pass by with Scorn and Contempt, are often in spiritual Affairs more wise and learned than the learned Doctor.

Secondly, The will must be renewed; and this Will of the Regenerate contains two Things, (Rectitudinem) Rightness, and (Promptitudinem) Readiness: It is first rectified, when it is conformed to the Will of God. Secondly, it is so inflamed with the Love of Goodness, that willingly he pursues it with Alacrity of Spirit. If we consider the First, (Rectitudinem, the Rectitude of the Will) we see by Experience the Will of the Unregenerate is all out of Course, he wills nothing but that which is evil: How should he, considering his Want of God's Image, his Blindness of Heart, his Proneness to Evil, together with the Vehemency of his Affections, which draw the Will after them, and trouble the Judgment? But in the Man that is regenerate, the Will being moved, it afterwards moves itself, God's Grace that concurs with it, quickens it and revives it; so that now his Will is nothing but God's Will: if it may appear that God bids him, or forbids him to do this, or that, he chooseth above all to follow his Commands, whatsoever becomes of him; why this is the very Heart and Marrow of Regeneration;

† To will Christ, or to choose Christ, or to confent that Christ shall be ours, together with his benefits, may be consistent with an unregenerate estate; but to will or choose Christ more heartily, strongly and prevalingly than his pleasures or inferior good; no wicked man can do. Baxters everlasting Reft:

you may be sure, the Man that chooseth above all to please God, is the only Man of God, and shall be rewarded by God. Or if we consider the Second (Promptitudo, the Readiness of the Will to Good) alas, the Will of the Unregenerate hath no Pleasure in Goodness, he understands not the Sweetness of it, and therefore nothing is more irksome to him than the Ways of Godliness, Job 21. 14. Whereas on the contrary, the Will of the Regenerate is willing, and this Willingness indeed is the Perfection of his Will; yea (it we can say more) it is the highest Degree of his Perfection in this Life, to be willing to do good.

Thirdly, the Memory must be renewed; and this Memory reflects occasionally on a double Object (Deum & Dei verbum; on God, and the Things of God.) First On God, by Remembrance of his Presence every where. Secondly, On the Things of God, by calling them to mind at useful Times. If we consider the first Object, (Deum) God, the Unregenerate hath no mind on God, "God is not in all his thoughts," Psal. 10. 4. Like the hood-winkt Fool, that seeing no body, thinks no body sees him; so hath he said in his Heart, "How doth God know? can he judge through the dark cloud? Thick clouds are a covering to him that he seeth not, and he walketh in the circuit of heaven," Job 22. 13, 14. But contrariwise, the regenerate man, he remembers his Creator in the days of his youth, Eccles. 12. 1. And tho' God, as being a Spirit, is (in some sort) absent from his Senses, yet by virtue of his sanctified Memory (that makes Things absent as present) his Eye is on God, and he considers God as an Eye-witness of all his Thoughts, and Words, and Doings, and Dealings; he knows nothing can be hid from that all-seeing Eye, tho' sin tempt him with the fairest Opportunities of Night and Darkness, yet still he remembers if his Eye sees Nothing, all those Eyes of Heaven (of God and of his Angels) are ever about him; and therefore he answers the Tempter, "How dare I sin to his Face, that looks on me what I am doing? If I dare not do this Folly before Men, how dare I do it before those Heavenspectators, God and his Angels? Or if we consider the second Object (Dei verbum, the Word of God) the Unregenerate never burdens his Memory with such blest Thoughts; if sometimes he falls upon it, it is either by Constraint, or by Accident, never with any settled Resolution to dwell on it, or to follow it: But the Soul that is regenerate, with Mary, keeps all these things in his heart, Luke 2. 51. Or with David, gives it out, Thy word have I hid in my heart, Psal. 119. 11. Whatsoever Leffons he learns, like so many Jewels in a Casket, he lays them up safe, and then as Need serveth, he remembers his store, and makes all the good Use of them he may. I will not deny, but any Man (good or evil) may retain good Things according to that strength of Retainment, which Nature affords him; but the Regenerate (whose Memory only is sanctified) whatsoever he retains, he hath it opportunely at hand; in Tentation or Affliction he remembers and applies, and so remembering to apply, and applying that he remembers, he is thereby enabled to resist Evil, or to follow those good Things which the Lord hath commanded.

Fourthly, The Conscience must be renewed, and that two Ways; either by drawing the Soul [ad bonum, or a malo] to Good, or from Evil. 1. To Good, by inclining and encouraging; 2. From Evil
Evil, by restraining and bridling. If we consider its first Office, in that it draws and leads the Soul [ad honum] to Good, I confess the Unregenerate is not of that Conscience, for the most part his Conscience lies dead in his bosom, or, if it stir sometimes, he labours all he can to smother it in his waking: To such an one should Men and Angels preach, yet to far is he bewitched with Sin that he hath no mind of Goodness, or, if he do any good Act (which is a rare Thing with him) it is not out of Conscience to do Good, but for some sinister End or Respect. It is otherwise with the Regenerate, his Conscience incites him to Good, and he doth Good out of Conscience; he stands not upon Terms of Pleasure or Profit, but his Conscience being guided by the Rule and Square of God's holy Truth, he submits to it merely out of his Obedience to God: Hence it is, that come what will come, Well or Wo, his Eye is fixt on God, and if Man oppose where God commands, he is quickly resolved out of that in Isaiah 51. 12. I even am he that comforteth you; who art thou, that thou shouldst be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man that shall be made as grass? and forgettest the Lord thy Maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth? Or, if we consider the second Office of Conscience, in drawing the Soul [a malo] from Evil, the Unregenerate either hears not, or heeds not his reclaiming Conscience; if it speak, he first goes about to lull it asleep again; or if it cry out, and will not Peace, then (in spite of Goodness) he runs out of one Sin into another, and usually from Presumption to Despair. On the other side, the Regenerate hath a Conscience that draws him from, and keeps him out of Evil: 'Tis known especially by these two Proper-ties, Remorse and Tenderness: Remorse hath an Eye on all Sins past; Tenderness hath an Eye on all Sins to come: By Remorse is bred Sorrow for Sin, and loathing of Sin; no sooner he considers how by his manifold Sins he hath offended God, crucified Christ, grieved the Holy Spirit, but his Heart bleeds and breaks that he hath done so wickedly against so gracious a God; this Sorrow for Sin brings with it a loathing of Sin, he cannot but hate it that hath caused his Heart break, yea, he hates it and hates the very Thought of it; every Look-back is a new Addition of Detestation, and every Meditation makes the Wound of his Remorse to bleed again and again: By Tenderness of Conscience is bred a Care and Watchfulness to avoid Sin to come; for no sooner is Sin presented to his Conscience but he startles at its sight, and thinks on its Vanity, and meditates on that strict and general Account he must one Day make for it; which Thoughts and Sin put together in the Balance, he dares not do wickedly for a World of Gain: And you may observe it, this Tenderness, or Easiness to bleed at the Apprehension of Sin, is proper and peculiar to that Conscience alone that is enlightened and sanctified, and purged by Christ.

Fifthly, the Affections must be renewed, and that is done by setting them upon right Objects. I shall instance in some of them, as Love, Hatred, Hope, Fear, Joy, Sorrow. Love, I place first, which, in the unregenerate Man, is fastned inordinately upon the Creature; and, as one Sin begets another, so on whatsoever Object it fall, it begets some Sin: Thus the Love of Honour breeds Ambition, Love of Riches breeds Covetousness, Love of Beauty breeds Lust, Love of Pleasure breeds Sensuality; whatsoever he loves (the Object being earthly) it brings with it some Sin, Sin, and thereby (the worst of all) he wickedly prefers Earth before Heaven, a Dunhiddy before Paradise, a few bitter sweet Pleasures for an Inch of Time, before unmixed and immeasureable Joys World without End: But the regenerate Man settles his Love upon other Objects; as he that is carnal minds Things carnal, so he that is spiritual loves Things spiritual; no sooner is he turned (by a found and universal Change of the whole Man) from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, Acts 26. 18. but he presently begins to settle with some sweet Contentment upon the Flowers of Paradise; heavenly Glimpses, faving Graces, and his infinite Love runs higher and higher, till it imbrace him that dwells in the highest, *God almighty; and how sweet is that Love that calls itself wholly into the Bofom of his Maker? how bleffed is that Man, that yearns, and melts, and cleaves, and sticks unto his gracious God above all? why, this is right Love, and for this is the Church commended, Cant. 1. 4. The righteous love thee, or, as others translate, amat in rectitudinibus, she loves thee righteously; her Love is set above all upon the right Object, God: Not that the Regenerate loves nothing else, for he loves the Law, Psalm 119. 165. the Ministers, 1 Thessalonians 5. 13. and all the Ordinances of God appointed for his Good, but whosoever he loves, it reflects upon God, he loves all for God, and God for himself.

The Second Affection is Hatred, which in the Unregenerate is so inordinate, that he is an hater of God, Rom. 1. 30. not that he hates God in himself (for God is universally good, and cannot be hated) but in some particular Respect, because he restrains him from his Pleasure, or punifheth him for his Sin, or crosses his lead Appetites by his holy Commands. And as he hates God, so likewise his Brother, 1 John 2. 11. Hence arife those Envies, Emulations, Jars, Contentions amongst those that profess themselves Christians; of which Paul could say, A brother goeth to law with a brother, 1 Cor. 6. 6. But of all Brethren, he hates them most, of whom our Saviour is the First-born; Rom. 8. 29. God’s faithful Ones ever were, and ever will be Signs, and Wonders, and Monsters unto many; a Scorn, Reproach and Derision to them that are round about them, Isa. 8. 18. Psal. 71. 7. Psal. 79. 4. But he that is regenerate hates Sin, and in whomsoever Sin rules or reigns, he cannot but hate them, Do not I hate them, O Lord that hate thee? (saith David) and Am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee? Psal. 139. 21. Not that David, or any Saint of God, hates the Person of any one, but Sin in the Person, or he is said to hate them for Sins fake that is in them; in this respect he bids them Defiance in the Verse ensuing, I hate them with a perfect hatred, I count them mine enemies, Psal. 139. 22. I know there is a perpetual Combat in the Regenerate betwixt the Flesh and the Spirit, and therefore we must understand this Hatred, which David calls a perfect Hatred, according to the Perfection in Parts, but not in Degrees [intensive, non extensive]: never any but Christ hated Sin to the full, with all his Strength, and with all his Might; but in some Measure his Servants Hatred is perfect,
The Fourth Affection is Fear, which in the Unregenerate is either worldly, or servile: If it fasten on the World, then he fears the Loss of his Credit or of his Profit, and because he and the World must part at last, he fears this Separation above all Fears; O Death, (faith the wife Man) how bitter is the Remembrance of thee to a Man that liveth at Rest in his Possessions, unto the Man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperity in all things, Ecl. 41.1. Of these Thoughts of these grisly Forms and ugly Face of Death, of the parting from all worldly Pleasures for ever, of his rotting in the Grave, dragging to the Tribunal, and Terror of the last Day, they cannot but make his Heart to shrug together for Horror, and many Time to quake and tremble like an Aspidean; or, if his Fear reflect on God, then is it a servile Fear; for, as the Servant or Hireling works not for Love of his Master, but only for Fear of Punishment; or, as the adulterous Woman is afraid of her Husband, not out of Love or Affection, but left he reward her to her foul Demerits; so he fears God for fear of Punishment due unto him from God: It is otherwise with the Man that is born again, his Fear is either initial or filial; in Pangs of the new Birth, or in the new-born Babe it is called initial [Wesms], because then he calls away Sin, both out of God's Love, to which he hath partly attained, and out of the woful Effects of Sin, which he hath thoroughly considered; with the right Eye he beholds God, and with the left Eye he beholds Punishment; so that this Fear is a Middle (as it were) between servile and filial Fear, and as the Needle draweth

† Many that perish, may desire, and hope, and love God, and Christ, and Heaven; but they desire, and hope, and love some inferior Good more; he that desires, and hopes, and loves God sincerely and savingly, he doth all this supremely; God above all Things else. Baxter's Rest.
The New Birth.

in the Three, so this Fear draweth in Charity, and makes Way for filial Fear, to which, if by Growth in Grace he be fully ripened, then he fears God out of Love to God, as the Prophet Isaiah proclaimeth, The fear of the Lord is his treasure, Isa. 33:6. Never was Treasure more dear to the Worldings than is God's Fear to him; his Love of God, his Desire to please God, and his Fear of being separated from God keeps him in such Awe, that the no Punishment, no Death, no Hell were at all, yet he would not sin wickedly, wilfully, and maliciously, for a World of Treasures.

The Fifth Affection is Joy, which in the Unregenerate is merely sensual and brutish, it hath no better Object than Gold, or Greatness or Office, or Honors, or the like and what are all these but a Shadow, a Ship, a Bird, an Arrow, a Post that passeth by; rather as crackling of thorns under a pot, as Flashes of Lightning before everlasting Fire? But the Joy of the Regenerate is a spiritual Joy, and the Matter of it is the Light of God's Countenance, or the Robe of Christ's Righteousness, or the Promise of God's Word; or, above all, God Almighty, blest evermore: Thus David, Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire besides thee, Psal. 73:25. Why, this is that Joy which no Man can conceive, but he that enjoys it; this is that white stone, Rev. 2:17. whose Splendour shines only upon heavenly Hearts; this is that Glimpse of Heaven's Glory, which springing up in a sanctified Heart, out of the Wells of Salvation, and carried along with Addition of fresh Comforts (from the Word and Sacraments) through a fruitful Current and Course of Man's Life, is at last entertained into the boundless and bottomless Ocean of the Joys of Heaven. I will not say, but sometimes it may be assaulted, and stopped with some Doubts, or Distraught, or Weakness of Degree, yet in respect of its Creation, or Essence, or blissful Issue, it is (faith one) a very Glimpse of Heaven, a pure Shaft of the Rivers of Life, and First-fruits (as he calls it) of everlasting Joys. Bolton's Walk, with God.

The Sixth Affection is Sorrow, which in the Unregenerate is a worldly Sorrow and the Effects of it are Death; so the Apostle, The Sorrow of the world worketh Death, 2 Cor. 7:10. In this Kind how endles are the Sorrows of Men for their Losses or Crosses that sometimes may befall them? And howsoever some may endeavour to comfort them in Christ, they are to dead-hearted that nothing can persuade, nothing relieve with them that concerns Heaven or Salvation: But in the Regenerate, Sorrow looks up to God-wards, not that the beholding of God in himself can bring Sorrow to a Man, for he is a most comfortable Object, which made David say, The light of thy Countenance is gladness to my heart, Psal. 4:6. but the beholding of Sin which hindereth from the clear Sight of that Object, this is it which breeds Sorrow, and this the Apostle calls godly Sorrow, working Repentance to Salvation, not to be repented of, 2 Cor. 7:10. It is not every Sorrow, but godly Sorrow, Ver. 9. I rejoice, faith the Apostle, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: And would you know who forrows to Repentance? it is he, and only he thatgroans and sighs under the heavy Weight and Burden of his Sins, that is of a broken and contrite Heart, that trembles at God's Word, that is grieved at his Enormities, that forfakes all Sins, and that resigns himself in all holy Obedience to God's blessed Will; this Sorrow is a blessed Sorrow that brings forth Joy.
Joy and Immortality: Therefore comfort ye, comfort ye all that mourn in Zion, what thou for a Night (in Pangs of the new Birth) you lay sorrowing and weeping for your Sins; mark a while, and the Day will dawn, ride on, because of the Word of Truth, and a Day-star will arise in your Hearts that will never set, may weep and weep again, till you can say with David, All the night make I my bed to swim with my tears, Psal. 6. 6. and presently the Sun of Righteousness will appear, and he will dry away your Tears, and shine upon you with everlasting Light. Certainly thus is it with every regenerate Man, he loves and hates, and hopes and fears, and joys and sorrows, and all these Passions are renewed in him. To give an Instance in one David for all the Regenerate; his Love appears, Psal. 119. 47. My delight shall be in thy commandments which I have loved: His Hatred appears, Psal. 130. 22. I hate thy enemies with a perfect hatred: His Hope appears, Psal. 62. 5. My soul, wait thou only upon God, for my expectation is from him: His Fear appears, Psal. 119. 120. His judgments are terrible, I tremble and quake: His Joy appears, Psal. 119. 16. Thy testimonies are my delight, I rejoice in them as one that findeth great spoils: His Sorrows appears, Psal. 119. 136. Mine eyes gush out with rivers of water. Here is Love and Hatred, and Hope and Fear, and Joy and Sorrow, and all are set upon their right spiritual Objects.

You see now a Portraiture of the new Man, which should be the Image of all Men; my Text (with indefinitely A Man) implying every Man, and every Part of Man; every Man should be regenerated; every Part of Man should be renewed; and whereas Man consists of two Parts, the Body and Soul, all the Members of his Body, the Heart, the Eye, the Ear, the Tongue in special; all the Powers of the Soul, the Understanding, the Will, the Memory, the Conscience, the Affections in general, all must be renewed, and the whole Man born again.

Use. And yet (Beloved) I mean not so, as that a Man renewed is never overcome with Sin; I know there is in him a continual Fight betwixt the Flesh and the Spirit, each of which strives to make his Part strong against the other, and sometimes Amalek prevails, and sometimes Israel prevails; sometimes his Heart falls a-lusting, his Eyes a wandering, his Ears a tickling, his Tongue a speaking idly; sometimes his Understanding errs, his Will rebels, his Memory fails, his Conscience sleeps, and his Affections turn the stream after fensual Objects; but (that which differs him from the unregenerate Man) if he sin, it is with a gracious Reluctation, he refists it to the uttermost of his Abilities, and if at last he commit Sin through the Violence of Tentation, subduing the Infirmity of the Flesh, he is presently abashed, and then begins he to set Repentance a Work in all the Parts and Powers of his Body and Soul; then begins his Conscience to trouble him within, and will never be at quiet until the Cistern of his Heart (being overcharged) hath caused his Eyes, the Flood-gates, with moist sinful Humours, to overflow the Cheeks with Tears of Contrition; and thus he is washed, justified, sanctified, 1 Cor. 6. 9. and restored to his former Integrity again. Examine then yourselves, you that desire Heaven at your Ends, would you inherit the Kingdom? would you live with Angels? would you have your Souls? examine and try whether your Bodies and Souls be sanctified throughout; and if you have no Sense or Feeling of the new Birth (for it is a Mystery to the Unregenerate) then never look to see (in that State) the Kingdom of God; but but if you perceive the Working of saving Grace effectually in you, (and you cannot but perceive it, if you have it) if you feel the Power of Godliness first seizing the Heart, and after differing itself over all the Parts and Powers of Body and Soul; or, yet more in particular, if your Hearts be joined by the Spirit, if your Eyes wait upon God, if your Ears listen to his Word, if your Tongues shew forth his Praise, if your Understanding attain to saving Knowledge, if your Wills conform to the Will of God, if your Memories be stored with heavenly Doctrine, if your Consciences be tender and sensible of the least Sin whatsoever, if you love that which is good, if you hate that which is evil, if you hope for the Blessings above, if you fear him that can destroy both Body and Soul; in a Word, if you joy in Goodness, if you sorrow for Sin, then are you born again. Happy Man in this Cale that ever he was born, and thus every Man must be, or he cannot be happy: Except a Man (every Man, every Part of a Man) be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God.

Thus far of the Subject, Man. [We come now to the Angel, or Deed to be done, he must be born again.

Be born again.

The Children are brought to the Birth, and left the Saying be true of us, There is no Strength to bring forth; 2 Kings 19. 3. I shall now (by God's Assistance) proceed to the Birth itself. Here we have the Manner of it, and we may observe a double Manner, first, Of the Words containing the new Birth.

Secondly, Of the new Birth contained in the Words.

The Manner of the Words appears in the Original Geneth, another, two Words, and each of them has its divers Reading. Geneth, Valla would have to be genitus, begotten; Except a Man be begotten.] Others usually say natus, born; Except a Man be born.] And as Geneth, to another, some would have to be another ouranotthen, above or from Heaven; Except a Man be born from above.] Others usually another to derive, again; Except a Man be born again.] Chrysostom cites both these, and of each Reading, we shall gather something for our own Instruction.

Doct. Except a Man be regenerated, or begotten (faith Valla.) As Man that is born of a Woman is begotten by a Man, so he that is born again, must have a Becoming too: and therefore sometimes it is called renascentia; a new Birth, and sometimes regeneration [. Eram. annot. in loc.] a new Becoming, or Regeneration. If you ask, Of whom is the new Man begotten? James tells you, James 1. 18. Of his own will beget he us with the Word of truth: The former Words note the impulsive Cause, the latter, the Instrument; it was God that begat us, and with the Seed of the Word.

First, God begat us, and so are we called God's sons, born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God, John 1. 13. Regeneration is the Work of God, and because it is a Work external, it is therefore communicable to each Person of the Trinity: Ye are sanctified (faith the Apostle) in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God, 1 Cor. 6. 11. The Father, Son, and Holy Ghost all sanctifie, all work the same Work: But as in the Godhead there is but one Essence, and three Manners of Being of the same Essence; so in God's outward Operations, all the Persons work rem tandem, one Thing; but all work not edemmodo, after one Manner. For Instance, the Works of Creation, Redemption, and Sanctification are the common Works Works of God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Ghost, 1 Cor. 8. 6. John 1. 10. Job. 26. 13. yet every one of these, common to all three, are terminated in some one of them; so the Father is said to create, the Son is said to create, the Holy Ghost is said to create; so the Father is said to redeem, the Son is said to redeem, the Holy Ghost is said to redeem; so the Father is said to sanctify, the Son is said to sanctify, the Holy Ghost is said to sanctify: Thus all Three concur to every one of these Works, and yet every one of these Works is terminated, specified, and formed (as it were) in the very last Act by one of these Three.

The Work of Creation is terminated immediately in God the Father, the Work of Redemption is terminated immediately in God the Son, the Work of Regeneration is terminated immediately in God the Holy Ghost. And it is memorable, that as the Community of these Works, ad extra, depends on the Unity of God's Essence, so the Diversity of their Determinations depends on the divers Manners of God's Existence, or subsisting: the Father is of himself, neither made nor begotten, and therefore it best agrees with him to make all Things of nothing, which is the Work of Creation; the Son is of the Father alone by reflection of his Intellect, and so called the Representation of his Father's Image, and therefore it best agrees with him to represent his Father's Mercies to Mankind, by saving them from Death and Hell, which is the Work of Redemption; the Holy Ghost is of the Father and Son, proceeding (and as it were breathed) from them both by the Act of the Will, and therefore it best agrees with him (that bloweth where he listeth) to blow on our Will, and by his Breath to purge and purify us, which is the Work of Regeneration. To sum up all in a Word, This Work of Regeneration, (or Sanctification, or whatever else you will call it) in respect of the Work, it is of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghost; but in respect of the last Act, it is of the Holy Ghost, and not of the Father, nor the Son; and thus our Saviour concludes, John 3. 8. That which is born of the Spirit, is Spirit; and so is every man that it born of the Spirit.

Secondly, as God's Spirit is the principal, so God's Word is the instrumental Cause of our Regeneration, Ye are born again, faith Peter, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. 1 Pet. 1. 23. this Word John calls the word of life, John 1. 1. Paul the Producer of Faith, and the power of God unto salvation, Rom. 10. 10. yea, this Word is quick and powerful, and sharper than any two edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a diserner of the thoughts and intents of the heart, Heb. 4. 12. They that are born again cannot but remember how quick and powerful, and sharp God's Word was at their Regeneration: First, like an Hammer it beat on their Hearts till it broke them all to Pieces; and then like a Sword by a terrible, cutting, piercing Power, it struck a shaking and trembling into the very Center of their Souls; last of all, like Oil (when as the Man in the Gospel, Luke 10. 30. they were wounded indeed) it began to supple those Wounds and to heal the Bruises, and to refresh the weak and tender Heart with all the Promises of God revealed in Chrift.

And thus a Man being begotten of the Spirit with the Word of Truth, he comes at last to the Birth; so we read, Except a man be born. And this I suppose to be fuller than the other, because caufe, a Begetting may be, and no Birth follow; as many that are stifled in the Womb are begotten, not born; but if the Birth be, it doth presuppose a Begetting, and so it implies it: Except a man be born again, that is, except a Man be begotten and born, he cannot see God's Kingdom. If you ask, Of whom born? I answer, As God is the Father, so the Church is the Mother of every Child of God; to this Purpose faith the Apostle, 'Jerusalem, which is above, is free, which is the mother of us all,' Gal. 4. 26. What is Jerusalem but the Church? for as that City was the Seat of David, Psal. 122. 5. so is this Church the Throne of Christ, figured by the Kingdom of David, Rev. 3. 7. and therefore of both these God thus proclaims, Here shall be my rest for ever, here will I dwell, for I have a delight herein, Psal. 132. 14. And rightly is the Church called our Mother, 1. Because she is the Spouse of our Father betrothed, Hol. 2. 19. coupled and made one, Cant. 6. 3. I am my wellbeloved's, and my wellbeloved is mine; and 2. because we are Children born of her, this teacheth us to honour our Mother, and like little Children to hang at her Breasts for our Sustenance, Suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her confections, milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory, Isa. 66. 11. It is the Church that brings forth Children to God by the Ministry of the Word, and if we are Children of this Mother, we must feed on that Milk which flows from her two Breasts, the Old and New Testament: As new born babes, faith the Apostle, desir the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby, 1 Pet. 2. 2. In a Word, out of the Church there is no Salvation: Who have not the Church for their Mother, cannot have God for their Father, was the saying of old; and good Reason, for out of the Church there is no Means of Salvation, no Word to teach, no Sacraments to confirm; but all these, and all other Means are in the Womb of the Church; it is here, and here only, where the Spirit of immortal Seed begets Grace in the Heart, and so a Man is born again.

Doct. This another, some read our another, from Heaven, and so the words run, Except a man be born from above. From above it is that every good and perfect gift cometh. A man can receive nothing except it be given him from Heaven, John 3. 27. But how then faith our Saviour of the Wind (to which he compareth every one that is born of the Spirit) that we know not whence it cometh, and whether it goeth? ver. 8. I answer, This whence respects more the Cause than Place; we know the Wind comes from the South, or North, or East, or West, but why so and so, we cannot tell; we know the Spirit is above, and the new Birth, or Regeneration comes from the Spirit; but [to dioti] why it is so, or what moves the Spirit to do so, besides his [ενδοκιαν] the good Pleasure of his Will, we cannot tell. Or, if we read another to palen, as others do, [Beda & Erasmi, Paraph. in loc.] the Words then run thus, Except a man be born again. To this Nicodemus' Reply seems more direct, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb? No question he took Christ's another pro palin, only thus he miftook, that the second Birth should be after the Manner of the first Birth, and therefore he faith, Can a man that is old, such as he himself was, be born again? No, faith our Saviour, that which is born of the flesh, is flesh, and there is but one Birth after this Manner; but to be born again, is to be born after the Spirit, and this is the second Birth; a Man is first born of the flesh, and he must be again born of the Spirit.

Doct. Hence appears the Difference of
of the first and second Birth; the first Birth is of the Earth, earthly; the second Birth is of the Lord from Heaven, heavenly: The first Birth is of Nature, full of fin; the second is of Grace, full of Sanctity: The first Birth is originally of Flesh and Blood, the second Birth is originally of the Spirit and Water: In a Word, the first Birth kills, the second gives Life: Generation lost us, it must be Regeneration that recovers us: O blessed Birth, without which no Birth is happy; in Comparision of which, tho' it were to be born Heir of the whole World, all is but Misery! This was Mojes' Praise, that he esteemed the reproach of Christ above all the treasures in Egypt; rather would he be the Son of God, than to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, Heb. 11.24. No question it is a great Dignity to be called the son in law to a king, 1 Sam. 18.23. but nothing in comparison of being the Son of God: This Sonship is that Degree, above which there needs no aspiring, and under which there is no Happiness, no Heaven, no Kingdom. Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

Thus far of the Manner of the Words, which contain the new Birth; it appears in them, the Father of it is God, the Seed of it the Word, the Mother of it the Church, the Place of it, whence? from Heaven; the Time of it, when? after a Man is once born, then he must be again born; Except a man be born.

Secondly, as you see the Manner of the Words containing the new Birth, so now see the Manner of the new Birth contained in the Words. I know it is not wrought in all after one Manner, nor is the Manner known to us, but only so far forth as it is sensible in us, and therefore we must consider Man before Baptism, in Baptism, after Baptism.

In some is the new Birth wrought before Baptism, as in the Eunuch under Candace Queen of the Ethiopians, Acts 8.37. and in Cornelius the Captain, together with his Kinmen and near Friends, Acts 10.47. and in Lydia, Acts 16.14. and so our Charity tells us that every Infant, dying before Baptism, is renewed by the Spirit; but the manner of this Working we know not, for it is one of the Secrets of the Spirit of God.

In others is the new Birth wrought in Baptism, which indeed is the Sacrament of the new Birth, and Seal of Regeneration; but howsoever in Pædo-Baptism we see the outward Seal, yet we see not, we feel not the manner of the inward Working; for this also is the Secret of the Spirit of God.

In others is the new Birth wrought after Baptism; io Polanus*: But whether after Baptism, or in Baptism we will not dispute; only, as the Case stands with us, this I affirm, That there is no Manifestation of the new Birth, until after Baptism. But, When after Baptism? I answer, Whensoever Men receive Christ by Faith, which, tho' it be many Years after, yet then do they feel the Power of God regenerate them, and to work all things in them which he offered in Baptism. Now the Manner of this Feeling, or, of God's Spirit working, proceeds usually thus.

There be certain steps of Degrees, say Divines, by which it passeth, and howsoever in those whom God hath blessed with that great Favour of holy and Christian Education, the Spirit of God dropping Grace into their Hearts, even very betimes; these steps or Degrees are not so easily perceived: Yet in those Men who have lived long in sin, whose sins have been gross, and great, and grievous, no sooner come they to a new Birth, but they can feel Grace work in them step after step, and these steps we shall reckon to the Number of Eight.

The \textit{First} is a \textit{Sight of Sin}, and this our Saviour reckoneth the first Work of the Spirit, \textit{When he is come, he will reprove the world of sin}, John 16. 8. Of sin; how? Why, thus: No sooner begins this blessed Change from Nature to Grace, but the Conscience (wrought on by God’s Word) opens its Book, and presents to the Soul a Bed-roll of these many, mighty, hainous Sins committed against God and Man, there he may read in bloody burning Lines the Abominations of his Youth, the Sins of all his Life; and to bring them into Method, the Commandments of God stand as a Remembrancer before his Eyes: The \textit{First} tells him of his loving somewhat above God: The \textit{Second} of his worshipping a false God, or the true God after a false Manner: The \textit{Third} of his dishonouring the great and mighty Name of God: The \textit{Fourth} of his breaking the Lord’s Day, either in doing the Works of the Flesh, or in leaving undone the Works of the Spirit; nor is this all: As against God, so against his Neighbour hath he sinned; The \textit{Fifth} tells him of his Stubbornness, and Disobedience: The \textit{Sixth} of his Passions, and Desire of Revenge: The \textit{Seventh} of his Lewdness and lustful Courses: The \textit{Eighth} of his Robberies and covetous Thefts: The \textit{Ninth} of his Lies and Slanders, Back-bitings, and rafh Judgments: The \textit{Tenth} of his covetous Thoughts, and Motions of the Heart to all manner of Evil. Good Lord! what a Number of Evils, yea what innumerable Swarms of unlawful Thoughts, and Words, and Actions doth he read in his Conscience? But above all, his darling Delight, his beloved Sin is writ in greatest Characters, this he finds to have bewitched him most, and to have dominiered above all the rest in his wafted Conscience; this Sin, in some, is Worldliness, Wantonness, Usury, Pride, Revenge, or thelike; in others it is Drunkenness, Gluttony, Gaming, scurril Jesting, Simony, or the like; Whatsoever it is, the Conscience tells him of it again and again, where that he may read it together with his other Sins; the Spirit of God now opens the Eyes of his Mind, and lets him see the very Mud and Filth of his Soul, that lay at the Bottom before unseen, and undiscerned. Thus is the first Working of the new Life, to wit, a Feeling of the old Death of his Soul in Sins and Trespasses; and here the Axiom is true, \textit{No Generation without Corruption}; a Man must first feel this Death, before he is born again.

The \textit{Second} Step is, \textit{Sens of Divine Wrath}, which begets in him Fear; so the Apostle, \textit{The Spirit of Bondage begets Fear}, Rom. 8. 15. and thus it works: No sooner hath the Man a fight and feeling of his sin, but then God’s Spirit (now called the Spirit of Bondage) presents to him the Armory of God’s flaming Wrath, and fiery Inagination; this makes him to feel (as if he were pricked with the strock of an Arrow or Point of a fword, or sting of an Adder) that he is a most curfed and damnable Creature, justly deserving all the Miteries of this Life, and all the fiery Torments in Hell in that Life to come; yea, this makes him tremble, and stand and look as if he were throughly frighted.
ted with the angry Countenance of God, almighty: Would you view him in this Case? His Conscience has now awaked him out of his dead sensual Sleep, by the Trumpet of the Law, his Heart is now seared with the secret Sense of God's angry Face, his Soul is now fully foreboded under the most grievous Burthen of innumerable Sins, his Thoughts are now full of Fear and Astonishment, as if no less than very Hell and Horror were ready to seize upon his Body and Soul. I say not what Measure of this Wrath is poured on all men in their Conversion; for I suppose some feel more, and some have less of it; but I verily believe, some there are that (in these Pangs of the new Birth) have been seared (as it were) with the very Flames of Hell, insomuch that they might truly say with David, God's wrath lieth hard upon me, and he hath afflicted me with all his waves, Psal. 88. 7. And no Wonder, for this is the Time of Fear; now it is that Satan strives busily to stifle the new Man in the Womb, and therefore he that before diminished his Sins, and made them appear little or nothing in his Eyes, when he once sees the Man imitted down into the place of dragons, and covered with the shadow of death, Psalm 44. 19. then he puts into his Mind his innumerable Sins, and (that which immediately follows) the Curse of the Law, and the Wrath of God, which he yet makes more gristy and fierce, with a Purpose to plunge him into the bottomless Pit of Horror and Despair. By this Means he persuaded Cain to cry out (when he was in this Case) My punishment is greater than I can bear, or as others translate, Mine iniquity is greater than can be forgiven, Gen. 4. 13. And therefore thus far the Unregenerate goes with the Man born again, both have a Sight of Sin, and Sense of Wrath, but here they part; for the Man unregenerate either sinks under it, or labours to allay it with worldly Comforts, or some counterfeit Calm: But the Man born again, is only humbled by it, and seeks the right Way to cure it, and at last (by the Help of God's Spirit) he pafsith quite through it, I mean, through this Hell upon Earth, into the spiritual Piafeures of Grace, which is to be born again.] The third Step is Sorrow for Sin, and this is more peculiar to God's Child; there is a Sorrow, which is a common Work of Grace, which an Hypocrite may have; and there is a Sorrow which is a Work of special Grace, and this likewise precedes the Exercise of Faith.

But some object, Christ must work this Sorrow, or it is good for nothing; now if Christ be in the Soul working sorrow, then there is Faith; therefore Faith must go before sorrow.

I answer, altho' it is true that Christ cannot be in the Soul, but in the same instant there is the Habit of Faith; yet it follows not that Faith is before Sorrow, for the Habits of these Graces are both together, and at once in the Soul; or howsoever, it follows not that the Soul is disabled by an Act of Faith to apply Christ to it self at once as Christ is in the Soul, or as soon as the Habit of Faith is infused into the Soul: The Question is, Whether the Soul in Respect of us (who can only judge of the Habit by the Act) cannot be said to have Sorrow or Repentance before Faith? The Question is not, which the Soul bath firft in Respect of God's Gift, but which it acts firft for our Apprehension? Surely to us it firft forrows for Sin, and then it acts or exerciseth Faith by coming to Christ, and relying upon Christ for salvation, &c. Observe, this Sorrow is is sometimes taken largely, for the whole Work of Conversion; sometimes strictly, for Conviction, Contrition, and Humiliation; in like Manner Repentance is taken sometimes largely, and sometimes strictly: By this Distinction it may easily appear how Sorrow goes before Repentance, and how Repentance goes before Faith. Indeed, for the Latter is the great Controversie, but some reconcile it thus: Repentance hath two Parts, the Aversion of the Soul from sin, and the Conversion of the Soul to God; the latter Part of it is only an Effect of Faith, the former Part of it, viz. the turning of the Soul from sin is also an Effect, but not only an Effect; for it is begun before Faith, tho' it be not ended till our Life end. Some object, That God works Repentance and Faith together: But we dispute not how God works them, but how the Soul acts them; not which is in the soul first, but which appears out of the Soul first: neither is it any new Thing in Philosophy to say, Those Causes which produce an Effect, tho' they be in Time together, yet are mutually before one another in Order of Nature in divers Respects to their several Causalities. Thus a Man must have Repentance before he have faving and justifying Faith; and yet a Man must have Faith before the Work of Repentance be perfect in the Soul. As we maintain Repentance to be a precedent Work, so we deny it not to be a subsequent Effect: And that Sorrow is before the Birth too, the Apostle intimates, 2 Cor. 7. 10. Godly sorrow works Repentance; that is, Sorrow prepares a Man for Repentance, it goes afore it, and prepares for it. And now it is, that God’s Spirit begins to renew his Heart, as God himself proclaimeth, I will put a new spirit within them, and I will take the stony heart out of their bodies, and will give them a heart of flesh, Ezek. 11. 19. His Heart that before was hard as flint, now begins to relent and soften, and break in Pieces; How so? It is God’s Spirit that pricks the heart, Acts 2. 37. and this pricking softens it. Dum pungit, ungit, faith Jerom; Compunction softens and suppleth the Heart, so that be it never so stony, presently it becomes an Heart of Flesh; you know those that are apt to weep, or yarn or sorrow, we call them Tender-hearted; you may be sure then he that is prickt, till his Heart bleed inwardly, he that weeps Blood (which every Heart doth that is prickt on this Manner) sure his Heart is tender indeed; I say, tender, for as the very Word imports, (clai0 apo tou clao) his Heart weeps, why? his Heart is broken: David joins these together, A broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise, Psal. 5. 17. And no wonder if an Heart that is broken, and rent and wounded, and prickt, falls a weeping Blood; well might David say when he was broken, Psal. 38. 8. (I have wept; nay more) I have rored for the very griefs or Dilquietnes of my heart: And again, My soul (or my Heart) melteth (or droppeth) for very heavings, Psal. 119. 28. Not that his Heart dropt indeed, but because the Tears which he shed, were not Drops of Water running only from his Eyes, (an Onion may cause so much) but issuing from his Heart; which Heart being grieved, and fore grieved, it is said to be wounded; and so his Tears coming from it, they may be called no less than very Blood, Drops of Blood issuing from a wounded Heart. Thus it is with the Man now labouring in his new Birth; his Heart grieves, his Eye weeps, whence the Proverb, The Way to Heaven is by weeping crofs; the Way to God’s Kingdom is to cry like Children coming coming into the World, the Way to be new born is to feel Throhs (as a Woman labouring of Child) and so is Christ formed in us. Can a Man be born again without Bitterness of Soul? No, it ever he come to a Sight of Sin, and that God's sanctifying Spirit work in him Sorrow for Sin, his Soul will mourn till he may say with Jeremy, Mine eye droppeth with slay; Mine eye breaketh my Heart, because of all the daughters of my city, because of all the sins of my soul, Lam. 3. 49. 51. True it is, as some Infants are born with more Pain to the Mother, and some with less; to may the new Man be regenerated in some with more, in some with less Anxiety of Travel; but more or less, it cannot be to little, but the Man that labours in these Pangs shall mourn and mourn; There shall be a great mourning, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon, Zach. 12. 11. What else? He cannot look on a Saint, that failed not first thro' the Ocean of Tears, and therefore he falls on his Face with Abraham, Gen. 17. 17. he wrestles with God like Jacob, Gen. 32. 24. heroes out his Grief with Job, Job 3. he pours out his Soul with Hanna, 1 Sam. 1. 15. he weeps Rivers of Tears with David, Psal. 119. 156. he mourns as a Dove with Hezekiah, yea, like a crane or a swallow, so doth he chatter, Isa. 38. 14. O the bitter Pangs and fore Travel of a Man, when he must be born again.

The fourth Step is, Seeking rightly for Comfort. He runs not to the World, or Flesh, or Devil, miserable comforters all; but to Scripture, to Prayer, or to the Ministry of God's Word; if he find Comfort in Scriptures, he meets with it in the † Gospel; not the Law, but the gospel (faith the Apostle) is the power of God to salvation, to every one that believeth, Rom. 1. 16. The Law is indeed the ministry of death and damnation, 2 Cor. 3. 7. But the Gospel is the glad tidings of salvation, Luke 2. 10. The Law fhews a Man his wretched Estate, but fhews him no Remedy, and yet we abolish not the Law, in ascribing this Comfort to the Gospel only; tho' it be no Cause of it, yet it is the Occasion of it: Those doleful Terrors, and Fears of Conscience begotten by the Law, may be in their own Nature the very Gates and Downtal to the Pit of Hell; yet I cannot deny, but they are certain Occasions of receiving Grace; and if it please God that the Man, now labouring in his Pangs of the new Birth, do but rightly settle his Thoughts on the Gospel of Christ, no doubt but then he may suck the sweetest Comforts and Delights that ever were revealed to Man. Or if he find Comfort in Prayer (to which he ever and anon repaires in every of these Steps) then it is by Christ, in whose Name only he approacheth to that heavenly Throne of Grace: No sooner had the King of Nineveh humbled himself, but his Proclamation runs, Let man and beast be covered with sack-cloth, and cry mightily unto God. Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not? Jon. 3. 8. 9. And thus the Man now wrestling with the grievous Afflictions and Terrors of his Conscience, Who can tell (faith he) if God will turn away his fierce anger? Let me then cry mightily unto the Lord of Heaven, let me cry, and continue crying, until the Lord of Mercy do in mercy look upon me; and if for all this God give him a Repulse, for Reasons best known to himself, if at the first, second, third, fourth, or at many more times, he seem to have cried in Vain, at last he flies to the Ministry of the Word, and if he may have his Will, he would hit upon the most skilful, experienced, soul-searching and found-dealing Man amongst all God's Messengers; and thus was it with Peter's Hearers, whose Hearts being pricked, and rent with legal Terrors, then could they begin to cry it out, Men and brethren, what must we do? Acts 2. 37. Thus was it with the Taylor, who after his trembling and falling down to the ground in an humble Abasement, could then begin to say, Sirs, what shall I do to be saved? Acts 16. 30. And thus the Man now ready to be born again, if he find no Means to assuage the Rage and Terror of his guilty Conscience, at last he comes to God's Minifier with a What shall I do, what must I do to be saved? Alas! now I feel the wounded Conscience, the broken Heart, the spiritual Blindness, the Captivity and Poverty, of which often you have told me; if then there be any Instruction, Direction or Duty, which may tend to my Good, or free me from this Evil, now open those Lips that should preserve Knowledge, now direct me in God's Fear, and I will willingly follow it with my utmost Endeavours.

And now (and not till now) hath God's Minister a strong and seasonable Calling to amplify and magnifie the soul-saving Sufficiency of Christ's Death and Passion; were the Blood of Christ, and Promise of Salvation proffered to an unwounded Conscience, what were it but like the pouring of a most sovereign Baftam upon a found Member of Man? It is the only, right everlasting Method, first to wound by the Law and then to heal by the Gospel; first to cause smart for Sin, and then to lay to a Plaister of Christ's Blood; and therefore when the Heart is broken, then hath the Man of God his Warrant to bind it up again, then may he manifest God's Mercy, then may he set out to the height the heavenly Beauty of Christ's Passion and Person, and thus playing the Midwife by his high and holy Art of comforting the afflicted, at last the Child of God (prepared for his Birth) becomes a Man born again.

The fifth Step is a clear (I say not a general Sight, which he had before) but The clear Sight of Christ laid open to the Eye of Faith: No sooner is the poor wounded Soul informed throughly in the Mystery and Mercy of the Gospel, but he then looks on his Saviour as the Jews on the brazen Serpent, and seeing him lifted up on the Cross, he cannot but see in him an infinite Treasury of Mercy and Love, a boundless and bottomless Sea of Tender-heartedness and Pity, a whole Heaven of Sweetness, Happines, Peace and Pleasures; after the Spirit of Bondage enters the Spirit of Adoption, the Terrors of the Law lead him to the Comforts to the Gospel, his Sorrow for Sin brings him to the clear Light of his Saviour; and then as a Man in Death's Pangs, that lifts up his Eyes to Heaven whence cometh his Help, so he in Birth's Pangs lifts up his Eyes to Christ, who must either help him, or he sinks under his Sin to the bottomless Bottom of Hell. And I must tell you this Sight of Christ Jesus to an humbled Sinner (together with those glorious Priviledges which he brings with him, as Reconciliation to God, Forgiveness of Sins, Adoption, Justification, Righteousness, Wisdom, Sanctification, Redemption) it is a most pleasant, ravishing, heavenly sight: *Not Solomon in all his royalty, no, nor the lilies of the field arrayed better than Sol-mon, Mat 6. 29. not all the curious ights on Earth, nor all those glittering spangles in Heaven, can possibly afford such Pleasure or Delight to the Eye of man, as doth this one Object (Christ bleeding on the Cross) to the Soul of a sinner. Imagine that you saw some malefactor (whose Trial and Doom were past) to be led to the dole-ful Place of Execution; imagine that you heard him wail and weep for his mispent Time, for his bloody Acts, for his hainous Crimes; yea, imagine his Wailings and Weepings so bitter that they were able to force Tears from others, and to make all Eyes shoot and water that but look upon him;
if this Man in this Cafe should suddenly see his King running and riding towards him with his Pardon in his Hand, what a sight would this be? Sure there is none to this. Thus, thus it is with the man sorrowing for sin, whilst he is weeping his Cafe, and confessing what a little step there is between him and Damnation (as if he were now at Hells mouth, the very Place of Execution) in a maze he looks upon Christ, whom he sees with a spear in his side with Thorns in his Head, with Nails in his Feet, with a Pardon in his Hand, offering it to all men that will but receive it by Faith. O here's a sight indeed, able to revive the wickedest man upon Earth, dead in Sins and Trespasses. And now there is Hopes of the Birth, if it once come to this, there is more than Probability of an happy Delivery, we may call it the stirrings of God's Child, or the first Feelings of Life, before he is born again.]

The sixth Step is, An Hungering Desire after Christ and his Merits; and to this Step blessed are they that arrive; Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousnes, for they shall be filled, Mat. 5. 6. Filled? how? I will give unto him that is athirst, of the fountain of the water of life freely, Rev. 21. 6. This is the Step (as if it were in Jacob's Ladder) that raiseth him on high towards Heaven; it is tuch a Token of true Faith, that he who hath it, needs no more doubt that he believeth, than he that breatheth needs to doubt that he liveth; and why? his Thirst of worldly Things is cooled, his Thirst of heavenly Things inflamed.

Objefit. But Christ faith, He that drinks of the water that 1 shall give him, shall never thirst.
Sol. Not after the World, but he shall thirst more and more after Christ. No hungry Man did ever with more Appetite wish for Meat, nor thirsty Man for Drink, nor covetous Man for Mo-ny, nor ambitious Man for Glory, than he now longeth to be reconciled unto God in Christ; in this Cafe, had he the Pleasures and Profits of a thousand Worlds, willingly would he part with all for the Application of Christ's Sufferings; it is that sovereign Blood that can only heal his Soul; it is that bitter Passion which can only quench his Thirst: give him but the Merits of Christ's Death (whereby God and he may be at one) and he cares not tho' he suffer Death and Hell again, yea he will venture Goods, Life, all; or if that be not it which the Lord requires, he will do whatever behoves him, even fell all, all that he hath, part with all Sin that he loveth, yea were it his right Hand, or his right Eye, nothing shall be dear to him, so that he may enjoy his Saviour. O here's a Thirst above all Thirsts! It breeds ardent Desires, vehement Longings, unutterable Groans, mighty Gaspings, just like the dry and thirsty Ground, that gasps, and cleaves, and opens for Drops of Rain. David, tho' in the Desert of Ziph, a barren and dry land without water, yet he complains most because of his Thirst, My Soul thirsteth for thee, O God, Psal. 63. 1. This is that violent Affection that God puts into the Hearts of those that seek him in Sincerity and Truth; never was Ahab more sick for a Vineyard, nor Sisera for Milk, nor Sampson for Water, Judg. 15. 19. when God was fain to open him, a Fountain in the Jaw of an Afs, than is a truly humbled Soul after Christ, ever thirsting and longing, that he may hide himself in his Righteousness, and bathe himself in that Blood which his Saviour shed for him. I have read of a gracious Woman, who labouring in these Pangs, and longing after Christ Jesus, cried out, I have born nine Children with as great Pain as other Women, and yet I would with all my Heart bear them all over again, yea bear them, and bear them all the Days of my Life, to be assured of my Part in Christ Jesus. One replying, Doth not your Heart desire and long after him? Oh, said she, I have an Husband and Children, and many other Comforts, I would give them all, and all the Good I shall ever see in this World, or in the World to come, to have my poor thirsty Soul refreshed with that precious Blood of my Saviour. So eager and earnest is the Heart of each Man, parched with the angry Countenance of God, after this Blood of his. I thirst, I faint, I languish, I long, faith he, for one Drop of Mercy; my Spirit is melted in me into Tears of Blood; my Heart, because of sin, is so shaken and shivered; my soul, because of sorrow, is so wasted and parched, that my Thirst is unquenchable, my Bowels are hot within me, my Desire after Christ is extremly great and greedy. Stay! all these Expressions are far short of those Longings, No man knoweth them, save he that receiveth them, Rev. 2. 17. save he that is born again. The seventh Step is, A relying on Christ: No sooner he considers and remembers those many melting Invitations of our Lord and Saviour: If any man thirst, let him come unto me, John 7. 31. Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, Isa. 55. 1. Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden with sin, Mat. 11. 28. But, resting himself on the impregnable Truth of these blessed Promises, he throws himself into the merciful and meritorious Arms of his crucified Lord. Come Life, come Death, come Heaven, come Hell, come what come will, here will he stick for ever: Who, faith Paul, shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or discontents, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword? No, I am persuaded (not thee, nor more than thee) neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come, nor height, nor deep, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord, Rom. 8. 35, 38, 39. Thus it is with the Man labouring in this Birth: What? (faith he) doth Christ call the heavy-laden? why, Lord, I am heavy laden with a Weight, a Mass of sin, and if he may come that is called, Lord, I come, I come, and now I am come, with thee will I build my Tabernacle, with thee will I rest for ever. Nor is this any Wonder, Experience tells us, the hunted Beast flies unto his Den, the wounded Man flies unto the Surgeon, and the poor Man broken and bruised with the Weight of sin, how should he otherwise but cast himself willingly into the sweet compassionate inviting Arms and Embrace of Christ, whose Promises run, I will ease him, I will refresh him? Mat. 11. 28. You may see sometimes a little Infant, upon Apprehen-Apprehension and Approach of some sudden Danger, how hastily he runs into his Mother's Arms: even to a truly wounded soul, pursued by the Terrors of the Law, and frighted with the angry Countenance of almighty God, it flies with speed into the Bosom of its blessed Redeemer, there it clings unto his blessed Wounds, there it rests upon his meritorious Death, there it grasps about his crucified Body, there it hides itself in the Clefts of this Rock, yea there it sticks with this full Resolution, that should all Terrors, all Temptations, all Men, all Devils combine together to cast him into Hell, they should tear him, rent him, pull him, hale him from the bleeding Wounds, and tender Bowels of his heavenly Saviour. This was Job's Case, who in the bitterness of his Pangs could cry it out, saying, Though the Lord slay me, yet will I trust in him, Job 13. 15. And I must tell you, this * Affiance, Dependence, Adherence, Reliance (or whatsoever else we call it) upon the Merits of Christ, is the right justifying Faith, whither if a man once come, there is but one Degree more, and he is then born again.

The last and highest step is, Universal Obedience to Christ. No sooner hath he cast himself upon him, but he takes him, not only as a Saviour to redeem him from the miseries of sin, but as an Husband, a Lord, a King, to serve him, love him, honour him, and obey him: Now will he take his yoke upon him; now will he bear his cross and follow after him; now will he enter into the narrow way; now will he walk in the holy path; now will he associate himself to that and brotherhood that is everywhere spoken against, Acts 28. 21. Now will he oppose himself against all sin whatsoever; now will he shake off his old Companions, brethren in iniquity; now will he keep Peace and a good Conscience towards God and man; now will he watch over his secret sins, lustful Thoughts, Occasions of Evil; now will he direct his Words to the glorifying of God, and to give Grace to the Hearers; now will he conform all his Actions to the sovereignty of Grace; now will he delight in the Word, the Ways, the fountains, the services of God; now will he never more turn again unto Folly, or to his Trade of sin, yea tho' Satan set upon him with Baits and Allurements, to detain him in his Bondage but by one darling Delight, one mini-on sin, yet he resolves to answer him as Moses did Pharaoh, There shall not so much as an hoof be left behind. For well he knows, one Breach in the City exposeth it to the Enemy, one Leak in a ship will sink it in the sea, one Rab in the Heart will speed a man to Death, one Knot in a Thread will stay the Needle's Paillage as well as five hundred, and therefore he will fell all, all that he hath, even all his sins, to the last filthy Rag of his minion-delight, his bewitching, beloved, bosom sin. And now is the new Man born amongst us, will you view him? Old things are passed away, behold, all things are become new. 2 Cor. 5. 17. His Heart, his Eye, his Ear, his Tongue, his Understanding, his Will, his memory, his Con-

Science, his Love, his Hatred, his Hope, his Fear, his Joy, his Sorrow; will you any more? his Thoughts, his Words, his Actions, his Affections are all new; this Conversion is universal, this Change is a through Change; now is Christ formed in him; now is he transformed into a new Creature, before he was in making a new Man, but now he is made new; God the Father accepts him for his Son, God the Son stamps on him the Image of his Father, but more immediately, God the Holy Ghost hath thus moulded and fashioned him, as I have let you see him, and now he is born again; which except a man be, he shall not, cannot see the kingdom of God.

Lo here those Steps that raise up a Man to the State of Regeneration, A Sight of Sin, Sense of Misery, Sorrow for Sin, Seeking for Comfort, A Sight of Christ, Desire after Christ, Relying on Christ, Obedience to Christ. One Word before we have done.

Use 1. You see how God brings along the Man whom he purposeth to make his; and yet let no truly humbled sinner be discouraged if he observe not distinctly the order of these steps, and especially in that Degree as you see we have related; For, if in substance and Effect they have been wrought in them, if he have them in Truth, tho' perhaps not in this Degree, I dare pronounce of him that he is surely born again. It is one of our Worthies hath said it, That in our Humiliations, and other preparative Dispositions, we do not prescribe precisely just such a Measure and Quantity, we do not determine peremptorily upon such and such a Degree and Height, we leave that to the Wisdom of our great Master in Heaven, the only wise God, who is a most free Agent: But sure we are, a Man must have so much, and in that Measure, as thoroughly to humble him, and then to bring him to his Saviour; he must be weary of all his Sins, and of Satan's Bondage wholly, willing to pluck out his right Eye, and cut off his right Hand, I mean to part with his best beloved Bosom-lights, to fall all, and not to leave so much as a Hoof behind; he must see his Danger, and so hastle to the City of Refuge; he must be sensible of his spiritual Misery, that he may heartily thirst for Mercy; he must find himself lost and cast away in himself, that Christ may be All in All unto him; and after must follow an Hatred of all false and evil Ways for the Time to come, a through Change of former Courses, Company, Conversation, and letting himself in the Way and Practice of Sobriety, Honesty, and Holiness.

And another speaks to the same Purpose, That the Discovery of the Remedy afoon as the Misery, must needs prevent a great Part of the Trouble, and make the distinct Effects on the Soul to be with much more difficulty discerned; nay, the Actions of the Soul are so quick, and so confused, that the distinct Orders of these Workings may not be apprehended, or remembred at all. And perhaps the joyful Apprehension of Mercy may make the Sense of Misery sooner forgotten. The Sum is, Of every Soul is required thus much: 1. A truly penitent Sight, Sense and Hatred of all Sin. 2. A sincere and inattisite Thirst after Jesus Christ, and Righteousness both imputed and inherent. 3. An unfeigned and unreserved Resolution of an universal new Obedience for the Time to come. If any Man hath had the Experience of these Affections and Effects in his own Soul, whatsoever the Order, or whatsoever the Measure be (less or more) he is safe enough, and may go on comfortably in the holy Path.

Use 2. Now then let me advise thee (whosoever thou art that readest) to enter into thine own Soul, and examine thine own State, whether or no thou art art yet born again? Search and see whether as yet the Spirit of Bondage hath wrought its Effects in thee; that is to say, whether thou hast been enlightened, convinced, and terrified with a tenable Apprehension and particular Acknowledgment of thy wretched Estate? Search and see whether as yet the Spirit of Adoption hath sealed thee for his own; that is to say, whether, after thy Heart being broken, thy Spirit bruised, thy Soul humbled, thy Conscience wounded, and awakened; thou hast had a fight of Christ, and hast thirsted after him, and hast cast thyself on him, and hast followed his Ways and Commandments by an universal Obedience? If upon search thou canst say, without self-deceit, that so it is with thee, then mayst thou blest God that ever thou wast born; certainly, I dare say it, thou art born again. But if thou hast no sense or feeling of these Works, if all I have spoken are very Mysteries to thee, what shall I say? but if ever, if ever thou meanest to see the Kingdom of God, strive, struggle, endeavour with thy Might and Main to become truly regenerate: [Thus while the Minister speaks, it is Christ that comes with Power in the Word, Ezek. 18. 31, 32. Remember that.] Thou mayst say, perhaps, It is not in thy Power, thou art only a mere Patient, and God’s Spirit the Agent, and who can command the Spirit of the Lord, that bloweth where he listeth, at his own Will and Pleasure. I answer, It is indeed the Spirit, and not Man, that regenerate or sanctifies: But, I answer withal, The Doctrine of the Gospel is the Ministration of the Spirit, and wheresoever that is preached, as I preach it now to thee, there is the Holy Ghost present, and thither he comes to regenerate: Nay, I can say more, There is a common Work of Illumination that makes Way for Regeneration, and this common Work puts a Power into Man of doing that, which when he shall do, the Spirit of God may, nay, will in the Day of his Power mightily work in him, to his quickning and purging. If thou, as yet thou feelest not this mighty Work of God in thee, and yet fain wouldst feel it, and gladly dost desire it, (otherwise I confess it is in vain to speak) follow me in these Passages; I shall lend thee two Wings to bear thee, two Hands to lead thee to the Foot of this Ladder, where if thou ascend these Steps aforesaid, I dare certainly pronounce of thee, Thou art the Man born again.

The first Wing is Prayer, which first brings thee to God’s Throne, and (there, if thou hast thy Request) then to the new Birth; if I must acquaint thee how to pray, Hos. 14. 2. Take with you Words, and turn to the Lord; say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously. And then it follows, I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely, ver. 4. Jer. 30. 18. I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus, Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock wailing to the yoke; turn thou me, and I shall be turned. The Soul may object: I may say thus, and be no better: But I answer, Say it, tho’ you be no better, because God bids you say it: Say it, and say it again; it may be he will come in when you say it, Hos. 14. 4. The soul may object again, How can I pray, and have not Faith. I answer, Put thyself upon Prayer, and who knows but Assurance and Blessing may come? Pray that God would please to prepare thy Heart to sanctify thy Affections, to order thy Will, to preserve thee from sin, to prepare thee for Growth unto full Holiness and Righteousness: This was the Effect of Jeremiyah’s Prayer, Jer. 31. 18. Convert me, O Lord, and I shall be conversed; heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, O Lord, and I shall be saved. Turn thou me, O Lord, and so we shall be turned, Jer. 17. 14. and Lam. 5. 21. It is the Lord that converts, and heals, and saves, and turns; and Prayer is the Means to produce this Effect in thee: When we are required to pray, to repent, and believe, we are not to seek Strength in ourselves, but to search into the Covenant, and turn the Promise into Prayer. As the Command is, Repent, Acts 17. 30. so the Covenant is, Christ shall give Repentance, Acts 5. 31. and therefore pray, Turn thou me, and I shall be turned, Jer. 31. 18. Therefore bow thy Knees, and humbly, heartily, frequently, fervently implore the Influence of God's blessed Spirit: Cry, with the Spouse in the Canticles, Awake, O north-wind, and come thou south-wind, and blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow forth, Cant. 4. 16. The more rushing and mighty this wind of the Spirit is, the more will he make thee fructify in his Graces and Blessings; therefore cry again, and again, O Lord, let thy Spirit come upon me: Create in me a clean Heart, O God, and renew a right Spirit within me, Psal. 51. 10. O Lord Jesus, send thy Spirit into me, which may restore me from this Death of sin, into the Life of Holiness. Thus wouldst thou ask, and continue asking; thus wouldst thou cry, and continue crying, then could I assure thee of the Promise, when the Lord comes in, which God hath made, and cannot deny, He that asketh, receiveth; and he that seeketh, findeth; and to him that knocketh (by Continuance and Perseverance; it shall be opened, Matth. 7. 8.

The second Wing, or Hand, that bears and leads thee to these Steps of the New Birth, is, Constant hearing of the Word: Thou must attend the Gates of Wisdom, and wait on her Posts; thou must come to God's House, and hearken to the Ministry of the Word: No doubt, but if thou beest constant in this Duty, God will stir up some good Samuel, God will use some of his Priests, consecrated to that Office, to beget thee again: Understand this soberly; For if Jesus Christ himself should preach to the Soul every Day, and give not out of himself, the Ordinance would be empty to it: It is Christ's coming in to his People in the Ordinances, that only fills the empty Soul with good Things. And yet God's Ministers are called spiritual Fathers, I have begotten you, faith Paul, through the ministration of the gospel, 1 Cor. 4. 15.

The Pastor's Tongue is the Lord's Conduit-pipe, and hereby he drives the sweet and wholesome Waters of Life into the Souls of his Chosen; only, do thou frequent the Means, and thou shalt see at one Time or other God will remember thee in Mercy: It is true, I know not when; and therefore I wish thee mifs no Lord's Day to repair to God's House, left the Day of thy Neglect might have been the Day of thy Conversion; certain it is, no Man should expect God's Blessing without his Ordinances; no eating of Bread without plowing and sowing, no recovering of Health without eating and drinking, no potting on Land without somewhat to ride on, no Passage on seas without somewhat to fail in; so no Blessing, no Grace, no Regeneration, no New Birth at all, without waiting upon God in his Ways, and in his Ordinances. Now then, as thou dost Fire Heaven, or (The Way to Heaven) to be born again, I beseech thee make high account of this Ordinance of God, the Preaching of his Word: In preaching of the Gospel, Light, Motion and Power goes out to all, which Men resist; and some are destroyed, not because they they could not believe, but because they resist, and will not obey, and to 33. 11. Hoft. 13. 9. and yet I will thee not only to hear it, but after thou haile heard, consider of it, ponder on it, and lay the Threats and Reproofs, the Precepts and Promises unto thine own Soul: Thus if thou hearest and meditatest, I doubt not but God's Word will be a Word of Power to thee, and ( together with Prayer ) bring the towards the new Birth, whether except a Man come, he cannot possibly see the Kingdom of God.

Thus far of the new Birth: You see we have mounted those Steps, whose top ( like Jacob's Ladder ) reacheth up to heaven, Gen. 28. 12. wintes the next Word, He that is born again shall see the Kingdom of God, but he that is not born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God.

He cannot see the kingdom of God.

The Privileges of the new Birth are these Two, to see ] and to see the kingdom of God.

First, to see.] Which is all one ( faith a Modern * ) as to enjoy: yet a Man may see that which he doth not enjoy;
but without Regeneration there is no Sight, much lesa Possession of the Kingdom of God.

To see then is the lesser Happiness, of which the Unregenerate are debared;
but to see, in itself is a great and gracious Privilege, to which the Regenerate are admitted: For, whether by God's Kingdom be meant the Kingdom of Grace, or the Kingdom of Glory,
Happy are the Eyes that see these things.

But whose Eyes are they? If we examine the Unregenerate, he sees no whit into the awful Majesty of God the Father, he sees no whit of the Beauty, Mercy and Pity of his Saviour, he sees no whit into that glorious Highness of God's Spirit in Heaven, nor yet of his Hightness to his Brethren on Earth:
Hence it is, that when he comes among the Congregation of God's Saints, his soul is not delighted with their Prayers, Praisers, Psalms, and Service; he sees no Comfort, no Pleasure, no Content in their Actions. But the new Man is of better Sight, the Graces of the Spirit, and the Ward-robe of God's Glory are all produced to his Eye, as if the Lord shoulcl say, 'Venite & videte, Come and see: to Moses, Stand still and see the salvation of God; to Christ to his Apostles, It is given to your Eyes to see these things, to others but by parables. He that is born again hath a spiritual Eye, and a celebrated Object; The Eye of his Understanding is enlightened, faith Paul; anointed, faith John. To what End?
But that he may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance is in the Saints, Eph. 1. 18. See a Privilege, of which the Ungenerated is ever barred, his Mind is dark, even Darkness itself, Eph. 5. 8. And therefore it is no Wonder, what is said by our Saviour, that he cannot, cannot see the Kingdom of God.

The Second Privilege is the Object of this Sight, here called the Kingdom of God. By which some understand Heaven; some the Way to Heaven;
most of the Ancients say, that by this Kingdom is meant Heaven: Calvin is of mind, that not Heaven, but a spiritual Life is thereby understood §: Aretius faith ( and I am of his Mind ) that wherether we understand the one or the other,
param reperit *, it matters not much;
ure we are, that both these, Grace and Glory, are annexed to the new Birth, and both very well may be implied in the Word, the Kingdom of God.

First then, If by the Kingdom of God is meant the Kingdom of Grace, whereof our Saviour speaks, The kingdom of God is within you, Luke 17. 21. see to what a Privilege the new Man hath attained, all the Graces of God, all the Fruits of the Spirit are now poured into him? If you ask, what Graces? what Fruits? Paul tells you, Gal. 5. 22. Love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance; or, would you have us to contract them? Paul doth it elsewhere, The kingdom of God is righteousness, peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost, Rom. 14. 17.

1. Righteousness, and that is either active, or passive; Holiness of Life, or the Cause of this Holiness, our Righteousness in Christ: If the First be meant, no sooner is Man born again, but he enters into the holy Path, he declines all Evil, and stands at the point with the most beloved sin; or, if ever any fin through the Violence of Temptation seize on him again, he is presently put again into the Pangs of the new Birth, and so renewing his sorrow, and repairing Repentance, he becomes more relolute and watchful over all his Ways: And as he abhors Evil, so he cleaves to that which is good, Rom. 12. 9. his Faith, like the Sun, sets all those heavenly Stars on shining, as Hope, and Love, and Zeal, and Humility, and Patience, in a Word, Universal Obedience, and Fruitfulness in all good Works: Not one, but all good Duties of the First and Second Table begin to be natural and familiar to him, and tho he find some Duties more difficult; yet he relishes them, and strives to do what he can, and is much displease and grieved, if he do not as he should. Or if by Righteousness is meant passive Righteous-

- Extra nos et judi, nos in nobis, Luther de Infiibus, Christiana.

is at Peace with God, he hath humbled himself, and confessed his Fault, and cried for Mercy, and cast himself upon Christ, and vowed Amendment of Life; so that now God by his Word hath spoke peace to his soul; by the Mediation of Christ it is obtained, and by the Testimony of the Spirit he feels it within him. This is that Peace which palfeth all Understanding; it made the Angels sing, Peace upon Earth; it makes his foul reply, My Peace is in Heaven: What else? The storm is past, and the Rain is gone away, he that lay for a Night in the Darkness of sorrow, and weeping for his sins, now he beholds the Sun of Righteousness appear (as the Disciples often did upon the Mount of Olives, signifying Peace) all quiet and calm, and pleasant. Nor is this all, he is at peace with himself; I mean his own Conscience; that which before stirred up the Fire, that brought him to a sight of sin, & sense of Divine Wrath, that filled him with fearful Terrors, Compunction, Remorse, and true sorrow for sin, it is now turned good and quiet. Solomon calls it a continual Feast, Prov. 15. 15. Who are the Attendants, but the holy Angels? What is the Cheer, but Joy in the Holy Ghost? Who is the Feast-maker, but God himself, and his good Spirit dwelling in him? Nor is this Feast without Musick; God’s Word and his Actions make a blessed Harmony, he endeavours to continue it by keeping peace and a good Conscience towards God, and Man.

3. From this Peace issues Joy in the Holy Ghost; no sooner is a Man at peace with Man, with God, with himself, but he is filled with Joy that no Man can take from him; this Joy I take to be those blessed stirrings of the Heart, when the Seal of Remission of sins is first set unto the Soul by the Spirit of Adoption. For thus it is, the Soul having newly paffed the Pangs of the new Birth it is presently bathed in the Blood of Christ, lull’d in the Bosom of God’s Mercies, secured by the Spirit of its Inheritance above; and so ordinarily follows a Sea of Comfort, a sensible Taste of everlasting Pleasure, as if the Man had already one Foot in Heaven. But I hear some object, They have felt the Pangs, cast themselves on Christ, resolved against all sin, and yet no Comfort comes. It may be so, tho’ not ordinarily; certain it is, whosoever hath this Joy, is new born; yet not every one new born hath this Joy; if any then be in such Case, let him hear what the Spirit of Truth faith, Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, besides thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him, Isa. 64. 4. Waiting patiently (faith a Modern) for the Lord’s coming to comfort us, either in temporal or spiritual Distresses, is a right, pleasing and acceptable Duty and Service unto God, which he is wont to crown with multiplied and overflowing Refreshings when he comes. To this End faith the Prophet, They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their Strength, they shall mount up with wings as Eagles: they shall run and not be weary, and they shall walk and not faint, Isa. 40. 31. Nay, and should a Man die (faith my Author) in this State of Waiting, if his Heart in the mean Time sincerely hate all sin, heartily thirst for the Mercy of God in Christ, and resolve truly upon new universal Obedience for the Time to come, he shall certainly be saved; because the Holy Ghost saith, Blessed are all they that wait for him, Isa. 30. 18. Or if this will not satisfy his Desire, let his Desire quicken and set on Work (with extraordinary Fervency) the Spirit of Prayer, let him have recourse again and again to the Promises of Scripture towards the poor, heavy-laden, penitent souls; and when the Time is come (if it will come) which God hath appointed, then shall he feel this Joy unspeakable, the Joy of the Holy Ghost; and this is the Head, the Height, the Top, the highest Step in this Kingdom of Grace, the Kingdom of God.

Or, Secondly, If by the Kingdom of God is meant the Kingdom of Glory, see then what a Privilege waits on the new Man; no sooner shall his Breath and Body be divorced, but his Soul, mounted on the Wings of Angels, shall straight be carried above the stary Firmament, there shall it inherit the Kingdom, Luke 12. 32. an heavenly Kingdom, Matth. 7. 21. the Kingdom of God, Acts 14. 22. and truly called so, for it is a Kingdom of God's own making, beautifying and blessing; a Kingdom beseeming the glorious Residue of the King of Kings; a Kingdom creating all Kings that but inhabit in it. But here my Discourse must give way to your Meditations: I cannot speak this Privilege, therefore conclude with Austin, Anima que amat, ascendet frequenter, & curvat per plateas celestis Jerusalem, &c. Mount your Meditations on the Wings of Faith, and behold in Heaven thofe States of Wonder, Patriarchs jining, Prophets praising, Saints admiring, Hands clapping, Harps warbling, Hearts dancing; the Exercise, a Song; the Dirty, Allelujah; the Quiristers, Saints; the Conforts, Angels, &c. In this Fountain of Pleasure, let the new born Christian bathe his Soul, for his it is, and he it is only that shall see it, enjoy it; Except the Man be born again, no Man shall ever see the Kingdom of God. See more of this in my Last Things.

Thus far the Privileges of the new Birth; there waits on it the Eye of Faith, and Righteousness, and Peace, and Joy in the Holy Ghost; in a Word, the Kingdom of Grace, and the Kingdom of Glory.

Ufe. And now, Beloved, say, what would you do to obtain these Privileges? Should any Hand reach you a Crown for the Pains to take it? Should any but cast your Feet a Bag of Gold, and you might make it your own for the stooping would you not for so great a Reward do fo little a service? and what is God's service but perfect Freedom? the yoke is easy, the burden is light, Mat. 11. 30. but the Reward is Grace, Glory, endless Felicity. Bestir then yourselves, and if ever you mean to see the Kingdom of God, endeavour to run through this new Birth, and to lead a better Life than heretofore you have done. Only remember, Thus whilft the Minister speaks, Christ comes with power, and therefore he speaks and persuades. I conclude with my speech to thee (whosoever thou art) into whole Hands this Book is fallen: The Truth is, the Work is weak, and answerable in that kind to the Author of it; many and many a fitch in my fide, many a Pull at my Heart, many a Grip at my Stomach, besides the Pangs of my Soul, endeavouring to practise what I have writ, have I suffered & felt since I first begun it; & yet the Comfort I received in this one necessary Thing, hath made me (contrary to the Desire of my best Friends) to run thro' this short Work, by taking a longer time as my continual Disease would now and then suffer me. If when I am gone, thou reapeft any spiritual Good by this my surviving Pains, it is, next to God's Glory, all my Desire: Yet I live; but to save thy Soul I care not how soon I might die yea on that condition I could be willing (if God so pleased) the Lines that thou readest were writ with the warmeft Blood in my Heart: willing, said I? yea, I could be willing and glad (as little blood as I have in my Body) to let it run and run, for thy spiritual Good, to the very last Drop in my Veins. I say no more, Consider what I have said, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.
AN APPENDIX CONTAINING

A more particular Method, for the Man not yet born again, to have his Part in the Second Birth.

CHAP. I.

The Occasion, and Method of this Treatise.

Some there are, who hearing the new Birth (or first Repentance) to be so necessary to Salvation, but never feeling in themselves any such Change or Conversion, have therefore desired further Helps, though naturally they are blind, and wretched, and miserable, and poor, and naked; yet the Lord hath not left them without Means and Helps: To this Purpose he hath set up his Ordinances; not that Man of himself can dispose himself unto Grace, but that the Spirit of Christ in the Use of the Ordinances (without any habitual or sanctifying Grace in Man's Heart) can dispose of Man to the Reception of habitual or sanctifying Grace. True it is, I advised them in the former Treatise to be frequent in Prayer, and hearing the Word: But so we have done, say they, and yet we feel no Conversion. It may be so: For, not always the doing of them, but Perseverance in them through Christ, obtains the Blessing desired. And yet, if they will out of Hand set themselves to the Work (Seeing it is the Lord that faith, Break up the fallow grounds, Jer. 4. 3. i. c. Seek to the Lord to break them for thee: Be in the Use of Means, that the Lord may come in and break thy Heart) I shall, for their further satisfaction, give them a more particular Method, and without a Text taken, take myself more Liberty to put them in the Way.

Two Things I suppose necessary for them that would have Part in the new Birth.

I. To get into it.

II. To be delivered of it.

I. The Means to get into it, is,

1. Examination of themselves.
2. Confession of their sins.
3. Hearty Prayer for the softning of their Hearts.

By which Three are obtained the three three first Steps, Sight of sin; Sense of Divine Wrath; Sorrow for sin.

II. The Means to be delivered of it, is by Application of the Promises, and these, according to their several Objects, produce their several Effects.

A Sight of Christ.
A Desire after Christ.
A Relying on Christ.
An Obedience to Christ.
A Comfort in Christ, not only fought for, but obtained, if the Promises be rightly applied.

CHAP. II. Sect. I.

The First Means to get into the new Birth.

For the Duties here required.
Say, 1. Haft thou ever in Mind, Will, and Affections took the true God in Christ to be thy God? 2. Haft thou abounded in those Grace by which thou shoulft cleave unto God, as in the Warmth of Knowledge and Love, and Fear, and Joy, and Trusting in God? 3. Haft thou observed God's Mercies, and Promises, and Works, and Judgments upon thee, and by a particular Application took special Notice thereof? 4. Haft thou communicated with the Godly?, and joined thyfelf to God's People, and delighted chiefly in them?

Or, for the sins here forbidden.
Say, 1. Haft thou not sometimes been guilty of Blasphemy, or Idolatry, or Witchcraft, or Atheifm, or Epicurifm, or Herely? 2. Haft thou not been guilty of Pride, a sin flatly opposing God, and first committed by Devils? 3. Haft thou not had inward Reafonings that there is no God, or that he fearch not, or knoweth not, or that there is no Profit in his Service? 4. Haft thou not failed to love God, and fear God, and put thy whole Trust in God? 5. Haft thou not trusted in Man, or feared Man, or loved the World, and thereby alienated thy Heart from God? 6. Haft thou not reforted to Witches, or in the first Place to Physicifians, and not to the Living God? 7. Haft thou not tempted God, and in the Matters of God, been either

Sect. II.

Sins against the First Commandment.

In every Commandment we must observe both the Duties required, and the sins forbidden, for both these are implied in every one of the Commandments; if in the first thou art guilty, thou must answer negatively; if in the second, thou must answer affirmatively: Now then to proceed.

It is the First Commandment, Thou shalt have no other Gods but me.
either cold or lukewarm, or preposterously zealous? 8. Haft thou not a Proneness to sin, yea, to rebel against God in thy whole Man? 9. Haft thou not been careless to perform the inward Duties of God's Worship in sincerity and Truth? If in thes thou hast transgressed, then haft thou broken this Commandment, Thou shalt have no gods but me. Psal. 14. 1. 14. 4. 9.

Sect. III.

Sins against the Second Commandment.

Sect. IV.

Sins against the Third Commandment.

For the Duties required.

Or, for the sins here forbidden.

Say 1. Haft thou not sometimes in thy Talk dishonoured the Titles, Attributes, Religion, Word, People of God, or any Thing that hath in it the Print of his Holiness? 2. Haft thou not sworn, or forsworn, or loved false Oaths? 3. Haft thou not caused the Name of Religion, or People of God to be evil thought of by thy ill course of Life, or by committing some grofs sin? 4. Haft thou not rashly, or unpreparedly, or heedlessly read the Word, heard sermons, received the sacraments, or performed any other Part of the Worship of God? 5. Haft thou not thought or spoken blasphemously, or contemptuously of God, or of any Thing whatsoever pertaining to God? If in any of these thou haft transgressed, then hast thou thou broken this Commandment, Thou shalt not take the Name of the Lord thy God in vain.

Sect. V.

Sins against the fourth Commandment.

It is the fourth Commandment, Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath Day.

For the Duties here required.

Say, First, Hast thou, according to the Equity of this Commandment, ever observed the Lord's Day, and other Days and Times set apart for God's Service? Secondly, Hast thou on those Days rested from the servile Works of Sin, and rested and relied upon Christ for the Remission of Sins, and led an holy and religious Life, that so thou mayest enter into that rest of heaven? Heb. 4. 11. Thirdly, Hast thou always prepared thy Heart, before thou wentest into the Houle of the Lord, by Meditation of God's Word and Works, by Examination and Reformation of thy Ways, by Prayer, Thanksgiving, and holy Resolution to carry thy self as in God's Presence, and to hear and obey whatsoever thou shouldest learn out of the pure Word of God? Fourthly, Hast thou repaired to God's House in due Time, and stayed the whole Time of Prayer, reading, preaching of the Word, singing of Psalms, receiving of the Sacraments? Fifthly, Hast thou performed private religious Offices upon the Lord's Day, to wit, in private Prayer and Thanksgiving, in acknowledging thy Offences to God, in recomforting thy self to those thou hast offended, or with whom thou art at Variance; in visiting the sick, comforting the afflicted, contributing to the Necessity of the Poor, instructing thy Children and Servants, and the Rest of thy Family, in the Fear and Nurture of the Lord?

Or for the Sins here forbidden.

Say, First, Hast thou not sometime spent the Lord's Day in Idlenes, or in worldly Business, in Vanities or in Sin? Secondly, Hast thou not omitted publick Duties, or camest in too late, or wentest out too soon? Ezek. 46. 10. Thirdly, Hast thou not in those Days sold wares, carried Burthens, brought in sheaves, or wrought in the harvest? Neh. 10. 31. & 13. 15. Fourthly, Hast thou not employed thy Cattel, or Servants, or Children, or any other, tho' thou workeft not thy self? Fifithly, Hast thou not profaned the Lord's Day, by needless Works, Words or Thoughts about thy Calling, or about thy Recreation? Sixthly, Hast not the strict Observance of the Duties of that Day been tedious unto thee, saying in thine Heart, When will the day be gone? Amos 8. 5. If in any of these thou hast transgressed, then hast thou broken this Commandment, Remember that thou keep holy the Sabbath Day.

Sect. VI.

Sins against the fifth Commandment.

It is the fifth Commandment, Honour thy Father and thy Mother.

For the Duties here required,

They are either in Family.

For the Family: Say, If thou art an Husband; 1. Hast thou ever loved thy Wife, and dealt with her according to knowledge, giving honour to her as to the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life, that your prayers were not hindered? Eph. 5. 25. 1 Pet. 3. 7. If thou art a Wife: 2. Hast thou submitted to thine own Husband, as unto the Lord in every thing? Eph. 5. 22, 24. 3. Hast thou put on the ornament of a meek and quiet Spirit spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price? 1 Pet. 3. 4. If thou art a Parent: 4. Haft thou brought up thy children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord? Eph. 6. 4. 5. Haft thou corrected them, yet not provoked them by immoderate correction? 6. Haft thou provided for them in their callings, or outward estates? 1 Tim. 5. 8. If thou art a Child: 7. Haft thou obeyed thy parents, and received correction with submission and reverence? Rom. 1. 20. 8. Haft thou relieved them in their wants? Heb. 12: 9. 9. Haft thou observed their instructions, and covered their infirmities? Prov. 15. 15. If thou art a Master: 10. Haft thou entertained God's servants, Gen. 9. 22. and given unto thy servant that which is just and equal? Col. 4. 1. If thou art a Servant: 11. Haft thou been obedient to thy master according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of heart, as unto Christ? Not answering again, not purloining, but showing all good fidelity? Tit. 2. 9. 10.

Secondly, For the Common-wealth; if thou art a Magistrate: 12. Haft thou executed just Laws? 13. Haft thou reformed others Abuses, according to the Power that is in thee? If thou art a Subject: 14. Haft thou obeyed the higher Powers in all just Commands? 15. Haft thou been subject unto them, not only for Wrath, but also for conscience sake? Rom. 13. 5.

Thirdly, For the Church; If thou art a Minister: 16. Haft thou taught in season, and out of season? 17. Haft thou lighted before men, that they might see thy good works? Mat. 5. 16. If thou art an Hearer: 18. Haft thou communicated to them that teach thee in all good Things? Gal. 6. 6. 19. Haft thou obeyed them, and prayed for them, and loved them, and followed them, considering the end of their conversation, Heb. 13. 7, 17, 18.

Or for the Sins here forbidden.

And first, For the Family: Say, if thou art an Husband: 1. Haft thou not sometimes abused thy Wife, Pro. 21. 19. or smitten her, or injured her in Thought, Word or Deed? If thou art a Wife: 2. Haft thou not been wanton, or froward or idle? If thou art a Parent: 3. Haft thou not been careless, especially of thy Childrens Souls? If thou art a Child: 4. Haft thou not despised thy father's or mother's instructions? Pro. 15. 5. 15. Haft thou not mocked them, or despised them, or cursed them, or smitten them, or blamed them, or grieved them? Prov. 30. 17. & 20. 20. If thou art a Master: 6. Haft thou not governed thy Family negligently? 7. Haft thou not withheld that which is just and equal in Diet, Wages, Encouragement? If thou art a Servant: 8. Haft thou not been idle, and slothful? 9. Haft thou not served grudgingly, and not from the Heart.

Secondly, For the Common-wealth: If thou art a Magistrate: 10. Haft thou not been as a lion or a bear, roaring and ranging over the poor people? Prov. 28. 15. 11. Haft thou not decreed unrighteous decrees? respecting the persons of the poor, or honouring the persons of the mighty? Isa. 10. 1. Lev. 19. 15. If thou art a Subject: 12. Haft thou not reviled the gods, or cursed the ruler of thy People? Exod 12. 28. 13. Haft thou not disobeyed the higher powers, or not denied tribute, or customs, or honours, or fear to whom they are due? Rom. 13. 17.

Thirdly, For the Church; if thou art a Minister: 14. Haft thou not been profane and wicked in thy Life and Conversation? 15. Haft thou not run before thou wast sent? Jer. 23. 11. or being sent, haft thou not been negligent in the gift that is in thee? 1 Tim. 4. 14.
17. Haft thou not committed Simony, or sought indirectly for the Fleece, not regarding respectively the Flock? 18. Haft thou not strengthened the hands of evil doers, in preaching Peace to wicked Men? Jer. 23. 14. 19. Haft thou not given heed to fables, or to some unprofitable matter, rather than to a godly edifying, which is in faith? 1 Tim. 1. 4. If thou art an Hearer: 20. Haft thou not refilfed the Minifter, and the Word preached by him? Gal. 6. 6. Heb. 13. 7, 17, 18. Whatsoever thou art Husband, or Wife, or Parent, or Child, or Master, or Servant, or Magistrate, or Subject, or Minifter, or Hearer (if any of these thou haft transgressed, then haft thou broke this Commandment, Honour thy father and thy mother.

Sect. XI.

Sins against the last Commandment.

It is the last Commandment, Thou shalt not covet.

For the Duties here required.

Say: 1. Hast thou ever been truly contented with thy own outward Condition? 2. Hast thou rejoiced at others good, and loved thy Neighbour as thy self? Mat. 15. 19. Or for the Sins here forbidden.

Say: 1. Hast thou not sometimes conceived evil thoughts in thy Heart? Mat. 19. 19. 2. Hast thou not delighted in the inward Contemplations of Evil? 3. Hast thou not been full of Discontent with thy own Condition and State? 4. Hast thou not felt another law of thy Members warring against the law of thy Mind? Rom. 7. 29. 5. Hast thou not coveted after something or other that was thy Neighbours, either with Will, or by actual Concupiscence? If in any of these thou hast transgressed, then hast thou broke this Commandment, Thou shalt not covet.
The New Birth.

CHAP. III.

The second Means to get into the new Birth.

AFTER Examination, which may well serve thee for one Day's Work or two, the next Duty is Confession. Now then take the Catalogue of those Sins, or if thy awaked Conscience can tell thee of any other, which thou knowest thou hast committed, and noted, either in this Book, or in some other Paper; and kneeling on thy Knees, spread thy Catalogue before the Lord; I say, spread thy Catalogue before the Lord, as Hezekiah did his letter, 2 Kings 19. 14. There read thou seriously and particularly, saying, O Lord, I confess I have committed this Sin, and the other Sin, as they are before thee in Order, of all these Sins I am guilty, especially of those sins wherein I delighted, my Darlings, my Minions, my Bosom-Sins (take Notice of them, and confess them again) of all these Sins I am guilty; and now O Lord, standing, as it were, at the Bar of thy Tribunal, I arraign my self, and accuse myself, and judge myself worthy of the utmost of thy Wrath and Indignation; for one Sin thou castest Adam out of Paradise; for one Sin thou castest the Angels out of Heaven, for one Sin thou destroyest a World of Men; and what then shall become of me, that have committed a World of Sins? — [Here pause a while, and meditate on thy Unworthiness] O that I should be so foolish, so brutish, so mad to commit these Sins, these manifold Sins! O that by these Sins I should break so holy a Law, provoke so good and great a Majesty! What shall I do, but remembering my evil Ways, even loath my self in my own Sight, yea, abhor my self in dust and ashes, for my iniquities and my abominations? Ezek. 36. 31. For Conclusion, thou mayst imitate the Publican, who not daring to lift up his eyes, smote his breast: so do thou, and high, and say with him, O God, be merciful to me a sinner, Luke 18. 13.

CHAP. IV. SECT. I.

The third Means to get into the new Birth.

AFTER Confession, which may well serve thee for another Day's Work, the next Duty thou must labour for, is to seek for true Sorrows and mourning for thy Sins: Seek thou must, and never leave seeking, till thou feel thy Heart melt within thee. To this Purpose read some Tracts of Death, of Judgment, of Hell, of Christ's Passion, of the Joys of Heaven: Last of all (and I take it best of all) resolve to set every Day some Time apart to beg it of the Lord: When Daniel set himself to pray, the Lord came in to him, Dan. 9. 3. When Peter had gone apart to pray; and when Paul had prayed in the Temple, then the Lord came into them, Acts 10. 6. & 22. 17. And why may not I bid thee pray, as well as Peter bid Simon Magnus, yet being in the gall of bitterness and bond of iniquity? Acts 8. 22, 23: Resolve then, and at the Time appointed fall down on thy Knees, spread thy Catalogue, confess, accuse, judge, condemn thy self again; which done, beg, beg of the Lord to give thee that soft Heart he promised, Ezek. 36. 26.
A new heart will [I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the soully heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh. Say then to thy self, Is this the Lord's Promise? O Lord, perform it to my heart; take away my soully heart, give me an heart of flesh, a new Heart, a new Spirit, &c. [Here make thine own Prayer, be not careful of Words, only let the Words be the true Voice of thy heart:] and the more to work softening, thou mayest sob, and sigh and beat thy breast; above all thou must pray, and call, and cry with vehemency and fervency not to be uttered. When thou hast done, if the Lord do not yet hear thee, pray again the next day, and the next day, yea put on this Resolution, that thou wilt never leave praying till the Lord hear thee in mercy, till he make thee to feel thy heart melt within thee, yea, if it may be, till thou seest thy * tears trickling down thy cheeks, because of thy offences. The Lord will perhaps hear thee at the first time, or at the second time; or if he do not, be not discour aged, God hath his times; Moses smote the Rock at Horeb twice before it would yield, Num. 20. 11. and at last it sent out abundant streams of living waters; God speaketh once and twice, and Man perceiveth not; happy he who relenteth at last: Give it not over, persist thou, thy suit is just, and importunity will prevail; yea, I can say, Thy desire to sorrow being resolved, it is a degree of godly sorrow; and no doubt the Lord will create it, if thou beggest hard a while.

SEC. II.

The first Reason for this Sorrow.

THIS must be done; First, because without Pangs no Birth: The Pangs of a penitent Man, are the Pangs of a Woman. Now as there can be no Birth without Pains of Travel going before, so neither true Repentance without some Terrors of the Law, and Straits of Conscience. Ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear, saith the Apostle to the Romans, ch. 8. 15. And what is that? but to shew us, they once did receive it; when? but in the very first preparation to Conversion: Then it was that the Spirit of God in the Law did so bear Witness unto them of their Bondage, that it made them to fear. And certainly it is with every Man in his first Conversion, his Conversion must be compungent, and vehement, bruising, breaking, renting the Heart, and feeling the Throws, as a Woman labouring of Child, before there can be a New Birth, or the new Creature be brought forth.

SEC. III.

The second Reason for this Sorrow.

AGAIN, Without Contrition no Christ; therefore it was that God first opened the Eyes of our first Parents.

† The Promises of Jeremiah, 31. 32. 33. Heb. 8. 10. Hos. 2. 23. & c. 14. a. Jue. 65. 4. are absolute promises, which are made not only to them that be for the present his people, but to them which for the present are not: which 1. RAffeth up the Soul of an helpless,inner to some hope at least of mercy and help from the Lord. And 2. They serve to create, and draw out faith in Jesus Christ in the promises; it is observed, that no conditional promise firstly begins faith; for he that is under a condition, is presupposed to have faith; in the first place; therefore look on the absolute promises, Ezek. 36. 24. &c.

The New Birth.

to make them see and be sensible of their Sin and Misery, Gen. 3. 7. before he promised Christ, ver. 15. Therefore it was that John Baptist (faith Chrysostom, in c. 3. Mat. hom. 11.) first thoroughly frightened the Minds of his Hearers with the Terror of Judgment, and Expectation of Torment, and with the Name of an Ax, and their Rejection, and Entertainment of other Children, and by doubling the Punishment, to wit, of being hewn down, and cast into the Fire; and when he had thus every Way tamed, and taken down their Stubbornness, then at length he makes Mention of Christ. Why then is Christ seasonably revealed (faith Musculus;) when the Hearts of Men being soundly pierced by preaching Repentance, are possessed with a Desire of his gracious Righteousness. Or if you will hear Calvin, To whom is Christ promised, but to them alone who are humbled and confounded with the Sense of their own Sins? Certainly the first thing that draws to Christ, is to consider our miserable Estate without him; no man will come unto Christ except he be hungry; no Man will take Christ’s Yoke upon him, till he come to know and feel the Weight of Satan’s Yoke; to this End therefore must every Man be broken with Threats, and Scourges, and Lash-es of Conscience, that to despairing of himself, he may flee unto Christ.

Sect. IV.
The Third Reason for this Sorrow.

Again, Without hearty Sorrow, no spiritual comfort. We must first be humbled before the Lord, and then he will lift us up, James 4. 10. Christ indeed was anointed to preach good Tidings, but to whom? To the poor, to the broken-hearted, to the captives, to them that are bound, to the bruised, Isa. 61. 11. God pours not the Oil of his Mercy fave into a broken Vessel; God never comforts through-ly, fave where he finds Humiliation and Repentance for Sin. The Word of God (faith one *) hath three Degrees of Operation in the Hearts of his chosen: First, It falleth to Men’s Ears as the Sound of many Waters, a mighty, great, and drowned Sound, and which commonly bringeth neither Terror nor Joy, but yet a wondering, and Acknowledgment of a Strange Force, and more than human Power; this is that which many fent hearing Christ, when they were astonifhcd at his Doctrine, as teaching with Authority: What Manner of Doctrine is this? Mark 1. 22, 27. Luke 4. 32. Never man spake like this Man, John 7. 46. The next Effect is the Voice of Thunder, which bringeth not only Wonder, but Fear also; not only filleth the Ears with Sound, and the Heart with Astonishment, but moreover shaketh and terrifieth the conscience. The third Effect is the Sound of harping, while the Word not only ravifheth with Admiration, and striketh the conscience with Terror, but also lastly, filleth it with sweet Peace and Joy. Now, albeit the two first Degrees may be without the last, yet none feel the last, who have not in some Degree felt both the first. He faith true, in some Degree, tho’ commonly the deeper is the Sense of Misery, the sweeter is the Sense of Mercy. In our dead Security before conversion (faith Another §) God is fain to let the Law, Sin, Confcience, Satan, a deep Sense of our abominable and cursed State loofe upon us, and to kindle the very fire of Hell in our Souls, that so we might be roused, and afterwards more sweetly and soundly raised and refreshed; for after the most toilsom labour is the sweetest sleep, after the greatest Tempests the stilllest calms; sanctified Troubles and Terrors establish the surest Peace, and the shaking of these Winds makes the Trees of God's Eden; Kings 16. take the better rooting. Spiritually there is never a perfect calm but after a Tempest; the Wind and Earthquake and Fire make way for the soft Voice.

CHAP. V. Sect. I.

The Means to be delivered out of the Pangs of the new Birth.

And now, if by God's Blessing, thou feelest this Sorrow and melting of Heart, the next Thing thou must do, is to seek for the Remedy, which Remedy consists of these Ingredients: 1. A Sight of Christ. 2. A Desire after Christ. 3. A Relying on Christ. 4. An Obedience to Christ. 5. A Comfort in Christ sought for and obtained. Thou wilt say, These Ingredients are Pearls indeed, but how should I obtain them? I answer, By Application of the Promises; and sith every Ingredient hath its particular Promises, I shall let thee see them in Order, only do thou apply them thyself; it is enough for the Physician to prepare the Medicine, thy own Body must receive it; so in this Medicine it is, thou must apply it if thou wilt have Soul's Health. Some may object, I dare not look to the Promises, I cannot believe; if I could believe, then I could expect good from the promise. I answer, Thou shalt never believe upon these Terms, thou must not first have Faith, then go to the Promise; but thou must first go to the Promise, and from thence receive Power to believe: The dead (faith Christ) shall hear the voice of the Son of God, and they that hear it shall live, John 5. 25. It is spoken of the dead in sin; first, there is the Voice of Christ to the Soul, before there can be again an Echo of the Soul to Christ; the Lord faith, Come Soul, and the Soul faith, I come Lord: O then go to the Promise, and expect Faith from thence; this is the Rule, I must not bring Faith to the Promise, but receive Faith from it, and therefore there will I hang, and wait till the Lord please to work it.

Sect. II.

The Promises procuring a Sight of Christ.

The first Step, or Ingredient that brings Comfort to thy heavy Soul, is the sight of Christ; and to procure this Sight, thou hast these Promises.

Mat. 1. 21. Thou shalt call his name Jesus, for he shall save his people from their sins.

Luke 2. 10. 11. Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy that shall be to all people, that is, that unto you is born this Day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

John 1. 29. Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sins of the world.

John 3. 16. God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, to the end that all that believe in him should not perish, but have life everlasting.

John 3. 17. God sent not his Son into the world that he should condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved.

Romans 3. 25. God hath set forth Christ Jesus to be a Reconciliation conciuation through faith in his blood.

1 Cor. 1. 30. Christ Jesus of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption.

1 Tim. 1. 15. This is a true saying, and by all means worthy to be received, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners.

Heb. 13. 12. Jesus, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.

1 John 2. 1, 2. If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous, and he is the propitiation for our sins, and not for us only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

Rev. 5. 8. Thou wast killed, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation.

All these tell thee, That as thou art a sinner, so thou hast a Saviour; only do thou apply them, and certainly they will help thee in the first Step, the first Ingredient of this Remedy to thy Misery, to wit, the Sight of Christ.

Sect. III.

The Promises procuring a Desire after Christ.

THOU mayst say, I see Christ, and I see that his Person, and Death, and Blood-shed are precious and saving; but how may I make him mine? how may I know that he is my Saviour? I answer, Thou must hunger, and thirst after him; this Desire is the second Step: And to provoke thee to this Duty, consider of these Promises.

Isa. 55. 1. Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money, come ye, buy and eat, yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price.

Matth. 5. 6. Blessed are they which hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled.

John 7. 37, 38. In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink: he that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, Out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

Rev. 21. 6. I will give to him that is athirst, of the water of life freely.

Rev. 22. 17. Let him that is athirst come, and whatsoever will, let him take of the water of life freely.

Psal. 63. 1. O God, thou art my God, early will I seek thee, my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth greatly after thee, in a barren and dry land without water.

Psal. 145. 19. He will fulfill the desire of them that fear him.

All these may provoke thee to thirst after Christ, that most sovereign and soul-saving fountain, opened to the house of David, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for sin, and for uncleanness, Zech. 13. 1.

Sect. IV.

The Promises procuring a Relying on Christ.

Yet thou mayst say, I thirst indeed, but I dare not drink; I desire, but I dare not come near to lay hold on Christ: How so? I am, (sayst thou) a most vile, unworthy, wicked Wretch, and my sins are of scarlet, crimson Dye: true it is; for thee to pretend Part in Christ, wallowing yet in thy sins, for thee to believe that Christ is thy Righteousness, purposing yet to go on in the Practice or Allowance of any one known sin, it were a most cursed horrible Presumption indeed; but where all sin is a Burden, every Promise, as a World of Gold, and the Heart sincere for a new Way, there a Man may be bold: A Man may? Yes, he
The New Birth.

he must; if thou groanest under sin, if thou longest after Christ, apply these Promises, and they will force thee to lay hold upon the Rock, to take Christ for thine own, to throw thy sinful soul upon the bleeding Wounds of Jesus, and to cast thyself with Confidence into the Bottom of His Love.

1. Then, Take notice (faith a Modern) that Jesus Christ keeps open House for all hungry and thirsty Souls. * Rev. 22. 17. Let him that is athirst come, and whoever will, let him take the water of life freely. Or if open House will not fit, without Invitation, hear him call;

Matth. 11. 28. Come unto me all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Or, if Invitation will not fit, without Proclamation, hear him proclaim;

John 7. 37. Jesus stood, and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink: he that believeth on me, out of his belly shall flow rivers of waters. Or, left thou shouldst think, thou must come to thy Cost, and bring some what in thy Hand, hear how he doubles, and trebles his Cry to the contrary;

Isa. 55. 1. Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money come ye, buy and eat, yea, come, buy wine and milk, without money, and without price. And yet, left thou say, I am so far from bringing any Thing in my Hand, that I bring a World of Wickedness in my Heart, and my sins, I fear, will hinder my Acceptation: No; (faith he again)

Isa. 55. 7. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, (and this is thy Desire, thy case) and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon. Or, if all this will not do without a more solemn Invitation, see then how the Lord of Heaven sends forth his Ambassadors to move thee, and entreat thee to come in.

2 Cor. 5. 30. Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God. Or, if he cannot wooe thee, lo, he commands thee;

1 John 3. 23. And this is the commandment, that we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ. Or, yet to drive thee to Christ, he not only commands, but threatens;

Heb. 3. 18. And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

And what can he do more unto his Vineyard? 1. To bid thee welcome, he keeps open House. 2. He invites. 3. He proclaims. 4. He calls thee farmer, without Mony or Mony-worth. 5. He apologizeth. 6. He sends. 7. He commandeth. 8. He threatneth, Hear what mine Author concludes from these Premisses: How cruel then is that Man to his own wounded Conscience, who in his extreme Spiritual Thirst will not be drawn by this eight-fold merciful Cord, to drink his Fill of the Fountain of the Water of Life, to cast himself with Confidence and Comfort into the Arms of the Lord Jesus? Yea, how is it possible, but that all, or some of these, should bring in every broken Heart to believe, and every one that is weary of his sins, to rely upon the Lord of Life for everlasting Welfare?

Sect. V.

The Promises procuring Obedience to Christ.

And yet thou mayst say, I have cast myself on Christ, is this all I must do? No, there is yet another step, he is not only to be thy Saviour, but thy Husband, thou must love him, and serve him, and honour him, and obey him; thou must endeavour not only for Pardon of sin, and salvation from Hell, but for Purity, new Obedience, Ability to do, or suffer any Thing for Christ. And to provoke thee to this Duty, consider of these Texts:

Jer. 31. 33. But this shall be the Covenant that I will make with the house of Israel: After these days, saith the Lord, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. See the same Promise in Heb. 8. 10. Heb. 10. 16.

Matth. 7. 21. Not every one that saith, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

Matth. 11. 29. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek, and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls:

Matth. 16. 24. If any man will follow me, let him take up his cross and follow me.

2 Cor. 5. 15. He died for all, that they which live, should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him that died for them.

2 Cor. 5. 17. If any man be in Christ, let him be a new creature: old things are passed away, behold, all things are become new.

1 John. 1. 6, 7. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another; and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

1 John 2. 5, 6. He that keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: Hereby know we that we are in him. He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also to walk, even as he walked.

1 John 3. 6, 9. Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not. Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin, for his seed remaineth in him, and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

1 John 4. 24. He that keepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him: and hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

1 John 5. 18. We know that whosoever is born of God, sinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

All these may invite thee to enter into the holy Path, and to fight under Christ's Banner against the World, the Flesh, and the Devil, unto thy Live's End.

Sect. VI.

The Promises procuring comfort in Christ.

Once more, thou mayst say, "I have been truly humbled with the sense of sin, and sense of Mifery, and sorrow for sin; yea, I have seen and thirsted, and relied, and purposed universal Obedience to my Saviour, our, and yet no Comfort comes:" It may be so, but hast thou praised God for this Work of Wonder, the new Birth wrought in thee? If so, then is there another Duty expected from thee, right precious and pleasing unto God, and that is, Waiting: Yet, I could could wish thee to address thyself to these precious Promises; sette thy soul on them with fixed Meditation and fervent Prayer, and where thou perceivest the Condition of the Promises to be by God's Grace formed in thee, thou mayst safely allure thyself of so much Favour as is expressly contained in the Promises.

Lev. 26. 40, 41, 42, 44. If they shall confess their iniquity, -- If their uncircumcised hearts be humbled, -- Then will I remember my covenant; -- That I might be their God; I am the Lord. The Condition is, to confess and be humbled; and this if thou dost, the Covenant is sure, the Lord is thy God.

Job. 33. 27, 28. If any say, I have sinned, and perverted that which is right, and it profited me not; he will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light. The Condition is, If any say I have sinned, if thy Heart say thus in sincerity and truth, the Promise is sure, God will deliver thy soul from Hell, and thou shalt see the Light of Heaven.

Psal. 51. 17. A broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise. The condition is, a broken and a contrite heart for sin; and if thy Heart be thus, be sure God will not despise it.

Prov. 28. 13. Whosoever confesseth and forsaketh his sins shall have mercy. The condition is, to confess and forsake sin; and this if thou dost, as sure as God is God, thou shalt have mercy.

Isa. 57. 17. I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones. The Condition is, to be of a contrite and humble spirit; and if thou art thus, God is true who hath said it, be dwells in thee, to revive thy spirit, and to revive thy heart.

Isa. 61. 1. The Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted. The Condition is, to be meek and broken hearted; and if this be thy case, then good Tidings belong to thee, and Christ is sent to bind up thy broken heart in the Bundle of Peace.

Jer. 31. 19, 20. Surely, after that I was turned, I repented (faith Ephraim) and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh; I was ashamed, yea even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth. Therefore (faith God) my bowels are troubled for him, I will surely have mercy upon him, faith the Lord. The Condition is, to repent, to be ashamed, confounded for sin; and if thy case be like Ephraim's, God is the same to thee, his bowels yearn for thee, he will surely have mercy on thee.

Matth. 6. 6. Blessed are they which hunger and thirst after righteousness. The Condition is, to hunger and thirst after the righteousness of Christ; and if this thou dost, then art thou blessed from the Mouth of our Saviour.

Matth. 11. 28. Come unto me all ye that labour, and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. The Condition is, to come to Christ, and if thou wilt, God's Word is sure, thou shalt have Rest spiritual and eternal.

Rev. 21. 6. I will give unto him that is athirst, of the water of life freely. The Condition is, to thirst after the heavenly Streams of God's Favour, and Christ's sovereign Blood; and this if thou dost, then hast thou Part in the fountain of the water of life that proceeds out of the throne of God, and of the Lamb, Rev. 22. 1.

All these are so full of Comfort, that if thou but crucft them with the Hand of Faith, they cannot but yield some Juice of Sweetness to thy afflicted Soul. O alas! say some, I have done what I may may, and yet no Comfort comes: Sweet Soul, be not discouraged, but be the more humbled; in this Case thou must fall down with Mary, and by still washing the Feet of Christ with thy Tears; and then look up again, view again and again these Promises of Christ, it may be, he will even now, or before long take thee up in his Arms, and kiss thee with the kisses of his mouth.

SECTION VII.

The Means to apply the said Promises.

I SAID before, it was enough for me to prepare the Medicine, it is thou must apply it; yet if thou feelest a backwardness to perform thy Part, I shall tell thee of some Means to incite thee, and help thee onward to the Performance of this Duty.

Take then the Promises, and carry them, as thou didst the Catalogue of thy Sins, into the Presence of thy Lord; and, fallen down on thy Knees, beseech God for thy Saviour's sake to encline thine Heart to believe those Promises. If thou haft the Repulse, pray again and again, yea, resolve never to make Prayer, but to use this Petition, That the Lord would please to let thee have some Feeling of the Life of those Promises. Some Soul may object; I have no Heart nor Spirit to pray: Yet use thy Endeavour, and in thy Endeavours God may come in; and whensoever thou feelest any of them to be Spirit and Life to thee, whensoever thou feelest by a certain Taste, the Joys of the Holy Ghost to fall upon thee, O happy Man that ever thou wast born! Then art thou to thy own Knowledge, new born indeed: then hast thou, without doubt, done this most glorious Exercise of passing thorough the new Birth, and then hast thou Cause (as thou canst not chuse) to sing and praise God Day and Night, World without End: So, true is that of Christ, Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted, Matth. 5. 4. Amen.

SECTION VIII.

The Conclusion.

Here is an End, and to you, to whom I have dedicated this Work, my Conclusion is this: The Year hath now run his Round since I first came amongst you, and how the Lord hath wrought by me, you yourselves know best: For my Part, if I did but know one poor Soul amongst you truly converted by such a weak unworthy Instrument, I would ever think my self most happy in that soul, and richly paid for my Pains. I know it, neither Paul nor Apollo can do this, except God give the Increase: However, I must tell you, with Paul, my Desires have been this Way; I have, since my coming, travailed of you, and travailed again, that Christ may be formed in you, Gal. 4. 19. And what's the Issue? once could the Lord say, Shall I bring to the Birth, and not cause to bring forth? Isa. 66. 9. And, to join Issue with you, have I travailed of you in Birth, and not one of you brought forth? The Lord forbid. I confess, Beloved, I have received from you many Kindnesses of Love; now, for the Lord's sake, do me this one Kindness more, Give me, at least, one Soul amongst you, that I may give it unto God: O what a Kindness would you then do me! Not all the Wealth of your Town, nor all the increase of your State, nor all you have, or ever shall have, would do me so much good in the Day of my Lord Jesus, as this one Boon I ask; then could I say, "Lord,
The New Birth:

"Lord, I have not lost the Fruits of my Labour in this Town, see here the Soul now shining in Glory which I converted by thy Power; see here the Soul of such a one, and such a one which through thy Grace, and my Ministry were converted unto thee." If this were thus, why then, Beloved, you would bless me for ever, and I should bless you for ever, and we should all bless God for ever, for this so gracious and so blessed a Work. Now the Lord of his Goodness give you a fight of your sins, and a true sorrow for sin; and if not afore now, yet now, this Day, the Lord this Day set his Print and Seal upon you.

The Time draweth on, and I have but a Minute, a little Time to speak you; for a Farewel then, let these last Words take a deeper impression in your Hearts: If you would do all I would have you do, I could wish no more, but, that to this Humiliation or Repentance you would add Charity or Love; the First you owe to God, and the Second to your Neighbour; by the First you may become new Creatures, by the Second true Christians, like them in the Church’s Infancy, of one Mind, one Heart, and one Soul; sure it is not possible that we should have Forgiveneß of sins, but that we must be of the Communion of Saints. A thousand Pities it is to hear of the many Factions in our Church, and Kingdoms, and Towns, and Families: O pray for the Peace of Jerusalem, they shall prosper that love it; and let us pray (as Need we have too) for our own Peace one with another: You cannot come to a Communion, but you hear this Lesson in the Invitation; You that do truly and earnestly repent of your sins, and be in Charity and Love with your Neighbours, &c. Here’s both Repentance to God, and Charity (nay, more than Charity, as we use the Word commonly) even Love of our Neighbours. For my Part, I wish that my very Heart-blood could cement the Divisions of Reuben, Judg. 5:15. (for which are great Thoughts of Heart) in this Town, in this Church, in these Kingdoms. I will say no more, but conclude with those Words of the Apostle, Finally, Brethren, fare ye well: Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of love and peace be with you for ever and ever, 2 Cor.13:11.

Doctrine and Directions,

But more especially, The

PRACTISE and BEHAVIOUR

OF A

Man in the Act of the New Birth.

A TREATISE by way of APPENDIX to the Former.

The Occasion of this Treatise.

HITHERTO I have given the Doctrine and Application of the Soul-saving new Birth; but some there are, whose Hearts are so cleely, that all this cannot work upon them: If any such desire yet any more, (and desire they must, or there is no Remedy for them) I have for their Help in the Practice, brought a Practitioner afore them. It was Cesar's great Praise, that he bade his soldiers, still come; and if Men had but many Cesars or Leaders in these practical Points, I suppose there would be more Followers. A plain Doctrine may win some, and a particular Direction may win more, but a good Example wins most. Howsoever then, concerning the new Birth, I have delivered the Doctrine, in the Sermons; and Directions, in the Appendix: Yet, one Thing is wanting, which may help more than either, to wit, The Practice of some Saint in this one necessary Thing: And what Saint? what Man hath writ more on this Subject, than T. Hooker? It was said of blessed Mr. Bolton, That, "for himself, he could profess, to his comfort on his Death-bed, That he never taught any godly Point, but he first wrought it on his own Heart.*" The same, do I more than probably think, was the Practice of this Man. Now therefore, I thought fit, not only to contract his Books in this Appendix (which some without his Privity, have unskilfully put out) but also, and that more especially, to let afore you (whosoever you are) those prime, powerful, pathetical Expressions of his soul-pangs in the new Birth, as Matter for your Imitation: These Expressions indeed are they I most especially aim at, which, if you observe, are alwayse delivered in the first Person [1, ] and I verily believe they were not feigned, but feeling from his Heart and Soul. What needs more? if either Doctrine in the first Part, or Direction in the second Part, or Practice in the third Part of the Book (which consists most of Practice) can work on your souls, I hope some of these, or all of thes6 will help you on in the Way from Corruption to Christianity, and from the State of Nature into the Kingdom of Grace.

CHAP. I.
The Soul’s Preparation.

BEFORE the Soul can share in Christ’s Merits (to speak in the Author’s Stile or Language, without any Alteration) Two Things are required.

1. A Preparation to receive and entertain Christ.

2. An Implantation of the Soul into Christ.

That there must be a Preparation, is the first Ground we lay; and herein observe we

The Matter of this Preparation.

For Matter: The Soul of a Sinner must be prepared for Christ, before he can entertain him. When Kings go to any Place, they send (to make Readiness) their Harbangers afore them; if Christ (the King of Saints) come into a Soul, there must be a Preparation before he enter; and good Reason, he is not a mere Man, an ordinaay Person, but a King, a King of Glory.
David, in this Case, could call upon his soul, (so we may expound his Gates and Doors) Ps. 24.7. Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of glory shall come in;
as if he should say, What shall the Lord knock? shall the King of Glory stand? Open suddenly, and make all Preparation.

2. The Manner of this Preparation consists in these three Passages; 1. The Soul breaks that League which formerly it hath had with Corruptions, and reserves itself for Christ. And, 2. The soul is most willing to give Way to Christ Jesus, and to let him overthrow whatsoever shall oppose him. 3. The soul is content that God should rule all,
not only the Eye, or Hand, or Tongue, or Heart; but the whole Man; it opens all the Gates, and desires Christ to come, and take all the Keys of the House upon him.

3. The Means of this Preparation is the powerful Ministrey, which God hath appointed for this Work; and it is discovered in three Particulars: 1. In a particular Application of the Truth to the souls of Men with Courage. 2. In a Confirmation of the Truth by Soundness of Argument, and plain Evidence of Scriptures. 3. In a kind of spiritual Heat in the Heart and Affections of the Minister, answerable to that which he communicates to the People.
And this powerful Ministrey works on the soul, (1.) By discovering what is in a Man’s Heart, so that the soul feeth what it never saw before, and so is driven to a stand. (2.) By drawing the soul into an Awe of sin, so that it dares not not meddle with sin as formerly it hath done.

Use. It any soul that hath enjoyed these Means any while, is not yet fitted and prepared, it is a fearful Suspicion, that God will never confer any Good to that soul: Go home then, (if there be any such) and reason with your own souls, and plead with your own Hearts, saying, Lord, why not yet am I humbled and prepared? Will Exhortations never prevail with me? Will Terrors and reproofs never break my Heart into Pieces? I have heard Sermons that would have shaken the very Stones I trod on, that would have moved the very Seat I sat on; the very Fire of Hell hath flashed in my Face; I have seen even the Plagues of Hell, and if any Thing can do me any good, why not then those Exhortations, Injuries, Admonitions and Reproofs that I have often had? I have had as powerful Means as may be, which never yet did me good. The Lord be merciful to such a poor soul; the Lord turn the Heart of such a poor sinner, that he may lay hold on Mercy in due Time.

CHAP. II.

Sect. I.

The general Circumstances of Preparation on God's Part.

But for a further Distribution, which shall be our Method; in this Preparation two Things are considerable;

The General Circumstances.

The Substantial Parts.

The general Circumstances are Twofold:

Some on God's Part.

On God's Part they are these,

1. The Offer of Christ and Grace.
2. The Condition of this Offer.
3. The Easiness of this Condition.

On Man's Part, two Things are considerable:

1. That Corruption doth oppose this Grace.
2. That God will remove this Corruption.

The First General Circumstances of the Soul's Preparation, is on God's Part; wherein is The Offer of Christ Jesus; The Condition of this Offer, and The Easiness of this Condition, we may have all in this one Comparison: As with a Malefactor convicted of High Treason, for plotting some wicked Practice against his Prince, if, after the Discovery of all Passages, the King make a Proclamation, That, upon the turcealing of his Enterprises, he shall be pardoned; nay, if the King shall continue to send Messenger after Messenger, secretly to tell him, That would he yet lay down his Arms, and take a Pardon, he shall freely be remitted, and graciously accepted into Favour again: If this Traitor now should rather fling away his Pardon than his Weapons, then should the King raise an Army, and overcome him, and take him, and execute him without any Pity or Mercy, I appeal to your own Consciences, is he not justly rewarded? What will the World say! He had a fair Offer of Pardon, and the King sent Messenger after Messenger unto him; see wherefore he refused and neglected such Offers, it is Pity but Condemnation should befall him; thus would all say. Why, this is the Condition of every poor soul under Heaven, we are all Rebels and Traitors; by our Oaths and Blasphemies, we set our Mouth against Heaven; and yet after all our Pride, and Stubbornness, and Looseness, and Profaneness, and Contempt of God's Word and Ordi-
Ordinances, the Lord is pleased to proclaim Mercy still to every one that will receive it: All you that have dishonoured my Name, All you that have profaned my Sabbaths, and contemned my Ordinances, All you cursed Wretches, Come; come who will, and take Pardon; therein is the Offer: only let them lay aside all their Weapons; therein is the Condition; and then have Christ for the taking; therein is the Easiness of the Condition.

Blessed God, (may every Soul say) if I will not do this for Christ, I will do nothing: Had the Lord required a great Matter of me to have attained Salvation; had he required thousands of Rams, and ten thousand Rivers of Oil; had he required the First-born of my Body for the Sins of my Soul; had he required me to have kneeled and prayed until mine Eyes had failed, until my Hands had been weared, until my Tongue had been hoarse, and until my Heart had fainted, one Drop of Mercy at the last Gasp, would have quit all this Cost: But what Goodness is this, that the Lord should require nothing of me, but to lay down my Weapons, and to receive Christ offered? Lo, the Lord this Day hath sent from Heaven, and offered salvation unto you Sons of Men; The Lord Jesus has become a Saviour to you, and I am Christ's Spokesman, to speak a good Word for him: O that we may have our Errand from you! O that there were such a heart in my people ( faith God ) to fear me, and keep my Commandments alway! Deut. 5. 29. Shall the Lord and his Messengers thus wooe and intreat? and will any yet stand out against God, and say, I will none of Christ? I will try it out to the last? O then, if the great God of Heaven and Earth shall come with Ten thousand thousand of Judgments, and execute them upon that Man; if he shall bring a whole Legion of Devils, and say, Take him, Devils, and torment him, Devils, in Hell for ever; because he would not have Mercy when it was offered, he shall not have Mercy; because he would not have Salvation when it was tendered, let him be condemned: If God should thus deal with that Man, the Lord should be just in to doing, and he justly miserable.

S E C T. II.

The general Circumstances of Preparati- on on Man's Part.

The Second general Circumstance of the Soul's Preparation, is on Man's Part; and herein is observable,

1. That Corruption opposeth Grace.
2. That God will remove this Corruption.

1. The First is clear, 1 Cor. 2. 14.
The natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God, neither can he know them; and Acts 7. 51. Ye stiff necked, and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do alway resist the Holy Ghost, as your fathers did, so do ye. Give us a Man in the State of Nature, and tho all the Ministers under Heaven should preach mercy unto him; tho all the Angels in Heaven should exhort and intreat him; tho all the Glory and Happiness were laid before him, and he were wifhed only to believe and take it, and it should be his for ever; yet, in his natural Condition, he could have no Power to receive to blessed an Offer: Howsoever, this hinders not, but he is to wait upon God in the Means. And then,

2. God may remove this Corruption, -which he himself cannot do: Herein observe we

The Author of this Grace

1. The Author is God; I will take away their stony hearts ( faith God ) and give them an heart of flesh; Ezek. 11.
The New Birth.

In Regard of the Men.

1. In Regard of the Means; and that is, when the Sons of Men have the Gospel shining in their Faces; if ever God work upon their Hearts, it will be then.

Use 1. This should teach us how thankful we ought to be unto the Lord, that enjoy these Liberties in the Land of the living; that a Man was born in such a Time, in the last Age of the World, in such a Place, in this Kingdom, wherein the Way of Life and Salvation is so fully, so plainly, and so powerfully made known, that the Sun of the Gospel shines full in his Face, and is not yet set: O how thankful should he be!

Use 2. And for those that neglect the Means of their Salvation, how should we pity them? Methinks I see a poor Creature, that flighted Mercy and Salvation when it was offered him; methinks I see that Soul lying upon his Death-bed, Light is departing from his Eyes, and his Soul is departing from his Body; O the Name of a Minister, of a Church, they are as Bills of Indictments against the soul of this Man; methinks I hear such a Man say at his last Gasp, The Day is gone, the gate is shut, and now it is too late to enter: And thus the Soul departs from his Body, the Body to the Grave, and the Soul to Hell; O what bitter Lamentations will that Soul make in Hell, O the golden time that I have seen, and not regarded! O the gracious Opportunities of Salvation that my Eyes have beheld, and yet I neglected! O the Mercy, and Grace, and Goodness of God, that have been offered unto me! All these I have contemned, and trampled under my Feet, and therefore now must I be tormented with the Devil and his Angels, from everlasting.

11. 19. I will remove that sturdy Heart which is in them, and will give them a frameable, teachable Heart, which shall yield, and yield to whatsoever I shall teach them: The taking away of the Indisposition of the Soul to any Duty, and the fitting, framing and disposing of a Soul to perform any spiritual Service, is the alone Work of God.

Use 1. Quiet then thy Soul, and content thy Heart; thou mayest say, I have an hard Heart within, and it will receive no good from without, the Word prevails not, the Sacraments have no Power over me, all the Means, and Cost, and Charges that God hath bestowed upon me is lost, and my Heart is not yet humbled, my corruptions are not yet weakened; But in this be thou comforted, tho' Means cannot do it, which God useth at his Pleasure, yet the Lord can do it, there is nothing difficult to him that hath Hardness itself at command.

Use 2. Be then exhorted, you that have ftony Hearts, to have Recourse unto this great God of Heaven. Should a Physician set up a Bill, That he would cure all that were troubled with the Stone in the Reins, and that we should hear of many healed by him, this would stir up all to repair to him, that laboured of this Disease: Why, the Lord this Day hath set up a Bill, that he will cure all ftony Hearts that will but come to him, and all the Children of God have found the Proof thereof, to the Comfort of their Souls. You Wives, that have Husbands with ftony Hearts, and you Parents, that have Children with ftony Hearts, tell them, you have heard this Day of a Physician that will cure them, and exhort them to repair unto him.

Secondly, The Time of this Grace, is either, verlasting to everlasting. Now the Lord give us Hearts to take Notice of these Things. If I were now breathing out my last Breath, I would breathe out this Legacy to all surviving Christians, This is the accepted time, this is the Day of salvation. Do you hear? This Day is Grace offered, and it any here would entertain it, O what Comfort might he have! I was never humbled afore (might he say) but this Day was I humbled; I could never before receive Mercy, but this Day have I receiv'd it; O this was a good Day to me, now blessed am I for ever.

2. In regard of Men on whom God works; that is to say, on some in their tender Age, on some in their ripe Age, on some in their old Age: But however the Lord doth at several Times convert several of his Servants, yet most, and most usually before their old Age; and that some Interpreters wittily observe out of the Parable of the Vineyard, Mat. 20. 3, 4, 5. The master of the vineyard, faith the Text, went out at the third, sixth and ninth hour, and saw some standing idle, and he sent them into his vineyard: He went then, say Interpreters, on Purpose to see, and hire, and to send in Labourers to work in his Vineyard; but he went out at the eleventh hour, not to hire any, he expected not then to have seen any idle; he went out upon some other Occasion, and therefore seeing them standing, he wondered at it, saying, Why stand ye here all the Day idle? As if he should say, No Man will hire you now, it is but an Hour to Night, and therefore rather a Time to leave working, than to begin to work.

Use. O let this provoke us, that while the flower is in prime, we would use all Means for our Good; let us now in the Heat and Summer of our Days, improve ourselves in good Works, that so when the Harvest comes, we may be gathered into God’s Barn: O, would we be exhorted to take the best Time and Opportunity of Salvation, then might we receive the Fruits of our Labours, the Salvation of our Souls.

C H A P. III.

The Substantial Parts of Preparation on God’s Part; or his Dispensations of his Work on the Soul.

HITHERTO of the general Circumstances of the Soul’s preparing for Christ. Now the substantial Parts of this Preparation are generally two:

1. The Dispensation of God’s Work on the Soul.

2. The Disposition of the Soul by God’s Work.

The Dispensation of God’s Work discovers itself

in drawing the Soul

\[ \text{From Sin} \]

\[ \text{To himself.} \]

But because these Two are made up by one Action and Motion, we shall therefore handle them together; and the Sum is this: That God by an holy Kind of Violence (which is called Drawing, John 6. 44.) doth pluck the Soul from those Sins that harbour in it, unto himself: Wherein we may consider Two Things.

1. What the Nature of this drawing is.

2. The Means whereby God draws.

1. For the Nature of this drawing, it is of a double Kind: 1. There is a moral drawing, when by Reasons propounded, and good Things offered to the Understanding and Will, a Man comes thereby to have his Mind enlightened, and his Will moved to embrace Things offered: Thus was it with Paul, when he was constrained by Lydia to abide in her Houfe, Acts 16, 15. 2. There is a Physical drawing, when the Lord is pleased to put a new Power into the Soul of a Sinner, and withal to carry the Will to the Object propounded, that it may embrace it; when the Lord not only offers good Things to the Soul, but enables the Soul to lay hold upon the Things offered. And thus the Lord draws a Sinner from Sin unto himself.
The New Birth.

2. For the Means whereby he draws, they are these Four:

First, The Lord lets in a Light into the Soul of a poor sinner, and discovers unto him that he is in a wrong Way: This the soul marvels at, because usually it comes on a sudden, the sinner perceiving nothing less, Isa. 66, 1.

Secondly, Tho' a Man would defeat the Power of this Light, yet God still follows it with forcible Arguments, and draws with the Cord of his Mercy; I taught Ephraim to go, faith God, taking them by the arms; I drew them by the cords of love, and with the bonds of a Man, Hol. 11, 4. This Mercy consists in these Bonds, or this Love is made up of four Cords.

1. The Lord reveals himself to be ready to receive, and willing and eafe to entertain poor Sinners when they come unto him: Let the wicked, faith the Prophet, forfake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon, Isa. 55, 7. The Word in the Original is, He will multiply pardons: Haft thou multiplied Rebellions? the Lord will also multiply Pardons: The Bowels of Compassion are still open, and the Arms of Mercy are still spread abroad; he pardoned Manaffes, and Paul, and Peter, and fo will he thee; his Pardons are multiplied, there is yet Mercy for thee also, and for a thoufand thoufand more.

2. The Lord is not only ready to forgive when Men come to him, but that they may come, he also calls and commands them. O but may I, (faith a poor Sinner) shall I, dare I go unto the Lord God for Mercy? May I be fo bold to prefs in for Favour at the Hands of the Lord? I have been a grievous Sinner, and have heaped Abomination upon Abomination, I am afraid therefore to approach near unto the Lord's Presence. Is it to hear what the Lord faith, Come unto me, ye rebellious people, and I will heal your Rebellions, Jer. 3, 22. You that never prayed, never came to hear, all rebels, come unto me: and then the People answer, Behold, we come unto thee, for thou art our God. This is great Encouragement to a poor Sinner, he begins now to wonder, and say, Lord, shall all my Sins be pardoned? shall all my Oaths and Abominations be forgiven? I that slighted so my Mercies, and committed so many Follies, shall I be entertained? Yes (faith the Lord) come unto me, and thou shalt be forgiven; come, I command you, come.

3. The Lord doth not only command a poor Sinner to come in, but when he is nice in this Case, saying, There is Mercy with God, but not for me; the Lord then followeth him still, and sends another Cord after him, that if it be possible, he may win him, and woes him to receive Mercy of him: If Command therefore prevail not, he intreats and beseeches him to come and receive Mercy, and and this, methinks, should move the hardest Heart under Heaven. We, faith the Apostle, are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, be reconciled unto God, 2 Cor. 5, 20. Rather than you should go away from Christ, even Mercy itself will come and kneel down before you, and beseech you, and intreat you, for the Lord Jesus Sake to pity your poor Souls, and to receive Pardon for your Sins: A Sinner is not able to comprehend this, but he begins to be at a stand, and at Amazement; What, that the Lord should beseech him! O that thou wouldst receive Pardon for thy Sins, and be blest for ever! Good Lord, faith the Soul, is this possible, that the great King of Heaven should come and beseech such a Traitor, such a Rebel as I am, to take Pardon? That a King on Earth should proclaim a Pardon to some notorious Traitor, this were much; but that the King of Heaven should lay down his Crown; and come creeping to me, and beseech me, on his Knee as it were, to take Mercy; this is a Thing beyond all Expectation: What, shall Heaven stoop to Earth? shall Majesty stoop to Misery? shall the great God of Heaven and Earth, that might have condemned my Soul, and if I had perished and been damned, might have took Glory by my Destruction? Is it possible, is it credible, that this God should not only entertain me when I come, and command me for to come, but intreat and beseech me to come and receive Mercy from him? O the Depth of the incomprehensible Love of God! Imagine you saw God the Father intreating you, and God the Son beseeching you, as he doth this Day, Come now, and forsake your Sins, and take Mercy, which is prepared for you, and shall be bestowed upon you: Would not this make a Soul think thus with itself, 'What, for a Rebel? not only to have Mercy offered, but to be entreated to receive Mercy, it were Pity (If I will not take it) but I should go to Hell and be damned for ever.' The Lord he complains, Ezek. 18, 31. Why will ye die? As I live, faith the Lord, I desire not the death of a sinner, Ezek. 33, 11. Turn ye, turn ye, why will ye die, ye sinful Sons of Men? Mercy is offered you, the Lord Jesus reacheth out his Hand to you: Fain would he pluck the Drunkard out of the Alehouse, and the Adulterer from his Whore: O, if you break this Cord, I know not what to say to you, this is able to break a Mountain in Pieces; Shake, O mountains, faith the Prophet, Why? because God hath redeemed Jacob, 1st 44, 23. The Redemption of Jacob was enough to break a Mountain, let his Mercy break our Hearts; it is God that begs, the Blessing is our own.

4. If yet all this prevail nothing at all, the Lord will then wait, and stay in long Patience and Suffering, to see if any Time a Sinner will turn unto him. Our Saviour follows poor Sinners from Alehouse to Alehouse, and says, 'I beseech you, Drunkards, take Mercy, and have your sins pardoned: ' The Lord (as we may say) tires himself, and wearifieth himself with waiting one Day after another, and one Week after another: It may be, faith Christ, this Week, this Sabbath, this Sermon a sinner will turn unto me; what will it never be? Are you not ashamed, my Friends, that the Lord Jesus should thus wait your Leisure; and follow you from House to House, and from Place to Place; may, that Christ should every Morning appear to your Understanding, and every Night come to your Bed-side, saying, Let this be the last Night of sinning, and the next Day the first day of your Repentance: O, when will you be humbled? when will you receive Mercy, that it may go well with you, and with yours for ever? If none of the other will move you, yet, for shame, let this Cord draw you to the Lord: Hear, hear his doleful Pangs, O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, wilt thou not be made clean? O when will it once be? Jer. 13, 27. A Woman that is in Travail, O how she expects and longs for her Delivery! Now a Throb comes, and then she cries; anon comes a second Throb, and then she cries again, O when comes Deliverance? Thus God the Father takes on him the Person of a travelling Woman; he travels and travels until he bring forth a Son; until some Soul be converted, and brought home unto him, O Jerusalem, wilt thou not be made clean? when will it once be? I have waited one, ten, twenty, thirty, forty Years long have I waited on this Generation; when will it once be? The Lord thus travails in Patience, looking when we will receive Mercy, will never our proud Hearts be humbled? will never our stubborn Hearts be softened? will never our profligate Hearts be sanctified? when will it once be? Christ hath waited this Day, this Week, this Month, this Quarter, this Year, these ten, twenty, thirty, forty Years on us: You old Sinners, that are gray-headed in your Wickedness, how long hath the Lord waited on you? O for shame let him wait no longer, but turn, turn ye unto him, that ye may receive Mercy from him.

3. If Bonds of Love move not, the Lord hath iron Cords, that will pluck in Pieces; to wit, the Cords of Conscience; which thus disputes. He that being often reproved, doth still harden his heart, shall perish everlastingly:

But thou, being often reproved, dost still harden thy heart: Therefore thou shalt perish everlastingly.

In this Syllogism are contained

Monition

The Accusation of Conscience.

Condemnation

In the First Proposition, Conscience gives the Sinner a Monition to come from sin, upon Pain of the heaviest Judgment that can be inflicted. It is the Lord that sends the Conscience on this Errand, Go to such a Man, and tell him, You have blasphemed God’s Name, and you have spoken against God’s Saints, and you have broken God’s Sabbaths, and you have contemned God’s Ordinances: Be it known unto thee then (faith Conscience, when it delivers the Message) that I have a Command from Heaven, and from God, I charge you, as ye will answer it at the dreadful Day of Judgment, take heed of those Evils and sinful Practices that heretofore you have committed, lest you damn your Souls for ever. Will you question his Commission? see Prov. 29, 14. He that, being often reproved, hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed: If you often be reproved, and will not be bettered, then the Lord says, and Conscience from the Lord tells you, Be at your own Peril, ye shall suddenly be destroyed. No sooner Conscience thus perks upon the Crown, but the Sinner hangs the Wing, and withdraws himself from his former Lewd Courses. But now, when wicked Persons see their Companion is gone, they make after him amain, and then Conscience plucks one Way, and they pluck another Way; at last, by carnal Company, and cursed Perusations, the Soul is drawn back again to his former wicked Courses, and so perhaps this Twist is broken, and the Sinner is gone.

2. If so, then Conscience, that was a Monitor, now turns Accuser in the minor minor Proposition; before it was only God's Herald to forewarn him, but now it becomes a Pursuivant and Serjeant to arrest him; it follows him to the Alehouse, and pursues him home, then takes him in his Bed, and arrests him in his Sleep; there (by a Meditation) it hales the Soul before the Tribunal of God, saying, Lo, Lord, this is the Man, this is the Drunkard, Adulterer, Blasphemer; this is, Lord, an Enemy to thy Servants, an Hater of thy Truth, a Despiser of thy Ordinances; at such a Time, in such a Place, with such a Company this Man despised thy Truth, this is, Lord, this is the Man.

And when Conscience hath thus dragged him before God, and accused him, then Take him, Taylor, take him, Devil, (fay the Lord) and imprison him; let Vexation and Horror, and Trouble, and Anguish fall upon his Soul, until he confess his sins, and resolve to forfake them. In this Case was David, when he was forced to say, My bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long; for day and night thy hand was heavy upon me, my moisture is turned into the drought of Summer: What then? O then (say David) I acknowledged my sin unto thee, -- I confessed my transgression unto thee, O Lord, and so thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin, Ps. 32. 3, 4, 5. David he folded up his fins at the first, and therefore his Bones were consumed, and he rored continually; when the Lord had him on the Rack, he made him roar again, and would never leave tormenting, till David came to confessing; but when he confessed this sin, and the other sin, then the Lord forgave him the iniquity of his sin. Thus Conscience brings the Soul of a sinner on the Rack (as Traitors are used that will not confess otherwise) and makes him to confess his sins, and then he cries, O the abominations I have committed which the Sun never saw; in such a place, at such a time.

O then I railed on God's Servants, and blasphemed God's Name, I profaned God's Sabbath, and contemned his Ordinances; what then? Conscience will make him confess more yet, to the Rack again with him; and then he cries and rores for Anguish of Spirit, then he confesses all, and resolves to amend, then he will pray, and hear, and sanctify God's Sabbaths, and lead a new Life. Thus Conscience receives some Satisfaction, and begins to be quiet; and now having got some quiet, his cursed Companions set upon him again, Refresh (say they) your Soul with some ancient Dalliance, &c. To this, and the like Temptations of Satan, he lieth again, and then he begins to follow his old sins, perhaps with more Violence and Eagerness than ever he did before; and now is another Twift broken likewile.

3. If so, then Conscience that was a Monitor and Accuser, now turns Executioner. The first Proposition admonished, the Second accused, it neither of thee prevail, then Conscience concludes, Thou must to Execution, thou shalt perish everlastingly. And now Conscience cries, Monitions or Accusations could not prevail with this Man; Come, come, ye damned Ghosts, and take away this Drunkard, this Blasphemer, this Adulterer, and throw him headlong into the Pit of Hell: He would not be amended, let him be condemned; he would not be humbled, therefore let him be damned. The Man hearing this, then he is amazed, and thinks himself past Hope, past Help, past cure: Did you ever see or hear a tormented Conscience in these Pangs? Now he calls, then he cries, Lo, where Devils stand, the Heavens frown, God is incensed, Hell-mouth is open: And now a Minister is sent for, who dispaies to this despairing Soul the Mercy and Grace of God in Christ Jefus: O, (replies he) this is my Bane, my Damnation, if I had never heard of Mercy, if I had never lived under the Gospel, and the Means of Salvation, then had I been an happy Man. Alas! it is Mercy I have neglected, it is Salvation I contemned, how then should I be saved? O the Persuasions of the Lord that I have bad! the Lord hath even wept over me, as he did over Jerusalem; O that thou hadst known the things belonging to thy Peace! yet all these Persuasions have I contemned, and therefore certainly to Hell I must go. The Minister replies, Truth it is, you have done thus, but would you do so still? Is it good now to be drunk, or to blaspheme, or to rail on God's Saints, or contemn God's Ordinances? O no, no, (faith he:) I now find what the End of those wicked courses will be: God's Word could not prevail with me, the Minister could not persuade me: O the good Sermons that I have heard, the very Flames of Hell have even flashed in my Face, the Minister hath spent his Pains, and would have spent his Blood for the good of my poor Soul! But alas! I despised the Word, and mocked the Minister: Wo, wo unto me for ever! now my conscience gnaws and tears and terrifies my Soul here, and I shall to Hell hereafter, and perish for ever and ever. The Minister replies again, The Truth is, you have done thus, but would you do so now? would you still blaspheme and curse, and be drunk, and riotous? or, rather would you not now part with these, and take Mercy instead of them? Then the poor Soul cries out, Now the Lord, for his Mercies sake remove these sins from me: O I had never so much Delight in my sins heretofore, as now I have Wo, Misery and Vexation for them; but, alas! it is not in my Power to help my Soul; if the Lord would do this, let him do what he will with it. What? (faith the Minister:) you are then willing and content to part with your sins: O yes, (faith the Soul:) I would rather offend all the World than God; I had rather go to Hell than to the committing of a sin; if it would please God to help me, I would forsake my sins with all my Heart. Why, now the poor Soul is coming again, and God is drawing him again from his Corruptions and sinful Diftempers.

4. When the Soul is thus loofened, the Lord then fully plucks it by the Cord of his Spirit; with an almighty Hand he plucks the Soul off from sin, and takes it into his own Hand, that he may govern him, and dispose of him according to his own good Will and Pleasure. Thus much of Preparation for the Substance of it on God's Part.

CHAP. IV. SECT. I.

The substantial Parts of Preparation on Man's Part, or the Disposition of the Soul by God's Work.

Now are we to observe the Disposition of the Soul on Man's Part, which God works on the Hearts of whom he draws. It is known in Two Works:

1. Contrition, whereby the Soul is cut off from Sin.
2. Humiliation, whereby the Soul is cut off from itself.

For so it is, that either the Soul feeth no Need to depart from Sin, or else it thinks it can help it fell out of Sin: the First is called Security, when the Soul being blind, takes Rest, and seeing no Need to be better, desires it not therefore: Against this the Lord sends Contrition, cauſing Men thereby to know the
the Misery of sin, and to see Need of a Change: The Second is Carnal Confcience, when a Sinner begins to seek Succour, and to Scamble for his own Comfort in his Self-sufficiency; against this the Lord works Humiliation, causing the Soul hereby to see the Weakness and Emptiness of its Duties, and that there is enough in its best services to condemn him for ever. Before we speak of the Works, it is not amiss to begin with the Leths.

The First is Security: When the soul is taken up with a secure Course, and rests itself well apaid in its own Practises, and therefore it never seeth any Need of a Change, nor ever goes out for a Change: Now while a Man lives thus, and bleffeth himself in his sin, it is impossible that ever he should receive Faith, or by the Power of Faith repair unto Christ: Where Faith comes, it ever works a Change, Old things are done away, and then all things are become new; the Lord therefore to remove this Leth, he burtthens the Soul extremely, and says, You will live in Drunkenness, in Covetousness; you will have your sins, then take your sins, and get you down to Hell with them. At this Voice the Sinner begins to see where he is: Is this true? (faith he) then I am the most miserable Creature under Heaven; therefore as they said, Acts 2, 37. Men and brethren, what shall we do? We have been thus and thus, but if we rest here, it will be our Ruin for ever; O what shall we do? So the soul comes to a retlefs dislike of itself, and faith, I must either be otherwise, or else I am but a damned Man for ever.

2. When the Soul is thus resolved, that it must of Necessity change, when it seeth his Wound and his sin ready before him to condemn him, and it hath, as it were, a little Peep-hole into Hell; the soul, in this Distress, sends over to Prayer, and Hearing, and holy Services, and thinks by his Wits and Duties, or some such like Matters, to succour itself; and it begins to say, My Hearing, and my Prayer, will not these save me? Thus the soul in conclusion rests on Duties: I will not say but these Duties are all good, honourable and comfortable, yet they are not gods, but the Ordinances of God. It is the Nature of a sinful Heart, to make the Means, as meritorious to salvation: A Man that seeth his Drunkenness and his base Contempt of God, O then he voweth & promiseth to take up a new Course, and he begins to approve himself in Reformation of his Ways: Then he cries, Now I will have no more Drunkenness, now no more scoffing and scorning at those that go to hear the Word: and then he thinks, What can I do more? to Heaven I must go. All this is but a Man's self: Why to Christ, who is the Substance of all, and the Pith of a Promise, is forgotten; a Christ in Hearing, a Christ in Praying is not regarded, and therefore the poor soul famisheth with Hunger, Miftake not, I pray you, these Duties must be had and used, but still a Man must not stay here. Prayer faith, There is no Salvation in me; and the Sacraments and Fasting say, There is no Salvation in us; all these are subfervient Helps, no absolute Causes of Salvation. A Man will use his Bucket, but he expects Water from the Well; these Means are the Buckets, but all our Comfort, and all our Life and Grace is only in Christ: If you say, your Bucket shall help you, you may starve for Christ, if you let it not down into the Well of Water: So, tho you boast of Praying, and Hearing, and Fasting, and of your Alms, and building of Hospitals, and of your good Deeds, if none of these bring you to a Christ, or settle you on a Christ, you shall die for Christ, tho your Works were as the Works of an Angel: As it is with a

Graft
Graft, therefore, 1. It must be cut off from the old Stock; 2. It must be pair-ed, and made fit for Implantation into another; so the soul, by Contrition, being cut off from sin, then Humiliation pares it, pares away all a Man's Privileges, and makes it fit for the ingrafting into Christ Jesus. Thus much of the Lets, now for the Works of Contrition and Humiliation.

S E C T. II.

A Sight of Sin.

B U T for a further Discovery of these Two necessary Things, we shall enter into Particulars, and begin first with Contrition; which contains these Steps:

A Sight of Sin.
Sense of Divine Wrath.
Sorrow for Sin.

The first Step is A Sight of Sin; and Sin must be seen Clearly. Convictionly.

I. Clearly: It is not a general Sight, and confused Sight of Sin that will serve the Turn; it is not enough to say, It is my infirmity, and I cannot amend it, we are all sinners: No, this is the Ground why we mistake our evils, and reform not our Ways; a Man must search narrowly, and prove his Ways, as the Goldsmith doth his Gold in the Fire; I considered my ways (faith David) and turned my feet unto thy testimonies; in the Original, I turned my sins upside down, Psal. 119. 50. he looked all over his Ways. And this clear sight of sin appears in two Particulars.

1. A Man must see his sin nakedly in its own proper colours; we must not look on sin through the Mediums of Profits, and Pleasures, and Contentments of this World, for so we mistake sin: but the soul of a true Christian that would see sin clearly, he must strip it of all Content and Quiet that ever the Heart received in it; as the Adulterer must not look upon sin in regard of the sweetness of it, nor the covetous Man on his sin in regard of the Profit of it: You that are such, the Time will come when you must die, and then consider what good these sinful Courses will do you: How will you judge of sin then, when it shall leave a Blot on your Souls, and a Guilt on your Consciences?

2. A Man must look on sin in the Venome of it; and that you may do partly, if you compare it with other Things, and partly, if you look at it in regard of itself. 1. Compare sin with those Things that are most fearful and horrible, as, suppose any foul here present were to behold the Damned in Hell, if the Lord should give any one of you a little Peep-hole into Hell, that you saw the Horror of the Damned, then propound this to your Heart, What are those Pains which the Damned endure? and your Heart will shake and quake at it; yet the least sin that ever you did commit, is a greater Evil, in its own Nature, than the greatest Pains of the Damned in Hell. 2. Look at sin simply as in itself, what is it, but a profess Opposing of God himself? A sinful Creature joins side with the Devil, and comes in Battle-array against the Lord, and flies in the Face of the Lord God of Hosts. I pray you, in cold Blood, consider this, and say, Good Lord, what a sinful Wretch am I? that a poor damned Wretch of the Earth should stand in Defiance against God! that I should submit myself to the Devil, and oppose the Lord God of Hosts!

II. Convictionly, that Sin may be to us as it is in itself; and that discovers itself in these two Particulars:

1. When we have a particular Apprehension in our own Person, that whatwhatsover sin is in general, we confess it the same in our own souls: It is the cursed Distemper of our Hearts, howsoever we hold the Truth in general, yet when we come to our own sins, to deny the Particulars. The Adulterer confesseth the Danger and Filthines of that Sin, in gross, but he will not apply it to himself: The Rule therefore is, Arrest thy Soul, whatsoever thou art, of those sins particularly, whereas thou standest guilty: To this Purpose, say, Is Murder, and Pride, and Drunkenness, and Uncleanness such horrid sins? O Lord, it was my Heart that was proud and vain; it was my Tongue that did speak filthily, and blasphemyously; my Hand that wrought Wickedness, my Eye that was wanton; and my Heart that was unclean and filthy; Lord, here they are: Thus bring thy Heart before God.

2. When the Soul sits down with the Audience of Truth, and seeks no shift to oppose Truth revealed; when the Lord comes to make Racks in the Hearts of such as he means to do good to, the Text faith, He will reprove the World of Sin, John 16. 8. that is, He will convince the World of Wickedness; he will set the soul in such a stand, that it shall have nothing to say for itself, he cannot shift it off. The Minister faith, God hates such and such a sinner; And the Lord hates me too, faith the soul, for I am guilty of that sin. Thus many a Time, when a sinner comes into the Congregation (if the Lord please to work on him) the Mind is enlightened, and the Minister meets with his Corruptions, as if he were in his Bosome, and he answers all his Cavils, and takes away all his Objections: With that the Soul begins to be in a Maze, and faith, If this be so (as it is, for ought I know) and if all be true that the Minister saith, then the Lord be merciful to my Soul, I am the most miserable Sinner that ever was born.

Use of Advice.

You that know your sins, that you may see them convincingly, get you home to the Law, and look into the Glass thereof, and then bundle up all your sins thus: So many sins against God himself in the First Commandment, against his Worship in the Second, against his Name in the Third, against his Sabbath in the Fourth: Nay, all our Thoughts, Words, and Actions, all of them have been sins, able to sink our souls in the Bottom of Hell. And, 2. That you may see them clearly, consider of their Effect, both in their Doom, and in the Execution: Only to instance in their Doom; Methinks I see the Lord of Heaven and Earth, and the Attributes of God appearing before him, The Mercy of God, the Goodness of God, the Wisdom of God, the Power of God, the Patience, and Long-suffering of God, and they come all to a sinner, an Hypocrite, or to a carnal Professor, and say, Mercy hath relieved you, Goodness hath succoured you, Wisdom hath instructed you, Power hath defended you, Patience hath born with you, Long-suffering hath endured you; now all these comfortable Attributes will bid you Adieu, and say, Farewell, damned Souls; you must go hence to Hell, to have your Fellowship with damned Ghosts: Mercy shall never more relieve you, Goodness shall never succour you, Wisdom shall no more instruct you, Power shall never more defend you, Patience shall never more bear with you, Long-suffering shall never more endure you: And then shall you to endless, ceaseless, and remediless Torments, where you will ever remember your sins, and say, My Covetousness and Pride was the Cause of this, I may thank my sins for this. Think of these Things, I beseech you, seriously, and see your sins here, to prevent this fight hereafter.

The New Birth.

Sect. III.

Sense of Divine Wrath.

The Sinner by this Time having his Eyes so far opened that he holds his sins, he begins then to consider, That God hath him in Chafe: And this Sense of Divine Wrath discovers itself in these Two Particulars;

1. It works a Fear of some Evil to come.

2. It possesseth the Soul with a Feeling of this Evil.

1. The soul considers, that the Punishment, which God hath threatened, shall be executed on him sooner or later; he cries therefore, What if God should damn me? God may do it: And what if God should execute his Vengeance upon me? Thus the soul fears that the Evil discovered will fall upon him: This is the Reason of those Phrases of Scripture, We have not received the Spirit of Bondage to fear again, Rom. 8. 15. the Spirit shews our Bondage, and thence comes this Fear: Again, God hath not given us the Spirit of Fear, 1 Tim. 1. 17. that is, the Spirit of Bondage that works Fear. It is with a Soul in this Fear, as it was with Belshazzar, when he commanded the Cups to be brought out of the House of the Lord; An handwriting came against him on the Wall, and when he saw it, his thoughts troubled him, and his face began to gather paleness, and his knees knocked against one another; Dan. 9. 5. as if he should say, Surely there is some strange Evil appointed for me; and with that his Heart began to tremble and shake: Just so it is with this Fear; he that runs riot in the Way of Wickedness, and thinks to despise God's Spirit, and to hate the Lord Almighty, and to refist the Work of his Grace; now it may be there comes this Fear, and Hand-writing against him, and then he cries, These are my sins, and these are the Plagues and Judgments threatened against them, and therefore why not I be damned? why may not I be plagued?

2. The Lord pursues the Soul, and discharges that Evil upon him which was formerly feared; and now his Conscience is all on a Flame, and he faith to himself, O I have sinned, and offended a just God, and therefore I must be damned, and to Hell I must go: Now the soul shakes, and is driven beyond itself, and would utterly faint, but that the Lord upholds it with one Hand, as he beats it down with the other; he thinks every Thing is against him, he thinks the Fire burns to consume him, and that the Air will poison him, and that Hell-Mouth gapes under him, and that God's Wrath hangs over him, and, if now the Lord should but take away his Life, that he should tumble down headlong into the bottomless Hell: Should any Man, or Minister persuade the Soul in this Case to go to Heaven for Mercy, it replies in this Manner, Shall I repair to God? O that's my Trouble! Is not he that great God, whose Justice, and Mercy, and Patience I have abused? And is not he the great God of Heaven and Earth, that hath been incensed against me? Oh, with what a Face can I appear before him? and with what Heart can I look for any Mercy from him? I have wronged his Justice, and can his Justice pardon me? I have abused his Mercy, and can his Mercy pity me? What, such a Wretch as I am? If I had never enjoyed the Means of Mercy, I might have had some Plea for myself; but Oh, I have refused that Mercy, and have trampled the Blood of Christ under my Feet, and can I look for any Mercy? No, no, I see the Wrath of the Lord incensed against me, and that's all I look for.
Sect. IV.
Sorrow for Sin.

The next step is Sorrow for Sin; concerning which, are two Questions:

1. Whether it be a Work of saving Grace?
2. Whether God work it in all alike?

To the First, I answer, There is a double Sorrow, one in Preparation, the other in Sanéification: They differ thus; Sorrow in Preparation, is when the Word of God leaves an Impression upon the Heart of a Man, so that the Heart of it self is as it were a Patient, and only bears the Blow of the Spirit; and hence come all those Phrases of Scripture, as wounded, pierced, pricked, in the passlive Voice: So that this Sorrow is rather a sorrow wrought on me, than any Work coming from any spiritual Ability in me: But Sorrow in Sanéification flows from a spiritual Principal of Grace, and from that Power which the Heart hath formerly received from God’s Spirit; so that in this a Man is a free Worker: Now both these are saving Sorrows, but they differ marvellously; many think, that every saving Work, is a sanctifying Work, which is false: Those whom he calleth, (faith the Apostle) them he also justifies, and whom he justifies, he glorifies, Rom. 8. 30. You may observe, that Glorification in this Place implies Sanéification here, and Glory hereafter; now before Glorification, you see there is Justification and Vocation, and both these are saving.

To the second, I answer, Howsoever this Work is the same in all for substance, yet in a different Manner it is wrought in most: Two Men are pricked, the one with a Pin, the other with a Spear; two Men are cut, the one with a Pen-knife, the other with a Sword: so the Lord deals kindly and gently with one soul, and roughly with another: There is the melting of a Thing, and the breaking of it with Hammers; so there is a Difference in Persons: For Instance, if the Person be a scandalous Liver, and an Opposer of God and his Grace. 2. If a Man have harboured a filthy Heart, and continues long in sin. 3. If a Man have been confident in a formal civil Course. 4. If God purposeth by some Man to do some extraordinary great Work: In all these four Cases he lays an heavy Blow on the Heart, the Lord will bruise them, and rend the Caul of their Hearts, and make them seek to a faithful Minifier for Direction, and to a poor Christian for Counsel, whom before they despised. But if the soul be trained up among godly Parents, and live under a soul-saving Ministry, the Lord may reform this Man, and cut him off from his Corruptions kindly, and break his Heart secretly, in the Apprehension of his sins, and yet the World never see it. In both these we have an Example in Lydia and the Jaylor: Lydia was a sinful Woman, and God opened her Eyes and melted her Heart kindly, and brought her to a Taste of his Goodness here, and Glory hereafter: But the Jaylor was an outrageous, rebellious Wretch, for when the Apostles were committed to Prison, he laid them up in Stocks, and whipped them sore, now there was much Work to bring this Man home: When the Apostles were singing Psalms, there came an Earthquake, which made the Prison-doors flie open, and the Prisoners Letters to fall off, but yet the Jaylor’s Heart would not shake: At last the Lord
Lord did shake his Heart too, and he came trembling, and was ready to lay violent Hands upon himself, because he thought the Prisoners had been fled; but the Apostles cried to him, Do thy self no harm, for we are all here. With that he fell down before them, and laid, Men and brethren, what shall I do to be saved? Acts 16. 30. For Conclusion, give me a Christian that God doth please to work upon in this extraordinary Manner, and to break his Heart toundly, and to throw him down to purpose, tho' it cost him full dear, this Man walks ordinarily with more Care and Conscience, and hath more Comfort coming to himself, and gives more Glory unto God.

Use 1. Is it so, that the Soul of a Man is thus pierced to the quick, and run through by the Wrath of the Almighty? Then let this teach all how to carry themselves towards such as a God hath thus dealt withal: Are they pierced Men? O pity them! Let our Soul, O let the Bowels of Commiseration and Compassion be let out toward them! Let us never cease to do good to them, to the very uttermost of our Powers: And to the Performance of this, Reason and Religion and Pity, methinks should move us: Hear the Cry, Oh, faith the poor Soul, will these and these Sins never be pardoned? Will this proud Heart never be humbled? Thus the Soul sighs and mourns, and says, O Lord, I see this Sin, and feel the Burden of it, and yet I have not an Heart to be humbled for it, nor to be freed from it: Oh when will it once be? Did you but know this, it would make your Hearts bleed to hear him: Oh! the Sword of the Almighty hath pierced thro' his Heart, and he is breathing out his Sorrow, as tho' he were going down to Hell, and he faith, If there be any Mercy, any Love, any Fellowship of the Spirit, have Mercy upon me a poor Creature, that am under the Burden of the Almighty! O pray, and pity these Wounds and Vexations of Spirit, which no Man finds nor feels, but he that hath been thus wounded. It is a sign of a Soul wholly devoted to destruction, that hath a desperate Disdain against poor wounded Creatures: Is it possible there should harbour such a Spirit in any Man? If the Devil himself were incarnate, I cannot conceive what he could do worse.

Use 2. If ever thou wouldst be comforted, and receive Mercy from God, labour never to be quiet, till thou dost bring thy Heart to a right Pitch of Sorrow; thou hast a little flight Sorrow, but oh! labour to have thy Heart truly touched, that at last it may break in regard of thy many Distempers; remember, the longer Seed-time, the greater Harvest: Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted, Mat. 5. 4. But wo to you that are at ease in Zion, Amos 6. 1. Thou hadst better now be wounded, than everlastingly tormented; and therefore if thou dearest to see God's Face with Comfort, it thou wouldst hear Christ say, Come, thou poor heavy-hearted Sinner, I will ease thee, labour to lay Load upon thy Heart, with Sorrow for thy Sin; O what a Comfort shall a poor broken Heart find in that Day.

S E C T. V.

The Extent of this Sorrow.

H I T H E R T O of Contrition; the next Work is Humiliation, which differs from the other, not in Substance, but Circumstance: For Humiliation, as I take it, is only the Extent of Sorrow for Sin, of which we have spoken; and it contains these two two Duties. 1. Submission. 2. Contentedness, to be at the Lord's Disposal.

The first Part of Humiliation, is Submission, which is wrought thus: The Sinner having now had a sight of his sins, and a Sorrow in some Measure for Sin, he seeks far and wide, improves all Means, and takes up all Duties, that if it were possible, he might heal his wounded Soul: Thus seeking and seeking, but finding no succour in what he hath or doeth, he is forced at last, in his despairing Condition, to make Trial of the Lord: It is true, for the present he apprehends God to be just, and to be inflicted against him, he hath no Experience of God's Favour for the while, no Certainty how he shall speed, if he go to the Lord; yet because he sees he cannot be worse than he is, and that none can help him but God, if it would please him; therefore he falls at the Footstool of Mercy, and he lies grovelling at the Gate of Grace, and submits himself to the Lord, to do with him as pleaseth himself, or as it seemeth good in his eyes.

This was the Ninevites' Cafe, when Jonah had denounced that heavy Judgment, and as it were, thrown Wildfire about the streets, saying, Within forty Days Nineveh shall be destroyed, Jon. 3.9. See what they resolved upon, They fasted and prayed, and put on sackcloth and ashes; Who can tell, said they, but God may turn, and repent him of his fierce wrath, that we perish not? As if they had said, We know not what God will do, but this we know, that we cannot oppose his Judgments, nor succour ourselves: Thus it is with a Sinner, when he seeth Hell-fire to flash in his Face, and that he cannot succour himself, then he faith, This I know, that all the Means in the World cannot save me, yet who can tell, but the Lord may have mercy on me, and cure this distressed Conscience, and heal all these Wounds that sin hath made in my Soul? This is the lively Picture of the Soul in this Cafe.

Or for a further Light, this Subject discovers itself in four Particulars. 1. He seeth and confesseth that the Lord, for ought he knows, will proceed in Justice against him, and execute upon him those Plagues that God hath threatened, and his sins have deserved; he seeth that Justice is not yet satisfied, and those Reckonings between God and him are not yet made up, and therefore he cannot apprehend but that God will take Vengeance on him: What else? When he hath done all he can, he is unprofitable still; Justice remains unsatisfied, and faith, Thou hast sinned, and I am wronged, and therefore thou shalt die.

2. He conceives, that what God will do, that he will do, and he cannot avoid it; if the Lord will come, and require the Glory of his Justice against him, there is no Way to avoid it, not to bear it; and this crusheth the Heart, and makes the Soul to be beyond all Shifts and Evasions; whereby it may seem to avoid the Dint of the Lord's Blow.

3. He casts away his Weapons, and falls down before the Lord, and resigns himself into the sovereign Power and Command of God. Thus David, when the Lord cast him out of his Kingdom, he said to Zadok, Carry back the ark of God into the city; if I shall find favour in the Eyes of the Lord, he will bring me back again, and shew me both it and his Habitation: But if he thus say to me, I have no delight in thee; behold, here I am, let him do with me as it seemeth good in his eyes, 2 Sam. 15.25,26. This is the Frame of a poor Soul; when a poor sinner will stand upon his Privileages, the Lord faith, Bear my Justice
The New Birth.

Justice, and defend thyself by all thou hast, or canst do: And the soul answereth, I am thy servant, Lord, do what is good in thine Eyes, I cannot succour myself.

4. The Soul freely acknowledgeth, That it is in God's Power to do with him, and dispose of him as he will; and therefore he lies and licks the Dust, and cries, Mercy, Mercy, Lord: He thinks not to purchase Mercy at the Lord's Hands, but only faith, It is in God's good Pleasure to do with me as he will: Only he looks for Favour, and cries, Mercy, Lord, Mercy to this poor distressed Soul of mine: O, (replies the Lord) doft thou need Mercy? Cannot thy Hearing, and Praying, and Fasting carry thee to Heaven without Hazard? Gird up now thy Loins, and make thy ferventest Prayers, and let them meet my Justice, and see if they can bear my Wrath, or purchase any Mercy: No, no, (faith the Sinner) I know it, by lamentable Experience, that all my Prayers and Performances will never procure Peace to my Soul, nor give any Satisfaction to thy Justice, I only pray for Mercy, and I defire only to hear some News of Mercy, to relieve this miserable, wretched Soul of mine; it is only Mercy that must help me; O Mercy, if it be possible, to this poor distressed soul of mine. Methinks the Picture of those poor famished Lepers may fitly resemble this poor Sinner, when the Famine was great in Samaria. There were four leprous men sate in the gate of the city, and they said, Why sit we here until we die? if we enter into the city, the famine is there, and if we sit here, we die also; now therefore, let us fall into the hands of our enemies, and if they save us alive, we shall live, and if they kill us, we shall but die, 2 Kings 7. 3, 4. They had but one Means to succour themselves withal, and that was to go into the Camp of the Enemies, and there, as it hapned, they were relieved. Thus is the lively Picture of a poor Sinner in this despairing Condition, when he teareth the Wrath of God purifying him, and that the Lord hath beset him on every side; at last he resolves thus with himself, If I go and rest on my Privileges, there is nothing but Emptiness; and if I rest in my natural Condition, I perish there also: let me therefore fall into the Hands of the Lord of Hosts. I confess he hath been provoked by me, and for ought I see he is mine Enemy; I am now a damned Man, and if the Lord cast me out of his Presence, I can be but damned. And then he comes to the Lord, and he falls down before the Footstool of a consuming God, and faith, as Job did, What shall I say unto thee, O thou Preserver of Men? I have no Reason to plead for myself, and I have no Power to succour myself, my Accusations are my best Exculpe, all the Privileges of the World cannot justify me, and all my Duties cannot save me; if there be any Mercy left, O succour a poor distressed sinner in the very Gall of Bitterness. This is the Behaviour of the Soul in this Work of Subjection.

The Second Part of Humiliation, is, Contentedness to be at the Lord's Disposal; and this Point is of an higher Pitch than the former: For Example, Take a Debtor who hath used all Means to avoid the Creditor, in the End, he seeth he cannot avoid the Suit, and to bear it he is not able; therefore the only Way is to come in, and to yield himself into his Creditor's Hands; but suppose, the Creditor should exact the utmost, and throw him into Prison, to be content now to undergo the harshest Dealing, it is an hard Matter, and a further Degree. So when the Soul hath offered himself, and he seeth that God's Writs are out against him, and he is not able (whenever the Judgment comes) to avoid it, nor to bear it, therefore he submits himself, and faith, Lord, whether shall I go? thy Anger is heavy and unavoidable; nay, whatsoever God requires, the Soul lays his Hand on his Mouth, and goes away contented, and well satisfied, and hath nothing at all to say against the Lord. This is the Nature of Contentedness.

Or, for a further Light, this Contentedness discovers itself in these three following Particulars:

1. The Soul reflects on God's Mercy, which tho he begged when he submitted, yet now he seeth so much Corruption and Unworthiness in himself, that he acknowledges himself unfit for Mercy: O Mercy, Mercy, Lord! What? faith the Lord, I had thought your own Duties would have purchased Mercy: O no, faith the Soul, it is only Mercy that must relieve and succour me; but such is my Vileness, that I am not fit for the least Mercy and Favour; and such is the Wickedness of this wretched Heart of mine, that whatsoever are the greatest Plagues, I am worthy of them all, tho never so unsupportable: All the Judgments that God hath threatened, and prepared for the Devil and his Angels, they are all due to my wretched Soul; O, faith the Soul, had the Devils the like Hopes, and Means, and Patience that I have enjoyed, for ough I know, they would have been better than I am: It is that which shames the Soul in all his Sorrows, and makes him say, Had they the like Mercy? O those sweet Comforts, and those precious Promises that I have had! How many heavy Journeys hath the Lord Jesus made to me? How often hath he knocked at my Heart, and said, Come to me, ye rebellious Children; turn ye, turn ye, why will ye die? O that Mercy that hath followed me from my house to my Walk, and from thence to my Closet; here Mercy hath conferred with me, and there Mercy hath wooed me; yea, in my Night-thoughts, when I awaked Mercy kneeled down before me, and besought me to renounce my bad Courfes, yet I refused Mercy, and would needs have mine own Will; had the Devil but such Hopes, and such Offers of Mercy, they that tremble now for want of Mercy, they would, for ough I know, have given Entertainment to it; and what, do I seek for Mercy? shall I talk of Mercy? What, I Mercy? The leaf of God's Mercies are too good for me, and the heaviest of God's Plagues are too little for me; I suppose (for so is my Opinion) that God cannot do more against me than I have justly deserved, but be sure, God will not lay more upon me than I am justly worthy of. Nay, sure it is, the Soul cannot bear nor suffer so much as he hath deserved, if God should proceed in Rigour with him; therefore it reasons thus: I, only for one sin, derive eternal Condemnation, for the Wages of all sin is Death, being committed against Divine Justice, and against an infinite Majesty; and then what do all these my sins deserve, committed and continued in, against all Checks of Conscience, and Corrections, and the Light of God's Word! Hell is too good, and ten thousand Hells too little to torment such a Wretch as I am: What, I Mercy? I am ashamed to expect it; with what Heart, I pray you, can I beg this Mercy, which I have trodden under my Feet? The Lord hath often wooed me, and when his Wounds were bleeding, and his Side gored, and his hideous Cries coming into mine Ears, My God, my God, why haft thou forsaken me? then, even then this Christ hath slighted, and made nothing but his Blood; and can this Blood of Christ do me now any service? Indeed I crave Grace, but how do I think to receive any? All the Pillars of the Church can testify how often Grace and Mercy have been offered and offered,
The New Birth.

but I have ever refused: How then can I beg any Grace? O this Stubbornness and Villainy, and this Wretchedness of mine! What, I Mercy? it is more than I can expect, I am not worthy of any; Oh no, I am only worthy to be cast out for ever.

2. The Soul reflects on Justice, and now it acknowledgeth the Equity of God's Dealings, be they never so harsh; he confesseth that he is as Clay in the Hands of the Potter, and the Lord may deal with him as he will: yea, the Soul is driven to an Amazement at the Lord's Patience, and that he hath been pleased to reprime him so long, that God hath not cast him out of his Presence, and sent him down to Hell long ago: It is the Frame of the Spirit which the poor lamenting Church had, It is the Lord's Mercy that we are not confounded, because his Compassions fail not, Lam. 3. 22. When the Lord hath humbled the Heart of a Drunkard or Adulterer, he begins thus to think with himself, The Lord saw all the Evils I committed; and what then? O then the Soul admires that ever God's Justice was able to bear with such a Monster, and that God did not confound him in his Drunkenness, or burning Lusts, and cast him down into Hell. Oh, faith he, It is because his Mercies fail not, that my Life and all have not failed long ago. Hence it is that the Soul will not maintain any Kind of Murmuring, or Heart-rising against the Lord's Dealings; or, if Nature and Corruption will be striving sometimes, and say, Why are not my Prayers answered? I know such a Soul humbled, and I see such a Soul comforted, and why not I as well as he? Then the Soul stilles, and crufheth, and choaks these wretched Distempers, and doth also abate itself before the Lord, saying, What if God will not hear my Prayers, What if God will not pacifie my Conscience, doth the Lord do me any wrong? Vile Hell-bound that I am, I have my sin and my shame; Wrath is my Portion, and Hell is my Place, either may I go when I will, it is Mercy that God thus deals with me. And now the Soul clears God in his Justice, and faith, It is just with God that all the Prayers which come from this filthy Heart of mine, should be abhorred, and that all my Labours in holy Duties should never be blessed; it is I that have sinned against Checks of Conscience, against Knowledge, against Heaven, and therefore it is just that I should carry this Horror of Heart with me to the Grave; it is I that have abused Mercy, and therefore it is just that I should go with a tormenting Conscience down into Hell: And O that (if I be in Hell) I might have a Spirit to glory and justify thy Name there; and say, Now I am come down to hell among you damned creatures, but the Lord is righteous and blessed for ever in all his Doings and Dealings, and I am justly condemned.

3. Hence the Soul comes to be quiet and frameable under the heavy Hand of God in that helpless Condition wherein he is, it takes the Blow, and lies under the Burthen, and goes away quietly and patiently: O this is an Heart worth Gold! O, faith he, it is fit that God should glorifie himself, tho' I be damned for ever, for I deserve the worst: Whatever I have, it is the Reward of my own Works, and the End of my own Ways: if I be damned, I may thank my Pride, and my Stubbornness, and my Peevishness of Spirit: What, shall I repine against the Lord, because his Wrath and his Displeasure lies heavy upon me! Oh no! let me repine against my sin, the Cause of all; let me grudge against my base Heart that hath nourished these Advers in my Bosom, but let me bless the Lord, and not speak one Word against him. Thus David, I held my Tongue, faith he, and spake nothing, because thou Lord
Lord hath done it, Psal. 39. 9. So the Soul, when the Sentence of Condemnation is even feizing upon him, and God seems to cast him out of his Favour, then he cries, I confess God is just, and therefore I bless his Name, and yield unto him; but sin is the Worker of all this Misery on me. Jeremiah pleading the Cause of the Church, now going to Captivity, Wo is me for my Hart, faith he, my Wound is grievous; but I said, Truly this is my grief, and I must bear it, Jer. 10. 19. Such is the Frame of a Heart truly humbled, it is content to take all to itself, and so to be quiet, saying, This is my wound, and I must bear it; this is my sorrow, and I will suffer it. Thus you see what is the Behaviour of the Soul in this Contentedness to be at the Lord's Disposal.

Objec. But how may object, Must the Soul, or ought the Soul to be thus content to be left in this damnable Condition?

Answ. For Answer, This Contentedness implies two Things; 1. A carnal Security, and a Regardlesness of a Man's Estate, and this is a most cursed sin. 2. A Calmness of Soul, not murmuring against the Lord's Dispensation towards him; and this Contentedness is ever accompanied with the Sight of a Man's Sin, and Suing for Mercy: It ever improves all Means and Helps that may bring him nearer to God; but if Mercy shall deny it, the Soul is satisfied, and rests well apaid. And this Contentedness (opposed against quarrelling with the Almighty) every humbled Soul doth attain to, altho' in every one it is not so plainly seen. To give it in a Comparison: A Thief taken for Robbery, on whom the Sentence of Death hath passed, he should not neglect the Means to get a Pardon, and yet if he cannot procure it, he must not murmur against the Judge for condemning him to Death, because he hath done nothing but Law: So we should not be careless in using all Means for our Good, but still seek to God for Mercy: yet thus we must be, and thus we ought to be contented with whatsoever Mercy shall deny, because we are not worthy of any Favour. The Soul in a Depth of Humiliation, it first stoops to the Condition that the Lord will appoint, he dares not fly away from God, nor repine against the Lord, but he lies down meekly. 2. As he is content with the hardest Measure, so he is content with the longest Time, he will stay for Mercy be it never so long: I will wait upon the Lord (faith Isaiah, ch. 8. 17.) that hideth his face from Jacob; and I will look for him: So the humbled Sinner, Although the Lord hide his Face, and turn away his loving Countenance from me, yet I will look towards Heaven, so long as I have an Eye to see, and a Hand to lift up; the Lord may take his own Time, and it is manners for me to wait: Nay, the poor, broken Heart resolves thus, If I ly and lick the Dust all my Days, and cry for Mercy all my Life long, if my last Words might be Mercy, Mercy, it were well, I might get Mercy at my last Gasp. 3. As he is content to stay the longest Time, so he is content with the least Pittance of Mercy; Let my Condition be never so hard, (faith the Soul) do, Lord, what thou wilt for me, let the Fire of thy Wrath consume me here, only recover me hereafter; if I find Mercy at the last, I am content, and whatsoever thou givest, I bless thy Name for it: He quarrels not, saying, Why are not my Graces increased; and why am I not thus and thus comforted? No, he looks for Mercy, and if he have but a Crumb of Mercy, he is comforted and quieted for ever: And now you may suppose the Heart is brought very low.
Use 1. Hence we collect, 1. That they which have the greatest Parts, and Gifts, and Ability, and Honour, are, for the most Part, hardly brought home to the Lord Jesus Christ; they that are most hardly humbled, are most hardly converted: What is Humiliation, but the Emptying of the Soul from whatsoever makes it swell? The Heart must not have joy in any Thing, nor rest upon any Thing, but only yield to the Lord, to be at his disposing and carving: Now these Parts, and Gifts, and Abilities and Means are great Props and Pillars for the Heart of a carnal Man to rest upon, and to quiet itself withal; whence the Apostle, Not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty men, not many noble men are called, 1 Cor. 1. 26. Indeed, blessed be God, some are, but not many, few that have so much of themselves are brought to renounce themselves; and no Wonder, for a rich Man to become poor, and a noble Man to be abased, and a wife Man to be nothing in himself, this will cost hot Water; and yet this must be in all that belong to the Lord: not that God will take away all these outward Things and Parts, but that they must loosen their Affection from these, if they will have Christ.

2. That an humble Heart makes all a Man's Life quiet, and marvellously sweeteth whatsoever Estate he is in; indeed sometimes he may be tossed and troubled, yet he is not-distracted, because he is contented; as it is with a Ship on the Sea, when the Billows begin to rore, and the Waves are violent, if the Anchor be fastened deep, it stays the Ship: So this Work of Humiliation is the Anchor of the Soul, and the deeper it is fastened, the more quiet is the Heart: When Job, in Time of his Extremity, gave Way to his proud Heart, he quarrelled with the Almighty, his Friends, and all; but when the Lord had humbled him, then, Behold, I am vile and base, once have I spoken, yea, twice, but now no more.

And this Humiliation quiets a Man, both in

1. In fierest Temptations; when Satan begins to besiege the Heart of a poor Sinner, and lays Battery against him, see how the humbled Heart runs him out of Breath at his own Weapons: Doft thou think (says Satan) to get Mercy from the Lord, when thy own Conscience dogs thee? Nay, go to the Place where thou livest, and to the Chamber where thou liest, and consider thy fearful Abominations; sure God will not respect the Prayers of any such vile Sinners. "True, faith the poor "Soul, I have often denied the Lord "when he called upon me, and therefore he may justly deny me all the "Prayers I make; yet thus he hath "commanded, that seek to him for "Mercy I must; and, if the Lord "will call me away, and reject my "Prayers, I am contented therewith; "What then, Satan?" What then, faith the Devil? I thought this would have made thee to despair; but this is not all, for God will give thee over, and leave thee to thyself, to thy Lufts and Corruptions, and thy latter End shall be worse than thy Beginning; thou mayst call and cry, and when thou hast done, be overthrown; God will leave thee to thy self, and suffer thy Corruptions to prevail against thee, and thou shalt fall fearfully, to the wounding of thy Conscience, to the grieving of God's People, to the Scandal of the Gospel, to the Reproach of thy own Person. To this answers the humbled Soul, "If the Lord will give me up to my "base Lufts, which I have given my-
"But What I Come So Many HutnilUtion tan over ia War, when it, heavy, are fliall of Times"

2. The want of this Humiliation many Times brings a Man to desperate Stands, and sometimes to untimely Deaths: Alas, why will you not bear the Wrath of the Lord? It is true indeed your sins are great, and the Wrath of God is heavy, yet God will do you good by it, and therefore be quiet. In Time of War, when the great Cannons fly off, the only Way to avoid them, is to lie down in a Furrow, and so the Bullets flys over: So in all Temptations of Satan, ly low, and he contented to be at God's disposing, and all these fiery Temptations shall not be able to hurt you.

2. In heaviest Oppositions; when Satan is gone, then come Troubles and Oppositions of the World, in all which Humiliation will quiet the Soul. A Man is sometimes sea-sick, not because of the Tempeft, but because of his full Stomach, and therefore, when he has emptied his Stomach, he is well again; so it is with his Humiliation of Heart, if the Heart were emptied truly, though a Man were in a Sea of Oppositions, if he have no more Trouble in his Stomach, and in his proud Heart than in the Oppositions of the World, he might be very well quieted. Canf Disgrace upon the humble Heart carefeely, and he cures it thus; He thinks worfe of himfelf than any Man elfe can do, and if they would make him vile and loathfome, he is more vile in his own Eyes than they can make him: O that I could bring your Hearts to be in Love with this bleffed Grace of God!

Is there any foul here that hath been vexed with the Temptations of Satan, Oppositions of Men, or with his own Distempers? and would he now arm and fence himself, that nothing should disquiet him, or trouble him, but in all, to be above all, and to rejoice in all? O then be humbled, and then be above all the Devils in Hell: Certainly they shall not so disquiet you, as to cause you to be misled, or uncomforted, if you would but be humbled.

Use 2. What remains then? Be exhorted, as you defire Mercy and Favour at God's Hands, to this Humiliation. And for Motives, consider the good Things that God hath promiied, and which he will bestow upon all that are truly humbled: I shall reduce all to these three following Benefits;

1. By Humiliation we are made capable of all thole Treasures of Witdom, Grace, and Mercy that are in Christ.

2. Humiliation gives a Man the Comfort of all that God in Christ: Many have a Right to Christ, and are dear to God, yet they want much sweet Refreshing, because they want this Humiliation,
The New Birth.

Happiness, that kneels down, and prays you to take Mercy, let that, I say, prevail with you: If any Man be so regardless of his own good, I have something to say to him, that may make his Heart shake within him. But Oh! -- Who would not have the Lord Jesus to dwell with him? who would not have the Lord Christ, by the Glory of his Grace to honour and refresh him? Methinks your Hearts should yearn for it, and say, O Lord, break my Heart, and humble me, that Mercy may be my Portion for ever: Nay, Methinks every Man should say as Paul did, I would to God that not only I, but all my Children and Servants were not only thus as I am, but also, if it were God's Will, much more humbled, that they might be much more comforted and refreshed. Then might you say with Comfort on your Death-bed, Tho I go away, and leave Wife and Children behind me, poor, and mean in the World, yet I leave Christ with them: When you are gone, this will be better for them, than all the beaten Gold or Honours in the World. What can I say? but since the Lord offers so kindly, now *Kis the Son, Pæl. 2. 12. be humble, yielk to all God's Command, take home all Truths, and be at God's Disposing: Let all the Evil that is threatened, and all the Good that is offered prevail with your Hearts, or, if Means cannot, yet the Lord prevail with you; the Lord empty you, that Christ may fill you; the Lord humble you, that you may enjoy Happiness and Peace, and be lifted up to the highest Pinnacle of Glory, there to reign for ever and ever.

CHAP
The Call on God's Part, for the Soul to close with, and rely on Christ.

HITHERTO of our first General, to wit, The Preparation of the Soul for Christ: The next is, The Implantation of the Soul into Christ; and that hath two Parts:

1. The Putting of the Soul into Christ.

2. The Growing of the Soul with Christ.

As a Graft is first put into the Stock, and then it grows together with the Stock: Those two Things are answerable in the Soul, and when it is brought into this, then a Sinner comes to be Partaker of all Spiritual Benefits.

The first Part is, The putting in of the Soul: When the Soul is brought out of the World of Sin, to lay upon, and to close with the Lord Jesus Christ; and this hath two particular Passages:

1. The Call on God's Part.
2. The Answer on Man's Part.

The Call on God's Part is this, When the Lord, by the Call of his Gospel, and Work of his Spirit, doth so clearly reveal the Fulness of Mercy, that the Soul humbled returns Answer.

In which these Means whereby God observe the Cause doth call.

1. The Means is only the Ministry of the Gospel; the Sum whereof, is this, That there is Fulness of Mercy, and Grace, and Salvation brought unto us through the Lord Jesus Christ. Hence the Phrase of Scripture calls this Gospel, or this Mercy, A Treasury; Col. 2. 2. All the Treasures of Wisdom and Holiness are in Christ: not one Treasure, but all Treasures; not some Treasures, but all Treasures: Where the Gospel comes, there is Joy for the sorrowful, Peace for the Troubled, Strength for the Weak, Relief reasonable and suitable to all Wants, Miseries, and Necessities, both present and future.

Use. If then sorrow affail thee (when thou art come thus far) look not on thy sins, to pore upon them; neither look into thy own sufficiency, to procure any Good there. It is true, thou must see thy sins, and sorrow for them, but this is for the lower Form, and thou must get this Lesson before-hand; and when thou hast gotten this Lesson of Contrition and Humiliation, look then only to God's Mercy and the Riches of his Grace in Christ.

2. For the Cause: The Lord doth not only appoint the Means, but by the Work of the Spirit, he doth bring all the Riches of his Grace into the Soul truly humbled: If you ask, How? 1. With Strength of Evidence; the Spirit presents to the broken-hearted Sinner, the Right of the Freeens of God's Grace to the Soul: And 2. The Spirit doth forcibly soak in the Relish of that Grace, and by an over-piercing Work, doth leave some Dint of supernatural and Spiritual Virtue on the Heart.

Now the Word of the Gospel, and the Work of the Spirit alwae go together; not that God is tied to any Means, but that he tieh himself to the Means: Hence the Gospel is called, The Power of God to Salvation, Rom. 1. 16. because the Power of God ordinarily, and in common Course appears therein: The Waters of Life and Salvation run only in the Channel of the Gospel; there are golden Mines of Grace, Grace, but they are only to be found in the Climates of the Gospel; nay, observe this, when all Arguments prevail not with Corruption, to persuade the Heart to go to God, one Text of Scripture will stand a Man instead above all human Learning and Inventions, because the Spirit goes forth in this, and none else.

Use 1. This may teach us the Worth of the Gospel above all other Things in the World, for it is accompanied with the Spirit, and brings salvation with it. What if a Man had all the Wealth and Policy in the World, and wanted this? he were a Fool: What if one were able to dive deep into the secrets of Nature, to know the Motions of the Stars, to speak with the Tongues of Men and Angels, and yet know nothing belonging to his Peace, what avails it? Why do we value a Mine, but because of the Gold in it? Or a Cabinet, but because of the Pearl in it? O this is that Pearl we fell all for.

Use 2. Wouldst thou know whether thou art carnal or spiritual? Observe then, if thou hast the Spirit, it ever came with the Gospel: See then how the soul stands affected with the Gospel, and so it stands affected to the Spirit. Is it so (may every soul reason with itself) that I will not suffer the Word to prevail with me? then shall I miss of the Spirit, then will Christ none of me. O remember, the Time will come when you must die, as well as your Neighbours, and then you will say, Lord Jesus, forgive my sins; Lord Jesus, receive my Soul; But Christ will answer, Away, be gone, you are none of mine, I know you not. Any Man, whether noble, or ignoble, let him be what he will be, if he has not the Spirit, he is none of Christ's; His you are to whom you obey, Rom. 6. 16. but Pride and Covetousness you obey; Pride therefore will say, This Heart is mine, Lord, I have domineered over it, and I will torment it: Corruption will say, We have owned this soul, and we will damn it. You therefore that have made a Tush at the Word, This Wind shakes no Corn, and these Words break no Bones; little do you think that you have oppoted the Spirit: What, reft the Spirit? Methinks it is enough to sink any soul under Heaven: Hereafter therefore think this with thyself, Were he but a Man that speaks, yet would I not despise him; but that is not all, there goeth God's Spirit with the Word, and shall I despise it? There is but one Step between this and that unpardonable sin against the Holy Ghost, only adding Malice to my Rage: I oppose the Father, perhaps the Son mediates for me; I despise the Son, perhaps the Holy Ghost pleads for me; but if I oppose the Spirit, none can succour me.

C H A P . VI S E C T . I.

The Answer on Man's Part for the Soul to close with, and to rely on Christ.

HITHERTO of the Call on God's Part; now we are come to the Answer on Man's Part. No sooner hath the Gospel and God's Spirit clearly revealed the Fulness of God's Mercy in Christ, but then the whole Soul (both the Mind that discovers Mercy, and Hope that expects it, and Desire that pursues it, and Love that entertaines it, and the Will that rests on it) gives Answer to the Call of God therein. Mercy is a proper Object of all all these; of the Mind to be enlightened, of Hope to be sustained, of Desire to be supported, of Love to be cheared. Nay, there is a full satisfactory Sufficiency of all Good in Christ, that to the Will of Man may take full Repose and Rest in him; therefore the Lord faith, Come unto me, all that are weary and heavy laden, Matth. 11. 28. Come, Mind, and Hope, and Desire, and Love, and Will, and Heart: They all answer, We come: The Mind faith, Let me know this Mercy above all, and desire to know nothing but Christ and him crucified: Let me expect this Mercy, faith Hope, that belongs to me, and will befall me: Desire faith, Let me long after it: O, faith Love, let me embrace and welcome it: O, faith the Heart, let me lay hold on the Handle of Salvation; here we will live and here we will die at the Foot-stool of God's Mercy. Thus all go, Mind, Hope, Desire, Love, Joy, the Will, and all lay hold upon the Promise, and say, Let us make the Promise a Prey, let us prey upon Mercy, as the wild Beasts do upon their Provision. Thus the Faculties of the Soul hunt and pursue this Mercy, and lay hold thereupon and satisfy themselves herein.

S E C T. II.

A Sight of Christ, or of Mercy in Christ.

B U T for a further Discovery of these Works of the Soul, we shall enter into Particulars: And for their Order, 1. The Lord lets a Light into the mind, for what the Eye never seeth, the Heart never desireth, Hope never expecteth, the Soul never embraceth; if the Soul then seemeth to hang afar off, and dares not believe that Christ will have Mercy on him, in this Case the Spirit lets in a Light into his Heart, and discovers unto him, that God will deal graciously with him. It is with a sinner, as with a man that sits in Darkness, haply he seeth a Light in the Street out of a Window, but he sits still in Darkness, and is in the Dungeon all the while, and he thinks, How good were it if a man might enjoy that Light? so many a poor, humbly-hearted broken sinner seeth, and hath an incloking of God's Mercies, he heareth the faints speak of God's Love, and his Goodness, and Compassion; Ab, (thinks he) how happy are they? blessed are they, what an excellent Condition are they in? But I am in Darkness still, and never had a Drop of mercy vouchsafed unto me: At last, the Lord lets a Light into his House, and puts the Candle into his own Hand, and makes him see by particular Evidence, Thou shalt be pardoned, and thou shalt be saved.

The manner how the Spirit works this, is discovered in three Passages:

1. The Spirit of the Lord meeting with an humble, broken, lowly, self-denying sinner (he that is a proud, stout-hearted Wretch, knows nothing of this matter) it opens the Eye, and now the humbly sinner begins to see (like the man in the Gospel) some Light and glimmering about his Understanding, that he can look into, and discern the spiritual Things of God.

2. Then the Lord lays before him all the Riches of the Treasure of his Grace; no sooner hath he given him an Eye, but then he lays Colours before him (the unsearchable Riches of Christ, Eph. 3. 9.) that he may see and look, and fall in love with those sweet Treasures; and then faith the Soul, O that mercy, and Grace and Pardon were mine: O that my sins were done away! The Lord faith, I will refresh them that are heavy laden; then faith the soul, O that that I had that Refreshing! You shall have Rest, faith God; O that I had Rest too, faith the Soul! And now the Soul begins to look after the Mercy and Compassion which is laid afore it.

3. The Spirit of the Lord doth witness or certify throughly and effectually to the Soul, that this Mercy in Christ belongs unto him, and without this, the Soul of an humble, broken-hearted Sinner hath no Ground to go unto Christ: What good doth it an hungry flomack to hear that there is a great Deal of Cheer and Dainties provided for such and such Men, and he have no Part therein? Take a Beggar that hath a thousand Pounds told before him (he may apprehend the Sum of so much Gold, and so much Silver) but what is all that to me, faith he) if in the mean time I die and flame? It fallsout in this Case with a broken-hearted Sinner, as with a prodigal Child: The Prodigal he hath spent his Means, and abused his Father, and now is there a Famine in the Land, and Poverty is befallen him; he knows indeed there is Meat and Cloaths enough in his Father's House, but alas! what can he expect thence but his Father's heavy Displeasure? If a Man should say, Go to your Father, he will give you a Portion again; would he, think you, believe this? No, would he say, it is my Father I have offended, and will he now receive me? Yet should a Man come and tell him, that he heard his Father say so, and then shew him a Certificate under his Father's Hand that is was so. this would sure draw him into some Hope that his Father meant well to-towards him: So it is with a Sinner when he is apprehensive of all his Rebellions; if a Man should tell such a Soul, Go to God, and he will give you Abundance of Mercy and Compassion; the Soul cannot believe it, but thinks, What, I Mercy? no, no: Blessed are they that walk humbly before God, and conform their Lives to his Word, let them take it; but for me, it is Mercy I have opposed, it is Grace I have rejected; no Mercy, no Grace for me: But now if God send a Messenger from Heaven, or if it come under the Hand of his Spirit, that he will accept of him, and pass by all his Sins, this makes the Soul grow into some Hopes, and upon this Ground it goes unto the Lord: But here observe me, that none either in Heaven or in Earth, but only God's Spirit can make this Certificate; when it is Night, all the Candles in the World cannot take away the Darkness; so all the Means of Grace and Salvation, all the Candle-light of the Ministry, they are all good Helps, but the Darkness of the Night will not be gone, before the Sun of Righteousness arise in our Hearts. Hence it is that it proves so difficult a Matter to comfort a deftrefled Soul; I shall one day perih, faith David; I shall one Day go down to Hell, faith the Soul: Let all the Ministers under Heaven cry, "Comfort ye, comfort ye:” still he replies, "I Mercy? and I Comfort? " will the Lord pardon me? It is " Mercy I have defiled and trampled " under my Feet, and I Mercy? no, " no.” Thus we Ministers observe by Experience, some that in their own Apprehensions are gone to the Bottom of Hell, we make known to them Reafions, and Arguments, and Promifes, but nothing takes Place; what's the Reafon? O none but God's Spirit can do it, he must either come from Heaven, and say, Comfort ye, comfort ye, my People, or it will never prevail: let me speake therefore to you that are Ministers, you do well to labour to give Comfort to a poor fainting Soul, but always say, Comfort, Lord: O Lord, say unto this poor Soul, Thou art his Salvation.
The New Birth

Sect. III.

Hope in Christ.

The Mind being thus enlightened, the Lord calls on the Affections; Come, Desire: Come, Love: But the first Voice is to Hope; now Hope is a Faculty of the soul that looks out for Mercy, and waits for the same; so the Apostle, Phil. 1. 20. According to my earnest expectation: It is a similitude taken from a Man that looks after another, and lifts up himself as high as he may, to see if any be coming after him; so here the soul stands as it were a tip-toe, expecting when the Lord comes; he hath heard the Lord say, Mercy is coming towards thee, Mercy is provided for thee: Now this Affection is set out to meet Mercy afar off, it is the looking out of the soul: O when will it be Lord? Thou sayest Mercy is prepared, thou sayest Mercy is approaching; the soul standeth a tip-toe, O when will it come Lord! Here is the Voice of Hope; This sinful Soul of mine, it may through God's Mercy be sanctified; this troubled, perplexed soul of mine, it may through God's Mercy be pacified; this Evil and Corruption which harbours in me, and hath taken Possession of me, it may through God's Mercy be removed; and when will it be?

The Manner how God's Spirit works this, is discerned in three Particulars:

1. The Lord doth sweetly stay the Heart, and fully persuade the soul, that a Man's sins are pardonable, and that all his sins may be pardoned, and that all the good Things he wanteth, they may be bestowed: This is a great sustainer of the soul: When a poor sinner teeth his sins in their Number, Nature; when he teeth no Rest in the Creature, nor in himself, tho' all Means, all Help, all Men, all Angels, should join together, yet they cannot pardon one sin of his; then the Lord lifteth up his Voice, and faith from Heaven, Thy sins are pardonable in the Lord Jesus Christ.

2. The Lord doth sweetly persuade the soul that all his sins shall be pardoned; the Lord makes this appear, and persuades his Heart that he intendeth Mercy, that Christ hath procured Pardon for the soul of a broken-hearted sinner in special, and that he cannot but come unto it; by this Means Hope comes to be asasured, and certainly persuaded to look out, knowing the Promise shall be at the last accomplished:

The former only sustained the Heart, and provoked it to look for Mercy, but this comforts the soul, that undoubtedly it shall have Mercy: The Lord Jesus came to seek and to save that which was lost: Now faith the broken and humble sinner, I am lost; did Christ come to save sinners? Christ must fail of his End, or I of my comfort. God's faith, Come unto me, all ye that are weary and heavy-laden: I am weary, and unless the Lord intend good unto me, why should he invite me and bid me come? Surely he means to shew me Mercy, may he promise to relieve me, when I come, therefore he will do good unto me.

3. The Lord lets in some Relish and Taste of the sweetness of his Love, some scent and favour of it, so that the soul is deeply affected with it, and carried mightily unto it, that it cannot be severed; it is the letting in the Riches of his Love, that turneth the Expectation of the soul another Way, yeas it turneth the whole stream of the soul thitherward.

Use 1. This reproves,

1. Those that cast off all Hope.
2. Those that without Ground will do nothing but hope.
The New Birth.

1. If the Lord stir up the Heart of his to hope for his Mercy, then take heed of that fearful sin of Despair. Despair we must in our selves, and that is good; but this Despair we speak of, is hainous in the Eyes of God, and hurtful to thee. 1. Injurious to God, thou goest to the deep Dungeon of thy Corruption, and there thou sayest, These sins can never be pardoned, I am still proud, and more stubborn, this Despair God feeth not, God succors not, his Hand cannot reach, his Mercy cannot save. Now mark what the Prophet faith to such a perplexed Soul, Why sayest thou, What Way is bid from the Lord? Isa. 40. 27. The Lord faith, Why sayest thou? Is any thing too hard for the Lord? O you wrong God exceedingly, you think it a Matter of Humility, when you account so vilely of your selves: Can God pardon Sin to such unworthy Creatures? It is true, faith the Soul, Manasses was pardoned, Paul was converted, God's Saints have been received to Mercy; but can my Sins be pardoned? can my Soul be quickened? No, no, my sins are greater than can be forgiven. Why then, poor Soul, Satan is stronger to overthrow thee, than God to save thee; and thus you make God to be no God, nay you make him to be weaker than Sin, than Hell, than the Devil. 2. This Sin is dangerous to thy own Soul, it is that which taketh up the Bridge, and cutteth off all Passages, nay it plucks up a Man's Endeavours, as it were quite by the Roots: Alas, faith he, what skillett for a Man to pray? what profits it a Man to read? what Benefit in all the Means of Grace? The stone is rolled upon me, and my Condemnation sealed for ever: I will never look after Christ, Grace, Salvation any more; the Time of Grace is past, the Day is gone. And thus the Soul sinketh in it self; Will the Lord cast me off for ever? and will he shew no Favour? I said, faith David, This is my infirmity, Psal. 7. 7. The Word in the Original is, This is my sickness; as who should say, What? is mercy gone for ever? This will be my Death, then is Life gone.

2. This reproves and condemns that great Sin of Presumption, a sin more frequent, and, if possibly may be, more dangerous as they said, Saul had slain his thousands, and David his ten thousands: So hath Despair slain his thousands, but Presumption his ten thousands. It is the Counsel of Peter, that every man should be ready to give an account of his faith and hope that is in him, 1 Pet. 3. 15. Let us see the Reasons that persuade you to these groundless foolish Hopes? You say, You hope to be saved, and you hope to go to Heaven, and you hope to see God's Face with Comfort; and have you no Grounds? It is a foolish Hope, an unreasonable Hope.

Uses. 2. But comfort ye, comfort ye, poor drooping Spirits; They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength, Isa. 40. 31. You say, You cannot do this, and you cannot do that; I say, If you can but hope, and wait for the Mercy of the Lord, you are rich Christians. If a Man have many Reversions, they that judge of his Estate, will not judge him for his present Estate, but for the Reversions he shall have: Haply thou hast not for the Present the Sense and Feeling of God's Love and Affurance; away with that Feeling, do not dote upon it, thou hast Reversions of old Leaves, ancient Mercies, old Compaflions, such as have been reserved from the Beginning of the World, and know thou hast a fair Inheritance.

Uses. 3. You will say, Were my Hopes
Hopes of the right stamp, then might I comfort myself; but there are many false, flashy Hopes, and how should I know that my Hope is found and good? I answer, you may know it by these Particulars.

1. A grounded Hope hath a peculiar Certainty in it, it doth bring home unto the Soul in special Manner, the Goodness of God, and the Riches of his Love in Christ Jesus. It stands not on Ifs and Ands, but faith, it must undoubtedly, it must certainly be mine; and good Reason, for this Hope hath a Word to hang and hold upon: What is that? I will wait upon the Lord, and I will hope in his word, Psal. 130. 5. It is a Scripture-hope, a Word-hope: the Word faith, The Lord came to save those that were lost, Mat. 18. 11. Why, I find my self to be lost, faith the Soul, and therefore I hope: The Lord will seek me, tho' I cannot seek him; I hope the Lord will find me, tho' I cannot find myself; I hope the Lord will save me, tho' I cannot save myself. So the Word faith, He appointeth them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes: Will you have a Legacy of Joy, Mercy and Pity? Here it is, the Lord Christ left it you, I bequeath and leave this to all broken-hearted Sinners, to all you humble mourning Sinners, this is your Legacy, sue for it in the court, and you shall have it for ever.

2. A grounded Hope is ever of great Power and Strength to hold the Soul to the Truth of the Promises; hence take a poor Sinner when he is at the weakest, under Water, when all Temptations, Oppositions, Corruptions grow strong against him, and he faith, I shall one day perish by the hand of Saul, this proud, foolish, filthy Heart of mine will be my Bane, I shall never get Power, Strength and Grace against these sins. Here is the lowest under of a poor Soul. If a Man should now reply, Then cast off all Hope and Confidence, reject the Means, and turn to your sins: Mark how Hope steppeth in, and faith, Nay, whatsoever I am and do, whatsoever my condition is, I will use the Means; I am sure all my Help is in Christ, all my Hope is in the Lord Jesus, and if I must perish, I will perish seeking him, and waiting upon him. Why, this is Hope, and I warrant that soul shall never go to Hell; I will wait for the Lord, yea though he hath hid himself from the house of Jacob, Is. 8. 17.

Use 4. The last Use is of Exhortation: I desire you, I intreat you (I will not say, I command you, tho' this may be enjoyned) if you have any Hope of Heaven, if you have any Treasure in Christ, labour to quicken this Affection above all: The Means are these,

1. Labour to be much acquainted with the precious Promises of God, to have them at hand, and upon all Occasions: These are thy Comforts, and will support thy Soul; as the Body without Comfort is unfit for any thing, so it is here, unless a Man hath that Provision of God's Promises, and have them at hand daily, and have them dish-ed out, and fitted for him, his Heart will fail.

2. Maintain in thy Heart a deep and serious Acknowledgment of that supreme Authority of the Lord, to do what he will, and how he will according to his Pleasure. Alas, we think too often to bring God to our Bow; We have hoped thus long, and God hath not answered and shall we wait still? Wait! Ah wait, and be not God that a may wait: If you may lie at God's Feet, and put your Mouths in the Dust, and at the End of your Days have one Crumb of Mercy, it is enough; therefore check those Diemapers, Shall

M 2 I wait
The New Birth.

I wait still? It is a most admirable strange Thing, that a poor Worm, worthy of Hell, should take up state, and stand upon Terms with God; He will not wait upon God; Who must wait then? must God wait, or Man wait? It was the Apostles Question, Wilt thou restore the Kingdom of Israel? To whom our Saviour answered. It is not for you to know the times and seasons; As who should say, Hands off, it is for you to wait, and to expect Mercy, it is not for you to know. If you begin to wrangle and say, How long, Lord? When, Lord? And why not now, Lord? Why not I, Lord? Now check thy own Heart, and say, It is not for me to know, it is for me to be humble, abased, and to wait for Mercy.

Sect. IV.

A Desire after Christ.

When the soul is humbled and the Eye opened, then he begins thus to reason; O happy I that see Mercy, but miserable I, if I come to see this, and never have a share in it! O why not I Lord? Why not my sins pardoned? And why not my Corruptions subdued? My Soul now thirsteth after thee as a thirsty Land, my Affections now hunger after Righteousness both infused and imputed; Now this Desire is begotten thus.

When the Soul is come so far, that after a through Conviction of Sin, and found Humiliation under God’s mighty Hand, it hath a timely and seasonable Revelation of the glorious Mysteries of Christ, of his Excellencies, Invitations, Truth, Tender-heartedness, &c. of the heavenly Splendor, and Riches, of the Pearl of great Price; then doth the Soul conceive by the Help of the Holy Ghost, this Desire and vehement Longing: And left any couzen themselves by any Misconceits about it, as the notorious sinner, the meer civil Man, and the formal Professor, it is then known to be favoring.

1. When it is joined with an hearty Willingness and unfeigned Resolution, to sell all, to part with all Sin, to bid adieu for ever to our darling Delight; it is not an Effect of Self-love, not an ordinary Wish of natural Appetite (like Balaam’s, Numb. 23. 10.) of those who desire to be happy, but are unwilling to be holy; who would gladly be saved, but are loth to be sanctified; no, if thou desirest earnestly, thou wilt work accordingly; for as the Desire is, so will thy Endeavour be.

2. When it is earnest, eager, vehement, extremely thirsting after Christ, as the parched Earth for refreshing flowers, or the hunted Hart for the Water-brooks. We read of a Scotch Penitent, * who a little before his Confession, freely confessed his Fault, to the shame, as he said, of himself, and to the shame of the Devil, but to the Glory of God; he acknowledged it to be so baimous, and horrible, that had he a thousand Lives, and could he die ten thousand Deaths, he could not make satisfaction: Notwithstanding, said he, Lord, thou hast left me this comfort in thy word, that thou hast said, Come unto me, all ye that are weary and heavy-laden, and I will refresh you: Lord, I am weary, Lord, I am heavy-laden with my sins, which are innumerable, I am ready to sink, Lord, even into Hell, unless thou in thy Mercy put to thine Hand and deliver me: Lord,

thou hast promised by thine own Word out of thy own Mouth, that thou wiltrefresh the weary soul. And with that he thrust out one of his Hands, and reaching as high as he could towards Heaven, with a louder Voice and a strained, he cried, "I challenge thee, Lord, by that Word, and by that Promise which thou hast made, that thou perform and make it good to me; that call for Ease and Mercy at thy Hands, &c." Proportionally, when Heavy-heartedness for sin hath to dried up the Bones, and the angry Countenance of God so parched the Heart, that the poor soul begins now to gasp for Grace, as the thirsty Land for Drops of Rain; then the poor sinner, (the Dust and Ashes) with an holy Humility thus speaks unto Christ; "O merciful Lord God, Thou art Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and the End; Thou sayest it is done, of Things that are yet to come; so faithful and true are thy Decrees and Promises, that thou hast promised by thine own Word out of thy own Mouth, that unto him that is athirst, thou wilt give him of the Fountain of the Water of Life freely, Rev. 21. 6. O Lord, I thirst, I faint, I languish, I long for one Drop of Mercy: As the Hart panteth for the Waterbrooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God, and after the yearning Bowels of thy wonded Compassions; Had I now in Possession the Glory, the Wealth and Pleasures of the whole World; nay, had I ten thousand Lives, joyfully would I lay them all down and part with them, to have this poor trembling soul of mine received into the bleeding Arms of my blessed Redeemer. O Lord, my Spirit within me is melted into Tears of Blood, my Heart is shivered into Pieces; out of the very Place of Dragons and shadow of Death, do I lift up my Thoughts heavy and sad before thee; the Remembrance of my former Vanities and Pollutions, is a very Vomit to my Soul, and it is sorely wounded with the grievous Representation thereof; the very Flames of Hell, Lord, the Fury of thy just Wrath, the Scorchings of my own Conscience, have so wasted and parched mine Heart, that my Thirst is infa-tiable, my Bowels are hot within me, my Desire after Jesus Christ, Pardon and Grace, is greedy as the Grave; the Coals thereof are Coals of Fire, which hath a most vehem-ment Flame: And, Lord, in thy blesled Book thou callest and criest, Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the Waters, Isa. 55. 1. In that great Day of the Feast, thou floodest and criedst with thine own Mouth, If any man thirst, let him come unto me and drink, John 7. 37. And these are thine own Words, Those who hunger and thirst after Righteousness, shall be filled, Mat. 5. 6. I challenge thee, Lord, in this my extreme Thirst after thine own blesed felt, and spiritual Life in thee, by that Word, and by that Promise which thou hast made, that thou perform, and make it good to me, that Igrovelling in the Dust, and trembling at thy Feet: Oh! open now that promised Well of Life, for I must drink, or else I die.

The Means to obtain this Desire, are these Three.

1. Be acquainted throughly with thine own Necessities and Wants, with that Nothingness and Emptiness that is in thy self; a groundless Pre-sumption makes a Man carelesly; see into into thine own Necessities, confess the Want of this Desire after the Lord Jesus Christ.
The New Birth.

2. Labour to spread forth the Excellency of all the Beauty and surpassing Glory, that is in the Promises of God: Couldst thou but view them in their proper Colours, they would even ravish thee and quicken thy Desires.

3. After all this, know it is not in thy Power to bring thy Heart to desire Christ, thou canst not hammer out a Desire upon thine own Anvil, dig thy own Pit, and hew thy own Rock as long as thou wilt; nay, let all the Angels in Heaven, and all the Ministers on Earth provoke thee, yet if the Hand of the Lord be wanting, thou shalt not lift up thine Heart, nor step one step towards Heaven; then go to him who is able to work this Desire in thy Soul. It is the Complaint of a Christian, O they are troubled, because they cannot fetch a good Desire from their own Souls, and one falls, another sinks, a third shakes, and they are overwhelmed with Discouragement: What a wretched Heart have I? (faith one) I Grace? No, no; the World I can desire, the Life of my Child I long for, and I say with Rachel, Let me have Honour or else I die: but I cannot long for the unconceivable Riches of the Lord Jesus Christ; and will the Lord shew any Mercy upon me? Is it thus? Remember now, Desires grow not in thy Garden, they spring not from the Root of thy Abilities: O seek unto God, and confess, In Truth, Lord, it is thou from whom come all our Desires, it is thou must work them in us as thou hast promised them to us; and therefore, Lord, quicken thou this Soul, and enlarge this Heart of mine, for thou only art the God of this Desire. Thus hale down a Desire from the Lord, and from the Promise, for there only must thou have it: The smoaking flax God will not quench, Mat. 12. 20. Flax will not smoak, but a Spark must come into it, and that will make it catch Fire and smoak; thus lay thy Hearts before the Lord, and say, Good Lord, here is only Flax, here is only a stubborn Heart, but strike thou by thy Promise one Spark from Heaven, that I may have a smoaking Desire after Christ, and after Grace.

S E C T. V.

A Love of Christ.

We have run thro’ two Affections, Hope and Desire, and the next is Love: A possible Good stirrs up Hope; a necessary Excellency in that Good, setteth Desire; and a Relish in that Good settled, kindles Love. Thus is the Order of God’s Work: If the Good be absent, the Understanding faith, It is to be desired, O that I had it! Then it sends out Hope, and that waits for that Good, and stays till it can see it; and yet if that Good cannot come, then Desire hath another proper Work, and it goes up and down wandering, and seeketh and sueth for Christ Jesus. After this, if the Lord Jesus be pleased to come himself into the View of the Heart, which longeth thus after him, then Love leads him into the Soul, and tells the Will of him, saying, Lo, here is Jesus Christ the Messiah, that hath ordered these great Things for his Saints and People.

The Motive or Ground of this Love, is God’s Spirit in the Promise, letting in some Intimation of God’s Love into the Soul; thus Psal. 42. 8. The Lord will command his loving kindness in the day-time: This is a Phrase taken from Kings and Princes, and great Commanders in the Field, whose Words of Command stand for Laws; so the Lord sends out his Loving-kindness, and faith, Go out, my everlasting Love and Kindness, take a Commission from me, and go to that humble, thirsty, and hunger-bitten sinner, and go and prosper, and prevail, and settle my Love effectually upon him, and fasten my Mercy upon him; I command my Loving-kindness to do it. Thus the Lord doth put a Commission into the Hands of his Loving-kindness, that it shall do good to the poor soul, yea, tho it withdraw itself, saying, What, I Mercy? will Christ Jesus accept of me? No, no; there is no Hope of Mercy for me: indeed if I could pray thus, hear thus, and perform Duties with that Enlargement, and had those Parts and Abilities, then there were some Comfort, but now there is no Hope of Mercy for me. We demand, Is this your Case? is it thus and thus? are you thus humbled? and have you thus longed for the Riches of his Mercy in Christ? Lo then, the Lord hath put a Commission into the Hands of his Loving-kindness, saying, Go to that poor soul, and break open the Doors upon that weary, wailing Heart, and break off all those Bolts, and rend off that Veil of Ignorance and carnal Reason, and all those Arguments: Go (I say) to that soul, and cheer it, and warm it, and tell it from me, That his sins are pardoned, and his soul shall be saved, and his sins and Prayers are heard in Heaven; and I charge you do the Work before you come again.
The New Birth.

Here is the Ground of Love; God's Love affecting the Heart, and settled upon it, it breeds a Love to God again; We love him, because he loved us first, 1 John 4. 19. The Burning-glants must receive Heat of the Beams of the Sun before it burn any thing; so there must be a Beam of God's Love to fall upon the Soul, before it can love God again: I drew them with the Cords of a man, even with the hands of love, Hol. 11. 4. God lets in the Cords of Love into the Soul, and that draws Love again to God; He brought me into the banqueting-house, and his banner over me was love; fly me with flaggons, comfort me with apples, for I am sick of love, Can. 2. 4. When the Banner of Christ's Love is spread over the Soul, the Soul comes to be sick in Love with Christ.

Now this Love of God doth beget our Love in three Particulars:

1. There is a Sweetness and a Relish which God's Love lets into the Soul, and warms the Heart with; you shall see how the Fire is kindled by and by:

As when a Man is fainting, we give him Aqua vitae; so a fainting Sinner is cold at the Heart, and therefore the Lord lets in a Drop of his Loving-kindness, and this warms the Heart, and the Soul is even filled with the Happines of the Mercy of God; Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth (faith the Spouse in the Canticles, Chap. 1. 1.) for his love is better than wine: The Kisses of his Mouth, are the Comforts of his Word and Spirit; the Soul faith, O, let the Lord refresh me with the Kisses of his Mouth, let the Lord speak Comfort to my Heart; and this is better than Wine.

2. As that Sweetness warms the Heart, so the Freeness of the Love of God let in and intimated, begins even to kindle this Love in the Soul, that it sparkles again; God fetteth out his Love towards us, seeing that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us, Rom. 5.

8. This commends the Love of God, the Lord sends to poor and miserable, sinful, broken-hearted sinners, and faith, Command my Mercy to such a one, and tell him; That tho he hath been an Enemy to me, yet I am a Friend to him, and tho he hath been rebellious against me, yet I am a God and Father to him: When the the poor sinner considers this with himself, he faith, Is the Lord so merciful to me? I that loved my sins, and continued in them, had it not been just that I should have perished in them? but will the Lord not only spare his Enemy, but give his Son for him? O let my soul for ever rejoice in this inconceivable Goodness of God! Be thy Heart never so hard, if it have but the senfe of this, it cannot but stir thee to Humiliation.

3. The Greatness of the Freeness of this Mercy of God, being settled upon the Heart, inflames it; the Sweetness warms the Heart, this Freeness kindles the Fire; and when the greatness of the sweetness comes to be valued, this sets the Heart all on a Flame; the Apostle desires, that the Ephesians, being rooted and grounded in love, might be able to comprehend, with all Saints, what is the breadth and height of the love of God in Christ; Eph. 3. 17, 18. as if he had said, The Unmeasureable Love of God’s Mercy will blow up the soul, and inflame the Heart with admirable Love of God again, and will make the soul say, What, that have done all I could against this good God? O, it breaks my Heart to think of it! there was no Name under Heaven that I did blaspheme and tear in Pieces more than this Name; no Command under Heaven I so much despised as the Command of God and of Christ; no spirit I grieved so much as the good Spirit of God; and therefore, had the Lord only given me a look; or spoken a Word to me, it had been an infinite Mercy, but to send a Son to save me, it is incomparable; I could not conceive to do so much Evil against him, as he hath done good to me: O the Breath of that Mercy beyond all limits! O the length of that Mercy beyond all Time! O the Depth of that Mercy below a Man’s Misery! O the Height of that Mercy above the Height of my Understanding! If my Hands were all love, that I could work nothing but love; and if mine Eyes were able to see nothing but love, and my Mind to think of nothing but love, and if I had a thousand Bodies, they were all too little to love that God that hath thus unmeasurable loved me a poor, sinful Hell-bound: O I will love the Lord dearly, (faith David) O Lord, my Strength, Psal. 18. 1. Have I gotten the Lord Jesus to be my Comfort, my Buckler, and my Shield? if I have any Good, he begins it, if I have any Comfort, he blesteth it: Therefore, I will love thee dearly, O Lord, my Strength, O how should I but love thee!

Use 1. Methinks there is a poor, sincere soul that faith, My Understandings are not so deep as others, my Tongue runs not so glib as such and such; I cannot talk so freely of the Things of Grace and Salvation, I have meaner Parts, and cannot enlarge myself in holy Duties and holy Services; I cannot dispute for a Saviour, or perform such Duties as others can do: Yet, sweet soul, canst thou love Christ Jesus, and rejoice in him? O yes! I bless the Name of the Lord, that all I have, all my Friends, and Parts, and Means, and Abilities, are but as Dung and Dross in Comparison of Christ Jesus; it were the Comfort of my Soul, if I might be ever with him. Say you so? Go thy Way, and the God of Heaven go with thee: This is a Work of God that will never leave thee, it is a Badge and proper Livery that the Lord Jesus gives only to his Saints; never a mere Professor under Heaven ever wore it, never any Hypocrite under Heaven to whom God did intend it, but only to those whom he hath effectually called, and whom he will save; therefore thou wantest all, thou hast this to comfort thee in the Want of all; and thou mayst say, I can say little for Christ, my Tongue falterers, and my Memory is weak; yet the Lord knows, I love the Lord
Lord Jesus. This is enough, David desired no more, but what God was wont to do to his Children that loved his Name, Do to me (faith the Text, Psal. 119. 132.) as thou wert to do unto those that love thy Name; I know thou lovest them that love thee, and wilt save and glorify them in the End; I desire no more but this, do as thou wert to do to those that love thy Name. And doth David a King, desire no more? sure then, if thou, poor soul, hast so much as he had, it is enough, be quiet with thy Child’s Part; Thy lot is fallen into a marvellous fair Ground.

Object. Some may say, This is all the Difficulty: How may I know whether my Love be a true Love, or a false Love? How may I know that my Love is of the right Stamp?

Answ. Let every Man put his Love upon the Trial, and examine thus, Whether dost thou welcome Christ and Grace according to the Worth of them? if thou dost, it will appear in these Particulars: 1. Observe the Root and Rife from whence thy Love came; canst thou say, I love the Lord, because he hath loved me? Then thy Love is of the right Mettal, and know it for ever, that that God which cannot but love himself, he cannot but like that Love which came from himself: Is thy soul affected and enlarged in Love to the Lord, because thou hast felt and retained the Relish and sweetness of his Grace? Canst thou say, The Lord hath let in a glimpse of his Favour: and the Lord hath said in his Truth, He looks to him that trembles at his Word; the Minister said it, and the Spirit faith it, that my Mercy is registred in Heaven: O how should I love the Lord! my sins are many, which I have bewailed; my sighs and sobs I have put up to Heaven, and, at the last, the Lord hath given me a gracious Answer: O how should I love the Lord my Strength dearly? If it be thus with thee, thy Love is found, and will never fail.

2. If thou entertain thy Saviour, as it befooms him, thou must entertain him as a King, and that is thus; give up all to him, and entertain none with him upon Terms of Honour, but such as retain to him, or be Attendants upon him; love all in Christ, and for Christ, but express thy Love and Joy to Christ above all: He is as a King, and all the rest are but as Retainers; he that loves any Thing equal with a Christ, it is certain he did never love Christ; to set up any Thing cheek by jole with Christ, it is all one as if a Man did put a Slave into the fame Chamber with the King, which is, upon the Point, to drive him away.

3. The soul that rightly entertains Christ, and studies wholly to give him Contentment, he is marvellous wary and watchful, that he may not fad that good Spirit of God to grieve him, and cause him to go away as displeased: See this, Cant. 3. 4. 5. the Spouse sought long for her Beloved, and at last brought him home, and when she had welcom ed him, she gave a Charge to all the Houfe, not to fir nor awaken her love till he please. When a Prince comes unto the Houfe of a great Man, what Charge is there given to make no Noise in the Night, left such and such a Man be awakened before his Time? The soul when it hath received the Spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ, doth thus; he gives a peremptory Charge to keep Watch, and Ward, and gives a Charge to Hope, and Desire, and Love, and Joy, and the Mind, and all, not to grieve and moleft the good Spirit of God, let there be no Motion but to entertain it, no Advice, but to receive it, and do nothing that may work the least kind of Dislike unto it.

4. He that truly entertains Christ, rejoiceth in the Good and Glory of Christ:
The New Birth.

Christ: When Mephiboseth had been wrongfully accused to David, and when David, who had taken away all the Inheritance from him, was returned in safety; Then said David, to comfort him, Thou, and Ziba divide the land: 2 Kings 19. 30. Nay, said Mephiboseth, let him take all, soasmuch as my lord the king is come again in Peace, it matters not for Inheritance, and for myself and my life, I pass not, if the King is returned in Peace; it is enough that I enjoy thy Presence, which is better to me than goods, life, or liberty; so it is with a kind, loving Heart, which cannot endure to see Christ's Honour and Glory laid in the Dust, but it his Praise be advanced, then is he glad, Lord, I have enough, faith the soul, that Christ is mine, and that his Honour and Glory is magnified, whatsoever becomes of me it matters not; let the World take all, if I may have Christ, and see him praised and magnified: Let this try any Man's spirit under Heaven, and labour to bring the soul to this Pitch: A Minister in his Place, and a Master in his Place, and every Christian in his Place; let it be our Care to honour God, not ourselves; and let it be our Comfort, if God may be better honoured by others, than by ourselves: This is our Baseness of spirit, we can be content to lift up Christ upon our shoulders, that we may lift up ourselves by it; but we should be content to ly in the Dust, that the Lord may be praised; and if any of God's People thrive and prosper more than thou, let that be thy Joy.

5. He that welcomes Christ truly, covets a nearer Union with Christ: Love is of a linking and gluing Nature, and will carry the soul with some kind of strength and Earnestness, to enjoy full Possession and Fellowship of the Thing that is loved; it cannot have enough of it: Nothing (faith, the soul) but Christ, still I desire more of that Mercy, and Holiness, and Grace, and love in Christ Jesus: As it is with Parties that have lived long together in one House, and their affections are linked together in Way of Marriage, they will ever desire to be talking together, and to be drawing on the Marriage; so the soul that loves Christ Jesus, and hath his holy Affection kindled, and his spirit enlarged therein; when the Lord hath let in some Glimpse of his Love, he thinks the Hour sweet when he prayed to the Lord Christ, he thinks the Lord's Day sweet wherein God revealed, by the Power of his holy Ordinances, any of that rich Grace and Mercy of his: It is admirable to see how the Heart will be delighted to recount the Time, and Place, and Means, when and where the Lord did reveal it; Oh this is good, faith the Soul; Oh that I might be ever thus charmed and refreshed! Or, as the Spouse contracted, thinks every Day a Year, till she enjoy her Beloved, and take satisfaction to her soul in him: so the soul that hath been truly humbled, and enlightened, and is now contracted to Christ Jesus, Oh when will that Day be, faith it, that I shall ever be with my Jesus! He takes hold of every Word he hears, every Promise that reveals any Thing of Christ, But Oh! when will that Day be, that I shall ever be with Christ, and be full of his Fulness for ever!

Philip. I. 23.

Ufe 2. And now let me prevail with your Hearts, and work your Souls to this Duty, Love the Lord, all ye his Saints; Psal. 31. 24. whom will you love, if you love not him? Oh, you poor Ones, love you the Lord, for you have need; and all you rich Ones, love you the Lord, for you have Caufe; and you little Ones too, (if there be any such in the Congregation) he knocks at every Man's Heart, and persuades every Man's soul, Love ye the Lord.
The New Birth: 91

The Means are these, 1. Labour to give Attendance daily to the Promise of Grace and Christ; drive away all other suitors from the soul, and let nothing come between the Promise and it; forbid all other Bands, that is, let the Promise confer daily with thy Heart, and be expressing and telling of that Good that is in Christ, to thy own soul. If all Things be agreed between Parties to be married, and there wants nothing but mutual Affection; the only Way to fix their Affections upon one another, is to keep Company together, so as they meet wisely and holily; so let the soul daily keep company with the Promise, and this is the first Way.

2. Labour to be throughly acquainted with the Beauty and Sweetness of Christ in the Promise: Now there are three Things in the Promise we must eye and apprehend, that our Hearts may be kindled with Love in the Lord; 1. The Worth of the Party in himself, Christ is worthy of it. 2. The Desert of the Party, in regard Christ deferves it. 3. The Readiness of the Party in himself to seek our Good, Christ seeks it.

(1.) Christ is worthy in himself: If we had a thousand Hearts to bestow upon him, we were never able to love him sufficiently, as Nehemiah said, The Name of the Lord is above all praise; will you let out your Love and Affection? you may lay them here with good Advantage: What would you love? wouldst thou have Beauty? then thy Saviour is beautiful, Thou art fairer than the children of men, Psa. 45. 2. Wouldst thou have Strength? then is thy Saviour strong, Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most Mighty, Psa. 45. 3. Wouldst thou have Riches thy Saviour is more rich (if it be possible) than he is strong, He is heir of all things, Heb. 1. 2. Wouldst thou have Wisdom? then thy Saviour is wise, yea, Wisdom itself, In him are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge, Col. 2. 3. Wouldst thou have Life eternal? Christ is the Author of Life and Happiness to all that have him; and he hath not only these in himself, but he will inefect thee in them, if thou wilt but match with him.

(2.) Christ deserves our Love, in regard of Benefits to us; be Man never to worthy in himself, yet, if he have wronged, or express the Part of an Enemy, a Woman faith, I will not have him tho he have all the World; this takes off the Affection: It is not to with the Lord Jesus; as he is worthy of all Love in himself, so he hath dealt mercifully and graciously with you: In your fickness, who helped you? in Wants, who supplied you? in Anguish of Heart, who relieved you? It was Jesus Christ. Oh therefore love him, deal equally with him, and as he deferves, to enlarge your Hearts to him for ever.

(3.) Christ seeks our Love: Here is the Admirations of Mercy, That our Saviour, who hath been rejected by a Company of sinful Creatures, should seek their Love; for shame refuse him not, but let him have Love ere he go: Had the Lord received us, when we had come to him, and humbled our Hearts before him; had he heard, when we had spent our Days, and all our Strength in begging and craving, it had been an infinite Mercy: But when the Lord Jesus Christ shall seek to us by his Messengers (it is all the Work we have to do, to wooe you, and speak a good Word for the Lord Jesus Christ; yea, and if we speak for ourselves, it is pity but our Tongue should cleave to the Root of our Mouth) when the Lord Jesus shall come and wait upon us, and seek our Love, O this this is Wonder of Mercies! think of this, O ye Saints! The Lord
Lord now, by us, offers Love to all you that are weary and have need; What Answer shall I return to him in the Evening? shall I say, Lord, I have tended thy Mercy, and it was refused: Brethren, it would grieve my Heart to return this Answer; O rather let every soul of you say, Can the Lord Jefus love me? In Truth, Lord, I am out of Love with myself, I have abused thy Majesty; I have loved the World, I have followed base Lusts, and can the Lord Jefus love such a Wretch as I am? Yea, faith the Lord, I will heal their backslidings, I will love them freely, Hos. 14. 5. He looks for no Portion, he will take thee and all thy Wants; get you home then, and every one in secret labour to deal truly with your own Hearts; make up a Match in this manner, and say, Is it possible that the Lord should look so low? that a great Prince should send to a poor Peasant? that Majesty should stoop to meanness; Heaven to Earth? God to Man? Hath the Lord offered Mercy to me? and doth he require nothing of me but to love him again? Call upon your Hearts, I charge you, and say thus, Lord, if all the Light of my Eyes were Love, and all the Speeches of my Tongue were Love, it were all too little to love thee: O let me love thee dearly! If you will not say thus, then say hereafter, You had a fair Offer, and that a poor Minister of God did with you well. Alas, be not coy and squeamish, the Lord may have better than you; ly down therefore, and admire at the Mercy of the Lord, that should take a Company of dead Dogs, and now at the last, say as the Prophet did, Lift up your heads, O ye gates! and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of glory shall come in, P jail. 47. 5.

S E C T. VI.

A Relying on Christ

We are now come to the Work of the Will, which is the great Wheel and Commander of the Soul. The former Affections were but as Hand-maids to usher in Christ and the Promises; the Mind, faith, I have seen Christ: Hope faith, I have waited: Desire faith, I have longed: Love faith, I am kindled: then faith the Will, I will have Christ, it shall be so: And this makes up the Match; the Spawn and Seeds of Faith went before, now Faith is come to some Perfection, now the soul reposeth itself upon the Lord Jefus. And this reposing or resting itself, discovers a five-fold Act:

1. It implies A going out of the soul to Christ: When the soul feeth this, that the Lord Jefus is his Aid, and must ease him, and pardon his sins, then, Let us go to that Christ, faith he, it is the Lord's Call, Come to me, all ye that are weary: now this Voice coming home to the Heart, and the prevailing Sweetnesses of the Call overpowering the Heart, the Soul goes out, and falls, and flings itself upon the Riches of God's Grace.

2. It lays fast hold upon Christ; when the Lord faith, Come, my love, my dove; O come away, Cant. 2. 10. Behold, I come, faith he, and when she is come, she fasineth upon Christ, saying, My beloved is mine, and I am his: Faith lays hold on the Lord, and will not let mercy go, but cleaves unto it, tho it conflict with the Lord; Should he say me, ( faith Job, ch. 13. 15.) yet will I trust in him. The Cafe is like Benhadad's, who being overcome by Abab, his Servants thus advised him; We have heard that the kings of Israel are merciful kings, we pray thee, let us put ropes about our necks, and jackcloth on our loins, and go out to the king, peradventure he will save thy life, 1 Kings 20. 31, 32, 33. Thus the Servants go, and coming to Achab, they deliver the message; Thy servant Benhadad, faith, I pray thee, let me live:

And
The New Birth,

and he said, Is he yet alive? be is my brother: Now the Men diligently oberved whether any Thing would come from him, and did hastily catch at it, and they said, Thy brother Benhadad, and they went away rejoicing: This is the lively Picture of a broken-hearted Sinner, after he hath taken up Arms against the Almighty, and that the Lord hathlet in injustice, and he seeth (or hath seen) the Anger of God bent against him; then the Soul reasons thus, I have heard, tho I am a rebellious Sinner, that none but sinners are pardoned, and

God is a gracious God, and therefore unto him let me go: With this he falls down at the Footstool of the Lord, and cries, O what shall I do! what shall I say unto thee? O thou Preserver of men! O let me live, I pray thee, in the Sight of my Lord! The Soul thus humbled, the Lord then lets in his sweet Voice of Mercy, and faith, Thou art my Son, my Love, and thy Sins are pardoned: These Words no sooner uttered, but he catcheth thereat, saying, Mercy, Lord? and a Son, Lord? and Love, Lord? and a Pardon, Lord? The Heart holds it self here, and will never away.

3. It flings the Weight of all its Occasions and Troubles, Guilt and Corrup-

tions, upon the Lord Jesus Christ: He that walks in Darkness, and hath no light, let him trust in the name of the Lord, and lay upon his God, Isa. 50.

10. That is, if a Man be in Extremity, hopelesls in Mifery, and walks in desperate Difcouragements, yea, and hath no Light of Comfort, let him trust in the name of the Lord, and lay upon his God: As when a Man cannot go of himself, he lays all the Weight of his Body upon another; so the Soul goes to a Christ, and lays all the Weight of itself upon Christ, and faith, I have no Comfort, O Lord, all my Discomforts I lay upon Christ, and I rely upon the Lord for comfort and consolation: Who is this, faith Solomon, that cometh up from the Wildernes, leaning upon her beloved? Cant. 8. 5.

The Party coming is the Church, the Wilderness is the Troubles and Vexations the Church meets withall, and the Beloved is the Lord Jesus Christ;

now the Church leans herself all upon her Husband, she walked along with him, but he bare all the Burden: Cast cast all your care upon him, faith Peter, for be careth for you, 1 Pet. 5. 7. The Original is, Hurl your care upon the Lord: The Lord will not thank you for carrying your Cares and Troubles about you, he requires that you hurl them upon him, for he careth for you.

4. It draws Vertue, and derives Power from the Lord Jesus Christ for Succour and Supplies, and here is the especial Life of Faith, it goes for Mercy, and Grace, and Comfort in Christ;

he knows 'tis to be had from him, and therefore he fetcheth all from him;

With joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of Salvation, Isa. 12. 3. The Fountain of Salvation is Christ, and all the Waters of Life, of Grace and mercy, are in Christ Jesus: Now it is not enough to let down the Bucket into the Well, but it must be drawn out also; it is not enough to come to Christ,

but we must draw the Water of Grace from Christ to our selves: They shall suck and be satisfied, faith Isaiah, with the breasts of her consolations, that they may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory, Isa. 66. 11.

The Church is compared to a Child, and the Breasts are the Promises of the Gospel; now the Elect must suck out, and be satisfied with it; the Word in the Original is, Exalt upon the Promise, and oppress the Promise: as the Oppression grinds the Face of a poor

Man; so with an holy Kind of Oppresion

The New Birth.

5. Faith leaves the Soul with the Promise: Yeas, notwithstanding all Delays, Denials, Discouragements from God, Faith brings on the Heart still, it will be sure to lie at the Gate, and keep the Soul with the Promise, whatever befalls it. Excellent is that Passage, Gen. 32. 26. when the Lord and Jacob were wrestling, Let me go, faith the Lord, I will leave thee to thy self; I care not what becomes of thee: No, I will not let thee go, until thou hast blessed me, faith Jacob: So the faithful Soul lays Hold upon the Lord for Mercy, Pardon, Power and Grace, and tho' the Lord seem to give him up to the Torment of Sin and Corruption, yet the Soul faith, Tho my Soul go down to Hell, I will hold here for Mercy, till the Lord comfort and pardon, and subdue graciously these cursed Corruptions, which I am not able to master my self. As it is with a Sun-Dial, the Needle is ever moving, and a Man may jog it this way and that way, yet it will never stand still, till it come to the North-point: so when the Lord leaves off a believing Heart with Frowns, and with the Expression of Displeasure, and the Soul turns to the Lord Christ, and will never leave till it go God-ward, and Christ-ward, and Grace-ward, and faith, Let the Lord do what he please, I will go no further, till he be pleased to shew Mercy. Thus the Soul once come to Christ, it will never away, but ever cleaves to the Promise, and is turned towards God and Christ, whatever befalls it.

Use 1. Poor Soul! art thou yet shut up in Unbelief? do them as the Prisoners in New gats, what lamentable Cry do they utter to every Passenger by? So do thou, look out from the Gates of Hell, and from under the Bars of Infidelity, and cry, that God will look on thee in Mercy, and say, Spare, Lord, a poor unbelieving Wretch, lock up under the Bars of Unbelief: good Lord, succour, and deliver in due Time. David could say, Let the sighing of Prisoners come up before thee, Psal. 79. 11. That indeed was meant of bodily Imprisonment, yet the Argument prevails much in Regard of the spiritual: Good Lord, let the sighing of Prisoners come up before thee; let the sighing of poor distrustful Souls come up before thy Majesty: O send Help from Heaven, and deliver the Soul of thy Servant from these wretched Dissemblers of Heart. Is there no Cause thus to pray? He that believeth not, faith our Saviour, is condemned already, John 3. 18. He is cast in Heaven and Earth, by the Law and Gospel, there is no Relief for him abiding in this Condition; lay this under thy Pillow, and say, How can I sleep, and be a condemned Man? What if God should take away my Life this Night? Alas! I never knew what it was to be enlightened, or wounded for Sin; I can commit Sin, and play with Sin, but I never knew what it was to be wounded for Sin; I never knew what it was to be zealous in a good Cause; O I confess I have no Faith at all! Beloved! would you yield this, then were they some Hopes that you might get out of this Condition and State; to have a Sense of its Want, to go to the Lord by Prayer, and to ask hearty Counsel of some faithful Minister, are the first Steps to obtain it. And to help a poor Wretch in this Case, O you that are gracious, go your Ways home, and pray for him: Brethren, let us leave preaching and hearing, and all of us fall to praying and mourning: In Truth, I condemn my own Soul, because I have not an Heart to mourn for him.
him; we reprove his Sin, and condemn him of his Sin; and we must do so: but where are the heart-blood Petitions that we put up for such a one? Where are the tears that we make for the flain of our People? You tender-hearted Mothers, and you tender-hearted Wives, if your Children or Husbands be in this woful Case, O mourn for them, let your Hearts break over them, and say, O wo is me for my Children!
O wo is me for that poor Husband of mine!

Use. 2. Or Secondly, Haft thou gotten Faith? then labour to husband this Grace well, and to improve it for thy best good. It is a marvellous shame, to see thine that are born to fair means, I mean the poor Saints of God, that have a Right and Title to Grace and Christ, and yet to live at such an under-rate: I would have you to live a bove the World, for the Lord doth not grudge his People of Comfort, but would have them live cheerfully, and have strong Consolations, and mighty Assurance of God's Love? Is there not Cause? Why, Faith, if it be right, will make the Life of a Christian most eafe, most comfortable. Unfaithful Souls sink in their Sorrows upon every Occasion, but Faith gives Ease to a Man in all his Conversation:
1. Because Faith hath a Skill, and a Kind of Slight to put over all Cares to another; We take up the Cross, but Faith hurles all the Care on Christ; an easie Matter it is to lie under the Burden, when another bears all the Weight of it. Look how it is with two Ferry-men, the one hales his Boat about the Shoar, and cannot get off; but tugs and pulls, and never puts her forth to the Tide: the other puts his Boat upon the Stream, and sets up his Sail and then he may sit still in his Boat; and the Wind will carry him whether he is to go: Just thus it is with a faithful Soul, and an Unbeliever; all the Care of the faithful Soul is to put himself upon the Stream of God's Providence, and to set up the Sail of Faith, and to take the Gale of God's Mercy and Providence, and so he goes on touchfully, because it is not he that carries him, but the Lord Jesus Christ:
Whereas every unfaithful Soul tugs and pulls at the Businefs, and can find neither Ease nor Success: Alas! he thinks by his own Wits and Power to do what he would. 2. Because Faith
sweetens all other Afflictions, even	hose that are most hard and full of Tediousnefs; and howsoever it appre-hends all Troubles and Afflictions, yet withal it apprehends the Faithfulness of God, ordering all for our good:
and that's the Reason why all our Troubles are digested comfortably, without any Harfnefs at all: When the Patient takes bitter Pills, if they be well fugared they go down the easier, and the Bitternefs never troubles him: So it is with Faith, it takes away the harfnefs of all Inconveniences, which are bitter in Pills themselves, but they are sweetened and fugared over by the Faith-fulnefs of God, for the Good of the Soul; and therefore it goes on cheerfully.

You will say, If Faith bring such Ease, how may a Man that hath Faith, improve it to have such Comfort by it? I answer, the Rules are Four:

1. Labour to gain some Evidence to thy own Soul, that thou haft a Title to the Promise: The Reason why poor Chriftians go drooping, and are overwhelmed with their Sins and Mi-feries, is, because they fee not their Title to Mercy, nor their Evidence of God's Love; To the word, and to the testimonies, Ia. 8. 20. Take one Evidence from the Word, 'tis as good as

The New Birth.
The New Birth.

a thousand; if thou hast but one Promise for thee, thou hast all in Truth, tho' all be not so fully and clearly perceived.

2. Labour to set an high Price on the Promises of God: One Promise, and the Sweetness of God's Mercy in Christ is better than all the Honours or Riches in the World; Prize these at this Rate, and thou canst not choose but find ease, and be contented therewith.

3. Labour to keep thy Promises ever at hand. What is it to me if I have a Thing in the House, if I have it not at my Need? If a Man ready to Iwoon and die, say, I have as good cordial Water as any in the World, but I know not where it is; he may swoon and die before he can find it; So when Misery comes, and thy Heart is surcharged, O then some Promise, some Comfort to bear up a poor fainting, drooping Soul, my Troubles are many, and I cannot bear them: Why, now Christ and a Promise would have done it; but thou hast thrown them in a Corner, and they are not to be found: Now for the Lord's Sake let me intreat thee be wise for thy poor Soul; there is many a fainting and anguish Fit and Qualm comes over the Heart of many a poor Christian; Persecutions without, and Sorrows and Corruptions within; there fore keep thy Cordials about thee, and be sure that thou hast them within Reach, take one, and bring another, and go singing to thy Grave, and to Heaven for ever.

4. Labour to drink an hearty draught of the Promise; bestow thy self upon the Promise every Hour, whenever thou dost find the Fit coming; and this is the Way to find Comfort: Eat, O friends, and drink ye abundantly, O wellbeloved, Cant. 5. 1. The Original is, in drinking drink. Ye cannot be drunken with the Spirit, as you may with wine, drink abundantly; were Dainties prepared, if an hunger-starved Man comes in, and takes only a Bit and away, he must needs go away an hungered: Think of it sadly, you faithful Saints of God; you may come now and then, and take a Snatch of the Promise, and then comes Fear, and Temptation, and Persecution, and all Quiet is gone again; it is your own Fault, Brethren, you come thirsty, and go away thirsty, you come discomfor ted, and so you go away. Many times it thus befals us Ministers; when we preach of Consolation, and when we pray, and confer, we think we are beyond all Trouble; but by and by we are full of Fears, and Troubles, and Sorrows, because we take not full Contentment in the Promise, we drink not a deep Draught of it: Of this take heed too; 1. Of cavilling and quarrelling with carnal Reason. 2. Of attending to the Particles of Satan's Temptations; if we listen to this Chat, he will make us forget all our Comfort.

CHAP. VII.

The growing of the Soul with Christ.

Hitherto of the first Part of the Soul's Implantation; to wit, of the putting of the Soul into Christ: We are now come to the Second, which is, the growing of the Soul with Christ. These two take up the Nature of ingrafting a Sinner into the Stock Christ Jesus. Now this growing together is accomplished by two Means.

1. By an Union of the Soul with Christ.
2. By
By a Conveyance of Sap or Sweetness (all the Treasures of Grace and Happiness) that is in Christ to the Soul.

Every Believer is joined unto Christ, and so joined or knit, that he becomes one Spirit. He is joined, as a Friend to a Friend, as a Father to a Child, as an Husband to a Wife, as a Graft to a Tree, as the Soul to a Body: So is Christ to a Believer, I live, not I, but the Lord Jesus liveth in me, Gal. 3. 10. Hence the Body of the Faithful is called Christ, 1 Cor. 12, 12.

So joined, that the Believer comes to be one Spirit with Christ; this Mystery is great, and beyond the Reach of that little Light I enjoy: Only I shall communicate what I conceive, in the following Conclusions. That the Spirit of God, the Third Person in the Trinity, doth really accompany the whole Word, but more especially the precious Promises of the Gospel. 2. The Spirit, accompanying the Promise of Grace and Salvation, doth therein, and thereby leave a supernatural Dint and Power, a spiritual, and over-powering Virtue upon the Soul, and thereby carries it, and brings it unto Christ: it is not so much any thing in the soul, as a spiritual assisting and moving, and working upon the soul, by virtue whereof it is moved and carried to the Lord Jesus Christ. 3. The Spirit of grace in the Promise working thus on the Heart, it causeth the Heart to close with the Promise, and with itself in the Promise, and this is to be one Spirit. As it is with the Moon (the Philosopher observes, that the ebbing and flowing of the Sea, is by virtue of the Moon) she flings her Beams into the Sea, and not being able to exhale as the Sun doth, she leaves them there, and goes away, and that draws them, and when they grow wet, they return back again; now the Sea ebbs and flows not from any Principle in it self, but by virtue of the Moon: so the Heart of a poor creature is like the Water, unable to move towards Heaven, but the Spirit of the Lord doth bring in its Beams, and leaves a supernatural virtue by them on the Soul, and thereby draws it to itself.

Use 1. Hence an Use of Instruction: This may shew us that the Sins of the Faithful, are grievous to the blessed Spirit; not only because of Mercies, Bonds and Engagements which the Believer hath received, but because a Man is come so near to Christ and the Spirit, to be one Spirit with Christ: should a Wife not only entertain a Whoremonger into the House, but also lodge him in the same Bed with her Husband, this were not to be endured; and wilt thou receive a Company of rafe Luffs, and that in the very Face and Sight of the Lord Jesus Christ? What? lodge an unclean Spirit, with the clean Spirit of the Lord! the Holy Ghost cannot endure this: Let no filthy communication come out of your mouth, Eph. 4. 29. What if there do? (you may say) what, a Christian and a Liar! a Christian and a Swearer! O grieve not the holy Spirit of God, because by it you are sealed unto the day of Redemption, Eph. 4. 30. The good Spirit of the Lord hath sealed you unto Redemption, and knit you unto himself, and will you rend your selves from him and grieve him? O grieve not the holy Spirit!

Use 2. For Examination; if thy heart be therefore estranged from such as walk exactly before God, because they are humble and faithful, it is an ill sign; when they are made one Spirit with Christ, wilt thou be of two Spirits with them? I confess a godly Heart will have his Fits and Excursions now and then, but all this while this is Poisón, and the Soul of a godly Man tees this, and is weary of it, and is marvellously burdened with it, and faith, O vile Wretch that I am, what would I have? and what is he that I cannot love him? Is it because the good good Spirit of the Lord is there? shall I resist the good Spirit of the Lord? and so commit the sin against the holy Ghost? away thou vile wretched Heart, I will love him: Thus the Soul labours and strives for that Exactness, and would fain have that Goodness which he sees in another.

2. As there is an Union with Christ, so there is a Conveyance of all spiritual grace from Christ, to all those that believe in him: If you would know the Tenor of this Covenant, and how Christ conveys these spiritual Graces unto us, it discovers itself in these Particulars: 1. There is fully enough in the Lord Jesus Christ for every faithful Soul. 2. As there is enough in Christ, so Christ doth supply or communicate whatsoever is most fit. 3. As the Lord doth communicate what is fit, so he doth preserve what doth bestow and communicate. 4. As the Lord doth preserve what he communicates, so he quickens the grace that he now doth preserve. 5. As the Lord quickens what he preserves, so he never leaves till he perfects what he quickens. 6. As the Lord perfects what he quickens, so in the End he crowns all the Grace he hath perfected: And now may I read your Covenant to you, you poor Saints of God, you live beggarly and basely here: Oh, if you have a Saviour you are made for ever; it is that which will maintain you, not only Christianly, but triumphantly; what you want, Christ hath, and what is fit, Christ will bestow; if you cannot keep it, he will preserve it for you; if you be sluggisb, he will quicken it in you; what would you have more? he will perfect what he quickens; and lastly, he will crown that he perfects, he will give you an immortal Crown of Glory for ever and ever.

Use Hence we see whether the Saints of God should go to fetch succour and supply of whatsoever Grace they want, yea Increase and Perfection of what they have already; Christ is made all in all to his Servants; why then, away to the Lord Jesus; he calls and invites, I counsel thee to buy of me eye-salve, Rev. 3. If thou be an accursed Man, buy of Christ Justification; it thou be a polluted Creature, buy of Christ Sanctification: With thee is the well-spring of life, faith David, and in thy light we shall only see light, Psal. 31. It is not with us, but with thee; it is not in our Heads, or Hearts, or Performances, 'tis only in Christ to be found, only from Christ to be fetched: I deny not but we should improve all Means, and use all Helps, but in the use of all, seek only to a Christ, with him is the well of life; away to Christ, Wildom, Righteousness, &c. all is in him, and there we must have them.

You will say, What are the Means to obtain these Graces from Christ? I answer, 1. Eye the Promise daily, and keep it within View. 2. Yield thyself, and give Way to the stroak of the Promise, and to the Power of the Spirit; for Instance, Imagine thy Heart begins to be pestered with vain Thoughts, or, with a proud, haughty Spirit, or some base Lusts and privy Haunts of Heart, how would you be rid of these? you must not quarrel and contend, and be discouraged; no, but eye the Promise, and hold fast thereupon, and lay, Lord, thou hast promised all Grace unto thy Servants, take therefore this Heart, and this mind, and these Affections, and let the Spirit frame them aright according to thine own good Will; by that Spirit of Wisdom, Lord, inform me; by that Spirit of Sanctification, Lord, cleanse me from all my Corruptions; by that Spirit of Grace, Lord, quicken and enable me to the Discharge of every holy Service: Thus carry thyself, and convey thy soul by the Power Power of the Spirit of the Lord, and thou shalt find thy Heart strengthened and succoured by the Virtue thereof upon all Occasions.

For Conclusion, to dart this Use deeper into your Hearts; If every Believer be joined with Christ, and from Christ there be a conveyance of all Spiritual Graces unto every Believer; then above all labour for a Christ in all Things, never let thy Heart be quieted, never let thy soul be contented until thou hast obtained Christ. Take a Malefactor, on whom Sentence is passed, and Execution to be administered, suggest to him how to be rich, how to be honoured, or how to be pardoned, he will tell you, Riches are good, and Honours are good, but 0 Pardon, or nothing: Ah, but then should you say, he must leave all for a Pardon; he will answer again, Take all, and give me a Pardon, that I may live, the in Poverty; that I may live, the in misery; so is with a poor believing soul, Every Man that hath committed sin, must suffer for sin, faith Justice; the Sentence is passed, Every man that believes not, is condemned already, faith our Saviour, John 3, 18. What would you have now? Thou sayst thou wouldest have a Pardon, but wouldest thou not have Riches? Alas! What is that to me, faith the soul, to be rich, and a Reprobate? honoured, and damned? let me be pardoned, tho impoverished; let me justified, tho debased, yea, tho I never see good day. Why, then labour for a Christ, for there is no other Way unto Heaven; get a broken Heart, get a believing Heart; but, O, above all, get a Christ to justify thee, get a Christ to save thee; if I could pray, like an Angel, could I hear and remember all the Sermon, could I confer as yet never Man spake, what is that to me, if I have not a Christ? I may go down to Hell for all that I have or do; yet take this along, and understand me aright, Christ is not only a Saviour of all his, but he is the God of all Grace, as he is the God of all pardoning, so he is the God of all purging and purifying unto the Soul of each Believer: Grace therefore is good, and Duties are good; seek for all, we should do so; perform all, we ought to do so; but, Oh, a Christ, a Christ, a Christ, in all, above all, more than all. Thus I have shewed the Way to the Lord Jesus, I have shewed you also how you may come to be implanted into the Lord Jesus; and now I leave you in the Hands of a Saviour, in the Bowels of a Redeemer; and I think I cannot leave you better.

Soli Deo Gloria.

O U have heard in my First Things the Doctrine, Precepts, and the Pattern of a Man in his Second, or New Birth: Now remains what follows all his Life; and therein is considerable,

1. His Privileges.

2. His Duties.

1. His Privileges, as he is now a Believer in Christ, are, Justification, Reconciliation, Adoption, Sanctification, Glorification.

Of these some of our Worthies have written largely; and among the rest, that watchful soul-rouzing, soul-searching Shepherd*: I shall not therefore dwell on them, but sum what he hath delivered in these following Sections.

Sect. II.

Of the first Privilege, viz. Justification.

The first Privilege which immediately follows our Union with Christ, is, Justification, which consists in these Particulars, Imputation of Christ's Righteousness, and Remission of Sin.

To prevent erroneous Misconceits, which spring from the contounding of Things that differ, understand, That a Man may be said to be justified, either intentionally, or, virtually, or, actually; either in God, or, in Christ, or, in himself.

1. Intentionally in God, i. e. in God's Purpose and Decree: This is from all Eternity, but this Decree and Intention doth not put any Thing into an Estate of actual Being, but in the Fulnes of Time.

2. Virtually in Christ: And this is from the Day of Christ's Passion, and in the Virtue of his Satisfaction; yet this intendeth no more, but that Satisfaction is made, and Remission purchased by the Blood of Christ.

3. Actually in himself: When a Man hath the Possession of Justification, immediately after his Union with the Lord Jesus Christ. Now this Justification considered, as it is a State of Favour, a Covenant State with God, which a Man at his first Believing is put into, is not reiterated, no more than a Wife; after that first Entrance into the Relation, is frequently made a Wife;
yet, the particular Acts of Pardon, and Imputation of Christ’s Righteousness, are continually by God communicated unto the Believer. In this Respect, this actual Justification, or, particular Acts of Pardon, hath its Degrees of Progression: The Beginning thereof is laid in our first Union and Incorporation into Christ; the Consummation of it is not till the Judge at the latter Day hath solemnly pronounced the Sentence of final Absolution, and so let us in full Possession of entire Remission: Between both these, there is a progressive Work of Justification, by the constant Acting of the Spirit, applying the Blood of Christ by the Hand of Faith, to the Quiet and Comfort of the Soul: The First we may term, initial Justification, the Second, progressive, the Last, perfection: The First is the Fruit of the First, and the preludial Assurance of the Last: The First is wrought and sealed in the first Sacrament, the Second is wrought and sealed in the second Sacrament; and both these Branches of sacramental Justification are, to us, the Preassurance of that complemental and perfective Justification, the Sentence whereof putteth an End to all Fears, changing our Faith and Hope into Fruition and full Possession.

It hath been commonly said by some of our best Divines, That Justification is transfaced in our first Union and Incorporation into Christ; at which Time it is conceived, That the Pardon of all Sin is sealed to the Believer at once. But I fear the misunderstanding of this Point (not untrue in itself, if not mistaken and misapprehended) hath laid the Ground upon which some build that unhappy Structure, which turneth the grace of God into wantonness; who knoweth not that Justification, in the proper Acceptation of the Word, according the Scripture Phrase, is, The Act of a Judge, pronouncing—a judicial Sentence, wherein he absolveth the Person of a Sinner from all Sin and Punishment due to him for Sin, and that for the alone Righteousness of the Surety Christ, freely imputed, and by Faith received of him. And according to this, I suppose we shall not err from the Truth, if we say, 1. That the main Work of Justification, is even as yet to us future, viz. at the great and last Day of Judgment, when we shall receive a final Quietus est and Discharge, and when God shall wipe away all Tears from our Eyes: And yet, 2. That in our first Union with Christ, there is a Work of Justification, viz. actual Imputation of Christ’s Righteousness, and actual Remission of what Sin for the present the Soul stands guilty of, at that Time when its first united to Christ. I dare not say, that Justification, quatenus it comprehends Imputation, and Remission of Sin, is one individual Act; or, that all sins past, present, and to come are remitted to the Believer at once; but this I say, That in our first Union, all our sins, past, and present, are actually pardoned; and this Favour received, is a Pledge of Assurance, That in Future also, by applying ourselves to Christ, we may and shall receive the Forgivenesses of our daily sins, and that at the last Day we shall at once be absolved from all Accusations and Charges laid in against us; and that Justification (besides those particular Acts of Pardon, and Imputation of Christ’s Righteousness) doth connote a State that the Subject at his first believing is put into, viz. A State of Grace, and Favour, and Reconciliation with God, for the imputed Righteousness of Christ, without Apostacy from it, either total or final.

O glo-
The Believers Privileges.

O glorious Privileedge! especially in these Respects:

1. By this a Sinner is righteous; a Wonder that may astonish Angels, for a Man accursed and sinful in himself, to be at that very instant blessed and righteous in another: Our own Duties, Works, and Reformation may make us at the best but less sinful, but this Righteousness makes a Sinner sinless.

2. By this a Sinner is righteous before the Judgment Seat of God: It is God that justifies, who shall condemn? Rom. 8. 32. Not Christ, he is our Advocate; not Sin, for Christ was made sin for us; not the Law, for Christ hath fulfilled the Law for us; not Satan, for God is his Judge, and if he have acquitted us, what can the Jailer do.

3. By this we have perfect Righteousness: We are as perfectly righteous, as Christ the righteous. Little children, let no man deceive you, be that doth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous. Indeed our own Righteousness, tho' it be the Fruit of the Spirit of Grace, is a blotted, stained Righteousness, very imperfect, and very little; but by this, the Faith of David, Peter, Paul, was not more precious than ours is, because we have the same Righteousness as they had: What sincere Soul but esteems of perfect Holiness more than of Heaven itself? O consider, we have it, in the Sense I now speak of, in the Lord Jesus.

4. By this we have continual Righteousness: Do we complain because we feel new sin, or old sins confessed, lamented, subdued, returning upon us again, and the Springs in the Bottom filling our Souls again, that we are weary of our selves? O but remember, this is not a Cistern, but a fountain open'd for us to wash in, Zech. 13. 1. As sin abounds, so grace, in this gift of Righteousness, abounds much more: The Lord hath changes of garment for us, Zech: 3. 4. by Means whereof there shall never enter into the Lord's Heart one hard Thought towards us, of casting us off, or of taking Revenge upon any new Occasion, or fall unto Sin, so as for final Destruction.

5. By this we have eternal Righteousness, that never can be lost: If the Lord should make us as perfectly righteous as once Adam was, or as the Angels in heaven are, we might be in Danger of losing this; but now the Lord hath put our Righteousness into a safer Hand, which never shall be lost: Christ hath obtained an eternal redemption for us, Heb. 9. 12. He hath made an End of Sin, and brought in an everlasting Righteousness. Dan. 9. 24:

6. By this we please God more, than if we had a perfect Righteousness in our selves: Do not say, This is a poor Righteousness, which is out of myself in another: Suppose it were in ourselves, such a Righteousness at best would be nothing but Man's Righteousness, but this is called, The righteousness of God, 2 Cor. 5. 21. Now what is angelical Righteousness, to the Righteousness of God? 'Tis but a Glow-worm be-† Quoad reatum.

‡ Non formali & intrinseca justitia, sed relativa, non quoad quantitatem, sed veritatem, at enim finita applicatio infinitae justitiae. fore the Sun; the Smell of Esau's Garments (the Robes of this Righteousness of the Sun of God) are of sweeter Odour than ours can be, or ever shall be.

7. By this we glorifie God exceedingly: Abraham believed, and gave glory unto God, Rom. 4. 20. So when we believe, we glorifie God, we advance his Mercy and free Grace, and triumph in it.

8. By this we have Peace in our Consciences: For Christ's Blood is sprinkled on them, Rom. 5. 1. and that cools the burning Torments of them: None of our Duties can pacifie Conscience, but as they carry us hither to this Righteousness; only if this Rainbow appear over our Heads, it is a certain sign of fair Weather, and that there shall be no more Deluge of Wrath to overwhelm us.

9. By this all Miseries are removed: When our Sins are pardoned, there is something like Sickness, Shame and Death, but they are not; The Inhabitants of Zion shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity, Isa. 33. 24. 'Tis no Sickness in a manner, nor Sorrow, nor Affliction, if the Venom, Sting, and Curse be taken away by Pardon of Sin, this is the Blessedness of all Believers. Blessed is he whose iniquity is forgiven, and whose sin is covered: Blessed is the man to whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, Psal. 32. 1, 2. Here's a Blessing pronounced, what should we do but believe it, and rejoice in it?

Sect. III.

Of the Second Privilege, viz. Reconciliation.

The second Privilege is Reconciliation: This I called the State or Condition which a Believer in his Justification is put into; and here I consider it as a Privilege, which in Order of Nature follows Pardon of Sin, as Pardon of Sin in Order of Nature follows Imputation of Christ's Righteousness: Being justified by faith, we have peace with God, Rom. 5. 1. (i. e.) Christ's Righteousness being imputed, and fine pardoned, we have Peace with God; not only Peace from God in our Consciences, but Peace with God in our Reconciliation to him, and in his Favour towards us; in our Imputation and Pardon the Lord accounts us just, in our Reconciliation the Lord accounts us Friends: Indeed our meritorious Reconciliation is by Christ's Death; as the King's Son, who procures his Father's Favour towards a Malefactor, who yet lies in cold Irons and knows it not; and this is before actual Pardon, or actual Being: But actual and efficacious Reconciliation, whereby we come to the Fruition and Possession of it, is, to my weak Conception, after Pardon of Sin. Now this Reconciliation conflicts in two Things: 1. In our Peace with God, whereby the Lord lays by all Acts of Hostility against us. 2. In the Love andavour of God: He now loves us not only with a Love of good Will, as in our Election, but with a Love of Complacency and Delight. O consider what a blessed state is this!

1. That God should be pacified with us after Anger, after Provocation by Sin, after such wrath, which like Fire hath consumed thousand Thouands, and burnt down to the Bottom of Hell, and is now, and ever shall be burning upon them in Hell.

2. That God should be pacified wholly and throughly, that there should be no confuming Fury left for us to feel: Fury is not in me, faith God, Isa. 27. 4. Indeed Briars and Thorns, i. e. obstinate Sinners, that prick and cut him to the very Heart by their Impenitency, he will burn them together
God out of Christ is a consuming Fire, but in Christ he is Love, 1 John 4. 16. And tho there may be fatherly Frowns, Chaftisements, Reproofs and Rods, tho he may for a Time hide his Face, shut out our Prayers, defer to fulfill Promises, yet all these are out of Love to us in some Sort, and we shall see it, and feel it so in the latter End.

3. That the Lord should be pacified eternally, never to cast us off again for any Sins or Miseries that we fall into: This is wonderful. Tho whom Men love, if their Love be abused, or if their Friends be in Affliction, they many Times forsake, but the Lord's Love and Favour is everlasting: The mountains may depart, and the hills be removed, but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my Peace be removed, faith the Lord, that hath mercy on thee, Isa. 54. 10. Nay, that which is something more, the abounding of our fin, is now the Occasion of the abounding of his Grace, Rom. 5. 20. Our very Wants and Miseries, are the very Objects and Occasions of his Bowels and tender Mercies: O what a Privilege is this! Did the Lord ever shew Mercy to the Angels that sinned? Did not one cast them out of Favour utterly? and yet that so many thousand Thoufands of fins should gush out of my Heart, and thy Heart that readeth, against the Mercy, Love and Kindness of our good God, and for all this he not be incenfed; that the Lord who poured out all his Anger upon his own Son for us, cannot now pour out, nay hath not one Drop left, tho he would, to pour out upon us for any one of our fins! Stand amazed ye Angels, and all the Host of Heaven at this!

4. That the Lord should be thus pacified with Enemies: A Man may be easily pacified with one that offends him but a little, but with an Enemy that strikes at his Life (as by every Sin we do at the living God, what can we say to this?)

5. That he should be pacified by such a wonderful Way as the Blood of Jesus Christ: This is such a Love, as one would think the infinite Wisdom of a blessed God could have devised no greater: It is enough to burst the Heart with Astonishment and Amazement, to think that the Party offended, who therefore had no Cause to seek Peace with us again, should find out such a Way of Peace as this: Wo to the World that despite this Peace.

6. That being thus pacified, we may come into God's Presence with Boldness at any Time, and ask what we will; I wonder what he can deny us, if he love us: This is the confidence that we have in him, That if we ask anything according to his will, he hear-th us, 1 John 5. 14.

7. That all Creatures should be at Peace with us: Thou shalt be in league with the fones of the field, and the beafts of the field shall be at peace with thee, Job 5. 23. As when the Captain of the Army is pacified, none of the soldiers must hurt or strike that Man; so no Creature must hurt us, nay all the Creatures that seem our Enemies, shall be forced to do us good: O death, where is now thy sting? O Grave, where is thy victory? 1 Cor. 15. 55. All our Wants will make us pray the more, our sorrows humble us the more, our Temptations make us exercise our Graces, our Spiritual Desertions make us long for Heaven, and to be with Christ; not only Paul and Apollos, and the world, and life, but death itself is ours, to do us good: We may now sleep, and none shall make us afraid, Job. 11. 19. We shall not be afraid of evil tidings, our hearts are fixed, trusting in the Lord, Pl. 112. 7.

Sect. IV.
Of the third Privilege, viz. Adoption.

The third Privilege is Adoption, which in Order of Nature follows Reconciliation; whereby the Lord accounts us Sons, and gives us the Spirit and Privilege of Sons: Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God, 1 John 3. 1. The Lord accounts us just in our Justification, Friends in our Reconciliation, Sons in our Adoption: Now this Adoption is either begun here in this Life, or perfected in the World to come, when we shall receive all the Privileges of Sons, not one accepted. For this latter Adoption, to wit, The Redemption of our bodies, Rom. 8. 23. we wait; but of the Former we speak, the Manner of which is thus:

1. God loves Jesus Christ with an unspeakable Love, as his only Son, and our elder Brother.

2. Hence when we are in Christ his Son, he loves us with the same Love as he doth his Son.

3. Hence the Lord accounts us Sons, having predestinated us unto the Adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will, Eph. 1. 5. O the Excellency of this Privilege! It appears in these Respects.

1. That the Lord should prize us as his Sons: A Man that hath Sons, esteems them more than all his Goods and Servants; so the Lord esteems of the poorest, unworthiest Believer, more than all his Household-stuff, more than of Heaven, Earth, and all the Glory of it, more than of all the Kings and great Men in the World.

2. That the Lord should take Care for us as for Sons: In Times of Want we are ready to question, What we shall eat or drink? how we shall live? Matth. 6. 31. O consider, are we the Sons of God? then he that feeds the Ravens, and clothes the lillies, will provide for us; or suppose we continue in the Want of temporal Things, why the Lord is therein plotting our eternal Good: No chastening for the present seemeth joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness, unto them which are exercised thereby, Heb. 12. 11.

3. That the Lord should love us as his Sons: Sometimes we think that the Lord loves us not, because we do not feel his Love, or know his Love; but do not we love our Sons, because whilsts they are young, they know not their Fathers, or because their Fathers are sometimes out of Sight, and have not them always in their Arms? Zion said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and the Lord hath forgotten me: Can a woman forget her suckling child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea they may forget, yet I will not forget thee, Is. 49. 14. 15. We may think, because we have so many sins, or so many Afflictions, that therefore the Lord loves us not; but judge we righteous ly? Have our Children no Love from us, because they are sick, and we keep them under a spare Diet? God knows our mire, and that we are but dust: He hath freely chosen us to be his Sons, and therefore, notwithstanding all our Sins and Sufferings, he loves us still: If he sees Ephraim bemoaning his stubbornness, as well as sickness, the Lord cries out, and cannot hold, Is Ephraim my dear Son? Is he a pleasant child? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still; therefore my bowels are troubled for him, I will surely have mercy upon follows Adoption: No sooner are we sons, but we receive the Image of our heavenly Father in Sanctification: The Manner of it is thus:

1. The Spirit works in us a Principle of spiritual Life: The Scripture sometimes calls it a Seed, John 3. 9; sometimes a Spring, or Fountain, John 4. 14. sometimes The Life of Christ, 2 Cor. 4. 10. 11. because it is conveyed unto us by the Spirit of Christ, by Means of our inseparable Union with Christ. What Name soever we give it, we may conceive it to be a new Faculty added unto those which are in Men by Nature, but an Improvement of those Abilities to work spiritually, as they did naturally before Regeneration: Hence it is that a regenerate Man in Scripture is said, To walk after the Spirit, Rom. 8. 1. To be led by the Spirit, To walk in the Spirit, Gal. 5. 18. 25.

2. From this Fountain springs all those Habits of spiritual Grace, which are severally distinguished by the Names of Faith, Hope, Love, &c. altho' to speak properly, they are but the Diversifications of that spiritual Principle within us, distinguished by those Names.

3. From these Habits of Grace abiding in us, ordinarily proceeds spiritual Motions and Operations according to those Habits. And as it is with Natural Habits, so it is with spiritual, they are much increased and strengthened by their Motions, Operations, i.e. by the Use and Exercise of them, and are as much weakened by Difuse, and Neglect of such an Exercise. I deny not but for all this, there is within us a woful, sinful Nature, cross and contrary unto Holiness, and leading us daily into Captivity: yet here's our Privilege, even Sanctification in Part; surely the

* Quando actus intermititur, habitus not amittitur.

Lord
The Believer's Privileges:

Lord hath given us another Nature, a new Nature: there is something else within us, which makes us wrestle against sin, and shall in Time prevail over all sin: A bruised reed shall be not break, and smoking flux shall be not quench'd, till he send forth judgment unto victory, Matth. 12. 10.

The Excellency of this Privilege appears in these Particulars:

1. This is our Glory, and Beauty, even Glorification begun: What greater Glory than to be like unto God? We are changed into the same image, from glory to glory, 2 Cor. 3. 18. Every Degree of Grace is Glory, and the Perfection of Glory in Heaven, consists chiefly in the Perfection of Grace.

2. This will give us abundance of sweet Peace. For whence comes Troubles, and Doubts of God's Favour and Love? Is it not from Guile, or Decay here? Is it not some Boldness to sin? Is it not our secret Disobedience to some known sin, continued in with secret Impenitency? On the other side, what was Paul's Rejoicing? Hesekiah's Peace? The one cried, That in all sincerity and simplicity he had his conversation among men; the other, Lord, remember, I have walked before thee uprightly: Not that this was the Ground of their Peace, for that is only free Grace in Christ, but the Means of their Peace, 1 Cor. 1. 12. Isa. 38. 2, 3. That is a cursed Peace, that is kept by looking to Christ, and yet loving our Lufts.

3. This will make us fit for God's Use: A filthy unclean Vessel is good for nothing, till cleansed; a Man must first purge himself, and then he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the Master's use, and prepared unto every good work, 2 Tim. 2. 21.

4. By this we have a sweet and comfortable Evidence of our Justification: Nor is this a running upon the Covenant of Works: Is not Sanctionification (the writing of the law in our hearts) a Privilege of the Covenant of Grace, as well as Justification? and can the evidencing of one Privilege by another, be a running upon the Covenant of Works? O consider, how many evangelical Promises are made to Persons invested with such Graces! as, of Poverty, Mourning, Meekness, &c. Matth. 5: 3, 4, 5, 6, and to what End? but that every one may take, and be assured of his Portion manifested particularly therein? surely none are justified, but they are sanctified; or if not sanctified, they are not justified.

Sect. VI.

Of the fifth Privilege, viz. Glorification:

The fifth Privilege, is, Glorification, which is the last, in execution, of God's eternal Purpose towards all his beloved and chosen ones: And hereby are we made Partakers of those endless and unutterable Joys, which neither eye hath seen, nor ear heard, nor the heart of man conceived: But of this you have several Sermons in my Last Things, enough to cheer up all those precious Hearts that have any Title to, or Interest in the Lord Jesus Christ: My Meaning therefore, is, to pats by those Privileges, and, Secondly, to come to the Duties, which gracious Spirits, in all faithful and thankful Obedience unto him that hath called them, are ready to fall upon.

Of DUTIES in General.

S E C T. I.

Of the Equity of Duties.

No sooner is the Soul translated into the State of Grace, and crowned with those glorious Privileges, but immediately it cries out, O Lord, what shall I now do for thee? How shall I now live to thee? Good Reason, the Soul should now give up herself to Christ, for she knows, he is not her own, but Christ's. Can there be such an Heart in any Christian, as now to cast off Duty, and continue in sin, because so much Grace hath abounded? O no! The Love of Christ constrains us; (faith the Apostle) because we thus judge, That he died for all, that they which live, should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them and rose again, 2 Cor. 5. 14, 15. There is a Principle of Love now in the Hearts of Believers, and this Love of Christ constrains them to live to Christ, Ye are now a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye should shew forth the praises of Christ, who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light, 1 Pet. 2. 9. What blessed Titles are these? and to what End? but that they who are so enobled by Christ, may now adore the Gospel of Christ, and shew forth the praises of him who hath called them? Dearly beloved, (faith the Apostle) I beseech you, as strangers and pilgrims, abstain now from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul, having your conversation honest among the Gentiles, that whereas they speak against you as evil doers, they may, by your good works which they shall behold, glorifie God in the day of visitation. But what Duties must they fall on? 1. Submit yourselves to every Ordinance of man for the Lord's sake. 2. Honour all men. 3. Love the brotherhood. 4. Fear God. 5. Honour the King. 6. Suffer wrongs, 1 Pet 2. 11, 12, 13, 17, 19. You have herein Christ for Example, and you must do all for Christ's Sake; or, if these Duties will not contain all, Zachary tells us, that being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, we must serve him without fear, in holiness, (in all the Duties of the first Table) and righteousness, (in all the Duties of the second Table) all the days of our life, Luke 1. 74, 75. Indeed, how can we love Christ, and neglect Duty to Christ? If you love me, faith Christ, keep my commandments, John 14. 15. the Love of Christ will constrain us to embrace his Commandments, as a most precious Treasure. I hope assuredly, that the God of Grace and Mercy will keep, by his Power to Salvation, all those Persons he doth deliver; and that he will sow the Seeds of Grace in their Hearts, that they may not sin presumingly. And I hope also, God will meet with such as are Disturbers of the Truth of Christ, and Peace of the Gospel by their base and vile Conversations: And I shall recommend to them the reading of the Epistle of Jude where they may see the fearful Wrath of God upon such Persons as abuse the Grace of God to sin. O let not the Love of Christ thus manifested, be so basely requited at your Hands, seeing the Lord hath so freely loved.

loved you, and given Christ to you, that you might be to the praise of the Glory of his Grace, in a Godly Christian Conversation, whereby unto you are ordained *. For you are God’s workmanship, faith the Apostle, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained, that you should walk in them, Eph. 2. 10. And I beseech you always to remember, That you cannot answer the free Love of God towards you any other way, but by shewing it in a fruitful conversation in the World; considering that one End of your Redemption, that Christ, who gave himself for you, might redeem you from all iniquity, and purify you unto himself, a peculiar people, zealous of good works, Tit. 2. 14. Here’s good Equity for Duties; the Soul cannot consider her Deliverance by the Blood of Christ, and by the Spirit of Christ, but she cries, What shall I render unto the Lord, for all his benefits towards me? I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord: I will pay my vows unto the Lord, now in the presence of all his People: O Lord, truly I am thy servant, I am thy servant, and the son of thy handmaid; thou hast loosed my bonds. For a Man that hath a Touch of the Loving-kindness of Christ, and therefore stands ready to speak forth the Praise of the Glory of his Grace, that hath so freely saved him, it must needs be an acceptable Service to God in Christ.

Sect. II.

Of the Insufficiency of Duties.

But alas, what are these Duties to my Lord? or what are these Duties in themselves?

1. All the Duties of Man, they are nothing at all unto God: Can a man be profitable unto God, as be that is wise can be be profitable unto himself? Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? Job 22. 2, 3. Or is it gain to him, that thou makest thy ways perfect? If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what receivest thou from thine hand? Job 35. 7. O my soul, thou hast said unto the Lord, Thou art my Lord: Psal. 16. 2. And what then? what Recompense to God for this Propriety? Nay, David is here non-pluss’d, My Goodness extendeth not to thee. All the Service of Men and Angels, tho they run parallel with the longest Lines of Eternity, are insufficient Recompense for my Soul’s Deliverance: When we have done all we can, still we must say, We are unprofitable servants, Luke 17. 10.

2. All the Duties of Man, as they are done by Man, are, in that Respect; sinful: What is Duty, but Man’s Tye to that which is due? or, if we follow the Latines, what is Duty, but Obedience commanded by God, to be performed by Man? Now wherein any Thing is to be done as of Man, therein is some Mixture of sin: All our righteousness is as filthy rags, as a menstruous cloth, Isa. 64. 6. How? All our righteousness? Is it true, whilst a Believer’s Heart is overcast with gross Vapours, and is more than ordinarily dull in Hearing, whilst it flies low and slow in praying, and is somewhat stiff, and untoward in fasting above measure, such Righteousness goes usually for sin; but if a Soul gets under full fail: if it be filled with a stiff Gale of the Spirit of Christ; if Floods of Meltings flow from it, if it cry mightily, be swift to hear, be greedy in fucking in Divine Truths, and be somewhat exact in observing practical righteous Means, to mourn and pray lustily, being helpt by the Spirit herein: Are such Prayers, Mournings, and other Divine Exercises in any sort sinful? Yes, as there is some Mixture of Man's Infirmity in them; and in our best Duties there is some such Mixture; for all our righteousness is as filthy rags, as menstruous clothes; I know who hath said it, and yet I know not wherein to contradict it. Christians may distinguish between that which is the Spirit's, in works after renovation, and the whole work after they have done it: Now altho' the Motions and Affiance of the Spirit be pure, holy, and without scum in the Spring, to wit, in itself; yet, by that Time these Motions and Affiance have passed through the channels of their Hearts, and have been mixed with their manifold corruptions in doing, even the whole Work thereby becomes polluted. With him agrees one truly orthodox; saying, Albeit our good Works are perfect, in respect of the Spirit, from whom they first flow, yet are they polluted, when they pass from us, because they run through our corrupted Hearts and Wills, as fair Water runs through a dirty channel. It this be so, that our best Recompense to Christ, for his Loves, be unprofitable to him, and sinful, as done by Man; What shall I say? How must I carry, faith the Soul, to my Redeemer?

Sect. III.

Of the Healing of Duties.

I Dare not obey; tho' all the Duties in the World are insufficient to recompense those Bowels of God's Mercies in Christ, I must not therefore cast away Duties. It is true, I cannot but fin in all I do, my best Duties (nakedly and barely considered in themselves) are tainted, poisioned, and mingled with fin*: But will it follow, That, because I cannot be more clean, therefore I must be more filthy than needs? Nay, O my Soul, it thou art married to that Bridegroom Christ, Duties and all Things else are clean to thee. The whole Filth and Dung of our Works, through Faith in Christ, is extruded by Christ, and being presenting the same, purged by himself alone, they are accepted with God: In this respect there is no healing of Duties, if we be in Christ. Certainly, that Fruit which comes from a Root of Faith, must needs be good Fruit; I believe, therefore I speak, faith the Psalmist, Psalm 116. 10. O my Soul, canst thou say thus? I believe, therefore I pray; I believe, therefore I sanctify the Lord's Day; I believe, therefore I do all Duties of Obedience: Thy Obedience then is the Fruit of Paradise, for it grows on the very Tree of Life. Christ is the Sun of righteousness that ariseth with healing in his wings. Mal. 4. 2. Christ is that Sun, that by his Heat of Love extracts all the Filth of Sin out of thy Duties performed; and so thy Duties are healed, the spiritual Part of them being presented by the Intercession of Christ, and the carnal Defects covered by the Righteousness of Christ, in whom the Father is always well pleased.

Sect. I.

Of the Manner of healing our Duties.

Now the Manner, O my Soul, how Christ heals our Duties, it is thus:

1. He takes our Persons, and carries them in to God the Father, in a most unperceivable Way to us; he knows, that if our Persons be not first accepted, our Duties cannot be accepted: Love

* Dr. Crisp in his Sermon on Phil. 3. 8. A known Adversary to the pure Doctrine of Duties me, and love my Duty; hate me, and hate my Duty. It is true, that in the Covenant of Works, God first accepted of the Work; and then of the Person; but in the Covenant of Grace, God first accepts of the Person, and then of the Work: Now therefore, that our Works (our Duties) may be accepted, Christ Jesus our great High Priest first takes our Person, and carries them into the Presence of God the Father: This was plainly shadowed out to us by that of the High Priest, who went into the holy of holiness, with the names of all the tribes upon his breast, Exod. 28. 29.

2. As Christ takes our Persons, and carries them into God the Father; so, when we perform Duty, he observes what Evil or Failing there is in that Duty, and draws it out before he presents it to God the Father: As a Child that would present his Father with a Pohe, he goes into the Garden, and gathers Flowers and Weeds together; but coming to his Mother, she picks out the Weeds, and binds up the Flowers by themselves, and so it is presented to the Father. Thus we go to Duty, and gather Weeds and Flowers together, but Christ comes, and picks out the Weeds, and so presents nothing but Flowers to God the Father: Who may abide the day of his coming (said the Prophet of Christ, Mal. 3, 2, 3, 4,) and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire and like fuller's soap: And he shall fit as a refiner and purifier of silver, and shall purifie the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the Lord an offering in righteousness; then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the Lord: Mark. Then shall their offerings be pleasant: Then? when? When he had purged their sacrifices and their offerings. Thus it was in the Days of his Flesh, and much more now.

3. As Christ takes away the Iniquity of our holy Things, so he observes what Good there is in any of our Duties, and with that he minglest his own Prayers, Intercessions, Incense, and presents all as one Work mingled together unto God the Father: And another Angel (viz. the Angel of the Covenant) came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer, and there was given to him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar, which was before the throne: And the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God, out of the Angel's hand, Rev. 8. 3, 4.

Sect. 2.

The Soul's Queries in this Case.

Quer. If this be so, O my Soul, what is thy Case? Are not most of thy Duties performed with many Failings, Infirmities, Hardness of Heart, Straitness of Spirit, distracting Thoughts? and is there any Healing for such a Duty as this?

Answ. O yes! For, 1. In every Duty we perform, there are two Things; there is the Sacrifice, and there is the Obedience in offering of the Sacrifice; the Sacrifice may be imperfect, and yet our Obedience in offering the Sacrifice may be perfect with Gospel Perfection. 2. God deals with our Duties as with our Persons; who he finds a great deal of Ungodliness in them, yet he imputes his Righteousness unto them, and so he justifies our Duties, which, in our Eyes, are most ungodly. This indeed is a Wonder; did we ever hear or read of any Seal, that, when it was set upon the Wax, would change the Wax into its own Mettal? Or, did we ever hear or read of any Stamp, that being set upon Brails, it would change the Brails into Silver; or, being set upon on Silver, it would change the Silver into Gold? O, but when Christ comes unto a Duty, and sets his own Stamp, and his own Righteousness upon a Duty, that which was brass before, i.e. full of Failings and much Unrighteousness, he changes it into Silver, into Gold; he only hath the Philosopher’s Stone (as I may to speake) and all that Christ toucheth, it presently turneth into Gold; he turns all our Duties into golden Duties, and so presents them unto God the Father.

Quer. 2. But how should I know that Christ thus takes my Duties and heals them, and mingles them with his own incense, and carries them in unto God the Father?

Anfw. Consider, didnst thou ever find a spiritual Fire come down (as it were) upon thy Heart in Duty, or after Duty? In the Time of the Old Testament, if they offered up a Sacrifice, and a material Fire came down from Heaven, and burnt up the Sacrifices to Ashes, it was a certain Testimony that the Sacrifice was accepted: Now in the Times of the Gospel, we must not expect material Fire to come down upon our Duties; but hath the Lord at any Time cau’d an inward and spiritual Fire to fall down upon thy Heart, warming thy Spirit in Duty? There the Lord speaks thus much to thee, That thy Sacrifices are turned into Ashes, and it is accepted by Jesus Christ.

Quer. 3. O but whence comes this Fire now in these Gospel Times?

Anfw. It flows from the Blood and Intercessions of Christ our Great High Priest; it is the Efficacy of his Blood, and Power of his glorious Intercession, that when thou feest any good in Duties, doth that very Instant prevail with God the Father for what thou feest: Say then, Do I now in this Ordinance, or in this Duty, feel my Heart warmed, or savagely affected? O I see, I am bound to believe, that the Lord Jesus who sits in Glory at the right Hand of God, now, now he remembers me a poor Worm on Earth; now I feel the Fruit of his Death, and Intercession in Heaven; now I feel his Spirit, Power, Grace, Comfort, Presence, Sweetness; now I taste, I drink, I enjoy, and am abundantly satisfied with his Rivers of Pleasures: And if this Presence of Christ be so sweet, what is himself then? O my Soul, if ever thou doest thus relish the Blood and Spirit of Christ upon thy Spirit in Duties, go thy way, and give Glory to God.

Sect. IV.

No resting in Duties.

And ye be wary, O my Soul: It was Luther’s Saying, Take heed not only of thy sins, but also of thy good Duties; they are apt (by reason of our Corruption) to bring Men into themselves, and this is very dangerous. Certainly a Man may not only exclude Christ from his Soul by gross sins, but by self-confidence; You are they which justify your selves, said Christ, to the Pharisees, Luke 16. 15. Take a profligate Man, what makes him drink, swear, cozen, game, whore? Is there no God to punish? Is there no Hell hot enough to torment? Are there no Plagues to confound him? Yes: Why sins he then? Oh! he prays to God for Forgiveness; he sorrows and repenteth in secret (as he faith) and this bears him out in his loud Pranks. Take a moral Man, he knows he hath his Failings, and his Sins, as the beast have, and is overtaken sometimes as the best are; Why doth he not remove these sins then? Why is he not more humbled under his sins? The Reason is, he constantly oblies Evening and Morning Prayer, and then he enjoys Q2 Forgive-
Of Duties in general.

Forgiveness for Failings, by which Course he hopes to make his Peace with God: And hence he finneth without Fear, and riseth out of his Fall into Sin without Sorrow; he maintains his sins by his Duties. Take a Professor, such a one as may be exceedingly troubled about his sins, as endeavours very much after Mourning, Repenting, Reforming, and others commend him for a diligent Christian, Do you not see how be mourns, and weeps, and prays? and now the Wind is over, the Tempest down, and there is a great Calm in his Soul, how comes he to this Quiet? Oh! his Afflictions were enlarged, he babbled reached so high, as to a very Proportion of Repentance, and Tears, and Sorrow, and Falling, &c. and this bath given him Ease, this bath took away the Burden, and laid his Soul at rest: O poor Soul, is this all the Remedy to rid thee of the Sting and Guilt of Sin? Hast thou no more Pantings, but only after Bitterness, Heaviness, Mourning, Melting, extraordinary Enlargements? Why then, let me tell thee, all thy Righteousness, tho it were more perfect than it is, is but a filthy rag, Isa. 64. 6. Couldst thou weep thy Heart out, should thy Heart melt like Wax, dissolve into Water; Couldst thou desire and pray till Heaven and Earth shok, till thou hadst worn thy Tongue to the Stumps; Couldst thou fast till thy Skin and Bones cleave together; Couldst thou promise and purpose with full Resolution to be better; couldst thou reform thy Heart, Head, Life, Tongue, thy Inner, all Sins; couldst thou live like an Angel, shine like a Sun, walk up and down the World like a distressed Pilgrim; couldst thou lie ten thousand Deaths, ly at the Fire back in Hell so many millions of Years as there be Piles of Gras on the Earth, or sands on the Sea-shore, or Stars in Heaven, or motes in the Sun; I tell thee, not one Spark of God's Wrath against thy sins, can be quenched by all these Duties, nor by any of these Sorrows or Tears *.

It was Ausin's Saying, tho it sounds harsh, that Repentance damns more than Sin; meaning, That thousands did perish by resting therein: It is not digging within ourselves, for Power to leave Sin, to be more holy, and humble, and religious, and conscientious, and to to think to work out ourselves in Time out of this State: The Words which the Prophet put into Israel's Mouth, if they would truly turn unto God, were these, Ashur shall not save us, we will not ride upon horses, Hos. 14. 2. q. d. We will trust no more to these outward Means, we will not save ourselves by our Graces, or Abilities.

But how shall any Man know that he rests in his Duties?

I answer by these Signs following †.

1. It is a Sign that a Man rests in his Duties, if he never found it a hard Matter to come out of his Duties: Examine, if thou never yet fawest, if thou canst not tell the Time when thou didst rest in Duties, and then didst groan to be delivered from these Intanglements, thou hast just Cause to fear.

2. It is a Sign that a Man rests in Duties, if he exceedingly prize the bare Performance of Duties; those Duties that carry thee out of thy self unto Christ, make thee to prize Christ: Now tell me, Doft thou glory in thy self? Doft thou say, Now I am somebody? I was before ignorant, forgetful, hard-hearted, but now I understand better, now I can sorrow for my sins, I can pray pray with some Life, now I have done very well. Alas poor Soul! if thou refeft here, if thou thus inhauffeft the Price of Duties, that thou beginn’ft to date on them, then do I pronounce from God, That thou doft reft in Duties: These things, faith Paul, I accounted gain (i.e. before his Conversion) but now I account them losl, Phil. 3. 8. This is the Reason why a child of God commonly after his Prayers doubts much of God’s Love towards him; whereas another Man that falls short of him, never to much as queftions his Estate: The First feeth much Rottenness and Vilenefs in his Deft Duties, and to adjudge they meanly of himself: But the Other is ignorant of any fuch Vilenefs, and therefore he prizeth and esteems highly of them.

3. It is a sign that a Man refts in his Duties, if he never came to be fenfible of their Poverty, and utter Emptiness of any Good in them. Didst thou never feel thy felf in this Manner? Oh I am as ignorant as any Beauf, as vile as any Devil; what a Nest and Litter of Sin and Rebellion works in my Heart? I once thought, at leaft, my Heart and Defires were good, but now I feel no Spiritual Life; O dead Heart, I am the pooreft, vileft, baflft and blindeft Creature that ever lived! If thou never feeleft thyfelf thus, thou never cameft out of thy Duties.

4. It is a sign that a Man refts in his Duties, if he gain no evangelical Righteousnefs by Duties i.e. if he prizeth not, defire not, delight not in Union with the Lord Jesus Christ; Hence a Child of God asks himfelf after Sermon, after Prayer, after Sacrament, What have I gained of Christ? Have I got more Knowledge of Christ? more admireing of the Lord Jesus Christ? On the contrary, a carnal Heart, that refts in his Duties, asketh only, What have I done? I thank God, faid the Pharifee, I am not as other men are; I faft twice in the week, I give tythes of all that I poffefs, Luke 18. 22. So I pray, and hear, and reform, and forrow for sin, therefore I think verily I shall be faved? No fuch Matter; let a Man have a Bucket of Gold, doth he think to get Water, becaufe he hath a Bucket; no, no, he muft let it down into the Well, and draw up Water with it: So muft thou let down all thy Duties into the Lord Jesus Chrift, and draw Life, and Light from his Fulnefs, otherwife, tho thy Duties be golden Duties, thou fhalt perifh without Chrift.

S E C T. V.

Of the Use and Ends of Duties.

AND cannot thou not, O my Soul, be faved by thy Duties? to what End wouldft thou pray, or hear, or forrow, or repent, or meditate, or examine, or confider? I anfwer, There are many Ends and Purpofts, for which Christians may, and muft perform Duties.

1. That herein, and hereby, they may exprefs their Obedience to God’s Will: Rejoyce evermore, pray without ceafing, in every thing give thanks, for this is the will of God in Chrift Jesus concerning you, faith the Apostle, 1 Thess. 5. 16, 17, 18. And this was the Ground of David’s Inference, Thou haft commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently: and what then? O that my ways were directed to keep thy Duties, Psal. 119. 4. 5.

2. That God the Father of our Lord Jesus Chrift may be honoured by the Performance of these Duties: Herein is my Father glorified, that you hear much Fruit, John 15. 8. And as the Apostle, Ye are a chosen generation, a royal Priest-hood, an holy Nation, a peculiar people, that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light; Abraham believed, and gave God glory, 1 Pet. 2. 9. So we should pray, and meditate, and hear, and all should tend to the Glory of God. Indeed, Hypocrites Aims are at other Ends, by giving alms, and praying, and fasting, that they may have glory of men: That they may be seen of men: That they may appear unto men, Matth. 6. 2. 5. 16. But the Child of God aims at the Glory of God. I confess, 'tis God's Grace to account of Man's Duty as his Glory, seeing it is so defective.

3. That Duties may be as Evidences of God's everlasting Love to them who are in Christ Jesus: They cannot fave, but they let the Soul into Christ, and follow, and accompany such a Man as shall be saved. We hear of some that boast of joys, Feeling, Gifts, Spirit, and Grace; but if they walk in the Commission of any one Sin, or in the Omission of any one known Duty, or in the slovenly ill-favoured Performance of duties, they can have no Assurance (say what they please) without flattering of themselves: If these things be in you, faith Peter, and abound, they will make you that you shall never be barren, or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ; and be that lacketh these things is blind: Wherefore, Brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure, 2 Pet. 1. 8. 9. 10. Duties bring you in to Christ, and are Evidences when you are in Christ, that the Lord and Mercy is yours, even as at the Sacrament, the Elements of Bread and Wine are outward signs to bring Christ and the Heart together; indeed the Heart must not rest in these signs, but when the Soul is let in to Christ, then Faith must let go the outward Elements, and close, and treat immediately with the Lord Jesus Christ. So Grace and Duties are inward signs, and whiles Men make use of them only, as signs and means to let them come in unto Christ, and their rejoicing is not in them, but in Christ; their Confidence is not pitcht upon them, but upon Christ; there is and will be no Danger at all in making such Use of signs; especially seeing in Nature, the Effect is a sign of the Cauze: Neither is it more derogatory to Free-grace, or to Christ's Honour, for God to make such Effects signs of our Union with him, than it was to make outward Signs of his Presence: 'Tis true, these are not full Testimonies without the Spirit of Christ.

4. That they that use and exercise Duties may obtain the Promises: Godliness is profitable unto all things, faith the Apostle, having the promises of the life that now is, and of that which is to come, 1 Tim. 4. 8. There are many Promises scattered up and down in the Word, and hereby it God be not a Debtor unto thee, yet he is to himself, and to his own Faithfulness. Reddis debita, nulli debens, cried Austin; Thou Lord payest debts, and owedst none; it was free for thee before thou hadst promised, whether to give me Heaven, or no: But now the Word is out of thy Mouth, I use Duties as Means, so I adhere only to thee, and to thy Faithfulness, who has promised. To prevent Mistake, Duties are considered in a double Relation: As Services, in respect of the Command; and As Means to obtain Blessings at God's Hands in Relation to his Promises. Now the Most in the World perform Duties as Acts of Obedience only, and so rest in the present Performance; but if we do them in Faith, we * shall have an Eye to the Promise, and look on Duties as Means to obtain some Mercy; yea, Salvation itself at God’s Hands, Phil. 2. 12. Rom. 10. 10. 2 Cor. 7. 10. 1 Pet. 1. 9.

But is not this to be saved by Duties?
No such Thing: For herein we speak not of Duties originally, or pre se, but instrumentally, and with relation to the Lord Jesus Christ; not as meritorious Causes, but as subordinate Means of our Salvation in the Name of Christ. The best of Duties carry not such Lucre, Beauty, and energetical Virtue in their own Faces and Natures; they are but mere empty Pits, and dry Channel, of themselves, tho’ never so curiously cut out, but Christ fills them (and as some desire Ministers to do) so I am willing for my Part to say and express thus much of Christ, that the People may clearly understand and remember so much, and be guided explicitly to the Fountain itself, Christ alone.

5. That these Duties may turn to our Comforts: Not so, as to put Confidence in them, to take Comfort from them as a Cuiae; that cannot be, for who can look upon any Thing he doth with that Boldnes? but as the Testimony of God’s eternal Love to us. Thus Hezekiah, not as a proud Pharisee, but as a thankful Acknowledger of what was in him, prayed. I beseech thee. O Lord, remember me, how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight, 2 Kings 20: 3. Some suppose, That such a Temptation as this might fall on Hezekiah, that when he had laboured to demolish all those Superstitions, and now became dangerously sick, that he had not done well; and therefore he comforts himself in his Heart, that he did those Things with a perfect Heart, not absolutely, but comparatively perfect: We may therefore take Comfort from Duties, not so as to rest in them, but so as to praise God thereby. ’Tis a good Way, nesciendo scire, in not knowing to know, that so we may praise God for them; and sciendo nescire, in knowing, not to know, that so we may be humble in our selves.

6. That others might receive good, and thereby be occasioned to glorifie God: These things are good, and profitable unto men, faith the Apostle, Tit. 3. 8. and, Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorifie your Father which is in Heaven, Matt. 5. 16. Christ doth not here encourage Vain-glory, but he propounds the true End of our visible Holiness; for Godliness being Light, it ought not, in suitable Duties, to be hid under a Bushel: My goodness extendeth not unto thee, but to the saints that are on the earth, and to the excellent, in whom is all my delight, Psal. 16. 2, 3. Jerome said of Austin, That he loved Christ dwelling in Austin; so ought we to walk, that others may love Christ dwelling in us. There’s an Exhortation to Wives, so to walk that their husbands may be won to the Lord, 1. Pet. 3. 1. Sweet Soul! it may be thou prayest for thy Husband, in
Of Duties in general.

7. That Duties may carry us to the Lord Jesus, the only Saviour; he alone is able to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, Heb. 7. 25. i.e. in the Use of the Means: Hear a Sermon to carry thee to the Lord Jesus: Fast and pray, and get a full Tide of Affections in them, * to carry thee to the Lord Jesus Christ i.e. to get a more Love of him, more Acquaintance with him, more Union in him, and Communion with him; use thy Duties, as Noah's Dove did her Wings, to carry thee to the Ark of the Lord Jesus Christ, where only there is Rest: If she had never used her Wings, she had fallen in the Waters; and if she had not returned to the Ark, she had found no Rest: So, if thou shalt use no Duties, but cast them all off, thou art sure to perish; and if they convey thee not to Christ, thou mayest lie down in Sorrow: Or as it is with a poor Man, that is to get over a great Water for a Treasure on the other side, tho he cannot fetch the Boat, he calls for it, and useth it, to carry him over to the Treasure: So Christ is in Heaven, and thou on Earth, he doth not come to thee, and thou canst not get to him, now call for a Boat; tho there is no Grace, no Good, no Salvation in a pithless Duty, yet use it to carry thee over to the Treasure, The Lord Jesus Christ: When thou comest to hear, say, Have over, Lord, by this Sermon; when thou comest to pray, say, Have over, Lord, by this Prayer to a Saviour: But this is the Milery of People, like foolish Lovers, when they are to woo for the Lady, they fall in Love with her Handmaid, that is only to lead them to her: So Men fall in love with, and dote upon their own Duties, and rest contented with the naked Performance of them, which are only Handmaids, to lead the Soul unto the Lord Jesus Christ.

8. That the Lord Christ may be exalted, and advanced by Duties. The main End of Duties, is the Glory of him who hath redeemed us with the Price of his Blood, and by the Power of his Spirit; this sets the Crown on his Head: Behold King Solomon, with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him, Cant. 3. 11. How many perform Duties, not to let the Crown on Christ's Head, but to let the Crown on their own Heads? So do Hypocrites, that seek their own Praise, and Credit and Profit; so do all, especially that do any Thing with a Conceit of merit, at God's Hands. Now this is the main End of right Obedience, that the Crown may be set on Christ's Head, that he who is King of Saints, may have the Honour given him, due to his kingly Office. In this Respect, I cannot blame them who blame others, for crying up, and magnifying Man's Works in their own Name. To say, That Christ is always supposed as Principal, is no sufficient Apology: For why only supposed? why not he named, as well as Duties and Righteousness? Certainly, it is not good Manners, to say no worse, to forget him, whilsts his poor Instruments are so highly remembred. Why Servants bring Presents from their Masters to any, they do not say, I believe such and such a Thing on you, but, My Master...

* See p. ibid.
Of Duties in general.

If he should take it on himself, he should go for an arrogant Fellow: nor will it save the Matter, when he is taxed for such Arrogancy, to say, My Master should have been sup- posed, when he gave no Hint of him. Methinks it were comely (faith the Author * rightly in this) in extolling Man's Righteousness, explicitly to ascribe all the Praise to the Glory of Christ, and his Grace: And I see not (faith † Another ingeniously) but that Ministers may be humbled, that they have pressed religious Duties, but not so as to set up Christ: and hereby People have been content with Duties, and Sacraments, tho no Christ in them, but as Vessels were to be of pure Gold in the Temple, so ought all our Duties to be of pure and meer Christ for Acceptation. Again, If Bernard said, He did not love to read Tully, because he could not read the Name of Christ there; how much rather may we say, That in many Sermons, in many a Man's Ministry, the Drift and End of all his preaching is not, that Christ may be advanced. And again, Let Christ be the Matter of our Righteousness and Comfort, more than he hath been; you know the Posts that were not sprinkled with Blood, were sure to be de- stroyed, and so are all those Persons and Duties that have not Christ upon them. How sweet is the Harmony of differ- ting Brethren? Methinks, I would not loose a shred of that Gold which both Authors (so strongly my Heart beats and pants after Unity) give out to be Weight, in the Ballance of the Sanctuary: It is observed by the form, that when the Church grew into Credit, then, Religio peperit diviti- as, & filia decoravit Matrem: I may as truly say, Christus peperit jussitiam, & filia decoravit Matrem: Just as if King should promote a Favourite, and then he should be so applauded for his Usefulness to the Subjects, that the King must be dethroned, and be crowned in his Place. In all Exigences, Wants and Extremities, how few Followers hath Christ himself? how rarely are Men sent to shelter themselves under the Shadow of his Wings? In the mean while, what hideous Out- crys for Prayers, Mournings, Fast- ings, &c. to help Men at a dead Lift? What sending and posting to them in Extremities, as if they kept a Court by themselves? For Christ is seldom heard of, at least not set up so high as to do all; and that this Righteousness is but meerly his ministring Ser- vant: What the Apostle said of him- self, I may as truly say of the best Righteousness best afflicted, What is Prayer, Mournings, Falling, Hearing, but Ministers by whom ye believed, and received Mercy? 1 Cor. 3: 5. And if but as Ministers at best, shall they be greater than the Lord? Let me not be mistaken, I intend no Derogation to Righteousness, but the bringing of it into its own Place, namely that it is to be used as that, where according to Christ's Di- rections we may meet with him, from whose Hands alone we may expect whatever we pant after, according to his will; reserving a Submission to be disposed of o- therwise, if he see fit. ‡ Again, It is not the Spiritualness, nor the Fervency in the Performance of Duties that carries it, but when Duties are performed as to the Lord, and for the Lord, and not to and for our selves. O my Soul, in respect of all these Ends, use and exercise Duties, and be sure of Christ in all, above all, more than all: O let Christ have the Crown set on his Head, give him all the Glory. Cast not away Duties, but cast them down at the Feet of Jesus Christ, as the twenty four Elders cast their Crowns, saying, Thou are worthy O Lord to receive glory, and honour, and Power: for thou hast created all things, all Duties, and for thy pleasure they are and were created, Rev. 4. 11.

Sect. VI.

Of the Saints Abilities, or Power to do Duties.

Object. But alas, how should I perform my Duty? by Nature I am dead, and except God give me an Heart and Strength, what can I do? Psal. 77, 10. There is no Power in my Hands, I am nothing in myself, and therefore till God come, or naked Christ come, I will sit down in Discouragements; let God do all, I see I have no Ability at all, &c.

Answ. What sayst thou, O my Soul? surely this is thine Infirmity; these Conclusions are ill drawn from a true Principle; it is true, all is of God, and by Nature I am dead: but it is ill urged in this Case, for that the Regenerate have in them a Seed, a spiritual Principle, a Power to do Good;

1. Because such are living, and all Life is a Power to act. 2. Else there is no specific Difference betwixt a Man regenerate and unregenerate, if both were still dead, and without Strength. 3. Grace is a renewing of that Image of God and Holiness which we lost in Adam, Eph. 4. 24. But that was a Power to do what God required, therefore so far as that Image is repaired, so far there is Power. 4. Else we should not have so much Benefit by the second Adam, as we had by the First; for the First would have communicated his Power to do good, and being corrupted, doth communicate Power to do sin; therefore much more by Christ have we a Life, a Power to do good in our Measure.

Object. It may be objected, Without me ye can do nothing.

Sol. The Meaning is, Except ye be implanted into me ye can do nothing; The Word (Cheris emou, without me) signifies, Separate from me, or apart from me; and intimateth this only, That till we are knit unto Christ, we are but dead and barren Branches; and to Christ explains himself, As the branch cannot bring forth fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine, no more can ye, except ye abide in me, John. 15. 5.

Object. It may be objected again, It is God that worketh both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

Sol. This denies not that the Saints have in them, A Seed, a Spring, a Principle of Life, a Power; but on the contrary, it affirms, That they have a Power, only that this Power is of God; We should work out our Salvation in Humility, not boasting in our own selves, for all is received of God: More fully, God is said, To work the will and the deed; 1. By giving a Principle of spiritual Life, habitual Grace, a renewed Frame of Heart. 2. By exciting and strengthening this Grace; and both these are ever afforded to the Saints, only the Latter is more or less, according to his Pleasure: So that in the worst Times a Believer hath Power to do good, tho not alike at all Times; and this Power we must use, and put forth our selves as we are able, or we cannot with Reason expect his Help. A Ship hath Instruments of Motion, tho not an internal Principle, and if the Mariner would have Help by the Winds, he must loose his Cables, and hoife his Sails; so must we, or else we may lie still.

Now
Of Duties in general.

Now that which we are to do, is,
1. To stir up ourselves; for God hath promised to meet us, and to reach out his hand to help us, if we be not wanting to our selves: It is certain, a godly Man cannot by his own Endeavours alone raise up his Soul, nor recover his Loss, tho he should lay Mountain upon Mountain, and pile Endeavours upon Endeavours; yet as Endeavours without God cannot, so God without Endeavours will not help us herein; and therefore labour we to quicken our selves, i.e. work upon our own Hearts, by our Understandings; as the striking of the Flint and Steel together begetteth fire, so the meeting of these two Faculties having an internal Life in them, do quicken the Soul. Thus we see David pleading with himself, sometimes chiding, Why art thou cast down, O my soul, and why art thou disquieted within me? Psal. 42.
5. Sometimes exciting himself to Duty, Praise the Lord O my Soul, and all that is within me praise his holy name, Psal. 103. 1. Sometimes comforting himself in God, Turn to thy rest O my soul, for God hath dealt bountifully with thee, Psal. 116. 7. It was an usual Thing for him to talk with himself, and he found so much good in this Way, that he puts all upon it, Commune with your own hearts upon your beds, and be still, Psal. 4. 4. The Understanding is to the Heart, as the Stomach to the Body, all is fed by it: Set therefore upon our Hearts with quickning Thoughts: For as rubbing and chafing the Hands with hot Oyls, is a Means to recover them when they are benumb’d; so the plying of the Heart with stirring Thoughts, and enforcing Arguments is a Means to revive it: And amongst all Thoughts, there are none more prevalent, than of Sin past, of Heaven, Hell, Eternity, Love of Christ, these are strong Cordials to cheer up the Spirits.
2. To fall on the Duty; for if we be doing, he will work with us, in us, and for us. Is it thus, O my Soul, that thy Heart is stirred, roused, revived? then set to thy Hands, idle Beggers must be whipped; he that will not work, must not eat: Remember, we have a Life in us if we be in Christ: and as we have a Life, to there is a never-failing Presence of the Spirit, to attend that Power which we have: If then we put forth our selves to that we are able, and as far as our Power extends, God will draw near to us. It is true, that which we want is out of our Reach, we are not able to make crooked Things to become straight, to lay those swelling Mountains of Corruption level, but yet we must set to the Work: Job24. could not with the Strength of Rams borns founding cast down the walls of Jericho, but yet he must set upon the Work: When the Midianites fall, there must be, The Sword of the Lord, and Gideon, Judg. 7. 18. The Father holdeth an Apple to the Child, the Child cannot reach, yet his short Arm must be put forth, and then the Father whose arm is long enough will reach it to him; we must be doing, and yet when all is done, our Hearts must learn habitually to say, Not I, but Christ in me: Let us still interest Christ in all we do, as the efficient-final Cause.

Of the Saints Delights in Duties.

My yoke is easy, and my burthen is light, faith Chrift, Matth. 11. 30. And that which makes it so, is, The Delights which the Saints have in God's Service: Psal. 119. 14. I have delighted in the way of thy Testi monies, faith David: I have? v. 16. yes, and I will delight in thy statutes, R 2 v. 24.
Of Duties in general.

v. 24. I will? yes, and Thy Testimony are my Delight: They are? yes, and v. 47. My delight shall be in thy Commandments: They shall be? how long? even to Perpetuity itself; v. 117. I will delight continually in thy Statutes. These are the Strings David beats upon, and they make heavenly Musick: Musick even hearing him in the midst of his Sorrows; v. 143. Trouble and anguish are upon me, yet are thy Commandments my delight; and v. 92. Unless thy law had been my delight, I should have perished in my Affliction.

Now the Reason why God’s People find such Delight in Duties, is, 1. Because in Duties they come to see the Face of God in Christ: Hence Duties are called, The Face or Presence of God; The Worship of the Jews was called, An appearing before God, Exod. 23. 17. David breathes out his Desires in the same Expression, When shall I come and appear before God, Psal. 52. 2. The Queen of Sheba counted it a high Favour to stand before Solomon: What high Favour then is this to stand before Jesus Christ, and to hear Wisdom itself speak to our Souls? 2. Because in Duties they have Converses, and Communion with God, who is the God of all Coniodation; and with the Spirit of God, who is called the Comforter: Now as a Man that walks amongst Perfumes, must needs smell of the Perfume; so they that converse with the God of all Joy, must needs be filled with all Joy: and therefore David calls God, His exceeding Joy, Psal. 43. 4. The Saints look upon Duties (the Word, Sacraments, Prayers, &c.) as Bridges to give them a Passage to God, as Boats to carry them into the Bosom of Christ, as Means to bring them into more intimate Communion with their heavenly Father, and therefore they are so much taken with them. When they go to the Word, they go as one goes to hear News of a Friend; when they go to pray, they go to talk with a Friend; when they go to read, they go to read a Letter from a Friend; when they go to receive, they go to sup with a Friend; They look upon Duties and Ordinances, as those things whereby they have to do with God and Christ, and therefore are Duties so precious. Indeed, to them who have to do with nothing but Duty in Duty, but Prayer in Prayer, but hearing in hearing, to them Duties are dead and dry, and spiritless Things; but they that have to do with God and Christ in Duty, to them Duties are passing sweet and precious. This seems a Riddle to unregenerate Men, they wonder what the Saints find in Duties, where the Sweetness, what the Comfort, what secret golden Mines they find in these Diggings, when themselves find Nothing but burdensome Stones and Clay: Oh the Saints meet with Christ in Duties, and therefore they cannot but find great Treasure: David’s Soul was as hire, not for a Kingdom, but for God, for the living God, Psal. 42. 2. It is the highest Reward, the very Wages which the Saints look for in Duties, to find God in them; Blessed is the man whom thou choost, and caus’st to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts; we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple, Psal. 65. 2.

A good Caveat in these Days, when so many do cry down Duties: What, my Brethren, shall we look upon that as our Burden, which is our Delight? our Bondage, which is our Privilege? What is the Happiness of a glorified Saint, but that he is always under the Line of Love, ever in the Contemplation of, and Converses with God? and shall
Of Duties in general.

Shall that be thought our Burthen here, which is our Glory hereafter? Take heed of this; take heed ye do not think it an Hell, a Pain, a Vexation to be in God-approaching, and Christ-met Duties. I know Weariness may be upon the Flesh, there are Weaknesses and Distempers there, but chide them away, entertain them not; number it among your choicest Privileges, Comforts, Delights, to converse with God in Christ; consider if there be an Heaven, it is the very Presence of this God in Christ. Hence they who meet with God in Duty, usually find their Hearts sweetly refreshed, as if Heaven were in them, For in thy presence there is fulness of joy, and at thy right hand are pleasures for evermore, Psal. 16. 11.

Object. 1. But if there be such Delight in Duties, what is the Reason that wicked Men account it a Weariness, and Burthen, and Snuff at it: Behold, what a weariness is it, and ye have suffed at it, faith the Lord, Mal. 1. 13.

Answ. A wicked Man cannot delight in God's Service, because it above his capacity: While he is at Duty, he is like a Fish out of his Element; the Duty is heavenly and spiritual, but he is worldly and natural, no wonder therefore he delights not in it. But more particularly, a wicked Man delights not in Duties,

1. Because of his Ignorance of the Worth and Excellencies of Duties, he cannot possibly delight in what he knows not: so much as we know, so much we desire and delight, and no more.

2. Because of his Infidelity: Faith is the main Organ of comfort, and therefore no wonder, as it was said of the Jews, if the word preached do not profit him, not being mixed with faith in him that heard it.

3. Because of the Absence of the all-feeling and quickning Spirit: It is th Spirit that quickneth, the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I speak to you are Spirit and life, John 6. 63. As the Body is dead without the Spirit, so Duties, without Christ's quickning Spirit, are dead and lifeless.

Object. 2. But if there be such Delight in Duties, what is the Reason that the Saints themselves do miss of their Comforts in Duties.

Answ. I answer, 1. There are none of God's People but they do, sometimes or other, find comfort, either in Duties, or from Duties. 2. If at any Time they miss of comfort, it is because they do not meet with God, whom they came to converse withal: As when a Man goes to meet with a Friend, and meets him not, he comes away faddled in his Spirit; so when a Child of God comes to some Duty, hoping to enjoy sweet Communion with God in it, and then fails of his Expectation, this must needs fill him full of sadness. It was an excellent speech of Bernard, Nunquam abs te recedo Domine, sine te; I never go from God without God. Happy Christian, that when he goes to converse with God in some Duty, can say, I never go from God without God; I never go to God, but I meet with God; and I never go from God, but I carry God with me.

Object. 3. But if no Comfort, no Delight without God in our Duties, What then is my Cafe, that have no sense; no feeling of God's Presence in Duties? When I have done all I can, methinks I cannot find God, I cannot meet with Christ.

Answ. I answer, Hast thou indeed no sense of God's Presence, and yet hast thou a sense of God's want? It is good then to observe the different Effects of God's Presence, or else thou mayst wrong God, as well as thyself;
Of Duties in general.

to say he was not with thee, when yet he was: As, 1. There are manifest and evident Fruits of God's Presence in Duties; as, Much Liberty of Spirit, much Joy, much Peace, Assurance of Faith. 2. There are more inward and revered Fruits of his Presence; as, Sense of Want, sorrow for Want, Desire of Enjoyment, Willingness unto further Duties, to find that which we want in some other: In the former, God is with us, and we know he is with us; in the latter God is with us, and we know not so much: This was the case of the two Disciples going to Emmaus, Their eyes were holden, that they could not know Christ, Luke 24. 16. yet afterwards when they did know him, they remembered, that they had sufficient Evidence of his Presence, even when they knew him not. Did not our hearts burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and opened to us the Scriptures? Luke 24. 32. Now whence was that Fire, but from the Spirit of Christ conveyed in his Word.

Object. 4. But what is the Reason that God's People do sometimes miss of God's comfortable Presence in Duties?

Answ. I answer, They miss of God's comfortable Presence, 1. Because, it may be, they bring not at all Vessels to hold the Consolations of God; I mean, no Hunger after God's Presence in the Ordinance: Or, 2. Because they bring Vessels so little, and so narrow-mouthed, that they will hold but very little Water; I mean, they bring so little Hunger after God, that God will not vouchsafe to satisfy it: Or, 3. Because they bring their ordinary Hearts, their carnal and worldly Hearts to heavenly and spiritual Duties, Hearts unsuitable to the Duties, Hearts insensible of the Duties, Thus a Man finds no Sweetness in his Meat; the Reason is not, Because his Meat is unsavoury, but be-
Of Duties in general.

SECT. VIII.

Of the essential Requisites in Duties.

But what are they we call Duties? or what are those essential Requisites (O my soul) in Duties? Many by Duties intend nothing but that which is external and sensible, as coming to the Church, and receiving of Sacraments, &c.

I answer, These are like Clothes upon a dead Man, that cannot warm him, because there is no Life within: The Soul of all Duties is that which is internal, or essential; in which respect three Ingredients are necessary, viz.

That they be From God.

Through God.

To God.

1. From God: It is of the very Essence of Duty, that it be commanded by God. Hence in one Chapter we read thirteen several Times, I am the Lord, Lev. 19. g. d. such and such Commands I enjoyn you: Would you know the Grounds? I am the Lord, a God of sovereign Power and Authority, and my Will it is that such Duties be done. Look to this, O my soul in thy Duties, know the Commands, and do them, because they are commanded: If thou dost them, and yet knowest not that God commands them, this is no true Obedience; or if thou knowest they are commanded, but yet dost them not because they are commanded, or in conscience to his Command, neither is this Obedience to God. In all Duties rightly performed, there must be a Knowledge of, and an Eye to the Will of our God, Rom. 12. 2. Eph. 5. 17.

2. Through God, i.e. 1. Through the Spirit, who doth spiritualize them. 2. Through Christ who presents them, and makes them acceptable to God.

(1.) Through the Spirit of God:

Now the Spirit works on our Spirits, stirs up the regenerate Part to the Performance of our Duties: and therefore look how much there is of the inner Man, of the regenerate Part, of the Holy Spirit in Duty, so far it is sanctified, so far it is accepted, and no further. God is my witness, saith Paul, whom I serve with my Spirit, in the gospel of his Son: In every service we perform, our Spirit stirred up by God's Spirit, must needs have a Hand in it, or it is, but the Body and Carcase of a right Service: The Soul, Will, and Affections, must go together with our Duties (that I mean by our Spirit) or the Vitals are wanting. Ex. gr. If a Man come to confess his sins, and yet flights them inwardly in his Heart; if a Man pray for Reconciliation with God, and yet have no longing, and fighting in his Heart after it; if he earnestly ask Grace, or the Spirit of Mortification, and yet his Heart doth not inwardly seek it, now he prays not in the Spirit, and therefore God will not accept it; For God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in Spirit, and in Truth, John 4. 24. In Spirit, i.e. not only in the Understanding and Mind (Prayer is not a Work of Wit or of Memory) but also in Will and Affections; when all within us is opened, and explicate, and expos'd to the View of the Lord; when we call in all our Thoughts and Affections, and recollect them together, as the Lines in the Center, or as the fun-beams in a Burning-glass, That makes Prayer to be hot and fervent; whereas otherwise, it is but a cold and dissipating Thing, that hath no strength nor efficacy in it.

Quest. If this Spiritualness in Duties be so necessary, how is that the Saints have so much of Earth and Flesh ordinarily in their Duties?

Answer. I answer, In every regenerate
Of Duties in general.

Rate Man there is both Flesh and Spirit; It may be the Flesh lies uppermost, and the Spirit lies in the Bottom, so that a Man, tho a Saint, may hear carnally, receive carnally, pray carnally, that is, when the Flesh hath gotten upper-hand, as in some Fits it may, when the Mind is filled with worldly Sorrow, worldly Rejoicing, and worldly Desires; such Duties the Lord regards not, be the man never so holy: But if the regenerate Part be acted and stirred up by God's Spirit, and the Flesh, that always hinder, be removed by the same Spirit, then are the Saints able to do their Duties to God in Christ Jesus spiritually.

2. Through Christ: For Christ perfects, perfumes, and presents our Duties to his heavenly Father; as Duties come from us, they favour of Flesh, but the Angel of the Covenant mingled with them, and so be offers them upon the golden altar which is before the throne, Rev. 8. 3. Here is sweet Comfort, O my Soul, What tho the Duties are weak, and cold, and confus'd, full of Distempers and Damps? yet, through Christ they are fortify'd, and enlivened with his pacifying perfection, and intercessory Spirit: Through Christ they are perfum'd with the precious O'dours of his fresh bleeding Merits, and blessed Mediation, and so they are made acceptable to God, that he may receive them, that he may not refuse and reject them.

Observe here, a double Intercellor: One is the Spirit, that helps our infirmities. The other is Christ, that makes them acceptable to God.

3. To God; i. e. to set forth his Glory, and free Grace; for as his Names is blasphemed when we walk in Wickedness, so it is glorified in doing our Duties: This is the End of all our Duties, indeed of all our Doings.

Whether ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God, 1 Cor. 10. 31. One Duty sanctifying Christ and Free-grace in the Heart, is more than a Thousand. Young Christians it may be do more Works, but not as Works of Grace; the more evangelical our Works are, and the more to God (for that is the End of the Gospel, to honour Christ and Free-grace) the better they are: We are of the Circumcision, who rejoice in the Lord Jesus, worship God in the spirit, and have no confidence in the flesh, Phil. 3. 3.

Sect. IX.

Of the Kinds of Duties in several Divisions.

These Duties, some have distributed, according to their several Objects, God, our Neighbour, and ourselves: 1. The Lord claims our Love, Fear, Honour, and Obedience. 2. Our Neighbour claims our Duty, Courtesy, Bounty. And for ourselves, we must, 1. Instruct the Understanding: 2. Bridle the Will: 3. Moderate the Affections. Others, in Retribution to Christ, give us another Scheme of such Duties, as they call mere Gospel-Duties. So it is our Duty, 1. To think and mufe much on Christ, and upon his Loves towards us. 2. To speak much of Christ, and to commend him to others: When the Spouse was asked, What be Beloved was above others? Cant. 5. 9. 16. she sets him forth in every Part of him, and concludes with this, He is altogether lovely. 3. To be oft in the Company of Christ, and to grow up thereby in a familiar Acquaintance with him. Now Christ is with us here, but these two Ways, Either, in his Ordinances, or, his Providences, by his Holy Spirit: So, that to be oft in Christ's Company, is to be much in his Word, in Prayer, in
Of Duties in general.

in Sacraments, in Christian Communication, in Meditation, in Examination of our Hearts, in his Providences of Mercies, Crosses and Trials. 4. To do much for Christ, and that willingly; John 5. 3. This is love indeed to keep his commandments, and those are not grievous. 5. To suffer and endure any Evil for Christ; What tell you me (faith Paul, Acts 21. 13. ) of bonds and imprisonments? I am ready, not only to be bound, but to die for the sake of Christ at Jerusalem. Rom. 8. 36. My life is not dear to me, that I may finish my course with joy: For thy sake we are killed all the day long. No question these Heads will include all sorts of Duties: But the Method I shall prosecute (wherein I desire to confound Duties, Ordinances and Means, whereby a Christian walks on in the holy Path) I have otherwise digested thus.

The Duties of a Christian are either of the first Kind, as Watchfulness.

- Secret Ordinances, as
  - only to Private Ordinances, either
  - Publick Ordinances, as Jointly to all three, and they are either Ordinary, as

  - Praying.
  - Reading.
  - Suffering.
  - Extraordinary, as

Object. It may be objected, That in this Analysis, there is not that express mention of Christ; and the Reason why some vilifie Duties, is because the very Name of Christ is not in them.

Sol. But I answer, 1. If the Name be wanting, yet Christ is not. 2. In the opening of them, we shall find the very Name of Christ usually, frequently; only, observe by the Way, I have heard of many that have stood much, in appearance for Jesus Christ, so that they would bow, and do homage to the very Sound and Syllables of his Name; and yet none more Enemies unto Christ than they, being the very Limbs of Antichrist: Many (faith Christ, Mat. 7. 22, 23, 24, 25. ) will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name, and in thy name cast out devils, and in thy name have done many wonderful works? (as if the Name of Christ had been a Spell? ) And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you; depart from me, ye that work iniquity; and thereupon he concludes, that he only is a wise Man, and builds upon the Rock, who hears Christ's Sayings, and doth them. Hence learn, O my Soul, that he that preseth to the Practice of the Word of Christ, he preacheth Christ, he sets up Christ, though he do not directly name Christ, or tho his Text be not literally of Christ; even as a Man may have no other Subject of his Sermon but Christ, and yet betray Christ. Thus much of Duties in general.

CHAPTER III.

Of DUTIES in Particular.

SECTION I.

Of the Nature of Watchfulness.

Watchfulness is the first and principal Help to all Exercises of Religion; it is the Eye to see them all well done and used, and therefore we set it in the Front of all Duties: We are to watch unto Prayer, Eph. 6. 18. and we are to watch unto hearing, Luke 8. 18. and we are to watch unto Fasting, Matth. 6. 18. and we are to watch to Alms giving, Matth. 6. 1. and we are to watch in all things, 2 Tim. 4. 5.

Now for our better Direction in the Exercise of this Duty, observe we the Nature.

Objects.
Manner of it.

For the Nature of it: Watchfulness is a continual, careful observing of our Ways in all the Passages and Turnings of our Life, that we may keep close to the written Word of God. Keep thy heart in all diligence, Prov. 4. 23. I said, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue, Pial. 39. 1. Wherewith shall a young man cleanse his way; by taking heed thereto, according to thy word, Pial. 119. 9.

SECTION II.

Of the Objects of Watchfulness.

The Object of our Watch is either,
1. Evil Works, or sin.
2. Good Works, or Duties, or any Thing, in its own Being, good.
3. Watch we must over sin.

More general, { Original sin, or, corrupt Nature.
More special, as, { Calling.
Sins of our { Constitution.
2. Watch we must over any Thing, in its own Being, good; and herein if we look for the adequate Object, including every Thing that ought to be watched,

It is either { Hearts, Tongues, which Actions, howsoever good in themselves, yet, if we watch not, they will soon contract Evil.

SECTION III.

Of the Manner of Watchfulness over Sin Original.

That we may watch over Sin Original, or that inward Corruption we carry about us, observe we these Rules:

1. Let us take Matter and Motives to humble our Souls under the sight and sense of this inherent Pollution. And to that Purpose, consider we the pious Complaints of the holiest Saints against it; O wretched man that I am, (saih Paul, Rom. 7. 24.) who shall deliver me from the body of this death? Behold, I was shapen in iniquity, (said David, Pial. 51. 5.) and in sin did my mother conceive me: Did not God in Christ accept of our complaining, striving, grieving, and hating this, how could we find any Comfort?

2. Let us pray against it, that the it be in us, yet it may not hurt us, nor be be imputed to us: That God would give us his Spirit to bridle our Corruption, and especially that he would give us the Spirit of Sanctification, that he would cleanse us from this Filth more and more, that he would seal the Fountain, and at last dry it up.

3. Let us strive after contrary Holiness, and endeavour the Reformation of our Natures and Lives; Put we off the old man, which is corrupt, according to the deceitful lusts, and be we renewed in the Spirit of our mind, Eph. 4. 22, 23.

4. Let us consider the Promises of Remission, and those Privileges which the Saints have in the Blood of Christ; and let us actuate and exercise our Faith in respect of such Promises: I knew that thou wouldst deal treacherously (aith God) and that thou woulft call a transgresser from the womb; yet, for my name’s sake, I will defer mine anger, and for my praise, I will refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off, Isa. 48. 8, 9.

Sect. IV.

Of the Manner of Watchfulness over Sins Actual.

That we may watch over actual Sins, observe we these Directions:

1. Avoid we all Occasions of Evil: Be afraid not only of the Fire and Flame, but of the very smoak of sin: it is dangerous to approach near the Whirl-pit, or, to play about the Hole of the Asp, or the Den of the Cokatrice; and therefore prayed David, Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity, Psal. 119. 37. not my Heart only from affecting it, but my Eyes also from beholding it: There is a shutting of the Eyes from beholding Evil, brought in, amongst other Duties, by the Prophet Isaiah, ch. 33. 15, 16, to which is affixed this Promise, that such a one shall dwell on high, his place of defence shall be the munition of rocks.

2. Refist we the Temptations of Sin: It may be, notwithstanding of all our care, Temptations will offer themselves, and urge us to Evil, but then we must constantly resist, and this is Praise-worthy; if a Man keep himself sober, when he cannot come to Wine, or strong Drink, it is nothing; but for a Man to be careful not to break the Bounds of Sobriety, when he shall be in Place where Wine is plenty, and no Restraint of it, and where company will be urging him to take more than is meet, this is true Temperance indeed: If a Man live chaste, when he wants his lewd company, it is nothing; but for a Joseph, (sued and fought to by his Mistres, yea, urged and solicited Day after Day to condescend to her adulterous Desires) to refuse then, and to choose rather Loss of present Liberty by not sinning, than to gain further Preferment by consenting to Sin, this is true Chastity indeed. Away then with those idle Apologies, I was urged to sin, I was provoked to Leudness, &c. Neither Man nor Devil can compel you to sin, unless you will your own self:

† The Devil may persuade, intice, suggest, and provoke, but he cannot inforce nor constrain; nor, unless your own Hearts give content, can he cause you to sin.

3. Confess we our sins, mourn we for sin, and especially labour we for Hatred of sin; The fear of the Lord is to hate evil, Prov. 8. 13. not only to forbear it, but, as the Apostle speaks, to abhor it, Rom. 12. 9. as the Meat that sometimes we have surfeited of, our Stomach nourisheth and goeth against it; so should our Hearts rise against sin: And to this Purpose, consider we † Suadere & solicitare potest cogere omnino non potest, Aug. Hom. 3. Haber aulitiam succedendi, non potestatem cogendi, Idem in Psalm 91. & in John 12.

Watchfulness.

1. The Foulness of Sin; it is fouler than the foullest Friend in Hell. 2. The Illness of Sin; it is a greater Ill than the Damnation of a Man's Soul, or than the Destruction of all the Creatures in the World. 3. The Infectiousness of Sin, it is of that pestilential Property, that it pollutes every Thing it comes near. 4. The Perniciousness of Sin; it deprives us of God's Favour, of our Part and Portion of the Blood of Christ, of the Providence of that blessed Trinity; of the Guard of Angels, of the Communion of Saints, of Heaven's Joys; and it brings upon us infinite Sorrows, as Blindness of Mind, Hardness of Heart, Deadness of Spirit, desperate Thoughts, Horror of Thoughts, Vexation of Spirit, and, without Repentance, all the terrors of Hell. 5. Christ's Sufferings for Sin; shall we not hate him that kills our Friend, Brother, Father? how much more Sin, that put to Death the Lord of Life, who is indeed our dearest Friend, Brother, Father, Saviour! Look on Christ crucified, and see if this will not make us hate Sin.

4. Believe, and by Faith expect Victory over our Sin; yea, by that Faith in which we have confessed, mourned, prayed, let us reft persuaded, That such Means shall not be used of us in vain: O lift we up the Hand of Faith towards Heaven, and lay hold on the Promises of Pardon, on the Mercy of God in Christ Jesus.

Sect. V.

Of the Manner of Watchfulness over special Sins.

That we may watch over our special sins, our Dalilah sins, our darling Delights, observe these Rules:

1. Endeavour we the mortifying of this Sin: Some one Sin there is in every Soul of us that is most predominant. Now it is the main Work of a Christian, as to fall out for ever with all Sin, so especially to improve all his Spiritual Forces and Aid from Heaven, utterly to demolish, and to beat down to the Ground this Hold, this Bozom-sin.

2. Lay we Load of deepest Groans, and strongest cries for mortifying Grace against this domineering Sin; especially every Morning and Evening strive with God in our Prayers for a comfortable Conquest over it, inforce and inlarge that Passage with an extraordinary Pang of Fervency, cry we mightily to God for Power and Strength against this Lust, that continually wars against the Soul.

3. Bend we ourselves against the special Acts, Occasions, and Opportunities of this Sin; as, suppose Radio-anger, the Sin which a Man sith and purlueth to the Extirpation of it; in this case, he should resolve with himself, not to speak harshly, nor to look fiercely, nor to use any churlish Behaviour, whether his Servant displease him with Negligence, or his Friend offend him with Unfaithfulness, or his Enemy provoke him with ill Language, or some malicious Dealing.

4. As oft as we find any Motion of this Sin to stir, and shew itself in us, it will be convenient, not only to withhold our Confent, but withal, to exercise some Act of contrary Holiness: As, suppose Desire of Revenge be the Sin, which stirreth up our Blood, and boileth within us, we must not only forbear to avenge ourselves, but also bend ourselves to pray for him that hath offended us; and, if he hunger, to feed him; if he thirst, to give him drink.

5. Settle we in ourselves a Purpose of Heart to forbear it for Time to come: In undertaking of which Purpose, it will be expedient to set ourselves some short Space of Time, in which we may force ourselves to the Forbearance of it, as for a Day, or a Month, Month, or the like; and when the prefixed Time is come, we should then question ourselves, How well we have performed? or how, or wherein we have failed? And then begin a new Purpose, and prescribe ourselves a like
Time, for shunning of the same Sin; and so on from Time to Time, till we have gotten a full Victory.

6. If in our daily or monthly review we find that we have been defective in performing of what we had proposed, then with an holy Revenge we should correct our former Errors, beg pardon for our Defects, and punish ourselves for such Slothfulness, or Wilfulness, by Abstinence from Meat, Ease, Recreation; Keeping under your bodies, and bringing them in subjection, 1 Cor.
9. 27. by Mulct, or Forfeiture of some Portion to the Poor, whereby we may feel Smart: This holy Revenge is commended by the Apostle, 2 Cor. 9. 27. as a worthy Fruit of serious Repentance.

7. Above all, without which all the rest are nothing. Believe the Promises of pardon in the blood of Christ; It is Faith in the Promises which will bea-ble to cleanse, and purge the Heart from this Sin: If the blood of bulls and of goats, faith the Apostle, and the afhes of an Heifer, sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh, how much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works, to serve the living God? Heb. 9. 13, 14. The Sense is:
When a Man hath once applied the Blood of Christ for his Justification, this Effect will follow it. That there will accompany it a certain Vigour, Virtue, Power, and Strength, which will also purge his Conscience from dead Works; there will go a Power of the Spirit together with this Blood, that shall not only forbid him, and shew him that he ought not to do such and such evil Things, but it shall cleanse his Conscience from those Roots of deed Works, those corrupt Lufts and sinful Affections, that are in him, and that dispoise him to that Evil: Now this Power is gotten by applying the blood, i.e. by applying the Promise of Pardon and Forgivenes by the blood of Jesus Christ: Let no Man think by his own Strength to prevail against any Lust; it is not our endeavouring, praying, bending our selves against the special Acts and Occasions, exercising some Acts of contrary Holiness, purposing to forbear it, punishing ourselves for it (if gone about by our own Might, and Power, and Strength) will ever kill this sin:
No, no, we must do all these at the Feet of Christ, and draw Virtue from Christ; we must believe the Promises, get Affurance of Pardon, get Affurance of God's Love to us in Christ; we must labour to delight in God, to get Communion with Christ, and then our Hearts will grow to an Application of the Commandment; and whereas before they resisted it, rebelled against it, they will then cleave to it, and love it and delight in it, and receive an Impression from it. This, I take it, is the Meaning of that Text, 2 Pet. 1.
4. Whereby are given to us exceeding great and precious Promises, that by these we might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust; q. d.
By believing the Promises we are made partakers of the godly Nature, and we overcome our Corruptions and Lufts: Consonant to which, is that of the Appistle, Know ye not, that as many as are baptized into Christ, are baptized into his death? Rom. 6. 3. q. d. as many as are baptized into Christ, for Reconciliation
Watchfulness.

Reconciliation with God, must needs be baptized into his Death; they must be dead to sin, as he was dead: We cannot be baptized into him for Reconciliation or Justification, but we must be baptized likewise for Mortification of the Flesh, and for Resurrection to Newness of Life. To wind up all in a Word, He that hath the strongest Faith, that believes in the greatest Degree, the Promises of Pardon and Remission, he hath the holiest Heart, the most mortified Life: Sanctification and Mortification arise from that Root of Justification. The Blood of Christ hath not only a Power to wash us from the Guilt of Sin, but also to cleanse us, and purge us from the Power and Stain of Sin: And therefore I say, The best Way to get a great Degree of Sanctification, the best Way to get a greater Measure of the Graces of the Spirit, the best Way to mortifie our sinful Lusts, the best Way to watch over our special Sins, is to labour to grow in Faith, in the Belief of those Promises of the Gospel of Christ; and this would be well observed by those that are a little legally byaffed, or carried to mortifie Sin only by Vows, Promises, shunning Occasions; removing Temptations, Strictness and Severity in Duties, Fear of Hell and Judgments, scarce rising so high for their Mortification, as Christ. Now these in themselves are but empty, weak Means of prevailing against Sin, like the mighty Sails of a Ship without Wind and Tide; no Question but shunning Occasions, Strictness and Severity in Duties, Watchfulness, &c. dwell in their Place and Order, like Oars in a Boat (See Saltmarsh, Fregrace, p. 68,) which tho' it be carried with the Tide, if well managed, yet they may help it to go the faster: Howsoever, it is Christ crucified which is the Power of all in all; it is Christ lifted up, as Moses lifted up the Serpent, which strikes more Soundness into the wounded Beholder, than any other Way; wherein some have toiled all their Time for Power over Corruptions, and like Peter have caught little or nothing, because Jesus Christ was not in the Company.

S E C T. VI.

Of the Manner of Watchfulness over our Hearts.

That we may watch over our Hearts, observe these Directions.

1. Guard the Windows of our Souls, the Senses: I made a covenant with mine eyes, said Job, why then should I think upon a maid? Job 31.1. Turn mine eyes from beholding Vanities, said David, and quicken thou me in thy way, Psal. 119.37. It is incredible, what a Deal of Pollution and Ill the Devil conveys insensibly into the Heart, thro' these Flood-gates of Sin, and therefore we had need to watch over the Senses.

2. Go we down into our Hears, and consider well all our Thoughts; these if good, will bring forth good Fruit; and if evil, they are the Parents and Begetters of all Sins, the first Plotters and Contrivers of all Treasons and Rebellions of our Life, the Bellows and Incendiaries of all inordinate Affections, the Panders to all other Lufts, that take thought to provide for the satisfying of them; the Disturbers of all good Duties, that interrupt, and foil, and fly blow all our Prayers, that they stink in the Nostrils of God; and therefore consider and weigh well all our Thoughts; for as our Thoughts are, so be our Affections, Prayers, Speeches, Actions.

3. Let us make Conscience of our Thoughts: By them especially do we sanctifie, or sin against God; by them especi-especially do we evidence ourselves, to be sincere-hearted Christians, or diferente trembling Hypocrites; by them especially will the Lord judge us at the last Day; when he will make manifest the counsels of our Hearts, 1 Cor. 4. 5. By them especially, if we will not make conscience of them, will God lavish us in Hell to all Eternity, even by Thoughts accusing, Isa. 33. 8. There shalt thou meditate Terrors, and study God's Wrath, together with thy own Sins and Miseries, for ever and ever.

4. Refit and crush we every exorbitant Thought which draws to sin, at the very first rising: Is the Temptation strong? Encounter it with this dreadful Dilemma; If I commit this Sin, either I must repent, or not repent; If I repent, it will cost me more heart-break and spiritual Smart, before I can purchase Assurance of pardon and Peace of conscience, than the sensual Pleasure can be worth; if I never repent, it will be the Death and Damnation of my Soul.

5. Lodge we not so much as light Thoughts, unprofitable or vain thoughts in our Hearts; they will still be entering in, whilst we are in these Houses of Clay, yet lodge they must not. Hence the Apostle, Eph. 4. 26. Let not the sun go down upon your wrath; q. d. If Thoughts of Anger come in, in the Morning or Day Time, they must be turned out ere Night; or if idle Thoughts offer to come to bed to thee, let them not lodge with thee. I deny not but many good Thoughts and Motions may pass, as Strangers thro' a bad Man's Heart, and Multitudes of vain Thoughts and Motions may make a through-fence of a Believer's Heart, and disturb him in good Duties, by Knockings, and Interruptions, and Breakings in upon his Heart, but still they lodge not there, they are not there fostered and harbored.

6. Forget and stifle we all Thoughts of sinful Actions already past; The Mind is very apt to run over the Passages and Circumstances of the same Sins, long since committed, with a new and fresh Delight; this argues Wickedness of Heart, and such as when it is ordinary with the Heart to do so, is not compatible with Grace: What fruit had you of those things whereof ye are now ashamed? Rom. 6. 12. All that the Saints reap out of such Fruits, is Shame and Sorrow, and many a sad Sigh: When Ephraim remembered his sins, he was ashamed and repented; a truly sanctified Soul will hate the Appearance of his former Sins, and will have his Heart inflamed with a Zeal and Revenge against it. What, do you repeat to your selves your old Sins with Delight? This provokes God exceedingly, you thereby stand to, and make good your former Act; you shew a Delight to rack in those Wounds you have given Christ already; and therefore in Hell it will prove the greatest Gall, to remember your old Sins; every Circumstance in every Sin then, will be as a Dagger in your Hearts. O study not these Thoughts, forget them, stifte them!

7. Entertain all good Motions put into your Hearts by the blessed Spirit, howsoever occasioned; whether by the Ministry of the Word, Mindfulness of Death, christian Admonition, reading some good Book, some special Crofs, or extraordinary Mercy; feed, enlarge and improve them to the utmost, so shall we preserve our Hearts in a soft, comfortable Temper, and heavenward, which is a singular Happiness.

8. Endeavour we to preserve and keep up lively, holy and spiritual Affections, and suffer them not to cool; or if we have grown remiss, endeavour to recover those Affections again: Thoughts Thoughts and Affections are mutual causes of each other; Whilft I mused, the fire burned, said David, Psal. 39.3. And again, How love I thy Law? It is my meditation day and night, Psal. 119.97. 1. His Thoughts were the Pannels that kindled and inflamed his Affections: And 2. His Affections inflamed, made his Thoughts to boil, and to meditate on God's law day and night. Hence it is that Men newly converted to God, having new and strong Affections, can with more Pleasure think of God than any else can.

9. Let us captivate and conform all the Thoughts and Imaginations of our Hearts, to the Rules and Sovereignty of Grace; Bring into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ, 2 Cor. 10.5. If thy Change in Words, Actions, and all outward carriages were angelical, yet if thy Thoughts be sinful and unsanctified, thou art a Limb of Satan still: Purity in the inward Parts, is the most sound Evidence of our portion in the purity and power of Christ. O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved: How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee? Jer. 4.14. God seeth, saith the Psalmist, and understandeth our thoughts afar off, Psal. 139.2. And hence it is that many humble Souls, sensible of their secret sins, in the presence of God's pure Eye, are more grieved (letting aside ill Example and Scandals) for the Rebelliousness of their Thoughts, than the Exorbitancy of their Actions, for of these the World sees the worst; but concerning the other, it cuts them to the Heart, that they are not so well able to preserve their inward Parts in purity, towards the all-searching Eye of God, as their Words and Actions in Praisebleness towards Man.

10. Get we our Hearts possett with deep, strong and powerful Apprehensions and Impressions of God's Holiness, Majesty, Omnipresence, and Omniscience: If any Thoughts be of power to settle, fix and draw in the Mind of Man, they are Thoughts of him. What is the Reason that Saints and Angels in Heaven have not a vain Thought to Eternity, but that their Eye is never off him? We find by Experience, a blessed Means to avoid Distractions in Prayers, to inlarge a Man's Thoughts in his preparations before, or at the beginning, if with a consideration of God's Attributes and Relations to us, he sets on the Duty.

11. Let us elevate, and often lift up our Hearts towards Heaven: Consider the blissful Depths of God's boundless Mercies in Christ; consider the Glory, the Everlastingness, the unutterable Excellencies of that immortal shining crown above, which after this Life (and this Life is but a Bubble, a Smoke, a Shadow, a Thought) shall he set on our Heads by the Hand of God; a very Glimpse whereof is able to sweeten the bitterest Griefs that can be, and to dispel those Mists of fading Vanities, which the World (heated by the Fire of inordinate Lusts) is wont to evaporate and interpose betwixt the fight of Mens Souls, and the Bliss of Heaven.

12. Let us spend some Thoughts, yea many Thoughts, about the saving Excellencies of Jesus Christ; consider the Wonder of our Redemption, the most admirable, and most astonishing Plot of the blessed Trinity, sitting in council about the saving of our souls; a Mystery which the Angels stoop down to spy into, an dient Pearl, that will out-shine all the sparkling Jewels of the whole creation; consider the Love-letters of Christ in his glorious Gospel, the Love-tokens he hath sent to our dear Souls. And ah! What Flames of divine Affection? What Raptures of Zeal? What Ravishments of Delights? What bruises Sorrows, and great indignation against sin? what Ex- tases of Obedience can be enough for our blessed Lord, and dearest Redeemer?

Of the Manner of Watchfulness over our Tongues.

THAT we may watch over the Tongue, two Things must be heeded:

1. That it be not unreasonably idle.
2. That it be not sinfully exercised.

That it be not unreasonably idle; and herein observe those generally, and much neglected Duties of Christian Reproof.

1. For Christian Reproof, observe these Directions:

1. If a Brother be overtaken with a Fault, or some less Offence, admonish him in the spirit of Meekness, considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted, Gal. 6. 1.

2. If he offend more grievously, then reprove him freely, and suffer not sin to rest upon his soul, Lev. 19. 17.

Object. But in this Case, when, or how must we reprove?

Sol. This Case is clothed with such Variety of Circumstances, and constancy of Alterations, that we cannot give any particular Directions; only, the Christian that is perplexed what to do, let him consult with these Botomcounsellors:

1. With his spiritual Wisdom; it is that must suggest to him, when, and how to reprove, whether presently upon it, or sometimes afterwards; whether directly and downright, or indirectly and by Intimation; whether personally, or in the general; whether in a fair and milder Manner, or with a morebold and resolute Spirit; whether only by Discouragement, or by Discourse, &c.

2. With his Heart: A Reproof must not spring from any imperious Humour of cenfuring, and medling with his Brethren; from any secret ambitious Defire, to purchase an Opinion and Reputation of Holiness to himself, or from any other by-end, but from an Heart truly humbled with Sight and Sense of its own Infirmities, graciously resolved into Compassion and Commiseration of the Offender, and lifted up in a secret Supplication for the Succes of the Reproof, and Salvation of the Party, all at once to God's Throne of Grace.

2. For spiritual and heavenly Discourse, observe these Directions.

1. Apprehend all Opportunities and Occurrences which may minister Matter of Digression from worldly Talk, into divine Discourse. It is pity that Proflers should ever meet, without some Talk of their meeting in Heaven, or of the blessed Ways and Means that lead thereunto; and therefore by some wife Transition, turn thou the Current of the Discourse towards some heavenly Good: It was the Practice of our Saviour, upon Mention of Bread, he preft upon his Disciples a Difqualification from the Leaven of the Pharisees, Mat. 16. 5. 6. And upon Occasion of Drink being denied him by the Samaritan Woman, John 4. 10: he (forgetting his Weariness, Hunger and Thirst) labours to allure her to the Well-head of everlasting Happiness.

2. Have ever in a Readiness some common Heads of more stirring and quickning Motives to mind heavenly Things; as the cursed Condition of our natural State, the dear Purchase of Christ.
Watchfulness.

Christ to redeem our Souls, the incomparable Sweetness of christian Ways, the Vanity and Vexations of earthly Things, the Uncertainty and Misery of this short Life, the Everlastingness of our State in another World, the Terrors of Death, the Dreadfulness of that great and last Day drawing on now apace, the Horrors of damned Souls, &c. Mention of these Things many Times may strike full cold to the Heart of the most sensual Belshazzar, and drive him into his Dumps; and by God's Blessing may sometimes prepare the hardest Hearts, for some Thoughts of Remorse, and more heavenly Impressions.

3. Get we into our Hearts a Habit of more heavenly-mindedness, by much Exercise, and Intercourse, and Acquaintance with God, by often Contemplation, and Forecast of the Sweetness, Glory and Eternity of those Mansions above, by Reflections on Time past, how long thy Soul was detained in the State of Darkness, what Bitterness and Terrors it passed thro' in the Pangs of its new Birth, what Relapses and Desertions it hath been incident to, ever since that Time to this; and being thus busied at home in our own Hearts, we shall find our selves much more pregnant and plentiful in holy Talk when we come abroad: Men for the most Part speak most, and most willingly of those Things they mind most; such Provisions within, will make the Tongue so ready, that it cannot be unseanably idle.

2. Watch we must over the Tongue, that it be not finfully exercised: And herein observe these Directions.

Be dumb to all unflavoury Communication; as lying, swearing, cursing, &c. O how do these Sins wound the Heart of Christ, and crucifie again the Lord of Glory?

2. Be silent from bandering, Back-bitting, false accusing, cenfuring: A true Heart is ever most angry and displeased with, most Eagle-eyed, and watchful over, most strict and severe against its own Sins; which homebred Employment haply hinders, and moderates a Man from too much medling abroad.

3. Give not that which is holy unto dogs, neither cast your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you, Mat. 7. 6. By Dogs are meant obstinate Enemies, that maliciously revile the Ministers of the Word, and the Messengers thereof: By Swine are meant those sottish, scurrile Wretches, who scornfully and contemptomously trample under Foot all holy Instructions, Reproofs, Admonitions, tendered unto them by any Christian out of the Word of Truth. Now if accidentally such a Son of Belial, or scoffing Ishmael, be in our Company, we are commanded by Christ to say nothing, at least of the Consolations of Christ, of the special Promises of Christ, of the gentle Entreaties of the Gospel of Christ. Consider this, and tremble, all ye that are scornful, and furious Opposites to the Purity and Power of the Word; it is the Lord's Will that you should run furiously towards the Pit of Hell, and that no body should stay you; not a Man must call and cry unto you, to tell you of such Things as are peculiar to the Saints, in Way of Application to you: But he that is filthy, let him be filthy still, Rev. 22. 11. Let him drink, be drunk, despair, die and be damned: All this while not a Word of Comfort belongs to you.

Sect. VIII.

Of the Manner of Watchfulness over our Actions.

Our Actions are either { Natural, Civil, Religious.}
In all which observe these Directions.

1. Concerning natural Actions, as Eating, Drinking, Sleeping, Visitation, Recreations, &c. No constant Rule can be prescribed, because it is much diversified by Health, Sickness, Age, Constitution; and every one hath either learned by his own Experience, what Seasons, and Proportions of such natural Helps are fittest for his Temperament, or he is most unworthy of that precious Thing (an understanding Soul) which he bears in his Bottom; only let me inform Christians, That they may sin in any of these Actions, and therefore let them beware and watch over themselves in the Use and Enjoyment of these Things, which howsoever lawful in their own Nature, yet by our Corruption are capable of Inordinateness and Excess. Some are of Opinion, That Christians are in more Danger of being spiritually undone, by a slow Insignation and Infranrement of Licentiousness and Immoderation in such lawful Things, than by the gross Assaults of soul sins and Temptations; their Hearts may rise against any Work of Darkness, As Adultery, Murder, Swearing, profaning the Lord's Day, Speculative Wantonness, &c. which yet may too often be insensibly seized upon, by an excessive sinful Delight, in Things unsinful in themselves; and therefore we had need to watch over our natural Actions.

2. Concerning civil Actions, as Bargains, Contracts, Covenants, Dealings, Negotiations, &c. observe these Directions.

1. Think we seriously and solemnly of that Principle, Do as thou wouldst be done by: In a fellow-feeling real Conceit, put thy self into the Place, and impartially put on the Person of the Party with whom thou art to deal, and then returning to thy self, deal out and proportion unto him that Measure in every Particular, which thou wouldst be willing to receive at another's Hands, if thou were in his Case: Whatsoever (faith our Saviour) ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them, for this is the Law and the Prophets, Matth. 7. 12.

2. Abhor with an infinite Disdain, to get any Thing by any wicked Means, wrong Doing, or unconscionable Dealing, we may affure ourselves in such Cases, That besides the secret grumbling of our self-accusing Consciences, the angry eye of God sees secretly our Doings, and will shortly, and most certainly revenge.

3. Let our Desire and Delight never fall in any Immoderately upon any earthly Thing, the never so Excellent: Exorbitancy and Error this Way, brings many Times with it either a Lot of the Thing to doted on, or it may be a Cross, or howsoever a Curfe. Consider we the Vanity of these earthly Things! consider, we the Glories above! Methinks this one Preservative would be powerful enough to keep the Heart of every Christian from doting upon the World, or suffering it to be possessed thereof, it is this, Every Christian by a fruitful Faith, may be assured of a Crown of Life, either by Assurance of Adherence, or Evidence, or both: Now if that once a Day he should take a serious Survey of the Glory, Everlastingness, and unutterable Excellencies of that immortal Crown, which our dear Redeemer holds for him in his Hand, ready to set upon his Head, when he shall be dissolved from this Vale of Tears; Methinks it were able so to dull the Edge, and dissolve the Drossiness of all earthly Desires, that they should never be able to beat or harden his Heart any more.

3. Concerning religious Actions, as Meditating, Hearing, Reading, Fasting, Watchfulness.

Falling, Praying, Almsgiving, &c. observe these Directions.

1. In general.
2. In special.

1. In general, observe, That we draw and derive from Christ by the attractive Force of Faith, special Abilities.
2. To perform all Duties.
3. To exercise all Graces.
4. To resist and overcome all Temptations and Corruptions which shall befall us: To this Purpose are those Promises of Grace and Strength, Isa. 44. 3. Ezek. 36. 27. Zech. 10. 12. John 1. 16. And these are Securities given us from God, that we shall receive Grace through Duties, which are the Conduit-Pipes or Instruments of conveying the same into the Soul from Christ. This is to do all in the Strength of Christ, and to take forth a great Deal of Christ into the Soul, so that not I, but Christ may live in me, Gal. 2. 20.

2. In special, observe these Directions.

1. That before the doing of Duties, we remove all Lets and Impediments which may hinder; and improve all Occasions which may forward us thereunto.
2. That in doing of them, we behave ourselves well and wisely, performing them rightly and religiously.
3. After all is done, that we be careful all be not lost through our own Vilenesses, and Viciousnesses, and Secret Hypocrisie, take heed of returning with the Dog to his Vomit.
4. Pursue and press after the Things prayed for, by a timely Apprehension, fruitful Exercise, and utmost Improvement of all Occasions, and heavenly Offers, which may any Ways concur to the compassing of them: But of this I shall speak more largely, when I come to the Duty of Prayer. Thus much of Watchfulness.
CHAP. IV. SECT. I.

Of the Nature of Self-trial.

WE have done with Watchfulness, the Eye that oversees and directs all other Duties: Now to the Duties themselves; wherein we shall follow this Method: 1. To consider them as in reference to private Persons. 2. As in reference to Families. 3. As in reference to publick Assemblies. The Philosopher in his Method of practical Philosophy, first handles Ethicks, in reference to particular Persons; and then he proceeds to his Oeconomicks, in reference to Families; and, lastly, to his Politicks, in reference to Cities and Countries. Of many Particulars arise a Family; of many Families is constituted a City; The same Order shall we follow of these Divine Arts of our Ethicks, Oeconomicks, and Politicks. And we shall first handle Duties in reference to particular Persons; of which sort are these:

1. Self-trial.
2. Self-denial.
3. Experiences.
4. Evidences.
5. Meditation.

The first Duty is Self-trial: And for our better Direction in the Exercise of this Duty,

We observe we

1. The Nature.
2. The Objects.
3. The Manner.
4. The Time of it.

For the Nature of it; Self-trial is a kind of judicary Proceeding, in which a Man keepeth private Sessions at home, passing a Sentence on his Thoughts, Words and Actions.

Or, for more distinct Knowledge, two sort of Actions are implied in this Duty of Trial, some \{ Essential.

1. Of the former \{ Discussion.

2. Or of Essentials, \{ Application.

3. Censure.

1. Discussion is a Sitting of our Life and Dealing, by which we pull things out of the Heap, where before they lay confused, and unseen, and by which we set every Fact of ours in open View, that it may be scanned, and seen by itself what it is.

2. Application is a laying of these Acts, thus searched and found out, to the Rule of God's Law, which is the Touchstone of all our Doings, and according to which God will judge at the last Day.

3. Censure is the Judgment that our Minds and Consciences give upon our Thoughts, Words and Deeds, according to the Rule of the Law. These three laid together, make up the Nature of this Work of Examination, or Self-trial; so that we may not unrighteously describe it out of its own Principles, thus:

Self-trial, is a Discussion of a Man's Life, that his Thoughts, Words and Deeds may be seen, and censured according to the Rule of God's Law.

2. Of the latter sort, or of Accidentals, are these Two, viz.

The one going before \{ Self-trial.
The other following after \{ Self-trial.

1. That which goes before, is a Purpose to better a Man's Spiritual Estate, Self-trial.

By correcting what is amiss.
Confirming what is right.

2. That which follows after, is a Practice of such Rules as may back our Trial, and make it more effectual to us: I shall mention only these three Rules;
1. That after we have tried, we then compare our present with our former Estate, and consider whether we have increased or decayed in Grace.
2. That if we have profited in Grace, we then consider by what Means we have profited, that so we may make more constant Use of such Means; or, if we have decayed in Grace, we then observe by what Temptations we were overcome, that so our former Errors may make us more wary, and more resolute against them for the future.
3. That as we meet with many Occasions of Moment concerning which we had a Purpose to better our Spiritual Estate, we then recall home our Thoughts, and make use of our former Resolutions, and practise what we did purpose. Out of all these laid together, we may more fully describe it thus:

Self-trial is a Discussion of a Man's Life, for the finding out the true Estate of a Man's Soul towards God, accompanied with a Purpose and Practice of whatsoever upon Trial shall appear requisite for the salvation and good of a Man's soul.

Sect. II.
Of the Objects of Self-trial.

The Object of our Trial is either Good works, or Duties.
1. We must examine our Sin in General.
2. In General, whether of Omission or Commission: For, as in the last judgment, our Lord will not only give Sentence against Murthers and Oppressions, but against Uncharitableness, and Unmercifulness, in not feeding the Hungry, in not lodging the Stranger, in not clothing the Naked, in not Visiting the Sick; so when we judge ourselves, we must cenlure not only our Robbing the Poor, but our not Relieving the Poor; not only our Commissions of Evil, but our Omissions of Good.

2. In special, whether of our Calling or Nature: These sins may breed special Danger, because we are ready to drop into them of our own Dispositions; and therefore, in the daily Care of our souls, we had need to try ourselves concerning these sins.

2. As we must examine and try our evil Works, so our good Works.

1. Because we are many Times deceived with shews, thinking that good which is evil: Thus Paul thought he shewed much Zeal, when he persecuted the Churches of Christ, Phil. 3. 6. and Micah thought he highly merited God's Favour, when he kept a Priest for idolatrous service, Judg. 27. 13.

2. Because in the very Works which are truly good, we do many Times intermingle corruptions of our own, sometimes evil Ends, and sometimes evil Thoughts, and sometimes we perform them in an evil Manner; but alwaise in our best Devotions there are many Imperfections and Failings. Indeed this Trial is a Duty necessary to all Duties; if we believe, we must do it with the Heart, Rom. 10. 7. if we sing Psalms, we must do it with the Spirit, 1 Cor. 14. 15. if we come to the Lord's Supper, first Let a Man examine himself; and so let him eat, 1 Cor. 11. 28. if we pray, we must therein examine: And hence, as some observe, the same Hebrew Word signifies to pray, and to judge a Man's self.

But because Duties are of several sorts,
Self-trial.

Inward \{ Heart. \\ Outward \{ Tongue. \\

\textbf{Sect. III.}

Of the Manner of trying, or, examining our \textit{fins in general}.

THAT we may try, or, examine our \textit{fins of all sorts}, observe these Rules.

1. Procure we a Catalogue of our \textit{fins}, both before, and since our Conversion; and to that Purpose, go we through the Commandments one by one, and in each of them consider what \textit{fins} are condemned, and what \textit{Duties} are enjoined: And hereupon question with our own \textit{Hearts}, \textit{Whether have I committed this or that \textit{sin}?} 2. \textit{Whether have I neglected this or that \textit{Duty}?} and as the \textit{Heart} answers, be ready to note down these \textit{fins} whereof we stand guilty.

2. The \textit{fins} thus found out, make we a solemn \textit{Confession} to God, with deep \textit{Humiliation}; let them be dolorous \textit{Confessions}, with \textit{Grief} and sorrow for \textit{sin} and from a

3. The \textit{fins} thus confessed and bewailed, let us \textit{judge} and condemn ourselves: This is that \textit{Duty} instanced in by the \textit{Apostle}, \textit{If we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged}, 1 \textit{Cor. 11. 31}. There is a Tribunal that we should every one \textit{exert} within us, where \textit{Conscience} is the \textit{Accuser}, \textit{Reason the Judge}, \textit{Fear the Jaylor}, \textit{Sorrow the Executioner}.

4. After we have thus judged our-

\textbf{Sect. IV.}

Of the Manner of trying, or, examining our \textit{special \textit{fins}}.

THAT we may try, or, examine our \textit{special \textit{fins}}, our \textit{Dalilah-fins} observe we these Rules:

1. Endeavour we to find out this \textit{fin}; and in our \textit{scrutiny} we may discover it by these \textit{Marks}:

2. That which thou art lothest to leave, hath least Power to reach, and which most hinders the \textit{Resignation} and \textit{Submission of the Soul and Body to the Word and \textit{Will} of God}.

3. That which God often corrects in thee, even in the \textit{Interpretation} and \textit{guilty Acknowledgment} of thy self-accusing Heart; and, if ever the \textit{Sword of the Spirit} shall cleave it from thy \textit{Bosome}, which is infinitely to be desired it will cost the bitterest Tears, and deepest Groans.

4. \textit{Thoughts}, \textit{Plots}, and \textit{Projects} about it (a Thousand to one) ordinarily seize upon thy \textit{Heart} at the very first waking, if they have not broken thy \textit{sleep}, and troubled thee in thy Dreams.

2. The \textit{Sin} once found out, do we pursue it, and make we a solemn \textit{Confession} to God of it; mourn we under it, and desire we help from God for his mortifying \textit{Grace}.

3. \textit{Settle} we in ourselves a \textit{Purpose} of \textit{Heart}, to forbear it in \textit{Time} to come: In undertaking of which \textit{Purpose}, it will be expedient to set ourselves some short space of \textit{Time}, as for a \textit{Day}, or \textit{Month}
Month, &c. and when the prefixed time is come, we should then question ourselves, How well we have performed, or how, or wherein we have failed; and then begin a new Purpose.

4. Be we ever jealous of ourselves, and of our Infirmity and Proneness to this sin. Now we have two Grounds of this Jealousie:

1. Left we be deceived about it.
2. Left we be overtaken with it.

1. We may be deceived, in supposing that we are utterly divorced, and quite delivered from this Bofom-fin, when it is nothing so; as thus:

1. We may change only in the outward Form, and not in Truth: For Instance, whereas the same sin of Covetousness doth utter and express itself by Ufury, Simony, Sacrilege, Bribery, Grinding the Faces of the Poor, Detaining ill gotten Goods, without Reparation; we may perhaps infenfibly glide out of one Gulf of gripping Cruelty into another, or, it may be, from one of these more notorious, to some other less observed, and less odious in the world, and yet still abide in the Chambers of Death, and under the Tyranny of this reigning sin.

2. We may surcease, and refrain from the outward gross Acts of such hateful Villainies, and yet our Inward be still defiled with unfattiable sensual Hankerings after them: For Instance, whereas the foul sin of Uncleanness doth actuate itself by Fornication, Adultery, Self-pollution, immoderate Abuse of the Marriage-bed, speculative wantonness, we may, perhaps, forbear the external Acts of Uncleanliness, and yet by and languish in the delightful Revolungs of them in our Mind, in Adulteries of Thoughts.

3. We may change the Kind of our Bofom-fin, in respect of the Matter, Form, Object, every Way; and yet upon the Matter itself, it is but the Exchange of one foul Fiend for another: For Instance, Wantonness may be our sweet sin in Youth, and Worldliness in old Age; Hypocrisy may reign at one Time, Apathy at another; Furious Zeal for one while, Profane Irreligiousness for another.

4. We may for a Time pull our Necks out of this strong Yoke of Satan ( out of a melancholick Pangs of flavish Terror, serious Fore-thought of Death, lying everlastingly in Hell ) but because it is not the Work of the Word, humbling us soundly under God's mighty Hand, planting Faith, and infusing mortifying Power, anon will this unclean spirit return, and rule in us again far more imperiously than before. I know it is not impossible, but that a Man after his Conversion, by the sudden surprisal of some violent Temptation, and cunning Train of Satan, may be haled back to commit his sweet sin again ( tho' it be an heavy Cafe, and to be lamented, if it were possible, with Tears of Blood ) yet he never doth, nor never can return to wallow in it again, or, to allow it: Here is the Difference. The temporary Man, after his former enforced Forbearance, engulphs himself again with more Greedines into the senuality and Pleasures of his Bofom-fin, he lies in it, and delights in it, and hardens himself more obstinately in it: But the sound Convert, after a Relapse, his Heart bleeds afresh with extraordinary Bitterness, and he cries more mightily to God for the Return of his pleased Contentance, and he prays, and fortifies the Breach with stronger Resolution, and more invincible Watchfulness against future Assaults; Observe then, if our Change be but formal, outward, mistaken, temporary, we are utterly deceived, and therefore we had need to be jealous of ourselves.

2. We may be overtaken with this sin, before we be aware; our Nature is very very apt to take Fire, our corrupt Hearts is like Tinder, or Gun-powder: This sin is called, Peccatum in dilictis, Our darling Pleasure, our mini-on Delight; it is ever ready at every Turn to allure us, tempt us, persuade us; and the foul, by a secret fenfual inclination, is apt to follow it, to feed upon it, with much affectionate sweet-ness: It may be, we have sometimes given it a Death's Wound, by the Power of his Might, who is our All in All, and yet, as it is said of the first Beast, this deadly wound is ready to be healed again, Rev. 13. 12. it is an Hydra with many Heads, and if we be not still hacking and hewing, it will revive and recollect Strength, and at last rage more than before; and therefore what need have we to this holy Jealousie?

5. Above all, without which all the rest are nothing, believe we the Promises of Pardon, and of Sanctification: The Promises of the first sort, I spake to in our Watchfulness over this sin, and therefore now I shall speak of the latter. The Lord hath promised to deliver us from all our enemies, that we may serve him in righteousness and holiness all the days of our life, Luke 2. 72, 74, 75. The Lord hath promised to write his law in our Hearts, Heb. 10. 16. and that can never be, except he obliterate all the old Writing: Now then believe these Promises, and pref the Lord with them, or we shall never be able to out-wrestle our Lusts; what tho we find out our sweet sins, confels them, resolve against them, be jealous over them? unless we go to God and Christ in the Promises for Strength, we shall ly down in sorrow: Could we of ourselves subdue our Corruptions, God would not take this upon him, to give us new Hearts, and new Spirits, to sanctify us, to make us new Creatures, to crucify the Flesh, to weaken the Dominion of sin: Alas! he knows our Weakness, and he knows all is in his own Power; and therefore, if we would mortify these Lusts, we must go to him, and beseech him to do it. When a Man is once in Christ, he lives by a Principle without himself; I live by the faith of the Son of God, faith Paul, who loved me, and gave himself for me, Gal. 2. 20. If we ask, Why will the Lord have our Strength out of ourselves? why may not a Man have sufficient habitual Strength in himself, by which he may be able to out-wrestle Lusts, and overcome Temptations? The Reason is, Because no Flesh shall rejoice in itself, and therefore Christ is made Sanctification unto us: O let us believe these Promises, and have continual Dependance on the Lord Jesus Christ.

SECT. V.

Of the Manner of trying, or examining our Hearts.

THAT we may rightly try, or examine our Hearts, observe we these Rules.

1. Use we Retiredness when we fall on this Work: To this Purpose, faith the Psalmist, Commune with your own hearts, upon your beds, and be still: Psal. 4. 4. When we get alone purposely to study our Hearts, our Hearts will then come to us, they will be more apt to discourse with us privately than in a Crowd; and therefore set we some Time apart out of our publick or particular Occasions to deal with our Hearts, as David, who after the publick Business was done, turned home to visit, and to bless his own House, 2 Sam. 6. 20.

2. Try what Thoughts are within, and which Way runs the Stream of our Thoughts: The Heart is an House of common Resort, into which Multitudes of Thoughts, like so many Guests enter, and have free and open Access; only only, if it be sanctified, it ordinarily distils holy, sweet and useful Meditations out of all Objects; as the Bee sucketh Honey out of every Flower, and a good stomack sucketh sweet and wholesome Nourishment out of what it takes to itself; so doth a holy Heart (so far as sanctified) convert and digest all into spiritual and useful Thoughts: But on the contrary, if it be wicked, then a World of vain, light, wanton, profane and diarrhœa Thoughts lodge there, and defile those Rooms they lodge in; which made the Lord say to Jerusalem, O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved: How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee? Jer. 4. 14.

3. If upon Trial we find a Lothness to entertain holy Thoughts, and Unsteadiness in them, a misplacing of them (which Disorder is a Vanity and sin, be the Thought materially never so good) or, if we find in us many Times a taking Thought to fulfil the lusts of the flesh, Rom. 13. 14. a representing, or acting over sin in our Thoughts (O how much of that precious sand of our Thoughts run out this Way!) then let us humble ourselves for them; and thus Agur teacheth, If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, lay thine hand upon thine mouth; i. e. be humbled, be ashamed of these Thoughts.

4. After Humiliation, we must proceed to Judgment: And to that End, consider, what will be the Subject of that great Inquest at the last Day? The Apostle answers, The Counsels of the heart, 1 Cor. 4. 5. And who will be the Executioner? even Thoughts accusing: O then let us prevent this Doom, and this Execution, by our own Judgment and Self-condemnation; let us sentence our Hearts, and whip out our evil Thoughts, and give them their Pains.

5. Let us watch over, and observe our Hearts ever after: Thoughts will be crowding in, when we have done all we can, yet let them know, that they past not unseen: Where strict Watch and Ward is kept, where Magistrates, and Marshals, and Confessors are diligent to examine vagrant Persons, you shall have few of them there: The Reason that such swarms of vagrant Thoughts make their Rendezvous, and pass in our Hearts, is, Because there is no strict Watch kept, we observe not our Hearts with all diligence.

6. Set our Thoughts in order every Morning, strengthen and perfume our Spirits with some gracious Meditations on God's Holiness, Majesty, Omnipresence, Omniscience: My soul waiteth for the Lord (said David) more than they that watch for the morning, Psal. 130. 6. Observe it, if you please, when we first open our Eyes, there stand many Suitors attending on us to speak with our Thoughts, even as Clients at Lawyers Doors; but speak we first with our God, and he will say something to our Hearts, and settle them all the Day after.

7. Now and then propose we to our Hearts these two Questions: 1. Heart, how dost thou? a few Words, but a very serious Question: You know, this is the first Question, and the first Salute that we use to one another, How do you, Sir? I would to God we would sometimes thus speak to our Hearts, Heart, how dost thou? how is it with thee for thy spiritual Estate? 2. Heart, what wilt thou do? or, Heart, what dost thou think will become of thee and me? as that dying Rom. once said, Animula, vagula, blandula, &c. Poor, wretched, miserable Soul, whither art thou and I going, and what will become of thee, when thou and I shall part? This very Thing doth Moses propose propose to Israel, tho in other Terms, O that they would consider their latter ends! Deut. 32. 29. And O that we would propose this Question constantly to our Hearts to consider and debate upon! Commune with your own hearts, said David, Psal. 4. 4. q. d. debate the Matter betwixt you and your own Hearts to the very utmost; Let your Hearts be so put to it in communing with them, as that they may speak their very Bottom. Commune,] or, hold a serious Communication, and clear Intelligence and Acquaintance with your own Hearts: It was the Confection of a Divine, senible of his Neglect, and especially of the Difficulty of this Duty, * I have lived ( faith he ) forty Years, and somewhat more, and carried my Heart in my Bosom all this while, and yet my Heart and I are as great Strangers, and as utterly unacquainted, as if we had never come near one another: -- Nay, I know not my Heart, I have forgotten my Heart; Ab my Bowels, my Bowels! that I could be grieved at the very Heart, that my poor Heart and I have been so unacquainted! We are fallen into an Athenian Age, spending our Time in nothing more than in telling, or hearing News, Acts 17, 21. How go Things here? How there? How in one Place? How in another? But who is there that is inquisitive, How are Things with my poor Heart? Weigh but in the Balance of a serious Consideration, what Time we have spent in this Duty, and what Time otherwise? and for many scores and hundreds of Hours or Days that we owe to our Hearts in this Duty; Can we write Fifty? or where there should have been Fifty Vessels full of this Duty, can we find Twenty or Ten? O the Days, Months, Years we bestow upon sin, Vanity, the Affairs of this World, while we afford not a Minute in Converse with our own Hearts, concerning their Case.

SECT. VI.

Of the Manner of trying, or examining our Tongues.

That we may rightly try, or examine our Tongues, observe we these Rules:

1. Search we into our Dispositions, whether we are men of few Words, or given to much speaking? The Tongue may offend both Ways, but especially if we are wordy.

2. Peruse with a broken Heart and bleeding Affections, the many Kinds of those sins of the Tongue, whereof ( no doubt at one Time or other ) we have been deeply guilty. Some number them in thirty Particulars; as Blasphemy, Murmuring, Defence of Sin, Swearing, Forswearing, Lying, Equivocating, Slander, Flattering, Curfing, railing, Brawling, Repressing, Giving ill Counsel, Sowing seeds of Discord amongst Neighbours, Double Tonguedness, Boasting, Discovering of secrets, Hasty or indiscreet Threatening, Rash Promises and Vows, Idle Words, Loquacity or immoderate Talkativeness, Filthy Talking, Scurrility or foolish Feasting, Tale-telling, Raising of Rumors, Sinful silence, Rash Certifying, Malicious Informing, VWhispering.

3. Consider we the last Judgment,

when Men shall give account for every idle Word; for by our words we must be justified, and by our words we must be condemned, Matth. 12. 36, 37. Will it not be a fearful Bill, wherein must be written every Word that we spoke all our Life long? O let us tremble to think of it, and judge and condemn our selves, and seal up our Lips with Amazement, as if we were struck dumb.

4. Let us ever after set a Watch at the Door of our Lips: I said, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my Tongue; I will keep my mouth with a bridle, Psal. 39. 2. It is storied, that when this Verse was read, or lectured upon to a religious Person, he cried out, Stay there, and I will bear the rest when I have learned that Verse; [Trapat. lib. cap. 1.] A long Time after, being demanded, Why he returned not to his old Matter, he answered, that as yet he was not perfect in his first Lesson: And hence the Apostle could say, If any Man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body, Jam. 3. 2. It is an hard Work to bridle the Tongue, and therefore we had need to watch over it.

5. Pray we the Lord for the Guidance of his Spirit in the right governing of our Tongue; The preparation of the Heart is in man, and the answer of the tongue is from the Lord, Prov. 16. 1. and therefore prayed David, Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, keep the door of my lips, Psal. 141. 3. O the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity, Jam. 3. 6. as the Fire flies about, so the Tongue is said to have Wings; as the Fire assimilates, and turns every Thing into its own Nature, so the Tongue assimilates the Hearts of Men to whom it speaks; we had need therefore to pray, that God would order this Fire in our Mouths, lest we kindle such a Fire in the Breasts of others as we shall never live to quench again, and so kindle the Fire of God's Wrath, which shall smoke to our Destruction.

Sect. VII.

Of the Manner of trying, or examining our Actions.

THAT we may rightly try, or examine our Actions (I mean such Actions as are Matters and Concernments of the Soul, whether the Work of saving Grace, or the individual companions of this saving Work, as Duties and Graces) observe we these Rules:

1. For the Work of saving Grace or Conversion, try,

1. Whether ever our Souls were wounded by a clear Discovery and wide opening of our many ulcerous secret Corruptions? Whether ever they were affected and pressed with a through sense and Feeling of the fierce Wrath of God, ready to break into unquenchable Flames of Vengeance against us?

2. Whether, after these Bruisings and Breakings our Souls ever cast their Eyes upon that infinite Sea of God's Mercy, gloriously streaming through the infinite bleeding Wounds of Jesus Christ upon every truly broken, contrite and wounded Heart? Whether ever they settled and fastned their sight steadfastly upon their blessed Redeemer, as he was hanging on the Cross, struggling with his Father's Wrath for our sins, and crying out at last, It is finished.

3. Whether, after this sight, and Consideration of the Work of our Redemption, our souls ever hungr'd and thirsted after the precious Blood of the Lord Jesus, far more greedily and inflatiably, than ever the panting Heart thirsted after the Rivers of Water? Whether ever with strong Cries, Prayers, Groans and Sighs, they threw themselves with some Comfort and Confidence into the bleeding and blessed Bosom
Boson of our dear Redeemer, and there hid themselves sweetly and deeply in his sacred Wounds, and groaned Side, from the eager Pursuit of the wounding Law, the Rage of Satan, and Stingings of their own Consciences?

4. Whether after this fast Hold upon the Passion and Merits of Christ, our Souls ever received this comfortable News, That we were pardoned, justified, intitled by the Covenant of Grace, unto a Crown of Immortality, and endless Joys in the Heavens? Whether this ever melted us into an evangelical Repentance, to bewail heartily all our Sins, and former Wretchednesses of Life, for having so vilely and rebelliously grieved and offended so gracious and loving a Father?

5. Whether after these Comforts and Sorrows, our souls ever relolutely abandoned the Practice of every gross sin, and throw out of their Affections the Liking and Allowance of every the least Infirmity? Whether we have ever since settled our selves to Holiness of Life, universal Obedience to all God's Commandments, tho not in Perfection and height of Degree, yet in Truth and Sincerity of Heart.

It may be every Soul, truly converted, cannot speak affirmatively to every of these Queries in Intention, or height of Measure, tho for the Substance they can; and if so, we may conclude, there is the Work of saving Grace.

For the individual Companions of this saving Work, as \[ \{ \text{Duties.} \]

\[ \text{Graces.} \]

1. For Duties, try,

1. How we manage them before, in, and after the Work? Of this we shall inform more particularly in most of the Duties, as we handle them in Order.

2. What sensible and quickning Communion we have with Christ in our Duties? This is the main Business and End of all the Ordinances of Christ. It is ordinary with us to terminate our Devotions with a circular Course of Praying Morning and Evening, or of coming to Church every Lord's Day; we look no further, but only to the Exercise of the Body, we see not any Thing of the Power of Christ shining out in Strength in these Duties: And therefore try we particularly,

1. Whether we have, in the Use of any divine Ordinance, an intimate, tender and effectual Presence of Christ himself with us?

2. Whether we have a constant Influence, a quickning Power of spiritual refreshing, a sensible spiritual Taste of divine Love, or of God himself by this Presence of Christ? In right Performance of Duties, we come to have fuller Union with Christ, and by this coming to him, we come to, and see the Father by him: And hence follows by this Presence of Christ, these three Things, 1. Peace with, and a spiritual Joy in God. 2. A Strength communicated to walk with Christ, and in his Power with God. 3. A sealed Assurance of eternal Communion with God in Glory.

2. For Graces, examine,

1. The Truth of our Graces.

2. The Growth of our Graces.

3. The Wants of our Graces: All which we shall discuss at large in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

S E C T. VIII.

Of the Time of our Self-trial.

The Scriptures have determined no set Time, yet some Rules there are, partly in Scripture, and partly prescribed by holy Men, which we may make use of, as thus.

1. There is no Danger of surfeiting upon too much; the oftner we reckon with with our Souls, the fewer Things we shall have to reckon for every Time; and the fewer things there be, the more readily will they be called to mind, and more exactly be scanned: This made Bernard lay of this Work, If we will do it as often as we need, we must do it always.*

2. The Time that learned and devout Men commend to us, is once every Day: So Chrysostom, Let this Account be kept every Day; Have a little Book in thy Conscience, and write therein thy Daily Transgressions; and when thou layest thee down on thy Bed, then bring forth thy Book, and take an Account of thy Sins. †

3. The Time that especially Scripture holds forth to us, is at Evening or at Night: I call to remembrance, said David, my song in the night; I commune with my own heart, and my Spirit made diligent search, Psal. 77. 6. And thus he bids us, Commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still, Psal. 4. 4. Upon which Words says Chrysostom, What means this that he saith, Commune with your own hearts upon your Beds? † q. d. after Supper, when you lie down, and are ready to sleep, and have great Quietness and Silence, without Presence or Disturbance of any, then erect a Tribunal for your own Consciences.

4. Other Times may be as Occasion requires: When the Church of Israel was in Distress, and fighed to God, then they encouraged each other, Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord, Lam. 3. 40. When Christians purpore to receive the Lord's Supper, then, Let a man examine himself, and so let him eat, 1 Cor. 11. 28. When we observe Days of Fasting for Humiliation of our Souls; or when we observe a Sabbath of Feasts, or especially when we are cast down upon our sick-beds, and in Expectation of our Dissolution, then 'us Time to examine, and to judge ourselves, that we be not judged, 1 Cor. 11. 31.

5. Besides those daily and casual Times, it is convenient also, after some good Space of Time, to try our selves over again, ex. gr. After a Month or a Year, to consider our selves for the Month or Year past, that we may see how we have profited or decayed for that Space of Time; for as our Members grow, and our Shape every Day changeth, and our black Hairs turn gray, while we perceive it not, yet after some Space of Time, we may easily discern; so it is in our souls, besides the manifest Changes which sometimes appear at the instant, there are certain insensible Alteration, which are not to be discerned, but after some Continuance of Time: And for rectifying of these, it is necessary to take a more general View of our Souls, in a monthly or yearly Trial; by this Means we shall see wherein we are better or worse, how our Zeal is encroached or decreased; if we are bettered since our last general Account, we shall have Occasion to praise God; if otherwise, we must therefore be humbled, and blow the Coals of Zeal, and stir up the Grace of God in us, that we may strengthen the things which remain, and are ready to die, Rev. 3. 2.

To this purpose we read of many Ancients that were accustomed to keep Diaries or Day-book of their Actions, and out of them to take an Account of their Lives: Such a Register (of God's Dealings towards him, and of his Dealings towards God in main Things) the Lord put into a poor Creature's Heart to keep in the Year 1641. ever since which Time he hath continued it, and once a Year purpo- ses, by God's Grace, to examine himself by it; the Use and End of it, is this:

* Bvm. in Cant. Serm. 58. An. † Chrys. Exp. in Psal. 4. † Chrys. in loc.

1. Hereby he observes something of God to his Soul, and of his Soul to God. 2. Upon Occasion he pours out his Soul to God in Prayer accordingly, and either is humbled or thankful. 3. He considers how it is with him in respect of Time past, and if he have profited in Grace, to find out the Means whereby he hath profited, that he may make more constant Use of such Means; or wherein he hath decayed, to observe by what Temptation he was overcome, that his former Errors may make him more wary for the future.

Besides many other Uses, as of his own Experience and Evidences, which he may, by the Lord's Help, gather out of this Diary:

S E C. T. IX.

The daily Register of a weak unworthy Servant of Christ for some Years.

It may be expected, that I give some Example hereof, wherein if I might any way advance Christ or benefit his Church, tho I lay in the Dust, I should willingly publish and subcribe the daily Register of a poor unworthy Servant of Christ, indeed one of the meanest of his Master's Family, for some Space of Time: As thus,

May 13. I retired my self to a solitary and silent Place to practice, especially the secret Duties of a Christian, my Ground is that of Cant. 2. 11. 12. Come my behoved, let us go forth into the fields, &c. there will I give thee my loves. The Bridegroom of our Souls, said Bernard, is baleful, and more frequently visits his Bride in the solitary Places.

May 14. In a pleasant Wood, and sweet Walks in it, the Lord moved and enabled me to begin the Exercise of secret Duties: and after the Prolegomina, or Duties in general, I fell on that Duty of Watchfulness: The Lord then gave me to observe my former Negligence, and to make some Resolutions. I found the Lord sweet to me in the Conclusion of the Duty; Allelujah.

May 15. I fell on the Duty of Self-trial, and in the Morning confessed my Sins before and since Conversion, wherein the Lord sweetly melted my Heart. In the Evening I perused my Diary for the last Year, wherein many Passages of Mercies from God, and Troubles for Sin, &c.

May 16. In the Morning I went thro' the Duty of Experiences, and felt some Stirrings of God's Spirit in my Soul. In the Evening I fell on the Duty of Evidences, when I acted Faith, and found my Evidences clear. Oh how sweet was my God!

May 17. This Day in the Morning, I meditated on the Love of Christ, where- in Christ appeared, and melted my Heart in many sweet Passages. In the Evening I meditated on Eternity, where- in the Lord both melted, and cheered, and warmed, and refreshed my Soul. Surely the Touches of God's Spirit are as sensible as any outward Touches. Allelujah.

May 19. In the former Part of this Day I exercised the Life of Faith, when the Lord strengthened me to act Faith on several Promises, both temporal, spiritual, and eternal. I had then sweet, refreshing and encouraging Impressions on my Soul against all the fearful, sinful, and doubtful Dreams I had the Night
Self-denial.

Night or two before dreamed. In the Evening I considered the Duty of Prayer, observed some Workings of God's Spirit in my perusing the Rules, and afterwards in the Practice of this Duty. Blessed be God.

May 20. In the Morning I fell on Reading the Word, perused the Directions, and then searched into the Common Places and Uses of my Corruptions in Nature and Practice; of my Comforts against the Burdens of my daily Infirmities; of establishing my Heart against the Fear of falling away; of Directions in my Calling; of Comforts against outward Crosses; of my Privileges in Christ above all the Wicked in the World: In every of these Christ appeared in some Measure suitably to my Soul. In the Evening I proceeded in the Common Places and Uses of sweet Passages that melted my Heart; of sensible Comforts, and of Places hard to be understood: In the first my Heart was sweetly melted, in the second cheered, in the Conclusion the Lord struck me with a reverence of his Majesty and Presence, filled my Soul with spiritual Refreshings, enlarged my Heart with Praises of him, and desires to live unto him, who hath given me in this Time of Love so many sweet Visits, and kisses of his mouth, Allelujah.

May 22. Occasionally, tho not in Course, I fell on some Parts of the Duty of Self-denial: The Lord in Mercy wrought in my Soul some suitablenesses to that spiritual Gospel-Duty; Lord keep this Fire up in a Flame still. Oh it is a sweet, but a very hard Lesson.

May 31. I practised, as the Lord enabled, the Duty of Saints-sufferings; into which Condition as I was cast, to the Lord gave me to see my fin wherefore, and to bewail it, and to pray for the contrary Grace and God's Favour. The Lord was sweet to me in the Preparations to, but especially in the improving of sufferings. Now the Spirit left in my Soul a sweet Scent and Savour behind it. Allelujah. Amen, Amen.

I had proceeded in this Diary, but that I doubt whether the Knowledge of many such Particulars may not prove offensive either to the weak or wilful. And I would not willingly occasion any Matter of Offence to those that are within, or without the Church. Thus much, only for Edification, and Imitation, I have written. And tho with David I declare what God hath done for my Soul, Psal. 66. 16. yet with Paul, I ever desire to correct my self; I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me.

CHAP. V. SEC. I.

Of the Nature of Self-denial.

If any man will come after me, said Christ, let him deny himself, Mat. 16. 24. The Word in the Original is a compound, noting more than a single, ordinary Self-denial. * It signifies to deny utterly, totally, not at all to spare, or regard a Man’s self: It imports a perfect, or universal Self-denial; it is as much as to reject and cast off a Man’s self, as a Man doth a graceless Son whom he will not own any more for his. From the Word opened, we may discover the nature of it, which diverse give in, tho with some Variety, as thus. To deny a Man’s self, say some, it is to forsake the Motions of our own corrupt Reason and Will, which is the very same with mortifying of the old Man, and crucifying the Flesh. To deny a Man’s self, say others, it is to refuse to be subject to, or to work for a Man’s self, as if it were our Master. And this Description is taken from the Similitude of a Servant who renounced to be under the Government of such a Lord. To deny a Man’s self, lay others, it is not to deny himself to be a Man, or to put off human Affections, but to humble himself. This likeness is true, but’tis not full enough for a christian Self-denial. And therefo to deny a Man’s self, say others, it is to put himself and all that he hath in hazard, rather than to neglect the glory of Christ. This Antithesis much inlargeth it; and in this Sense a Man is said to deny himself when he comes up to that height of the Apostle, as to say, I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me, Gal. 2. 20. q. d. The Life that I live in respect of the Original, it is not of Nature, but of Grace; not of my self, but of Christ in respect of the Rule; it is not after my own Fantasy, but according to the Will of Christ; not after my own Lusts, but after the Spirit; in respect of the End: It is not to my self, but to Christ, not to exalt or magnifie myself, but to be all that I am unto Jesus Christ. In respect of Opinion, It is not to make my self my own Lord and Master, but to prostrate all at the Feet of Christ; not to suffer any Thing in me to exalt it self, but to make all veil and bow to Christ. And hence I shall give this Description of it, that Self denial is a total, through, utter Abnegation of a Man’s own Ends, Councils, Affections; and a whole Prostration of himself, and of all that is his, under Christ Jesus. And thus we have the Meaning of Christ, If any Man will come after me, let him deny himself, i. e. Let him lay aside his own Wisdom as an empty Lamp, his own Will as an evil Commander, his own Imagination as a false Rule, his own Affections as corrupt Councilors, and his own Ends as base and unworthy Marks to be aimed at. Let him deny himself, whatsoever is of himself, within himself, or belonging to himself as a corrupt and carnal Man; Let him go out of himself, that he may come to me; let him empty himself of himself, that he may be capable of me, and that I may reign and rule within him. As in Joseph’s Vision, the Sun, Moon, and the eleven Stars did Obeisance to him, and all the Sheaves in the field veiled to his sheaf, Gen. 37. 7, 9. So in the Life, Way, Work and Soul of a regenerate Man, all the supernatural Gifts and Graces, all the moral Endowments and Abilities, all the natural Powers and Faculties of the Soul, with all the Members of the Body, and all the Labours of the Life, and whatsoever else, must do Obeisance, and veil, and be made subject and serviceable unto Jesus Christ. And this is true Self-denial.

* Abnegis, i.e. omnino negat, Leight critica sacra, Peregrinus, & professus negat, Reynold.

S E C T. II.

Of the Distribution of Self, and of the Manner how every Self is to be denied.

But for the better understanding of this Duty of Self-denial, we must first distinguish of Self, and then apply it accordingly.

1. There is a threefold Self, viz. a visible...
finful Self, a natural Self, and a moral, virtuous, or renewed Self.

The first Self, which is finful Self, or corrupt Self, is that which the Apostle calls the old man, Eph. 4. 22. the earthly Adam, 1 Cor. 15. 47. the body of death, Rom. 7. 24. the carnal mind, Rom. 8. 7. In which Sense, to deny a Man’s Self, it is in the Apostle’s Phrase, To deny ungodliness and worldly lusts, Tit. 2. 12.

The second Self, which is natural Self, is either considerable in regard of being, or of well-being. 1. In regard of Being and Substance, and so it imports our Life, which is the continuance and Preservation of our Being, together with the Faculties and Powers of Nature, our Understanding, Will, Affections, Senses, fleshly Members. 2. In regard of well-being, or the outward Comforts of Life, and they are either, 1. External Relations, as betwixt Husband and Wife, Parent and Child, Brother and Brother, Friend and Friend. Or, 2. Special Gifts and Endowments, as Learning, Wisdom, Power, or any other Abilities of Mind and Body. Or, 3. Common Ends, which naturally Men pursue and seek after, and they are by the Apostle comprised under three Heads, of Profit, Pleasure and Honour; The lusts of the eyes, the lusts of the flesh, and the pride of life, 1 John 2. 16. Of this Kind are, Houses, Lands, Possessions, fleshly, worldly, natural, unnatural, artificial Delights; Liberty, Praise, Favour, Applause, any Thing from which a Man doth draw any Kind of Content or Satisfaction in order to himself.

The third Self, which is moral Self, or virtuous Self, or renewed Self, it is a Man’s Duties, Holiness, Obedience, Righteousness, the Graces of his Spirit, the Image of Christ, Col. 3. 10. Rom.

8. 29. For as the first Adam begets us after his Image, so the second Adam regenerates us after his Image, from the one we receive Lust for Lust, and from the other Grace for Grace.

Now according to this threefold Self, there are three Branches of Self-denial; for some Things are to be denied simply and absolutely, some Things conditionally, and upon Supposition; some Things comparatively, and in certain Respects.

1. Some Things are to be denied simply and absolutely, and so a Man is to deny sinful Self; 1. Generally, as it imports the whole Body of Corruption and Concupiscence, which we are to mortifie and subdue, to crucifie and to revenge the Blood of Christ against it, Col. 3. 5. Rom. 8. 13. 2. Specially in regard of those personal Corruptions, which we in our Particulars are more notably carried into, which David calls the keeping of himself from his own Iniquity, Psa. 18. 23.

2. Some Things are to be denied conditionally, and upon Supposition of God’s special Call, and so a Man is to deny his natural Self, whensoever it stands in Opposition unto, or in Competition with Christ, his Glory, Kingdom, or Command. And this we are to do. 1. Habituall, in Preparation of the Soul, and that always. 2. Actually, whensoever any Thing dear unto us is inconsistent with the Conscience of our Duty to God: And thus Paul regarded neither Liberty nor Life in Comparison of the Gospel of Grace, and of the Name of the Lord Jesus, Acts 20. 24. 21. 13. Thus Michaiab regarded not his Safety or Reputation in Ahab’s Court; 1 Kings 22. 14. Thus Levi regarded not his Father, or Mother, or Brethren, or Children in the Zeal of God’s Honour, Deut. 33. 9. Thus Ezekiel regarded not his dear Wife, the Delight of his Eyes.
Eyes, when God took her away with a Stroke, and forbade him to mourn for her, Ezek. 24. 16, 17, 18. Thus Matthew regarded not his Receipt of Custody, Luke 5. 27. Nor James and John their Nets, their Ships, their Father, when they were called to follow Christ, Mat. 4. 21, 22.

3. Some Things are to be denied comparatively, and in some Respect; and so a Man is to deny his renewed Self, his Duty, Virtues, Graces. I deny not but in the Nature and Notion of Duties we are bound to seek, to pray, to practise, to improve, to treasure up, and exceedingly to value them; but in Relation unto Righteousness, in Order to Justification in the Sight of God, and in Comparison of Christ, we must esteem all these Things but as loss and dung, Phil. 3. 8.

Sect. III.
Of the Denial of sinful Self; and first of Cautions.

First, we must deny sinful Self, and this we are to deny simply and absolutely, whether it be the whole Body of Corruption and Concupiscence; or those personal Corruptions which we in our Particulars are more notably carried unto. Concerning both these, I shall give some Cautions.

The Cautions in general are these, 1. That the Denial of sinful Self is still imperfect in this Life, even in the most excellent Servants of Christ; the best of us feel in ourselves an other law and Power of sin, rebelling against the law of our mind, and leading us into captivity to the law of sin that is in our members, Rom. 7. 23. 24. Howsoever Self-denial is as a deadly Wound given unto Sin, whereby it is disabled to bear Rule, or commanding Power in the Heart of a regenerate Man, yet Self-denial is not perfect; it doth not so lay fin, as that we have no sin at all in us, or that we cease to sin; there is still the lap of sin in the Heart of the most regenerate and holy Man; hence Self-denial is not for a Day only, but it must be a continual Work; as we have denied sin to Day, so we must deny it to Morrow, for sin is of a quickning Nature, it will revive, if it be not deadly and continually wounded.

2. As this Self-denial is imperfect, to it is unequal, every Man having a portion of grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ, Eph. 4. 7. The same Measure of the Spirit is not to be expected in all; all have not the same Measure of Sorrow for their Sins that others have, yet it may be true and unforeigned, and so accepted of God; the Fruits of Repentance are in some thirty, in some sixty, in some an hundred-fold, Mat. 13. 15. Tho every true Believer have the Spirit, Rom. 8. 9. and be a spiritual Person 1 Cor. 2. 14. 15. Yet some truly spiritual are so weak, that in Comparison of others they are not spiritual, 1 Cor. 3. 1. And therefore ought not any for this to be discouraged if they find themselves inferior unto others.

3. As this Self-denial is unequal, so it is in some Respects unlike in the Faithful; as there are diverse Measures of it, so there are diverse Manners of it: Hence some that have not so strongly denied the outward Actions of sin, may have striven more in the Self-denial of their inward Sins and Affections: And some that have not denied themselves for a Time in Respect of more hainous Sins, may yet exceed others in Self-denial which never fell into such gross and hainous Transgressions. It is hard for any to determine whether it was greater Grace in Joseph resisting the Temptation, and not coming into it.
mitting. Adultery with his Mistress, or in David after his Fall to humble himself to far as being a glorious King to shame himself by publick Confession of his Adultery; for as God magnifies his Mercy by sin in forgiving it, more than if no sin had been, Rom. 5. 20. to the Godly may sometimes manifest their Grace by open and effectual Repentance, more than if that special fin had not been committed by them, Luke 7. 44, 45, 46, 47.

3. Howsoever this Self-denial is in the best Saints imperfect, unequal, unlike; yet we must endeavour absolutely and implicity to deny sinful Self: We must ever be harking and hewing at this tree till it falls; we must grieve at it, strive against it, and thus continue grieving and striving all the Days of our Life. Say not now, I have Grace enough, but as that great Apostle, still press forward to have more Virtue from Christ: If we have prevailed against the outward Act, rest not, but get the rising of Lust mortified, and that rowling of it in our Fancy; get our Hearts deaded towards it also; and rest not there, but get to hate it, and the Thought of it: The Body of Death must not only be crucified with Christ, but buried also, and so rot, and molder away more and more after its first Death-Wound, Rom. 6. 4. 6.

Sect. IV.

Of the Manner of denying our natural Concupiscence.

The Directions have respect either to our natural Concupiscence, or to our personal Corruptions.

1. We are absolutely to deny the whole Body of Corruption and Concupiscence; we are to mortifie and subdue, to crucifie and to revenge the Blood of Christ against this fin. This is the meaning of the Apostle, *Mortifie your members which are upon the earth, fornication, uncleanness, inordinate Affection, evil concupiscence, Col. 3. 5.

Now for the denying or mortifying of this Concupiscence, observe these Directions.

1. Be sensible of it, cry out with Paul, Rom. 7. 24. O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this Death?

2. Endeavour we to get a willing Heart to have this sin mortified. Blessed are they which hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled, Mat. 5. 6.

3. Be we peremptory in denying the Reques of Concupiscence, bar up the Doors, give it no Audience; nothing is better than a peremptory Will if it be well set, nothing worse if it be ill. When Abishai would have persuaded David to slay Shimei, David gives him a peremptory Denial, saying, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Zeruiah? 2 Sam. 16. 10. & 19. 22. So Christ gave Peter a peremptory Denial when he would have disflued him from his Passion, saying, Get thee behind me Satan, Mat. 16. 23. The old Man is of our old Acquaintance that hath been born and bred with us, and therefore is ready to deceive us; look to it, and whencesoever it suggests, give it a peremptory Denial.

4. Take we Pains to mortifie this fin. I run not in vain, as one that beats the air, 1 Cor. 9. 26. that is, I take Pains, but not in vain, I take no more Pains than I must needs, if I took any lefs, I could not come to that I aim at: The less Pains we take in subduing this Corruption, the more will it increase; but what Pains? I answear, We must use the Means God hath appointed, as the Word, and Prayer, and Fasting, and Watching, and Weeping, and Mourning, to these, I may add Covenants and Vows.
Vows: Provided that, 7. They be of Things lawful. 2. That we esteem them not as Duties of absolute Necessity. And 3. That we bind not ourselves perpetually, left our Vows become Burthens to us; if we will vow, let us but vow for a Time, that when the Time is expired, we may either renew, or let them cease, as Necessity requires.

5. Let us intermix these Means, Duties or Services one with another. Christ hath Variety of blessed Employments for us, and we should flee from Flower to Flower; as sometimes hear, other whiles pray, frequently meditate, and be not seldom in godly Company. When our Lustings sollicite us to this or that Object; ask our souls the Question that the Prophet did Ahaziah’s Messengers, Is there not a God in Israel, that thou shouldest go to Baal zeub the god of Ekron? 2 Kings 1. 2. Is there never a Promise in the Scripture? never a Saint of my Acquaintance? never a Mercy to be thankful for? no Beauty and Glory in Heaven to be panting after?

6. Labour we to get the Assistance of the Spirit of Christ. This you may think strange, The wind bloweth where it listeth, John 3. 8. i. e. the Spirit worketh where it listeth; yet this hinders not, but that the Spirit may lift to blow in the Use of the Means: Surely there are Means to get the Spirit, and to hinder the Spirit; the Spirit may be won or lost in the doing or not doing of these Things.

1. If we would have the Spirit, then we must know the Spirit; we must so know him, as to give him the Glory of the Work of every Grace: The Want of the Knowledge of Christ’s Spirit is the very Reason why Men receive not the Spirit. I will send unto you the Comforter, whom the world cannot receive, because they know him not, John 14. 17.

The World knows not the Preciousness of the Spirit, and therefore they lightly esteem of him. The first Means to have the Spirit, it is to know the Spirit, that we may give him the Glory of every Grace.

2. If we would have the Spirit, take heed that we quench not the Spirit; let us not drive him by our sins out of the Temples of our Souls, disturb him not in his gracious and comfortable Operations there, but so demean ourselves that he may stay in our spirits, and manifest without any Eclipses or Interruptions his sweet and powerful Prefence within us. Surely the Spirit is a clean Spirit, as he loves a clean Habitation: It is sin makes the Spirit loath the Soul of a Man: Evil speeches, and evil Actions grieve the Spirit of Christ.

4. If we would have the Spirit, take heed that we resist not the Spirit. Acts 7. 51. Now we may be said to resist the Spirit, 1. By not doing the Good required, when we hang off from that Good to which we are strongly moved by the inward Pulsations and Perusations of the Spirit of God. 2. By sinning against Light; in this respect, the sins against the second Table resist more than sins against the first, because these are sins against a multiplied Light, against the Light of the Word, and Light of the Spirit, and Light of Nature. 3. By falling into foul sins, such as are the manifest deeds of the flesh, as, adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, Gal. 5. 19. Indeed these sins are are not fit to be named amongst Christians. But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints, Eph. 5. 3. This last is called idolatry, Col. 3. 5. Now the Name Idol, in Scripture, doth sometimes signify an Image, or Sculpture, or Representation; sometimes an heathen God under the Notion of a false God, and sometimes an heathen God, under the Notion of filthy, unclean, and abominable, 1 Pet. 4. 3. 1 Cor. 10. 7, 8. Isa. 57. 5. 1 Cor. 6. 9. The Reason whereof was, because in their Idol-feasts and Idol-worships they used those heathen Villainies of Filthines and Uncleannesses, Rev. x. 14. or at least their Idol-feasts were wont to be previous, and preparatory to Fornications, Acts 15. 20. Rev. 2. 14. O these are foul sins, which were a Shame for Christians to name, or speak out, much more to commit. But why is Covetousness unfit to be named? And why is it called idolatry? Some Criticks observe very well, that the Word in the Original is Pleronexia, which is not Covetousness properly, but inordinate Desire, not only of Wealth, but also of Lufts, those vana, that were common to the Gentiles. O take heed of thus refiting the Spirit; this is a desperate, and a dangerous sin.

5. If we would have the Spirit, let us pray for the Spirit: This was the Means that Christ used, I will pray the Father ( faith he concerning his Apostles, John 14. 15. ) and he will send the Comforter to you. And this was the Means Christ puts us upon, For if your earthly Parents can give good things unto their children, how much more will your heavenly Father give the Holy Ghost to them that ask him? Luke 11. 13.

Prayer is prevailing with God, it is restless and pleasing to God, it will have no Denial.

5. If we would have the Spirit, then let us walk in the Spirit, do the Actions of the new Man: We know some Physick is for restoring, to preserve the strength of the Body, and such is this walking in the Actions of the new Man; it preserves the strength of the soul, it preserves Spiritual Life in a Man, it enables him to fight against Corruptions and Lufts, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh, Gal. 5. 16.

But the Saints may object: All this we have done in our Measure, but still we find a Body of Death, many Lufts yet remaining and rising up in us, and rebelling against the Law of our Mind, yea, sometimes captivating and leading us away to the minding and seeking of ourselves, and serving our own base Affections.

I answer, It may be so, nay, I told you it would be so, in the first Caution; and yet if we pray against them, if by an holy, gracious and constant Contestation we fight and war against them, if by a godly grief and sorrow of Heart, we mourn and are troubled for them, then here is our Comfort, tho we are not fully freed from them, yet we have truly denied them. There the Lufts of a Man are denied, where they do not reign, and bear Dominion, where they have not the full and peaceable Possession. Paul was one that in a very high Measure denied himself, and tho he complained of sin, and of a Law in his members rebelling against the Law of his mind, and bringing him into captivity to the Law of sin and death; yet this being his Trouble, the Lord thereupon comforts him with the Sufficiency of his Grace, My Grace is sufficient for thee, 2 Cor. 12. 9.

* We know some Physick is for restoring some to preserve their Strength.
Sect. V.

Of the Manner of denying our personal Corruptions.

2. We are absolutely to deny those personal Corruptions which we in our Particulars are more notably carried unto. Now for the denying or mortifying of this sin ( whatsoever it may be ) observe these Directions.

1. Labour we to see the Disease; No Man will seek for Cure, except he see the Disease : The sight of the Disease is half the Cure of it. O then endeavour we to find out what is our special sin, our Dalilah sin, let us be persuaded and convinced of it. See the Marks whereby to discover it, in Chap. 4. Sect. 4.

2. Observe the Baseness of this Condition, which appears, partly in the Nature of it, and partly in the Evil it brings. 1. For its Nature, it is the basest slavery in the World. Israel's Bondage in Egypt was but a shadow to this: Men that will not deny their Corruptions, they are servants to sin, and servants to Satan, they walk after the prince of the power of the air, Eph. 2. 2. Nay, they are servants to their own corrupt Mind, they are led by their lusts as a fool to the flocks. 2. For the Evil that comes by it, it deprives us of God's Favour, and brings upon us infinite forrows, as, Blindness of Mind, Hardness of Heart, Deadness of Spirit, Horror of Conscience, and without Repentance, all the Terrors of Hell.

3. Abstain we from all Beginnings and Occasions of this sin: Quench it at first; if we cannot put out a spark, how should we put out a Flame? If we get not the Mastery over the first Motion to sin, how shall we overcome it when it is brought to Maturity in Action? As a stream riseth by little and little, one shower increasing it somewhat, and another making it bigger still, so sin riseth by Degrees, James 1. 14, 15. And therefore take heed of the Beginning of our Affections, look we to the Beginning of this inordinate Lust; if we perceive but a Glimpse of it, let us quench and refist it; if we hear it knocking at the Door of our Hearts, do not pretently let it in, but ask his Errand, plead the Cause with it, consider the Hindrance and Inconveniences that come by it.

4. Proportion the Remedy to the Disease: As the Lust is greater, so we greater Abstinence; make stronger Vows against it; if the Tide beat strongly, keep the Bank good; repair it by new Renewals of our Graces in us; make we new Covenants against it, what tho we are weak and frail, and subject to break our Promises in this Kind? Yet, remember that they are God's Ordinances, and he will put to his helping Hand to enable us.

5. Turn we our Delights to God, and Christ, and heavenly Things: There is no true Self-denial that is only private; a Man cannot leave his Earthly-mindedness, but pretently he must be heavenly-minded; as a Man cannot empty a Vessell of Water, but pretently Air will come in its Place, so a Man cannot deny sinful self, but Grace will immediately enter, and take Possession of his Heart. And, Oh! when it is thus, when the Intentions of our Mind (as our morning Thoughts, &c.) which we spent upon Vanities, are now drawn unto Prayer by holy Meditations, then Lusts wither, then doth Corruption shole off more and more.

6. Maintain in our soules the Authority of God's Truth. Either Self or Christ will rule in the soul; and therefore set up Truth, and let that be the Spring of all our Actions; he that will free frees himself from being an hired servant to this or that Master, he must hire himself. When David went to Achish, he was free from Saul; if we would not have Saul and sinful-self to rule in us, we must give up ourselves to the Command of God and his Word:

7. Labour to thwart that particular Corruption to which we are inclined. Ex. gr. Are we given to Wrath? Endeavour we to be humbler and meeker than other Men: Are we given to the World? Look after that better and more enduring Substance in Heaven: Consider that the reproaches of Christ are greater riches than the treasures of Egypt, Heb. 11. 26. Contraries in Nature do expel one another, cold is expelled with Heat; Darkness with Light; thus it is with Grace.

8. Pray that Christ would baptize us with the Holy Ghost and with fire, Mat. 3. 11. that like Fire he would heat the Faculties of our souls, and inflame our Loves unto God; for as our Love to God is stronger, so our Love to holy Things will be more earnest, and consequently our Hatred to sinful-self will be more strong and perfect. O pray for the Spirit, and wait for the Spirit, and labour to be baptized with the Holy Ghost more and more fully. If we be left to our selves, it is impossible for us to deny self, to mortify self; and therefore we are to pray to God to give us his Holy Spirit. It is he that is the refiner’s fire, and fuller’s soap, Mal. 3. 2. Now as in refining and purifying, use what Means you will, except you use Fire you can never refine silver; so if a Man be left to his own spirit, he will run into a thousand noisome Lufts; but when God’s Spirit is clothed in a Man’s Heart, then he is kept from sin.

9. Labour after further Discoveries of Christ. Believe more, and depend more upon Christ, yea, let us trade immediately with Christ, for Christ is the only Agent in the Work of Self-denial. Make not, I do not say, that we are mere Passives in Self-denial; indeed at that first habitual Beginning of it at Conversion, and at that final perfecting and finishing of it, and carrying away all fin at Death, I believe we are mere Passives; but now in our Progress, we are Workers together with Christ: And therefore it is laid that we purge ourselves, 2 Tim. 2. 21. and that we purify ourselves, 1 John 3. 3. and that we by the Spirit mortify the deeds of the flesh, Rom. 8. 13. because Christ still going on to purge us, purify us, and mortify our Lufts, he doth it by stirring up our Graces, and useth therein Acts of our Faith, and Love, and many Motives, and Considerations to do it. Let us therefore use all Means required, but above all, let us bring our Hearts more and more acquainted with Christ. It is Christ that great Ordinance appointed by God to get our Lufts mortified; how many souls have gone puddering on (as I may so speak) in the use of other Means? And tho’ in them Christ hath communicated some Vertue to them, yet, because they did not trade with him, they had little in Comparison: The more distinctly a Man understands Christ, and how to make use of him, the more easily he will deny himself, and get his Lufts purged; such a one as trades immediately with Christ, will do more in a Day, than another will in a Year. Now this is as God opens our Faith to see him, and know him, and to be acquainted with him: Hence it was Paul’s Desire, Phil. 3. 10. That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection: That I may know him as a Prophet instructing me, as a Priest sanctifying me, as a King reigning spiritually in me; that I may know the Power of his Resurrection in the Vivification of my soul, in the Abolition of my sin, and especially of mine own iniquity, Psal. 18. 23. It was Christ Paul made use of in this Work. By Christ the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world, Gal. 6. 14. Thus much for the Denial of sinful Self.

S E C T. VI.

Of the Denial of our external Relations; and first of Cautions.

S E C O N D L Y, We must deny natural Self; and this we must dey only conditionally, and upon supposition of God's Call, whether it be in regard of our Being or Well-being.
I shall begin with the Latter, and that contains either External Relations, special Gifts, or common Ends.

1. We are conditionally to deny our external Relations; To this Purpose, faith Christ, Luke 14. 26. If any man cometh to me, and hateth not father and mother, and children, and brethren, and wife, and sisters, he cannot be my disciple. Not that Religion teacheth or commandeth, or endureth a Saint to break the Ties of Religion or Nature; you see it puts in a Plea against such Unnaturalness, Honour thy father and mother, is the first Commandment with promise. Eph. 6. 2. And the ravens of the valleys shall pick out their eyes that mock and despise their father and mother, Prov. 30. 17. God's Commandments do not enterfere, the Gospel in this case gives no Superfideas to the Law: and therefore, in the Denial of Relations,

I shall lay down { Cautions. Direction.

The Cautions are these.

1. That Relations are the Blessings of God; they are God's Gifts, and be-flowed on the Saints in a Way of Promise, Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord, that walketh in his ways: How may that appear? Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine by the sides of thy house, thy children like Olive plants round about thy table. Behold, thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord, Psal. 128. 1, 3, 4. Now thus we must not deny, but love and cherish, and dearly esteem of our Relations: They are the Gifts of God's Bounty, of his gracious Covenant, proceeding from the free undeserved Love of God, they are the Tokens of God's special good Will and Favour in Jesus Christ: They are the Love-tokens which Christ sends to our souls, that so he might draw our Loves to him again; and hence it is lawful and commendable to rejoice in them in their Way, and especially to lift up our souls in Thanksgiving to God for them, For every creature of God is good (much more the Children of our Loyns, and Wives of our Bo-toms) if received with thanksgiving, 1 Tim. 4. 4.

2. Notwithstanding they are the Blessing of God, yet we must deny them for God, as in these Cases:

1. If they retard us in the Way to Christ, if they entice us to make haltings in our Runnings through Fire and through Water to the Lord Jesus. Thus as it was said of Levi, so should it be said of every Saint, He said unto his father and mother, I have not seen him, neither did he acknowledge his brethren, nor know his own children, Deut. 33. 9. This is meant, either of the Priests continual Duty, who, if his Father, Mo-other, Brother, or Child died, he might not mourn for them; but carry hims elf as if he did not respect, know, or care for them; or, it is meant of that Fact of the Sons of Levi, who being commanded of Moses, they killed every man his brother, friend, neighbour, and son, that had sinned in making and worshipping the golden Calf, Exod. 32. 27, 28. and to this Latter the Chaldee refers it, translating thus, Who had had not compassion on his father, or on his mother, when they were guilty of judgment, and accepted not the persons of his brother, or of his son. If our dearest Relations should beckon us out of the Way, or retard us in the Way to Jesus Christ, we must not respect Father or Mother, we must not acknowledge our Brethren, nor know our own Children. And Christ gives the Reason, He that loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me, is not worthy of me, Mat. 10. 37. A Man should love Father and Mother, and a Man will love Son and Daughter, for Love descends rather than ascends; but if any man love father or mother, or son or daughter more than Christ, he is not worthy of Christ, he is not fit to be a disciple of Christ, or to be saved by Christ.

2. If they draw contrary Ways to Christ, if their Ways be crofs, Christ drawing one Way, and Relations drawing another Way. Now in this Case, as Christ said, If a man hate not father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters; yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple, Luke 14. 26. If a man hate not, i. e. if a Man renounce not all carnal Affection, if a Man be not disposed (where these Loves are incompatible) to hate Father and Mother, and all for the Love of Christ, he cannot belong to Christ. These two Cases may be summed up thus; if our Relations do either retard our Way to Christ, or draw us from Christ, in this sense they ought to be forgotten, yea, to be hated. Christ, in this Case, called Peter Satan; we must not love Father, or Mother, or Wife, or Daughter, or Child more than Christ; so Matth. 10. 37. expounds that Place of Luke 14. 26. This is plain, for we must love Christ with all our Heart, and with all our Soul; and tho, by the second Commandment, we must love our Neighbour as our self, yet we must not love our Neighbour as our Christ.

Of the Manner of denying our external Relations.

T H E Directions of Self-denial, in respect of our Relations, are these,

1. Let us have them as if we had them not: This is the Expression of the Apostle; The time is short, faith he, and, What then? it remains that both they that have wives be as though they had none, and they that weep as though they weep not, and they that be married, as if they rejoiced not, 1 Cor. 7. 29, 30. The time is short: The Apostle here alludes to sea-faring Men that have almost done their Voyage, and begin to strike Sail, and to fold them up together, and are even putting into Harbour; so it is with us, our Time is short, as soon as we begin our Voyage, we are ready to strike fail presently. 2. It remains that both they that have wives be as though they had none, &c. q. d. You that are ready to cast Anchor, trouble not your selves about these Things, but rather be ye stedfast, gird up the Loyns of your Minds, let your care be greatest for Heaven; and as for these outward Relations, be as if you had none, or think, as soon as you are ashore, you shall have none; do not glut yourselves, but moderate your Hearts in all such Comorts as these.

2. Let us resign up all to God. This we have done, and this we must do still.

1. This we have done in that Day when we made up our Bargain for Christ. Every Soul that comes to Christ, he parts with all to buy that Pearl, and in selling all he sells not only his Corruptions and Lufts, but his Father, Mother, Wife, Children, all Relations conditionally.

2. This
2. This we must do still; we must give up all to God; we, and they, and all must be at the Command of Christ, at the Pleasure of God and Christ; indeed nothing is properly called our own but God and Christ; all other Things are God's Gifts, lent of God, and therefore of due (as Occasion is) we must give all to God again.

3. In all Things, yea, above all Things, be we filled with the Spirit. This will take off our Thoughts from other Things that are inferior: If our Souls be once filled with the Things of a better Life, then Wife, Children, Parents, Friends will never draw away our Hearts. O that our Souls would but mount up, and take a View of those rare Things that are provided for us in another Life! What? to have God our Father, Angels our Keepers, to be the Children, Brethren, Companions of Angels? Weigh these Things daily, and then we shall deny our Relations here: These on Earth may be Comforts, but what is Earth to Heaven? what are these Joys to Joys external?

4. Let us muse on the many Relations betwixt Christ and us; he is our Creator, we the Work of his Hands; He is our Shepherd, we the Flock of his Pasture; he is our Father, the great Father of the Family, who provides all Things necessary for them that be under his Government, and we are his Children; he is our Bridegroom, we his Spouse: Now if Christ be instead of all Relations, how should we but leave all for Christ? As a Woman leaves her Father's House, and her own People to cohabite with her husband, so should we leave our country with Abraham, Gen. 12. 1. leave our friends with Levi, Deut. 33. 9. leave our possessions with the Disciples, Matth. 4. 22. yea be ready to leave our Life with Paul for the Testimony, Honour and Service of Christ. The Soul that is related to Christ, hath enough in Christ to please and delight itself. The all Friends according to the Flesh become Strangers, or prove Enemies, yet Christ is instead of all Friends.

5. Let us imitate them (as Occasion is) who for Christ's sake have not only in Will, but actually parted with their dearest Relations. Thus Moses refused that relation, to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season. Heb. 11. 24, 25, 26. Thus the Apostles of Christ refused not some, but all their Relations; Behold we have forsaken all, and followed thee: To whom Christ answered, Every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, (which Christ gives them in bestowing himself on them) and shall inherit everlasting life, Matth. 19. 27, 29. It was Jerom's Saying, If the Lord Christ should call me to him, the my Father should ly in the Way, and my Mother should hang about my neck, I would go over my Father, and shake off my Mother, and run to my Christ. But this was only said; if you would know a greater Matter than this done and practised, I shall give you one notable Instance, enough to inflame all our Hearts towards Christ and his Truth in the very publishing of it.

I have read a notable Story of one Galeacius Caracciulus, the noble Marques of Vico: This Vico was one of the Paradises of Naples, and Naples was the Paradise of Italy, and Italy is the Paradise of Europe, and Europe the Paradise of all the Earth: Yet, this Marquez being brought to hear a Sermon of Peter Martyrs, God pleased so to work upon upon his spirit that he began to enter into serious Thoughts, whether his Way of Popery, wherein he was trained, was right or not. At last, having further Light let into his Soul, not only of seeing Truths, but likewife of delivering himself from that Idolatry which he apprehended himself defiled withal; his Resolutions were strong to leave the Court, and his Honours, together with his Father, Wife and children, and whatsoever was dear to him. Many grievous combats he had he: wixt the Flesh and the Spirit when he resolved of his Departure, but the greatest Troubles were his Relations;

For,

1. As often as he looked on his Father, which he almost did every Hour, so often he was strucken at the Heart with unspeakable Grief; his Thoughts run thus, What ? and must I needs forsake my dear and loving Father? and cannot I else have God my Father? O unhappy Father of my Body which must stand in competition with the Father of my Soul!

2. No less inwardly was he grieved in respect of his noble Wife; for having no Hope that she would renounce Popery, and go with him, he resolved also for Christ's sake to leave her, and to follow Christ, whereupon his Thoughts run thus: And shall I so, yea, so suddenly, and so unkindly leave and forsake my dear loving Wife, the only Joy of my Heart in this World, and shall I leave her not for a Time, but for ever? Poor Lady! how many doleful Days without comfort, how many waking Nights without Sleep shall she pass over? What will she do, but weep and wail, and pine away with Grief? These two cogitations of his Father and Wife, greatly tormented him, and the more because he laboured to keep close this Fire which burned and boiled in his Heart; he durst not make known his departure, lest it should have been hindred, which he would not for a World.

3. There was yet a third and special care that pinched him, and that was for his Children; which were fix in all. It was the more Grief in that they were so young, as that they could not yet conceive what it was to want a Father; the eldest was scarce fifteen, and the youngest scarce four Years old: Towards them, faith the Story, his Thoughts run thus: And shall I within these few Days utterly forsake these sweet Babes? shall I leave them to the wide and wicked World, as tho they had never been my Children, nor I their Father? And you, poor Orphans, what shall become of you when I am gone? your Hap is hard, even to be fatherless, your Father yet living. And what can your woful Mother do when she looketh on you, but weep and wring her Hands, her Grief still increasing as she looks upon you? Yet thus must I leave you all confounded together in Heaps of Grief, weeping and wailing one with another, and I, in the mean Time, weeping and wailing for you all.

This noble Spirit, thus resolved, at last he left his Family, and went to Geneva, who no sooner gone, but his Friends and Family were so astonisht, that nothing was heard or seen amongst them but Lamentations. The Story is large: I shall wind up all in this one Passage. By his Father's commands, and his Wife's Intreaties he was persuaded to see them once in his Life, and to take his Journey from Geneva to Vico; thither come, and having stayed a while, and now ready again to return to his dear Geneva, his Father at his Farewell gave him many an heavy and bitter Curse, his Wife embraced him, and took him about the Neck, beseeching him in a most loving and pitiful Manner, that he would have Care of himself, of his dear Wife and Children, and not so willingly sell them all away; His young Children all upon their Knees with Arms stretched out, and Hands holden up, and Faces swollen with Tears cried unto him to have Pity on them his own Bowels, and not to make them Fatherless before the Time: His Friends with heavy Countenances and watry Eyes looked rudely on him, and tho' for Grief they could not speak a Word, yet every Look, and every Countenance and every Gesture was a loud Cry, and a strong Intreaty that he would stay, and not leave so ancient and noble a House in such a woeful and desolate State. But above all, there was one most lamentable Sight: Among all his Children, he had one Daughter of twelve Years old, who crying out amain, and wallowing in Tears, fell down, and catching fast hold about his Thighs and Knees, held him so hard as he could by no means shake her off, and the Affection of a Father wrought so with him as he could not offer with Violence to hurt her; he laboured to be loose, but she held faster; he went away, but the trailed after, crying to him not to be so cruel to her his own Child, who came into the World by him: This so wonderfully wrought with his Nature that he thought, as he often reported, that all his Bowels roul'd about within him, and that his Heart would have burst presently, and there infantly have died. But notwithstanding all this, he being armed with a supernatural and heavenly Fortitude, he broke thro' all thole Temptations, and for Christ's Sake denied all, and so returned to Geneva, (where Master Calvin then lived) a glorious Self-denier, or a glorious Denier of his natural Self. And thus much of denying our Relations.

S E C T. VIII.

Of the Denial of our special Gifts; and first of Cautions.

2. We are conditionally to deny our special Gifts and Indolements; as Learning, Wisdom, Power or any other Abilities of Mind and Body. In Prosecution of this I shall give some Directions.

The Cautions are these;

1. That Learning, Wisdom, Abilities are in themselves excellent Things. Æneas Sylvius, in his Epistle to Sigismund Duke of Austria said, that if the Face even of human Learning could but be seen, it is fairer, and more beautiful than the Morning or Evening Star. How much more may be laid in Respect of divine, spiritual, theological Learning, whose Subject is God, and Christ, and the Things of God? in this Respect therefore we must deny them.

2. Notwithstanding the Excellency of Learning, Wisdom, or other Abilities, yet must we deny them, as in these Cases.

1. In Respect of any high Thoughts of ours, of any overweening Conceit of our own Excellencies. Be not wise in our own conceits, saith the Apostle, Rom. 12. 16. To which agrees that of Solomon, Lean not to thine own understanding; Be not wise in thine own eyes, Prov. 3. 5, 7. It is a bad Thing to see in these Times how all our Debates, Differences, Controversies, even in spiritual Matters, do almost favour nothing else but of the Affectation of natural Wisdom, Subtilty, Eloquence; how much Pride move Men to outstrip one another, either by flewing their Parts, as Wit, Language, Reading, Philosophy, History, and other Learning; or by lashing, and smiting one another
Self-denial.

other with the Tongue, to seek a

Conquest, rather by the Infamy of others than by the Armour of Righteousness on the right Hand and on the left? By these unchristian and unconcionable Ways the more able men are, the more destructive they make themselves to the Comforts of their Brethren, and the nearer their Debates relate unto Religion, the further off they set themselves, and others from the Kingdom of Jesus Christ. The Respect which is had to gain Credit with Men, to lose no Ground in the Debate, and to be thought Leaders in the Cause, together with the Fear least they should be foil in any Thing, doth even strip them of all christian Simplicity. With the lowly is wisdom, faith Solomon, whereas from pride cometh shame, Prov. 11. 2. That Wisdom cannot be true, which brings us nearer to our own Wit, and further off from the Simplicity and Humility which is in Christ Jesus. I suppose this is one Cause why so much Contempt is now cast upon the Name of Learning, tho it may be wrongfully by Men, yet deservedly as from God; and I believe God will not cease to stain the Pride of all their Glory, and their Greatness, by a full Discovery of their Shame, till they that are learned do shew themselves willing to be reformed herein.

2. In Respect of any Use of them according to the World, according to Man, or according to the Flesh. Of this God speaketh when he saith, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent, 1 Cor. 1. 19. And thus the Apostle triumphed over the Wifards of the World, saying, Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputers of this world? Hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world? 1 Cor. 30. Worldly Wit-dom usually scorns and disdains the great Mysteries of Godliness, Foolsfhness of preaching, Simplicity of the Saints; but this wisdom descendeth not from above, saith the Apostle, James 3. 15. This Wisdom is but earthly, sensual, devil-ish. 1. Earthly, it minds only earthly Things, tho a Man be to pass perhaps the next Day, the next Hour, the next Moment to that dreadful Tribunal of God, yet it isglues his Hopes, Defiles, Projects, Resolutions to earthly, tranitory Pelf, and Things of this Life, as if both Soul and Body at their Disolution should be wholly and everlastingly resolved into Earth or nothing. 2. It is sensual; it prefers the Pleasures of Sense, and pleasing the Appetite, before the Peace of Conscience and Sense of God's Favour; it provides a thousand Times better for a Body of Earth, which must shortly turn to Dust, and feed the Worms, than for a precious immortal Soul that can never die; it highly prefers a few bitter-sweet Pleasures for an Inch of Time in this Vale of Tears, before unmixt and immeasurable Joys thro all Eternity in the glorious Mansions of Heaven. 3. It is devilish, for it imitates the Devil in plot-ting and contriving Mischief and Ruin against the Glory of God, the Ministry of the Word, the Passage of his Gospel, the Plantation of his Grace in the Hearts of Men; Or it is devilish, because the Devil usually sets those on work that have a little more Wit to do him Service? he knows they are more able, and active to quarrel, rail, flander, disgrace the Truth of God or Ministry of Christ. O poor Souls! how do you bark and snatch at those hurtles Hands, which would heal and bind up your bleeding Souls? O poor Ideots, what Wisdom is it for you to endeavours their Extermination, who are as stars in the right hand of Christ? Rev. 1 16.

They
They that would do Christ’s Ministers any deadly Harm, they must pluck them hence. I could wish those worldly, earthy, sensual, devilish-witted, that imploy their Wits, their Power, their Malice, their Friends, their underhand Dealings, to stand, disgrace, hinder, stop the Passage of a conscientious Ministry, but to remember those few Texts; He that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of my eye, Zach. 2. 8. and, He that despiseth you, despiseth me, and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me, Luke. 10. 16. Surely there is something in it that God doth strictly chargeth, Psalm. 103. 15. Touch not mine Anointed, and do my prophets no harm.

S E C T. IX.
Of the Manner of denying our special Gifts.

THE Directions of Self-denial in Respect of our special Gifts are these.

1. Think we soberly of our selves according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of Faith, Rom. 12. 3. We were not sober in the Apostle’s Phrase, if either we took that upon us which we have not, or bragged of that which we have.

2. Mind the true Ends of Learning, Wisdom, Abilities, and aim at them. 1. What are those Ends? I answer, 1. To do God more excellent, and more glorious Service. 2. To furnish the Soul for an higher Degree, and a greater Measure of Sanctification. 3. To do more nobly in Ephrata, and to be more famous in Bethlehem. What a Shame and Sin is it for Men by their Abilities to hunt after certain Secondary Prizes, as Pleasure of Curiosity, Ability of Discourse, Victory of Wit, Gain of Profession, Inableness for Employment and Business, and so (by the Abuse and Misapplying of it) to put their great Engine of Gifts into the Devil’s Hands, for the inlarging and Advancement of his Kingdom? O consider those more noble Ends, and seek after them.

3. Endeavour to walk before God in Humility and Lowliness of Mind. What? are thy Gifts more eminent than others? it is the Lord that makes thee differ; and as God hath been favourable to thee, so should his Favours be as Obligations to Obedience, Humility, Meekness in thee.

4. Remember it is not the Greatness of the Gift, but the well-using of the Gift that is the Glory of the Receiver; it is not the having of any Thing, whether much or little, but the having of Christ with it, that makes it full and satisfactorily, sweet and comfortable, useful and beneficial unto Man.

5. Know and be assured, that whatsoever we have, if it puff us up, and make us swell, it is not Food but Poison, no Mercy but a Curse, no Evidence of divine Favour, but of severe Anger to our Souls.

6. Observe and weigh well, that the Issue and Event of all depends not upon the Abilities of Man, but upon the all-disposing Hand of God. The race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor riches to men of understanding, Ecclef. 9. 11. All our Abilities are under God’s Providence, who puts an Efficacy into Man’s Abilities even as he plealeth.

7. Esteem we all Abilities, Gifts, Knowledge as dung and dross in Comparison of the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord, Phil. 3. 8. Thus Paul determined to know nothing but Christ and him crucified, 1 Cor. 2. 2. All Knowledge, Art, Learning is nothing to Christ; there is no Fulness, no divine Excellency in that Man’s Knowledge Knowledge that knows not Jesus Christ. Si Christum nescis, &c. If we know not Christ, it is nothing if we know never so much. Si Christum disces, &c. If we know Christ, it is enough that we know nothing more; enough indeed, for in knowing him we have all Knowledge; In Christ are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge, Col. 2. 3. Among wise Men he is the choicest that know most of Christ; it is Christ that puts a Fulness into our Knowledge, as the shining of the Sun in the Air puts a Fulness of Light into the Eye; hence Paul made Christ crucified the Center and Circumference of his Knowledge, the breadth, the length, and depth, and height of his knowledge, Eph. 3. 18. This was the full Latitude of his Knowledge to know Jesus Christ, and this is excellent knowledge, Phil. 3. 8. excellent for the Author, Matter, Subject, Fruits, and Effects of it; this is saving knowledge, this is life eternal to know thee, and whom thou hast sent Jesus Christ. O never speak of Learning, Wisdom, Gifts, Abilities, in Comparison of Christ. Bernard could say, Si scribas, non sapit mibi, nis legero ibi Jesum, &c. If thou writest, it doth not equal with me, unless I read Jesus there; if thou disputest or conferrest, it doth not equal with me, unless Jesus found there: All Learning is but Ignorance in Comparison of the Knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord. Come then, and down with all carnal Knowledge in this Respect; Come then, and submit to that true, spiritual, applicative, experimental Knowledge of Jesus Christ. Henceforth, faith the Apostle, we know no Man after the flesh, yea though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet henceforth know we him no more, 2 Cor. 5. 10. We know him not after an earthly carnal Manner, but after a divine and spiritual Manner agreeable to the State of Glory whereunto Christ is exalted.

8. Consider that Gifts and Abilities are the Stay, and Staff, and Strength only of Hypocrites; they only lean on these, they only secure themselves in these: Are they not Hypocrites that dare to plead thus with God himself? Mat. 7. 22. Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name, and in thy name cast out Devils, and done many great Wonders? They trusted upon, have we not prophesied? have we not prayed? have we not done wonders? q. d. God hath opened the secrets of Heaven to us, and do you think he will not the Gates of Heaven upon us? We have preached, we have been Instruments of saving others, and shall not we be saved ourselves? We have cast out Devils, and shall we cast to the Devil? We have not walked in an ordinary Track of Professions, but we have traded in Wonders and done Miracles, we have amazed the World with Reports of the great Things we have done, is all this nothing? Thus they plead with Christ, as if he were bound to save them by the Law of these Services; yet Christ tells them, Depart from me, I know you not. One of the Ancients represents them in such an Amazement, What means this strange, unexpected Answer from Christ, Depart, &c. Must we depart, who have lived so near thee? must we be damned, whom thou hast thus honoured?

9. Conclude hence, Thou a Man have never such Parts and Gifts, yet if he have not Grace withal, he may go to Hell and perish to all Eternity; for by his Gifts he is not united to Jesus Christ, nor made the Child of God, nor eslated into the Covenant of Grace. You see how it is with Children playing together in the Day, when Night comes, one Child goes to his Father, and the other other to his Father; it may be all the Day they are so like, that you cannot say, whose Child is this or that: But when Night comes, the Father then comes to his Child, and faith, Come my Child, come in at Doors: And if the other offers to go in there, No Child, you must go home to your Father: So while we are living, Grace and Gifts are mingled together; some Men have Gifts, and some Men have Graces, and they look very like: Ah but when Night comes, and when Death comes, then faith God to those that have Grace, Come my Children, enter in; but if those that have Gifts only come, he sends them away. And if a Man do go to Hell and perish, the more Gifts he hath, the deeper will he sink into Hell; as it is with a Man that is in the Water, sinking in the Water, the more he is laden with Gold, the more he sinks; and as he is sinking, if he have any Time to cry out, he faith, Oh take away these Bags of Gold, these Bags of Gold will sink me, they will undermine me: So I say, These golden Parts, and golden Gifts will undermine Men; when Men come to Hell, and shall perish indeed, the more golden Gifts and Parts they have had, the deeper they shall sink in Hell. And thus much of denying our special Gifts.

S E C T. X.
Of the Denial of our worldly Profits: and first of Cautions.

3. WE are conditionally to deny our common Ends, which naturally Men pursue and seek after, as Profit, Pleasure, and Honour. I shall begin with the first, viz. Profit In Prosecution of which I shall give Directions. The Cautions are these.

1. It must be granted that worldly Profits, such as Houses, Lands, Posses-
Self-denial.

Of the Manner of denying our worldly Profits.

The Directions of Self-denial in Respect of our worldly Profits are these.

1. Look we on worldly Profits as Vanity, Nothing; Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not, saith Solomon, for riches certainly make themselves wings, they fly away as an eagle, Prov. 23. 5. Observe 1. The Holy Ghost saith that riches are not, they are nothing: Those Things that make Men great in the Eye of the World, are nothing in the Eyes of God. 2. Observe the Holy Ghost would not have us so much as set our Eyes upon Riches, they are not Objects worth the Looking one. 3. Observe with what Indigation he speaks against those that will set their Eyes upon them. Wilt thou set thine Eyes upon that which is not? q. d. What a vain, unreasonable, fottish, felf-less Thing is this? 4. Observe that he says, their parting from us is by way of Flight, that is a sudden, swift, and irre-coverable Motion. 5. Observe that this Flight is by the Wings of an Eagle, which of all Birds hath the most sudden, the most swift, and the most irreversible Motion. 6. Observe that none needs to put wings upon them to flee away, for they make themselves Wings, there is Matter enough in themselves to work out their own Corruption, and to put themselves into a Flight. We think when we are called to deny our Profits, that we are called to deny some great Things; but the Truth is, had we eyes to discern the Vanity of them, we should see that we are called to deny nothing but a mere Fancy, a Thing of nought, and that which is not. Oh that the Glory of the World were darkned in our Eyes as once it shall be, that it might not be so dear unto us as it is.

2. Consider them as Instabilities, Uncertainties; All worldly Things whatsoever are mutable, changeable, transitory; and hence the Apostle stiles Riches uncertain riches, 1 Tim. 6. 17. Witness Zedekiah who was deprived of his Kingdom, Honour, Estate, Nobles, Wives, Children, Liberty, and his Sight in one Day, 2 Kings 25. and witness Job, who of the richest became the poorest Man in the East in one very Day. The Stories tell us of one Bellissarius, a noble and successful captain under Justinian the Emperor that upon some Displeasure he was turned out of his Office and Estate, and had his Eyes put out, and to was forc'd to beg from Door to Door; Date obolum Bellissario, give one half-penny to Bellissarius, whom Fortune made great, and Envy hath made blind. All worldly Things Things are like the Sea ebbing and flowing; or like the Moon always increasing or decreasing; or like a Wheel always turning up and down. Such a Story we have of Sesostris King of E-gypt, who would have his Chariot drawn with four Kings, and one of them had his Eyes continually on the Wheel; whereupon Sesostris asked him, What be meant by it? He answered, It put him in Mind of the Mutability of all earthly Things; for I see, said he, that Part of the Wheel which is now upon high, is presently down beneath, and that Part which is now below, is presently up on high: Whereupon Sesostris being moved, considering what Mutability might be in his own Estate, he would never have his Chariot drawn after that Manner any more.

3. Consider them as Snares: To this Purpose cried Solomon, All is Vanity, and vexation of spirit, Eccles. 2.26. Worldlings! do you not feel this true? Mark but how your worldly Cares do rub upon you in the Morning as soon as you awake, mark but how they accompany you in the Day, mark but how they follow you to your Beds at Night, mark but how they hinder your sleeps, and affliet you in your Dreams; O what Fears? what Suspicions? what Underminings of one another? what Disappoinments? what Vexations? what a Clutter of Business crossing one the other? what Snares and Temptations ly in your Way at every Hand? You walk all the Day long upon snares, Job. 18. 8. Upon dangerous Snares that bring much Sin and guilt, and will bring much Sorrow and Misery. Hence some give the Reason why Joseph, although he had Power to have advanced his Brethren in Court, yet he would not have them live there, but by themselves in Goshen tending their Sheep; for himself he had an extraordinary Call to be there, but he to knew the En-cumbrances and Cares of the Court, that he sought it not for his Brethren.

4. Consider them as fading in Regard of Uie, which yet may prove eternal in Regard of Punishment. O what a dreadful Noise is that in Hell, We have left Eternity for setting our Hearts upon Things that were but momentany. A strong Motive to work in us a Self-denial of those Profits: What? shall I lose Eternity for Things momentany? shall I while away that time that I have to improve for Eternity to seek after you, and to take Content and Pleasure in you? This is no ordinary Motive or Argument. Indeed the Knowledge of this in some general Notion may be ordinary, but to know it powerfully indeed, and effectually indeed, it is a Parable, a Riddle to the World, Psal. 49. 4. Some obverse, That when God works any Saving Work upon the Soul, he begins in this Way, to settle upon the Soul this Truth, that all things here are fading, and what is a Year or two to enjoy all the Contentments in this World, if then I must be gone, and bid farewell to all? Have not I an immortal Soul? and when shall be the time that I shall provide for Eternity? To help on such a Soul (now I am upon this Subject) consider whatsoever thou art these two or three Questions. 1. What is thy Heart upon? I urge this Question as in the Name of Christ, and answer thou that readest, What is thy Heart upon? It is either upon Things momentany, or Things eternal: If thou lookest upon Things eternal as high no-tional Things, and fitter for some Thoughts hereafter: Then 2. What will be thy Thoughts at the Hour of Death; it may be these: Now are all my Hopes at an End, now I must bid farewell to all my Comforts, I shall never have Mirth and Jollity any more, the Sun is set, the Seafen is at an End for all my Comforts; now I must see before me an infinite vast Ocean of Eternity, and of Necessity I must launch into it; O Lord, what Provision have I for it? O there's a Thought that will rent the Heart in Pieces! O what a dreadful shriek will that Soul give that sees before it that infinite Ocean of Eternity, and sees no Provision that it hath made for it? What will it think, but here's an Ocean of hot scalding Lead, and I must launch into it, and I must swim naked in it for ever and ever. I know not how this Word may work, but if it be trampled under Foot, it may be within this Year, or two, or three it will be laid of thee; Such a one was at such a Sermon, or such a one read such a Book, and learned, that worldly Profits were but: momentary, but now he is gone: Or it may be thou wilt say on thy Death bed, Such a Book, and such a thing I read, that all worldly Profits were but momentary, and that I had not only a little River to swim over, but an infinite Ocean to launch into, and yet I would not be warned, and now my Season is gone, and I am launching into Eternity, the Lord knows what shall become of me. And if thou perish indeed, then, 3. What will be thy Thoughts in Hell? (I speak only to such as go on resolutely in their Sin, or will take no Resolutions of better Courses,;) It was the sad Expression of one Lysimachus, who lost his Kingdom for one Draught of Water, O for what a short Pleasure have I lost a Kingdom? O consider what a foul sinking Thought will this be to think hereafter, O God for how short a Pleasure have I lost a Kingdom? the Kingdom of Heaven? And again, For what a short Pleasure have I made myself a bond slave to Hell and Devils for ever? It is reported of Pope Sextus the 5th, that to enjoy the Glory and Pleasure of the Popedom for seven Years, he sold his Soul to the Devil. What infinite Folly possesseth the Hearts of the Children of Men, who were made for Eternity, to venture eternal Mischearings for a few Years, yea a few Hearts Contentments to the Flesh.

5. Compare Christ, and the Things of Christ, with Riches, or worldly Profits in the Particulars forementioned, and thence draw out conclusions: as 1. Worldly Profits are Vanities, but Christ and the Things of Christ are Realities, they are true, real, substantial, solid Things, John 6. 27. 2. Worldly Profits are Infabilities, Uncertainties, but Christ and the Things of Christ are stable things; they are things that perish not; an enduring Substance; eternal things, Heb. 10. 34. So the Apostle, The things which are seen are temporal, viz. Riches, Honours, Houses, but the things which are not seen, as Christ, Grace, Holiness, God's Favour, Heaven, are eternal, 2 Cor. 3. 17, 18. 3. Worldly Profits are thorns, vexation of Spirit, but Christ and the Things of Christ are full of Joy and Comfort; not like the Joys of Earth, that blaze for a Time, that are like the cracking of thorns under a pot, but yield no durable, solid Heat; no, no, they are inward, found, substantial, lasting Joys, and when we come to Heaven, they shall be unmixt Joys, pure comforts without any Mixture of Discomfort, or Grief of any Kind. 4. Worldly Profits are but momentary, and of a fading, perishing Nature; but Christ and the Things of Christ are all durable, and lairting, yea everlasting; Christ is the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever, Heb. 13. 8. And Heaven (wherein Christ is) is an inheritance incorruptible, undefiled that fadeth not away, 1 Pet. 1. 4. Spiritual Joy is an everlasting Joy, and Salvation is an everlasting Salvation, Isa. 45. 17. Upon these Premises may we not resolutely conclude? What
What? are we not willing to do or suffer any Thing for Christ? to part with all for Christ? to make an absolute choice of Christ before the World? We read much of the primitive Christians, that when Riches, Preferments, Eafe, Liberty were offered to them to deny but some Truth of Christ, they refused it with Dildain, they embraced the Stake, they killed it, they cried out, Welcome Death, and none but Christ, none but Christ. Yea, some, with Paul, have said, To me to live, is Christ, and to die is gain. I desire to be dissolved, and to be with Christ, Phil. i. 23. I know it an hard Leffen to Flesh and Blood; many have their Hearts so glued to the World, that they are as unwilling to part with their Wealth, as Lot's Wife was to leave Sodom. Oh, but muse on these Differences betwixt Christ and Profits! What wise Man would make it his Business to fill his Coffers with Pebbles, when he may have Pearls, Gold or Silver? What is a Man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Mat. 16. 26.

6. Go on in the Ways of Godliness, tho all our Profits be hazarded; keep on your Way, and pass not for them, trust God with them; if we do still enjoy them, so it is; if not, yet maintain a constant strong Resolution of keeping on in the Ways of God’s Fear: Thus did Daniel, ch. 6. io. notwithstanding the Princes and Nobles watched him in the Matter of the Lord his God, yet he abated not one whit, he went on in his Course for all the Hazard he was in, the constant Ways of Godliness in Communion with his God was more sweet and precious to him than all his Court-preferments. Thus did Nehemiah, ch. 7. i. notwithstanding the Opposition he had, notwithstanding the Conspirings, Complaints, and many Letters sent to inform against him, yet he went on in the Work of the Lord. Thus David protesteth, Though princes spake against him, yet be did, and be would meditate on God’s law, Psalm 119. 23.

7. Appear for God and his Cause, his Truth and People, though the Issue may seem dangerous, and when none else will. Thus Esther, chap. 4. 16. did with that brave Resolution of hers, If I perish, I perish. Thus Nehemiah did, ch. 2. 4, 5. who, tho he was something afraid at first speak to that Heathenish King in the Behalf of his Religion and People, yet having lift up his Heart to God, he spake freely unto him. Oh let not a publick good Cause be dashed and blaffed, and none have an Heart to appear for it, for fear of the Loss of worldly Profits: Christians should have that Nobility of Mind which the Prophets had, and the Apostles had, and which they that serve Riches cannot have. What? do publick Causes for God and his People call you out to venture your Estates? Surely it is beneath true Nobleness of Spirit to provide only for your Eafe and Safety. We should Duty, more than Safety.

8. Consider that our Hearts are not perfect with the Lord till we come to a Disposition to let go every Thing for the Lord. Look under the whole Heaven, if there be any Thing we would not forsake, or any Thing we would not suffer for the Lord, our Hearts are not perfect with God. Whosoever he be that forsakes not all (in Vote, or Act) for Christ, he cannot be a Disciple of Christ; if thou art born to a thousand Pound Lands a year, yet, if God, and a good conscience to witnese the Truth, call for it, thou must forsake all. As Christ said to the young Man, If thou wilt be perfect, go sell all that thou hast, and give it to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in Heaven, Matth. 19. 17. Were Christ now on Earth he might say as much to any Man, and we were bound upon Pain of Damnation to obey him. O get our Hearts into this habitual Frame! these Thoughts, if well meditated on, would much abate us, and keep us from con- temning any Man for his mean condition in the World, for we know not how soon a good conscience may bring us into the like condition. Certainly, to have these loose and dying Affections to the Enjoyments of the World, are greater Mercies than the Enjoyments themselves.

9. Let all go indeed, rather than be brought to the committing of any sin: it is better to endure all the Frowns and Anger of the Great East of the Earth than to have an angry conscience within our Breast; it is better to want all the Profits and Pleasures that Earth can afford, than to lose the Delights that a good conscience will bring in: O let the Bird in the Breast always be kept singing, whatsoever we suffer for it; it is better we lose all we have, than to make shipwreck of a good conscience: In this case, we must be willing to lose all, or else we are lost in the Enjoyment of all. I confess it is no little Matter for them who have much of the World to deny themselves in those Things that give content to the Flesh, considering the corruptions that is in the Hearts of the Children of Men; it is an hard Thing, and seldom hath success to give Rules for the ordering of Life to Men who are in great Prosperity in this World; For a Man to be set on high, and yet to have the Heart kept down, it is hard and unusual, says Bernard, Ep. 42. But the more unusual, the more glorious; the more hard, the more honourable; the more rare, the more comfortable it is to yield unto it.

Sect. XII.

Of the Denial of our worldly Pleasures, and first of Cautions.

The next common End which naturally Men pursue and seek after, and which we must deny, it is Pleasure. In prosecution of this, as in the former,

I shall give some { Cautions.

The Cautions are these.

1. That Pleasures, Delights, Recreations are, in some sense, laudable, namely, as in a sober, moderate, reasonable Use of them they serve for the refreshing, comforting and supporting of our frail, weak Bodies, whilst we live here in this World. In which Regard the Preacher could say, There is nothing better for a Man, than that he should eat, and drink, and delight his senses. And again, I perceive there is nothing better, than that a Man should rejoice in his own works, for that is his portion. And again, To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the sun: A time to weep, and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, Ecclef. 2. 24. 3. 22. 3. 1. 4. Thus, and in this sense, and in their Season we need not to deny them.

2. Notwithstanding the Lawfulness, and laudable Use of Pleasures, yet we must deny them, as in these cases.

1. When they are Baites to draw us unto Sin; thus it is said of the Wicked, They take the timbrel and harp, and rejoice at the sound of the organ, they spend their Days in mirth. And then it follows, therefore they say unto God, depart from us, for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways; and what is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit shall we have, if we pray unto him? Men given to Pleasure are very ready to cast off their God.

2. When they are Sin, or the comcomitants of Sin, or the Fruits and Wages of Sin. Thus Solomon found them, and therefore denied them, I said in my heart, go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure; and behold this also is vanity: I said of laughter, it is mad, and of mirth, what doth it? Eccles. 2. 1, 2. The Sum of that Book is this, When Solomon forsook God, then he ran to Pleasures and Vanities, and sought every Thing that should please his carnal Eye, and tickle his vain Fancy; but he no sooner returns to himself (as the Prodigal did) but he says of Pleasure, this is Vanity, and of Mirth, this is Madnefs, and of Laughter, what is this thou doft?

 Sect. XIII.

Of the Manner of denying our worldly Pleasures.

The Directions of Self-denial, in Respect of our worldly Pleasures, are these;

1. Look on Pleasures as Vanity and nothing. Thus Amos, ch. 6. 4, 5, 6. charging the Courtiers of Riotousnefs, he tells them, They lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall; they chant to the sound of the vial, and invent to themselves instruments of mirth like David; they drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments, they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph. This their Life might appear to some a moft brave and desirable Thing, but mark what the Holy Ghost says of it, Ye who rejoice in a thing of naught, q. d. all these Pleasures put together were, in a true Judgment, but a thing of naught, res nibil; they had nothing, no Reality in them.

2. Look on Pleasures not only as vain, but as vanishing; they are soon gone from us, or we are soon gone from them. I. They are soon gone from us, The fashion of this world passeth away, 1 Cor. 7. 31. Solomon compares all the Prosperity of the Wicked to a Candle; and how soon is the candle of the wicked blown out? Prov. 24. 20. All Pleasures are but like a Mountain of Snow that melts away presently. 2. We are soon gone from them, it is but a while, and then we, and all our Pleasures must together vanish; if Death draw the curtains, and look in upon us, then we must bid a Farewel to them all, never laugh more, never have merry Meeting more, never be in Jest any more, now all is gone, as Adrian said, when he was to die, Oh my Soul, whether goest thou? thou shalt never jest it, part it any more. Oh, when we are called to Eternity, then all our Delights will leave us, and bid us adieu for ever, and how doleful will this sound be then to all the Sons and Daughters of Pleasure, your Season is done, you have had your Time, it is gone, it is past, and cannot be recalled.

3. Consider this is not the Season that should be for Pleasure. Son, remember in thy lifetime thou hast thy pleasure; Luke 16. 25. it should not have been then: The Apostle James, ch. 5. 5. lays it as a great charge upon those in his Time, that they lived in pleasure on earth, and were wanton. This is a Time for virtuous Actions, to do the great Business for which we were born; Oh, did we think that our Eternity depended upon this little uncertain Time of our Lives, we would not play, that sensual Pleasures are now in season. Surely this Time should be spent in seeking to make our Peace with God, in humbling our Souls to get off the Guilt of Sin; this is a Time of suing out our Pardon, of Mourning and Sorrow, and Trouble of Spirit; and no Time for Jollity and fleshly Delights. It a condemned Man had two or three Days Days granted him that he might sue out his Pardon, were that Time for Pleasures and Sports? Thus it is with us, the Sentence of Death is upon us, only a little uncertain Time is granted us to sue out a Pardon, let us know then, what is our Work we have to do, and let us apply ourselves to it.

4. Meditate upon that last and strict Account that must be given for them all. Rejoice, O young man in thy youth, walk in the ways of thy heart, and in the sight of thine eyes, Ecclef. 11. 19. q. d. Live after thy Lufts, and do what thou wilt; it is an ironical concession: But remember withal, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment. For all these things: There is not one merry Meeting, not one Hour spent in Pleasure, not one pleasurable act or thought, but an Account must be given for it. There are three Heads upon which the Enquiry at the Day of Judgment will be concerning our Pleasures. 1. What Kind of Pleasures they were, whether wicked in their own Natures or not? 2. What Time was spent in them? 3. How far the Heart was let out upon them?

5. Weigh the fearful End of these delightful Things; those Morsels which are sweet in going down, they must come up again as bitter as Gall: Hence Solomon adviseth, Look not upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright; at the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder, Prov. 23. 31, 32. The young Man that follows the Inicings of a Whore, he goes as an ox to the slaughter, and as a fool to the flocks, till a dart strike through his liver, Prov. 7. 22, 23. Sensual Pleasure leads to, and fits for Destruction; Hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure; he that rejoiceth shall defend into it, Isa. 5. 14. They take the tim-

6. Ponder the Carriage of the Saints before us. You know the mean Provision that John the Baptist, the Forerunner of Christ had, his fare was locusts, and wild honey, Matth. 3. 4. and yet there was not a greater born of Woman before. Daniel was afraid of taking Liberty to his Flesh in eating the Kings Meat, and the Time he had most heavenly Visions, He ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine into his mouth, neither did he anoint himself at all, Dan. 10. 3. Paul was careful to beat down his body, 1 Cor. 9. 27. to club it down, even till it was black and blew, so the Word Upotixao signifies. Timothy, tho he was sickly, yet would not take Liberty to drink a little wine, but only water, till Paul wrote to him, and in that that Liberty there was but a little granted; and that for his stomach's sake, and his often infirmities, 1 Tim. 5. 23. If I should speak of the mean Provision for the Flesh that many of the Ancients were contented withal, and that before the Superflition of Popery prevailed, it would seem incredible unto you. Basil, in an Epistle to Julian mentions the mean Fare he, and others with him, lived withal, he ate no Flesh, they had no need of Cooks, all their Provision was but the Leaves of Plants, and a little Bread: And Hierom reports of Hilariun, that he never ate any Thing before the Sun went down, and that which at any Time he ate, was very mean: And Hierom himself lived so abstemiously, that he had nothing daily but a few dried Figs with cold Water.

7. Do we in some Measure for Christ, as Christ out of Measure hath done for us. What? was he content to part with the Pleasures of Heaven, the Bottom of his Father to redeem poor Man? and shall we not part with the Pleasure of a little meat or drink for him? What? was he content to part with his Blood for us? and shall not we be content to part with our Lusts for him? Is not all his Glory revealed in his Word and Work sufficient to show him worthy of our Loves, and to make us willing to part with such empty, poor, flight Things, as a Deal of sensual Pleasures? Surely the Daughters of Pleasure must undress; if ever they will be beautiful in Christ's Eyes, they must lay aside their Paintings and Drestings, their curlings and perfumings of the Hair; Their ornament must not be the outward adorning of platting the hair, and of wearing gold, and putting on of apparel, but the hidden man of the heart in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price, 1 Pet. 3. 3, 4.

8. Keep on in the Ways of Godliness; by this Means we shall not lose, but change our Pleasures for the better: If Things may be rightly scanned, there is more Pleasure in the very Act of Self-denial, than in all the Pleasures of Mens Lives; and if such Pleasure be in the Denial of false Pleasure, what is there in the Enjoying of true? Surely God hath Pleasure enough for us, if we had an Heart to trust him with our Pleasure, we shall hereby only lose our fin, but not our Pleasure. Bernard * hath a notable Expression to this Purpose, If you be willing, says he, to sacrifice your Isaac, which signifies Laughter, your Isaac, your Pleasure shall not die; it is the Ram, your stoutness of Spirit, your self-willednes that shall die, but Isaac shall live, you shall have your Pleasure still. Do not harbour ill Thoughts of God, do not think God is an Enemy to your Pleasure; if you would trust him with your Pleasure, you should have Pleasure enough, it may be, in this World, or howsoever, in the World to come. Augustin hath some Expressions to like Purpose, + How sweet was it to me of a sudden, said he, to be without those sweet Vanities! Thou Lord, who art the true Sweetness didst cast them from me, and instead of them didst enter in thy self, who art more delightful than all Pleasure, and more clear than all light. Keep on therefore in God's Ways; if we would not be sad, let us live well, § said Bernard.

9. Understand what are the Ways of Godliness, and what is in the Ways of Godline's to cause Delights. Nothing more deadens the Heart to false Delights than rightly to know what it is in God's Ways that causeth true Delights: Now it is the Love of God that appears upon our Souls in every Duty, which causeth Delight, it is the Presence of God, and the Glory of God that appears in every gracious Action which makes it delightful; let us therefore thus look upon the Ways of Godliness. Many go on in Duty hallowed by Conscience, but they little understand of the Pleasances of God's Ways, and for want of the sense of those spiritual Pleasures, no wonder if they fail in the Denial of outward, sensual, carnal Pleasure.

10. Meditate on these Pleasures above, and say (you that have the Experience of the Pleasances of God's Ways) if the nether Springs be so sweet, what will the upper be? If the lower Jerusalem be paved with Gold, surely that upper Jerusalem is paved with Pearls. It is an excellent Speech of Bernard, Good art thou, O Lord, to the Soul that seeks thee, what art thou to the Soul that finds thee? If Grace be pleasant, how pleasant is Glory? Therefore the Saints die so pleasantly, because there is a Meeting of Grace and Glory; Grace is delightful, Glory more delightful, but when both these meet together, what Delight will there then be? It is a Speech of one speaking of carnal Delights, None can go from Delight to Delight; but it is not so spiritually; the more Delight we have here, the more we shall have hereafter: And therefore let this be all our Prayer, Lord, give us evermore this Pleasure, satisfy our Souls with this Pleasure; if the Drops be sweeter, the Rivers of Pleasure and Joy that are at Christ's right Hand, how sweet are they?

It. Above all, Oh taste and see how sweet the Lord is even in the Want of all outward Pleasures; this will bear up the Heart when all is gone. Although the fig-tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines, the labour of the Olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat, the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls; yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my salvation, Hab. 3. 17, 18. When all is dark abroad in the World, then let our Souls rejoice in God alone, yea, then let us expiate our Joys to the utmost. As it is a Work of Grace to moderate all carnal Pleasures, and to keep them down, so it is a special Work of Grace to expiate the Soul to the utmost in all spiritual Pleasures, and Rejoycings in the Lord. And to this Purpose we should exercise our Faith in the Work and Office of the Holy Ghost: Look upon the Holy Ghost as designed by the Father and the Son to bring Joy and Delight to the Souls of his People. O what a vast Difference is between the Comforts of a carnal Heart, and the Comforts of the Godly? The one comes from a little Meat and Drink, &c. but the other comes from the Exercise of Faith about the Office of the Holy Ghost, who is designed by the Father and the Son to be the Comforter of his Saints: What say we then? Are all outward Pleasures gone? let them go: only by the Help of the Spirit rejoice in the Lord, and again I say, rejoice in the Lord. Oh taste and see how good the Lord is, even in the Want of all outward Pleasures.

Of the Denial of our Honour, Praise, Favour, good Name among Men: and first of Cautions.

The next common End, which naturally Men pursue and seek after, and which we must deny, is Honour, Praise, Favour, good Name.
In prosecution of this, as in the former, I shall give some Directions.

The Cautions are these.

1. That Honour, Praise, Favour, good Name are the Gifts and Blessings of God. Moses was honourable, and before Moses was gathered unto his People, the Lord bade him to put some of his Honour upon Joshuah, that all the congregation of the children of Israel might be obedient unto him, Numb. 27. 20. And God blessed the Children of Israel themselves with honour, he made them high above all nations in praise, and in name, and in honour, Deut. 26. 19. And because Solomon begged Wisdom of God, the Lord told him that he would give him riches and honour to boot, 1 Kings 3. 13. Yea, that these are God's Gifts, David in his Prayer speaketh expressly, both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest over all, 1 Chron. 29. 12. And for a good Name, which is true Honour indeed, the Lord hath made a Promise to his, that he will give them in his house a place, and a name better than of sons and daughters, an everlasting name that shall not be cut off; Isa. 56. 5. Yea, he will make them a name and a praise among all the people of the earth, Zeph. 3. 20. Surely these are the Blessings of God, yea, comparatively, far above all other Blessings: A good name is better than precious ointment, Ecclesi. 7. 1. Yea, a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold, Prov. 22. 1.

2. Notwithstanding they are Blessings of God, yet we must deny them for God, as in these Cares.

1. When they are as Snares or Baits unto Sin. And in all those, is Honour, Praise, Favour, good Name, there are dangerous Snares, how prone do they make a Man to those Sins of Vain-glory, Self-exaltation, Self-admiration, Self-estimation? Surely it is a great Mercy of God, if any Man be preferred from these sins that enjoys these Blessings. And hence it is, that a few honourable Men prove Self-deniers, because they are most prone to these sins which are most formally opposite unto Self-denial: What is more opposite to Self-denial than Vain-glory, Self-love, Self-seeking, Self-advancing, Desire of Men's Praise? In this respect Bildad truly speaks of such Men, that they are cast into a net by their own feet, and they walk upon snares; Job 18. 8. Take heed of these Snares, in this respect we had need to deny them.

2. When we are called by God to dedicate them to God. The Lord never gave us these Things, Honour, Praise, good Name upon any other Terms, but that we should be willing to part with them for the Honour of his Name; God never made us Owners, but Stewards of them for his Service, and if ever we were brought to Christ, into Covenant with God in him, we then resigned up all to him, we profess to part with all for him, we entred into Bond that we would give up whatsoever we were or had to the Lord when it should be called for. And good Reason, for whatsoever honour or excellency we have, it is he that gives it; it is he that made the Difference betwixt us and others; the Rainbow is but a common Vapour, it is the Sun that gilds it, that enamles it with so many Colours; the best of us are but a Vapour; and if any of us be more glorious, more honourable than others, it is the Lord that hath shined upon us, and hath put more Beauty, more Lustre upon us than upon other Vapours. The Honour, Praise, good Name we have, God hath put upon us, and seeing it is of him, the Glory of it is infinitely due to him;
Self-denial.

if he calls for it, good Reason we should deny it.

S E C T. XV.

Of the Manner of denying our Honour, Favour, Praise, good Name among Men.

The Directions of Self-denial, in respect of our Honour, Favour, Praise, good Name among men, are these:

1. Look on Honour, Praise, Favour, Applause, as Vanity, Nothing. Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities, all is vanity, Ecc. 1. Observe his Expression. 1. Vanity, not only vain, but Vanity itself. 2. Excessive Vanity, for it is Vanity of Vanities. 3. An Heap of Vanities, for it is in the plural Number, Vanity of Vanities. 4. All is Vanity, not only Profit and Pleasure but Honour too; Solomon had an Experience of them all, and all is Vanity. 5. He adds his Name to that he saith, Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher.

The Word signifies the Soul that hath gathered Wisdom. There is no Reality in Honour, Praise, Favour, Applause of Men, which are so much admired and magnified by the most; Honour is but a Shadow, a Fancy, a Wind, a Breath, an external Additament, for there is no internal Excellency in it; a mere Fable, as Augustus Cesar could lay on his Death-bed, have not I seemed to have atted my Part sufficiently in this Fable of the World? now then, Farewel.

2. Beware of those Attendants, or Companions of Honours, as Vain-glory, Self-love, Self-exaltation, Self-admiration. Let us not be desirous of vane-glory, Gal. 5. Let us not exalt ourselves above others, let us not strive or study to be magnified by others, let us not please and bless ourselves in the vain Applause of others. It is not human Applause, but God's Approbation which ministers Matter of true Honour to a Christian. We should rejoice to see God honoured, but fear to hear ourselves applauded, lest either we be idolized, our Hearts elevated, or God's Honour obscured. Certainly shame will be at last that Man's Portion that exalts himself. O how should Christ put the Crown of Glory on his Head, who takes the Crown of Praise from the Head of Christ? Them that honour me, saith God, will I honour, and they that despise me, shall be lightly esteemed, 1 Sam. 2. 30.

3. Be convinced, that of all Vices, Vain-glory, Self-admiration, Self-exaltation, hunting after Men's Praise, is the most invincible. The Roots thereof are so deep and strong, and so largely spread in the Heart of Man, that there is no Disease in the Soul so hardly cured, no Weed in the Garden of Man's Heart so uneasily plucked up: It is the hardest Task that ever Man undertook, to deny himself, and fully to prostrate, and put himself under God and Christ's Yoke. Pharaoh did many Things in the Way of Love and Honour to Joseph, he put his Ring upon his Hand, he arrayed him in Vesture of fine Linen, and set him over his House, but he referred this to himself, to be greater in the Throne than Joseph; so Man may do much in the way of outward Zeal for God, he may exalt God very far, above his Profit, above his Pleasure, above his Peace, yea, above his Life, and yet still referre to himself, to a Preheminence above God, to be greater in the Throne than God: A Man may clothe the naked, feed the hungry, and give his Body to be burnt too, in the Cause of God, and yet do all this for himself more than for God; for his own Applause, for his own Name, more than for honouring of God's Name. Of all Conquest this Self-conquest is the

the most difficult, the most excellent, the most noble, the most glorious. He that can rule his own Spirit (faith Solomon) is better than he that taketh a City, Prov. 16. 32. The overcoming of a Kingdom is nothing in comparison of a Man's overcoming his own Corruption. O this Self-exaltation will stand it out like a mighty Champion in the Heart, when all other Lusts seem to fly, as Shammah was said to stand it out, and to defend the field when the people fled, 2 Sam. 23. 12. Other Lusts may go out like Fire that wants Feul, yet this Lust will still put forth, and foare aloft, and strive to climb up into the Throne of God fo long as any Thing of the old Man remains in Man. Of all the Evils that are within us, we have most Cause to be convinced, yea, to watch and pray against this Evil of Vain-glory, Self-exaltation, Self-admiration.

4. Learn inwardly, by Heart, this Gospel-truth, That Man's honouring of Christ, or being honoured by Christ, is the truest Honour of Man. If any Man serve me him will my Father honour, John 12. 28. As the Honouring of the Father, Husband, Sovereign, is the Honour of a Son, a Wife, a Subject; so the honouring of Christ, and especially being honoured by Christ, it is the Glory of them who are the Children, Spouse, and Subjects of Jesus Christ. Vain and carnal Men think no Honour comparable to the Honour which Men give, as it was said of the chief Rulers in Christ's Time, They love the Praise of men more than the praise of God, John 12. 43. and therefore they strive more to have the Testimony of Man applauding them than the Witnesses of God's Spirit sealing them up unto the Day of Repemption. O but this Honour should darken the other in our Eyes; what great Matter is it tho the glory of the other be lost, so that God do but highly honour us with this? Whosoever knows himself to be the Son of God, he never wonders more at that which is human. Surely he debases himself from the height of true Generousness, who admires at any Thing besides God and Christ himself; all other Honour is but of Nature, but this Honour is of Grace; it is a Sparkle of the divine Nature, a Ray of the very Glory of God himself shining into the Souls of his Saints.

5. Let us herein conform our selves to Christ. He came from the Bosom of his Father, and from that infinite Glory he had with him before the World was; for so he prays, that the Father would glorifie him with that Glory he had with him before the World was, John 17. 5. He left the Riches and Pleasures of Heaven, and that Honour which he might have had from all the Angels, and all to save poor wretched sinful Creatures; He that was equal with God so emptied himself that he became man, nay he was made a Scorn of Men, he was called the Carpenter's Son, as one that was contemptible, he made himself of no Reputation, he came in the Form of a Servant, yea of an evil Servant that was to be beaten, he was made a Curse, as if he had been the vilest of Men living; and yet this was the Honour of Christ himself, because it was all for God and Good of Souls. O then who is he that knows any thing of Jesus Christ, that can think it much to lay down all his Honour, or any outward Dignity under Heaven for him? what can be more unworthy? what more detestable than that a Man should magnifie himself after he hath seen God humbled? It is intolerable Impudence, that where Majesty hath emptied it self, a Worm should be puffed up and swell.

6. Let us submit to the meanest Service of our God, tho it darken our Honours
Honours never so much in the Eyes of the World. Thus Jeron wrote to Pamachius a godly young Nobleman, that he would have him to be Eyes to the Blind, Feet to the Lame, Hands to the Weak, yea if need were to carry Water, and cut Wood, and make Fires; for what are all these, faith he, to Bonds Buffetings, Spittings, Whippings, Death? To this Purpose Constan- tine, Valentinian, Theodosius, three Emperours called themselves the Vassals of Jesus Christ, as Socrates reports of them; and Theodosius especially did manifest it in the Work of his Humiliation, when in the Face of a full congregation, he cast himself down upon the Pavement, weeping and lamenting for his Sin; which many haughty Spirits, tho inferior to him would a scorned to have done.

7. Let us willingly join with those of lower Degree in any Way of honouring God. Mind not high things, faith the Apostle, but condescend to men of low estate, Rom. 12. 16. Thus Jeron advised Pamachius to equal himself with the Poor, to go into the Cells of the needy. Who knows but that the poorest creature may be far more honourable in the Eyes of God and of his Saints than we? Where greater Graces fit below us, let us acknowledge their inward Dignity. My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. Hearten my beloved brethren, hath not God chosen the poor of this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, which he hath promised to them that love him? James 2. 1. 5. It may be some of them were in Christ before us, and others of them are in Christ as well as the best of us, and if we must differ in Glory as we do differ in Grace, who can tell but they may be in Heaven as the Stars of a bigger Magnitude, and of a greater Glory?

8. Let us bear or suffer the most disgraceful Thing that can be put upon us for the Cause of Christ; yea tho all the World should frown upon us, and cast us off, and scorn us, and account us as a Disgrace unto them. As Theodore reports of Hormifda a Nobleman in the King of Persia’s Court, because he would not deny Christ, he was put into ragged clothes, deprived of his Honours, and set to keep the Camels; after a long Time the King seeing him in that base Condition, and remembering his former Estate, he pitied him, and caus’d him to be brought into the Palace, and to be clothed again like a Nobleman, and then he persuades him to deny Christ; at which he presently rent his silken clothes, and said, If for these you think to have me deny my Faith, take them again, and so with Scorn he was cast out. We must be content to be made a By-word and Reproach for Christ. But this an hard Lesson, and for which I had need to give other more particular Directions in another Section.

S E C T. XVI.

Rules how to bear Reproaches for the Name of Christ.

THE Directions for Reproaches I shall reckon up: Negatively.

Positively.

1. Negatively thus,

1. We must not bear Reproaches Stoically, insensibly, for in some sort they are Afflictions. A good name is better than a precious ointment. A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches.
riches, and loving Favour rather than silver and gold, Ecclef. 7. 1. Prov. 22. 1.

2. We must not bear them desperately as many desperate Wretches do, who usually say, Let Men speak the worst, I care not, I must appeal unto God. Tho' it be true that Innocency is a good Bulwark, and a good conscience is a brazen Wall; yet we are not only to care to approve ourselves unto God, but to Men also; we are to provide Things honest before all Men, especially amongst the People of God, and the churches of Christ.

3. We must not carry our selves passionately under Reproaches; there are many Evils follow upon this Distemper of Heart, as 1. Thereby we greatly disturb our own Spirits. 2. We discover a great deal of evil within us. 3. We show the Baseness of our Spirits to be so soon put out of Frame. 4. We feed the Humours of Reproachers, and we make others think we are guilty of those Reproaches they lay upon us. It is true we should be more sensible of the wrong done to our Names, than of any wrong done to our Estates, yet neither are the wrongs of the one or the other to be borne passionately.

4. We must not carry ourselves revengefully under Reproaches. To this Purpose faith the Apostle, Being defamed we intreat, 1 Cor. 4. 13. It is unbefeming Christians to revile again, and to speak evil for evil. It is said of Christ, that when he was reviled, he reviled not again, 1 Pet. 2. 25. and if we profess our selves to be Christ's, we must not revile again when we are reviled; there is no contending this Way where the Overcomer is the Loser: When Demosthenes was reproached by one, I will not, said he, strive with thee in this Kind of Fight, in which he that is overcome is the better Man.

5. We must not be hindered in our Way, or break off our course of Christianity when we are reproached. What tho' Filth be cast in our Way, shall we decline the Way? What tho' the clouds do arise and darken the Light of the Sun, doth the Sun cease shining, because it is darkened? No, it goes on in its course, and shins till it breaks forth; Psal. 37. 6. So you that are shining in a good conversation, go on, and in Time you will break through the clouds.

2. Positively thus,

1. We must bear our Reproaches wisely. Tho' we should not be intemperate, yet we should not take too much Notice of every Reproach. Christ himself was silent in this case, so that the Rulers wondered, Matth. 26. 62. David could say, They speak mischiefous things, but I as a deaf man heard not, Psal. 38. 12. But how then shall we stop their Mouths? I answer, 1. Let us walk innocently; Innocency will clear all, and will overcome all in Time. 2. Let us labour to be eminent in that which is quite contrary to that we are reproached for. Perhaps you are reproached for a Dissembler, labour for the greatest Eminency of Plainness of Heart and Sincerity; Perhaps you are reproached for covetousness, labour to be eminent in Liberality, in heavenly-mindedness, in doing good wisely; Perhaps you are reproached for Pride, clear up your selves (not by yielding to their Humour, but) by Eminency of Humility, that those that can judge right, may see there is Humility in you.

2. We must bear Reproaches patiently. What are we? or what is our Names that we should think much to bear Reproach? Consider, have not others of God's Servants, far holier than we are, been under exceeding Reproach? Nay how is God and Christ reproached? how is the Name of God slighted? how is the Majesty, and Sovereignty, and Authority of God contemned in this World? how are the dreadful Threatenings of God, and the Revelation of God’s Wrath scorned in the World? What Reproaches indured Christ in his own Person, in his preaching? how was he contemned when he preached against Covetousnefs? the Pharisees scorned at him, Luke 16. 14. the Word signifies, they blew their noses at him. He was called a Devil, a Samaritan, a Wine-bibber, a Friend of Publicans and Sinners; What worse can be imagined than was cast upon Christ? They spat on his Face, that blessed Face of his that the Waves of the Sea were afraid of, and that the Sun withdrew his Light from, as not being fit to behold it: They put Thorns upon his Head, and bowed to him in Reproach. This Argument should methinks move us to bear Reproaches patiently. But how should we do it? How should we bear Reproaches patiently?

1. Be we sure to keep Conscience clear; O let not that upbraid us; be we careful of what we do, and then we need not be much careful of what Men say; if conscience doth not reproach us, Reproach will not much move us; one of Consciences Testimonies for us is more than ten thousand Slanders against us. As the Storms and Winds without do not move the Earth, but Vapours within cause the Earthquakes; so all the Railings of all the Shimei’s in the World cannot much trouble us, if our consciences within do abound with good Works; if I can but say with Job ch. 27. 6. My heart shall not reproach me as long as I live; I am safe enough from the Evil of Reproach.

2. If we are failing in any Thing, let us begin with our selves before any others begin with us; let us accuse our-selves first. So some interpret that Place, Psal. 119. 98. I am wiser than mine enemies; q. d. Tho mine Enemies are witty, and do plot, and their Malice helps on their Invention, yet I am wiser, I can find out the Ways of mine own Heart, and mine own Evils better than all mine Enemies.

3. Let us exercise our selves in great Things, in the Things of God and Christ, and Eternity. Labour to greater our Spirits in an holy Manner, and be above Reproach. Surely if our Spirits were but truly greatned (I mean not with Pride, but with the exercising of our Spirits in Things that are above the World,) Reproaches would be nothing in our Eyes. It is a notable Expression that John hath against the evil Tongue of Diotrephes, He prates against us with malicious words, 3 John 10. in the Original it is, he trifles. Altho his Words were malicious, and Diotrephes a great Man, yet all was but Trifles, so high was John’s Spirit above them. The sinking of the Heart under Reproaches argues too vile a Pufillanimity, such a poor low Spirit, as is not confident with the true Magnanimity of a true Christian.

4. Make we our Moans to God, and lay our cage before him, as Hezekiah (when Rabshake came and reviled God, and the People of God) he went and spread the Letter before God, and made his Moan to God; so if we can but do likewise, we shall find unspakeable Refreshments to our Souls, and that will be a great Argument of our Innocency. My friends scorn me, said Job, ch. 16. 20. but mine eye poureth out tears unto God: And the mouth of the wicked, (faith David) and the mouth of the deceitful are opened against me, they have spoken against me with a lying tongue. But I gave myself unto Prayer, Psal. 109. 2:

5. Get our Hearts quietly and kind-ly
Self-denial.

1. by to lament the Condition of our Reproachers. Their Folly should cause us to pity them, to be patient towards them, and to pass by the Wrongs they do to us. This was one of the Arguments that Abigail brought to David to quiet his Spirit that was so stirred against Nabal, because of his reproaches, O, said she, Nabal is his name, and folly is with him, 1 Sam. 25. 25. q. d. It is his Folly David, and therefore rather pity him David, it is too low a Thing for such a spirit as David's to be stirred with Folly. Indeed instead of being troubled with Reproaches, our spirits should be most troubled for their fin; alas! they sin by their reproaches, and God hates them for it. Pride, and arrogance, and the evil way, and the forward mouth do I hate, Prov. 8. 13. If we have any Love, we should think thus; This poor Man, what hath he done? He hath brought himself under the Hatred of God. O this should mightily affect the Hearts of the Godly.

2. We must bear Reproaches fruitfully. Christians should not think it enough to free themselves from Reproach, but they must improve it for Good; and to that End;

1. Consider what Ends God aims at by it, and labour to work them upon ourselves that we may attain to those Ends.

2. Draw what good Instructions we can from the Reproaches of others, as thus; When I hear Men reproach and revile, Oh, what a deal of Evil is there secretly in the Heart of Man that is not discovered till it have Occasion! Again, Do I see another so vigilant over me to find out any Thing in me to reproach me? how vigilant should I be over my self to find out what is in me to humble in me?

3. Set upon what Duty God call for at the present; The le's Credit I have in this World, the more Credit let me desire after in Heaven; if there be a Breach of my Name here, let me seek to make up my Name in Heaven.

4. We must bear Reproaches joyfully and triumphantly. We glory in tribulations, said Paul, Rom. 5. 3. And if I must needs glory, I will glory in things concerning mine Infirmities, 2 Cor. 11. 50. By Infirmities, we are not (lay some) to understand the Infirmities of Sin, but his Weakness and Evils that he endured for Christ. Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's Sake, 2 Cor. 12. 10. Jerom upon that, Blessed are you when men shall speak evil of you, and revile you, Mat. 5. 11. O, says he, who would not be willing to suffer? who would not wish to be persecuted for Righteousness Sake? who would not desire to be reviled? Oh that all the Rest of Unbelievers would persecute me for Righteousness Sake; I would this foolish World would all rise up against me to reproach me, (Hierom. Epiff. ad Ocean.) When Christ appeared to Saul, he cried, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? Who art thou Lord? answered Saul. I am Jesus of Nazareth, replied Christ, Acts 22. 7, 8. But why Jesus of Nazareth? doth any good come out of Nazareth? Surely there is something in this; he faith not, I am the Son of God, the Second Person in the Trinity, the King of the Church; no, but I am Jesus of Nazareth; that was a reproach cast upon Christ, and Christ glories in that. Reproaches are the Ensigns of heavenly Nobility, Christians therefore should not fear them, but bear them joyfully.

5. We must return good for evil, and then we come to the Top of Christianity. This is a Sign of great Progress in Religion: If I be weak, faith one, perhaps I may pardon one charging me falsly.
Self-denial.

falsely, but if I have profited, altho not altogether perfect, I hold my Peace at his Reproaches, and answer nothing; but if I am perfect, I then bless him that re-viles me, according to that of Paul, being reviled we bless, (Ambros. offic. l. i.
c. 48.) If we can do thus, if we can heartyly pray for our Reproachers, and defire good to them, and so heat coals of fire upon them, this is a great Sign of Grace. Bless them, faith Christ, that curse you, pray for them that despightfully use you, that you may be the children of your Father, &c. Mat. 5. 44. 45.
Why? were they not Children before?
yes, but this declares it, now God owns them for his Children indeed. And thus much of denying our common Ends, Profit, Pleasure and Honour.

SECTION XVII.

Of the Denial of our very Being, our Life, for Jesus Christ; and first of Caution.

I HAVE done with the Denial of natural Self in regard of Well-being.
I shall now consider the Denial of natural Self, in regard of very being, and so it imports our Life, together with the Faculties and Powers of Nature,
our Understanding, Will, Affections, Senses, fleshly Members; all within us must be captivated to the Obedience of Christ, and all without us must endure to suffer for the Name of Christ.

For them we call Faculties or Powers of Nature, as the Understanding, Will, Affections, Senses, I shall dispatch in a Word.

1. The Understanding must be captivated as it hinders from Christ. Suppose the Word of Christ be contradicted or check’d by way of Reason or Understanding, as in the Business of the Trinity, Union of two Natures, Resurrection of the Body; in this Case I must deny my Reason, and believe Christ; I must bow down and worship,
I must captivate my Understanding to the Obedience of Faith. We see by Experience, thole are soonest brought to Christ, who for the most Part are foolish, simple, and of weak Conceits;
whereas those who have been most famous for worldly Wisdom and Understanding, they have been hardly brought to the Subjection of God’s Wisdom and Truth. This is that which the Apostle doth teach, Not many wise, not many mighty are called, &c. We preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a fum-bling block, and to the Grecians foolishness.

1 Cor. 1. 23, 28.

2. The Will must be renounced in Reference to Christ. Servants must not follow their own Will, but their Matters Directions; how much more ought we who always may justly suspect our selves, and can never suspect the Will of Christ, it being the Square of Right? For therefore is a Thing good, and just and equal, because God wills it; hence *our Will, if good, yet sometimes it must be denied; that if evil, and contrary to the Will of God, it must be subdued. It is meet that Hagar should Roop to Sarah, our Will to Christ’s Will.

3. Our Affections and Senses must be denied, both as good, and as they are Cherishers of evil, or Opposers of good. This latter is that crucifying of the flesh, with the lusts and affections, which the Apostle mentions, Gal. 5.
24. But all these being within the Compats of natural Life, I shall only are, & cohibimus cum illas abnegasse legimus. Job. 5. 30, Luke 22, 42. Non mea voluntas, sed tua fiat.

self-denial.

infist on that Self which we call Life. And concerning which, as in the Former, I shall give the Cautions.

The Cautions are these.

1. That our Being, or Life is in itself the Gift of God, and the Blessing of God. It was God that breathed into man the breath of life, Gen. 2. 7. The Spirit of God hath made me, said Elisha, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life, Job 33. 4. He gives it, for he is the Fountain of it. With thee is the fountain of life, and in thy light shall we see light, Psal. 36. 9. This was the Sum of Paul's Sermon to the Athenians, he giveth to all Life, and Breath, and all Things; and to this Purpose he cites Aratus one of their Greek Poets, In him we live, and move, and have our being, Acts 17. 25, 28. And as it is the Gift, so it is the Blessing of God, hence the Promise of Life, and of long Life is made to obedient children, Exod. 20. 12. and this turned unto a Prayer by the believing Parents, it is usually called by the Name of Blessing.

2. Notwithstanding it is the Blessing of God, yet we must deny it for God. As in these Cases.

1. As a Sacrifice. If God will rather be honoured by the Death, than by the Life, by the Sufferings, than by the Services of his Saints, in this Case we should be willing to submit to God. Thus many of the Martyrs who had Opportunity of Flight, yet tarried to Witness the Truth, and gave their Lives to the Flames for it. It is not what I, or others may think, that God will be honoured this Way or that Way, but we should observe what is God's Will, and which Way God will be honoured. All our Intentions and Aims at the Glory of God are nothing, God cares not for them, if they be out of his Way. It was an excellent

Resolution of David, If I shall find favour in the eyes of the Lord, he will bring me back again; but if he thus say, I have no delight in thee, behold here I am, let him do to me as seemeth good to him, 2 Sam. 15. 25, 26.

2. As a Temptation. Thus rather than sin, the primitive Christians, when apprehended, choose willingly to die. We have a notable Story of that heroi-cal Mother, and her seven Sons, 2 Mach. 7. who rather than they would break God's Law in eating forbidden Meats, they died one after another, the Mother in the mean while being content to see them all butchered before her Eyes, and left of all the dying also. Surely Life is nothing in Comparison of those glorious invisible Rarities which sin may hinder us from; and therefore if it be on this condition that we may avoid sin, that we may be sure of the Main, that by losing Life we may go to Christ, in whom we shall find with an infinite Overplus whatsoever we can lose for his Sake; then we must deny Life itself.

Sect. XVIII.

Of the Manner of denying our natural Life for Jesus Christ.

The Directions of Self-denial in Respect of our natural Being, or Life, are these.

1. Apprehend God's Love to our Souls in his Son: He thought nothing too good for us, God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, John 3. 16. and this he did for us when we were enemies, Rom. 5. 8. Nay God hath not only given us his Son for a Saviour, but he hath given us himself for an Husband; now as the Husband loves all his Family, but gives himself to his Wife, so God beftows his Sun to shine, and his Rain to fall on the good and bad, but he gives himself only to his Saints.
O let us apprehend this Love, let us often by sad and solemn Meditation renew the sense of this Love to us in Christ, and we cannot but give up all we have, and all we are to God.

2. Get we a Sovereign Love to God again. It was from this sovereign Love that those admirable Self denials of the Martyrs sprung; we must not think they had Bodies of Brains, or Muscles of Steel, or that they were not as sensible of Torments as others were; Oh no, it was their Love to God did swallow up all; as the Heat of a Fever swallows up the Heat of an Ulcer, or as the Heat of a Fire swallows up the Heat of a Fever; so the Heat of the Martyrs Love to God swallowed up the Heat of all Fires, together with the Heat of all Loves to their Wives, Children, Friends, and their own Lives. I deny not but we may love these Comforts with a subordinate Love, as an Husband will allow that his Wife should love her Friends with an inferior Love, only the prime Love must be kept for him; nor will it be sufficient that she love her Husband better than many Thoufands, if there be one in her Affections before him; so it will not be sufficient that we love the Lord better than many Things; but we must love him better than every Thing. Such a Love was in Paul, Phil. 3. 7. and in the brethren who loved not their lives unto the Death, Rev. 12. 11. We must love the Lord above all, not subordinate as a creature, but sovereignly as a Creator.

3. Let us cleave to God with Stedfastness and Resolvedness of Spirit, come what will come. Thus Barnabas exhorts the Brethren, that with purpose of heart they would cleave to the Lord, Acts 11. 23. Thus Daniel was purposed not to defile himself with the portion of the King's meat, though it cost him his liber-

4. Endeavour after a Disposition or Habit to lay down Life for a good Conscience. It is a true saying, that None are saved but Martyrs, I mean Martyrs either actually or habitually, having Faith enough to encourage, and Love enough to constrain them to be Martyrs, if the Honour of their Profession should require it. This takes away their Objection who say, It is harsh and unseasonable to trouble us now with any thorny Discourse of Martyrdom. We must know that the Habit of Martyrdom is included in the most fundamental Principles of Christianity, and therefore they deserve no Answer but silence who think a Discourse of it at any Time harsh and unseasonable. The Church never enjoys such a calm, but a terrible Storm may unexpectedly dash it away, and therefore there is no

Man tho born in the most peaceable Time of the Gospel, but ere the Glass of his Life be run out, he may be overtaken with a fiery Trial. 3. There is no Profesor of the Gospel tho he live and die during the publick Tranquility of it, but he may privately be brought to that Plunge, that either he must hazard his Life, or else in some fearful horrible Manner, against his Conscience, dishonour Christ; as, suppose a Ruffian, that had no Religion of his own, should pull any of us into a Corner, and with a naked Blade, either make us forswear our Religion, or loll our Life. 4. As the Prophet Ezekiel forewarned the Jews, We have had mischief upon mischief, and rumour upon rumour, Ezek. 7. 37. and if Mischief and Rumours continue, and multiply upon us as fast as they have done of late, the Days may be toooner upon us than we are aware, when there may be too much Occasion to practive this Point of Self-denial, and no Time to preach it; howsoever, let us seek of God for the Habit or Disposition of it, for that is fundamental.

5. Maintain a godly Jealousy and Fear of our own Hearts; for want of this all the Disciples fainted, especially Peter, and shamefully denied Christ. Memorable is that Story of Pendleton and Sanders; Sanders was fearful he should endure the Fire; Pendleton seemed resolute. Be not fearful, said he to Sanders for thou shalt see me, and this fat Flesh of mine fry in the Fire before I will yield. Yet he that was so strong in his own Strength fell away, and the other, so fearful was enabled by God to burn for his Truth. To fear Martyrdom, and to pray against it, with Submission to God’s Will, is warranted by our Saviour’s own Example. He prayed earnestly, that if it were possible, the cup might pass away from him; but still with Submission to his Father’s Pleasure. That Place concerning our Saviour, is very remarkable, Who, in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications, with strong cries and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard, in that fearful, Heb. 5. 7. Heard? how was he heard? Not in removing the Cup from him, but in strengthening him to drink it with Victory. If we pray as Christ prayed, the Cup shall be removed from us, or sweetened unto us.

6. Refist, wherein we can, fleshly Impediments; for the Flesh will be ready by all Means to hinder us from offering this Sacrifice to God. As, 1. By Distinctions. Is a Man resolved to hold his Estate, Liberty, Life, come on what will? such a one never wants a Distinction to mock God withal; so the Teachers of Circumcision at Galat. As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, these constrain you to be circumcised, only left they should suffer perdition for the Cross of Christ, Gal. 6. 12. They did not see, but to avoid Persecution, they might preach Circumcision, being they did it pro abundante cautela, not to overthrow the Faith of Christ crucified, but for their Security. Such Distinctions many use at these Times. 2. By Persuasions. Thus carnal Reaton pleads the Case, Give a little to the Times, save thyself and thine. Or thus, What, are you the only quicksighted Men, wiser than a Church, than a State? May there not, will there not a Law come out in a Moment, whereby you may be disfranchized, or exiled, or banished; or burned? But to answer these Reasonings, remember Christ’s Answer to Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan, for thou savourest not the things of God, but of Men, Matth. 16. 23. A certain certain Person persuading an other to recant the Truth, told him that he spoke to him out of Love. O yes, said the Martyr, I confess it, but there is something in you that is mine enemy, meaning the flesh. And it is said of Mr. Hooper, that when a Box was brought, and laid before him on a Stool with his Pardon from the Queen in it, if he would recant; he being now at the Stake, at the very sight of it cried out,

If you love my Soul, away with it, away with it. 3. By Terrors. Thus when the Spirit of God had suggested unto Spira to suffer, or if he doubted of the Ifue, to go away, tho never so far, rather than deny the Lord of Life, presently the flesh began in this Manner, Be well advised, fond Man, consider Reasons on both sides, and then judge. Doth thou not foresee what Misery this Rafneth will bring upon thee? Thou shalt lose thy Substance, thou shalt undergo the most exquisite Torments that Malice can devise, thou shalt be counted an Heretick of all, and thou shalt die shamefully. What thinkest thou of the flinking Dungeon, the bloody Ax, the burning Faggot? Wilt thou bring thy Friends into Danger, thou hast begotten Children, wilt thou now cut their Throats? It concerns us in this Cafe to outwit the Flesh; if it tells us of Prisons, let us tell it how much more terrible is the Prison of Hell; if it present to us the Condemnation of Tribunals, do we present to it that great Condemnation of the great Tribunal; if it threaten us with Displeasure of Friends, present to it the Displeasure of God, and of glorified Spirits.

7. Consider, and peruse the Acts and Monuments of the Church in the Cafe of Martyrdom. Others Sufferings cannot but beget some Resolutions in us. And herein if we begin with the Beginning of the World; As soon as we hear of any Work of Religion, we hear of the Persecution of Abel. Noah’s Ark or the Waters was a Type of the Condition of the Church of Christ in Afflictions; What hard Things did Abraham, and the rest of the Patriarchs endure in their Generations? History tells us, that Isaiah was fawn alon as with a wooden Saw; Jeremiah was put into a Dungeon, sticking in the Mire, as some Stories say, even up to the ears, and after was ftoned to Death; Ezekiel was slain in Babylon; Micah was thrown down from a steep Place, and his Neck broke; Amos was smitten with a Club, and so brained. The Story of the Persecution of the Machabees, prophesied, Dan. 11. 36. and recorded by the Apostle, Heb. 11. 35. is exceeding lamentable; The Text says that they were tortured, mocked, scourged, imprisoned, fstoned, fawn alon, slain with the sword, wandred up and down in sheep-skins, and goat-skins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented, they wandred in deserts, and mountains, and dens and caves in the earth. And for the Christian Church, we know what Christ himself the great Leader of his People suffered: When Stephen, the first Christian Martyr was fstoned, Dorathesus witniffeth that two thousand of others which believed on Christ were put to Death the same Day. That many suffered in thse very Times, is plain to me from these very Texts, And Saul made havock of the Church: And Herod vexed the Church, Acts 8. 37, and 12. 1. Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why then are they baptized for the dead? 1 Cor. 15. 19. This Place is difficult, and many Interpretations are given of it; but this I prefer, as being most agreeable to the Scope of the Apostle; Else what shall they do (what shall become of them, in what miserable condition

dition were they who are baptized (with their own Blood, not only suffering grievous Torments, but even Death itself,) for the dead (for the Caufe and Quarrel of the Dead, for the Faith of them that now are dead, and in special for maintaining this very Article of the Resurrection of the Dead.) The Force of this Argument is very evident, and it well agreeth with the Argument of the Apostle, that enthuith, ver. 30, 31, 32. Why stand we in jeopardy every hour? I protest by our rejoicing which I have in Christ, I dy daily. And if I have fought with beasts of Ephesus after the manner of men, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not at all? As for the Word Baptizing, it is only so taken frequently by the Fathers, and Schoolmen, who usually distinguish Baptism into Baptismam flaminis, fluminis, & sanguinis, Of the Spirit, Water, and Blood; but also in sundry Places of Scripture, as Matt. 20, 22. Mark 10, 38, 39. Luke 12, 50.

I have a baptism to be baptized with, and how am I straitened till it be accomplished. All the Apostles after many fore and grievous Afflictions suffered many violent Deaths, John only excepted, who yet was banished into Patmos, and by Domitian thrown into a Tun of scalding Lead, though by a Miracle delivered. Brightman, speaking of the Stories of thole Times, says, that every Page and Leaf is as it were all red coloured in Blood: The Covenant of Grace is a bloody Covenant, both in regard of the Blood of Christ first sealing it, and the Blood of the blessed Martyrs adding likewise their Seals in confirming it.

It is a most heart-breaking Meditation to consider the Ragings, Madness, and Fury of the Heathen against the Christian in those Times. Hieron, in an Epifile to Cromatius, says, that there was no Day in a whole Year, unto which the Number of Five thousand Martyrs cannot be ascribed, except only the first day of January. All the Policy, Wit, Strength and Invention of Men and Devils were exercised and stretched out to the utmost, for devising the most miserable Torments, and exquisite Tortures; as Plates of Iron burning hot, laid upon their naked Flesh; Pinsers red hot pulling of the Flesh from the Bones; Bodkins pricking and thrusting all over their Bodies; casting into Lim-kilns, and into caldrons of scalding Lead, whipping until almost all the Flesh was torn off their Bodies, and their Bones and Bowels appeared, and then laid flat upon sharp shells and Knives; their skins were flead off alive, and then their raw Flesh was rubbed with salt and vinegar, their Bodies were beaten all over with clubs until their Bones and joints were beaten afunder; they were laid upon Gridirons, roasted and bafted with salt and vinegar; one Member was pulled from another; by affaining them to the Boughs of Trees, they rent their Bodies afunder; they were tossed upon the Horns of Bulls, with their Bowels hanging out; they were cast among Dogs to be devoured; they were put under the Ice naked into Rivers; they were tortured on the Rack, on the Wheel, and on the Gibbet with flaming Fire under them; they made it their Sports to see them devoured by wild Beasts; and in the Night, instead of Torches, they burnt the Bodies of the Saints to give them Light for their Pastimes. In After-times Antichrift began to rise, and to bring a fearful Darkness over the Face of the Church; of which Times the Holy Ghost prophefied, Rev. 8. 12. The Moon, and Son, and Stars were smitten. Never will be forgotten these lamentable Extremities that God's poor People then endured; large large Volumes are extant, the reading whereof might cause the harpest Heart that lives to break. O let us warm our Hearts at these Fires! Let us pursue and consider those Acts and Monuments of the Church in the case of Martyrdom.

8. Be acquainted with the Promises of Self-denial; have always a Word at Hand to relieve ourselves withal in the worst of Sufferings. Now these Promises are of several sorts. 1. Of Assistance, Psal. 9. 9. 18. Psal. 37. 24. Psal. 46. 1, to the End. 2. Of Acceptance, Exod. 2. 24. 25. Exod. 3. 21. Pet. 2. 20. 3. Of Reward, Matth. 19. 29. Luke 18. 30. And again the Promises of Reward are, 1. Of this Life, He that forsakes all for Christ, shall receive an hundred-fold, faith Matthew: Manifold more in this present time, faith Luke; the Joy, the Peace he shall have in his Conscience shall be many Times, an hundred Times better than the comfort of all these outward Things. O but (may some say) what will become of my Posterity? Peace of Conscience, and Joy in the Holy Ghost redounds only to my self, but for my children, I shall leave them fatherless and helpless: To this by Way of Answer; God often stiles himself the Father of the Fatherless, and if of any Fatherless, then surely of those whose Parents have lost their Lives for Jesus Christ. Leave thy fatherless Children, faith the Lord, I will preserve them alive, and let thy Widows trust in me, Jer. 49. 11. 2. Of eternal Life, such shall inherit eternal Life, Matth. 19. 29. Mark 10. 30. Luke 18. 30. Be of good comfort, (said Bradford to his Fellow-Martyr) we shall have a merry Supper with the Lord this Night. Christians! What would we have; the Soul indeed is of a large Capacity, all Things here below can ever satisfy it, but eternal Life, the Inheritance above will fill the Understanding with Knowledge, and the Will with Joy, and that in to great a Measure, that the Expectation of the Saints shall be exceeded; for he shall be admired of them that believe, 2 Thess. 1. 17.

9. Mind the Principle that must carry us through Death, and make Death itself honourable. We read, Heb. ii. 34, 35, 37. that by faith some quenched the violence of fire, Others were tortured. They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, they were tempted, they were slain with the sword; and all this by faith. Faith is the Grace that enables us to deny ourselves, yea, Life itself; other Graces may do much, but Faith hath the principal Work in this. By faith ye stand, said the Apostle to his Corinthians, chap. i. 24. it is Faith that makes a Man stand in his greatest Trials, and therefore when Christ saith how Peter should be tempted, he tells him that he had prayed that his faith should not fail, Luke 22. 32. noting that while his Faith held, all would be sure; Faith in this Case is like the Cork that is upon the Net, tho the Lead on the one side sink it down, yet the Cork on the other side keeps it up on the Water: David professed, that he had faint-ed, unless he had believed, Psal. 27. 13. Believing keeps from Fainting in the Time of Trouble.

10. When Sufferings come, then stir up, and put forth the Grace of Faith in the Exercife of it: Look up to God for Strength and Assistance, Commit ourselves and Cause wholly to him, plead the Promise, plead our Call that he hath called us to this, plead the Cause that it is his. Mr. Tindal in a Letter of his to Mr. Fryth who was then in Prison, hath four Expressions of the Work of Faith in the Time
Self-denial.

Time of Suffering; If you give yourself, cast yourself, yield yourself, commit yourself wholly, and only to your loving Father, then shall his Power be in you, and make you strong, he shall set out his Truth by you wonderfully, and work for you above all your Heart can imagine. But because Faith is the Root, or Principle of Self-denial in this Case of Sufferings, I shall therefore propound two Questions in the following Paragraphs.

Queft. 1. What are the Differences betwixt Faith and Pride of Heart in Sufferings?
I answer, 1. If Pride be the Principle, a Man is ready to put forth himself tho he be not called: It is true that in some extraordinary Cases, a Man may have an inward Calling by some extraordinary Motion of God's Spirit, as some of the Martyrs had; but in an ordinary Way, a gracious Heart tears itself, and dares not venture till God calls, it depends more upon God's Call, than any Strength it hath to carry it through.

2. If Pride be the Principle, a Man cares not for God's Name any further than he is interested in it; should God ule others to honour his Name, and he no way come in, he regards it not.

3. If Pride be the Principle, a Man doth not so much strengthen himself with the Consolations of God; or the Sweet of the Promises, as he doth with his own self-proud Thoughts; the Heart is not so much taken up with the glorious Reward of God in Heaven, as with some present Self-good here: whereas Faith is altogether for spiritual and supernatural Good, it carries the Soul beyond all present Things.

4. If Pride be the Principle, there is no good got by Sufferings, the Soul doth not thrive under them, it doth not grow in Grace by them, it grows not more holy, more heavenly, more favourly in all the Ways of it, the Lustre and Beauty of Godliness doth not increase upon such a one, he is not more spiritual, he doth not cleave closer to God, he is not more frequent with God in secret, he doth not enjoy more inward Communion with God than formerly; but if Faith be our Principle in Suffering, there is never such thriving in Grace as then, then the Spirit of Glory and of God ueth to rest upon God's servants; a godly Man's Service prepares him for Sufferings, and his Sufferings prepare him for Service; the Church never shined brighter in Holiness than when it was under the greatest Persecution.

5. If Pride be the Principle, there is not that Calmness, Meekness, Quietness, Sweetness of Spirit in the carriage of the Soul in sufferings, as where Faith is: Pride causeth the Heart to swell, to be boisterous and Disquiet, to be fierce and vexing, because it is crossed; but Faith brings in the Spirit of Jesus Christ, and that was a quiet and meek Spirit in sufferings, as the sheep before the shearer, Acts 8. 32. When he was reviled, he reviled not again, 1 Pet. 2. 23. Where is reviling and giving ill Language, there is Pride stirring in that Heart. Cyprian speaking of the Martyrs contemning Death, faith, We see not that humble Loftiness, or that lofty Humility in any, but in the Martyrs of Jesus Christ.

6. If Pride be the Principle, there is joined with that Man's Sufferings a Desire of Revenge; he would, if he could, return Evil for Evil, and doth as far as he dares; but those who have Faith to be their Principle, they commit their Cause to God; though men curse, they bless; they can heartily pray for their Persecutors, as Christ and Stephen did for theirs: The Banner over a gracious Heart, in all Troubles that befals it, is Love; and therefore whatever the Wrongs be that are offered to such, there is still a Spirit of Love preserved in them.

Quest. 2. Wherein lies the Power of Faith to carry us through Sufferings and Death?

1 answer, 1. Faith discovers the Reality of the Beauty and Excellency of spiritual Things, which before were looked upon as Notions, Conceits, and imaginary Things; hence Faith is described to be the substance of things hoped for, and the evidence or demonstration of things not seen, Heb. 11.1. The Things of Christ, of Grace, of Heaven, what poor empty Notions were they to the soul, what uncertain Things, before Faith came in? But Faith makes them to be glorious Things, Faith discovers such real, certain Excellencies in them, and is so sure, that it will venture Soul and Body, it will bear an Hardship, yea, it will venture the infinite Loss of Eternity upon them.

2. Faith makes the future Good of spiritual and eternal Things to be as present to the soul, and works them upon the Heart as if they did now appear. This comes to pass, because Faith sees Things as the Word makes them known, it pitches upon the Word in that Way that it reveals the Mind of God; now the Word speaks oftentimes of Mercies that are to come, as present Things. Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem, for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem, Is. 52.9, 10. Thus the Prophet speaks of the Deliverance of the Church from Captivity, as a Thing already done, which was not fulfilled many Years after. As soon as Jehoshaphat had received the Promise, he falls on praising the Lord, as if the Mercy were already enjoyed, Praise ye the Lord, for his Mercy endureth for ever, 2 Chron. 20.17, 18. Christ's faith of Abraham that he saw, and rejoiced, and was glad, John 8. 56. Christ's Day was unto him, as if it had been then. And it is said of the Godly who lived in former Ages, that the Promises were afar off, to be fulfilled, yet they embraced them, Heb. 11. 13. The Word in the Original signifies, they saluted them. Now Salutations are not but between Friends when they meet together. Faith takes hold upon eternal Life, 1 Tim. 6. 19. it takes present Possession of the glorious Things of the Kingdom of God; it makes the soul to be in Heaven conversing with God, and Christ, his Saints, and Angels already: That which is promised, Faith accounts it given, And the land which I gave to Abraham, to thee will I give it. It was only promised to Abraham, but Abraham's Faith made it to him as given. Gen. 35. 12.

3. Faith makes use of Things past as if they were present. 1. It makes use of God's Mercies to our Forefathers; thus the Church makes use of the Mercy of God to Jacob, when he wrestled with him, and prevailed, as if it were a present Mercy to themselves. He had power over the Angel, and prevailed, he wept, and made supplication unto him, he found him in Bethel, and there he spake with us, Hos. 12. 4. not only with Jacob, but with us, q. d. Whatsoever Mercy God showed him, we make it ours, God spake with us. Thus David and his People did, when he said, He turned the sea into dry land, they went through the flood on foot, there did we rejoice in him, Psal. 66. 6. The Comfort of the Mercies of God for many Years past to their Fore-fathers, they make as theirs, there we rejoice in.

in him. 2. Faith makes use of all the Promises that God hath made to any of his People, tho' never so long ago, yea it fetcheth out the Comfort of these Promises, as if they were made now to us. Compare Josh. 1. 5. with Heb. 13. 5. God faith to Joshua, I will be with thee, I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. This Paul applies to the Believers in his Time, as if it had been made to them. Be content, faith he, with such things as ye have, for he hath said, I will not leave thee, nor forsake thee. Upon this one Instance, whatsoever Promise God ever made to any of his People since the Beginning of the World for any Good, if our Condition comes to be the same, Faith will make it her own, as if God had but now made it to us in particular. 3. Faith makes use of God's former Dealings with ourselves; when all sense of God's Mercies fails, that God seems to be as an Enemy, Faith will fetch Life from his former Mercies as if they were now present. I have considered the days of old (faith David) the years of ancient time, I call to remembrance my song in the night. I said, this is my infirmity, but I will remember the years of the right hand of the most High, Psal. 77. 5, 6, 10. He checks himself for doubting of God's Mercies because of his former Mercies, and he recovers himself by bringing to Mind the former Dealings of God with him. Now in this Work of Faith what Abundance of Strength doth it bring in from former Mercies, former Promises, former Dealings? O this must needs wonderfully strengthen the Heart to any Suffering whatsoever.

4. Faith carries the Soul on high, above sense, above Reason, above the World; when Faith is working, Oh how is the soul raised above the Fears and Favours of Men? I care not (said Ignatius, a little before his Suffering) for any thing visible or invisible, so that I may get Christ; Let Fire, the Cross, the letting out of Beasts, breaking of my Bones, tearing of my Members, the grinding of my whole Body, and the Torments of the Devils come upon me, so that I may get Christ, Eph. 1. 3. c. 39. Faith puts an holy Magnanimity upon the soul, to flight and overlook with an holy Contempt, whatsoever the World proffers or threatens: Faith raises the soul to Converse with high and glorious Things, with the deep and eternal Counsels of God, with the glorious Mysteries of the Gospel, with Communion with God and Jesus Christ, with the great Things of Heaven and eternal Life. Men, before Faith comes into their souls, have poor low spirits, busied about mean and contemptible Things, and therefore every Offer of the World prevails with them, and every little Danger of Suffering scares them; but when Faith comes, there is another Manner of Spirit in a Man, a princely Spirit (as Luther calls it) that dares to adventure Loss of Life for the Name of Christ. When Valens the Emperor sent his Officers to Basil to turn him from the Faith, they first offered him great Preferments. But Basil rejected them with scorn, Offer these Things (says he) to Children; then they threatened him most grievously; Nay, threaten (said Basil) your purple Gallants, that gives themselves to their Pleasures. What great spirits did Faith put into those Worthies, who through Faith subdued Kingdoms, stopped the Mouths of Lions, quenched the Violence of fire, of weak were made strong, &c. Heb. 11. 33, 34. Certainly Faith is as glorious a Grace now as ever it was, and if it be put forth, it will enable the soul to do great Things; the raising of the soul above Reason and Sense
Self denial.

Senfe, is as great a Thing as any of these; the Faith of Abraham was most glorious, for which he is styled the Father of the Faithful, and yet the chief Thing for which he is commended; is, that he believed against Hope, Rom. 4.

18. When the Soul is in some Strait, it looks up for some Help, and sense says, it cannot be; Reason says, it will, wicked Men say, it shall not be; yea it may be, God in the Ways of his Providence seems to go crofs; as if he would not have it to be; yet, if Faith have a Word for it, it says, it shall be: Yea, when God seems to be angry, when there appears nothing to Senfe and Reason, but Wrath, yet even then, Faith hath hold on God's Heart, that his Hand cannot strike.

5. Faith gives the Soul an Interest in God, in Christ, in all those glorious Things in the Gospel, and in the Things of eternal Life: Faith is an appropriating, applying, an uniting Grace; It is a blessed Thing to have the fight of God, there is much Power in it; but to see God in his Glory, as my God, to see all the Majesty, Greatness, and Goodness of God, as these Things that my foul hath an Interest in, to see how the eternal Councils of God wrought for me to make me happy; to see Christ, in whom all Fulness dwells, in whom the Treasures of all God's Riches are, and all these are mine; to see Christ coming from the Father for me, to be my Redeemer, Oh what a blessed powerful Thing is this! What is all the World now to such a soul? where is all the Bravery of it, or the Malice and Opposition of it? the Loss of outward Things, Liberty or Life are great Evils to those who have no Interest in better, but to such as have Interest in higher Things, there is no great Matter tho they lose all these.

6. Faith sets all God's Attributes on work for the good and relief of a Believer; it is one Thing to have Interest in God and Christ, and another Thing to have God and Christ working for us. I will not deny but God and Christ are working still; yet when Faith lies still, and is not active, altho we do not lose our Interest in God, yet we cannot expect such sensible Manifestations of God's Workings for us. We have a notable Expression of God's stirring up his Strength and Wisdom for those whose Hearts are right with him, The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the Earth, to show himself strong for those whose Heart is perfect towards him, 2 Chron. 16. 9. Altho we be in the dark, and know not how to order our Steps, yet there is an infinite Wisdom working for us; altho we have but a little Strenght, yet if we have Faith to let God's Strength on Work, we shall (as the Church of Philadelphia) keep God's Word, and not deny his Name, Rev. 3. 8. Thus much for the Denial of natural Self.

Sect. XIX.

Of the Denial of religious, gracious, or renewed Self; and first of Cautions.

I MUST now direct in the last Place how we are to deny religious, gracious, or renewed Self; as a Man's own Duties, Holiness, Righteousness, the Graces of the Spirit. In Prosecution of which (as in the former) I shall give some Cautions.

Directions:

The Cautions are these.

1. That Graces, Duties are the special Gifts and Blessings of God. It is of the fulness of Christ that all we have received, even grace for grace, John 1.

17. And the Apostle tells us, That God hath blessed us with all spiritualblessings
Self-denial.

fings in heavenly places in Christ, Eph. 1.

3. Methinks here I see the transcendent Excellency of the Saints, the Betternefs of their Condition above all the Men of the World; if God have given a Man Grace, he hath the best and choicest of all that which God can give; God hath given us his Son, and God hath given us himself, and God hath given us his Spirit, and God hath given us the Graces of his Spirit; these are the finest of the Flower, and the Honey out of the Rock of Mercy; they that have this Gift need not to be discontented at their own, or envious at the condition of any other; they have the principal Verb, the one necessary thing. O blessed be the God, and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ who hath thus blessed us: How? with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places, Ephes. 1. 3.

2. notwithstanding they are God's special Gifts, yet we must deny them comparatively, and in some respects, as in these cafes.

1. In Point of Justification, in Relation to Righteousness, in Comparison of Christ, in the Notion of a Covenant of Life and Salvation. It is a dangerous Thing to hang the Weight of a Soul upon any Thing which hath any Mixture of Weakness, Imperfection or Corruption in it, as the purest and best of all our Duties have; it is a dangerous Thing to teach, That Faith, or any other evangelical Grace, as it is a Work done by us, doth justify us: There is nothing to be called our Righteousness, but the Lord our Righteousness, Jer. 23. 6. Faith itself doth not justify habitually, as a Thing fixed in us, but instrumentally, as that which receives and lets in the Righteousness of Christ shining thro' it upon us; as the Window lighteth by the Sun-beams which it lets it, or as the Cup feeds by the Wine which it conveys. So then in Point of Justification we are to renounce all our Duties and Graces.

2. In Point of Sanctification; For so we are to attribute the Strength, the Power, and the Glory of all our Graces and Duties unto Jesus Christ, and nothing to our selves. And yet understand we aright, tho every Believer is thus to deny himself, in spiritual Things, even in the Point of Sanctification, yet he is not to speak evil of the Grace of God within himself; he may not miscall his Duties and Graces, saying, These are nothing but the Fruits of Hypocrisy, for then he should speak evil of the Spirit whole Works they are; neither is he to trample or tread on these Graces of God: A Man tramples and treads upon the Dirt, but he will not trample upon Gold or Silver; why? because that is a precious Mettal, and the stamp or Image of the Prince is upon it: Now our Duties and Graces, our Righteousness and Holiness, as to the Matter of Justification, they are nothing worth, and so we trample upon all; but as to the Matter of Sanctification, they are precious Mettal, and they have the Image of Christ upon them, and therefore for a Man to tread on them, for a Man to say, All this is nothing but Hypocrisy, that is not Self-denial; properly Self-denial in Spiritual Things, as to the Matter of Justification, it is to renounce all; and as to the Matter of Sanctification, it is to attribute the Strength, the Power and Glory of all unto Jesus Christ, and nothing to ones self. This is true Self-denial.

Sect. XX.

Of the Manner of denying our religious, gracious, or renewed self.

The Directions of Self-denial in Respect of our religious, gracious, or renewed self, are these.

1. Be we sensible of, and humbled for our
Self-denial.

Our Pride in spiritual Things. There is nothing that a Christian is more apt to be proud of than spiritual Things. Before he takes up Profession, possibly he is proud of his Clothes, or Friends, or Honours, or Possessions; but afterwards there is nothing that he is more apt to be proud of than of his Parts and Gifts, and Graces, and spiritual Things; for look where a Man's Excellency lies, there his Pride grows; now the Excellency of a Christian lies in spiritual Things, and therefore there his Pride grows, and there he is most apt to be proud. O be we sensible of this, and mourn for this! It was Mr Fox his Speek, As I get good by my Sins, so I get hurt by my Graces. It is a dangerous Thing to be proud of a Man's Duties and spiritual Gifts, we had better to be proud of Clothes, or Friends, or Honours; for this Pride of spiritual things is directly opposite to a Man's Justification. The first Step to Humility is to see one's Pride; the first Step of Self-denial is to be convinced of one's Inclination or Desire after self-exalting, self-admiring, self-advancing. O what a proud Heart have I? what a self-advancing Heart have I? There is no Believer but he hath something of self; be he never so humble, yet he hath something still that tastes of the cask; there was never any that was so transformed, melted or changed into the Mold of the Gospel, but there was still some savour of self remaining in him; we had need therefore to be jealous of ourselves, and to watch over ourselves; and if at any time (self break out, if at any time the soul begins to be advanced in regard of duty or spiritual things, let us fall down before God, and humble ourselves for the Pride of our Hearts.

2. Look up, and consider the Glory, Purity and Holiness of God. This consideration will humble a Soul, and cause it to deny itself in spiritual things. See this in Job, no sooner had he a great Prospect of the Glory of God, but he denies himself concerning his own Righteousness, which before he stood much upon to his Friends. I know it is so of a truth, but how should man be just with God? if he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand, Job 9. 2. 3. God's Fullness will convince us abundantly of our Emptiness, his Purity will shew us our spots, his All-sufficiency - our Nothingness. When Job was brought a little nearer unto God, he was more humbled before God. I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear, but now mine eyes seeth thee. Job 42. 5. 6. (i. e.) I have a clearer and more glorious Manifestation of thee to my soul than ever: I now perceive thy Power, thy Holiness, thy Wisdom, thy Faithfulness, thy Goodness, as if I saw them with my eye. Wherefore I abhor myself in dust and ashes. He could not go lower in his Thoughts of himself than this Expression laid him; Abhorrence is a Perturbation of the Mind arising from vehement Dislike, or extreme Dislike; Abhorrence strictly taken is Hatred wound up to the height; and to abhor, repenting in dust and ashes, is the deepest Act of Abhorrence: Thus low Job goes, not only to a Dislike, but to the furthest Degree of it, abhorrence of himself when he saw the Lord: See this in Isaiah, when God came near him, and he saw much of God, then he cried out, Woe is me, for I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, Isa. 6. 5. How knows he that? Why, mine eyes have seen the King the Lord of Hosts. What? did not Isaiah know he was a man of polluted lips till then? yes, but he was never so sensible of it as then: He saw his Pollution more than ever by the Light of the Glory of God that shone round about him.
him; he never saw himself so clearly as when the Majesty of God dazzled his Eyes. When the Sun shines bright in a Room, we may see the least mote in the Air; so when the Glory of God irradiates the soul, we see all the Motes and Atoms of sin, the least spot, and Unevenness of our Hearts and Lives.

3. Have Christ in Eye. The more we see an humble Christ, a self-denying Christ, the more shall we learn Humility and Self-denial. Now Christ was the most eminent, transcendent Example of self-denial that ever was. He thought it no robbery to be equal with God, and yet be humbled himself and took upon him the form of a servant, Phil. 2. 6, 7. O what self-denial is here? was there ever such a self-denial as this? Christians! consider your Christ, and the more will you learn to deny your selves even in spiritual Things.

4. Acknowledge we our selves Debters to Christ for all our Gifts, and for all our Graces. Possibly a Man may wear brave Apparel, but he owes for them at such a shop, while he is abroad he swaggers, and is proud of his Clothes, but when he comes into the shop, and looks upon the Book, and considers what he hath to pay, he strikes sail then: Thus the Gospel is the great shop, and from Christ in the Gospel we have all our Gifts and Graces, and tho I may be proud in Spirit at another Time, yet if I come into the Gospel, and see what an infinite Debter I am to Christ, and to free grace for all that ever I have, then I think, What? shall I be proud? what? shall I not deny myself in spiritual Things?

5. Study the Gospel, and the Way of the Gospel. Where shall we see an humble Christ but in the Gospel? Where shall we see the rich and free Grace of God in Christ, but in the Gospel? Where shall we get Faith in Christ, but in the preaching of the Gospel, and in the studying of the Gospel? Surely this Grace of self-denial in spiritual things grows only in the Garden of the Gospel; I deny not but there is a common, field-Humility, or self-denial, as I may to speak; such a self-denial I mean, as grows among the Heathen, and among moral Men; but betwixt that and this we may observe these Differences.

1. Take a moral, civil Man, and tho he may seem to be humble and to deny himself, yet he is proud of his Humility. A Philosopher coming into Plato's House, and seeing it very neat, I trample upon Plato's Pride, said he. But, said Plato, not without your own Pride. Now a Believer doth not only deny himself, but he is sensible of his own Pride, in that very Thing wherein he is humble.

2. Take a moral, civil Man, and tho he may seem to deny himself, yet it is but in this or that particular thing, but a Believer denies himself in every Thing. I count all things but dung and dross, faith the Apostle, for Jesus Christ, Phil. 3. 8.

3. Take a moral, civil Man, and tho he may seem to deny himself, yet it is but the Artifice of his Reason and Resolution; If I go on in such and such a Way, says he, I am undone. Hence he denies this Pleasure, and that Company. But now a Believer denies himself in spiritual Things by the beholding of Jesus Christ.

4. Take a moral, civil Man, and tho he may seem to deny himself, yet there is no Mystery in it; but there is ever a great Mystery of Grace in a Believer's Self-denial. As thus, he ever cries, What shall I do to be saved? And yet he professeth that he doth not expect to be saved by his doing; here's a Mystery. Again, he counts himself less than the least of all God's Mercies, and and yet he thinks God hath done more for him than if he had given him all the World; here's a Mystery. Again, he looks upon himself as the greatest Sinner, and thinks of every one better than himself, and yet when he looks upon a Drunkard, or a Swearer, or the like, he professeth that he would not change his Condition with such a Man for all the World; what a Mystery is this?

5. Take a moral, civil Man, and tho he may seem to deny himself in temporal Things, which Devils themselves may do, yet he cannot, as the Believer, deny himself in spiritual things. One makes mention of a certain godly Man that was sore tempted by Satan in his Time, the godly Man was much in Duty, to whom Satan said, Why takest thou this Pain? thou dost watch, and fast and pray, and abstains from the Sins of the Times; but O Man, what dost thou more than I do; art thou no Drunkard, no Adulterer, says Satan? no more am I. Doth thou watch, and fast, says Satan? I never slept, I never ate, nor drank; what dost thou more than I? I will tell thee, said the godly Man, I pray, I serve the Lord, I walk humbly, I deny myself; Nay then, says Satan, thou goest beyond me, for I am proud, and I exalt myself, and therefore wherein thou goest beyond me. And thus we may difference betwixt true Self-denial and false.

6. Rest not on any Thing below Jesus Christ. Neither Grace, nor Duties, nor Holiness are to be trusted upon. We must hold them fast in Point of Practice and Obedience, but it is our Sin and Danger to hold them fast in Reliance and Confidence. I desire to be rightly understood in this Truth. Some because they need not to rely on Duties, they let go their Duties, they let Prayer and Repentance and Sorrow for sin go, they say, It is no Matter for Duties, they need not to trouble themselves, Christ hath done all. This is to turn the Grace of God into Wantonness. We must let go both our Graces and Duties in Point of Justification, but hold them we must as our Lives in the Tenour and Conversation of our Lives. Prayer, hearing, fasting, repenting must not die whilst we live; do them we must, but glory in them we must not; we must not rest in any Thing whatsoever below Jesus Christ. I shall instance in these particulars.

1. We must not rest upon our own Preparations for Duties. It is a commendable Thing to prepare our Heart; we must pray that we may pray; we should have secret Communion with our God, before we come to seek communion with him in a Sermon; but we must not rest upon our own Preparation when we have prepared; if we advance that into the Throne of Jesus Christ, and rest upon that when we should only rest upon him, it is the Way to make all our Preparations miscarry.

2. We must not rest upon our Enlargements in Duties. It may be we have a spring-tide of Assistance comes in; a Minister preaches with great Presence of the Spirit of God, and a Saint prays, as we find it, in the Holy Ghost, Jude 20. i.e. He finds the holy Spirit of God leading him from Petition to Petition, melting him with Brokenness when he is confessing sin, filling him with rejoicing when he is remembering Mercy, raising him with an high Wing, as it were, of Importunity, when he is begging of Favour (as it was an admirable Temper in holy Bradford, that he was not content till he found God coming into his spirit with several Dispositions according to the several parts of his Prayer) and now as soon as the Duty is done, it may be he goes away, and and stooks himself. Oh what an admirable Prayer was here! Surely I shall do well this day, I shall be able to wrestle with all Temptations, this is the very Way to miscarry, thousands have found it; so that when he comes to pray again, it may be he prays must dully and flatly, the Spirit is grieved, and gone, and he can say little or nothing.

3. We must not rest upon the Comforts we have in Duty, or after Duty. It may be when we have been at Duty and have had some soul-ravishments, O now we think our Nest is built very high, and our Rock is firm, and we shall go on vigorously; Chryssom hath a saying to this Purpose, Me-thinks, faith he, a Saint when he comes from a Sacramento, should be able to fiue in the Face of a Devil, and tho he walk in midst of Snares, yet he should be able to encounter with them all. Comforts are very sweet Things, and indeed strengthening Things; The joy of the Lord is our strength, faith Nehemiah, ch. 8. 10. Nothing more animates souls than Joy, only here is the Danger, if we rest on these Joys and Comforts; surely if so, we provoke God to withdraw them. The Spirit of God is a most choice and tender Thing, it dwells in none but a clean pure Temple most cleanly swept; if any Pride spring up in our Hearts we lose our Comforts.

4. We must not rest upon Graces. This was Peter's Fault, he was ful of Conceit and Self-confidence, he had Grace, and he rested on it, Lord, the all for-sake thee, yet will not I, Mat. 26. 35. Yet soon after Peter did forfake and deny his Master, and we do not find Peter so confident afterwards: when Christ said to him, Simon Peter lovest thou me more than these? No comparative Words now; no more than Lord thou knowest I love thee, John 21.

15, &c. Peter was whipped with Self-confidence, and the woful Fruits of it, and now in a good Degree it was purged out of him. Surely it was a Lenfon well worth the learning tho it cost the whipping. We must not rest on Graces, nor on any Thing else on this side Jesus Christ.

7. Be often putting forth new Affings of Faith in Jesus Christ. The more we believe, the more do we deny religious Self. Hence it is that Self-denial in spiritual Things is not to be found in the Law, but in the Gospel; the Law tho it hath its Use (and we dare not but make Use of it) yet properly it will not make a Man to deny himself; but rather to seek himself in spiritual Things: Obey and live, faith the Law, but if thou failest in any one Point thou art lost for ever. In this Case (if there were no other Way) who would deny his own Righteousness? Nay who would not seek to save himself by his own Righteousness? But now says the Gospel, By Works thou canst not live, but if thou wilt throw down all thy own Righteousness at the Feet of Christ, and believe on him, and rest only on him, thou shalt be saved. O this will make a Man to deny his own Righteousness, and to deny himself in spiritual Things. Go we therefore to Christ, let us maintain believing Apprehensions of the Lord Jesus Christ. He alone is the humble self-denying Person that seeks Justification not by Works, but by Faith only.

8. Let it be the Joy of our Souls to exalt and set up Christ within our Souls. Tho in Order to Justification we must deny our Graces, eye Christ without us; yet we must have a care to see and feel Christ's Kingdom within us, to set up Christ in our Hearts, and to discern him ruling and commanding there as a King in his Throne. And there is true Self-denial in this, for where ever Christ reigns there Sin goes down. As the People would have all the Men put to Death which would not have Soul to reign over them, 2 Sam. 11. 22.
so doth a true believing Soul mortifie whatsoever opposeth Christ's Kingdom, he removeth whatsoever may hinder Christ's spiritual Dominion, he makes all veil and floor for Christ's Exaltation within him. O then let Christ reign over all within us, in our Understandings as a Prophet enlightning us, in our Wills as a King commanding us, in our Affections as a Priest morti-ifying us, in our Loves as a Husband marring us; let the whole Man be subject unto whole Christ. This is the Character of a true Self-denier, Christ rules within him, he every way subjects himself to Christ, in his Understanding to know Christ, in his Will to choose and embrace Christ, in his Thoughts to meditate upon Christ, in his Fear to serve and honour Christ, in his Faith to trust and depend upon Christ, in his Love to affect Christ, in his Joy to delight in Christ, in his De-fires to long after Christ, in his Endeavours to exalt Christ, in all his Duties, Graces, Gifts, Abilities, to make them serviceable unto Christ: Why this is to attribute the Glory of all our Duties and Graces to Jesus Christ, and nothing to ourselves. Now is Christ all in all, now we truly deny ourselves, our sinful selves, our natural selves, our religious selves. Thus much of Self-denial.

CHAP. VI.  SECT. I.

Of the Nature of Experiences.

EXPERIENCE (say lome) is a Knowledge and Discovery of Something, by sense not evident in itself, but manifested by some Event or Effect. This Description contains both natural and spiritual Experience;
but my Purpose is to speak only of the Latter, and in that Respect I look Strictly at Experiences, as real Proofs of Scripture-truths. When I mark how true every Part of God's Word is, how all the Doctrines, Threatnings and Promises contained therein, are daily verified in others, and in my self, and so improve or make use of them to my own spiritual Advantage, this I call Experience.

SECT. II.

Of the gathering of Experiences.

THAT our Experiences may further us in the Way to Heaven, we must learn. 1. To gather them. 2. To improve them.

1. For the gathering of them, the only Way is,

1. To mark things which fall out; to observe the Beginnings and Events of Matters, to eye them every Way, on every side, that they may stand us in Stead for the future; This Observation and pondering of Events, with the Causes that went before, is the Ripener of Wit; Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken for the time to come? Isa. 42. 23. Whoso is wise and will observe those things, even they shall understand the loving-kindness of the Lord, Psal. 107. 43.

2. To treasure up, and lay in these Observations, to have ready in Remembrance such Works of God as we have known and observed. The Philosopher

faith, that Experience is multiplex memoria. A multiplied Memory, because of the Memory of the same Thing often done, ariseth Experience. I remember the days of old, faith David; Psal. 143. 9. I remember how thou didst rebuke Abimelech, and overthrow Nimrod, and Pharaoh, and Abishophel: and thus would we treasure up Experiments, the former Part of our Life would come into help the latter, and the longer we live, the richer in Faith we should be; even as in Victories, every former Overthrow of an Enemy, helps to obtain a succeeding Victory. This is the Use of a sanctified Memory, it will lose nothing that may help in time of Need, or in the evil Day; it records all the Breathings, Movings, Stirrings, Workings of a Soul towards Christ, or of Christ towards a Soul.

3. To cast these things thus marked and laid in under several spiritual heads, of Promises, Threats, Deceits of the Heart, Subtilties of Satan, Allurements of the World, &c. I might enlarge the Heads into any Thing that is good or evil. 1. Into any Thing that is good, whether it be God, or the things given by God, his Spirit, his Countels, his Ordinances, his Work of Sanctionification, and all the Fruits of the Spirit. 2. Into any thing that is evil, whether it be Sin, or the Fruits of Sin, as Corruptions, Inability to good, Vanity of all the Creatures, the Judgments of God. Thus we must sort our Experiences, as the Apothecary sorteth his Drugs.

SECT. III.

Of the improving of Experiences.

2. FOR the improving of Experiences,

1. We must consider what Scripture-Truth is verified § Others. thereby in § Our selves.

1. In others, as if we consider how

God blesseth and chearzeth the religious; wherein that Text is verified, Blessed are the righteous, for it shall be well with them, for they shall eat the Fruits of their doing, Isa. 3. 10. Or if we observe how God puniseth the carnal and hypocritical, wherein that Text is verified, Wo unto the wicked, it shall be ill with them, for the reward of their bands shall be given them, Isa. 3. 11.

2. In our selves, as if by a spiritual Experience we taste God to be good; wherein that Text is verified, If to be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious, 1 Pet. 2. 3. If we find the things given us of God to be good; as that his Spirit is good, according to that Text, Thy Spirit is good, Psal. 143. 10. That his Ordinances are good, according to that Text, It is good for me to draw near to God, Psal. 73. 28. and, This is my comfort in affliction, for thy word hath quickned me, Psal. 119. 50. That Sanctification, and the Fruits of the Spirit, are good; according to that Text, It is good that a man should both hope, and quietly wait for the salvation of the Lord, Lam. 3. 26. It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most High, Psal. 92. 1. It is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, Gal. 4. 18. It is a good thing that the heart be established with grace, Heb. 13. 9. or if by Experience we discern the evil of sin it fell out of Measure sinful, according to that Text, Sin by the com- mandment is become exceeding sinful, Rom. 7. 13. If we find out the corruption of our own Nature, according to that Text, Behold, I was shapen in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me, Psal. 51. 5. If we discover the Abomination of our own Righteousness, according to that Text, We are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousness are as filthy rags, Isa. 64. 6.
If we see our own Inabilities to do any good, according to that Text, To will is present with me, but how to perform that which is good, I find not, Rom. 7. 18. Not that we are sufficient of our selves, to think any thing as of our selves, but our sufficiency is of God, 2 Cor. 3. 5.

If we have trial of the Vanity of all creatures, as of Riches, Honour, Wisdom, according to that Text, Vanity of vanities, all is vanity, Ecclef. 1. 2. O how will these bleffed Experiences, backed by Scripture truths, kindle our Affections! I deny not, Faith works more Steadfaftness, and Firmness of Adherence, but Experience usually breeds the greater Strength of Affections: I love the Lord, faith David, and why so? because (of this Experience) he hath heard my voice, and my Supplications, Psal. 116. 1.

2. We must endeavour to produce that Fruit, that Frame of Heart, which the Lord requires, directs, and looks for in such, and such cases. Thus the Sanftification of Experiences is evidenced by the Dispositions answering God's Mind, which are left upon the Heart, and brought forth in the Life afterwards; namely, when divine Discoveries are the more strongly believed, the Heart by Threats more kindly awed; Adherence to the Promises more strongly confirmed; the deceitful Heart more narrowly watched; Satan's Suggestions more watchfully refuted; the Bewitchings of the World kept at a greater distance from the Soul; in a Word, when by this experimental Application of God's Works to his Word, God is more advanced, and Self more abased, the Honour of the Lord is more studied, and the Edification of his People endeavoured, holy Love encreased, Service quick'ned, Faith strengthened, Christ improved; then is this Business Christianly managed indeed: But of these more largely in the next Section.

S E C T. IV.

Of the Sanftification of Experiences in their several Uses.

THE Sanftification of Experiences is evidenced, as we taid, by such Dispositions as these.

1. When divine Discoveries are more strongly believed; this is one Fruit of Experience, it wonderfully strengthens our Faith: When the Israelites saw the Egyptians drowned, then they believed the Lord, and his Servant Moses, Exod. 14. 31. When we find all Things in the Event to be as we believed, this confirms our Faith, as David knew that God favoured him, by his deliverances, Psal. 41. 11.

2. When the Heart by Threats is more kindly awed: This another Fruit of Experience; The righteous also shall see and fear, Psal. 52. 6. first see, and then fear: When the primitive Christians saw Ananias fall down, and give up the ghost, then great Fear came on them that heard those things, Acts 5. 5. This holy Fear many a time posl'feth the Saints: My feet trembleth for fear of thee, faith David, and I am afraid of thy judgments, Psal. 119. 120. When I heard, my belly trembled, faith Habakkuk, my lips quivered at the voice; rottenness entred into my bones, and I trembled in myself, that I might rest in the day of trouble, Hab. 3. 16. As the Child quaketh when he seeth his Father correct a Servant, so the Faithful tremble when they observe the Severity of God's Wrath against impenitent Sinners.

3. When the deceitful Heart is more narrowly watched: Hath it couzened us once and again? Experience hereof will breed in us a godly Jealousie and Suspicion over our Hearts; we are now conscious Experiences.

conscious of our own Weakness, and of the snare that is in every creature to take and entangle us; and this will make waking Believers circumjpect and careful how they entertain evil Motions, how they keep up holy Thoughts, how they perform holy Duties, how their Affections move towards that which is above, left they should miscarry upon the sands.

4. When Satan’s Suggestion are more watchfully refisted, this is the Voice of Experience in such a Case, Doth Satan furiously assail us? be not dismayed: Are his Temptations most fierce? be we most diligent in the Means of Grace, the Practice of Holiness, the Labours of an honest Calling; Pray earnestly, exercise Faith, stick faster to the Word of Promise, fill our Ears against Scruples and Doubtings; Draw nigh to God, for Satan will then cease to vex thee with his Temptations any more: Resist the Devil, and he will fly from you, James 4. 7. It is true, the Believer is too weak of himself to withstand the least Assault, but if we rely on the Lord, we may through his Power be made victorious in the greatest Assaults whatsoever; and here is the Comfort of Experience, That a Soul having once returned with Victory through the Power of his Might, he will abide in the secret place of the most High forever.

5. When the Bewitchings of the World are kept at a great Distance from the Soul: This was Solomon’s Case and Cure, after all his Travels and great Delights, he no sooner returns, as to himself, but he fills the World with this News; What News? Vanity: And what more? Vanity of vanities: And what more? All is vanity. Experience of its Vanity,means him from the Love of this Earth, it takes him off the Creature, and lifts him unto the Lord his Creator; so should we, if ever we were charmed with such Syren Songs, be more careful, left we be drawn away with the pleasing Delights of Things tranitory, and keep them at a greater Distance from us.

6. When the Lord Jesus is more studied and advanced: The Man that feels Christ’s gracious Power and Virtue, will be sure to exalt Christ, and set him up on high; when Israel saw the mighty Work of David in overthrowing Goliath, then David was much set by: The Believer’s Experience of Christ’s mighty and gracious Working, makes Christ very precious to him, then he cries, as the Soldiers of David, Thou art worth ten thousand of us, 2 Sam. 18. 3. Hence it is, that God’s People value him above all their Profits, Friends, Ease, Credit, and Lives. Matthew left the Receipt of Custom, James and John their Ships and Nets, and Father, and followed him, yea, many for his sake loved not their lives unto death; Rev. 12. 11 no Wonder, for they had many sweet Experiences of Christ: Christ to their Apprehension was the fairest of ten thousand, none but Christ, none but Christ.

7. When the Peoples Edification is endeavoured: Have we tasted of the Goodness of God? let us then provoke others to believe, and to serve the Lord together with us; this is one End of Experience, and that we should make of it towards others. When Gideon heard the telling of the Dream, and the Interpretation thereof, he worshipped, and turned into the Host of Israel, and said, Arise, for the Lord hath delivered the host of Midian into your hands, Judg. 7. 15.

8. When a Man’s own self is more abased: Do we live the Life of Grace and true Holiness? this will teach us to deny ourselves wholly: If any man (faith
Experience

10. When Hope is quickned, such Times may come, that Death and Darkness may surround us, and we may grovel in the Dust: But here is our Comfort, That tribulation worketh patience, and patience Experience, and experience hope, Rom. 5. 4. Have we any Experience of God’s gracious Dealings with us in former Times? have we sometime been refreshed by his Hand? hath he sometimes helped us? was he found of us, when we fought him? nay, often unsought for? hath he come to our souls, and renewed our stock, and filled our becalmed spirits with fresh Gales of Grace? how should we then but hope? As it was in this respect, it is, and ever shall be; if new Temptations arise, and new Lusts break in, and spoil, it is the Voice of Experience, I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion, and the Lord shall deliver me from every evil Work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom, to whom be glory and dominion for ever and ever, 2 Tim. 4. 17. And, We have the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raised the dead, who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver us, in whom we trust he will yet deliver us, 2 Cor. 1. 9, 10.

11. When Joys of the Spirit are raised and stirred up: Who is he that hath not been delivered out of some miserable Exigents? and if we have, we may well say with David, Thou hast shewed me great troubles and adversities, but thou wilt return and receive me, and wilt come again, and take me from the depth of the earth and comfort me, Psal. 71. 20. Former Comforts are as a Bill obligatory under God’s Hand, to assure us that he will not fortake us: Whom God loves, he loves unto the end, John 13. 1.
Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings, will I rejoice, Psal. 63. 7.

12. When Faith is more and more strengthened, Experiences should be turned into Confidences: Thus David improved his Experiences, The Lord that delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hands of this Philisfin, 1 Sam. 17. 36, 37. In like Manner should we take notice of God’s Dealings, and after we have once tried him and his Truth, let us trust him for the future; Tried Truth, and tried Faith unto it, sweetly agree, and answer one another. Hence it is that Experience of God’s Love should refresh our Faith upon any fresh Onset; So let all thine enemies perish, said Deborah, Judg. 5. 32. The Heart of that blessed Woman was enlarged, as it were prophetically; when one falls, they shall all fall; there is the like Reason, So let all thine enemies perish, O Lord. Experience in ourselves or others, will enlarge our Faith to look for greater Matters still from our gracious powerful God: Hath the Lord given us a victory over the Philisfins? then Awake, awake Deborah, awake, and be enlarged, O my faith! Every new Experience is a new Knowledge of God, and should fit us for new Encounters: I deny not but we ought to trust God upon other Grounds, tho we had never tried him; but when he helps our Faith by former Experiences, this should strengthen our confidence, and shore up our Spirits, and put us on to go more cheerfully to God, as to a tried Friend. It was the speech of one eminent in Holiness, upon the Occasion of the Accomplishment of a great Request made to God by him, I have tried God often, now I will trust him indeed. It we were read in the story of our Lives, we might have a Divinity of our own, drawn out of the Obivision of God’s particular Dealings towards us; we might say, This, and this truth I dare venture upon, I have found it true, I dare build all my Happiness upon it; as Paul, I know whom I have trusted, and I am persuaded he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day, 2 Tim. 1. 22. q. d. I have tried him, he never yet failed me, I am not now to seek how faithful he is to all those that are his.

13. When Scruples and Doubts are removed, O, cries the Soul, I have many experiences, but no comfort as yet. Thus David, after the remembrance of his songs in the night, left his soul still in doubt; and he goes on to say, Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favour able no more? Psal. 77. 7. In this cafe, it is the Duty of Christians, to call to Mind their former Experiences of Faith and Joy again and again: For tho they comfort not at one Time, yet they may at another. Have we found a Promise, which is a Breast of Consolation, milkless? yet again suck, comfort may come in the End: If after we have impanel’d a Jury and grand Inquest to search, and our first Verdict condemn us, or they being in an ignorant; yet do, as wise Judges often do, send them about it again, they may find it the next Time: Jonah looked once, it seems, and found no comfort; for he said, I will look again toward thine holy temple, Jonah 2. 4. So some have looked over their Hearts by Signs at one Time, and have to their Thinking found nothing but Hypocrisy, Unbelief, Hardness, Self seeking, &c. but not long after, examining their Hearts again by the same signs, they have expired the Image of God drawn fairly upon the Tables of their Hearts and so found a World of comfort.
Experiences.

O but (cries the soul) I have tossed and tumbled over my Heart, I have searched into the Registers and Records of God's Dealings, and methinks, I can call nothing into Remembrance betwixt God and me. What, nothing? Look again: Did God never speak peace to our Hearts? Did Christ never shed his Love abroad in our souls? Have we at no Time found in our Heart pure Strains of Love to Christ? Pure Drops of godly sorrow for offending Christ? Have we never an old tried Evidence, which hath been acknowledged and confirmed again and again in open courts? What, not one? Surely, if we can now call to mind one, if in Truth, it may support us: If one Promise do belong to us, all do; for every one conveys whole Christ, in whom all the Promises are made, and who is the Matter of them: As in the Sacrament, the Bread conveys whole Christ, and the Wine conveys whole Christ; so in the Word, every Promise conveys whole Christ; if we can but say as the Church of Ephesus, This thing I have, that I hate sin, Rev. 2. 6. We may plead this to God, yea tho' it be in a lesser Degree, if in Truth and Sincerity (for God brings not a Pair of scales to weigh, but a Touch-stone to try our Graces) it it be true Gold, tho' never so little of it, it will pass current with him: He will not quench the smoaking flax, Isa. 42. 3. tho' it be but a smoak, not a Flame; tho' it be but a wick in the socket, as it is in the Original, likelier to die and go out, than to continue, which we use to throw away, yet he will not quench it, but accept it. O let us comfort ourselves with these Words!

O but (cries the soul again) I have searched all crevasses for Light, but alas, I cannot see the least Beam of it: What Help now remains? If it be thus, Poor Soul, Be not faithless, but belie-ving. Christ helps some to live above glorious Manifestations; sometimes in Absence of these Manifestations, just ones may live, and rejoice in the invisible Essence of God: Christians may live waiting on God, when his Face is wholly hid from them; or Christians may live depending on God, when all other subordinate stays or Helps are loft: In such a Soul there may be this Resolution, Let God do what he will with me, I'll hang on him still. Tho' he kill me, yet will I tryst in him, and there is Comfort in this.

If so (faith the soul) then what need of Experiences, so long as I have the Promises, and may live by Faith? O but for all this, be not careless of Experiences: For, 1. It is the goodness of God, that besides the Promise of good Things to come, he is pleased to give us some present Evidence and Taste of what we believe: This heightens his Mercy, that besides Faith, he should train up his children by daily renewed Experiences of his fatherly care. 2. Tho' it be one Thing to live by Faith, another Thing to live by sight, yet the more we see, and feel, and taste of God, the more we shall be led to rely on him, for that which as yet we neither see nor feel: This is the very Meaning of God, that by that which we feel, we might be strengthened that we look for.

 Sect. V.
The Consideration of Experiences in a practical Course; or, some practical Rules to be observed.

I t were good for Christians, intending the practical Part, to observe these or the like Rules.

Some Cautionary. Some Directory.

1. The Cautionary Rules may be these.

1. In gathering Experiences, Beware of misprision of God's Providences. There are many Mistakes now a-days, and

and therefore it is our best and only Course, for our Security, to interpret all God’s Works out of His Word: We must make the Scriptures (as we said before) a concurring Book to the Book of God’s Providences: Judge neither better of Prosperity, nor worse of Adversity, than God’s Word warrants us. This was the Psalmist’s cure, his Experience put a Probation eft to this Prescription, When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me, until I went into the sanctuary of God, then understood I their end, Psal. 37. 16. 17. God may prosper a wicked Man, and he may construe this as an Argument, and note it as Experience of God’s gracious Dealing with him, and dear Love unto him: O take heed! To the law, and to the testimony, if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them, Isa. 8. 20.

2. In improving Experiences, beware how we argue from one Experience to another: Judgments threatened, are not alwais inflicted after one and the same Manner; God meets with the Wicked sometimes in this Life, and sometimes he reminds their Plagues for another. In like Manner the gracious Providences of God, are not always dispensed after one and the same Manner; indeed David could say, The Lord that delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the band of this Philislin; 1 Sam. 17. 36, 37. and Paul could say, I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion, and the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, 2 Tim. 4. 17, 18. and so we may say, that God many times hath delivered us, and doth deliver us, and therefore that he will deliver us still: But this Manner of Arguing, as it is demonstrative, so it hath some Limitations, which we must carefully take notice of; as,

1. That besides a mere Providence, we take notice of some Promise of God on which we build: Thus Paul, delivered from Death at one Time, argueth that God would deliver him at another Time; but, in his arguing, he eyes the Promise, he hangs on God, which, faith he, raised the dead, 2 Cor. 1. 9, 10.

2. That we consider the Manner of the Promise, because,

(1.) Some Promises are disjunctive; as when God in his Mercy conveys any Thing to us, either in particular, or in the equivalent, by way of commutation and compensation with spiritual Things. Thus a Christian’s Experience works Hope, Rom. 5. 4, but not alwais of the self-same outward Issue, and Manner of Deliverance out of his Trouble, which he hath before-time found; No, we must hope according to the Word, or according to the Quality of the Promise: Paul’s Hope, after Experience of many Deliverances, was not expressly or peremptorily, that the Prick in his Flesh should be removed, but that God’s grace should be sufficient, and so he had the Fruit of his former Experience, because he obtained an equivalent supply, but not otherwise.

(2.) Some Promises are conditional, in respect of us; as when God promiseth Protection from contagious sickness, and from Trouble and War: If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land, 2 Chron. 7. 14. In these or the like Promises, God may give us the Experience of his Word at one Time, but deny it at another, because we fail in the condition of the Promise on our Parts. Observe, Christians, would we conclude a Deliverance as formerly, be sure then to look to the Frame and Dif-

position of our spirits: If we are in the Way of the Promise, then we may conclude it for certain; if we meet God in the course of his Providence, or in the Improvement of the Means he hath appointed, then we may set it down, That God will do whatsoever he hath promised to give, in his own Way, or otherwise not.

3. Some Promises are indefinite; as that in James 5. 14, 15. Is any sick among you? Let him call for the elders of the church, and let them pray over him; and the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up. In this case, God may sometimes, yet doth not alwifc perform Promise according to the Letter, tho a Man may be truly qualified with the conditions specified in that Promise, sometimes, again and again. It only intends thus much; That God may, and sometimes will save the sick, and raise him up at the Church’s Prayers, but he will not ever do so. Now as God doth not alwifc perform, so neither are we absolutely, or infallibly, or universally to conclude, The Promise is not universal, but indefinite, and accordingly our conclusions should not be universal, but indefinite: We should indeed, because of the Promise, adventure ourselves upon God in such a condition, not knowing but in his outward Dispensations he may make it good to us, yet with submission to his Pleasure, if otherwise he dispose of us: And as this is all we must do, so this is all we can say, or conclude in such a case as this is.

2. The directory Rules may be these.

(1.) Let us communicate our own Experiences to the Good of others. David, in his Deliverances invites others to have recourse unto him. Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise thy name, then shall the righteous com- pact me about, when thou shalt deal bountifully with me, Psal. 141. 7. Con-

real not within our Bosoms these Things, the communicating whereof may tend to publick Profit; surely it were a course much tending to the quickening of the Faith of all, if we would impart to one another our mutual Experiences.

(2.) Let us trade others Experiences to our own particular Profit. Thus David, in Defertion hath recourse to God’s gracious Dealings with his Forefathers, Our fathers trusted in thee; they trusted, and thou delivered them; they cried unto thee, and were delivered; they trusted in thee, and were not confounded, Psal. 22. 4, 5. What Favour God shewed to any one, he will vouchsafe to every one that seeketh him diligently, if it may be for his Good. Thus we find in Scripture, that sometimes a personal Experience was improved to an universal Advantage, James 5. 11. Heb. 13. 5, 6.

(3.) Let us cast our Experiences under several Heads, and make the Word and Works face one another, and answer one to another; or to make the Work complete, it were not amiss to distribute the Frame into three Columns; and in the First to set down Experiences, in the Second the Texts, in the Third Dispositions answering God’s Mind, in such and such a case, to be left on the Heart afterwards.

(4.) Let us pray with Fervency, whenever we set a Time apart to view our Experiences, that those Dispositions answering God’s Mind in every particular Experience may be written in our Hearts, and brought forth in our Life afterwards. This will be the chief Use, and choice Comfort of the Soul in this Duty. And this Method a poor creature and servant of Christ hath followed in his own particular Practice; whereof I shall give you a Taste in the following Section.

The Experiences of a weak Christian, cast into the Method propounded.

§. 1. Judgments on the Wicked.

Experiences.

1643.

Experiences.

Rev. 16. 6, 7. They have shed the blood of saints, and thou hast given them blood to drink. Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.

Rev. 19. 2. He hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, &c.

Texts.

Dispositions required in this Case, and to be prayed for.

Rev. 18. 4. Come out of her, my People, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

Rev. 18. 20. Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets, for God hath avenged you on her.

Dispositions, &c.

Gal. 5. 16. Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh.

Gal. 5. 24. They that are Christ's have crucified the flesh, with the affections and lusts.

1 Cor. 6. 20. Ye are bought with a price, therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

Texts.

Gal. 5. 19, 20, 21. Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murmurings, drunkenness, revellings, and such like.

§. 2. God's Love to his Saints.

Texts.

Cant. 2. 3. I saw down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste.

2 Cor. 7. 4. I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

Acts 13. 52. And they were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost.

Dispositions, &c.

1 Pet. 1. 8. Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom tho now ye see him not, yet believing ye rejoice with joy unspeakable, and full of glory.

Rev. 22. 17, 20. And the Spirit and the bride say, come; and let him that heareth say, come; and let him that is athirst come: He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come Lord Jesus.

E e 2 July 1.

1647.

July 1. This Day R. M. lying on his death's bed, was filled with the Comforts of the Spirit, and sweet Assurance of Faith; at last driving nearer his End, he proclaimed God's Goodness and Sweetness and Mercy, which were his last Words; and after in the Midst of our Prayers, he gave up the Ghost.

§. 3. Several Chastisements, or Afflictions on myself, and others.

Texts.

Psalm 116. 15. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.

Revised 14. 13. And I heard a voice from heaven, saying unto me, write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth, yea, faith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours, and their works do follow them.

Dispositions, &c.

Deuteronomy 32. 29: O that they were wise, that they understood this, that they would consider their latter end.

Job 14. 14. All the days of my appointed time will I wait till my change come.

An. 24. One had a grieved and troubled heart by reason of some Opposition of wicked People: At Night he read a feeling Passage of Mr. Rogers on Judges 13. thus, I have often thought it God's mercy, to keep the knowledge of such discouragements from them that are to enter into the Ministry, lest they should be deterred wholly from it, till by experience they be armed against it.

§. 4. Performances of gracious Promises to myself, and others.

Texts.

Zephaniah 12. 10. And I will pour out upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the Spirit of grace and of supplications.

Romans 8. 26. Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities, it maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

Dispositions, &c.

Jeremiah 20. 12. Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you; and ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart.

Jeremiah 31. 9. They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them.
§. 5 The Temptations of the Experiences.

1647.

March 27. Ones Heart was overpower'd, and exceedingly troubled with the Cares of this Life. O base world, how doth thou vex them that intermeddle with thee

Texts.

Ecclef. 1. 2. 14. Vanity of vanities, faith the Preacher, vanity of vanities, all is vanity; Behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

1647.

March 27. A poor Soul being mightily innsared with the World, and finding by Experience its vanity and vexation, he resolved against it; de- fining the thereof piously to make his Soul to rejoice in God's Blessings and his own Labours, and to give himself to the Lord wholly for the remainder of his days: This desire he makes at the feet of Christ.

Texts.

Ecclef. 2. 14. & 3. 22. & 5. 19. There is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his own works, for that is his portion: Every man also to whom God hath given riches, and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour, this is the gift of God.

Dispositions, Satan.

Luk. 21. 34. Take heed to your selves, left at any time your hearts be overcharged with the cares of this life.

1 John 5. 4. This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

Ephe. 6. 11. Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

Jam. 4. 7. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

2 Pet. 5. 9. Whom resift, fiestadfast in the faith.

2 Pet. 2. 9. The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations.

Eph. 6. 16. Above all, take the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

Corruptions, Satan.

Dispositions, &c.

Phil. 4. 11. I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

1 Tim. 17, 18, 19. Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not high minded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute.

1 Tim. 6. 8. And having food and raiment, let us be therewith content.

Expe-Experiences.

1648.

March 6. This night in his sleep a troubled Soul was by Satan tempted to sin, but the Lord stood by him, and he overcame the Temptation; then awaking, he deeply apprehended Satan's Approach and助手 temp- tations: it struck him into Fears, but praising God for his Assistance he received Boldness, and then slept again.

Experience.

March 1. This day one musing on God's Providences, he occasional took up a Book, and read in it, that, The recording of Providences is not the least Portion of God's Praise, of our Duty, of Posterities Patrimony.

§ 8. The Breathings of the Spirit in others and my own Soul.

Experience.

May 7. This day one felt many sweet impressions of God's Spirit in his Heart, sometimes melting, and sometimes burning his Soul in the publick Ordinances of the Word and Sacraments: this could not but be the Breathings of Christ.

Texts.

2 Cor. 12, 7, 8, 9. There was given to me a thorn in the flesh: for this thing I besought the Lord thrice that it might depart from me; and he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee, for my strength is made perfect in weakness.

Dispositions, &c.

1 Cor. 15. 57. But thanks be to God, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Cor. 12, 9. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

Jam. 4. 5, 6. The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy: but he giveth more grace.

§ 9. The

Experiences.

July 1. or thereabouts, one gave me a Relation of her sad Desolation thus: That one Night as she sat by the Fire, she thought she saw the Fire open, and a Gulf of Fire appearing; whereupon she cried, I am damned, I am damned: If at any Time she saw any Fire, she supposed that the Devil must go into it, and that the Devils would fetch her into It. Once wringing her Hands, she cried out, O what was I born into this World for? One standing by, answered, To glorify God; to whom she replied, you say true, for God shall be glorified in my Damnation: If any offered to pray, or to read: she usually cried out, It was too late to pray for her, and they should not read that pure Word of God by her, for it belonged not to her. At last God appeared, and she felt marvelous Comforts.

Texts.

Job 13. 24, 26. Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thy enemy? Then writest bitter things against me.

Psal. 88. 13. 14, 15, 16. Lord, why callest thou off my soul? why hidest thou thy face from me? I am afflicted, and ready to die, while I suffer thy terrours, I am distracted, thy fierce wrath goeth over me, thy terours have cut me off. Lover and friend fail thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkness.

Prov. 18. 14. The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity; but a wounded spirit who can heart.

Isa. 54. 8. In a little wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment, &c.

Dispositions.

Psal. 77. 5, 6, 10. I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times: I call to remembrance my song in the night, I commune with my own heart, and my spirit makes diligent search. Will the Lord cast off for ever, and will he be favourable no more? And I said, This is my infirmity.

Isa. 90. 10. Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his Servant, that walketh in darknesses and hath no light? Let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God.

2 Cor. 12. 7, 9. For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me; and he said unto me, My Grace is sufficient for thee.

§ 10. Deceits of Heart-beguiling.

Experiences.

Octob. 24. One that took notice of the Slipperiness of his Heart in the very Act of Performance: Sometimes it fellyheals away after idle and wandering Imaginations: Sometimes it lies in vain Thoughts of Praise, Vain-glory, &c. Sometimes it raiseth up many god and holy Motions, Meditations, Desires and Affections, which yet are nothing to the present Performance; and therefore come not from the Spirit of Grace but from Satan. O cheating, cozening Heart!

Texts.

Jer. 17. 9. The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked, who can know it?

Rom. 7. 21, 22, 23. I find then a law, that when I would do good, evil is present with me; for I delight in the law of God after the inward man, but I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin, which is in my members,

Dispositions, &c.

Gen. 15. 11. And when the fowls came down upon the carcasses, Abraham drove them away.

Matth. 26. 41. Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the Flesh is weak.

Rom. 7. 24, 25. O wretched man that I am, who shall deliver me from the body of this death? I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord: So then, with my mind, I myself serve the law of God, but with my flesh the law of sin.

1 Pet. 4. 7. Be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

I had gathered more Experiences; but that all offence, tho' but taken, may be removed, let these suffice.
CHAP. VII.  SECT. I.

Of the Nature of Evidences.

The Scriptures set out the ways of discovering Things spiritual by Sight and by Taste: By Taste, Experience is meant; and by Sight, Faith and Assurance of Faith is intended: Peter speaks of tasting that the Lord is gracious, 1 Pet. 2. 3. and Moses by faith saw him who is invisible, Heb. 11. 27. David joins both together, O taste and see that the Lord is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him, Psal. 34. 8. We have done with tasting; the next is seeing, which I call Assurance, or Evidence: Would we know what these Evidences are? I look at them as inherent and habitual Observations of the Spirit's Affections in the Soul; of which the beloved Apostle speaks so often, Hereby we know that we know him, if we keep his Commandments. We know that we have passed from death unto Life, because we love the brethren: By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God and keep his Commandments. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, 1 John. 2. 3. & 3. 14. & 5. 2, 13. And the Apostle Paul, Now we have received not the Spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God, that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God, 1 Cor. 2. 12:

SECT. II.

Of the gathering of Evidences.

Now for the Evidences, it is our Duty { 1. To gather them. 2. To keep them. 3. To improve them.

For the gathering of them, observe we { 1. A right Season. 2. The right Way.

1. Seasons must be observed; for when thick Mistis surround us, and black Clouds cover us, we cannot so well judge either of our selves, or of our own Concernments: David in Desolation refused to be comforted, Psal. 77. he spilt all the Cordials and Phystick that was brought him, he was not only void of Comfort, but refused it: What? bring me Promises (will a Soul then say) you may as well carry them to one in Hell; What? are these the Evidences of God's Love? I see no such Thing, here's nothing but Scruples, and doubts, and flaws: O how apt is such an one at such a Time, to forsake his own Mercy, Jon. 2. 8. to take Satan's Part, to plead against his own Title, his own Interest, in the best Things he can have interest in. Now therefore, if we will draw a Book of Evidences, it is good to observe Times and such precious Opportunities of Comforts and Refreshings as God vouchsafeth upon us.

2. The right Way must be observed, and that consists in eying,

1. The precious Promises of Christ.
2. The inward Graces unto which those Promises are made.
3. The Truth of those Graces written in our Hearts.
4. The Testimony of the Spirit, witnessing with our Spirits, that we are the children of God.

1. We must eye the precious Promises, and yet not so as we must cloe with with them, or rest on them alone, without seeking for, or closing with Christ in those Promises; the Promise is but the casket, and Christ the Jewel in it; the Promise is but the Field, and Christ the Pearl hid in it, and to be chiefly look'd at; the Promises are the Means by which we are assured, not the Things on which we are to rest: It were Folly for a Man to think he hath an Interest in an Heires' Lands, because by some Means or other he hath got the Writings of her Estate into his Hands; all know that the Interest of her Lands goes with her Person, and with Relation of Marriage to her, otherwise, without a Title to herself, all the Writings may be jufly fetched out of his Hands again, so it is with the Promises, they hang all upon Christ, and without him, there is no Interest to be had in them.

2. We must eye the inward Graces to which the Promises are made, not that we must be too much carried away with the Signs of Christ in our Hearts, and not after Christ himself; as Pleasures that are lawful in themselves, may be unlawfully used, when our Thoughts and Intentions are too long, or too frequent, or too vehement in them; so as to dead the Heart either to the present delighting in God, or pursuing after him with the joint Strength of our Souls, as our only chiefest good; so an immoderate Recourse unto Signs, barely considered as such, is as unwarrantable, when thereby we are diverted, and taken off from a more constant actual Exercise of daily Thoughts of Faith towards Christ immediately, as he is set forth to be our Righteousness; and yet the Minds of many are so wholly taken up with their own Hearts, that as the Psalmist says of God, Christ is scarce in all their thoughts: Let these consider, what Dishonour this will be to Christ, that his Train and Favourites, our Graces, should have a fuller court, and more frequent Attendance from our Hearts than himself, who is the King of Glory: Now to rectifie this Error, the Way is not wholly to reject all Uses of such Evidences, but to order them rightly; as thus,

1. Let not the Use of Graces go before, but follow after an Address of Faith first renewed, and Acts of Faith first put forth upon Christ himself; Thus whencesoever we would go down into our own Hearts, and take a View of our Graces, let us be sure first to look wholly out of our selves unto Christ, as our Justification, and to close with him immediately, as if we had no present or by-past Grace to evidence our Being in him; and if then, whilst Faith is thus immediately clapping about Christ, we find either present or fore-past Graces coming in, as Handmaids, to attend and witnes to the Truth of this Adherence unto Christ, this will derogate nothing from Christ's Honour, or the Doctrine of Free-grace.

2. Let us in the cloze of all, begin afresh to act Faith upon Christ immediately, with a redoubled Strength; as Faith should give a leading to the Use of Graces, so the flight of our Graces should be as a back-door to let Faith in again, to converse with Christ: Even as at the Sacrament, the Elements of Bread and Wine, are but outward signs to bring Christ and the Heart together, and then Faith lets the outward Elements go, and cloath and treats immediately

* At such a time the proper Duty of a godly Man, is to throw himself boldly upon the promise, as Job said, (Though he kill me yet will I trust in him) David in Exigences called upon his Soul to trust in God, and to wait on God: it was no time for Evidences with Christ: So Grace is an inward sign, and whiles Men make Use of it, only as of a bare sign to let them come in to Christ, and their rejoicing is not in it originally, but in Christ; their Confidence is not upon it, but upon Christ: There is no Danger at all in making such Use of signs; for thus we make our Graces subordinate and subservient to Faith, whilst it makes Christ its Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end of all. I know it is strongly objected against Christians, That many forget, and seldom use an intire, immediate close with Christ, whilst in the mean Time the stream of their most constant Thoughts and deepest Intentions, are ever running upon their Graces, and the gracious Workings thereof in Duties towards Christ: Others on the contrary run all on Christ, despising the Graces of the Spirit, because, say they, Christ is all in all to them; so that if we ask such, Have you any Grace, Change of Heart? &c. Tush, what do you tell them of Repentance, Holiness, &c. they have Christ, and that is sufficient; they have the Substance, and what shall they now do with shadows of Ordinances, Duties, Graces? they have all in Christ, what should they look for Evidences, from any Graces inherent in themselves? O let those mourn over themselves, that have with much Affection been seeking after Christ’s Benefits, Peace of Conscience, Holiness of Heart and Life, but have not sought first and last to embrace, and have the Perfon of the Lord Jesus Christ himself; and let such tremble, who in advancing Christ himself, and Free-grace, will needs abolish and despife those heavenly Graces which flow from him unto all the Elect: The Law of God is written on the Heart of Christ, Heb. 10. 7. with Psal. 40. 8. And if ever he wraps us up in the Covenant of Grace, He will write his Law in our hearts also, Heb. 8. 10. The right Way for both, is to order their Evidences aright, and by this course Graces will have their due, and the Life of Faith will still be actually maintained and kept upon Wing, in its full Use and Exercise towards Christ alone for Justification.

Quest. Why would not some Men have Grace or Sanctification an Evidence?

Answ. In some it ariseth from their Lufts, which they have a mind to live quietly in, desirous to keep their Peace, and yet unwilling to forfake their Lufts; and hence they exclude this Witness of Water or Sanctification, to testify in the court of Conscience; in others, I think, it doth not arise from Want of Grace; but because the Spirit of Grace and Sanctification runs very low in them; it can speak little, and that little very darkly and obscurely for them, therefore they have no great mind that it should be brought in as any Witness for them; others I think may have much Grace, yet for a Time they cast it by as an Evidence unto them, because they have Experience how difficult and troublesome it is to find this Evidence, and when ’tis found, how troublesome to read it, and keep it fair, and thereby to have constant Peace and Quietness: And hence ariseth those Speeches, Why do you look to your Sanctification? it is a blotted Evidence, you may have it to day, and lose it to morrow, and then where is your Peace? These Men, because they feel not that Measure of Sanctification they would, do therefore vilifie and deny that they have, because they feel a law of sin in their members, leading them away captive, therefore they will not take Notice of the Law of their Minds, whereby that inner man delights in the law of God, and mourns bitterly.
bitterly under the body of death, by which they might see with Paul, that there is no condemnation to such, Rom. 8. 1. But I shall propound one thing to Conscience: Suppose thou wert now lying on thy Death-bed, complimenting thyself in thy elected and justified Estate; suppose the Spirit of God should now grapple with thy conscience, and tell thee, If thou art justified, then art thou sanctified, 2 Thess. 2. 13. Is it thus with thee? What wilt thou answer? If thou sayest, Thou art not sanctified, the Word and Spirit will bear witnesses against thee, and say, Thou art not then justified: If thou sayest, Thou knowest not, thou lookest not to Sanctification, or the Fruits of the Spirit; they will reply, How then canst thou know or say thou art elected or justified? For it is a Truth as clear as the Sun, None are justified, but they are sanctified, and if they are not sanctified, they are not justified: O blest God for any little measure of Sanctification, so it be in sincerity; do not scorn or secretly despise this Spirit of Grace, knowing that without it thou shalt perish, but if thou hast it, thou hast an Evidence of that Part in Christ; surely Grace is the image of Christ stamped upon the Soul, and they who reflecting upon their Souls, see the Image of Christ there, may be sure that Christ is theirs; Christ hath given all himself to those, to whom he hath given this Part of himself. Upon the View of thy Evidences, say, All those great and heavenly Things could not be in my Soul, were not Christ and his Spirit there; this rich and glorious Furniture could not be in my Soul, were not the King of Glory there; the Flowers of this Garden would not smell so sweetly, did not the Wind blow upon them.

3. We must eye the Truth of those Graces thus written in our Hearts: There is a great deal of counterfeit Grace in the World; a true Christian can have nothing, as discernable to others, but an Hypocrite may have and do for the outward Semblance as much as he; it is good therefore to try the Truth of our Graces, and herein the Rite, Manner and End of our Motions carry much Manifestation in them. But of this more largely in the Duties of Self-examination, and receiving of the Lord's Supper.

Only in this Place, I think it most suitable to add a little further concerning this Truth of Graces, As 1. There is, and may be Truth of Grace, tho not Perfection of Grace; and hence it is that we may have invaluable Assurance; but for any perfect Certainty in Degree, it cannot be attained in this Life; One * arguing against universal Obedience as an Evidence, because no man could perform it, or if it should be limited to Purpose of Heart, yet none hath inch a constant Purpose, because of many corrupt Suggestions and Concupisences within, by Lusts; herein he sheweth his Error; for we look not for Perfection of Grace, but only for Truth; the least Grace discover'd in the Soul that is sincere and upright, though it be not Grace to satisfy the Desire of a Christian, yet it ought to be a sure Evidence to confirm his Judgment of his Interest in Christ. It is obsered that many of God's children may make sad Wounds for themselves, in not distinguishing between the Truth and Esmence of Grace, and the Degree of Grace; whereas the Scripture makes them blessed that hunger and thirst, yea it doth often de-

As Faith is the Root of all other Graces, and so in some sense more hidden than they are, as the Root of the Tree is more hidden in the Earth, than the Body of the Branches, yet if we consider Faith as an inward Grace planted in our Hearts, as well as any other sanctifying Grace which springs therefrom; and as the Condition of the Covenant expressed directly in the conditional Promises, all other Graces being only brought in, as accompanying Faith, and flowing from Faith, Faith flowing itself by them; in these Respects there cannot be a more direct, certain, and infallible Evidence than Faith. This is so sure a way of Trial, that the Apostle himself directs us thereunto, Prove your selves whether ye be in the Faith, 2 Cor. 13. 5. If we would know ourselves to be such as are not adokimo, to be disallowed or rejected, there is no better Way to know it than by our Faith; a weak Believer inquiring how he may know that he shall be saved, the Apostle answers his Doubt, not by ascending or descending hither or thither, but by looking to his Faith, For if thou believest with thine heart in the Lord Jesus, thou shalt be saved, Rom. 10. 9.

Object. But the especial Act of Faith is to look wholly out of our selves unto Christ, as if we had no Grace within us: and the Reason why some mistake Evidences is, because Christ without us is no more looked upon.

Answ. The soul of Man hath two Kinds of Acts or Workings; the Former are direct Acts, such as go immediately to their Object; as when by Faith I take Christ, and adhere to him; the latter are reflex Acts, which are only in reasional subjects; and this is when a Man doth perceive or discern those direct Acts in him, as when I perceive that I do thus adhere to Christ; now our our Evidence, Certainty or Assurance is properly in this latter Way, when we know that we believe, and therefore this Assurance is called by some sensus fidei, the feeling or perceiving of Faith.

Objeet. But what is this reflex Act but an human Testimony which is subject to Falsiehoods and Delusions? and how incongruous is that to witness the Things of God?

Anfw. An human Testimony may be an introductory Preparation to believe that which is divine. 2. The feeling of Faith is efficiently from the Spirit of God, and so it is not a meer human sense or discerning, but divine and intallible, even as Faith is; in this Replace we fear no Delusion, for as the Spirit of God cannot externally witness any thing that is false, so neither can it inwardly in the Soul of a Man persuade that which is false.

Objeet. How is it then that the Saints are usually so full of Doubtstings?

Anfw. Because there is nothing in us perfect in this Life; in all our Honey there is some Gall. Such an Assurance as excludes all doubting is only proper to the Glorified: not but that God is able to give us perfect Grace, and perfect Assurance, but he may do what he pleaseth with his own, and accordingly he hath thought good in this Life to exalt imputed Righteousness rather than inherent.

Objeet. To what Purpose then is Assurance by the Sense and Evidence of imperfect Grace? doth not this derogate from that relying Act of Faith, and from the Promise of Grace, as if they were not enough?

Anfw. No, in no wise; we prefer Faith of Dependance and Adherence, and belief in the Promise, as a more noble and Excellent Way; and yet the Evidence of Graces in us is not in vain; for it hath pleased God to multiply those things which may confirm our Faith. Thus, altho every Word of God hath immutable Verity in it, yet he confirmed it also with an Oath, after the Manner of Men, to end all those Controversies, which Diffidence and Distrust may raise between God and us, Heb. 6. 6. And altho God hath given us his Promise, and nothing can be surer than that, yet he addeth servants to seal and confirm his Promise to us; so altho we do well, chiefly to depend and rely immediately on Christ; yet there is great Usefulness of the reflex Act of Faith, and of all other Evidences. For,

4. We must eye the testimony of the Spirit, witnessing with our Spirit, that we are the children of God, Rom. 8. 16. As God hath set up a Frame of Holiness in every Believer, so he hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit, 2 Cor. 5. 5. The Graces of the Spirit are a real Earnest of the Spirit, yet they are not always an evidential Earnest, therefore an Earnest is often superadded to our Graces.

There is a threefold Work of this Spirit.

1. To convey and plant Grace in the Soul.

2. To act and help us to exercise the Graces which are planted there.

3. To shine upon and enlighten those Graces, or to give an earnest of those Graces.

This last Work the Spirit fulfils two Ways.

1. By Arguments and Inferences, which is a mediate Work.

2. By Presence and Influence, which is an immediate Work.

These the Apostle calls Witness-bearing, 1 John 5. 8. the Spirit brings in the witness of the water, and of the blood, which is his mediate Work; but besides...
besides and above these, he gives a distinct Witness of his own, which is his immediate Work, and is in a Way of Peculiarity and Transcendacy, called, The witness of the Spirit: Concerning both, is that of the Apostle, We have received not the spirit of the world, but the Spirit which is of God, that we may know the things that are freely given us of God, 1 Cor. 2. 12. The things freely given us, may be received by us, and yet the Receipt of them not known to us; therefore the Spirit for our further Consolation, doth as it were, put his hand and Seal to our receipts; whence he is laid, To seal us up unto the day of redemption, Eph. 4. 30.

Quest. But how may a Man discern between the Testimony of the Spirit, and the Illusion of Satan?

Answer. I answer, There is ever an Harmony and sweet Accord between the inward and outward Testimony, between the Spirit of God, and the Word of God; and therefore we may discern the Testimony of the Spirit by the Word. Thus in the Old Testament, all Revelations were to be examined by the Word, Deut. 13. 1. Isa. 8. 20. And in the New Testament our Saviour tells us, That the Spirit shall lead you into all truth, John 16. 13. How so? For he shall not speak of himself, but what he shall hear, that shall he speak: And what is that which the Spirit heareth, is it not that which is already contained in the Scriptures?

Object. Nay then (say some * ) the Credit of the voice of the Spirit, must depend upon the Word, but this must not be allowed, that any Thing should be of such Credit, as to give Credit to the Spirit.

Answer. Why not? the Scripture we know is already known and received as the Word of God, and therefore what cometh after it, must needs borrow Credit from it: Indeed, the Truth of what the Spirit speaketh doth not depend upon the Word, yet the Credit of it doth.

Object. But there is no more Evidences (say they * ) save only the revealing Evidence, the Spirit of Christ, and the receiving Evidence, which is Faith; the Spirit within thee faith, Thy faith is forgiven thee, and Faith receiveth it, and fits down satisfied; now here is thy Evidence, if thou hast only these two, thou hast thy Portion, thou needest no more.

Answer. I answer, 1. In this Way, what profane Person is there in the World, which may not conclude for himself, if he will but force upon himself this Persuasion, That the Spirit faith it, and I believe it. 2. The revealing and receiving Evidence, i. e. The Word of the Spirit, and the Subscription of Faith, do not lay the Ground of perfect Peace, except there come in also the Evidence of inherent Qualifications. For the better understanding of this, observe, That the Evidence of the Spirit, is either mediate, when it enables the Soul to frame a Syllogism, wherein the Minor, sc. the Dictate of the Conscience so far maketh to this Evidence as our Graces are witnessed to by the Spirit, 1 Cor. 2. 12. Or immediate, which is indeed without any such Discourse of our Conscience, and wherein our Spirit is merely passive or receptive; it is an Act of Irradiation or Impression of God's Love, or (as some call it) a Transcript of the Decree of God's Election set upon the Conscience; the Scripture calls this especially, A Seal of the Spirit, which imports the mere Passiveness of the Heart to it, as of the Wax to the Seal; and this Evidence is solitary, without Reference to inherent Graces; yet however it excludes them not, nor cometh in all that mediate Evidence precede, Eph. 1. 13. Hence I infer, the mediate Testimony of the Spirit, that ordinarily concludes for hic & ille, doth not speak according to the Word, but where a Text of Scripture hath a Quisquaque for the Proposition, and a Work of the sanctifying Spirit for the Assumption; as thus, the Scripture faith, They that repent and believe: They that are led by the Spirit of God, are the sons of God, Mark 1. 15. Rom. 8. 14. Hereupon the renewed and sanctified Conscience faith, I do repent and believe, I am led by the Spirit, therefore I am the Child of God: Now this conclusion deduced, if afterwards the immediate Testimony of the Spirit, manifested by a heavenly Impression and Irradiation upon the soul, comes in with his Attestation to confirm it, we may not doubt either of this or the former Testimony, because now they both speak according to the Word and Work of Grace in the Heart; the Ground of all this, is in the Nature of this Testimony of the Spirit, which is rather an Attestation than a Testimony; a Secondary, not first Deponent: Is not this rightly concluded (so far as it implies the immediate Testimony) from that of * Rom. 3. 16. The Spirit witnesseth with our Spirit? where we have two Witnesses joining together their Testimonies to attest this Truth, That we are the sons of God; Two, I say, viz. our Spirit, and the Spirit of God: The Witness of our Spirit, i.e. of our renewed Conscience, is the First; The Spirit of God is the Second: His Work is not Marturein, but Summation, to witness together with our Spirit; i.e. To confirm and ratify what that hath asserted; so that indeed the Evincing of this Testimony of the Spirit, is after the Testimony of our own Conscience; if this do not first speak and conclude, that other of the Spirit speaks not at all: Now the Testimony of the Conscience is the conclusion of the practical Syllogism, and the certainty of this conclusion depends upon the Verity of the Assumption which mentioneth the Work of Grace in the Heart: So then let it be the care of the Christian, to make good the Verity of the Assumption, that he may truly say, I do repent, I do believe, I am led by the Spirit; and this shall not only afford him Comfort by the conclusion, but also (when the immediate Testimony of the Spirit comes in with his Attestation to confirm it) it will assure him, that he is not misled by the Suggestion of Satan, but guided by the Spirit in this Point of Assurance: Surely (will he say) this is the Spirit of God, for now he speaks according to the Word of God, and according to the Work of his own Grace within me.

Of the keeping of Evidences.

If in vying the Promises, and Graces, and Truth of those Graces written in our Hearts, the Spirit shall come in, and shine upon our Graces, either me-

* I know some by our Spirit, understand the Gift of Regeneration, and that God's Spirit, by or in that Gift which he bestoweth on us, witnesseth with and to our Spirits, q. d. The Spirit of God beareth witness unto us, with these Gifts and Graces that are the Fruit of the same Spirit: so that in this sense he speaks not immediately, but mediately by and with our Spirits, being enlightened and sanctified. For my Part I shall not contend against this Exposition; and the rather, because I grant that the Testimony which is by the Effects and Fruits of God's Spirit, is the ordinary, safe and sure Way; yet as I dare not deny the immediate Testimony, so neither dare I exclude it out of his Text.
Evidences.

1. Hearken to the Word, and hearken to the Spirit, and hearken to our own Consciences. What say all these to our Souls? Ex. gr. The Word faith thus, Whosoever loves the brethren, he is translated from death to life, 1 John 3. 14. now doth thy Conscience tell thee, that so do I, in Truth and Sincerity? Then here is the Word and thy Conscience for thee; and doth the Spirit come in, and witnesseth with thy Conscience that it is so indeed? then it is well with thy soul, thou keepest thy Evidence to Purpose.

2. Be daily renewing our Faith in Christ, especially that Act of Faith, by which our souls knit, or tie themselves to Christ for salvation: Cause your souls every Day in solemn Manner to act that Part: Put forth this primitive Act of Faith in our souls; the daily Exercise of this will increase and strengthen the Divine Habit of Faith in the soul, and make the soul sensible of every Act of it. By frequent believing we shall feel at our very Heart-root that we do believe, and so we shall have the witness in ourselves that we are in Christ, 1 John 5. 10. we shall knowingly carry in our hearts the counterpart of all the Promises.

3. Perform all those Duties and Exercises of Religion, which God hath ordained for this very Purpose: As, Reading the Word, These things write we unto you, that your joy may be full, 1 John 1. 4. 2. Hearing the Word, for therefore is the Ministry of Christ, to give knowledge of salvation to his people by the remission of their sins, Luke 1. 77. 3. The Sacraments, for they are the seals of the righteousness of faith, Rom. 4. 11. 4. Prayer, Ask, and you shall receive, that your joy may be full, John 16. 24. To this Purpose is God's Promise, I will bring my people to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer, Isa. 56. 7. 4. Maintain Holiness and Purity of Life. The effect of righteousness is quietness, and assurance for ever, Isa. 32. 17. and to him that ordereth his conversation aright, will I shew the salvation of God, Psal. 50. 23. The Saints, while they keep their sincerity, enjoy Assurance; for the Spirit of God, which is in them, sheds abroad the Love of God in their hearts, enabling them to cry, Abba father; and bear witness with their spirits that they are the children of God, Rom. 8. 15. 16. But when they fall into wilful Transgressions, and grieve the Spirit of God, Assurance is gone. This made David, after his foul sins to cry out so vehemently, Make me to hear joy, and gladness. Restore me to the joy of thy salvation. O take heed of spotting our Evidences, of defiling our Evidences by any sinful Acts.

5. Take heed of yielding to any base Doubts or Fears, or Objections of Satan and our own Hearts; deny not the Work of Grace in us, lest we grieve the Spirit of God; if any shall yield so flourishly to the Misgivings of their own Hearts, or to the Temptations of Satan, that they shall conclude against themselves, they have no Faith, no Love, tho all other Christians can see these in them, what Dishonour is it to God, and to the Spirit of God? What, hath God written thy Name in Heaven? and wilt thou attempt to raze it out; and and to write thy Name on the Doors of Hell? Yet upon these injurious, if not blasphemous Thoughts. What shall a dark Humour, a melancholy Thought prevail on thy soul more than the Word, and more than the Testimony of thy own Conscience enlightened by the Spirit? Take heed of this, as of a great Pride in thy Heart: What, to yield more to a sturdy, dark, unfruitful Humour, than to Evidence itself? O take heed! O hearken not to what Fear says, or to what Humour says, or to what Satan says, or to what the World says; but hearken to what the Truth itself says, and hearken to what Conscience says, when it is enlightened by the Spirit, as in good Times, when we are at the best; † Hearken to these, and so get our Hearts and Wills overpowered with the Evidence, and yield and subject ourselves unto it.

6. Keep the Graces of the Spirit in continual Exercise upon all Occasions; Habits are not felt immediately, but by the Freeness and Facility of their Acts; the Fire that lieth still in the Flint, is neither seen nor felt; but when you smite it and force it into Act, it is discerned. Many question their Evidences, they know not whether they have Repentance, or Faith, or Love, or Joy; but if they were more in the acting of these, they would easily know. Christians, draw forth an Object for Godly Sorrow, or Faith, or Love, or Joy, and lay your Hearts flat unto it, and take Pains to provoke it unto suitable Action. Sometimes Grief for sin is in us, when we think there is none, it wants but stirring up by some quickening Word; the like we may say of Love, and of every Grace: How can we doubt whether we love God in the very Act of Loving? or whether we believe in the very Act of Believing? If we be assured whether this sacred Flame be kindled in our Hearts, blow it up, get it into a Flame, and then we shall know: Believe, till we feel that we believe; and love, till we feel that we love; for Grace exercised both brings and maintains certain comfort: It may be with a Christian in his Feelings, as with the worst Man living, but he may thank his own Negligence, his own Dulness, his not stirring up the Graces of God's Spirit in him; O therefore it is, that he hangs the Wing upon every petty crofts, upon every petty Occasion: Labour to have an Heart ready to exercise Grace suitable to every Condition, for then Grace will reflect sweetly, then we shall maintain and continue our comforts. The Soul that is best furnished with Grace, when it is not in Action, is like a Lute well stringed and tune'd, which, while it lieth still, doth make no more Musick than a common Piece of Wood; but when it is taken up, and handled by a skilful Lutineist, the melody is most delightful.

Sect. IV.

Of the improving of Evidences.

For improving of Evidences, we must endeavour to produce that Fruit, that Frame, that Disposition of Heart which the Lord requires, directs, and looks for in such a Case; as, the Admiring of God's unsearchable

Evidences.

Grace in Christ Jesus; a sober, moderate and self-denying Use of our Evidence-comforts; a fiducial pleading of all the precious promises of the gospel; a cheerful Bearing of crosses; a holy contempt of creature-comforts; a bold Approaching to the Throne of Grace upon all Occasions; a valiant Adventuring for Christ; Longings for the Appearing of the Lord Jesus; a confident contemp with fin, a courageous resisting of Temptations: I may add, Humility, Love to God, Fear of offending, zealous Labours to advance Christ in the Power of Grace, &c. all which are the Fruits of legible Evidences in true Christian Hearts: And our Evidences thus improved, then is the whole Business christianly managed indeed. But of these in the next Section.

Sect. V.
Of the Sanctification of Evidences, in their several Uses.

The Sanctification of Evidences is manifested (as we said) by several Dispositions: To enlarge myself; No sooner is the Soul settled in its Scripture-persuasions, and Spirit-persuasions, that God hath translated it unto Christ, but immediately there follows,

1. A deep admiring of God's unsearchable Grace in the Lord Jesus Christ: Hath the Lord assured me that I am his? O my Soul, stand amazed at this endless, boundless Love of the Lord: it is of his Grace that ever I did be-think myself of the Danger of my sinful course I was formerly in; it is of mere Grace that the Lord Chrift died for my sins, and rose again for my justification; it is of his special Grace, that the Spirit of Christ should thus whisper to my spirit. Thy sins are forgiven thee. O the Bountifulness and Love of God to Man! O I am swallowed up in this Depth! It is a Mystery which may astonish Angels, and orient Pearl which outshines all the sparkling Jewels of the whole Creation. When the Jews heard of the Proclamation of King Cyrus, by which they were set free from their long and tedious captivity, they were rapt with Joy, they were like to men that rather dreamed, Psal. 126. I. than possessed the Things that their souls longed after: How much more will Assurance that we are set free from the perpetual Bondage of sin, and restored to the everlasting Freedom of Righteousness and Life, make us wonder at the infinite Wisdom, and unspeakable Goodness of our heavenly Father? The saints considering the goodness of God towards man in his Creation, brake forth into holy Admiration, Lord, what is man that thou art mindful of him? Psal. 8. 4. 5. The Prophet calling to mind long after, what God had done for his soul, cannot pass it over without fervent Praise, What shall I render unto the Lord, for all his benefits towards me? Psal. 116. 12. How much more ought and will that Man that is assured of God's Favour and Love towards him, for ever admire the mighty Power, unspeakable Goodness and rich Mercy of God, who hath delivered him from the Pit of Hell, from the Power of Satan, from the curse of the Law, and from the waiting for of all the wicked Devils and damned spirits, and withal, hath translated him into the kingdom of his dearest Son? O needs must his Heart be inflamed with Love, and enlarged in Praises?

2. A sober, moderate and self-denying Use of Evidence-comforts; I speak not herein against the frequent Actings of Graces, or against the simply looking on them, or comforting ourselves in them, especially under sad Hours; but against the excessive, over-flowing, over-loving Way of Evidence-comforts forts, against the Abuses thereof: which may be in these Particulars; as,
1. When we pore more frequently upon the comforts of our own gracious Actings than upon Jesus Christ and his Death; when we live too much upon the sight of a new-created Birth in ourseves, and the Image of the Second Adam, tho' indeed we have Christ himself to live on. 2. When we wonder so much at what is done in ourseves by the Grace of Christ, that we begin to make a Mixture of self therewith, and immediately we sit down and write of our selves, an Hundred instead of Fifty. 3. When we think Graces and Comforts so rooted in ourseves, that we neglect God and Christ for the upholding, Encræse and Exercise of them. 4. When we rest upon, and too much confide in the Power of inherent Grace, former Revelations, and Witnessies of God’s Spirit, which are all but Creatures, Acts of God upon us, and in us; and therefore in doing thus, we make an Idol of inherent Grace, and put that Trust in it, which we should repose in the Lord alone; and so as the Lord speaketh, We go a whoring after our own Heart, Numb. 15. 39. Now all these flow from the Corruption of our Nature, and not from the Nature of Assurance; the Product of true Evidences, is a Praising of God for them, and a comforting our selves in them, as in the fruit of his eternal and unchangeable Love: Our rejoicing is this, even the Testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, we have had our conversation in the world, 1 Cor. 1. 12, but not a making of them the only or chief Grounds of our Hope and Comforts, for God in this Cae may leave us to our selves, That no flesh should rejoice in his presence, 1 Cor. 1. 19. 3. A fiducial pleading of all the precious Promises of the Gospel: And hath the Lord indeed given me a kiss of his Mouth, a sure sign of his Love? Why then, O my Soul, arise, and lay hold on all the Promises, which God of his Mercy in Christ doth offer in the Gospel: Be not dismayed by Reason of thy Unworthiness, for the Promise is of Grace freely offered, and freely given to them that be most unworthy in their own Eyes: Thou art unworthy of the least crumb of Mercy, but of the Riches of his Grace God hath given thee the Promises of highest Advancement, if thou wilt but embrace them. I will be a father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, faith the Lord Almighty, 2 Cor. 6. 18. And it shall be in the place where it was laid unto them, Ye are not my people, that there they shall be called, The children of the living God, Rom. 9. 26. He that overcometh shall inherit all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my Son, Rev. 21. 7. Surely, Lord, I will lay hold on these Promises, I will yet draw nigher to thee, and put my Trust in thy Mercy; I will henceforth flee to the Throne of Grace, to get my Title made surer and surer to my Conscience. O Lord, I believe, help thou my Unbelief. Thus the Soul pleads with God, and God is well-pleased with such Pleadings; the soul is assured of salvation, and yet prayeth in the Midst of Assurance, Who am I, Lord, that thou shouldst make such ample and free promises unto thy poor servant? Of thy free Mercy, and according to thine own heart hast thou spoken all these great things, to make thy servant know them; and now, O Lord God, establesh, I beseech thee, the word that thou hast spoken concerning thy servant, 2 Sam. 7. 25. 4. A cheerful hearing of Croffes: Hence *Paul eyeing that Object of Assurance, that Weight of Glory, he counts all his Afflictions light and mo-monstrous, 2 Cor. 4. 17. he sung in the Dungeon, and reckoned it a special Fa- vour to be a sufferer for Christ; The Fire of Divine Love so inflames Chris- tians in this Condition, that much Water of Persecution cannot quench it; yea, such is the Nature of this Fire, that it feeds on those Waters, and grows more fervent by that which would quench it: No Wonder; it is but a light Affliction, but it causeth unto us, a more excellent and eternal Weight of Glory; and Parts of this Glory, the Christian now receiveth aore-hand, as Earnest of the whole: This makes him to rejoice ( even in the Midst of Crosses and Loses ) with a Joy unspeakable and glorious: And hence it is that a Christian despiseth the Sufferings for the Joys, yea, the Sufferings are so overcome by the Joys, that the Sufferings do not turn his Joys into sadnes, but his Assurance turns the sadnes of his sufferings into Joys, for he rejoiceth in his sufferings, Phil. 2. 17.

5. An holy Contempt of creature Comforts: This is another Fruit of Assurance, it will make a Man endeav- our to rid himself from such aeculent Matters here, to contend them, to trample them under his Feet, and out of the Greatness and Goodnes of his Spirit, ambitiously to long after the Presence of the Lamb. Do I speak or write to the Denizens of Heaven? Tell me then, you that carry the Evidences of Heaven in your Hands and Hearts, Is it not thus with you? Hath not God wrought your Hearts to this Frame and divine Disposition? if not, he will do it first or last; for Citizens of Heaven set not much by the best Things on Earth, when they are themselves, and act like their Saviour. It was a good Speech of an Emperor, whatsoever he himself was, You (said he) gaze on my purple Robes, and golden crown, but did you know what cares are under them, you would not take them up from the Ground for them; but suppose there had been no cares, but Pleasure in them, yet Moses when he had this Assurance of Faith, He refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of fins for a season; esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt, for he had respect unto the recom- pense of reward, Heb. 12. 25, 26.

6. A bold Approaching unto the Throne of Grace upon all Occasions: Because we are assured, therefore we beg any Thing of God with greater Affiance: Prayer is nothing else but the Stream and River of Faith, and an ij- sue of the Desire of that which we joyfully believe. Our Saviour knew that his keep should never perish, and yet he prayeth, Holy Father, keep them in thy name, John 17. 28. and 19. 11. Paul knew assuredly, that the Lord would deliver him from every evil work, yet without ceasing he prayeth to be deli- vered from evil, 2 Tim. 4. 18. Assur- ance adds Fervency to Prayer; the firmer our Faith, the more free is our Acces with Boldness and Confidence to the Throne of Grace, the more fervently and boldly can we pray, Abba, Father: Assurance hearkneth what the Lord speaketh, and speaketh back again in fervent Groans and Desires; it hath the Promife of God, and therefore is bold to pray, and will not keep silence, 2 Sam. 7. 27. Thou, O Lord of Hafis, God of Israel, hast revealed to thy ser- vant, saying, I will build thee an house, therefore hath thy servant found in his heart to pray this prayer unto thee: Nay, Assurance puts on the soul to ask any Thing it wants; these be the Times when the Spirit moveth the Waters, therefore, Now, faith Assurance, cast in your your Petition, and whatsoever Grief it bash in it, you shall be cured of it. Now the King holds out his golden Scepter,
And therefore, faith Affurance, let the Queen come in boldly with her Request, to it be for a Kingdom; yea, this King likes it best, if first we seek a Kingdom, and the Righteousness inseparably annexed to it, for then we shall have all other Things with it, Matth. 6. 33.

7. A valiant Adventuring for Christ.
Is a Man assured of God's Love in Christ? such a one fears not any Troubles, he knows all comes through his Father's Hands, and that Man and Devil cannot do what they would, and therefore he goes on comfortably to Day, to Morrow, and to the End; he is like one of David's Worthies, or like David himself, that having got Experience, fears Nothing; he walks up and down the World like a Giant, higher by Head and Shoulders than most Men, he holds in his Hand a strong shield that the Devil himself cannot pierce, but it quencheth his fiery darts: He gets a Victory against the World by his Faith, and Samson like, breaks all Bands of Temptation as straw, he leaps over a wall, breaks a bow of Steel, lays heaps upon heaps.

8. An earnest Longing for the Appearing of the Lord Jesus: As he adventures and conquers in Life, so he can think of Death without any prevailing Fear; he can say with Paul, I desire to be dissolved, and to be with Christ, Phil. i. 23. and with Stephen,
Lord Jesus, receive my spirit, Acts 7.
59. and with the Spouse in the Canticles ch. 8. 14. Come away, my Beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains of Spices. It is the Voice of Assurance, My Life is bid with thee, O Christ, and therefore appear quickly, my Life, my Jesus, that I may quickly ap-ppear with thee in Glory; let the Day of gladness quickly come, wherein both Soul and Body, even my whole self, may eternally enjoy thee: I cannot be still put off with these tastes and earnest, my Love and Longing is rather inflamed by them to the fruition of thee; The very Voice of these Earnests is, Come; yea, they scare know any other Language but Come; therefore again and again they say Come; yea after they have said Come,
as if that were not enough, they say,
Come quickly; and now, what can the Soul say more to her Lord? only as before the still said, Come, so now will the still say, Amen; even so, Amen and Amen.

9. A loathing of Sin, Indignation for Sin, Contest with Sin, and a continual Watch against the Bait and Al-lurement of Sin: How can it be conceived that a Man should be assured of the Pardon and Forgiveneq of many Sins, but it will work a greater loathing and detestation of Sin, unfeigned Abasement for former Weakness, and continual Watchfulness, to keep himsel pure for the future, that he lose not his Comfort, nor dishonour God, who hath done so great Things for him? It is Satan's Cavil against the Saints, that Assurance begets security: Asuredly, if it be true Assurance, it will thro' Christ mortifie our Lust, and quicken us to more sincere settled and constant Obedience; nor is it possible that a Christian should hold his assurance any longer, than whiles he follows, cherishes, and feeds in himself this heavenly Affection.

Objecf. But some may object, If we say we have no sin, we deceive our selves, 1 John 1. 8. Who can say his heart is clean? Prov. 20. 9. There is no man just, that sinneth not. Ecclef. 7. 20.
And how can these two stand together,
Sin and Assurance?

Sol. I answer, Gross sins, grievous sins, are not compatible with the Hope and and Assurance of a Christian, especially reigning sins committed with Delight, or Indulgence; and yet such sins, as we call Infirmities, Blemishes, Remainers of original Corruption, under which the Regenerate must labour so long as they live: These are not altogether incompatible with Assurance, nor do they hinder the lively Workings of Faith, in receiving the Promises; it is good therefore to distinguish between such sins, which administer Matter of Humiliation, and such as may give Occasion to the Soul to question its regenerate Estate: As 1. There are sins of simple Ignorance, unavoidable Infirmity, sins of Forgetfulness, Inconsideration, Passion, Pettishness, inordinate Fear, whereunto there is no advised Consent, and these may stand with Assurance. And 2. There are foul sins, enormous Crimes (not to speak of sins wilfully committed with full Consent, Delight and Contentment to the utter extinguishing of the Spirit of Grace, which shall never befall them that are called according to the Purpose of God) and those sins hinder Assurance, so that the sinner cannot for the present lay actual Claim to any one Privilege of Grace formerly enjoyed: I deny not but he may still retain his Right and Title to eternal Life, but he is in this Condition suspended from actual Claim, until he rise again by Repentance, and so recover not a new Right and Title, but a new Claim by virtue of the old Title.

10. A courageous resifting of Doubts, Scruples, Temptations; not but that Doubts will come after Assurance: We see the Sun is one Day bright, and the next Day is covered; Evidences may be lost, tho’ Interest be continued: yet Assurance and Evidences rightly improved and sanctified to us, may help us against all the shakings, and shiverings, and doubtings of the Soul, and of their own Nature they do resift them: Hence the best Cure and Remedy of Doubtings, is to perfect and strengthen our Assurance; the more purely the Fire burns, the less Smoke it hath; when the Light and Heat of the Sun are greatest, then the Clouds and misty Vapours are fewest: Assurance and Doubting are like a Pair of Scales, where the Weight of the one bears away the other.

Quest. 1. But how should Assurance be strength’ned?

Answe. 1. Go we to God, for God who gave it can strengthen it: Every Grace depends upon him, not only for Birth, but also for Complement; his Strength must lead us on from Strength to Strength, and therefore if we would have strong Assurance, we must go to a strong God, and beg of him for it: O Lord (say) my knowledge is dim; lighten that Candle, open mine eyes yet more and more, that I may see thy truth; my Affections many times shake, but do thou establish and confirm my Heart in thy Truths; my Embracings, Applications, are very trembling, and broken, and interrupted, but do thou guide my eye to look upon my Saviour, and do thou guide my hand to lay hold on him, do thou enable my Will and Affections to embrace all the goodness of thyself, of thy Christ, of thy Word; my Faith is but weak, but Lord, I would have more Faith, even full assurance of Faith, and thou canst work it, O do it for thy weak Servant.

2. Be in the Way of Strength: there are Ways in which God doth reveal his Arm, i.e. his Ordinances; he that is too good for the Ordinances, will ever be too weak in his Faith. One thing (could David say) have I desired of the Lord that I may dwell in the House of the Lord all the days of my Life, Psal. 27. 4. and to what End? that I may behold the beauty of the Lord, and visit his temple: what this Beauty is, he himself expounds, We thought of thy loving kindness in the midst of thy temple, Psalm. 48. 9. The loving Kindness of God, his Mercy and Countenance upon his own Servants, that is the Lord’s Beauty, that is it which makes him amiable in his own People.

3. Let Assurance know its Privileges, and then it will grow stronger. Ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people, 1 Pet. 2. 3. They who descended from the Blood of Abraham had more Privileges than others; and have not they greater who come of the Blood of Christ? The Priests of the Law had singular Exemptions, and Kings of all Men are most highly privileged; and do Believers come short, who are not profane, civil, typical Priests, but royal Priests? who are not Priests only, nor Kings only, but both Kings and Priests: A royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people. If we did once thoroughly know our Privileges, the Grants of Favour, the free Access, the singular Acceptance we have with God in and through the Lord Jesus Christ, how might we keep down our Fears, and our Doubtings, and with fullest Eagerness embrace our God, our Christ, our Promises?

4. Observe, and call to mind our former Experiences of God’s Favour and Love: I will remember ( faith David) the years of the right hand of the most High, Psalm. 77. 10. i.e. the Years and Times of my Life, wherein I had sweet Experiences of God’s Mercies and Love: Why, what of that? he tells you, Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice, Psalm. 63. 7. But of this Point in the last Chapter.

Quest. 2. But what if after all these Means used, no Sun appears, our Evidences are quite lost, God suspends all Comforts.

Answ. In such a Case, we must endeavour to live above Evidences, by working the Soul to close with, and depend upon an absolute Promise: To this Purpose, it pleaseth the Father of Mercies, sometimes to convince and persuade the Soul, that he will supply what is wanting, heal Backslidings freely, work both Will and Deed fully, whereby he sustains the Soul in Life, and raiseth it up as it were from the Grave of Despair and dismal Distress. Thus David expected to receive his Assurance, when he cried, Why art thou cast down, O my soul? - - Hope thou in God, for I shall yet praise him for the help of his countenance, Psalm. 42. 5, 12. And if at our first Conversion, when we had nothing but the Offer of Free-grace to look upon, we cast our selves on God, why not now, when our Assurances wholly fail?

S E C T. VI.

The Evidences of a weak unworthy Servant of Christ, laid down according to the Rules afore mentioned.

THE Life of all we have said, is Practice: Hence I make bold to lay down the Evidence of a poor Creature, not worthy to be named, much less to have his Name written in the Book of Life. - - - He gives them thus: - - Wherein howsoever he speaks in the first Person, as intending them for his own Use; yet he desires to correct himself therein as Paul did, Nevertheless I live, yet not I; but Christ liveth in me, Gal. 2. 20. On every Evidence he desires this to be written, and thus to be understood, I live, yet not I.

CHAP. VIII.

Of the NATURE and KINDS of MEDITATION.

MEDITATION is a deep and earnest Musing upon some Point of Christian Instruction, to the strengthening us against the Flesh, World and Devil, and to the leading us forward toward the Kingdom of Heaven; or, Meditation is a steadfast Bending of the Mind to some spiritual Matter, discoursing of it with our selves, till we bring the same to some profitable Issue.

Now this Meditation is either Sudden, or let; occasional, or solemn, and deliberate.

1. Sudden, occasional, or external Meditation ariseth from such Things as God, by his Providence, offers to our Eyes, Ears and Senses. When I consider the Heavens, the Work of thy Fingers, the Moon and Stars which thou hast ordained: What is Man that thou art mindful of him, or the Son of Man, that thou visitest him? Psal. s. 3, 4. This Meditation of David's was occasional.

2. Deliberate, set, or solemn Meditation ariseth out of our own Hearts, when purposely we separate ourselves from all Company, and go apart to perform this Exercise more throughly, making choice of such Matter, Time, and Place as are most requisite thereunto; Now this Meditation is double, for it is either conversant about Matters of Knowledge, for the finding out of some hidden Truth, or about Matters of Affection, for the enkindling of our Love unto God: The former of these Two we leave to the Schools and Prophets; the Latter we shall search after, which is both of large Use, and such as no Christians can reject as unnecessary, or over-difficult.

Sect. II.

The Circumstantial of Meditation.

The Circumstantial of our Meditation, are Time and Place; I shall add to these (tho I cannot call it a Circumstance) the Subject-matter, which, by Way of Preparation to the Duty, we may take Notice of.

1. For the Time: No Time can be prescribed to all Men; for neither is God bound to Hours, neither doth the contrary Disposition of Men agree in one Choice of Opportunities; some find their Hearts most in Frame in the Morning; others learn Wisdom of their Reins in the Night season; others find Isaac's Time the fittest Time, who went out in the evening to meditate, Gen. 24. 63. No Practice of others can preclude to us in this Circumstance, it is enough that we set apart that Time wherein we are aptest for that Service.

2. For Place: We judge solitary-ness and solitary Places fittest for Meditation, especially for set and solitary Meditation: Thus we found Jesus meditating alone in the Mount, John Baptist in the Desert, David on his Bed, Daniel in his House, Isaac in the Field, The Bridegroom of our Soul, the Lord Jesus Christ is bashful, saith Bernard, and never comes to his meditating Bride in the Presence of a Multitude: Hence was was the Spouse's Invitation, Come my beloved, let us go forth into the field, let us lodge in the villages, let us go up early to the vineyards, let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grapes appear, and the pomegranates put forth, there will I give thee my loves, Cant. 7.

11, 12. We must in this Case abandon worldly Society, both outward and inward: Many sequester themselves from the visible Company of Men, which yet carry a World within them; both these Societies are Enemies to this Meditation.

3. For the Matter of our Meditation, it must be Divine and spiritual; viz. God's Word, or some Part thereof: It is woful to think how some meditate on Sin, contrary to God's Word, studying to go to Hell with the least Noise in the World; others bend their Thoughts only with the search of natural Things; as, The Motion of the Heavens, the Reason of the Ebbing and Flowing of the Seas, the Kinds of Simples that grow out of the Earth, and the Creatures upon it, with all their Qualities and Operations; but in the mean while, the God that made them, the Vileness of their Nature, and the Danger of their Sin, the Multitude of their Imperfections, the Saviour that bought them, the Heaven that he bought for them, &c. are as unregarded as if they were not: The Matter of our Meditation must be something Divine; I remember thee on my bed, and meditate on thee: I will meditate of all thy works, and talk of all thy doings, Psal. 63. 6. and 77. 12.

Section III.

Of occasional Meditation.

Occasional Meditation arising from such Things as God in his Providence offers to our Eyes, Ears, or Senses: Examples of this sort are infinite, for a Table, take these few:

1. Upon our first awaking in the Morning, meditate how the Lord can at the last Day as easily raise up our dead Bodies from the Dust, as he hath now awaked us out of Sleep; and, as now we rise from the Grave our Bed, so then we must arise from that Bed our Grave.

2. Upon sight of the Morning-sky, meditate, That if one Sun make so bright a Morning, what a shining Morning will that be, when Christ the Sun of Righteousness shall appear, attended with all his bright Angels, Archangels, Cherubims, Seraphims, Bodies and Souls of Saints? When there shall be as many Suns on a Day, as there are Stars on a bright Winter's Night.

3. Upon the Occasions of the Day, meditate, how the Lord seeth us, and understands all our Thoughts, and is acquainted with all our Ways: The eyes of the Lord run to and fro throughout the whole Earth, to shew himself strong in behalf of them, whose Heart is perfect towards him, 2 Chron. 16. 9. And therefore we should do all Things as in the awful Presence of God.

4. Upon our particular Callings we may accordingly meditate; as

1. A Magistrate, thus, As I judge others, so will the Lord judge me; it will not be long ere Death arrest, and I must go without Bail: Methinks I hear that Sound in mine Ears, Psal. 82. 6. I have said, ye are gods, but ye shall die like men.

A Minister, thus; The Time I have to spend is not mine, but the Peoples; Methinks whiles I idle it away, I hear them crying after me, To your Closet, and there pray for us, that we perish not; study for us, that we may learn of you how to walk in his Paths; for if we perish, and you will not give Warning, then must our Blood be required at your hands,

Meditation.

Ezek. 3. 18.

3. A Tradesman, thus; What is that Balance in my Shop, but a Memento of distributive and communicative Justice? if my Dealings be not just to a Point or Pin, I shall then be weighed in God’s Balance, and be found too light, Prov. 11.

1. A false Balance is an Abomination to the Lord, and so is a true Balance without true Dealing with all Men.

4. An Husbandman, thus: As I sow in Spring, so I reap in Harvest, and God hath said, He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity, Prov. 22. 8. but they that sow in tears shall reap in joy, Psal. 126.

5. Lord, whilst I sow in Tears, give me April showers of Repentance, that when the Harvest comes, and the Angels must reap, they may gather me into thy Barn in Heaven.

5. A Soldier, thus; What Trade is this I follow? what Devices are these I carry about me to morter afar off? whose image do I bear in this killing Disposition, but his, whose true Title is, The Destroyer? I had need look about me that I be in a righteous Cause; I am sure, all the Titles of God sound of Mercy and gracious Repents to Man; God the Father is his Maker and Preserver, God the Son his Saviour and Redeemer, God the Holy Ghost, his Sanctifier and Comforter: O Lord, that my Enemies may be thy Enemies, and my Gaue by Gaue, or that I may leave this Calling.

5. Upon Night approaching, meditate, That seeing our Days are determined, and the Number of our Months are with the Lord, and our Bounds are appointed which we cannot pass, Job 14.

5. that one Day more of our limited Time is gone and past, and we are now nearer to our End by a Day, than we were in the Morning.

6. Upon Occasion of Lights brought in, meditate, If the Light of a poor Candle be so comfortable, which is nothing but a little inflamed Air gathered about a moistened Snuff, What is the Light of that glorious Sun, the great Lamp of Heaven? but much more, what is the Light of that infinitely resplendent Sun of Righteousness who gave that Light to the Sun, and that Sun to the World?

4. Upon the sight of a bright sky full of Stars, meditate, How worthy a Science it is to see and observe these goodly spangles of Light above our Heads, their Places, Qualities, Motions? But the Employment of a Christian is far more noble, Heaven is open unto him, and he can look beyond the Vail, and see further above those Stars than it is thither, and there discern those Glories, that may answer to so rich a Pavement: I see indeed those glittering glorious Stars with my bodily Eyes; but I see withal, by the Eyes of my Faith, that this is but the Floor of that goodly Fabrick, the outward curtain of that glorious Tabernacle: I see within that incomprehensible Light, which none can see, and not be blessed: How many are these Stars before mine Eyes! but Oh! what Millions of pure and majestic Angels? what Millions of happy and glorified Souls? how many Mansions of my Father (one of them being my own) do I see by Faith? Come down, no more, my Soul, after thou hast once pitched upon this heavenly Glory; or, if this Flesh force thy Descent, be unquiet till thou art let loose to immortality.

Thus from our Up-rising to our Down lying, we may upon every Object presented to our Senses, frame a sudden or occasional Meditation.

Sect. IV.

Of deliberate Meditation, and the Parts thereof.

Deliberate Meditations arise, and are wrought out of our own Hearts: Now every such Mediation Meditation consists of these Parts.

The { Entrance.

Proceedings.

Conclusion.

I. The Entrance { Common. is either } Proper.

1. The common Entrance is some short, yet pithy Prayer, that God may guide and direct us therein, by the gracious Assistance of his holy Spirit.

2. The proper and particular Entrance, is the Choice of some Theme or Matter, and settling ourselves on that which we have chosen.

II. The Proceedings of our Meditation are in this Method.

1. To begin in the Understanding.

2. To end in the Affections.

Concerning that Part which is in the Understanding, it is good to keep that Course which the common Places of natural and artificial Reason do lead us unto; as, to consider the Matter of our Meditation, 1. In its Description. 2. In its Distribution. 3. In its Causes. 4. In its Effects. 5. In its Ubi. 6. In its Properties. 7. In its Opposites. 8. In its Comparates. 9. In its Scriptural Testimonies; only, in these Heads, observe these Cautions.

1. That we be not too curious in Prosecution of these logical Places; the End of this Duty is not to practise Logick, but to exercise Religion, and to kindle Piety and Devotion. Besides, every Theme will not afford all these Places; as, when we meditate of God, there is no Room for Causes or Comparisons; it will therefore be sufficient, if we take the most pregnant and voluntary Places.

2. That if we flick in the Disposition of any of these Places (as of meditating of sin, we cannot readily meet with material and formal Causes) we rack not our Minds too much with the Inquiry thereof, but quietly pass over to the next.

(3.) Concerning that Part which is in the Affection, it is good to follow that Course which the common Places of Rhetorick do lead us unto: These are six, viz.

1. A Relish of what we have meditated on.

2. A Complaint, bewailing our Wants of this Relish.

3. A Wish of the Soul for what it complaineth to want.

4. A Confession of our Inabilities to effect what we wish.

5. A Petition for the Supply of our Inabilities.

6. A Confidence of obtaining what we petition for.

III. The Conclusion of the Work contains these Parts:

1. A Thanksgiving.

2. A Recommendation of our Souls and Ways to God.

I shall add no more, but only with the Soul, thus concluding, to lift up the Heart and Voice to God, in singing a Psalm answerable to its Disposition, and Matter meditated on; and by this Means shall the soul close up itself with much sweetness and spiritual Contentment.

SECTION V.

An Example of the Soul's Love to Christ.

After Entrance by Prayer, and Choice of this Theme, the Soul may proceed thus,

1. Description.

O my Soul, what is this Soul's Love to Christ, whereof thou studiest? It is a spiritual Fire kindled from above in the Hearts of his Darlings, towards their Bridegroom the Lord Jesus Christ.

Or, it is a Sparkle of that Fire of the Holy Ghost, struck into the Tinder of our Souls, which immediately smokes, and sends up the Flame thitherward, whence it first had its Rife. Or, it is the Soul's Rest.
Rest or refusal of it self in the Boim of Christ, with Content unpeakeable and glorious, being persuaded of her Interest in that Song of the Spouse, I am my well beloved’s, and my well beloved is mine, Cant. 6. 3. This, O my Soul, is the Nature of thy Love to Christ.

1. Distribution.

There is a twofold Love, one of Desire, which is an earnest longing after that which we believe would do us much good, if we could attain to it; another of Complacency, when having attained that which we desire, we hugg and embrace it, and solace ourselves in the Fruition of it: Now the first of these Loves is an Introduction to the second, and both of them (in Relation to Christ) issue from a proportionable Act of Faith precedent. 1. That affectionate longing, and thirsty Love, wherewith we pant and gasp after Christ proceeds from the first Acts of Faith, whereby we assent to all Gospel promises, as true and good in themselves, and better unto us than any Thing in the World, could we but once be assured that they belong unto us. That other Love of Complacency, when, with the Psalmist, we return unto our Rest, because the Lord hath dealt bountifully with us, Psal. 116. 7. when sweetly we repose ourselves in the Lap of our Saviour with content unpeakeable, and full of Glory, it proceeds from the last Act of Faith, whereby we are actually persuaded by those welcome Whispers of the Spirit of Adoption, that certainly Christ is our Saviour, and that our Debts are cancelled to the very last mite; only observe, O my Soul! these two things of this Love. 2. That it is subject to all Variations or Changes, Ebbings and Flowings of that Persuasion; sometimes in a violent Temptation, or in a sensible Delicition, our Persuasion fails, and to this Love of Complacency is either stupefied, or it falls back into that thrifty anxious Love of Desire. 2. That this Love of Complacency admits of Degrees, proportionable to the Degrees of our Persuasion; if that be clear and strong, this Love is more clearful and plesant; if that be weak and obscure this Love is more cold, with many Fears and Jealouises; whence this Love of Complacency may not unfitly be subdivided into an ordinary, and heroical Love; ordinary Love proceeds from a weak Degree of that last Act of Faith; heroical Love springeth from a more eminent and transcendent Pitch of Persuasion, concerning our own Reconciliation in particular: It is called ordinary, because most Christians, tho' effectually called, do ordinarily feel but such a timorous Love in themselves; it is called heroical, because it is constantly only in such, as either besides the Evidence of the Word and Spirit, have had some special Revelation to put them out of all Doubt, concerning their Estate to God-ward; or in such as by a certain close waking with God, have been long exercised in a christian Course, have often entertained Christ Jesus at Supper in their Hearts, and habituated themselves into a more familiar acquaintance with that holy Spirit, which brings all the good News from Heaven, to those diligent Souls which carefully wait for it.

3. Causes.

But whence is this Love, O my Soul? The Apostle is plain, We love him, because he first loved us, 1 John 4. 13. When the Spirit of God in the Promises lets in some Intimation of God's Love into the Soul, then she loves him again: That Expression of the Psalmist, The Lord will command his loving kindnesses in the day time, Ps. al. 42. 8, is pertinent to this; it is a phrase taken from

from Kings and Prince, and great Commanders in the field, whose Words of Command stand for Laws; to the Lord sends out his loving kindness, saying, Go out, my everlasting Love and Kindness, take a Commission from me, go to that humble, thirsty Soul; go and prosper, and prevail, and settle my Love effectually upon him; I command thee to do it: It may be at the first Visit, the poor Soul cries out, What, I Love? What, I Mercy? will Christ Jesus accept of me? Oh, I am the worst of Sinners; could I pray, or perform Duties as some others do, I might have some Hopes of Mercy; but what? is it possible that the Lord of Heaven should love me? Yes, thee, even thee, faith the Lord: go out my loving Kindness to that poor Soul, break open the Doors of that weary withering Heart, knock off those Bolts of carnal Reason, and all base Arguments, and clear and warm that broken, bruised, humbled Soul, and tell him from me, that his Sins are pardoned, his Fights and Prayers are heard, and he shall be saved; I charge thee do the Work before thou comest in again: Here, O my Soul, is the immediate cause, God's Love thus affecting the Heart, it breeds a Love in the Heart to God again: I drew them, faith God, with the cords of a man, even with the bands of love, Hol. 11. 4.

4. Effects

And what are the Effects, O my Soul! of this Love? O this Love hath many holy gracious Effects, it will make the Soul to rejoice in Christ's Presence; to grieve in his Absence, to please Christ in all Things, to desire Union with Christ, tho' it never see good Day, tho' it have no other Wages; to bestow readily and freely any Thing it hath on the Lord Jesus Christ, to deny itself, or any Thing that may come in Competition with Christ, to part with her Isaac's, her dearest Things, To account all things as dung and Lyes, that she may win Christ, Phil. 3. 8. to be content with nothing, but Love again from the Party beloved, to be ever and anon thinking and musing on the Lord Jesus Christ, to be ordinarily and frequently speaking of Christ. Love is full of Eloquence in the Prates of her Beloved, to is the Soul's Love to the Lord Jesus Christ. O how that Spouse of Christ runs on in a Description of his Rarities and Transcendencies, My beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest among ten thousand (or as it is more elegantly in the Original, He is an ensign-bearer among ten thousand) He is altogether lovely, or he is all compepse of Loves: Betwixt those Verfes [10 and 16] there's a Description of Christ, so stuffed with choicest Delicacies of Expression, that thou canst not match it O my Soul! out of any of those Poets which have flown highest in amorous Inventions; at last the concludes with a triumphant Epiphonema, This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem, Cant. 5. 10. 16. Nay Love will make the Soul not only speak but do any Thing for the Lord Jesus Christ: O then the cries, How may I please Christ better? what Duty must I do? and what sins must I avoid? if there be any of the bed-chamber of the Bridegroom, tell me I beseech you, how may I hear, and pray and walk, and approve my Heart to my Christ and King, that nothing may displeaue him. Lastly, Love will make the Soul suffer for Christ, and to rejoice in such sufferings, Acts 5. 41. It is a fire that much Water of Persecution cannot quench; may it feed on those Waters, and grows hotter by them: As Opposition riseth against it, so it riseth against Opposition, yea, it riseth by it, until it rise above it.
Meditation.

5. Opposites.

Now what are the contraries to this Love of Christ, but an Hatred of Christ? One would wonder there should be such a Thing in the World, as Hatred of Christ: But why then should the Apostle threaten, If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema, Maranatha, 2 Cor. 16. 22. i. e. If any Man hate Christ, let him be accursed with all Manner of Execrations or curses in the most desperate Manner, expecting due vengeance from the Lord, when he cometh with his holy Millions, to execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly, Jude 14, 15. No Question there is a World of wicked Men, that are under this curse; I speak not of poor Indians, and other Savages of the unchristian World, whose Souls are overclouded with the blackest Mists of Irreligion, that the Prince of Darkness can possibly inwrap them in, who come into the World, not knowing wherefore, and go out of the World, not knowing whether; an heavy case, which cannot be sufficiently bewailed with an Ocean of Tears and Blood; but of those that live within the Paradise of the christian Church, that have nothing to distinguish them from those Indian Miscreants, but an outward conformity, outward Formalities, the charity of other Men, and their own flight Imaginations: As i. All open Enemies, gros, hainous and grievous Sinners, Swearers, Blasphemers, Drunkards, Railers against God, his Ministers, his People, thefe and the like love sin more than Christ, they love the Devil more than Christ. 2. All fawning Hypocrites, that profess, it may be, a marvellous affectionate Love unto the Lord Jesus Christ, but they are inward Haters of Christ.

6. Comparison.

But to inflame thy Love, O my Soul, upon Christ, consider whereunto it is like, or to what it may be compared: The Scripture hath described the Out-goings of such a Soul, 1. By the parched Ground: My soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee, in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is, Psal. 63. 1. 2. By the Pantings of a chafed Hart; As the Hart panteth after the water-brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God, Psal. 42. 1. 3. By the Longings of a teeming Woman; I have longed for thy salvation, O Lord, and thy Law is my delight, Psal. 119. 174. 4. By the Painting and Swooning of one that is in good Earnest sick of Love; I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my beloved, that ye tell him, I am sick of love, Cant. 5. 8. Such souls are commonly cast into an Agony, into Pangs of Love, that love Christ indeed.

7. Testimony.

And doth not the Scripture express the Loves of the Soul to the Lord Jesus? If God be your Father, said Christ to the Jews, then will I love you. John 8. 42. And Thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the virgins love thee, and, We will remember thy love more than wine; the upright love thee, Cant. 1. 3, 4. We love him, faith the Apostle, because he loved us first, 1 John 4. 19. I will love thee, faith David, O Lord my Strength, Psal. 18. 1. I will cause those that love me, faith Wisdom, to inherit substance, Prov. 8. 21. He that hath my commandments and keepeth them, be it is that loveth me, and be that loveth me, shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and I will manifest my love unto him. John 14. 21. Look upon me, faith David, and be merciful unto me, as thou Used to do unto those that love thy name, Psalm 119. 132.

Thus for Information of Judgment, now for the stirrings up, O my Soul! of thy Affections.

1. Re-
Meditation.

1. Relish.

O divine Love! O the Pleasures,
O the Joys of this Love! O Honey and Sweetness itself! It is the Love of Christ that lets a Price on all other Duties; the least Service (even a Cup of cold Water, or a Widow’s Mite) if it have but a Grain of this Love in it, is a most acceptable Sacrifice to God;
it is Love to Christ that hath the Promises of this Life, and that which is to come: I will cause those that love me to inherit Substance, and I will fill their treasures, Prov. 8. 21. Yea, there is a crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him, Jam. 1.
12. It is Love to Christ, that by Christ assures us all the glorious Privileges, flowing from Christ, as Reconciliation, Adoption, Forgiveness of sins, Justification, Righteousness, Wisdom, Sanctification, Redemption, Possession of all Things. All things are yours, whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come, all are yours, and you are Christ’s, and Christ is God’s, 1 Cor. 3. 22, 23. O who can think of this Love of Christ, and not be ravished therewith! Had I a thousand Hearts to bestow on Christ, they were all too little, they were ne-ever able to love him sufficiently; it is the Lord Jesus that is all Strength, and all Wisdom, and all Honour, and all Beauty; the Fountain of all Graces, and Virtues, and Qualities in Men:
whatsoever Grace, or Virtue, or Quality is in us, they are but so many Rays that come from this Sun of Righteousness; is fairer than the children of men, and grace eminently is poured into his lips, Psalm. 45. 2.

2. Complaint.

But alas! where is my Soul? how dull is my Understanding? my Affection? how careless, how peevish is my Soul, in a Business which concerns t so much? how prejudicate is my Opinion? how vain are my Conceits? O my Soul! how ignorant are thou of the incomparable Worth, and delightful Sweetness that is in the Lord Jesus?
how secure and sleepy, and slumber-ous are thou? O this hard Heart of mine!
thou canst mourn not for Losses and Craftes of this Life, but for the Lots of Christ, thou canst not mourn one jot:
Didst thou, O my Soul, truly affect Christ, the Pillow would be washed with thy Tears for thy Want of Christ, and for thy Want of Assurance: Wo, and alas, that my Mind is taken up with a Confluence of worldly Lufts, worldly Cares, and worldly Desires!
O it is this that quencheth the conjugal Love of my Soul to her Bridegroom; your Loves are now become very adulterous Loves: Wo and alas, that I have loved the world, and the things that are in the world, 1 John 2. 15. that I have followed my base Love, and Addulteries, and Abominations; that in stead of loving Christ, I have loathed him, and whipt him, and scourged him, and crucified him, and preferred the vilest Lust (any sin whatsoever) before the Lord Jesus. And now I am musing of this Love of Christ, alas, I feel it not, or if I feel a little little Love of Defire, yet I have no sense, no Tast, no Relish of that Love of complacency; there is no such Fire, no flames in my Breast towards the Lord Jesus.

3. Wishing.

And yet, O that I could love the Lord Jesus! O that he had my Heart!
O that now I could bid adieu to all other Lovers! O that the Father of Love, and the Spirit of Love would strike one Spark of Love from the Promise, to kindle it in the Heart of this poor creature! O that I felt a Dilatation
Meditation.

encion of my Desires after Christ! that God would stretch them, and widen them to the utmost, that I might love Christ with all my Heart, Soul and Might! O that I were even sick of Love! O that I were cast into the melting Pangs of a divine christian Love! O my Soul, consider the Want of Christ, and the Worth of Christ! O consider the Benefits of Christ's Death, the Sweetness of Christ's Promises, the Pleasantness of his commands, the Preciousness of his Graces, and above all, the Infinitees of his Love, and thou canst not but love him! consider that Soul-ravishing text, God who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickned us together with Christ, and hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus; that in ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindness towards us through Christ Jesus, Eph. 2. 4. &c. and thou canst not but cry out with the Ardency of Affection, with the Strength, the Zeal of Love, O! To him, unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, and hath made us kings and priests unto God, and his Father, To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever, Amen. Rev. 1. 5. 6.

O my Soul, these are sweet Motives: but alas, how dull is thy Understanding, how dead thy Affections? I clearly see there is no Strength at all in thee. O how cold, and weak, and faint, and heartless are these thy Wishes! O Christ! I would love thee, but I cannot; I find no Ability in myself to love thee; I am no more able to love thee, than cold Water is able to heat itself. O where be those scalding Affections to Christ Jesus, which holy Men have felt in all Ages, and striven to express in their Soliloquies? O where is this holy, constant, conjugal Love? O where are those dwellings, and throwings, and wrestlings which others have felt in their Bowels? O where be those holy fits, those Pangs of Love, those Love-trances, those serephical Flames of conjugal Affection, which made the Spouse cry out, I am sick of love? Cant. 2. 5. Alas, I feel a Distemper in my Affections; I find it not to ease to love Christ, as many Men think; surely it is a very hard and difficult Thing to love the Lord Jesus.

5. Petition.

Come then blessed Lord, and shew thy own self to me, I beseech thee, if I have found grace in thy sight, shew me the way that I may know thee: I beseech thee shew me thy glory, Exod. 33. 13, 18. Give me the Spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Christ, Ephel. 1. 17. Let me see the Beauties and glorious Excellencies, and by this Means blow my Love into a pure flame, yea advance it to a Degree of angelical Sublimity. Surely, Lord, I cannot love what I see not, and therefore anoint mine Eyes with thy eye-falve, that I may see thy Lovelinels, and love thee with my best Loves: O kindle, inflame, and enlarge my Love that it may rest largely in thee; inlarge the crany which the Spirit hath bored thro' the Flesh into my spirit, that I may largely see thee, and so largely love thee: inlarge the Arteries and conduit-pipes, by which thou the Head and Fountain of Love flowest into thy Members, that being abundantly quickned and watered with the Spirit of Love, I may abundantly love thee; and do not only come much, but come often into me, and let my spirit often be one spirit with thee, in communicative and fruitful Unions; for such often Unions with with thy Spirit, will make my spirit more spiritual, and the more spiritual the is, the more will she love thee, the God of all spirits. Blessed Lord, wilt thou love the Image, and shall not the Image much more love the Pattern? O that I were sick of love! that my Understanding, will and Affections were all overflowed, overcome and amazed, that my Faintings were inflamed towards thee, and even melted into thee! O sweet Jesu, touch my soul with thy Spirit, that Virtue may go out of thee into me, and draw me unto thee; let the favour of thy Ointments, whose very Breath is Love, be ever in my Nostrils: Give me the flagons of the new wine of the Kingdom, which may lift up my soul above myself in my Loves; give me to forget the low and base Loves of this World, and by an heavenly Excess, transport me into an heavenly Love, that I may embrace Christ, who is the Lord from Heaven with a Love like himself: O give me to believe, for Faith and Love grow together, and the stronger my Faith, the greater will be my Love.

6. Confidence.

And this (sweet Jesu) I am fully peauaded thou wilt do: I believe, Lord help my unbelief; surely thou art God, who canst not lie, and thou hast promised, that the upright shall love thee, Cant. 1. 4. O how should I but believe thee? and now thou haft in some sweet Meafure convinced me, now thou begin'st to warm my Heart, and to caft me into a Love-trance; now that my spirits are somewhat raised, my Heart in some fort enlarged, my Mind in some Meafure fixed upon thee; I make bold, Lord, to conclude with this spiritual Epithalamium, Blessed Lord, I am thine, only thine, ever thine, all that I am is at thy command, and all that I have is at thy disposing; be pleased to command both it and me; I know whatfoever I adventure or lofe for thy fake, I shall receive with infinite Advantage in thy bleffed self. I dare trust my Lord with the best thing that ever he gave me, my precious soul. O my bleeding Heart and broken Spirit doth languish, in a thirsty Love, panting and gasping after thee, my bleffed Saviour: O let me taste how gracious thou art, by some real Experiments in my own Heart, smile upon me from Heaven, answer me with some affuring Whispers of the Spirit of Adoption; Kip me with the kisses of thy mouth, for thy love is better than wine, Cant. 1. 2. O let me bathe my soul in the delicious Intimacies of a spiritual communion with thee my God, that I may for ever adhere unto thee with a sincere constancy, and reift in thee with a Love of complacency: For I feel, I find my foul cast into a longing sweat for thee, and nothing can fatishe the importunate longing of my perplexed soul, but thy own self; for thou art my Lord; my Love, my Life, and thou art altogether lovely, O my dear Jesu! O my dearest Husband! O these holy fits! O these sweet Pangs of Love grow upon me a pace! Upon a sudden, my King, my Saviour, I am even sick of love!

Conclusion.

And now, O my foul, return unto thy reft, for the Lord hath been beneficia unto thee, Psal. 116. 7. The Reason of thy Love is Christ's Love; Thou lovest him, because he first loved thee. Is it thus, O my soul? Hath the Lord Christ indeed discovered his Will, to take thee for his Spouse? What he that is so holy, to marry such an impure Wretch as thou art? O how should this but melt thee into a flame of Love? What stirrings of Love shouldst thou now feel in thy Bawels? how shouldst thou thou now value him, and prize him, and praiife him? how should thy Glory now sing praises to him, and not be silent? how shouldst thou admire and wonder, that thou couldst endure to be without Christ so long? that thou couldst so slightly think of Christ heretofore? O my Soul, henceforth cling to thy Saviour, go out of thy self, and creep to him, and affect not only Union, but very Unity with him; bathe thy self hereafter again and again, many and many a Time in those delicious Intimacies of thy Spiritual Marriage: And to that Purpofe, O my Soul, if sometimes thy Love to thy Saviour shall cool, O then sweet Saviour look upon me in Mercy; one Look of thine will awaken my Love, and make me weep bitterly, that I have loved thee so little, whom to love sufficiently, my best and mightiest Loves are most insufficient: Prevent my seeking with thy seeking, be thou present with me in thy providence and Power, when thou seemedst to be far off me, in the Taste of thy Sweetness and Fruition of thy Loves; and then when I have regained thee, I will hold more hardly, and keep more safely, and love thee more vehemently, by thy Power affiuing: and provide a Stock of Loves in the Summer, against Winter, if it return any more: Come Lord Jesus, and be as the Roe on the mountains; my Life is hid with thee, O appear quickly, that I may quickly appear with thee in Glory, and in the Happiness of a consummate Marriage: Even so come Lord Jesus, come quickly, Amen, Amen, Rev. 22. 20. Psalm. 18. to ver. 7.

Sect. VI.

Another Example of Eternity.

AFTER Entrance by Prayer and choice of this Theme, the foul may proceed thus:

1. Description.

O my foul, what is this Eternity whereof thou studiest? It is the inteire and perfect Possession of a Life (togeher and a t once) that never shall have End. The Description may be imperfect and no Wonder: For how can that be defined, which hath no Bounds or Limits? Whatsoever is said of Eternity, comes infinitely short of it, no Words can utter it, no Figures number it, no Time can measure it; Eternity is of this Nature, take it from what you will, it is still the same, it is neither increased by Addition, nor diminished by Subftraction: What is Eternity? It is a Circle running back into itself, whose Center is alway, and Circumference without all End. What is Eternity? It is a Duration alway present, it is one perpetual Day which is not divided into that which is past, and that which is to come. What is Eternity? It is an Age of Ages, never expiring, but alway like itself, without all change. What is Eternity? It is a Beginning without Beginning, middle or ending, alway beginning. And this, O my foul, is Eternity.

2. Distribution.

There is a two-fold Eternity, an Eternity of Wo, and an Eternity of Joy:

1. Of Wo, O Wo that never shall have End! The Worm fhall not die, the Fire fhall not be quenched, Isa. 66. 24. After a thousand thousand Millions of Years, there are still as many more to come, and when those many more are come and gone, the Woes are yet as far from the laft as they were at the first: It is now above four thousand Years since Esau, who hated Jacob, was cast into this Pit of Woes, and yet the Number of his Years of Torments are as many as the first Day of his Torment.

2. Of Joy, O Joy above all the Joys in Harvest, Isa. 9. 3. they are the Joys of Heaven: There Joys the Understanding by a perfect Knowledge and and Vision of God; there joy the Memory, by a perfect Remembrance of all Things past; there joy the Will, by enjoying all Manner of Good without all Fear of Evil: In this Joy there is no Corruption, no Defect, no old Age, but solemn Glory, and continu-al Solemnity; there is an everlasting Spring, there is alwixe the Flower, and Grace of Youth and perfect Health: With thee is the fountain of life, and in thy light shall we see light, Psal. 36. 9.

3. Causes.

Whence are these two Eternities, O my soul, but from him that is only eternal?

1. Eternal Wo is from him, For he hath prepared Tophet of old, Isa. 33. 33. God is the efficient, but sin the meritorious cause of this Wo, The wages of sin is death, Rom. 6. 23.

2. Eternal Joy is from him, the Father bestows it, the Son merits it, the Holy Ghost seals and applies it: God hath given thee a Saviour, O my soul, to give this eternal Joy to thee, and God hath given thee Faith, whereby thou mayst attain to this Saviour; and God hath given thee his Word, whereby thou mayst attain to this Faith: Look up, therefore, to him as theBeginner and Finisher of this Eternity, and whilst thou magnifhest the Author, be ravished with the Glory of the Work; there is nothing that is good, that is not comprehended herein; In thy presence is fulness of joy, and at thy right hand are pleasures for evermore, Psal. 16. 11.

4. Effects.

What are the Effects, O my soul, of this Eternity?

1. Of Eternity in Hell, these amongst others; heavy, heavy, most sad and heavy Thoughts, when the Damned shall consider their Dooms, Go ye into everlasting fires, then shall they call their deep Thoughts on { Time past.

{ Eternity to come.

1. For the Time past, they shall remember, That sometimes they lived, at least some of them, in a glorious Golden, enlightened with the fairest Noon-tide of the Gospel that ever the Sun saw, and that they heard many a powerful Ser-mon, any one Passage whereof, had they not suffered Satan to blind fold and baff-ble them, might have been unto them the Beginning of the New Birth; that many Times they were told of this Danger by God's faithful Minifters; that they had many Calls and Offers of Salvation, and the Spirit of God many a Time cried behind them, This is the Way, walk in it; that sometimes they were half per-suaded to be Christians, and they were near Salvation, and they had a golden Opportunity for it; but alas! they revolted again, and preferred their Lusts, and passed by these Offers and Opportuni-ties with an inexpiable Neglect, and hor-rible ingratitude, and now they ly drown-ed and damned in that Lake of Fire and Brimstone, which they might have so easily and so often escaped. O what a shriek will this cause in Hell? whiles at every of these Considerations the Worm of Conscience shall give them a deadly Bite, even to the Heart? that the Memory of Things here on Earth, remains still with all Spirits in the World of Hell, is manifest, Son, remember that thou in thy life-time receivedst thy good things, and Lazarus evil, now therefore is he comforted, and thou art tormented, said Abraham to that rich Man in Hell, Luke 16. 25.

2. For Eternity to come, they shall consider, That this Eternity is another Hell in Hell; might they endure those horrible Pains, and extreme Horrors no more millions of Years, than there are Crea-
Meditation.

Creatures both in Heaven and Earth, they would comfort themselves with this Thought, My Misery will at last have an End; but this Word Eternity, it rents their very Heart in Pieces, it rents their very Throat with hideous Rorings, it gives a new Life to their unsufferable Sorrows: O my Soul, dost thou not tremble at this Consideration? Imagine thou hearest Judas roring in Hell Flames, I have now suffered above one thousand six hundred Years, since I betrayed Christ, and through the Extremity of Torment, I have thought these one thousand six hundred, to have been a thousand thousand thousand thousand Years: O when will be an End of these Sufferings? When couldst thou tell Stellas caeli, stellas rosis, undis aqui flaminius, &c. All the Stars of Heaven, Stills of Dew, Drops of Rain, Fleeces of Snow, Flowers of the Spring, Colours of Flowers, Fruits of the Earth, Grains of Corn, Leaves of Trees, Beasts of the Field, Motes of the Sun flying in the Air, Hairs on thy Head, Sand on the Sea shore, Piles of Gras growing on the Earth; and shouldst thou add to these, all the Thoughts of Men, the Motions and Mutations of all the Creatures, and number all these by all the Additions and Multiplications of Arithmetick, enough to fill Volumes reaching from Earth unto Heaven, as yet thou hast not measured the Length, the Middle of Eternity! O Judas, here is thy Lot, thou hast fryed in Hell above a Thousand Years, thou must be tormented in those Flames a hundred thousand Years, ten hundred thousand Years, a thousand million of Years of Ages; and when all those Years and Ages are gone and past, thou art as far from the End of thy Torments as thou wert at the Beginning, when thou hangedst thyself and first wentst down to Hell. O my Soul, here's a Meditation able to startle thee from the Sleep of Sin: No que-tion, at these Thoughts, Judas, and all the damned in Hell take on with infinite Anguish and ingared Indignation: Hence comes that horrible Hatred, and perpetual Blasphemies which the Damned utter against God: O how they tear their Hair, and bite their Nails, and grash their Teeth, and dig furiously into the very Fountain of Lire, desirous (if they could do it possibly) to spit out their very Bowels. O my Heart, well mayst thou tremble in the Midst of this Meditation! O Eternity! Eternity! Eternity!

2. Of Eternity in Heaven, these, amongst others are the Effects, rowxing, raising, and most ravishing Thoughts, when the Blessed shall consider their Doom, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom: Then shall they cast their Thoughts on { Time past. Eternity to come.}

1. For Time past. They shall remember, That sometimes they were in Troubles, in Sorrows, in Sicknesses, in Contempt of others, in Dangers by Sea and Land; that sometimes they were ready to perish, and to cast away their Souls by this or that sin, but that God still held his special Hand over them, and gave them Grace, and brought them into the Port and Haven of Security, where is no shadow of Miseries. O what ravishing of Spirit will the Souls of the Just be cast into at their recalling of Time past, and that the Memory of Things here below remains still with the Spirits of the Just made perfect, is manifest; Remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom, said the good Thief to Christ, Luke 23. 42.

2. For Eternity to come, they shall consider, That the Joy they enjoy they shall enjoy for ever: They that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteous-
Meditation

As the stars for ever and ever. They shall shine: how? as the firmament, as the stars, Dan. 12. 9. or as the sun, faith our Saviour, Matth. 13. 45. Not so, faith Chrysostom, as they should not surpass the Brightness of the Sun, but the Sun, being the most glittering Thing in the World, he takes a Resemblance towards expressing their incomparable Glory: But to heighten this Glory, observe the auxesis, it shall be for ever, i.e. for Eternity, or for ever and ever, i.e. for Eternity and Eternity; or, as the Latines, in perpetuas aternitates, for perpetual Eternities: If one Eternity be without End, what are two? what are ten? what are an hundred? what are infinite? O what a Life is this that knoweth no End? what a Glory is this that never fadeth? what a Love is this that never cooleth? what a Joy is this that never ceaseth?

5. Opposites.

Why then, O my soul, dost thou set thy Reft on this side Jordan? what are those few short Pleasures thou here enjoyest? what is this brittle Life on which depends eternal Blissles on VVo? what is Earth to Heaven? what a Minute to Eternity? if any Thing be contrary to Eternity, what is it but this Punctilio of Time we have here to spend? this brittle Life? what is but an Ell, a Span, an Inch, a Point? O dear Penyworth, to buy the merry Madness of one Hour, with Ages of Pangs, infinite and eternal! O dearest Bargain that ever was, to tell away Heaven, our everlasting Inheritance, with Esau, for a sip of momentary Pleasure. I see this World and the other are mere Opposites; my Life is so little, and Eternity so long, that I cannot tell what is more contrary than these two: My Life is nothing but a Now, this Instant is properly my own, I cannot promise to myself any Thing future, and therefore my Life and Eternity are as contrary as may be.

6. Comparisons.

But to what shall I compare this Eternity? As a drop of water is unto the sea, and a gravel-stone is in comparison of the sand, so are a thousand years to the day of eternity, Eccl. 8. 9. Nay, if we multiply a thousand Years a thousand Times, it would not amount to the least Fraction of the numberless Number of Eternity. They say, that the eight celestial Orb or Sphere is moved wondrous leisurely, for tho' it be daily wheeled about by the rapid Motion of the Primum-mobile, yet it finifheth not its own proper Circuit, but once in Thirty six thousand Years; and this space of Time, they call the Great Year, or Plato's Year: But compare this with Eternity, and it will appear but as a Moment, a very nothing at all: To what then, mayst thou compare this Eternity? O my soul, it is like an Orb, every Way round and like itself; or like a Wheel that turns and turns, and doth never cease turning; or like a Year, continually wheeling about, which turns again to the same Point whence it began, and still wheels about again; or like an ever-running Fountain, whither the Waters after many Turnings fall back again, that they may alwaise flow; or like a snake bowed back unto itself obliquely, holding the Tail in her Mouth, which in its End doth again begin, and never ceaseth to begin; or like a Ring, or a Globe, or like a sphere, or like the Circuit of the Moon without all End.

7. Testimonies.

Is not the Scripture, O my soul frequent in the Mention of Eternity? These shall go into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal, Matth. 25. 46. Their worm shall not die, their fire shall not be quenched: Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, Mark 9.
9. 44, 46, 48. Mat. 25. 41. Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst, but the Water that I shall give him, shall be in him a well of water, springing up into eternal life, John 4. 14. We know, that if our earthly House of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens, 2 Cor. 5. 1. Surely he shall not be moved for ever, the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance, Psal. 112. 6. They that be wise shall shine as the Brightness of the firmament;
and they that turn many to righteousness,
as the stars for ever and ever, Dan.
12. 3.

Thus far, O my soul, for the Information of thy Judgment: Now for the stirrings up of thy Affections.

1. Relish.

O Eternity, whether of Joys or Woes! O that thou wert written in a book, that thou wert graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock for ever! Job.
19. 22. 23. O that my Heart were the Book! that my Meditation were the Iron-pen and Lead! and that this Word Eternity were to imprinted and engraven in my Heart, that I might still have it in my Mind, when Pleasure fawneth, when Lust provoketh, when the Flesh rebelleth, when the Spirit faileth! O Eternity, how is it I forgot thee! O my soul, be established, and say with David, my heart is fixed,
O God, my heart is fixed, Psal. 57. 7.
Set thy self in a sure Place, and stand a while; and standing, admire at this Eternity which alwais standeth, and never passeth away; and that thou mayst taste and relish, that thou mayst be affected and moved with this Eternity,

1. Consider the never-dying Worm, and the everlastling Fire. O the Bitterness of this Eternity? there's a Man in the Fire, and a Worm at his Heart;

the Fire burns him, and the Worm bites him, yet neither of these make an End of him; there he rores, and yells, and howls, and cries, O woe is me for ever!
A Man said I! alas, Broad is the way,
and many there are that walk hell-ward.
It were enough indeed to make all tremble, tho they were but one amongst all the sons of Adam to suffer eternally, but that Hell should enlarge herself, and open her mouth without measure, and their glory and their multitude, and their pomp should descend into it, Is. 5. 14.
That there should be Millions of Men of the same Flesh and Blood that I am, chained together in Hell, where one rores, and another answers, and all hear the Burden, Woe, and alas for ever! In one Nook of Hell there's a lamentable shreek, Woe for ever, in another corner far remote, there's another fearful shreek, Woe for ever: in all the Corners of these smoky Vaults there's a cry, or an Ecchof this Cry, For ever, for ever, for ever, for ever. O my soul, how is it thou canst sleep in the Night, or be merry in the Day, whilst thou thinkest attentively, or confiderest throughly of this Meditation? Lefs Matters have sometimes beftraught Men of their Wits, and bereaved them of their Lives.

2. Consider the Eternity of Joys. It may be the former Consideration is too legal, and it will not suit every spirit so well. Every thing is received according to the Receiver; a legal spirit, sa\u; doth relish and savour most of those Ar-uments which are drawn from Hell; but an evangelical spirit doth best relish them that are drawn from Heaven. Come then, O my soul, and in the close of this Meditation dwell on, and consider only the sweetness of this Eternity:
But how should I consider of this Eternity? For since the Beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by Meditation.

By the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, besides thee, what hath prepared for him that waiteth for him, Isa. 64.

4. When Christ shall come again, he shall be admired of his saints, 2 Thess. 1. 10. And why admired; but because something shall be seen then that was never thought of before? The saints cannot think there is so much Glory in Jesus Christ, as then they shall find, and therefore they shall stand admiring at him; but yet because the Lord is pleased to let out a Beam of this Light unto us in his blessed Word, go on, O my soul, as the Lord shall enable; forget a while thy own people, and thy father's house, go out of this Flesh and World, and by a deep, and sad, and serious Meditation get into Heaven; and to make way for Entrance, lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors, that a mortal, miserable Wretch may enter in.

When Paul was caught up into Paradise, he heard unspeakable words. And now by contemplation I am in Heaven, methinks I see invisible sights; what Happiness is here of Saints? I shall reduce all these Heads,

Their Duty, which first appears especially in their Joy. Object, they see, and enjoy.

1. The Duty of these Saints consists in the keeping of a perpetual Sabbath; consider it, O my soul, in these Particulars.

1. They are exercised in the highest Employments that any Creature can be exercised in; Hearken the high Praises of God are in their Mouths; besides the high Contemplation of God and of the Trinity are in their Minds; they are alwised singing praises to God, and to him that sits upon the throne, Psal. 149. 6. Surely this is the highest Employment, for this is the highest Glory that God hath, not only from his Works here, but from all the Councils of his Wisdom about the great Mystery of Redemption, from all his Works in Heaven, and from all the Communications of himself to the Saints in Heaven; the End of all that God does in the World is for his Glory, and the End of all that God does in Heaven, is for the actual Working of the souls of his saints upon himself.

2. The Hearts of saints are alwised up and fit for these high Praises of God, they are not sometimes enlarged, and sometimes straightned; no, no, their souls are alwised up, alwised upon the highest Pin, enflamed with Heat continually.

3. There is no Intermission of these high Praises of God; the saints continue Day and Night, they go not to Duty, and break off again; and go again, and break off again; no, no, there's no other Employment here, there's nothing else in Heaven to spend one Moment of that Time in to all Eternity.

4. There is no Weariness in these saints, tho they are praising of God millions of Years, yet they are as fresh at the End of them as at the first Moment; O Eternity! O eternal Duty!

2. The Glory of these saints is both in their Souls and Bodies, but because their Bodies are not yet in Heaven, let pafs, O my soul that Glory, and consider the Glory of these Souls of Saints; in each soul there is, the Understanding, Will, and Affections: For the Affections, consider only their Joy; for the Understanding and Will, consider their Object they see, which is, the Vision of God; and the Object they enjoy, which is the Fruition of God; that relates to the Understanding, this to the Will.

1. For the Joy of saints, it is a pure
Joy without any Mixture of sorrow or pain; it is a spiritual Joy, flowing especially from this, that God is their Portion; it is a full Joy, for they joy in God, they joy in the Glory of God, they joy in the Communication of God to them, they joy in the Glory of one another; look how many Saints are in Heaven, so many Joys have the Saints; for they rejoice in every one's Happiness as their own, this doubles and trebles and multiplies their Joys: O it is a full Joy; but that which is more than all the rest, it is a divine Joy, for it comes from God, and it is in God, and it is with God. 1. It comes from God, being caused by the Spirit of God. 2. It is in God, and that is another Manner of Joy than is in Meat, or Drink, or in the Creature.

4. It is with God, it is the same Joy that God himself hath; carnal Hearts rejoice in sensual Things, but God rejoiceth not in those Things they rejoice in; now the Saints in Heaven are exercised in the same Joy that God himself hath; the Beams of their Joy are mingled with the Beams of God's Joy. O glorious Joy! and yet the Happines of saints consists not in this Joy, for the Enjoyment of God is above this Enjoyment; proceed then, O my soul, wade further, and bathe thyself in these delicious Rivers of their heavenly Paradise.

2. For this Vision of God, the Understanding, or the Mind of Saints see God; in this Happines of Heaven are inclosed these Particulars.

1. The Saints know God, for seeing is put for knowing, 1 Cor. 12. 12. Now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face; now we know in part, but then shall we know as we are known. Every Saint in Heaven understands all Things, and knows all Persons so far as it may any Way conduce to his Happines; there is no simplicity, no shallowness in Heaven, all the Saints here have sharpness of Wit, conformity with God in Knowledge, which is indeed the very Image of God.

2. The Saints understand so clearly as that they need no Help of Faith; no Help of Means to see those glorious Things of Heaven, except that Means we call the Light of Glory. Indeed there is a Light in Heaven above all the Brightness of this World, a Light that would dazzle the Eye of Man, and dim it; hence, in this frail Condition, no Man can see God, and live; when God, or but an Angel appeared, how were Men affrighted? but in Heaven, the souls of the Just are elevated, and enabled to see with Joy those Things that there are manifested, In thy light shall all we see light, Psal. 36. 9. It is called the inheritance of the Saints in light, Col. 1. 12.

3. The Saints in this Light see not only the Attributes of God, his Mercy, Justice, Truth, and Wisdom; but the very simple pure Essence of God; which yet is not separated from his Attributes; there is a clear Vision on their Part, and a clear Manifestation on God's Part; both are from God, to make them able to see him, and to be willing to be seen of them: and thus God shews himself, not darkly, as to the Patriarchs of old; not terribly, as on Mount Sinai; not afar off, as to Balaam; nor for a short Time, as in the Transfiguration; the Saints now dwell upon the contemplation of him, they have Time enough to take a full View of him, even Eternity itself.

3: For the Fruition of God, the Will of the Saints enjoys God. In this Happines of Heaven are involved these Things.

1. The Saints have God, and they know they have God by a reflect Act.
Meditation.

2. As they know they have God, so they make what Use they will of all the Attributes of God, and of all that is in God; they have as much Use as they will of the Wisdom of God, and of the Power of God, and of the Mercy in God, as one Friend usually says to another, Make use of all I have as your own; so God bids the Saints make Use of all his Riches, and Glory, and Excellency, as they will.

3. As they make Use of God, so they have the sweet and comfort of what they use; hence God is laid to give us all things richly to enjoy, 1 Tim. 6. 17. He gives the Things, and he gives the Comfort with it; he gives himself to the Saints in Glory, the Use of himself, and the comfort of himself in the Use thereof.

4. As they enjoy God, so they enjoy themselves in God, they live in God continually; the Fifth doth not more truly live in the Water, and move in the Water, than the souls of Saints do live in God, and move in God; Your life is hid with Christ in God, Col. 3. 3. The Life of Saints upon Earth is an hidden Life, and it is hid in God, but in Heaven it is a revealed Life, and revealed in God, and enjoyed in God. Such a speech is that of Christ, Enter into your Master's joy, Mat. 25. 23. it enters not into you, but you must enter into it; and what is it? Your Master's joy; not only that Joy that your Master gives, but the same Joy that your Master has, it is your Master's own Joy that you must enter into, and that you shall live in. So, I was in the spirit on the Lord's day, faith John, Rev. 1: 10. it is not said the spirit was in him, but he was in the spirit; surely this was a Beginning of the glorious Condition of the Saints of God; they are in the Spirit of God, not only God in them, but they in God. And this, O my Soul, is the spiritual Part of Heaven, doth it not relish? O taste and see that the Lord is good! O here is the pure, spiritual, quintessential Joys of Heaven! The Saints are so swallowed up in God, as that they cannot any further mind themselves, but altogether God; nay their Minds, and Wills, and Affections, are all set on God, and nothing else. 1. Their Minds are so immediately set on God, as if they were wholly emptied of the Creature, and had nothing to do but with an uncreated Good, even God himself. 2. They will not any thing to themselves nor to any creature, but all to God; O their Will is wholly taken up with God. 3. Their Affections are wholly set on God, they rejoice in the Lord always, and again rejoice in the Lord, Psalm. 4. 4. They love the Lord with all their heart, and with all their soul, and with all their mind, Mat. 22. 37. and tho they love themselves, yet so as that they love themselves for God; in this world we love God for our selves, which is but a natural Love, or for himself, which is a gracious Love; but in Heaven the Saints love themselves for God, which is a glorious Love. And in this kind of Love of God, and Enjoyment of themselves in God, the Saints are ravished with God, and are in a kind of Extase eternally. O the Sweetness of this Eternity! O blessed Estate of Saints in the kingdom of Heaven! O Glory not to be expressed, even by those who are glorified! There is that: perpetual spring, which thro the fresh and sweet Breathings of the Spirit of God, shall flourish ever, there is Time, if it be time, always after one sort, not distinguished into evening and morning, but continued with a sinple Eternity. O Eternity of Joys, worthy of continual songs of Saints and Angels to celebrate thy Praise! O Eternity.
Eternity of Joys! how should I extoll thee, desire thee, love thee, and hate all this World for thee?

2. Complaint.

But alas! where is my Love, my Longing after this Eternity? what little Taste and Savour have I of this Sweetness? My soul, what Dulness and Heaviness is this that hangs upon thee? How hath the World bewitched thee that thou art become to carnal, to corporeal, to senseless of Spiritual Things? Thy Thoughts run after Riches, and they are uncertain; thou art ambitious after Honours, and they are slippery; thou art in Love with Pleasures, and their End is sudden, and there is Bitterness in the End; thou art daily converting with Men, but Death shall dissolve all Knots of Friendship with others. O preposterous Care! what, all on the World? and now that Eternity is thy Meditation, (on which thou shouldst taste largely, and be affected deeply) art thou now all a Mort? O what Dulness, what Drowsines, what Security is this? if thou hast in thee any Sparks of that heavenly Fire first breathed into thee by the Spirit of God, awake, awake, O my soul, away, away with this dull senseless Security, and consider there's but a step between thee and Eternity of Joys. What hast thou not seen? hast thou not heard? and when all is done, art thou so careless of thy Home, so senseless of Spiritual Delights? A gracious Heart takes not the Things of Heaven as Guesses and imaginary Things, but looks upon them as certain, substantial Realities; and this is a sign of Grace, O my soul, if thou art able to look at the Things of Heaven as the only real, substantial, excellent Things, and so as to darken all the Things of the World. Carnal Men look upon these heavenly Things as conceits and Image

3. Widow.

O that I could mind this Eternity! that I could taste or relish this Eternity! that I were fitted and prepared for Eternity! O that I were wise, that I understood this, that I considered my latter End! Deut. 32. 29. O that now while it is called to day, while it is the accepted time, and the day of salvation, 2 Cor. 6. 2. I had a diligent and intent Eye upon this Eternity? O that I could stil still reason thus, What if I endure hunger and thirst, Emptiness and Injuries, Sickness and Poverty? What if I were beaten with Rods, or suffered shipwreck? What if I were stoned to death? 2 Cor. 11. 23. all these are nothing to that Eternity of Woes. On the contrary, What if I had Cyrus' Riches, Solomon's Wardrobe, Belshazzar's Cup-board, Samson's Strength, Absalom's Beauty? What if an Angel should take me up into an exceeding high mountain, and shew me all the Kingdoms of the World, and the Glory of them, and say unto me, All these will I give thee? all these are nothing to eternal Glory. O Lord, that I could wait and long for thy salvation! O that I could mind the Things above! O that my Eyes, like the Eyes of thy first Martyr, could by the Light of Faith see but a Glimpse of Heaven! O that my Heart could be rapt up thither in Desire! O that I could see Heaven with a discerning, experimental, spiritual, fixed, believing Eye! O that my Mind were raised to look after that Communication of God that I shall have hereafter! O that my Conversation were in Heaven! O that my soul were at this very Time and Moment to receive the Influence of Heaven's Joys into it! How then should I trample upon these poor Vanities of the Earth! How willingly should I endure all Sorrows, all Torments! How scornfully should I pass by all Pleasures all Pomp's! How should I be in Travail of my Dissolution! O when shall this Day come that I shall perform that Duty, and partake of the Glory of the Saints? When shall this Day come, that I shall possess that pure, and spiritual, and full, and divine Joy which comes from God, and is in God, and is with God? When shall this Day come that I shall have the Vision of God, and the Fruition of God; when shall I see God, and enjoy God, and enjoy myself in God? Oh, when shall this Day come, that I shall enter into these Confin'ds of Eternity, and solace myself in God? As the Heart panteth after the waters-brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God: My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: O when shall I come and appear before God?

I desire Lord, but alas, how weakly, how dully, how heartlessly? I am not able, not sufficient of my self to think any thing as of my self, but my sufficiency is of God: It is Nature that pulls me from this holy Meditation; Nature favours itself, loves the World, abhors Death and Eternity in another World: It is my Misery that I dote on nothing, or on sin, that's worse than nothing; how long shall these Vanities thus beset me? How long shall these vain thoughts lodge within me? Jer. 4. 14. Why Lord? there is no Strength in me, I can neither will nor do; It is thou only must work in me both to will and to do (both to meditate on, and to prepare for Eternity) of thy good will and pleasure, Phil. 2. 13.

5. Petition.

To thee, Lord, I make my Moan, to thee I tender my humble Petition, and pour out my Soul: O give me a Taste and Relish of this Eternity; O give me this water, that I need thirst no more; O give me such a Taste or Relish of this Water, that it may be in me a well of water springing up into eternal life: O inflame my soul with a Love of these Thoughts, with a longing Defire after this Eternity of Joys. O let me not always be thus dull and brutish, but thou that hast prepared Eternity for me, prepare my soul for Eternity; teach me so to carry on this Earth, that I be not shut out of those eternal Mansions...
fions in Heaven; open my Eyes that I may see; draw aside this Vail, that I may know what Eternity is; give me to live as one that labours for Eternity, contends for Eternity, suffers for Eternity; let me never be so foolish as to settle myself on Vanity, and to neglect this Eternity that never shall have End. Oh Father of glory, give me the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of Christ, that the eyes of my understanding being enlightened, I may know what is the hope of thy calling, and what the riches of the glory of thy inheritance is in the Saints, Eph. 1. 17, 18. Lord here is the summary of my suit, that I may know, not only the Inheritance of the Saints, but the inheritance in the Saints, and the Glory of the inheritance, and the Riches of the Glory; nor would I have Understanding to know this, but I desire that the eyes of my understanding may be enlightened; and let this come from the knowledge of Christ, from the spirit of wisdom and revelation, and from the Father of glory. O Lord my Meaning is, and my Prayer is, that I may find some experimental, sweet, and spiritual Good in myself as the Beginning of that eternal Good which I expect; others may know what this Eternity is in Sermons, in Books, in the written Word; but the Saints only know in themselves that they have a better and enduring substance, Heb. 10. 34. O Lord, that I may know in my self what this Eternity is, that I may know it by that experimental sweetness of the Beginning of Glory, that I find in myself, and what is Glory begun but Grace and Holiness? Thou seest Lord that it is no strange Favour that I beg of thee, it is no other than that what thou hast richly bestowed upon all thy valiant Martyrs, Confessors, servants from the beginning, who never could so cheerfully have embraced Death and Torments, if thro' the midst of their Flames, and Pains they had not seen their Crown of Glory. We faint not in sufferings, because we look at things that are not seen, 2 Cor. 4. 16. Why Lord, one Drop of heaven within me would darken all the Glory of the World without me; Oh let me see Heaven in the Reality of it with a clear, spiritual, fixed Eye; let into my Heart one sweet and saving Thought of Eternity, and then when thou wilt, Lord, let thy Servant depart in peace. My Times are in thy Hand, I am no better than my Fathers; my Life is a Bubble, a smoke, a faded ow, a Thought, I know there is no abiding in this through-fair: Oh suffer me not to be so mad, as while I pass on the Way, to forget the End; it is that other Life that I must look after; with thee it is that I must continue; Oh let me never be so spiritually foolish as to settle my self on what I must leave, and neglect Eternity. I have seen enough of this earth, and yet I love it too much. Oh let me see Heaven another while, and love it so much more than the Earth, by how much the Things there are more worthy to be loved. Oh God look down on me, and teach me to look up to thee, and to see thy goodness in the Land of the Living; thou that boughtest Heaven for me, guide me thither; and for thy Mercy's sake, in spite of all Temptations, enlighten thou my soul, direct it, crown it, that so at last I may do that Duty, and receive that Glory of thy Saints, in joying, seeing, and enjoying God to all Eternity.

6. Confidence.

Behold, O my Soul, and do not merely crave, but challenge this Favour of God, as that which he owes thee; he owes it, because he hath promised it, and by his Mercy he hath made his gift
Meditation.

his Debt: Is there not a Promise made, Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound, they shall walk in the light of thy countenance, O Lord, Pial. 89. 15. and is it not an Experience tried, I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste, Cant. 2. 3. O what is this but the Taste of Eternity? What is this but a Glimpse of unspakeable Joy? O Lord, let me taste this Sweetness by some real Experiments in my own Heart! Give me Lord: what wilt thou give? Give me a spiritual Eye that I may look at this Eternity as a Spiritual Thing; a carnal Heart looks at it carnally; Oh the flashes of Joy to have a crown and a kingdom! but a spiritual Heart looks at Eternity spiritually: O give me to look to Heaven with a right Eye, and in a right Manner to look at the spiritual Part, and spiritual Excellency in Heaven, which consists in the vision of God, and fruition of God; in the Image of God, and Communion with God: O give me thus to see, and to know the Reality of this Eternity. Give me Lord, what wilt thou give? Give me an heavenly Principle that will carry me heaven-ward: The Church is compared to pillars of smoke that ascend upward to heaven, Cant. 3. 6. tho the Church be black and dark in regard of her Infirmitiies, yet she hath a Principle to carry her upward to heaven: and the Saints are compared to Eagles that fly aloft towards Heaven, tho their Bodies are not there, yet their Hearts and Souls are there: Why, Lord, my Treasure is in Heaven, Oh let my Heart be there! Oh, where should it be but there? Is not Heaven the Place and Center of my Heart? and have not all Things in Nature a Principle to carry them to their proper Place? Experience tells me that as the Place of Fire is on high, so Fire hath a Principle to carry it on high, and as the Place of earth is below, so Earth hath a Principle to carry it below: and if the Place and Center of my Heart be in Heaven, must it not have a Principle to move naturally thither? O the Consciences of many tell them their Souls work downward to Vanity and Sensuality: But O Lord let my Soul work heaven-ward! O Christ let my Soul move towards thee! tho I have Weights of Corruption that would weigh me down, yet give me and assure me of that Principle that does work to Heaven. Give me Lord, what wilt thou give? give me some Beginnings of eternal Life wrought in me here, give me the first-fruits of Heaven. The Scripture faith, that whom he hath justified, them he hath glorified, Rom. 8. 30. i. e. they have the Glory of Heaven begun in them: Why Lord, give me this Earnef; give me an Heart enlarged with God's Image; now is the Image of God begun, and in Heaven the Image of God shall be renewed: Oh give me this Image, give me Righteousness and Holiness, for that is the Image of God, Eph. 4. 24. give me thy Presence, give me the Visions of God, and Fruitions of God; such Things are in Heaven; and as the earnest of my inheritance give me the first-fruits, give me some Acquaintance of thy blessed self in every Ordinance, let there be a stronger Union betwixt God and my Soul; let me enjoy God in the Creature, and God in the Ordinances, and God in all Things; Yea, let me enjoy God in myself, and myself in God: O let the Sabbaths be my Delight as a Beginning of that eternal Sabbath that I shall keep in Heaven: And thus before I go into Heaven, let Heaven come into me; let me taste of Eternity by these real Experiments in my own soul. And now Lord, that thou h mult in some sweet Measure assured me, in that thou beginnest to warm my Heart, and to persuade my Soul that I have a Right and Interest to this Eternity; how should I but grow bold and confident? Cheer up, O my Soul, cheer up my love, Christ's fair one, for lo the winter is almost past, and the time of the singing of birds is almost come. It is but a while, and I shall be free from the Body of sin and Death; it is but a while, and the Image of God shall be made perfect in me; it is but a while, and I shall behold the blessed Face of God, and shall live to the Praise of that blessed God without any Intermission, and shall join with those blessed Creatures, that are eternally blest and praising God; those Tales thou hast formerly had, assure thee of this. Believe it, believe the Promises; be content to venture all those great Things of Eternity upon that bare Word of God, Psal. 89. 15. Cant. 2. 3. & 3. 6. Rom. 8. 30. Eph. 4. 24. What? dost thou believe? surely this one Work of God, to make thee close with the Promises, and to venture all on the Promises, doth of itself interest thee in this Eternity; for this is an immediate Work of the Spirit, it is from a divine Principle to be able to do this; and yet lay not here; press on, O my Soul, and do not only believe a tale, but a hearty Draught of Eternity; these Tales are but Earnests, but there is a Promise of everlasting Fruition: Hath he not given his Word for eternal life, John 3. 16. for an eternal inheritance, Heb. 9. 15. for everlasting righteousness, Dan. 9. 24. for an Inheritance incorruptible, undefiled, and that fadeth not away, 1 Pet. 1. 4. Awake, arise, O my Soul, and lay hold on the Promises of this blessed Eternity; be not dismayed by Reason of the Unworthinesse, for the Promise is of Grace, freely offered, and freely given to them that be unworthy in their own Eyes. Christ hath purchased Righteousness and everlasting Life, believe in him, and live to all Eternity. O my Soul, why art thou dull and sluggish, wherefore dost thou not put forth thyself to embrace and receive this Promise of Eternity? God's Promises are ever certain, never less, but rather more in Accomplishment than in Tender; why dost thou not cast thyself upon this blessed Issue, If God be merciful, I am eternally? It is the sure Promise of God, That be that believeth hath eternal Life, John 3. 16. therefore if I believe, I am already a free Denizen of the New Jerusalem; Eternity of Joys is already reserved for me: Why Lord, I believe, come Glory, come Eternity, and and welcome glorious Eternity, eternal Glory.

Conclusion.

Return unto thy Rest, O my soul, for the Lord hath been beneficial unto thee, Psal. 116. 7. And yet before thy Rest,

1. Dwell a little in admiring at the Goodness of God, at the infinite Treasures of the Riches of the Glory of the Grace of God towards the Children of Men! After the Apostle had spoken of Glorification, he cries out, What shall we say to these Things? Rom. 8. 30. 31. Now, O my soul, thou hast been discouraging of Eternity, what dost thou say to these Things? O the height, and depth, and length, and breadth of the Loving-kindness of the Lord! How unsearchable are his Mercies! and his Grace past finding out! O bow great is thy goodness which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee, which thou hast wrought before the Sons of Men! If ever God wrought about any Thing, it was about the Communication of his Goodness to Man: This was the Work of God, and great Design of God from all Eternity; Nay, the chief of the deep infinite Councils of God, and the Works of the Wisdom of God have been, and yet are exercised about this: O my Soul admire, admire! if in any Part of this Meditation thou hast had a true spiritual sight of the Riches of the goodness of God, in the Way of his Communication of Happines and Glory to the Children of Men; if thou hast seen into the great Design of God, into the deep Councills of the Wildom of God; if the Lord hath in some sweet Measure laid open his Heart to thee, and brought thee into the Treasures of his Riches, and given thee a View of them, admire at this! 2. Break forth into Praisers, join with those blest Elders, that fell down before the Lamb, having all harps in their Hands and golden Vials full of Odours, and who sung, Worthy art thou who wast slain, and hast redeemed us unto God by his blood, to receive honour, and blessing, and glory, Rev. 5. 8, 9. Make Melody with all those Creatures in Heaven, and on Earth, and under the Earth, and in the Sea, who say, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever, Rev. 5. 13. Be praised, be enlarged O my Soul! is there not Cause? why, Christ was the Lamb slain for thee; and Christ by his blood hath redeemed thee unto God. O the incomparable Love and Favours of the Lord! Was it ever found that any King or Potentate should adopt the Blind, the Lame, the Deaf, the Dumb, to succeed him in his Inheritance? and shall such an one as I (the vilest, the worst of Sinners) inherit everlasting Life, a Crown that never withereth, a durable Treasure, which can never fade? O what shall I give unto the Lord for this Eternity? My soul, rejoice thou in the Lord, and bless his holy name. Now begin that Hallelujah on Earth, which in Heaven thou shalt sing more sweetly to all Eternity, Hallelujah! and again Hallelujah! Amen Hallelujah!

And now, O my Soul, give up thyself to God, and repose thyself wholly on thy Maker and Redeemer; be aboundant in Service, there shall not be one Tear, nor one Sigh, nor one Prayer loft. Wait patiently on God, for the full Possession of this Eternity, and walk cheerfully in the Way that he leads thee thereunto. Say at the parting of this Meditation, O Lord, O Eternity itself, O thou First and Last, Alpha and Omega, without Beginning, and without all End, I recommend my Soul, my Ways to thee; take me to thy keeping, and prepare me for Eternity, thro' Christ thy only Son, my only Saviour, Psalm. 16. 8. ad finem.

CHAP. IX. SECT. I.

Of the Nature of this Life of Faith.

To live by Faith, is by Faith in Christ to assent and adhere unto and to posses the whole Word of God as our own in all Estates and Conditions, resting quietly upon his gracious and faithful Promise, and yielding our selves unto his good Pleasure, in sincere, universal and constant Obedience: Or, to live by Faith, is to feed upon the several Promises of God made in his Word, and to apply them to our own selves, according to our Needs, and so to uphold, comfort and encourage ourselves against all Temptations, and unto every good Duty. This Life of Faith is a very Heaven upon Earth, a sweet Sanctuary to any hunted Soul.
Sect. II.

Of the Manner of this Life of Faith in general.

Our Directions for this Life of Faith are either General or Particular.

In General, that we may live by Faith, we must endeavour two Things.

1. To get Matter for our Faith to work upon.

2. To order our Faith aright in the Work.

1. That we may provide Matter for our Faith to work upon, we must observe three Things.

1. That we store up all the good Promises of God, and our own Experiences seasonably: It is good to lay up in a good Time beforehand.

2. That we lay in Promises of all Kinds: We had better leave than lake; it is the Wisdom of a Man, that he may not live feebly and poorly, but to have somewhat to spare.

3. That we so lay them up that we may have them at hand: It is folly to say, I have as good Provision as can be, but I have it not here: Let the Word of God dwell in you plentifully and richly in all wisdom, Col. 3. 16.

2. That we may order our Faith aright in the Work, observe these Directions.

1. Take Possession of the Promises, and value them as our own. The Prophet recording a Promise in Esai. 54. 17. adds thus, This is the heritage of the servants of the Lord. So that there's no godly Man or Woman but is a great Heir. Whene'er they look into God's Book, and find there any Promises, they may make it their own: just as an Heir that rides over diverse Fields and Meadows, he faith, This Meadow is my Heritage, and this Corn-field is my Heritage; and then he sees a fair House, and faith, This fair House is my Heritage; and he looks upon them with another manner of Eye than a Stranger that shall ride over those Fields: So a carnal Heart reads those Promises, but meerly as Stories, not as having any Interest in them; but a godly Man every Time he reads the Scripture (remember this Note when you are reading the Scriptures) and there meets with a Promise, he ought to lay his Hand upon it, and lay, This is a Part of my Heritage; 'tis mine, and I am to live upon it.

2. Expect nothing from the Promise but that which is suitable to the Nature of it: To this Purpose some Promises are absolute, which God hath simply determined to accomplish; as the Promise of the Messiah, Is. 7. 14. and of the Calling of the Gentiles, Rom. 11. 26. Some Promises are conditional, which God will accomplish in his own time, and in his own Manner and Measure; in a Word, they are no further promised than God saith in Wisdom to be most meet for his Glory, and our Good; as, all temporal Blessings, let's principal Graces, and the Measure of all sanctifying Graces: now in all these expect nothing from them, but that which is suitable to the Nature thereof.

3. That done, then eye that particular Good in the Promise which we stand in need of, and set God's Power and Faithfulness, and Wisdom at work, to bring it about; for Instance, thou art in Persecution, and either thou wouldn't have deliverance out of it, or Comfort and Refreshment in it: In this Case see all this in the Promise (referring the Order, and Time and Man-
4. By Faith wait upon God, in that Way he hath appointed; it is true, God will work that Good for us, yet we must use the Means, and meet God in the Course of his Providence, otherwise we live not by Faith, but tempt God, and throw away his Promises and all.

5. Set it down and conclude, that God will do whatsoever he hath promised, and we shall receive it in the Ways of his Providence: This is the very Work of Faith itself, thus it draws up and Virtue from the Promise, when it concludes, That according to the good in the Promise, it is sure to be done.

6. But imagine the Lord delays, and doth not suddenly accomplish, then must Faith take up its Stand, and stay till it come. He that believeth, maketh not haste, the vision is for an appointed time, and therefore wait for it, Isa. 28. 16. to the Psalmist, As the Eyes of a servant look to the hands of his master, and the eyes of a maiden to her mistress, so our eyes wait upon the Lord our God, until he have mercy upon us, Psal. 133. 2. not until we will, or until we see it fit, but until he will have mercy upon us.

7. Imagine the Lord not only delays, but seems to frown, and to say, He will not hear: In this Case, labour with an holy Humility to contend with our God, and by strong Hand to overcome him, for the Lord loves to overcome thus. When Jacob wrestled with God, Let me go, faith the Lord; I will not let thee go, faith Jacob, Gen. 32. 26. So do we catch the Lord Jesus, and strive with him, and leave him not, till we have those comforts he hath promised, and which we have begged: Surely this is the Glory and Victory, and Triumph of Faith, when the Lord is fain to lay down his Weapons, and to yield himself as conquered, Thy name shall be no more called Jacob but Israel, because thou hast prevailed with God, v. 28.

Two Cautions concerning Promises, and the Life of Faith, are mainly to be observed in the general.

1. That not barely the Promises, but the Person of Christ, is the Object of Faith: We are not to rest on the Promises alone, but to cloe with Christ in those Promises; and therefore in receivin of, or having recourse unto a Promise, we are first to seek out for Christ in it, as being the Foundation of it, and so to take hold of the Promise in him: Thus Philip directs the Eunuch. Believe on the Lord Jesus, Acts 8. 31. The Promise is but the Casket, and Christ the Jewel in it; the Promise but the Field, Christ is the Pearl hid in it, and to be chiefly look'd at: Thus it is said, That Promises of Pardon are not as Pardons of a Prince, which merely contain an Expression of his royal Word for Pardon; but God's Promises are made in his Son, and are as if a Prince should offer to pardon a Traitor, upon Marriage of his Child, whom in, and with that Pardon he tenders: The Reason hereof is, because Christ is the grand Promise, in whom all the Promises are Yea and Amen, 2 Cor. 1. 20.

2. That Promises in Things temporal and spiritual (not absolutely necessary to Salvation) are not universal, but indefinite, i.e. he makes such Promises, because sometimes, tho not alway, he grants accordingly. For Instance, that Promise of healing the Sick, cannot be universal, for it might then be supposed L 12 that that sick Men should never die, seeing the Elders, James 5.15. may at all such Times of Danger of Death, still come and pray with them; but we all know it is appointed for all men once to die; Heb. 9.17. the Manner thereof is, that Prayer is an Ordinance to which God hath made such a gracious Promise, and he often doth restore the Sick at their Prayers; and therefore upon every such particular Occasion, we are to rely upon God for the Performance of it by an Act of Recumbancy, tho' we cannot with an Act of full Assurance, the Promise not being universal, but indefinite. Of like Nature are all other Promises of Things temporal or Things spiritual, not absolutely necessary to Salvation; as, long Life, Riches, Honour, Assurance of Evidence to them that fear him; the Tenor and Purport of which Promise is not as if absolutely, infallibly, and universally God doth alwise perform these to those that are truly qualified, with the Conditions specified in those Promises; the Contrary, both Scripture, Instances, and common Experience shews, they are therefore indefinitely meant, and so to be understood by us; because when ever God doth dispense any such Mercies to any of his, he would do it by Promise: And he requires answerably an Act of Faith suitable to that his Meaning in the Promise; that as he intended not in such Promises, an absolute, infallible, universal Obligation of himself to the Performance of them to all that fear him; so the Act of Faith, which a Man is to put forth towards this Promise, in the Application of it for his own Particular, is not required to be absolute, infallible Persuasion and Assurance, that God will bestow these outward Things upon him, having these Qualifications in him, but only an indefinite Act, as I may call it, of Recumbancy and Submission, casting and adventuring ourselves upon him for the Performance of it to us, not knowing but he may in his outward Dispositions make it good to us; yet with Submission to his good Pleasure, if otherwise he dispose it; and if he grant, to consider then, That whatsoever we have, it is not by a mere Providence, but by Virtue of a Promise.

S E C T. III.
Of the Manner of this Life of Faith in particular, as in temporal Evils.

In particular, that we may live by Faith, observe we,

1. The Promises.
2. The Exercises of Faith concerning the Promises.

And both these are consider either in regard of Others.

1. In regard of ourselves.
   a. Temporal.
   b. Spiritual.
   c. Eternal.
   d. Evil.
   e. Good.

Things temporal are either

We shall begin first with Temporal Evils; and concerning them, 1. Give you the Promises: And 2. The Exercise of Faith in respect of these Promises.

1. The Promises that concern temporal Evils have reference to those Evils, either in General.

   a. Prevent.
   b. Qualifie.

2. Special.
   a. Evils general, are Afflictions and Dangers, concerning which we have Promises, some

   1. The Promises to prevent Afflictions, you may read in the Word, and they are these, and the like, Psal. 91. 10. Psal. 121. 7. Job 5. 19. Zech. 2. 5. where the Lord promiseth to be a wall

wall of fire to his people; (not of Stone or Brass, faith Theodore) that it may both fray afar off, and keep off too at Hand, protect them, and destroy their Enemies.

2. The Promises to qualify Evils, are these and the like; Psal. 103. 13, 14. 15. 57. 13, 14, 15. Hos. 11. 8, 9. In this last Promise, God imitates Parents, faith Theodore, when any Misery is upon their Child, their Bowels year more; never sits the Child so much upon the Mother's Lap, never lies so much in her Bosom, as when he is sick: So the Spouse being sick of Love, i.e. in some Misery, Christ stayeth her with flagons, comforts her with apples, his left hand is under her head, and his right hand doth embrace her, Cant. 2. 5. 6. where we may read God's Compassion to his Children in their Calamities, that he narrowly observes every one of them: Thou teilest my wandrings, Psal. 56. 8. yea, he makes so precious a Reckoning of their Griefs and Sorrows, that not a Tear falls to the Ground, but he keeps it, preserves it, as precious Liquor, in his Bottle; Put my tears in thy Bottle; yea, he keeps them in Memory, he notes them and writes them in his Book, as if he would chronicle our Tears for everlafting Remembrance; Are they not in thy book? 2 Cor. 4. 17. Is there, or can there be any richer or fuller Expression of Tulk, than there is in the Greek; where there is both an elegant Antithesis, and double Hyperbole, beyond Englishing, Keth' uperbolin eis uperbolin, for Affliction, Glory; for light Affliction, heavy, maffie, substantial Glory, a Weight of Glory; for momentary Affliction, eternal Glory: Nay, the Apostle adds Degrees of Comparison, yea, goes beyond all Degrees, calling it more excellent, far more excellent, an Hyperbole, Hyperbole exceeding excessive, eternal Weight of Glory.

3. The Promises to bear them, or, in due Time to remove them, are these and the like; Psal. 37. 24. Jer. 29. 11. Micah 7. 8, 9. Psal. 97. 11. as sure as Harrett follows Seeding, so to the Righteous, Comfort follows Mourning, John 16. 20. 1 Cor. 10. 13.

2. Evils special, are Sickness, Poverty, Famine, War, Captivity, Witchcraft, Possession, Oppression.

1. For Sickness, Prevent we have Promises, to Qualify Sickness, some to to Remove

1. The Promises to prevent, are these, and the like; Exod. 15. 26. Deut. 7. 15. Psal. 91. 10.

2. Promises to qualify Sickness, are these and the like, Psal. 41. 3. Heb. 12. 6, 7, 8.

3. Promises to remove Sickness, are these and the like; Exod. 23. 25. Deut. 7. 15. 1Sa. 40. 31.

2. For Poverty, we may store up these Promises, Psal. 23. throughout, Psal. 35. 9, 10. Psal. 37. 25. Heb. 13. 15. The Wicked indeed may have more Abundance than the Christian; but here's the Difference. The Wicked hath all by a Providence, the Christian hath all by a Promise; and this Distinction the poor Christian would not part with for a World of Gold.

3. For Famine, we may store up these Promises, Job 5. 19, 20. Psal. 33. 18, 19. Prov. 10. 2, 3. Psal. 37. 18, 19. Isa. 41. 17, 18. Some Martyrs being cast into Prison, and denied necessary Food, they had Faith to return this Answer, If Men will give us no Meat, we believe God will give us no Stomach. When Christ was an hungry, and Satan tempts him to command Stones to be made bread he answered, Man shall not live by Bread alone, but by every word that proceeds out of the mouth of God, Matth. 4. 4. 9, 4. A Man may feed on a Promise, he must depend depend on God's Allowance, and when Provision fails, then not to distrust the Provision of God, it is a notable Trial of Faith.

4. For War, we may gather up these Promises and the like, Job 5. 20. Prov. 3. 24, 25, 26. Jer. 39. 17, 18.

5. For Captivity, gather in these Promises, and the like, Deut. 30. 3, 4. which very Promise Nebuchadnezzar, Neb. 1. 9. Psal. 106. 46. Ezek. 11. 16.

6. For Witchcraft or Possession, consider that Promise, Num. 23. 23.

7. For Oppression, we have these Promises, Psalm 12. 5. Psalm 68. 5. Psalm 146. 7, 8, 9.

2. For the Exercise of Faith, concerning these Promises that we may live by them,

1. go to { Meditation.

1. For Meditation, and the Matter of it, consider these Things, and let your Faith chew on them.

1. That all Afflictions comes from God; Shall there be evil in a city, and the Lord hath not done it? I form the light, and I create darkness; I make peace, and I create evil: I the Lord do all these things, Amos 3. 6. Isa. 45. 7. I know, O Lord, (faith David,) that thy judgments are right, and that thou in thy faithfulness hast afflicted me, Pial. 119. 75.

2. That as God sends it, so none can deliver us out of it but God alone; O our God, wilt thou not judge them? We have no might against this great company that cometh against us, neither know we what to do, but our eyes are upon thee, 2 Chron. 20. 12. This Meditation draws the Heart from carnal Rest, in Means or Friends; it expels vexatious and distracting Cares, and Lebanon, from the life of unlawful Means of Deliverance; The horse is prepared against the day of battle, but safety is of the Lord.

3. The Causes of all Miseries and Sorrows is Sin, and therefore its Time for us to examine our Ways, to humble ourselves, and set upon Reformation: I thought on my ways, (said David, Ps. 119. 59, ) and turned my feet unto thy testimonies. When Mannes was in Affliction, He besought the Lord his God, and humbled himself greatly before the God of his fathers, 2 Chron. 33. 12. Surely it is meet to be said unto God, I have born chastisement, I will not offend any more: That which I see not, teach thou me; if I have done iniquity I will do no more, Job 34. 31, 32. The End of Chastisement, is Amendment of Life, whence it receives the Name of Correction, which signifies, to set a-right or straight.

4. That God now trieth our Faith, Patience, Contentation, and Meekness of Spirit: He hath said unto Crofes, Go ye to such a Man, not to weaken his Faith, or to waste any Grace of the Spirit, but to purge him, refine him, try him, exercise him, to breed the quiet Fruits of Righteousness, to confirm his Patience, to support his Hope, &c. - - Hence God's Servants by their Faith have been enabled to say, I will bear the indignation of the Lord, because I have sinned against them, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me, Micah 7. 9. And if he say thus, I have no pleasure in thee: Behold, here am I, let him do to me, as seemeth good to him, 2 Sam. 5. 1, 26. This Meditation makes the Heart willingly, freely, and constantly to resign itself to the good Pleasure of God in all Things.

5. That 'tis God's Will, after we have gone to the Promise, to use all lawful Means of Help which God in his Providence affords; but in Point of Dependence, that we solely rely on God's God's Promises: Faith coupleth the Means and the End, but looketh to the Promiser (whole Truth, and Wisdom, and Power, and Mercy never fails) and not to the Probability of the Thing promised; Abraham against hope, believed in hope, That what God had promised, he was able to perform, Rom. 4. 18, 21.

6. That the Promises are in Christ, Yea and Amen, and therefore set it down and conclude, that God will do whatsoever he hath promised, and we shall receive it in the Way of his Providence; it may be not yet; what then? He that believes will not make haste: Isa. 28, 26. Daniel waited seventy Years for Deliverance out of Captivity in Babylon, and may not we wait seventy Weeks, seventy Days?

2. For Prayer, and the Parts and Manner of it, observe this Method:
   1. Lay open our Sorrows before the Lord, pour out our Complaints into his Bosom; I am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of thine anger, thou hast brought me into darkness, but not into light, Lam. 3. 22. Lord, how am I beset with miseries! how do my sorrows increase daily! how are they increased that trouble me! Psalm 3. 1. Psalm 38. 18.
   2. Confess our Sins with Hatred, and godly Sorrow; I will declare my iniquity, I will be sorry for my sins, Hosea 5. 15. For want of this, God threatened the Israelites, I will go and return unto my place, till they acknowledge my Offences, and seek my face, in their affliction they shall seek me early.
   3. Implore the Lord, and direct our Supplications to our God; Lord, how long wilt thou look on? O rescue my soul from their destruction, my darling from the lions; look upon mine affliction, and my tears, for I am brought very low, Psalm 35. 17.
4. Then press we the Lord with his Promises; Lord, thou hast said, The rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous: Thou hast said, Yet a little while, and the indignation shall cease: Thou hast said, In a little wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment, but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, faith the Lord thy Redeemer, Psal. 12. 5. Isaiah 10. 25. and 54. 8. O these are thy Promises, Lord, make them effectual to my poor Soul.

5. For Conclusion, tell we the Lord, whatever becomes of us, we will trust in him; Though thou shouldst slay me, yet will I trust in thee, Job. 13. 18. For what time I am afraid, I will trust in thee, Psalm 56. 3. These are the Acts of Faith by which it puts forth, and exerciseth itself in Time of Afflictions.

S E C T. IV.

Of the Manner of this Life of Faith in temporal Blessings.

C O N C E R N I N G temporal Blessings, or good Things, consider we,

1. The Promises.
2. The Exercise of Faith in those Promises.

1. Promises that concern temporal Blessings have Reference to those Blessings, Either in { General.

1. The general Promises are these and the like, 1 Tim. 4. 8. Psalm 34. 8, 9. and 84. 11. Phil. 4. 19. 1 Cor. 3. 21. all Things are yours, we are Heirs of the World.

2. The special Promises have a Relation, some to our Name, some to our Bodies, some to our Estates, some to our Callings.

1. Those Promises that have a Relation tion to our Good Name, are such as these, 1 Sam. 2. 30. Prov. 3. 16.
2. Those Promises that have a Relation to our Bodies, are either for long Life, concerning which, Deut. 5 16, 33. Prov. 3. 1, 2. or for Health, concerning which, Prov. 3. 8. Psalm 103.
3, 4. 5. or for Safety, concerning which, Prov. 1. 33. Job. 1. 18. Hof.
2. 18. Job. 5. 23. or for Peace, concerning which, Lev. 26. 6. Psalm 29. and 37. 11. Prov. 16. 16. or for Sleep, concerning which, Job 11. 19.
Prov. 3. 24. or for Food, concerning which, Psalm 37. 3. Psalm 111. 5.
Joel 2. 26. or for Raiment, concerning which, Deut. 10. 18. Matth. 6. 25, 30. 32. or for Posterity, the Fruit of the Body, concerning which, Deut 7.
3. Those Promises that have Relation to our Estates, are these, Job 22.
38. 5.
4. Those Promises that have a Relation to our Calling, are either for Plenty, concerning which, Prov. 10. 4.
and 12. 11. and 13. 4. and 28. 19.
or for Protection, concerning which,
Psal. 91. 11. or for Promotion, concerning which, Prov. 12. 24. and 22. 29. or for good Success, concerning which, Prov. 12. 14. 1sa. 65.
21. 23. I deny not but the wicked may enjoy all these temporal Blessings by a general Providence, but only the Just have a spiritual Right to them;
they only have them as Rewards of their Righteousness, as Testimonies of God's Love and Care over them, and by Virtue of a Promise.
2. For the Exercise of Faith concerning these Promises, observe that we may live by them, either in the Want of these temporal Enjoyment of these temporal Mercies.

1. Of the Want of them go we to
1. Meditation.
2. Prayer.

1. For Meditation, and the Matter, of it, consider these Things:
1. That Faith in this Case doth ran-sack, and fan the Soul narrowly to find out and remove whatsoever doth offend: If thou return to the Almighty thou shalt be built up, thou shalt put iniquity far from thy tabernacles: then shalt thou lay up gold as dews, and the gold of Ophir as the stones of the brooks, Job 22. 23, 24. This Advice Faith digests and labours the Reformation of what is amiss, and whatsoever hindereth the Promise.
2. That Faith is painful, provident and frugal; it shakes off Idleness, takes the Opportunity, husbands thriftily, and observes God's Providence in all Affairs, otherwise we live not by Faith, but tempt God, and throw away his Promises and all.
3. That Faith preserves from the Use of all unlawful Means: The Believer consults ever what is just, not what is gainful; or what may be com-passed by honest Courses, not what may be gained by Fraud, Deceit, Cozenage or the like carnal Dealings: Better is a little with righteousness, than great revenues without right, Prov. 16. 8.
4. That Faith leans upon the Providence of God, who will keep back nothing from us, but what is hurtful and pernicious: Here's a sweet Act of Faith, it submits to God's Wisdom, and rests on Providence, after the Use of all lawful Means; and this maintains a Christian in some Measure of Contentment.

2. For Prayer, and the Parts or maner of it, observe this Method.
1. Confes our sins, especially those sins which upon Search we are persuaded hinder Prosperity: O Lord, I have thought thought on my ways, and I find (this or that) sin in my bosom, this or that corruption hath gotten Head, and hinders thy Blessings: O Lord, how should I expect needful Things? What have I to do with thy Promises, that have committed such and such Sins?

2. Importune the Lord for his temporal Blessings, at least so far as he seeth them to be for our Good, and for the Glory of his great Name: Thus Bildad tells Job, Chap. 8. 5, 6, 7. If thou wouldst seek unto God betimes, and make thy supplication to the Almighty, surely now he would awake for thee, and make the habituation of thy righteousness prosperous: Though thy beginning was small, yet thy latter end shall greatly encrease. Thus Jobez prayed, O that thou wouldst bless me indeed, and enlarge my coasts, &c. I Chron. 4. 13. and God granted him that which he requested. In like Manner was Jacob's Prayer, If God will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and will give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on, so that I come again to my father's house in peace, then shall the Lord be my God, Gen. 28. 20, 21. And thus may we importune the Lord, and make our Supplication to the Almighty.

3. Then prefs the Lord with his Promises as with so many Arguments: Lord, thou hast said, Godliness hath the promise of the life that now is, as well as that which is to come. Thou hast said, Fear the Lord, ye his saints, for there is no want to them that fear him, &c. O these are thy Promises, make them good to us as it stands best with thy Wisdom.

2. In the Enjoyment of these temporal Blessings go we to \{ Meditation. \\

\} Prayer.

1. For Meditation, and the Matter of it, consider these Things.

1. Faith in Prosperity, keeps the Heart in a holy Temper and Disposition, i.e. in Humility, Meekness, Tenderness and Compassion towards others, in Thankfulness, Obedience, and in the Fear of the Lord. Satan himself could reply to the Lord, Dost Job fear God for nought, hast thou not made a Hedge about him? Job 1. 13. in this Case, Faith will remember Man of his Duty, and persuade him to be so much the more serviceable, as God's Mercies are more plentiful upon him.

2. That Faith makes a Man heavenly-minded in the Use and Possession of a prosperous Estate; as it receives all earthly Blessings from God, so it winds and pulls up the soul to God again; and if it be rightly considered, Prosperity is the fittest Seaton for heavenly Contemplation; the less Trouble lies upon our Estate, the more Liberty we have to think of heavenly Things: Howsoever, Faith considers these Things as Pledges of God's Love, as Parts of our Child's Portion, and so it makes us look at the better Part, those never fading Riches which God hath referred in Heaven for all that fear him.

3. That Faith breeds a godly Jealousie and Suspicion, left the Heart should be drawn away with the pleasing Delights of Things transitory, for by Grace it is that we are made conscious of our own Weakness, and of the Snare that is in every Creature to take and intangle us: Prosperity is pleasing, but dangerous; a Man may quickly forfeit of sweet Meats. This makes the waking Believer circumspect and watchful, and jealous and suspicious of his own Heart, lest he miscarry in Prosperity, considering there is a Snare in it.

4. That Faith minds a Change, even when our Mountain seems strongest; The thing I greatly feared (faith Job, Chap. 3. 25.) is come upon me, and that which I was afraid of, is come unto me; By this it appears, that Job alwily thought upon a Change: There is no Wind (faith the Proverb) that may not blow Rain, if God so please. Riches have their wings, and take their flight like an Eagle; now Faith minds this, and prepares for this; The prudent man foreseeeth evil, and hideth himself, Prov. 23. 5. and 6. 12.

2. For Prayer, and the Manner of it, observe this Method:

1. Confess and acknowledge God's Mercy, both in his Promises and Performances; say, Lord, thou hast promised, that no good thing wilt thou withhold from them that walk uprightly; and surely thou art true in thy sayings, I believe by Virtue of thy Promise I enjoy this Land, and those Goods, &c. I have nothing, Lord, but merely of Free-grace, and by Virtue of a Promise.

2. Pray, importune the Lord for Sanctification of Prosperity, and for God's Blessing upon the Means: The more we prosper, the more earnest should the Prayers of Faith be; for of ourselves we have no Power to wield a good Estate well, no Ability to preserve or keep it; in greatest Wealth we ly open to many Temptations, and if we pray not earnestly that God may sanctifie all his temporal Blessings to us, we shall cool in Grace.

3. Praise God for his Mercies, and devote ourselves unto him from whom we have received all, What shall I render unto the Lord (faith David) for all his mercies towards me? I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord, Psalm 116. 12, 13. Men look for Thanks for a small Kindness, and shall not we magnifie God for all his Favours and Loving-kindness towards us? O praise the Lord, bless the Lord, O my soul! Psalm 103. 1.

S E C T. V.

Of the Manner of this Life of Faith in spiritual Evils.

THINGS spiritual are either, { Evil.

Good.

We shall begin with spiritual Evils; and concerning them 1. Give you the Promises, and, 2. The Exercise of Faith in respect of those Promises.

Evils spiritual arise either from the Devil, or the Flesh, or the World, or from Man, or God, or from ourselves.

1. Those Evils that arise from the Devil, are Temptations of several sorts, and the Man, whose Heart is upright, shall find Strength enough against every Temptation: To that Purpose, consider these Promises, Matth. 16. 18. 1 Cor. 10. 13. 1 John 5. 18.

2. Those Evils that arise from the Flesh, are Lusts, or Temptations of Uncleanness; and for Strength and Ability against such a Temptation, consider these Promises, Prov. 2. 10, 11. 16. Ecclef. 7. 26. 1. Thess. 5. 23, 24.

3. Those Evils that arise from the World, are Covetousnes, Cares, evil Company, &c. and for Strength against such, consider these Promises, 2 Cor. 6. 17, 18. Gal. 1. 4. 1 John 5. 4. Heb. 13. 5. there are five Negatives together in the Original that strongly affirm; q. d. I tell thee, I will never, never, never, never, never for sake thee.

4. Those Evils that arise from Men, are either Oppositions against Truth, concerning which, Matth. 10. 19. Acts 18. 9, 10, or, Oppositions against Goodness, Matth. 5. 10, 1 Pet. 3. 14. or, Opposition against both, and so they fall either on our good Name, concerning which, Psal. 37. 6. where, howsoever thy Innocency be at some Times

Times covered, as it were, with a thick and dark Mist of Slander and Oppression, yet the Lord will in his good Time scatter and dissolve the Mist, and to make thy Innocency apparent to the World; yea, he will make thy Righteousness as evident as the Sun when it ariseth, yea, as Noon-day when it is highest, and shines brightest, Psalm 58. 13. Matthew 5. 11. 12. 1 Peter 4. 14. &c. or, they may fall on us, in respect of our Liberty, concerning which, Psalm 69. 32. 33. and 102. 19. 20. Revelation 2. 20. or, they may deprive us of our Goods, concerning which, 2 Chronicles 25. 9. Matthew 19. 29. Habakkuk 3. 17. 18. or, they may take away Life, concerning which, Matthew 10. 39. John 12. 25. Revelation 14. 13.

5. Those Evils which arise from God, are Deceptions; and for Comforts against them, consider these Promises, Isaiah 49. 14. 15. 16. and 54. 7. 8. and 50. 10.

2. For the exercising of Faith, concerning these Promises, that we may live by them, go we to Meditation, and Prayer.

1. For Meditation, and the Matter of it, consider we these Things.

1. That of ourselves we cannot resist these spiritual Evils; all our Comfort is, that neither the Devil, nor the World, nor the Flesh, nor Sin can oppose any further than God will give them leave; not the Devil himself can tempt who he will, nor when he will, nor how he will, nor how long he will, but in all these he is confined by the Providence of God. A Legion of Devils could not enter into a Gadarene Hog till Christ had given them leave: Satan could not touch one Blemish pertaining to Job, till he had obtained Liberty; nor after lay a Finger on his Body, until his Liberty was renewed: O meditate on God and his Power, who hath all our Enemies in a Chain; as for ourselves we have no Ability to resist any of these Evils.

2. That Faith fortifies the Soul against all Oppositions, the more they rage, the more Faith heartens the Soul to believe, and to keep close under the Shadow of the Lord's Wings; as the Child affrighted, clings faster to the Mother; so the poor Soul pursued by the Devil, or World, or Flesh, or Man, or God, or our own Corruptions, it runs to Christ, the everlasting Rock, and in his Name resists all these Evils, and in his Name gets the Victory.

3. That in the most forcible Tempetfs, which God, Devil, or Man raiseth against us (when to present Senfe and
The Life of Faith.

and Feeling all Sight and Hope of the Grace and Goodness in Christ Jesus is lost.; then Faith tells the Heart, that a Calm is at Hand. The last Tem-tation wherewith Satan set upon Christ, was the most furious, and when he could not prevail thereby, he departed for a Season; The Lord will not suffer us to be tempted above Measure.

This Faith assures of, and persuades us quietly to wait for the Issue.

2. For prayer and the Manner of it, observe this Method:

1. Confess our Sins of former Ignorance, Vanity of Mind, Self-confidence, solitary Musings on the Tem-pitations of Satan, misinterpreting of the Lord's Doings, &c. which let open the Soul to all other spiritual Evils:
O my God, I have disesteemed thy Mercy, disobeyed thy Promises, harboured thoughts of Unbelief, &c. and I have exposed my Soul to the most violent, horrible, and furious Temptations of the World, Flesh, Devil, and my own Lusts: My Soul, which should have been ravished with the Joys of Heaven, and with the Kisses of Christ, is continually pestered and assailled with the black and bellicose Thoughts of Idolatry, Blasphemy, and soul vexing Fears; my Heart trembleth, my Strength faileth, my Life is spent with Grief, my Spirit within me is overwhelmed, and prevailing Fears do tyrannize over me, that I cannot speak, I am sore wounded and broken, I go mourning and defolate all the Day long.

2. Implore the Lord for pardon of Sin, and for Help against all Oppositions: Pardon, O Lord, my Yielding to the Temptations of the Devil, or Flesh, or World, or Sin; pardon, O

Lord, the Infidelity, Doubtings, Dejectiveness, Infirmities, and carnal excessive Fears of thy poor Servant; and for the future, deliver my Soul from the Snares, strengthen me in the Combat against all mine Enemies: Arise, O Lord, disapp-point Satan, cast him down, deliver my Soul from the wicked one; O be thou my Strength in my Trouble, for I fly unto thee for Help and for Success.

3. Then pray the Lord with his promises, as with so many Arguments:
Lord, thou hast said, That the Gates of Hell shall not prevail against us: That whoso pleaseth God shall escape the strange Woman: That whatsoever is born of God overcometh the World: That if we suffer for Righteousness sake, happy are we: That in a little Wrath I hid my Face for a Moment, but with everlasting Kindness will I have Mercy on thee:
That a good Man, though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down, for the Lord upholdeth him with his Hand. O these are thy golden, sweet, precious Promises; now Lord, make them good to my Soul, let me draw the Sweet, and Juice and Virtue from every of these Promises; let not a Word of these promises fall to the Ground, let me have my Share, and part and portion in these comfortable promises, through the Lord Jesus.

§ An Appendix of the Manner of this Life of Faith, in Oppositions against Truth and Goodness, and more parcularly against our good Name, whereby an unworthy Servant of Christ sometimes found Abundance of Spiritual Comfort.

HIS Innocency being sometimes overshadowed with a thick and dark Mist of Slanders, Reproaches, and Defamations, he endeavoured, 1.
To review the promises; and, 2. To act his Faith on them.

1. The promises were THESE, Psalm
37. 5. 6. Matth. 5. 10, 11, 12. 1 Pet.
you have lien among the pots, yet shal be as the wings of a dove covered with 167

with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold. q. d. The hitherto you have been as to many Subjects cast into the Ends of the Earth; as thrown amongst black and smoky pots, oppressed with mighty calamities, yet the Time is at hand that ye shall be made white as Doves; your Innocency and Happiness shall appear, and your white shall be intermixt with the colour of pure and yellow Gold; i. e. you shall come to the Top of the highest Felicity, and ye shall be freed from Slander, and obtain illustrious Glory.

2. In the Actings of his Faith, he endeavoured 1. To meditate. 2. To pray.

1. His Meditations were these,

1. That we know not how to prevent it. Men may slander, and Men will slander, so long as the World lasts; only we have these Promises for Comfort, and it is the Lord who promiseth, and if he please, he can bid us from the Scourge of Tongues; or if he please, he is able to restore us double to our shame, Job 5. 21. Isa. 61. 7.

2. That true Faith will fortifie the Soul against all Reproach: There is an encouraging Voice of the Lord to this End, Isa. 51. 7. Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law: fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings.

3. That if the wicked reproach more and more, yet it is the Duty of Christians to exercise Patience. Experience of their Vanities, and God’s gracious Dealings with us, will fortifie our Hearts: Fear not thou worm (thou poor despicable Thing) I will help thee, faith the Lord thy Redeemer, Isa. 41. 14. and as for thy Reproachers, their Doom is before, Behold, all they that are incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded; they shall be as nothing, and they that strive with thee shall perish, ver. 11.

4. That Faith makes the Soul circumpect, and in this Case doth ransom and fan the Soul narrowly, to find out what is the Matter and Rife of those Slanders and Reproachs: If ye suffer for righteousness sake, happy are ye, 1 Pet. 3. 14. it must be for Righteousness Sake, or there is no Blessing upon it; and so the Apostle adds, You must have a good conscience, that whereas they speak evil of you as of evil doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Chrift: for it is better if the will of God be, that ye suffer for well-doing, than for evil doing, v. 16, 17. We are ordinarily more impatient at undeserved, than deferred Sufferings; but it is better, faith the Apostle, so to suffer, than otherwise. Let none of you suffer as a murderer, a thief, an evil doer, but if any man suffer as a christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorifie God on this behalf, 1 Peter 4. 15, 16.

5. That true Faith esteems all such Slanders as the most honourable Badges of Innocency that possibly can be. If mine adversary should write a book against me, surely I would take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a crown to me, Job. 31. 35, 36. I rejoice, said Luther, that Satan so rages and blasphemes, it is likely that I do him and his kingdom the more mischief. And they that reproach me, said Austin, do against their Wills increase mine honour both with God and good men. The more the dirty Feet of Men tread and rub on the figure graven in Gold, the more Luftre they give it: to the more caufeles Aspersions the wicked cast on the Godly, the more bright do they rub their Glory; And hence was that Choice of Moles, rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.
The Life of Faith.

41: esteemed the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt, Heb. 11. 25.

2. For Prayer, his Method was,
1. To complain to the Lord, as sometimes David did, Psal. 69. 19.

Thou, O Lord, hast know my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine adversaries are all before thee. Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness: and I looked for some to take pity, but there was none, and for comforters, but I found none.

2. To petition to the Lord, as otherwise David did, Let me not be ashamed, O Lord, for I have called upon thee, let the wicked be ashamed, and let them be silent in the grave: let the lying lips be put to silence, which speak grievous things, proud and contemptuously against the righteous. O how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that trust in thee before the sons of men? Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence, from the pride of men, thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues, Psal. 31. 17, &c.

Thus Lord I beg at thy Hands, or if otherwise, thou knowest it best in thy Wisdom: Let them alone, and let them curse, it may be the Lord will look on my affliction, and thou Lord wilt require good for their cursing this day, 2 Sam. 16. 11, 12.

3. To press the Lord with his gracious Promises: as thus; Thou hast said, Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely for my name’s sake, Mat. 5. 11. And if ye suffer for righteousness sake, happy are ye:

And if ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; 1 Pet. 3. 14. These are th’ golden Promises, now Lord make them good to my Soul, let me drink the Juice, and Sweet, and Virtue from every of these Promises; let not a Word of these Promises fall to the ground, but let me have my Part, and Share, and Portion in them.

4. To pray to the Lord to forgive all his Enemies that trespassed against him, as sometimes Christ did, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do, Mat. 6. 12. Surely in these two Things there is much matter of Comfort. 1. That our Hearts are well, and not ill-affected to any Man. 2. That going alone we can humble our selves, and pray for the Authors of all the Re- proaches and Slanders that are unjustly cast on us.

SECT. VI.

Of the Manner of this Life of Faith in spiritual Blessings, as derived to us from God and Christ, and the Spirit of Christ.

CONCERNING spiritual Blessings, or good Things, consider we,

1. The Promises.
2. The Exercise of Faith in respect of those Promises.

1. The Promises are of such blessings as arise either from God, or from the Spirit of Christ.

1. From God proceeds his Love of us.

Presence with us.

Providence over us.

1. Concerning his Love of us, we have these Promises, Deut. 7. 7. 8. 13. Isa. 54. 8. Jer. 31. 3. Hos. 2. 19. & 14. 4. John 3. 16. Eph. 2. 4. 1 John 4. 19.

2. Concerning his Presence with us, we have these Promises, Gen. 26. 24: and 28. 15. Exod. 3. 12. Josh. 5. 7. Jer. 1. 8. 1 Chron. 28. 20. Isa. 41. 10. Mat. 28. 20. Rev. 2. 1.

3. Concerning his Providence over us, we have these Promises, Psal. 34.
2. Concerning Reconciliation, we have these promises, 2 Cor. 5. 18, 19.

3. Concerning Adoption, we have these promises, Gal. 3. 26. John 1. 12.

4. Concerning the Spirit of Christ, we have promises.

1. Of the Spirit himself.

2. Of the Operation of the Spirit.

1. Of the Spirit himself, in Joel 2.

2. Of the Operation of the Spirit.

1. In general, as Sanification.

2. In special, as Spiritual Graces.

1. Concerning Sanification, we have these promises, Mic. 7. 19. Jer. 31. 33. 34. Heb. 8. 10 and 10. 16. 1 Thess. 5. 23. 1 John 1. 7. Rev. 1. 5.

Concerning Grace and Duties, we shall handle them anon.

2. For the Exercise of Faith concerning the promises, that we may live by them, go we to Meditation.

1. For Meditation, and the Matter of it, consider these Things:

1. That Faith (considering the privileges of God's children) admires and adores, O how great is thy goodness which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee, which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee, before the eyes of men? How excellent is thy loving kindness, O Lord; therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings, Psal. 31. 19. and 36. 7.

2. That Faith, in consideration hereof, rests upon God, and Christ, and the Spirit of Christ, to receive whatsoever may be good and profitable to the Soul: Psal. 23. 1. The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. Isa. 40. 11. He shall lead.
lead his flock like a shepherd, he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young. What can they want, who have God for their Father, Christ for their Saviour, the Spirit for their Sanctifier? Thou Israel art my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend: Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away: Fear thou not, for I am with thee; be not dismayed, for I am thy God, I will strengthen thee, yea I will help thee, yea I will uphold thee with the right hand of my Righteousness, Psal. 41. 8, 9, 10.

3. That Faith hereupon sets an high price upon Christ, upon God in Christ, upon the Spirit of Christ: These promises are more worth than Kingdoms, Empires, the whole World, which made holy David say, In the multitude of my thoughts within me, thy comforts delight my soul, Psal. 94. 19. q. d. I have Multitudes of Thoughts, some running this Way, some running that Way, some on this pleasure, some on that profit, but my Soul is only comforted in the Thoughts of thee: pleasures, profits, honours, all are vain and empty, and nothing is to be rested on, to be delighted in, but Jesus Christ; yea there's a full content in Jesus Christ; let the World be filled with Trouble and Sorrow, even now Faith carries a merry Heart.

4. Faith in these promises doth greatly enlarge the Heart towards God, and stirreth up to earnest Study of Holiness; if a Christian be much in the Meditation of God's singular Goodness in Christ, it will even constrain him to yield up himself wholly to God, in all Manner of godly conversation: Psal. 26. 2,

3. Examine, O Lord, and prove me; try my reins and my heart, for thy loving kindness is before mine eyes, and I have walked in thy truth.

5. Faith ever runs to these promises in all Straits, and here it finds comforts: Nature teacheth Man and Beast in Troubles and Storms to make to a shelter; the child runs to the Arms of the Mother, the Birds to their Nefts, the coenies to the rock, Prov. 30. 26. so must the Soul have a Sanctuary, an hiding place, when Danger and trouble comes, now where can it take up a firer and safer Refuge, than with God and Christ, and the Spirit of Christ? Indeed God it dares not look at, but in Christ; and the Spirit proceeds not but from Christ, to Christ therefore it runs immediately; it is Christ, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification and redemption, 1 Cor. 1. 30. Come, faith Faith, let us out to Christ, and if he receive us not presently, let us say a little; he is full of bowels and tenderness towards poor Sinners, he keeps open house for all comers, he invites all, entertains all, old Sinners, young Sinners, great Sinners, less Sinners, his promise is sure too; Him that cometh unto me, I will in no wise cast out, Joh. 7. 37. Thus Faith takes the Believer off from Self, civil Life, Estate, Friends, and hangs the Soul alone upon that true Friend, the Lord Jesus Christ, who hath manifested the Greatness of his Love to poor Sinners, by dying for them, and sending his Spirit to sanctifie and comfort them, John 15. 13.

2. For Prayer, and the Manner of it, observe this Method:

1. Confess and acknowledge God's Mercies both in his promises and performances: Say, Lord, thou haft said, I will love thee freely; And I will be with thee, even to the end of the world. He that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of mine eye. And all is yours, and ye are Christ's, and Christ is God's. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever, &c. Hos. 14.

4. Mat. 28. 20. 1 Cor. 3. 22, 23. John 14. 16. Surely Lord thou art true in thy Sayings; I believe by Virtue of this and that promise, I have the Love, and promise and providence of God, I am redeemed, called, justified, reconciled, adopted by Christ; I have the Spirit of Christ, I am sanctified in some Measure by that Spirit, I have all this of free Grace, and by virtue of a promise.

2. Pray for this Increase of Faith, and for a further and further light of this belief: Give me, gracious Father, to believe as thou hast promised; create in me the hand of Faith, and make it stronger and stronger, that I may effectually receive what in mercy thou raisest forth; and then give me the Spirit of Revelation, that I may discern truly what thou hast given me, that my Lips may sing of thy Praise all the day long.

3. Praise God for his Mercies, and quietly rest in the promises: O Lord, thou hast freely loved, and redeemed, and sanctified my Soul; O how should I praise thee, how should I advance and set thee up on high? Salvation, and Glory, and Honour, and Praise be given to thy name, &c. I praise thee for my Election, Vocation, Justification, Sanctification, &c. but above all, for the Fountain of all, the Lord Jesus Christ; It is my Christ justifies, and my Christ sanctifies: Lord, thou hast given Christ for my Wisdom and Sanctification, as well as for Righteousness and Redemption: Lord, thou hast appointed Christ to be the Beginner and Finisher of my Holi-ness, and surely he will not leave that Work imperfect, whereunto he is ordained of the Father; were the progress of this Building committed to my care and Oversight, there might be Cause of Fear, but since thou hast laid all upon Christ, my only and all-sufficient Redeemer; Lord, encrease my Faith, that I may hold him fast and be safe, and so at last I may sing Hallelujahs to thee in Heaven for ever.

Of the Manner of this Life of Faith in Spiritual Graces.

The Operation of the Spirit in general, we told you was Sanctification; now the Operation of the Spirit in special appears in Spiritual Graces

{ Spiritual Duties

Spiritual Graces we shall consider in their Degrees.

And of them both give,

1. The Promises.

2. The Exercise of Faith in respect of those Promises:

1. The Kinds of Graces are these, Knowledge, and Faith, and Hope, and Joy, and Love, and Fear, and Obedience, and Repentance, and Humility, and Meekness, and Patience, and Righteousness, and Uprightness, and Peace of Conscience, and Zeal, and Perseverance; sixteen Graces in Number: concerning which the Lord hath made gracious Promises.

1. Of them, to give them.

2. To them, to reward them.

The first Grace is Knowledge, and we find some promises. Of it, Psal. 25. 14. Jer. 31. 34. Is. 2. 2, 3. Mic. 4. 1. 2. Eph. 3. 5. Rev. 21. 23. 2. To it, as Prov. 3. 14. Psal. 91. 14. 2 Pet. 1. 2. Prov. 3. 18.

The second Grace is Faith, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as Eph. 2. 8. Job. 6. 37. observe here these promises of Assurance, the highest measure of Faith, Psal. 50. 23. Ezek. 34. Nn 30.
The Life of Faith

30. Isa. 60. 16. Psalm 97. 11. 2.
To it, as 2 Chron. 10. 20. Prov. 29.
7. 38. & 3. 16, 36. & 5. 24. &
6. 47.

The third Grace is Hope, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as Psal.
36. 5. Prov. 4. 32. Job 13. 15. 2.
To it, as Psal. 40. 4. Rom. 4. 8, 22.
and 8. 24.

The fourth Grace is Joy, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, Psal 36. 8, 9. & 64. 10. & 68. 3. & 97.11. and 118. 15. Isa. 12. 2, 3. and 35.
throughout, and 56. 7. and 66. 13. 14.
John 16. 22. Rom. 14. 18. 2. To it, Psal. 89. 15. 16.

The fifth Grace is Love, especially of God, and we may find some promi-
I. Of it, as Cant. 1. 4. Deut.
30. 6. 2. To it, as Psal. 91. 14. and
145. 10. Prov. 8. 21. Deut. 7. 9. 1
Cor. 8. 3. and 2. 9, 10. Jam. 1. 12. &
2. 5.

The sixth Grace is Fear, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as Jer.
32. 39. 40. Hos. 3. 5. 2. To it, as Psal. 103. 11. and 31. 19. and 147.11.
Mat. 3. 16. 17.

The seventh Grace is Obedience,
and we find some promises, 1. Of it,
as Ezek. 11. 19. 20 and 36. 26. 27. 2.
To it, as Deut. 28. 1. to 14.

The eighth Grace is Repentance, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as Acts
5. 30, 31: Ezek. 11. 19. and 20. 43. &
36. 31. 2. To it, as Mal. 3. 7. 2

The ninth Grace is Humility, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as 2
Cor. 10. 4, 5. Gal. 5. 22. 2. To it, as Prov. 15. 53. and 22. 4. Jam. 4. 6.
1 Pet. 5. 5. Isa. 57. 15. Matth.
5. 3.

The tenth Grace is Meekness, and we find some promises 1. Of it, as Isaiah 11. 6, 7, 8. Gal. 5. 22, 23. 2.
To it, as Psal. 37. 11. and 147. 6 Isa.
29. 9. Psal. 25. 3. Zeph. 2. 3. Mat:
5. 5. and 11. 29. Psalm 149. 4.

The eleventh Grace is Patience, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as James 1. 5. 2. To it, as Heb. 10. 36.
James 5. 11.

The twelfth Grace is Righteousness,
and we find some promises, 1. Of it,
as Rev. 19. 7. 8. 2. To it, as Psal Psal 112. 2. 6. Mat. 25. 46.

The thirteenth Grace is Uprighteous, or Sincerity of Heart, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as Jer. 31. 53. &
50. 5. 2. To it, as Psal 84. 11. Prov.
14. 11. Psal 112. 2. 2. Chro. 16. 9.
Psal 112. 4. and 84. 11. and 37. 37. &
15. 1, 2. Gen. 17. 1, 2. 1 Chro. 29. 17.
Prov. 12. 22. and 38. 18.

The fourteenth Grace is Peace of Conscience, and we find some promises,
1. Of it, as John 14. 27. Gal. 6. 16.
Isa. 57. 19. and 54. 10. 2. To it, as Phil. 4. 7.

The fifteenth Grace is Zeal, and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as Jer. 20. 9. 2 Cor. 7. 11. 2. To it, as Numb. 25. 12, 13. Rev. 3. 10, 20.

The sixteenth Grace is Perseverance,
and we find some promises, 1. Of it, as Psal 89. 28. Prov. 12. 3. Isa.
46. 4. 2. To it, as Matth. 10. 22.
Rev. 2. 26.

The degrees of Graces follow and we find some promises, 1. Thereof, as Isa.
44. 3. 4. Mal. 4. 2. Psal. 84. 7. Pro.
4. 18. 2. Thereto, as, Rom. 13. 11.
2 Pet. 1. 8.

2. For the Exercise of Faith concerning these Promises, that we may live by them, go we to \text{Meditation.}

1. For Meditation, and the Matter of it, consider these Things:

That
1. That of ourselves we have no Ability to attain any of these Graces: Every one can say, I purpose well, but the Question is, whether they build not on their own Strength: Many a Man, especially in time of his sickness, Danger, Disgrace, will make fair promises of Amendment, but when the Rod is removed, all is forgotten: What may be the Reason? he stands on his own Feet, he presumes to go alone of himself, and by his own Strength, and then no marvel if he falls and catcheth many a Knoeck: If we will have any of these Graces, then deny we our selves: I will keep thy Statutes, said David, Plal. 119. 8. but immediately upon his Resolution he cries, O for sake me not utterly: Purposes thus grounded, bring forth holy Performances, but of our selves we can expect nothing.

2. That God’s Spirit will infuse these Graces, and the Increase of these Graces into them that believe: Many would fain have Knowledge, and Faith and Hope and Joy, &c. but they exercise not their Faith to believe God and his promises: I knew a man in Christ, could Paul say concerning his Revelation, 2 Cor. 12. 2. So, I know a man in Christ off and on, unstayed, dismayed at his manifold Flips, strong Corruptions, little prevailings against them, and (when all came to all) he could find no Help till he went to a Promise, and by Faith believed that God would aid and assist, and do the whole work for him; it is good to believe that (according to his promise) God will sanctifie our natures, enable us to Holiness, and bestow all his Graces on us.

3. That for the Degrees of these graces, it is necessary to improve them; Graces improved, are the ready way to have them increased: God ever belows the greatest Measure, where he finds a Care to put them forth to Advantage:

Whoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance, Mat. 13.

12. As Men increase their Substance by Labour, and Learning by Diligence, so he that improves Graces, shall more and more abound in them.

2. For Prayer and the Parts of it, observe this Method:

1. Confess and acknowledge our Inabilities: O Lord, I have no Grace by Nature, I have no Power to cleanse my own Heart: O Lord, I have defaced thine image, but I cannot repair it; I may say with the Apostle, When I would do well, evil is present with me, Rom. 7. 21. But I find no Means to perfect what I desire: I am not able to crawl about the doing of that which is good: O when shall I be set at Liberty, that I might do the Work of God, and run the Race of his Commandments; O that I had Knowledge, and Faith, and Hope, and Joy, and Love!

2. Look we up to the Power, and Grace and Truth of God, and press him therewith: Lord, I have heard of thy Power, thou art God Almighty, who callest the Things that are not, as if they were; thou canst if thou wilt, work in me these Graces, and create them in me, as thou didst gloriously create them in Adam, the first Man: Lord, I have heard also of thy Grace and Truth, thou art as faithful to keep, as free to make these Sweet precious Promises; Thy Grace is unsearchable, thy Word purer than Silver seven times refined: O then make good thy Promises, I press thee with thy power, Grace and Truth: O replenish me with thy Graces, give me Knowledge, and Faith, and Hope, &c.

3. Look we on the promises, and pray by them, or turn them into prayers: Faith heark’neth what the Lord speaketh, and speaketh back again in fervent Groans and Desires to whatsoever N 2.
it hearkneth: Hence we can make no Prayer in Boldness, Faith or Comfort, but for Things promised, and in that Manner as they are promised. Thus Jacob (Gen. 32. 9.) and David (2 Sam. 7. 27. &c.) prayed by a Promife, and thus shoul we pray by a Promife, and then we may be sure we pray according to his Will. In want of other Rheto-rick and Oratory, let us urge God with this Repetition: Lord, thou hast promised, Lord, thou hast promised, thou hast made many sweet precious promises of graces, and of Degrees of Graces: Thou hast said, The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and, All that the Father giveth me, shall come unto me; and, The righteous hath hope in his death; and, The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him; and, They shall go from strength every one of them in Zion, appearing before God, Pial. 25. 14. John 6. 37. Prov. 14. 32 Pial. 84. 7. O make these promises effectual to me, blow on my garden, that the Spices (these graces) may flow out.

S E C T. VIII.
Of the Manner of this Life of Faith in Spiritual Duties.

A S spiritual Graces, so spiritual Duties, are of the Operation of God's Spirit: Now the Duties are Twenty, concerning which we shall give
1. The promises.
2. The Exercises of Faith in respect of the promises.

The first Duty is Prayer, to which are affixed these promises, Psal. 5. 3. & 10. 17. and 65. 2. and 50. 15. and 12. 17, &c. Prov. 15. 29. Zech. 13. 8, 9. Rom. 8. 13. James 5. 15.

The second Duty is Praise, to which are affixed these promises, 1 Sam. 2. 30. Psalm 50. 25. and 67. 5, 6.

The third Duty is Preaching, to which Mat. 28. 20. John 5. 25.

The fourth Duty is Reading the Word, to which, Psal. 19. 8. Prov. 1. 4.

The fifth Duty is Loving the Word, to which Psal. 119. 165. and 112. 1.

The sixth Duty is Waiting on the Word, to which Proverbs 8. 34, 35.

The eighth Duty is Sacraments of,

The ninth Duty is A lawful Oath, to which Jeremiah 12. 16. Psalm 15. 4.

The tenth Duty is Fasting, to which James 4. 9, &c. Matthew 6. 18.

The eleventh Duty is Meditation, to which Psalm 1. 2. Prov. 14. 22. Phil. 4. 8, 9.

The twelfth Duty is Self-Examination, to which, 1 Cor. 11. 31 Gal. 6. 4.

The thirteenth Duty is Sanc-

The sixteenth Duty is Reproof, to which Proverbs 24. 25. and 28. 23.

The seventeenth Duty is Alm-giving, to which Psal. 41. 1, 2, 3. Luke 14. 13, &c.

The eighteenth Duty is Seeking of God,
God, to which, Psalm 34. 10. Ezra 8. 22.

The nineteenth Duty is Waiting on God, to which, Isaiah 40. 31. and 64. 4. and 49. 23.

The twentieth Duty is Delighting in God, to which, Psalm 36. 4.

2. For the Exercise of Faith concerning these Promises, that we may live by them, go we to Meditation.

1. For Meditation, and the Matter of it, consider these Things:

1. That God deals graciously with his People, he might out of his absolute Sovereignty over us, command only, and we were bound to obey in every of these Duties; but he is pleased (the better to quicken us to Obedience) to annex these gracious promises.

2. That as he is gracious to us, so we should be cheerful in our Duties to him: This Cheerfulness of Service is the very Fruit of Faith; By faith Abel brought of the firstlings of his flock, and of the fat thereof, an offering to the Lord, Gen. 4. 4. By faith David went with the multitude into the house of God, with the voice of joy and of praise, Psal. 42. 4. It is the voice of faith, I will sing and give praise with the best member I have.

3. That to make us cheerful, we should rowze ourselve to awaken to the Work of our God: Arise, O my Soul, why sleepest thou! stir up thyself with Readiness to obey the Charge of God in the Duties prescribed; look on the Saints who, have gone before thee, they endured Imprisonment, Loss of Liberty, spoiling of their Goods, Hazard of Life: Thou art not yet called to suffer, but to obey, why dost thou delay, or goest forth unwillingly? wouldst thou reign with them, and not labour with them? receive the prize, and not run the Race? divide the Spoil, and not fight the Battel? look on the promise annexed to the Duty: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek me in vain, faith God, Isa. 45. 19. O my Soul, arise, contend forward towards the Mark, Heaven is worth all thy Labour.

4. That to remove all Remora's the Lord hath promised to affit us in these Duties by his own Spirit: Besides the promises to Duties, we have promises of Duties, God deals with us (as we do by Way of Commerce one with another) propounding Mercy by Covenant and Condition, yet his Covenant of Grace is alwise a gracious Covenant; for he not only gives the good Things, but helps us in performing the Condition by his own Spirit; he works our Hearts to believe and repent, &c. and he gives what he requires: For Instance, in one place he commands, Cast away from you all your transgressions, and make you a new heart, and a new Spirit; and in another place he promiseth, I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and you shall be clean from all your filthiness: A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, Ezek. 36. 25, 26. In one place he commands them, Circumcise the foreskin of your hearts, Deut. 10. 16, and in another place he promiseth, That he will circumcise their hearts, Deut. 30. 6. in one place he commands us, To keep his commandments, Ecclef. 12. 13. in another place he promiseth to cause us, To walk in his Statutes, Ezek. 36. 27. in one place he commands us, To fear him, Ecclef. 12. 13. and in another place he promiseth, To put his fear into our hearts, Jer. 32. 40. in one place he commands us, To pray, to ask, to seek, and knock, Mat. 7. 7. and in another place he promiseth To pour upon us the Spirit of grace and supplication, Zech. 12. 10. These promises of Duties are the Foundation of all all our Performances, and those promises to Duties are the Rewards of his Free-grace and Good-pleasures; we do not by Working cause him to fulfill his promises, but he by promising doth enable us to perform our Works, and so he rewards us accordingly.

2. For Prayer, and the parts of it, observe this Method:

1. Acknowledge the Goodness and Free-grace of God in these promises; O Lord, why shouldst thou allure me to that which I am every Way bound to? If I had none of these promises, I have already in hand a World of Mercies, which do infinitely bind me to Duty; and wilt thou yet add this and that promise, to this and that Duty? O Miracle of Mercies! O the Goodness of God!

2. Bewail our own Dullness and Sloth to the Duty: And yet, O Lord, how dull, and remiss, and slighty am I in the practice of this or that duty? thou hast said, Cursed is the Man that doteth the work of the Lord negligently, Jer. 48. 10. and, cursed be the deceiver, that hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing, Mal. 1. 14. O then what is my portion, who have sacrificed that which is torn and sick unto the great King and Lord of Hosts, whose Name is dreadful among the Heathen? No marvel if I feel no power, no sweet in the Ordinances of Grace, whilst I deal partially, hear perfunctorily, pray coldly, labour not to feed on the promise, and to suck Vigour out of it: O Lord, thou Lovest a cheerful Giver, but my Services are maimed, and corrupt, and dead, and superficial, and very uncheerful.

3. Importune the Lord to revive and quicken our dead Hearts to the Duty; for prays David, Psalm 143. 10. Teach me to do thy will, thy Spirit is good, lead me into the land of uprightness; so prays the Church, Cant. 1. 4. Draw me, and we will run after thee; and so let us pray, Give me a cheerful Heart in thy Service, animate and enliven my Heart by thy blessed Spirit, give me to do what thou requirest, incline my Heart to thy Statutes, and not to Covetousness, Psalm 119. 36.

4. Implore the Assistance of God's Spirit to every good Duty, beg Acceptance of our persons and performances in the Lord Jesus Christ, press him with his promises to set on Duties, and to reward Duties; and what ever Duty we do, press him with that especial promise belonging unto it: thus if we meditate and pray, and pray and meditate, we may live by Faith, in reference to spiritual Duties.

S E C T. IX.

Of the Manner of this Life of Faith in Things eternal.

T H I N G S eternal are either, {

| Evil, as Damnation. |
| Good, as Salvation. |

Concerning both, we shall 1. Give you the promises; and, 2. The Exercise of Faith in respect of these promises.

1. Concerning Damnation, or eternal Confusion, we have these promises against it, 1sa. 45. 17. Rom. 8. 1:

2. For the Exercise of Faith concerning these promises, that we may live by them, go we to 1 Meditation, 2 Prayer.

1. For
The Life of Faith. 177

1. For Meditation, and the Matter of it, consider these Things:

1. That Faith in the precious promises of eternal Life quiets and cheers the Heart in the Midst of Discouragements: This we see in the Lives and Deaths of God's faithful Servants, Heb. 10. 34. who took joyfully the spoiling of their goods, knowing in themselves, that they had in Heaven a better and an enduring Sub stance.

2. That Faith strives to enter into the possession of this Kingdom by Degrees: Men that purchase an Inheritance to come in hereafter, they are glad if any part fall into their Hands for the present: Fulness of Glory is referred for the Life to come, but the Beginnings of Glory (as peace of Conscience, Joy in the Holy Ghost, Sanctification of the Spirit) are vouchsafed here; Grace is the Beginning of Glory, and Glory is the perfection of Grace; now, as Grace grows, so we enter upon the possession of our Inheritance: Hence lively Grace covets Grace more and more, that we may get Heaven by Degrees, and by parcels.

3. Faith earnestly desires and longs after the full Accomplishment of Glory, Our selves also which have the first-fruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption to wit, the redemption of the body, Romans 8. 23. I am in a full strait (said Paul) betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ, which is far better, Phil. 1. 23. Salvation is the End of Faith, Heaven is the Home of Believers: Now all would be at Home, all Things desire perfection in their Kind, this makes the Believer to long after Glory.

2. For Prayer, and the parts of it, observe this Method:

1. Confess we our former Carelessness to enter upon this Inheritance: O Lord, I have slighted thy promises, I have neglected the Motions of thy Holy Spirit, I have not carefully improved the Gifts received, I have not laboured more and more to be sealed with the promised Spirit: Ah! Lord, what a Dwarf am I in Holiness and Sanctification? by reason of my sloth, the powers of Grace are so enfeebled that I can scarce breath or sigh, or crawl in the Way to Heaven: O that I have not so earnestly sought, as I might, to make Heaven sure to myself, that I have not entered possession thereof, so far as in this Life is given me of Grace.

2. Pray that the Lord would increase our Faith, seal us by his Spirit, lead us in the Way of peace, cause us to grow up in Holiness, make us wise to prize and value, to taste and relish the very Joys of Heaven; and above all, that he would allure our Consciences of our Right and Title thereto: O it is God that sealeth, and makes us to read the Sealing; it is God that promiseth Heaven, and affects the Heart with the Goodness and Worth of the Thing promised; it is God that, by the pledges of his Favour, and Earnests of his Spirit, doth testify our Adoption, and caufeth us certainly to apprehend what he doth testify; pray then, Who am I, Lord, that thou wouldst make such ample and free promises to thy poor Servant? it is of thy free Mercy, and according to thine own Heart. And now, O God, establish, I beseech thee, the word that thou hast spoken concerning thy Servant, 2 Sam 7. 25. O seal unto me the promised inheritance, and make me assuredly know what those Hopes are which thou hast reserved for me in Heaven: Of thy Free-grace thou didst make me to this Hope, therefore is thy Servant bold to intreat the Sense of thy Love, the Knowledge of this Hope, the increase of Grace, the Assurance of thy Mercy.

3. Praise God for his promises of eternal eternal Life: "O Lord, thou hast looked on my base Estate, and vili-ted me with Mercy from on High;
"of a Stranger and Forreigner, thou haft made me a tree Denizen of the New Jerusalem: Now, I see, I read it in thy precious promises, that my Name is registred in Heaven;
an eternal Weight of Glory is reserved for me; Heaven is my Home, my Hope, my Inheritance: O where should my Heart be but where my Treasure is? where should my Thoughts be, but where my Hope is? Now all Glory and Honour, and praiue be given to my God!
"O the incomprehensible Love and Favour of my dear Lord! what a "Mercy is this? what promises are there? my soul rejoicing in thee my God, my Spirit shall blest thy Name for ever and ever.

Ministers, Psalm 105. 15. Rev. 2.
1. Isaiah 49. 4.
2. Godly Society ( out of our own Families) hath precious promises, as,
18. 20.

3. The Church of Christ, whether particular, as publick Assemblies, hath blessed promises, Isaiah 33: 20, 21. and 59. 21. Matthew 18. 20. 1 Cor. 5. 4.
Rev. 2. 1. Psalm 26. 8. and 133. 3.
Micah 4. 4. 11. 12. or whether general and universal, it hath glorious promises, as, Matthew 16. 8. Isaiah 27. 3: Psalm 125. 2. Zechariah 9. 16. Here comes in all the Promises, First, Of calling the Jews, as, Isaiah 59. 20. Romans
8. Secondly, Of bringing in the Gentiles, as, Isaiah 49. 22, 23. Revel. 21.
24. John 10. 16. Isaiah 60. 3. 5. 8.
Of the Destruction of Antichrist, as,
2 Thess. 2. 8. Rev. 17. 16. and 18. 21.
where each Word hath almost a Gradation,
in that an Angel, a mighty Angel, taketh a Stone, and a great Stone, even a Millstone, which he letteth not barely,
barely fall, but casteth into the sea, whence nothing ordinarily is recovered, much less a Millstone, thrust from such a Hand, and with such Force.

Now for the exercizing of Faith concerning these Promises, that we may live by them, go we to Meditation. Prayer.

1. For Meditation, and the Matter of it, consider these Things.

1. That we have had the performance of many of these promises in Hand; and this may persuade us that the Residue (especially of the Church's Flourishing, and of Antichrist's Downfall) is as sure as that part already accomplished, which we see with our Eyes; Experience should strengthen Faith, and breed an assured Hope in God people, of the Lord's most glorious Appearing, and this Hope shall not make us ashamed.

2. That the Time is now for the Church's Restoring, and for bringing in more Kingdoms from Antichrist to Christ; what else mean all the Shakings in all the Kingdoms of the World at this Time? therefore study we this Time of God, and in our Places and Callings work with Providence, now we have a Season to help up the Church, God's holy Mountain.

2 For Prayer, and the parts of it, observe this Method.

1. Confess our former Neglect in our several Relations: "O Lord, I have not done my Duty in my own Family, among Christians in the Churches of Christ; I have not performed my Vows, served my Generation, helped onward the Building of Zion: And now, Lord, what shall I say, but con"fess to thy Glory, and my own Shame, my Disrespect of others "Good, or of the Communion of Saints.

2. Pray for a Blessing on others, as on our own selves, forget not our Relations to others in our best Prayers; be importunate with God more especially for Zion, "O look upon Zion, the City of our Somanities, Isa. 33. 20. let thine Eyes see Jerusalen a quiet Habitation, a Tabernacle that shall not be taken down; let not one of the Stakes thereof be removed, nor any of the Cords be broken.

3. Press we the Lord with all his precious Promises, either to our Families, or Christian Societies, or to the Churches of Christ: We have a Promise, that "The Lord will create upon every Dwelling-place of Mount Zion, and upon the Assemblies, a Cloud and Smoak by Day, and the Shining of a flaming Fire by Night, for upon all the Glory shall be a Defence," Isaiah 4. 5. Now, Lord, make good thy Word, &c.

Conclude with, "I believe, that whatsoever God hath said in any of these Respects, he will fulfill it in his own Time: Heaven and Earth shall pass away, but not one Jot, one Title of God's Word shall fail, Math. 5. 18. It may be, for the present, Things seem contrary, yet God hath said it, (should a Soul say) and that's enough for me: If I can but really acknowledge and believe, that God is able to do it, he will then speak from Heaven, as he did once on Earth, According to your faith, he it unto you, Math. 9. 28. 29. Thus much of The Life of Faith.

CHAP. X. Sect. I.

Of the Nature of Family-Duties.

HITHERTO of the Duties which concern every Man in his own particular; next to them succeed Family-duties; and they are such Duties as ought to be jointly or respectively observed by the Families and Houses of the People of God. This is implied by that Threat, Jer. 10. 25. Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name; and by that Example of Joshua, Chap. 24. 15. But as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord; and by that Promise of God, Jer. 31. 1. At the same time, saith the Lord, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

Sect. II.

Of the Preparatives to Family-duties.

Now that we may comfortably carry on these Family-duties, observe we,

1. Our Entrance into them.
2. Our Proceedings in them.

1. For Entrance, we must lay a good Foundation for a Stablenesse unto Religion in those that belong to this Family, as

1. In the Governor.
2. In the Governed.

1. In the Governor; whose Duty it is;
2. To Endeavour in a special Manner for Knowledge in God's Word, and for Holiness of Conversation in a Christian Walking; This would tend much to the preservation of his Authority, who otherwise would be slighted and disregarded, through an Inaptness in Inferiors to take Occasion therefrom.

2. To marry in the Lord, 1 Cor. 7. 39. and then to live chastly in Wedlock, that there may be an holy Seed, Mal. 2. 15. Now that he may marry in the Lord, 1. Let Piety be the Mover of his Affection; and Personage, Parentage and Portion be only as a comfortable Accessary, consider- able in a second Place: Christianity and Grace is the chief golden Link and noble Tie, which hath the power and privilege to make Marriage a lovely and everlasting Bond. 2. Let him ply the Throne of Grace with Fervency of Prayer; a good Wife is a more immediate Gift of God: Whence Solomon could say, Houses and riches are the inheritance of fathers, but a prudent wife is from the Lord, Prov. 19. 14. Such a rare, and precious Jewel is to be sued and sought for at God's Mercy-feat with extraordinary Importance and Zeal; and if she be procured at God's Hand by Prayer, he shall find a thousand Times more Sweetness and Comfort, than if she be cast on him by an ordinary Providence.

Family Duties.

3. To beware whom he admits to dwell with him, that they be tractable to religious Courses: See David's Resolution herein, Psalm 101. 6, 7. Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: He that walketh in a perfect way shall serve me; he that worketh deceit, shall not dwell within my house; he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight.

2. In the Governed; whose Duty is both to join together in the Performance of Family-duties with their Governor, and to submit to his Government, Prov. 1. 8, 9. My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother; for they shall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.

These Preparatives I pin upon the Front or Porch of this Family: Now to the Family-duties themselves, and how they must be exercised.

Sect. III.

Of the Duties of Governors in general.

In the Proceedings of these Family-duties, we are to consider the Duties,

1. Of the Governors.
2. Of the Governed.

1. The Governors, if (as it is in Marriage) there be more than one; as, First, The chief Governor, to wit, the Husband: Secondly, The Helper, to wit, the Wife; both these owe duties to their Families, and duties to one another.

1. The Duties they owe to their Families, are either

In general, to the whole:

In particular, according to their several Relations.

1. That which in general they owe to the whole Family, is either

1. To their Bodies; concerning which, faith the Apostle, 1 Timothy 5, 8. He that provideth not for his own, especially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel. Now as the Spirit of God chargeth us with this Duty, so he letteth us about such Things whereby this may be compassed; as, 1. That every one should have some honest and good Calling, and walk diligently in it; Let him that stole, steal no more, 2. That he bear a low Sail, and keep within Compass; remembering that of Solomon, that is despised, and hath a Servant, is better than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread, Prov. 12. 9.

2. To their Souls; concerning which, some Duties they are to Perform to the Family.

1. The Duties they must perform to them, are

1. To provide that they may live under the publick Miniftrey, for otherwise, how should they be brought into the Sheep-fold of Christ, if they hear not the Voice of the chief Shepherd speaking unto them by those whom he hath sent?

2. To oversee the Ways of their Families, that they serve God; and as in all other Duties, so especially in sanctifying the Sabbaths: To this the very Words in the Fourth Commandment do bind all Masters of Families; Remember thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, thy man-servant, and thy maid; Where the Lord speaks by Name to the Governors, as if he would make them Overseers of this Work of sanctifying his Sabbaths.

3. To set their House in Order for the Service of God, to offer Prayers and Praises to the Lord Morning and Evening.
To this Purpose, Pray continually (faith the Apostle) 1 Thess. 5. 17. which we must not, understand of uninterrupted and inceflant pouring out of Prayers, as the Mafalians or Euchithæ did; but of Morning and Evening Prayers, the Apostle here speaking in reference and in Analogy to the continual, or daily Sacrifices. This was David's Practice, Evening and Morning, and at Noon will I pray, and cry aloud, and he shall hear my voice; Psalm 55. 17. and this was Job's Practice, who sent for, and sacrificed his Sons and Daughters, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt-offerings according to the number of them all: Thus did Job continually, Job 1. 5. And this was Abraham's Practice wherever he came, to build an altar to God, Gen. 12. 17. & 13. 4. & 21. 33. where God should be worshipped jointly of him and his Family: And this was Christ's Practice for himself and his Family, Matth. 14. 19. and 26. 30. John 17. 1.

4. To instruct their Families privately in Matters of Religion, that they may not only profess, but feel the Power of Religion in their Lives and Conversations: This Duty hath these Specials belonging to it;

1. A familiar catechizing of them in the Principles of Religion: Thus were Parents commanded of old, Deut. 6. 7. Thou shalt teach these words diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up, Deut. 6. 7.

2. A daily reading of Scriptures in their Hearing, directing them to mark and to make use of them: So Timothy was trained up by his Parents, and that from his Childhood, 2 Tim. 3. 15.

3. A careful endeavouring that they may profit by the publick Ministry:

To this End, 1. They must prepare them to hear the Word, by considering God's Ordinances, Promises and their own Necessities. 2. They must remember them to look in the Word for a Christ, and for Communion with Christ. 3. They must examine them after the Ordinances, what they have learned, and what use they can make of it; thus Christ, after he had preached a Parable to his Disciples, he laid unto them, Know ye not this parable, and how then will you know all parables? Mark 4. 13. and then he expounds the Parable to them.

2. The Duties they are to require of the Family, are both carefully to frequent the publick Ministry, and diligently to be conversant in the private Worship of God, and constantly to practice all holy and Christian Duties comprised briefly in the Commandments of God; and they are to require these Things, not only by telling them, calling on them, catechizing them, admonishing them, but if they be negligent, by correcting them.

Now this Correction must be ministered in Wisdom, in Patience.

1. In Wisdom, whose Property it is to find out the right Party that committed the Fault, to consider of what Sort and Nature the Fault is, to weigh Circumstances of Age, Discretion and Occasions; and to look to the Mind of the Offender, whether Negligence or mere Simplicity brought him to it.

2. In Patience, whose Property it is to make the Fault manifest to the Offender, that his Conscience may be touched therewith; to hear what the Offender can say in his own Defence, and accordingly to allow or disallow; to avoid Bitterness, which sooner will harden the Heart, than reform the Manners of the Offender: These Rules being observed, and the Heart lifted up in Prayer to God.
God for Direction and Blessing, this Correction is necessary, as is evident in Gen. 30. 2. Prov. 23. 14. and 19. 18.

These are the Duties that Governors owe to their Families in respect of their Souls; to correct them, catechize them, admonish them, call on them, read to them, pray for them, &c. only with these Limitations.

1. That they presume not above their Calling: This was Paul's Exhortation, That no man take this honour to himself, but that he is called of God as was Aaron, Heb. 5. 4. The Honour here, is the Honour of the publick Ministry, except that; and I know not but that every Governor of a Family, who hath special Abilities, Utterance, Memory, may read Scriptures, pray, teach and instruct out of Scriptures, 1 Pet. 4. 10. Thus Jacob laid to his Houhold, Put away the strange gods that are among you, Gen. 35. 2. And without all contradiction, faith the Apostle, the less is blessed of the better, Heb. 7. 7. And if the women would learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home, 1 Cor. 14. 35.

Thus Origen (Hom. 9. in Lev.) would have the Word expounded in christian Families; and Austin faith, That which the Preacher is in the pulpit, the same is the Houholder in the House.

2. That they presume not above their Gifts. This was Paul's Exhortation to every Man, Not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think, but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of Faith, Rom. 12. 3. Yet I deny not but in some Cases they may lawfully depute or subliterate some one in the Family, whom they judge fittest unto the Service and Employment, which they themselves should ordinarily perform, as in Case of old Age and Weakness of Body; Thus Samuel being old, made his sons judges, 1 Sam. 8. 1. Or in Want of good Utterance or Expression of what is to be said; thus Aaron was Moses his Spokesman, and in stead of a Mouth, Exod. 4. 16. Or in Want of a Boldness and Audacity, arising from a Consciousness of Weakness: Thus the good Centurion sent the Elders of the Jews to Christ to intercede for him, Luke 7. 3. Or in case that a Minister of the Gospel do sojourn in one's Family, as Archippus did in Philemon his House, Phil. v. 2. Or in case of necessary Absence; thus the Apostle Paul made Timothy his Deputy to the christian Thessalonians, 1 Thess. 1. 2. Or in case the Lord hath bestowed more of his Gifts and Grace to one than another: I know not in this Case, but that we may covet earnestly the best Gifts in others, as well as in our selves, 1 Cor. 12. 31.

Sec. IV.

Of the Duties of Parents to their Children.

The Duties in particular which Governors owe to the Family, according to their Relations, are either

1. As Parents to their Children.
2. As Masters to their Servants.

The Duties of Parents to their Children, are either,

1. To their Bodies.
2. To their Souls.

1. The Duties of Parents to the Bodies of their Children, are in many particulars, but may be all comprehended under this one Head, A provident care for their temporal Good; and this extended itself to all times, as,

1. To their Infancy.
2. To their Youth.
3. To the Time of Parents Departure out of this World.

1. The first Age of a Child is his Infancy; and the first part of its Infancy, is while it remaineth in the Mother's Womb: Here the Duty lies principally upon the Mother, to have a special all care of it, that it may be safely brought forth. Why was the charge of abstaining from wine, strong drink, and unclean things, given to Manoah's Wife, but because of the child she had conceived? Judg. 13. 4.

The next Degree of a Child's Infancy, is while it is in the Swaddling-band, and remain a sucking child; in this also the care more especially lies on the Mother, whose Duty it is to take all Pains she possibly may, for the Education of her child; and especially to give her child suck, if she be able thereto: This not only Nature, but Scripture sets forth;

1. By Consequence, Gen. 49. 25.
Hos. 9. 14. 1 Tim. 5. 10.
2. By Example, Gen. 21. 7. 1 Sam. 23. Psalm 22. 9.
3. By Grant, the Word giving it as a ruled case not to be denied, Gen. 21. 7. Cant. 8. 1. Luke 11. 27.

2. The second Age of a child is its Youth, from the Time it begins to be of any Discretion, till it be fit to be placed forth: Now the Duty of Parents at this Time, is

1. To nourish.
2. To nurture their children:

Under Nourishment, are comprised Food, Apparel, Recreation, Means for Recovery of Health when they are sick; in which if Parents provide not for their children, they are worse than infidels: And under Nature, are comprised good Manners, a good Calling, frequent Admonition, Reprehension, Correction, the last Remedy, which may do good when nothing else can, Prov. 19. 18. and 25. 13. &c. and 29. 17.

3. The last Time to which Parents provident care extendeth itself, is the Time of their Departure out of the World, and then they are to set their House in order, and to leave their Estates to their children.

2. The Duty of Parents to the Souls of their children extends itself also to all times, as

1. To their Infancy.
2. To their Youth.
3. To the Time of Parents Departure out of this World.

1. The first Age of a child is his Infancy; and the first part of its Infancy, is while it remaineth in the Mother's Womb. Now the Duty of Parents at that Time are these: 1. That they pray for their children: Thus did Rebecca, while the children were quick in her Womb, Gen. 25. 22. Those Parents that neglect this Duty to their children, consider not rightly that they are conceived in sin: 2. That they make sure (so much as in them lies) that their children be born under the Promise or under the Covenant, in respect of the spiritual part of it: How? By making sure that they be under the promise or Covenant themselves: If God in Christ be their God, they may have a comfortable Hope, that God will be the God of their Seed, according to the promise, I will be thy God, and the God of thy seed, Gen. 17. 7.

The next Degree of a child's Infancy is when it is born; And the Duty of Parents then is, to give up their Children unto God, casting them into the Hands of his Providence, into the arms of his Mercy, begging for them a gracious Acceptation with God; and to tender them to the Ordinance, The Sacrament of Baptism, to get the Seal of the Covenant set upon them, to get them marked out for Salvation.

2. The second Age of a Child, is its Youth; Now the Duty of Parents to their children at this Time, is to train them up in true piety, To bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Family-Duties.

185

the Lord, Eph. 6. 4. To this End.
1. When Children begin to read, let them read the holy Scriptures; so was Timothy trained up from a child, 2 Tim. 3. 15. and thus will Children suck in Religion with Learning.

2. Let Children be catechized constantly from Day to Day; only with this caveat, that Parents deal will their children, as skilful Nurses and Mothers do in feeding their Children, i.e. not to give them too much at once: Overmuch dulls a Child's Understanding, and breeds Wearisomeness to it; it is most suitable to give them precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little, and there a little, Isa. 28. 10. Thus shall they learn with Ease and Delight, and in Time a great Measure of Knowledge will be gained thereby.

3. Let Parents declare to their children, the admirable Works that God in former Times hath done for his Church, especially such Works as he hath done in their Time: Outward Tenable Things do best work upon Children, and therefore this Direction was given under the Law, Joshua 4. 6, 21.

4. Let Parents be to their Children a good Pattern in Piety, leading them to Christ by their Examples: This will take Place with Children, more than all Precepts or paternal Instructions: But as for me (said Jofhuh, ch. 24. 15.) and my house, we will serve the Lord: He sets himself first, as a Guide to the rest.

5. Let Parents reprove and correct their Children for Sin; and that the Lord may sanctifie this Correction unto them: Consider this, O ye Parents, Do you observe such and such Sins in your Children? enter into your own Hearts, examine yourselve, whether they come not from you: Consider how justly the Hand of God may be upon you; and when you are angry with your Children, have an holy Anger with your own selves, and use this or the like Meditation with your own Souls; Lord, shall I thus punifh my own Sin in mine own Child? shall I thus persecute the Corruptions of mine own Ancestors? How then may'st thou be displeased with me for the too carnal Conception of my own Child? It may be, I then lay in some Sin, or I asked it not of thee by prayer: Be merciful to me, O Lord, and in thy good Time, hew thou pity on me, and on my Child!

6. As Children grow in Years, and in the knowledge of Christ, and of Justification by Christ, let Parents train them up in the Exercise of all Duties, as, Prayer, Meditation, Self-examination, Watchfulness, and all means publick and private: If this be done, the World to come may reap the benefit of their Education; such Children as you bring up, such Parents will they be, when you are gone, to their Children; and such Children shall they have, who are Parents in the next Generation, &c. You then are the very making, or marring of the World: but, on the contrary, if this be neglected, the rich Man shall rise up against you in the Day of Judgment and condemn you; for he being in Hell, had a Care of his Father's House, that they might be forewarned, he desired Abraham to send Lazarus to his brethren, to testify to them that they came not to that place of torment; but you will not admonish your Children, you will not teach them Moses and the Prophets; you will not shew them the Danger of God's heavy Displeasure hanging over their Heads; you will not, whilst you live, lead a good Example before them: O you may fear that your Children shall be Fires of Hell to torment you. Now the Lord open open your Eyes, to foresee, and fly these Judgments to come.

3. The last Time to which the Duty of Parents extends itself, is the Time of their Departure out of the World, and then they owe to their Children

5. Good Direction.

1. For Direction: When Parents observe their Time to draw near, it is their Duty then especially to recommend some wife and wholesome Precepts unto their Children, the better to direct them in their Christian Course; so did Isaac, and Jacob, Gen. 49. 1, &c. and David, 1 Kings 2. 2, 3. 1 Chron. 28. 9. The Words of a dying Parent are especially regarded, and make a deeper Impression.

2. For Prayer: Then is the most proper Time for Parents to pray and bless their Children. As they commend their own Souls into God's Hands, so let them commend their Children to God's Grace; God's Providence and Promises are the best Inheritance in the World; and if Parents in their Prayers leave these to their Children, they can never want any Thing that is good. O the faithful Prayers of Parents for their Children, especially when they are leaving their Children, and going to God, must needs, in, and through Christ, prevail mightily with God.

Sect. V.

Of the Duties of Masters to Servants.

The Duty of Masters to their Servants is either

7. To their Bodies.

8. To their Souls.

1. The Duty of Masters to the Bodies of their Servants consist in these

9. Of Necessity to the Being

10. Of Honesty to the Well-being of marriage; as Particulars; viz. In a due Provision of Food for them, Prov. 31. 15. and 27. 27. In a wife Care for their Clothing, Prov. 31. 21. In a well ordering of their Labour, so as they may be able to undergo it: In their Eafe, Rest, and Intermixture from Labour at reasonable Times: In paying them sufficient Wages, Deut. 24. 14. 15. In a careful preserving of their Health, and using Means for their Recovery in case of Sickness, Matth. 8. 6. and that not of the Servant's Wages, but of the Master's own Charge, otherwise they undo not the heavy burden, Isa. 58. 6. but rather lay Burden upon Burden.

2. The Duty of Masters to the Souls of their Servants, consists in these particulars; viz. In teaching them the principles of Religion, and all Duties of piety: in causing them to go to the publick Ministry of the Word and worship of God: in taking Account of their profiting by the publick and private Means of Edification: in praying for them; and as they observe any Grace wrought in them, in praising God for it, and praying for the Increase of it: Nothing so much wins a Servant's Heart, or the Affections of any gracious Heart, as the edifying of it in grace.

Sect. VI.

Of the Duties of the Husband and Wife.

The Duties which the chief Governor and his Helper owe to one another, are either

7. Common and mutual.

8. Proper and peculiar to each severally.

1. The common mutual Duties between Man and Wife, are Matrimonial Unity, Mat. 19 6 Tit. 2. 5. Matrimonial Charity, Mal. 2. 15. Loving Affection of one another. Provident Care of one for another. The Family Duties.

The former Duties presupposed: there ought to be

1. A sweet, loving and tender-hearted pouring out, of their Hearts, with much affectionate Dearness into each others Bosoms. This mutual-melting-Heartedness, being preserved fresh and fruitful, will infinitely sweeten and beautifie the Marriage-state. Now for the preservation of this Love, let them consider

1. The compassionate and melting Compellations which Christ and his Spoule exchange in the Canticles, My fair one, my love, my dove, my undefiled, my well-beloved, the chief of ten thousand: such a fervent and chafjt Love as this, all married couples should resemble and imitate.

2. The command of God to this purpose, Husbands love your wives, Eph. 5. 25. and Wives (or young women) love your husbands, Tit. 2. 4. Me-thinks this charge oft remembred, should ever beat back all Heart-rising and Bitterness, all wicked Wishes that they had never met together, that they had never seen one another's Faces: when the knot is tied, every Man should think his Wife the fittest for him, and every Wife should think her Husband the fittest for her of any other in the World.

2. A provident care of one for another; which extends to the Body: No man hateth his own flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, Eph. 5. 29. and to the good Name; Joseph was not willing to make Mary a publick example, Mat. 1. 19. and to the Goods of this World; in which if there fall out any crofs providence, they are both to join with Job's Spirit, The Lord hath given, and the Lord hath taken, &c. Job 1. 21. But especially to the Soul; in praying together, for and with one another; in taking Notice of the Beginning and least Measure of Grace, and approving the same; in conferring about such Things as concern the same, mutually proounding Questions, and giving An-twers one to another; in maintaining holy and religious Exercises in the Fa-mily, and between their own selves, in stirring up one another to hear the Word, to receive the Sacraments, and conscionably to perform all the Parts of God's publick Worship: In case the one prove unconverted, let the other wait, and pray, and expect God's good time: or in case the one be a Babe in Christ, or weak in Christianity, let the other deal fairly, lovingly, meekly, and let our Lord Jesus his Tender-heartedness in spiritual Younglings, teach us Mercy this Way, who is said to gather the lambs with his arms, and to carry them in his bosom, and gently to lead those that are weak and young, Is. 40. 11.

2. The proper and peculiar Duties to each severally, are

1. Of the Husband, whose Duty it is,

\[ \begin{align*}
1. & \text{ That he dearly love his Wife.} \\
2. & \text{ That he wisely maintain and manage his Authority over her.} \end{align*} \]

For the former, consider,

1. The Matter.

2. The Manner of his Love.

1. The Matter of it is a dear Love, a special Love, and a more special than that common mutual Love to one another: No Question the Wife is to love her Husband, and a Brother to love his Brother, and a Friend to love his Friend, but more especially, or, with a more special Love is the Husband to love his Wife. To this Purpose she is called, The Wife of his bosom, to shew that she ought to be as his Heart in his Bosom. He must love her at all Times, he must love her in all Things; Love must season and sweeten his Speech, Carriage, Actions towards her; Love must shew itself in his Commands, Reproofs, Admonitions, Instructions, Authority, Familiarity with her; the Rite of which Love must not be from her Beauty, Nobility, or because the contents and pleafeth her Husband; but especially because she is his Sister in the Profefion of Christian Religion, and an Inheriter with him of the Kingdom of Heaven; because of her Grace and Virtues, as, Modesty, Chriftity, Diligence, Patience, Temperance, Faithfulness, Secrecy, Obedience, &c. because the bears and brings him forth Children the Heirs of his Name and Subftance, and the Upholder of his Family; and because of the Union and Conjunction of Marriage. Love growing of Beauty, Riches, Luft, or any other flighth Grounds, is but a Blaze, and soon vanifheh; but if grounded on these Conferations, and especially on this Union of Marriage, it is lafting and true: The Want hereof is the Fountain of Strife, quarrelling, Debate, which converts the Paradise of Marriage into an Hell.

2. For the Manner of this Love, the Apostle gives it thus, Husbands, love your own wives, even as Christ also loved the Church, Eph. 5. 25. Now the Love of Christ to his Church, is commended to us in these particulars:

1. In the Cause of his Love, which is his Love: He sets his Love on you, because he loved you, Deut. 7. 7, 8. his Love arose wholly and solely from himself, and was every Way free: Jshould Husbands love their Wives, tho' there be nothing in Wives to move them, but merely because they are Wives.

2. In the Order of his Love: Christ began it to the Church, before the Church could love him: and as a Wall is first fmitten on by the Sun-beams, before it give a Reflection of her Heat back again: to the Church is first heated and warmed at Heart by the Sense of Christ's Love, before he love him again: We love him because he loved us first, 1 John 4. 19. Because of the faavour of his ointments, therefore do the virgins love thee, Cant. 1. 2. so should Husbands begin to love their own Wives: I know some Wives prevent their Husbands herein, and there may be Reason for it; but the greater is their Glory. This Pattern of Christ should rather stir up the Husband to go before them.

3. In the Truth of Christ's Love: This was manifefled by the Fruits thereof to his Church; He gave himself for it, that he might sanctify it, and cleanse it, and preffent it to himself a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, Eph. 5. 25, 26, 27. So must Husbands love their Wives in Truth and in Deed, by guiding them in the Way of Life, and Path that is called Holy, for this is the trueft Character of a sincere Love.

4. In the Quality of his Love: Christ's Love is an holy, pure, and chafe Love, as he himself is, to is his Love, such must be the Love of Husbands, an holy, pure and chafe Love. Away with all intemperate, exceflive, or any Ways exorbitant Pollutions of the Marriage-bed! from which, if the Fear of God, Imitation of Christ, Love of Purity, Awefulness of God's all-feeing Eye cannot draw, yet that flavish Horror, left God should punifh such a Couple with no children, or with misshapen children, or with Idiots, or with prodigious wicked children, or with some other heavy Ckos, one would think should be able to affright them.

5. In the Continuance of Christ's Love: Having loved his own, he loved them unto the end, John 13. 1. His Love is a constant Love, an everlasting Love: No Provocations or Transgrefions could ever make him forget his Love; Thou hast played the harlot with many many lovers, yet return unto me. Jer. 3.

1. Such must be the Love of Husbands, a firm Love, an inviolable Love: The ground of it must be God’s Ordinances, and the support of it must be an inviolable Resolution, that no Provocation shall ever change it, or alter it. Husbands must pass by all Infirmitie, endeavouring in Love to redress them, if possibly they can, or if not to bear with them.

2. Duty of an Husband, is, Wisely to maintain and manage his Authority: Now the managing of it consists in two things.
1. That he tenderly respect her.
2. That he carefully provide for her.

1. He must tenderly respect her, Ezek. 24. 16. as his Wife, Companion, Yoke-fellow, as his very Delight, and the Desire of his Eyes and never be bitter against her. Col. 3. 19. This bitternesses ordinarily turneth the edge of his Authority: If therefore any matter of unkindness arise (as sometimes certainly will, then must he carefully with all lenity, gentleness and patience quiet all, and never suffer himself nor his Wife to sleep in Displeasure: Let not the Sun go down upon your Wrath; Eph. 4. 26. Or if he shall have occasion to reprove her, he must keep his words until a convenient Time, and not do it in presence of others, and then utter them in the Spirit of Meekness and Love. Surely it the be not corrected by a word of Wisdom and Discretion, she will never amend by threats, or any hasty, rigorous Carriage: and if he once begin to lose her shame-facedness in the presence of her Husband, it is likely there will be often Brawlings and Quarrels betwixt them, and the House will be full of Disquietness: It is best therefore to deal wisely with her, to admonish her often, to reprehend her seldom, never to lay violent Hands on her; and if she be dutiful, to cherish her, that she may so continue; if wayward, mildly to suffer her, that she wax not worse.

2. He must carefully provide for her; To this purpose he is called her Head, and Saviour, as Christ is the Head of his Church, Eph. 5. 23. And the Saviour of the Body: The Head (you know) is the Fountain of Motion, quickening, Life, Sense, and Lightsomeness to the Body; so should the Husband be as the Well-spring of liveliness, lightsomeness, light-heartedness to his Wife: She hath forsook all for him, and therefore she should receive from him a continual Influence of cheerful walking, and comfortable enjoying of herself. And a Saviour (you know) both provides for, and protects the sedge: Christ thus saved his Church, he is every way a sufficient Saviour, able perfectly to save, even to the very uttermost; Heb. 7. 25. He saves Soul and Body, he saves from all manner of Mifery, from the wrath of God, the curse of the Law, the Vemom of all outward Crosses, the tyranny of Satan; the sting of Death, the power of the Grave, the torments of Hell, or if Sin be the greatest Evil, (as indeed it is,) he will save his people from their Sins: Mat. 1. 21. I cannot say thus of the Husband; yet an Husband carrieth a resemblance of Christ, and is after a manner a Saviour to his Wife, to protect her, and to provide for her. David compares her to a Vine, Psal. 128. 3. intimating, that as a Vine is underpropped and raised by some Tree or Frame near to which it is planted, so is the Wife raised to the height of Honour by vertue of her relation to her Husband; by his Wealth is she enriched; by his Honour is she dignified: He is under God and Christ, all in all to her. In the Family he is a King, to govern and aid her; a Priest, to pray with her, and for her; a Prophet, to teach and in-
Family-duties.

instruct her; a Saviour to provide for and protect her to his utmost, if not to the utmost, which indeed is proper and peculiar to the Lord Christ.

2. The Duties proper to the Wife are these.

1. That she be in Submission to her Husband.

2. That she be an helper to him all her Days.

1. Wives must be in subjection to their own Husbands: Sarah obeyed Abraham, and called him Lord: Gen. 3. 16. Eph. 5. 22. 2 Pet. 3. 1, 6. But here's a case of Conscience.----

1. What if her Husband be a Son of Belial, an Enemy to Christ? must she then yield Subjection?—Yes, because in his Office her Husband is as in Christ's stead: The Church is compared to a lily among thorns, Cant. 2. 2. she remains lily like; white, soft, pleasant, and amiable, though she be joined with Thorns, which are prickly and sharp: So a Wife must be meek, mild, gentle, obedient, though she be matched with a crooked, perverse, prophane and wicked Husband: She must in this case remove her eyes from the Disposition of her Husband's Person to the Condition of his place, and by vertue thereof (seeing he beareth Christ's Image) be subject unto him as unto Christ.

2. What if her Husband command things contrary to Christ? must she therein be subject?—No: Submit, &c. Eph. 5. 22. How? as unto the Lord: If she submits to things contrary to Christ, she submits not as to the Lord. Conticientious Wives must remember they have an Husband in Heaven, as well as on Earth, betwixt whom there is a greater Difference, than betwixt Heaven and Earth, and therefore in case they bid contrary things, they must prefer God before Man, Christ before all Men.

2. Wives must be helpers to their Husbands. Gen. 2. 8, 10. Now this helpfulness consists in these things.

1. That she be careful to preserve his Person, in Sickness or Health, in Adversity or Prosperity, in Youth or old Age.

A most memorable and famous Pattern for this Purpose, is recorded by * Vives: A young, tender, and beautiful Maid was match'd (as he reports) to a Man stricken in Years, whom after Marriage she found to have a very fulsome and diseased Body, full of many loathsome and contagious Diseases; Yet, notwithstanding, out of Sense and Confidence, that by God's providence she was become his Wife, she most worthily digested all with incredible patience: Friends and physicians advised her by no means to come near him, and for their parts they utterly forsook him; but she (passing by with a loving Disdain, those unkind Disquisitions) becomes to him in their stead, Friend, Physician, Nurse, Mother, Sister, Daughter, Servant, every Thing, any Thing to do him good any manner of way. At last, by extraordinary Expenditure, and excessive Charges about him, she came to some Want of some Necessaries, whereupon she sold her Ring, Chains, richest Attire, plate, and choicest Jewels: and when he was dead, and Friends came about her, rather to congratulate her happy Riddance, than to bewail her Widowhood, she not only abhorred all Speech tending that Way, but protested, if it were possible, she would willingly redeem her Husband's Life with the Lots of her five dearest Children. Whence it appears that this worthy Woman was wedded to her Husband's Soul, not to his Body, seeing no Infirmity or Deformity thereof, could cool or weaken the Fervency of her Love.

Family-Duties:

2. That she learn and labour to forecast, contrive and manage Household-affairs, and Business within Doors, as they say; for which see a right noble glorious Pattern in, Prov. 31.

3. That she help her Husband, in setting forward the rich and royal Trade of Grace, in erecting and establishing Christ's glorious Kingdom in their House, and especially in their own Hearts: This is that one necessary Thing, without which their Family is but Satan's Seminary, and a Nursery for Hell; This will marvellously sweeten all Reproaches cast upon them by envenomed Tongues: This will sweetly seal unto them their Assurance of Meeting together hereafter in Heaven. Where the Husband and Wife perform these and the like Duties, there's an happy Family, there's a College of Quietness; where these are neglected, we may term it an Hell.

Thus much of the Duties of Governors: We come now to the Governed.

Sect. VII.

Of the Duties of Children to Parents.

Duties of Children to Parents, are either

Inward, as, Love and Fear.

or, Outward, as, {Reverence. Obedience. Recompence.}

1. The inward Duties which Children owe to their Parents, are Love and Fear: Love like Sugar sweetens Fear; and Fear like Salt, seasoneth Love; there must be a Loving-Fear, and a Fearing-Love. Hence the Fear of a Child is opposed to the Fear of a Slave; for a Child's Fear, being mixed with Love, hath a Respect to the Offence which the Parent may take; but a Slave's Fear, which is ordinarily mixed with Hatred, hath Respect to nothing but the Punishment which his Master may inflict upon him. This Love-like-Fear is so proper to Children, as that the awful Respect which the Saints bear to God, is called a filial Fear: Children have received their Substance from the very Substance of their Parents, and therefore they are to perform this Duty of Love and Fear to them.

2. The outward Duties, or the Manifestation of this Love and Fear in Children, appears,

1. In their Reverence in Speech and Carriage: They must give to their Parents reverent and honourable Titles, meek and humble Speeches, Obedience, as becomes their Age and Sex; Thus Joseph and Solomon bowed, the one to his Father, the other to his Mother. Contrary hereto is mocking and despising Father and Mother; of which said Solomon, The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out: a Phraze that sets forth the End of a notorious Malefactor, that is hanged in the Air till the Ravens pick out his Eyes; Gen. 48. 12. 1 Kings 2. 19. Prov. 13. 17.

2. In their Obedience to their Commands, Instructions, Reproofs, and Corrections of their Parents, Eph. 6. 1. Prov. 1. 8. 9. the Reason is, because of God, whom the Father represents: Children must remember, that whatsoever they do to their Parents, they do it to God; when they please them, they please God; when they disobey them, they disobey God; when their Parents are justly angry with them, God is angry with them; nor can they recover God's Favour ( tho all the Saints of Heaven should interreat for them ) till they have submitted themselves.
themselves to their own Parents only with this L i m i t a t i o n , t h a t t h e y f o b m i t or obey them in the Lord, Eph. 6. 1.

3. In their Recompense: This is a Duty whereby Children endeavour, as much as in them lies, to repay what they can for the Parent's Kindness, care, and cost towards them, in Way of Thanksgiving: If any widows have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew kindness at home, and to requit their parents, 1 Tim. 5. 4. In Sickness they must visit them, in Time of Mourning they must comfort them, in Want they must provide for them; as the children of Jacob, who visited, comforted, and went to buy Food for their Father, Gen. 48. 1. and 37. 35. and 42. 3. In Time of Danger, they must endeavour their Protection, as David did, Let my father and mother ( said he to the King of Moab ) I pray thee, come forth, and be with you, till I know what God will do for me. And he brought them before the king of Moab, and they dwelt with him, all the while that David was in the hold, 1 Sam. 22. 3, 4. It God pleafe to take children out of this World before their Parents, and their Parents be fucourles, they must; as they can, provide for their Wellbeing after their Deaths: Thus Christ commended his Mother to his Disciple John, a little before he gave up the Ghost, John 19. 27. It is recorded of the Stork, That when the Dames are old, the young ones feed them; and when through Age they are ready to faint in their Flying, the young ones help them; and when they are past flying, the young ones carry them on their weak Backs. Thus Nature teacheth children their Duty, how much more should Grace?

S E C T. VIII.

Of the Duties of Servants to their Masters.

D U T I E S of Servants to their Masters, are either,

L e a w d, as, Fear.

O u t w a r d, as,

1. The inward Duty is, Fear: Servants, be subject to your Masters with all fear, and account them worthy of all honour, 1 Pet. 2. 18. 1 Tim. 6. 2. So proper is this Fear to a Servant, as where it is wanting, there is a plain Denial of his Master's place and pow- er: If I be a master, where is my fear? said God, Mal. 1. 6. Observe, I mean not an excessive, Ilayfih Fear, as when a Servant fears nothing but the revenging power of his Master; such was the Fear of that unprofitable Servant, who could say to his Master, Matth. 25. 24, 25. I knew that thou wert an hard man, and I was afraid; but I mean an awful Fear of provoking his Master's Wrath, so as it makes him cast every Way, how he may please his Master, and such a Fear draws him on cheerfully to perform his Duty.

2. Outward Duties that illude from this Fear, are, \{ Reverence.

Obedience.

1. Reverence, which is manifested in Speech and carriage. Thus Servants must give reverend Titles to their Masters, as, Father, Lord, and Master, &c. They must yield Obediance to them; as The children of the prophets, when they saw that the Spirit of Elijah refled on Elisha, they came to meet him, and bowed themselves to the ground before him, 2 Kings 2. 15.

2. Obedience, which hath respect to the Commands, Instructions, Re- proofs, and corrections of their Masters, 1 Pet. 2. 18, 19, 20. But here's a cafe or two of Conscience.

1. How far they must obey; or what is the Extent of Servants Obedience to Masters? The Apostle answers. Servants, obey in all things your masters according

according to the flesh, Col. 3. 22. It is not sufficient that Servants perform well their Duties in some Things; they must do it in all Things, yea, in Things that may be against their own Mind and Liking, if their Masters will have it so: This is clear in the Example of Joab, The King commands him to number the people; Joab declares himself, that he thinks it a very unmeet Thing, Why doth my Lord the King delight, faith he, in this thing? 2 Sam. 24. 2, &c. yet against his Judgment he yields to the King’s peremptory command, The King’s word prevailed against Joab. Look as Peter, when Christ bid him lurch out into the deep, and let down his net for a draught, he answered and said, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing; nevertheless, at thy word I will let down the net, Luke 5. 4, 5. So must Servants say, when they have a peremptory command, tho contrary to their own Judgment, this or that in all Humility, I suppose, or I propound to you, Nevertheless, at your word, I will let down the net, I will do as you please.

2. But what if God and Master should command contrary Things? In such a case the Apostle sets down an excellent Limitation in these four Phrases, 1. As unto Christ. 2. As the servants of Christ. 3. Doing the will of God. 4. As to the Lord; Eph. 6. 5, 6, 7. All these imply, That if Masters command their Servants any Thing contrary to Christ, they may not yield to it; Upon this Ground the Midwives of the Hebrew Women, would not kill the Hebrew children, They feared God, ( faith the Text, Exod. 1. 17.) and did not as the King commanded them. In this case Joseph is commended in not hearkning to his Mistress; and the Servants of Saul are commended for refusing to fly the Lord’s Priests at their Master’s command, When Masters command or forbid any Thing against God and Christ, they go therein beyond their commission, and their Authority ceaseth, to that Servants may say, We ought to obey God rather than men, Acts 5. 29.

3. Objeét. But some Anabaptists object, That all Men are alike, and that there is no such Difference as betwixt Masters and Servants, nay, it is expressly forbidden to be servants of men, 1 Cor. 7. 23.

Sol. I answer, To be a Servant, in that place, is not simply to be in subjection under another, but to be obsequious to Man, as to prefer him before God: Hence the Apostle elsewhere in the Duties of Servants, lays down this Antithesis, Not as men-pleasers, but as the servants of Christ; again, doing service as to the Lord, and not to men, Eph. 6. 6, 7. The Meaning is, That we must do Duty to a Master, not as merely to a Man, but as to one in Christ’s stead. Masters, by Virtue of their Office and place, bears the Image of Christ; Christ communicates his Authority unto them, and so in performing Duty to Masters, we perform Duty to Christ, and in denying Duty to Masters we deny Duty to Christ: Thus the Lord said to Samuel, when the People rejected his Government, They have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me, that I should not reign over them, 1 Sam. 8. 7. Consider this, all ye that are Servants, tho Masters should neither reward your good Service, nor revenge your ill Service, yet Christ will do both: This is your Prerogative that fear God above all other Servants; others may serve their Master with Fear and Trembling, in singlefamed Heart, and with good Will, but only Christians and Saints do Service as to Christ, and this makes them not content themselves with doing the Thing, but to endeavour... vour to do it after the best Manner they can, as God and Christ may accept of it.

I have now run through the Family, and informed you of the Duties both of Governors and Governed. Christians, look within you, look about you; that Man is not a good Man that is not good in all his Relations. The same God that requires us to serve him as private Persons, requires us to serve him in our Relations: And therefore though you be never so careful of your Duty in the former Respect, yet, you may go to Hell for neglecting your Duties as Masters, Servants, Husbands, Wives, Parents, or Children; nay, I'll say a little more, that tho' you should be good in one Relation, yet if you endeavour not to be good in every Relation, you shall never go to Heaven: For the same God that commands you to serve him as a Master, commands you to serve him as a Father, as an Husband, &c. And he that keeps the whole Law, and yet offends in one Point, he is guilty of all, James 2. 10.

CHAP. XI. SECT. I.

Of the Preparatives to Christian Society.

HITHERTO of secret Duties, and private Duties; so far as they concern every Man in his own Particular, and in his own Family: Now, as of many Particulars consists a Family, so of many Families may consist this Christian Society we are ready to treat of; and the rather do we fall upon it, because we hold it a Duty to keep a constant, indented, and loving correspondence with the Saints, to communicate with experimental Christians in their Experiences of Christ working and dwelling in them, To exhort one another, and so much the more, as we see the day approaching, Heb. 10. 24, 25.

Now that we may jointly and comfortably carry on this Duty, observe we
1. Our Entrance into it.
2. Our Proceedings in it.
1. For Entrance we must,
   1. Renounce all sinful and wicked Society.
   2. Entertain such Graces as will fitly prepare us for this Society.

1. We must renounce and discharge all wicked Society: 2 Cor. 6. 14, 15, 16. For what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? And what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? what agreement hath the temple of God with Idols? As melted Gold will unite it self with the Substance of Gold, but not incorporate it self with Dross; so if God by his Spirit melts the Heart, and fits it for union with Believers, then he separates it from that which is Heterogeneous and disagreeing to it: Pial. 15. 4. Lord who shall dwell in thy holy Hill? faith David; the answer is given, Pial. 15. 4. In whose eyes a vile Person is contemned, but he honoureth them that fear the Lord: Understand the Text soberly concerning Contempt of a vile Person. David would not have us to deny him courtesies and civil Behaviour: We may eat, and drink, and buy and sell, and shew Kindness, and pity him, and pray for him, and carry our selves with with all wisdom towards him, though he be without; but as for holy Communion, we must lay to him as Peter to Simon Acts 8. 21. Thou haft neither part nor fellowship in this body; or as Nehemiah to Sanballat, Tobiah and Gesham, You have no portion, nor Right, nor Memorial in Jerusalem, Neh. 2. 20.

2. We must entertain such Graces as will fitly prepare us for this Christian Society, and they are such as these:--

1. Humility, Humble Men contend not, censure not, quarrel not, disdain not: They can meet with unequal respects of Age, Sex, State and Parts; they can decern, even Women, what is to be honoured, and if there be not always so profound a Judgment, yet many times there is more holy, and more sweet Affections: They have not the Faith of Christ in respect of Persons, but can say to the poor Man (if he be of the poor whom God hath ch sen rich in Grace, and Heir of the Kingdom) Sit thou here in a good place; they can prefer Grace before Parts, and delight in the sweet scent of creeping Violets: They can make use of, and improve all other Mens Gifts, For in Honour they prefer one another, Rom. 12. 10. and so they come to be kindly affectioned one to another in brotherly Love; they canspy out Graces of all sorts, in all sorts and ranks of People: They observe the sweet Affability and Courtey of some great ones, the honest diligence and patience of some poor ones, the blushing Modesty and Humility of some solidly learned, the cheerful Activity of God's Worship of some illiterate, that love Christ in sincerity, though they cannot dispute for him: Several sorts of Men, have several Lustres; now the humble learn of all, and so receive much Benefit in communion from all: This Grace then gives him a fitness for this Society.

2. Acknowledgment, and the prizing of others Gifts: It is said of Apollos, that though he were an eloquent Man, and mighty in the Scriptures, yet he so far acknowledged and honoured the Graces of God, and the Gifts that were in Aquila, and Priscilla, Acts 18. 24. 25, 26. (a plain Couple, an handy-crafts-man and his Wife) that he was content to learn of them: O let not Brethren envy and grudge at one another, but acknowledge and prize the Gifts of others as their own Gifts.

3. Self-denial: Phil. 2. 4. Let nothing be done through Strife or vain Glory, but in lowliness of Mind, let each esteem other better than themselves: Look not every Man on his own things, but every Man also on the things of others: How goodly is it to see a Man who hath Parts, and Gifts, and Graces, to deny himself, and all for the edifying of the Body? Paul could endeavour to please all Men in all things. Not seeking his own Profit, but the Profit of many, 1 Cor. 10. 33. He hath a true publick Spirit, that prefers the Body of Christ, before his own private; that can deny himself, to that God may be glorified.

4. Love: A Grace of such Use and Influence, that without Love there can be no Christian Society; it is Love that joins Hands and Hearts: So the Soul of Jonathan was knit to the Soul of David, 1 Sam. 18. 1. For Jonathan loved him as his own Soul. Love dipteth Men to all spiritual Offices, to pray together, sing together, talk, or confer together; on the contrary, all the Gifts in the World, how excellent soever, are nothing worth without Love; Though I speak with the Tongues of Men and Angels; Though I have the Gifts of all Prophecy, and understand all Mysteries, and all Knowledge, and have not Love, I am nothing. 1 Cor. 13. 1, 2.

5. Amiablenes, Facility, or Condescension: Rugged Stones unhewn and unsquared, cannot fitly ly and join togeth... other in one Building; sower, harsh and fullen Spirits, are not fit for Society:
If there be a Nabai, who is such a Son of Belial, that no Man can speak to him, hemay not be entertained: I know there are some good Men of an harsh and raged Disposition, who make many poor Christian to startle back, though he came with a Resolution to consult and learn something of them: But there is in some others (whom I always prefer) an alluring Facility, that both call in the modest and blushing, who would otherwise step back: Now this sweet Disposition for gaining of Souls into the liking and relishing of the good Ways of God, is a commendable Grace.

6. Sobriety of Spirit, in the suspending of all Rashness of centuries, and a patient bearing with some Errors and Offences, which unavoidably will sometimes fall out: The Apostle had respect unto this, when he admonished the Colissians, chap. 3.13. to forbear one another, and to forgive one another, if any man have a quarrel against any, or a matter of complaint (as the Word sig-nifieth) even as Christ forgave you.
How quarrellous are some Men? How loud and shrill, and thunder-stormy in their complaints? on the contrary, heavenly Souls resolve to do good, and to suffer Evil; such was David’s carriage towards Shimei, when Shimei cursed him; Come out thou bloody man, thou man of Belial: David said no more, but Let him curse, because the Lord hath said unto him, Curse David, 2 Sam.
16.17.

7. Innocency, Harmlessness, or inof-fensiveness of Conversation: Nothing more destroys Christian-society, than frequent Lying, Flatteries, Whispering, Scoffs, Calumnies, and invented Slanders: Hence James calls the Tongue, An unruly evil, full of deadly poison; And if this member be not tamed, all religion is in vain, James 3.8. and 1.26. and consequently all religious Society.

8. An holy coveting of excellent Gifts:
Emulation ordinarily engenders Strife, and overthrows Christian-society; but this holy contention, this spiritual Emulation, this Zeal after more Perfection of Gifts and Graces, the Apoistle enjoineth, Covet earnestly the best gifts, 1 Cor. 12.31. q.d. affect, emulate, be zealous after a further Growth or Improvement.

9. Wisdom; both to discern where the rich Treasure lies, and to be able to draw it forth: There lies many Times a great deal of spiritual Wealth in some obscure and neglected Christians, which many supercilious and conceited Professors do pass by and neglect. One would not think what Dexterity in Scriptures, what Judgment in Controversies, what Fervency and Expres-fions in Prayer, what Acquaintance with God and his Providence, what Strength of Faith, what Patience, Meekness, Moderation, Contented-ness, Heavenly-mindedness may be now and then found out and discovered in plain People, that have plain carriage, and plain speech: Here then is the necessary Use of Wisdom, to discover those Gifts and Graces; and when we find such a Vein, to dig it, and draw it forth: Do you observe one of great Dexterity in Scriptures? propound to him some difficult Place where you were fain to make a stand. Do you observe one well studied in controversies?
 Desire him to untie a Knot, where you have been a great while looking for an End. Do you observe one acquainted with cases of Deception and foul-clouds?
learn of him what Experiments he hath collected, and which was his Way out of the Mist. Do you observe one power-powerful in Prayer? get him to commend your Suits with you unto God. All Men would be dealt with in the proper Way wherein they are versed; and wherein they excel.

S E C T. II.

Of a mutual Exchange of Gifts and Graces.

A F T E R the Preparatives, we come to the Duties themselves; which consist,
1. In a mutual Exchange and imparting of Gifts and Graces.
2. In a mutual Serviceableness to the Bodies and Souls of one another.
3. In a mutual walking together, and holding of Hands in the Ordinances of Christ.

1. There must be in Christian-society, a mutual Exchange and imparting of Gifts and Graces: God hath dispensed Variety of Gifts unto his People; as Job was exemplary for Patience and Uprightness; Moses for Faithfulness and Meekness; Josiah for Tendernefs and Activity in the cause of Reformation; Timothy for Ministerial Diligence and care of the Flock: The Gift of Christ is Grace, according to Measure; he measures to one such Gifts; to another such, to another such and such, as he pleaseth: Unto every one of us is given Grace, according to the measure of the gift of Christ, Eph. 4. 7. God gave the Spirit without Measure unto Christ, but we have it according to our scantling, and as he pleaseth to honour and entrust us: To one is given the word of knowledge, to another faith, to another prophecy, to another the discerning of spirits, to another divers kinds of tongues: Thus every Man hath his proper Gift of God, One after this manner, and another after that; 1 Cor. 12, 8. and 1 Cor. 7. 7. One hath Quickness of Parts, but not so solid a Judgment; another is solid, but not so ready and presential; one hath a good Wit, another a good Memory, a Third a good Utterance; one is zealous, but ungrounded; another well-principled, but timorous; one is wary and prudent, another open and plain-hearted; one is trembling and melting, another cheerful and full of Joy: Now thus God freely gives, and most widely disposeth, that we may be engaged to use his Bounty to each others Help: The knowing Christian is to impart to him that is weak in Gifts, and the zealous Christian that hath fewer Notions, is to impart his Warmth and Heat to his knowing Friend: The Christian that hath collected Experiences, or found out Methods for the Advancement of Holiness, must not deny such Knowledge to the Body; Christians must drive an open and free Trade, they must teach one another the Mystery of Godliness: Tell your Experiences, and tell your Conflicts, and tell your Comforts, make all that you have, the Body’s, and all that the Body hath, yours: Some say, The Art of Medicine was thus perfected, as any one met with an Herb, and discovered the Virtue of it by any Accident, he would post it up in some publick Place, and fo the Physician’s Skill was perfected, by a Collection of those Experiments and Receipts. We must one Day account how we have laid out our Knowledge, our Utterance, our Spirit of Prayer, our Ability of discerning, our Experience of God, our Taste of the Promises, our Enlargements after Prayer, our Improvements by Conference, our Comforts after private Humiliation, our Strengthening by Sacraments, or what else may be instanced in for the Use of others; how we got rid of such a Luft; how we matter’d such a Temptation, how we attained to such a Facility in this or that Duty; and there must be Qq
Christian Society.

2. To the Souls of one another, and this several Ways:

1. In watching over one another: I know we have Enemies that maliciously watch over us for our Haltings, but it is the Part of a Friend, to watch over his Companion for Good; we are apt enough to neglect our own Watch, we had need either to have prying Enemies, or faithful Friends to make us know our selues.

2. In admonishing and reproving those that fall: This is a great Duty, but much neglected. Reverend Mr. Bolton, * speaking of that grave and religious Judge Nichols (who defired him sometimes to deal plainly with him) confessed, after the Judge's Death, that he was grieved at his heart that he had done no more in that kind. O count not Admonitions an unnecessary Meddling, we may through a foolish Humour to be esteemed peaceable and quiet, suffer many to miscarry and be loft.

3. In recovering those that are fallen, through a spirit of meekness: Gal. 6. 1.

2. Brethren, if any man be overtaken with a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness, considering thyself, lest thou be also tempted. Christians should not triumph over them that are on the Ground, and thrown down by Temptation, but rather they should fit by them on the same Flat, and mourn with them, and for them, and feel some of their Weight.

4. In instructing the ignorant, dull, and less capable: To this purpose we should rather keep a slow Pace, than willingly outgo the young and tender Lambs: O despite them not here, with whom we shall have eternal Company in Heaven; it may be, they can reach no higher than the very Principles of Religion, without which they could not be safe: yet if they know and can say any thing of God in Christ Jesus, or if they would fain hear of him, be not too high for their Society; neglect not the Rear of the Christian Army, but strive with their Infirmity or Unfitness, whatsoever it be.

5. In encouraging weak beginners; bid them welcome that stand upon the Threshold, that linger in the Porch of this Society, and would be glad to sit down among the Disciples of Christ. It was prophesied of Christ, A bruised reed shall he not break, and a smoking flax shall he not quench, Isa. 42. 3. It should be thus with Christians, they should not quench, but rather encourage the smoking Flax into a Flame; Do you perceive a poor Soul to listen after Christ, and to hearken if some Word of Comfort may be let fall? open yourselves to him, and let him in to the Pleasures and Ravishments of the King's Chambers. Take heed of making any one go back, or grow out of Love with the Order and Government of Christ's Family.

6. In stirring up the Spirits and Gifts of one another: Consider one another, faith the Apostle, to provoke unto love and to good works; not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, but exhorting one another, Heb. 10. 24, 25. A mean Person by asking a Question, may lay the first Stone, whereupon a goodly Frame of excellent and rich Discourse may be reared. Christians must quicken one another in the Ways of Godliness; as the iron sharp'eth iron, as rubbing of the Hands makes both warm, and as live Coals make the rest to burn, so let the Fruit of Society be mutual, sharpening, warming and inflaming.

7. In raising, cheering, comforting the dejected and dismaid spirit. How did the Martyrs in their Prisons set one another at Liberty from the Bondage of Fears? how did holy Bradford's sweet and cheerful Company, make the very Dungeons lightome, and palace-like to his Fellow-prisoners? An Unbelieving Heart, oppressed many Times with foolish Cares and Fears, both sometimes, by a Word duly spoken, or by a Promise applied in the Seazon of it, feel the Load quite taken away.

Sect. IV.

Of a mutual walking together, and holding hands in the Ordinances of Christ.

There must be in Christian Society, A mutual walking together in the Ordinances of Christ; as,

1. In hearing the Word, by quickening one another unto it, by helping the Negligent to apply it, by taking forth the several Portions belonging to the several Conditions and Neccesities of each, by praying for one another, that it might be useful and reasonable to all.

2. In the Sacraments, joying in one another, beholding their order and steadfastness of Faith in Christ, Col. 2. 5. How should they but rejoice together in the Love of God, feeding at the fame Table as those that shall meet and sit down with Christ in his Kingdom of Glory? How should they but behold their Order and Stedfastness of Faith, now renewing their Covenant of Love among themselves, and laying down all Grudges, Rancour, Prejudice, Uncharitable, Surmises for Christ's Sake, and giving the right Hand of Fellowship, cordially & unfeignedly to one another, as those that find themselves to be all Retainers to the same Master, and provided for with the same Care, and purchased by the Price of the same Blood.

3. In Prayer for and with each other: In primitive Times, they used to transact one another's Affairs in the court of Heaven by Prayer. Pray always, said Paul.
Paul, with all prayer and supplication, for all saints, and for me, Eph. 6. 18, 19. and, Pray one for another, said James, ch. 5. 16. that ye may be healed; q. d. if the Heart rankles, or if there be any Fallings out, any Differences and Jarrings among Christians, let them meet together, and humbly acknowledge where the Fault lies, and make up the Matter before God, who is both a Witness of their mutual sincerity, and is only able to search the Bottom of the Wound, and to cure it. Sometimes Christians have known blessed Experiments of this, and can tell when a Probation first was written upon it.

5. In fasting for the afflicting, and humbling of the Soul; so Ezra and his Men, and Esther and her Maids, maintained Communion together: Such fasting Days, are soul-feeding days, and soul curing Days; some Diseases, some Luffs will go out no other Ways.

5. In mutual Bemoanings, Confessions, and opening of our Sores and Wounds; it may be, when the Apostle saith, Confess your Faults one to another, he means more than Acknowledgement of Offences, whereby a Man hath sinned against his Brother; viz. that Christians should also bewail their Failings, Infirmities, Deadness, Unfavourinets, Coldness, Narrowness, Unfruitfulness to one another, to see whether others have been in the same Case, and what course they took, and what Remedy they procured. Many Souls may perish through too much Reservedness and Modesty.

6. In holy Conference: This indeed is it that might much improve the meeting of Christians. In the Prophets Time, when proud Scorners, and profane spirited Men talked vainly, and did even what they lift, then they that feared the Lord met, and spake often one to another, Mal. 3. 16. no doubt they spake of God, and his Counsels, of his Works and Ways, of his Providence and Goodness, of the Baseness of Atheistical Thoughts concerning God; Would Christians thus meet and exchange Words and Notions, they might build up one another, they might heat and inflame one another, they might strengthen and encourage one another, as the Brethren did Paul, 1 Thess. 5. 11. And have we not an express Command for this Duty of Conference? Thus shall ye say every one to his brother, and every one to his neighbour, What hath the Lord answered? and what hath been spoken? Jer. 23. 35.

And now I am fallen on this Duty, give me leave to lay down some Experiments and Proceedings of some Christians as willingly joined themselves in a Christian Society, and by God's Blessing thereby sweetly improved themselves.

SECT. V:

Of some Orders to which some Christians subscribed before Conference.

In this Conference of Christians,
1. Some Orders were made, to which all subscribed.
2. Some Questions were propounded, to which all answered.

1. The Orders were these:
1. That every Wednesday, especially during Winter, we will meet for Conference about Soul-affairs.
2. That if any Difference in Opinion shall arise amongst us, we will fully debate, and then submit to the Judgment of the Society, as it shall be made good out of the Word.
3. If we obverse any of the Society to fall into any Sin or Scandal, he that observes it shall first warn the Party thereof; and if he offend again in the same Kind, the Observer shall then join join with himself one or two more to warn the same Party; and if he will not hear them, the Observer or any other shall then acquaint the Society at our next meeting; and if he will not hear them, that then he be excluded till he repent, and be voted for his Admission again.

4. That whatsoever is spoken amongst us (the telling whereof may tend to the Prejudice of any one of us) shall be kept secret, upon Pain of undergoing such Centures as the major part of the Company shall think fit.

5. That for Admission of any into our Society, we will not be too strict nor too large; not too strict in excluding any, in whom we have any good Hopes of Sincerity, and real Desire to increase their Knowledge, and mutual Love, tho' they may be but weak in Gifts, Rom. 14. 1. or too large in admitting such, who may be either heretical in opinion, 1 Thess. 3. 6. or inordinate in life, Tit. 3. 10. And by this Rule, those that are to be admitted shall be voted by the major Part of us.

6. That for better regulating of this Society, we will have a Moderator. And what further Orders we or any of us shall hereafter think upon, we shall propound the same to the Society at our next meeting; and the same shall be confirmed or annulled, as it shall be agreed by the major Vote of our Society.

7. That the Moderator shall propound the Question and Matter of our Discourse the Week before it be discussed; and at every Meeting begin with Prayer, and end with Thanksgiving.

23. Christ is our very Being, the Food and Soul of our Souls, John 6, 55. Acts 17, 28.
24. Christ is our All in All, Col. 3, 11.

SECRET VII.

Of some Questions or Cases of Conscience, which at the Conference were pronounced and answered.

The Questions concerning cases of conscience, were these and the like:

§ 1. Whether a Believer may profit more, or be more intent in publick, or in secret Prayer?

It was answered, That this case might better be resolved by Experience than Scripture; and accordingly some preferred publick Prayer for these Reasons:

1. Because in Publick they are stirred up by others; but in private or secret Prayer, they had none others to join with them.

2. Because in publick they that exercised had more excellent Gifts, which exceedingly tend to their Edification; but in secret they found themselves weak, and dull, and dead-hearted ordinarily.

Others answered otherwise, and preferred secret Prayer on these Grounds:

1. Because in secret they could confess more largely and feelingly their own sins, than others could do it for them in publick, to whom they were not particularly known.

2. Because in secret they had fewer Occasions of Distraction, than in publick, and consequently they kept closer to God in the Duty.

3. Because they found by Experience that in secret their hearts were more up; and when they themselves were to perform in publick, the Society whom they joined with did ordinarily more straiten them.

4. Because in secret they could take more Pain, with their Heart; as in midst of Prayer to prostrate, or by breaking off to meditate, &c. which conveniently they could not do in publick.

In Conclusion this Case was resolved, That some Believers may profit more, or be more intent in publick, others in private: And the Reason rendered was, Because the Spirit that helps us to pray, is a free Agent, and works diversly in the Hearts of his People, to shew the Diversity of his Gifts, and his diverse Manner of working.

§ 2. Whether a Christian in his own Apprehension decaying in Grace, may not yet grow in Grace? and if so, What are the Reasons of his wrong Apprehensions?

To the first Question it was answered affirmatively; as in case of Temptation, Psalm 73, 21, &c., or in a spiritual Deviation, Psalm 51, 12, and 88: 12a, 49, 14.

To the second Question these Reasons were given in:

1. The Neglect of Self-examination.

3. A too much crying of our Afflictions.
In Conclusion,

1. A Willingness to be admonished, and to have our sins discovered, Job 13. 23. Psalm 141. 5.

2. A Consideration of our sins, with Endeavours to turn to our God, Psalm 119. 59. Lam. 3. 40.

3. A feeling sin to be a Burden, Mat. 11. 28. and a Sorrow for sin, Zech. 12. 10.

4. A loathing of our sins, Ezek. 36. 31. 2 Cor. 7. 11.

5. An hatred of the Occasions of evil, Jude 23.

7. A weak Apprehension of the Promises of God concerning Forgivenss, Psalm 31. 22.

4. A too much poring upon Sin, without any Thoughts of Christ or Free grace.

5. The Want of the Light of God’s amiable Countenance.

6. The Insensibleness of Grace, which is of a spiritual Nature, and not so easily to be perceived.

7. A present Deadness or Dulness of Spirit.

8. A misapplying of some one or more places of Scripture, as Hebrews 6. 6. &c.

9. Weakness of Knowledge, or Want of Judgment in such experimental Passages, especially in the Beginning of Christianity.

10. The Distemper of the Soul, especially in Dejection, when as in the Distemper of the Body, a Man thinking or speaking idly, we say it is not he, but his sickness; so it is in this case.

In Conclusion, these Reasons were approved; but we agreed, That all the succeeding Answers or Resolutions should be proved out of God’s holy Word.

§ 4. Whether is a Christian alwaise bound to reprehend an Offender? or in what cases may he forbear?

IT is answered, That a Christian is not bound ever to reprove, but he may forbear in such cases as these;

1. When the Party offending is a Scourer, and we perceive he will but scoff at it, Proverbs 9. 8. and 23. 9. Matthew 7. 6.
2. When the Offender sins of Infirmity, Gal. 6. 12.
3. When the Offended is not able to convince the Offender that it is a sin, Job 6. 25. Titus 1. 9.
4. When there is no Hopes to prevail in respect of the evil Times. Amos 5. 13.
5. When the Offences are small, and but little, Prov. 19. 11. and 20. 3.
6. When we know not certainly whether the supposed Offence be a sin, or not, Job. 20. 16.
7. When the Reprehender is faulty in the same Thing, Matthew 7. 3. &c.
8. When the Party offending is not capable of Reproof, as in case a Man be an Idiot, or drunk, or in the height of his Passion, 1 Samuel 25. 36. &c.
9. When our Reproof may breed some Distention, or imminent and dangerous Disturbance; as in case it be amongst rude, boisterous and desperate Company, Matthew 7. 6.
10. When the Offender is obstinately and wilfully bent to go on in Sin, Mark 14. 60, 61. and 15. 4. 5.

§ 5. How may we know whether we profit by Afflictions?

WE may know by these Signs:
1. If by Affliction we come to be sensible of God's heavy Displeasure, Deut. 31. 17. Ruth 1. 13. Micah 6. 9.
2. If by Affliction we are drawn to search our Ways, 1 Kings 3. 38. Ezra 9. 14. Psalm 32. 4, &c. Lam. 1. 5. and 3, 39, &c.
3. If by Afflictions we are soundly and sincerely humbled, 2 Kings 22. 19. &c. Job 1. 20. 1 Peter 5. 6.
4. If our Afflictions work on us to make our Peace with our God, 13. 5. Hosea 5. 15.
5. If by Afflictions we be drawn to make and pay Vows of better Obedience, Psalm 66. 13, &c.
6. If in our Afflictions we rest upon God, 2 Chronicles 14. 11. and wait on God, Psalm 37. 7. 34. Micah 7. 9.
7. If in our Afflictions we mind the Promises, and roll ourselves on them, 1 Samuel 30. 6. Psalm 119. 49, 50, 92.
8. If in our Afflictions we clear God when he is judged, Psalm 119. 74.
9. If for our Afflictions we bless God and his afflicting Hand, Job 1. 21.
10. If by Afflictions our Graces are stirred up and exercised, Job 13. 15. Psalm 42. 5. Jeremiah 31. 18. Romans 5. 3. 2 Cor. 1. 10. Heb. 10. 34. James 1. 3.
11. If by our Afflictions our Prayer becomes more fervent, Nehemiah 1. 3. &c. Psalm 77. 20. and 116. 32.

§ 6. If
Christian Society:

12. If in our Afflictions we gather in some Experiences of God's Love and Help, Psalm 34. 46. and 66. 16, &c.
13. If in our Afflictions we submit willingly and cheerfully to God's good Will and Pleasure, Lev. 26. 41, 1 Sam. 3. 18.
14. If in our Afflictions we look more at the Hand of God that strikes, than at the Instrument, 1 Samuel 3. 18. and 16. 11.
15. If in Affliction we reject all worldly sinful Hopes, and unlawful Means of Deliverance, and rest only on God, 1 Corinthians 1. 8, 9. Heb. 11. 25. 26.
16. If present Afflictions we gather Assurance of Deliverance from former Experiences, 1 Samuel 17. 37. Psalm 77. 9, &c. 2 Tim. 3. 11.
17. If by Afflictions we find corruptions to weaken, and to be mortified, Isaiah 27. 9.
19. 2 Peter 2. 8.

§ 6. How should a Christian fortify himself against all the Reproach of wicked Men?

Let him consider the Command of God in this Case, Matthew 5. 44. Romans 12. 19, 1 Peter 3. 9.
2. Let him look on Reproach as the very Hand of God, 2 Samuel 16. 11.
3. Let him consider what an Honour it is to suffer Reproach for Christ, Acts 5. 41.
4. Let him eye the Blessedness of those that are reproached for Christ, Matthew 5. 11, &c. 2 Timothy 2. 12, 1 Peter 3. 14. and 4. 14.
5. Let him consider it is as the Lot of God's Servants to suffer Reproach, 2 Timothy 3. 12.
6. Let him consider that in his Reproach he suffers with and for Christ, John 15. 20.
7. Let him consider, that tho the Wicked reproach, yet God will in his Time justify and approve, Psalm 37. 33. and 147. 11.
8. Let him consider, that the Lord in due Time will both clear his Servants and punish the Reproachers, Micah 7. 8, &c.
11. Let him be sure to keep a clear Conscience within, 1 Peter 4. 15.
12. Let him refer the Influence of all unto God, 2 Samuel 3. 39.

§ 7. Whether a true Believer may not sometimes doubt? and what are the several causes of doubting?

It was answered, That without controversy, and as the following Texts will evince, a true Believer may doubt of his Salvation; and the causes are these:

1. The Prosperity of the Wicked, Psalm 38. 17. and 73. 2, &c. and 12. 13:
2. His own Want of necessary Provisions for this Life, Numbers 20. 3, &c.

5. Apprehensions of God's denying his Prayers, Psalm 22. 1, &c.
8. Revelies or Re-infarments into former sins, Psalm 51. 8, 12.
11. A Want of the true Understanding of some divine Mysteries, John 6. 60.
12. A Disputing of God's Promises upon human Reports, Numb. 13. 32, 33. and 34. 1, &c.

§ 8. What are the Cures or Remedies of Doubtings incident to Believers?

Faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, Rom. 11. 20. and 14. 23.
3. A Hope in God, Psalm 42. 11. and Waiting on God, Isaiah 8. 17.
5. A Depending on the Faithfulness of God and his Promises, Heb. 10. 23. and 11. 11.
6. A Striving to keep down the Life of fene, Matth. 6. 28, &c.
7. A Recalling to mind the Lord's Dispensations in our former Afflictions Lam. 3. 18, &c.

9. Diligence in the use of all Means, Psalm 73. 17. Cant. 3. 1, &c.
10. A Trusting in God's Name, making him our Stay and Support, Psalm 73. 26. Isaiah 50. 10.

§ 9. What are these Remora's that hinder the Growth of Christianity, or the spreading of the Kingdom of Christ?

Want of a pious and powerful Ministry, Prov. 29. 18. Rom. 10. 14, &c.
2. Negligence of the Ministry in place, Jer. 1. 21, &c. Ezekiel 34. 4, &c.
4. The Deceits and Sophistry of false Prophets, Jer. 27. 14 and 28. 15. Ez. 13. 6, &c. 2 Pet. 2. 18.

2. Pity and pious Exhortations, Romans 12. 10, 16. 1 Corinthians 1. 10. 1 Thessalonians 5. 13. 1 Peter 1. 8. and 4. 8.
4. A not Rending Evil for Evil, 1 Peter 3. 8, &c.
5. A Restoring such as are fallen with the Spirit of Meekness, Galatians 6. 1, &c.
6. A moderate Reprehension of such as are contrary minded, 2 Timothy 2. 24, &c.
7. A Slighting of slanderous Reports, Proverbs 25. 23.
9. A reasonable Visit of the Brethren, with whom we have had spiritual commerce, Acts 15. 36.
10. Meetings and conferences about Differences that have fallen out, Acts 15. 6.
11. A ready Submission to the Judgment of one another, according to the Word, Ephesians 5. 21.
12. An Endeavour to speak the same Things, and to be of one Mind, 1 Corinthians 1. 10. Philippians 2. 2.
14. A Readiness to forgive, as Christ forgave us, Matthew 18. 33. Ephesians 4. 32.
17. A loving Carriage and Deportment of the outward Man, Proverbs 15. 1. and 25. 23.
18. A cheerful Admission of the Weak into Christian Society, and bearing with their infirmities, Romans 14. 1. and 15. 1. 1 Thessalonians 5. 14.
19. An Avoiding of such as cause Divisions amongst Christians, Romans 16. 17.
20. An Avoiding of all ill Speeches one against another, 1 Peter 2. 1.
21. A not thinking too highly of ourselves, but soberly, according to the Measure of Faith God hath given us, Romans 12. 3. &c. 1 Corinthians 4. 6.

24. A solemn Entering into Covenant with God, and with one another, Jer. 50. 5.
25. A Consideration of the Command, Be of the same mind one with another, Rom. 12. 16.
26. A Consideration that we all know but in part, and therefore that we should bear with another's infirmities, 1 Cor. 13. 9.
28. A Consideration that Unity in Judgment is the Promise and Blessing of another Life, and that Unity in Affection is our present Duty, Eph. 2. 13. Phil. 3. 15, &c.

S E C T. VIII.

Of some Questions or controverted Points, which at the conference were propounded and answered.

THE Questions of controverted Points, were these and the like:

§ 1. Whether doth God see sin in Believers, so as to be offended at it? and how may it appear?

It is answered affirmatively, that God doth see sin in his Saints, as appears by these Texts, Exodus 4. 14. 1 Sam. 3. 12. &c. 2 Samuel 12. 9. &c. Psalm 135. 14. Jer. 15. 17, &c. Rev. 2. 4. 13, &c. tho not in reference to their justification, yet in reference to their conversation and sanctification, which is but in part.

2. This appeareth,

1. From the Lord's complaining against Believers for sin, Isaiah 1. 2. &c. Jer. 2. 5, &c.

2. From his Threats if they do not repent, 2 Sam. 7. 14. Psalm 89. 30, &c. Isaiah 1. 20. Revel. 2. 5, 16, and 3. 8.

4. From God's withdrawing the Comforts of his Spirit for sin, Psalm 51. 12.

5. From the Prayers of Believers to God, for the hiding of his Face from their sins, and removing of his Anger for their sins, Psalm 6. 16, and 32. 5, &c. and 51. 9.

6. From the Lord's reproving of his People for their sins, 2 Samuel 12. 7. &c. Mat. 16. 23.

§ 2. Whether are Believers to repent of their sins? and upon what Ground?

Answered, That they are to repent, as appears, Job 42. 6. Jer. 33. 19. Rev 2. 5, and 3. 3.

2. The Grounds or Reasons are these following,

1. Because God looks for Repentance from them, Zech. 6. 6.

2. Because God commands them to repent, Rev. 2. 5. 16. and 3. 3, 19.

3. Because it is God's Pleasure that we should feel the Bitterness of sin, as well as the sweet of sin, Jer. 2. 19.

4. Because Believers sin as well as others, 1 Kings 8. 46. 1 John 1. 10.

5. Because in Believers there is a Proclivity and Disposition to all sin, Psalm 51. 5. Rom. 7. 24.

8. Because Repentance is a Means, Way or Qualification.
Christian Society.

§ 4. Whether is it the Duty of Christians to observe the Lord's Day, now being the first Day of the Week, as a Christian Sabbath? and what Grounds for it?

Answered, That it is their Duty; and proved from Mark 16. 2.

2. The Grounds are these, and the like,

1. Because Christ as that Day did perfect the Work of Redemption for our eternal Rest, Matthew 28. 1, &c.

2. Because Christ did appear to his Disciples upon that Day more especially, John 20. 19, 26.

3. Because, as it is observed generally, the Holy Ghost, as that Day did fall upon the Apostles, being met together in one Place, Acts 2. 4.

4. Because on that same Day the Apostles ordinarily dispersed the Word, Sacraments, and other Ordinances, Acts 20. 7. 1 Cor. 16. 1, 2.

5. Because such Things as are named the Lord's in Scripture, are ever of the Lord's Institution; as, The Word of the Lord, 1 Timothy 6. 3. The Cup of the Lord, 1 Cor. 11. 27. The Supper of the Lord, 1 Cor. 11. 30. and so The Lord's Day, Revelations 1. 10.

6. Because God doth seem to honour the First Day of the Week above any other Day, as appears by his great Works done upon that Day; viz. In the Creation, he made that Day the first Fruits of Time; and in it he created the highest Heavens, the Place of the eternal Sabbath; and in it he brought forth the Light of the World, answerable to which is the Day of Christ's Resurrection, wherein the Sun of Righteousness, the true Light of the World rose up, and became the First-fruits of them that sleep, and by Virtue thereof will bring all his Saints into eternal Rest, Genesis 1. 1, &c. compared with Malachi 4. 2. John 1. 9. 1 Cor. 15. 20. Heb. 4. 9, &c.

1. Because Repentance is a necessary Fruit of Faith, Zechariah 12. 10. Acts 19. 18.

10. Because after Repentance we may expect Comfort, Psalm 126. 5.

6. Matt. 5. 4. 2 Cor. 7. 9, 13.

11. Because that therein we shall give God the Glory of his Justice, Psalm 51. 4. Revel. 16. 9.

§ 3. Whether are Believers to pray for Pardon of sin? and what are the Reasons?

2. The Reasons are these, and the like,

1. Because Christ taught his Disciples so to pray, Matt. 6. 12.

2. Because Believers have renewed Infirmities, Numb. 14. 11, 19.

3. Because God is ready to pardon them that pray for it, Psalm 86. 5.

5. Because whatsoever we read in Scripture of Pardon, it is alwise in reference to sins past, Isaiah 43. 25. Jer. 33. 8. Psalm 79. 8, &c.

6. Because yet the Judge hath not solemnly pronounced the Sentence of Pardon, neither will he, till at the last Day, Acts 3. 19.

§ 3. Whether are Believers to pray for Pardon of sin? and what are the Reasons?

Answered, That Believers are to pray for Pardon, as may appear from these Scriptures, Numbers 14. 9. 2 Samuel 24. 10. Daniel 9. 19. Psalm 25. 11. Mat. 6. 12.

2. The Reasons are these, and the like,

1. Because Christ taught his Disciples so to pray, Matt. 6. 12.

2. Because Believers have renewed Infirmities, Numb. 14. 11, 19.

3. Because God is ready to pardon them that pray for it, Psalm 86. 5.

5. Because whatsoever we read in Scripture of Pardon, it is alwise in reference to sins past, Isaiah 43. 25. Jer. 33. 8. Psalm 79. 8, &c.

6. Because yet the Judge hath not solemnly pronounced the Sentence of Pardon, neither will he, till at the last Day, Acts 3. 19.

§ 4. Whether is it the Duty of Christians to observe the Lord's Day, now being the first Day of the Week, as a Christian Sabbath? and what Grounds for it?

Answered, That it is their Duty; and proved from Mark 16. 2.
§ 5. Whether may not Christians lawfully sing David's, or Moles' Psalms, and how may it appear?

Answered affirmatively; Eph. 5. 19. where, under those three Heads, of Psalms, and Hymns, and spiritual Songs, David's Psalms are contained.
2. This is proved by Precepts, Patterns and Reasons.
   2. By Patterns:
      3. Of the Church, Rev. 15. 3.
   3. By Reasons, as;
      1. Because the People of God have used the very same Words of David's Psalms in singing, 2 Chronicles 15. 13. compared with Psalm 136. and Ezra 3. 11. compared with Psalm 118. and Revelation 15. 4. compared with Psalm 86. 9. and Exodus 15. 2. compared with Psalm 118. 14.
      2. Because Paul directing to sing Psalms, gives the very same Word or Title as David gives in his Psalms, James 5. 13. compared with Psalm 95. 2.
      3. Because David's Psalms were indited by the Spirit of God, as well as any others that consecratedly may be sung, 2 Sam. 23. 2.

§ 6. Whether admiring of, or joining with scandalous Persons in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and not endeavouring to keep them back, while such, be not sin in the Admitters and Joiners? and how may it appear?

Answered affirmatively, That it is sin.

1. In the Admitters, Matth. 7. 6.
2. In the Joiners, 1 Cor. 5. 11. and Thess. 3. 6.

2. This appears to be sin,

1. In the Admitters, by these Grounds,
   1. Because it is against the Command of keeping unclean Persons from such like holy Thing, Numbers 9. 6. 7.
   2. Because Christ cast out the Man that came without his Wedding-garment, Mat. 22. 11.
   3. Because this was the Practice of the Apostles, 1 Corinthians 5. 3, &c.

1 Tim. 1. 20.

2. In the Joiners, by these Grounds,
   1. Because they are forbidden expressly to join with such, 2 Thess. 3. 14.
   2. Because scandalous Persons ought to be censured, and to be esteemed of the Joiners, as Heathens and Publicans, Matth. 18. 17.

3. In both Admitters and Joiners, by these Grounds,
   1. Because God hath forbidden us to eat with such, 1 Corinthians 5. 11. 2 Thess. 3. 6.
   2. Because by this Means their sins would become ours, 1 Cor. 5. 6. 7.
   3. Because the Ordinance of the Lord's Supper is defiled thereby; which is not to be understood simply in itself, but in some sort, i.e. to them who are scandalous, and to them who join with such as they know to be scandalous: And this appears,

1. In that the Temple, which had a sacramental Signification of Christ, was polluted by the coming of prophane Persons into it, Ezekiel 23. 38, 39.
2. In that the Sacrifices of old were defiled by profane Persons, Haggai 2, 11, &c.

3. In that the Profane are as swine which trample the Pearls under their Feet, Mat. 7, 6.

See these Proofs enlarged in Gelaspi's Aaron's Rod blossoming, Book 3, chapter 15.

§ 7. In such a case, what is the Duty of Admitters and Joiners, to keep themselves blameless, and the Ordinance undefiled?

IT is the Duty of Admitters,

1. To eye and observe the Flock over which God hath given them charge, Acts 20, 17, 28.

2. If any be observed, or brought in as Offenders, it is their Duty,

1. To admonish them once or twice, Titus 3, 10. 2 Thess. 3, 15.

2. If that prevail not, to suspend them, 1 Cor. 5, 11. 2 Thesalonians 3, 6, 14, &c.

3. If that prevail not, then to excommunicate them by the lesser Excommunication, Matthew 18, 17. 1 Cor. 5, 4, 5. 2 Cor. 2, 6.

If that prevail not, then (in some cases) to excommunicate them by the greater Excommunication, 1 Cor. 16, 22. Gal. 1, 8, 9. 1 John 5, 16. This is only when a Man is visibly irrecoverable, or hath committed the sin against the Holy Ghost; the case of Julian the Apostate, whom the Church would not pray for, but prayed against.

2. It is the Duty of Joiners,

1. To eye and observe one another's conversation, so much as they may, Hebrews 10, 24. and 3, 12, &c.

2. If upon Observation they find any faulty, then,

1. The Scandal being private, it is the Joiner's Duty,

1. To admonish privately betwixt him and the Offender alone, Matt. 18, 15.

2. If that be not effectual, then to take one or two more with him, Matt. 18, 16.

3. If that be not effectual, then to tell it to the Church, Matthew 18, 17.

4. If the Church be corrupt, and neglect its Duty, he is then to mourn for it, 1 Cor. 5, 2.

2. The Scandal being publick, it is the Joiners Duty immediately to bring it to the Church, 1 Cor. 5, 1. 2 Thess. 3, 14.

IT was the Desire of some precious Men, That I should revive this Question about joining with the Wicked in the Supper of the Lord. For my own part, I am fully satisfied, that the Mind of God is clearly delivered in it; and yet left any may think that I am singular in this, I have lately consulted with those Divines, to whom high, if not highest Respect is given in the Controversies of this Nature; viz. Mr. Rutherford, and Mr. Gelaspi, to whom I may join the late Assembly of Divines convered at Westminster; and if you would know their Opinions, consult but the Authors, as I have cited them, where you may find them at large.

The Question is, Whether admitting of, or joining with scandalous Persons in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and not endeavouring to keep them back, whilst such, be sin in the Admitters and Joiners? and how may it appear?

It is answered affirmatively: 1 That it is sin:

1. In Hearing the Word.

1. In the Admitters, Matth. 7. 6. See Rutherford's Divine Right of Church Government, page 254, and see Gelaspie's Aaron's Rod blossoming, page 548, &c.

2. In the Joiners, 1 Cor. 5. 11. 2 Thess.

3. Because the Ordinance of the Lord's Supper is defiled thereby, which we understand not simply in itself, but in some sort; i. e. It is defiled to them who are scandalous, and to them who join with such whom they know to be scandalous: And this appears;

1. In that the Temple, which had a sacramental Signification of Christ, was polluted by the coming of profane Persons into it, Ezek. 23, 38, 39. Ruth. p. 452, 453. Gelaspi. p. 546, 547.

2. In that the sacrifices of old were defiled by prophane Persons, Haggai 2. 11, &c: Ruth. p. 272. Gelaspi. p. 547.

3. In that the prophane are as swine which trample the Pearls under their Feet, Matth. 7. 6. Rutherford p. 254: 255, 638. Gelaspi. 548, 549: It is confessed that the Word is a Pearl, and yet the prophane may hear the Word, and instead of defiling it, (if the Lord see good) be converted by it, Isaiah 2: 3, 4: and 11: 4, 5, 6, 6: but the Lord's Supper is such a Thing as is ordained only for those who have saving Grace, and not for Dogs.

I hope these two Witnessesses (if they be thoroughly perused) will satisfy the scrupulous: But besides those two worthy Pillars, our own Assembly of Divines affirm this Truth, who grounding the Suspension of scandalous Sinners from the Sacrament, tho' not yet cast out of the Church, they gave in these Proofs: 1. Because the Ordinance itself must not be prophan'd. 2. Because we are charg'd to withdraw from those that walk disorderly. 3. Because of the great Sin and Danger, both to him that comes unworthily, and also to the whole church. The Scriptures from which the Assembly did prove all this, were Matth. 7. 6. 2 Thess. 3. 6, 14, 15.

1 Cor. xi. 27. to the end; compared with Jude verse 23. 1 Tim: 5. 22. see Gelaspius's, Aaron's Rod blossoming, page 339. I have no more to say, but the Lord lead us into all Truth, and give us Grace to walk humbly and obediently to every Truth revealed: And as many as be perfect, let them be thus minded; and if any be otherwise minded, God shall reveal it in his due Time: Nevertheless, whereof we have already attained, let us walk by the same Rule, let us mind the same Things, Phil. 3. 15, &c.

CHAP. XII.

Of the Hearing of the Word:

SECT. I.

Of the Necessity of Preparation to the Hearing of the Word.

HITHERTO of Duties in reference to our spiritual Ethicks and Oeconomicks: Now follow our Divine Politicks; viz: such Duties as have Reference to publick or church Assemblies: and they are either,

1. Hearing the Word preached:

2. Receiving the Sacraments:

1. For our right, holy and conscionable Importance, in and about the Hearing of the Word, we must look Preparation before we hear;

Carriage in hearing.

Behaviour afterwards.

1. For Preparation, it is of such Necessity, that the Want and Neglect of it, is the cause that the Word to many becomes the Savour of death unto death; and to some Professors, even of good Hearts and Affections, but a dead Letter, without any Life or Power in it. Is it not a general complaint of the best Christians, That they are ordinarily possessed with much Deadness of Heart; and Dullness of Spirit at these holy Exercises? Alas, their Zeal and Fervency, which should be quickned and inflamed at every Sermon, is dull and benum'd with senslesness and satiety; they do not tremble at divine comminations, and Denouncements of God's Judgments against sin; they are not so refreshed with the gracious Promises of Life and Salvation as they ought to be; they do not enjoy and reap the thousandth Part of that Delight, Comfort and Benefit, as they well might, by the Ministry of the Word; they do not with that cheerfulness receive, with that Sweetness taste or relish, with that Life and Vigour digest the Food of Life; they do not so clearly see and discern the infinite Beauty of the sacred Majesty represented unto them, or that glorious Grace shining unto us in the Face of Christ Jesus; their Hand of Faith doth not with that Feeling and Fastness lay hold upon and clasp about the rich Treasures revealed in the Gospel:
Hearing the Word.

pel; and why? Because their Hearts are not purged and prepared for Hearing. This Duty then is of great Necessity, and special Use for all those which look for Benefit or Blessing by the Preaching of the Word: Take heed bow ye hear, faith Chrif, Luke 8. 18. and, Take heed to thy foot, faith the Preacher, when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, than to offer the sacrifice of fools; for they consider not that they do evil, Eccles. 5. 1.

But understand we aright: God would not have us make an Idol of Preparation, as if therefore God draws nigh to us, because we are prepared; No, no; the Preparation in ordinary course is a Means to find God, yet doth God sometimes hide himself when his People are prepared; he would have us know, that if he be found of us at all, it is of mere Mercy; he is not bound in Justice (setting aside his Promise) to reward this Preparation; 'tis but our Duty, and he can espy in it Matter enough of Displeasure, but ordinarily the Godly find God according to their Preparation; and hereto the current of the Scripture bears witness,

They that seek the Lord, shall praise him:
Open your gates, and the King of Glory shall come in. If any man open to me, I will come in to him. If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch out thy hands towards him, then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot: Psalm 22. 26. and

Sect. II.

Of the Manner of Preparation to hear the Word.

The Manner of this Preparation consists in these Particulars: 1. In Prayer. 2. In Meditation. 3. In Examination. 4. In purging or cleaning our Hearts. 5. In a right Disposition of our Hearts.

1. In Prayer: If thou crieff after knowledge, and lift up thy voice for understanding; then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and find out the knowledge of God, Prov. 2. 3, 5. Chrif bids us pray for our daily bread, and a Blessing upon it; much more should we pray for a Blessing upon our spiritual Food, for Man doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doth man live, Deut. 8. 3. Matth. 4. 4. Now the Particulars we are to pray for, are these:

1. For the Minister, that God would open unto him a door of utterance, to speak the mysteries of Chrif; and that he may make it manifest as he ought to speak: Direct him, Lord (should eversoul say) that he may speak fitly to me, somewhat for my Understanding, somewhat for my Affections, somewhat to help me against such or such a Tem-pation, Col. 4. 3, 4.

2. For the Congregation, that Chrif may ride with Triumph in the midst of them, that some may be converted, others may be confirmed and strengthened in their most holy faith.

3. For ourselves, that thro' God's Assifiance we may hear profitably, and be blessed in the hearing; that God would help us in our Preparation, Meditation, Examination, in the purging of our Hearts, and putting them into a right Disposition and Frame: Open thou mine eyes, said David, that I may see the wonderful Things contained in thy Law, Psalm 119. 18.

2. In Meditation: I thought on my ways, said David, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies, Psalm 119. 59. he first looked over his Ways, before he would set his Feet into God's Ways.
Now the Matter of our Meditation is,
1: Who we are, to hear God's word: Alas, poor handfuls of Dust and Ashes, base
and
and vile; thus Abraham and Job in their converses with God confess: and this consideration will stir up our Humility and Repentance in us. 2. Into whose presence we come: is it not into the presence of an high, and holy, and powerful God? Is it not the Lord, a person both of greatest place, and supreme authority? This consideration will further our reverence and respect of God. When Job’s Eyes did see God, he abhorred himself in dust and ashes, Job 41. 16. 3. By whose Assistance we come; we have no Strength of our own to do any good, nor is there any Thing in us, that can procure favour and acceptance with God; we must therefore by Faith depend upon Christ for assistance and acceptance: This consideration will stir up our Humility and Faith.

4. With what Affections we come; if we come to purpose, we must come with inward spiritual Affections, with willingness, cheerfulness, reverence, repentance, love, humility and Faith. 5. To what End we come; whether it be to God’s glory, and our own Souls good.

3. In Examination, let us search and try our Ways: Commune with your own hearts, Lam. 3. 40. and then offer to God the sacrifice of righteousness, Psalm 4. 4, 5. Now the Matter of Examination: 1. The general Frame and Temper of our Hearts, whether they be in a better or worse Temper than formerly. 2. The Special Occasions, for which our souls at such or such a time desire to meet God: It is the complaint of James, I am weak in Knowledge; of others, I want such and such Graces; of others, I am like to encounter such and such temptations; of all these we are to examine ourselves, that we may accordingly receive Supply. 3. Our sins, that we might have them slain by the sword of the Spirit in the Ministry of the Word. 4. Our Graces, that we may have them strengthened and nourished by the spiritual Food of our Souls. But the handling of these at large; I shall leave to the receiving of the Lord’s Supply.

4. In the purging or cleansing of our Hearts. 1. From sin; Lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the ingrafted word, which is able to save your souls, James 1. 21. with which agrees that parallel Place, Therefore putting away all malice, as new born babes desire the sincere milk of the Word, 1 Pet. 2. 1, 2. As it is with the Body, when the Stomach is full and clogged with bad Humours, we should first purge it, before we feed it, otherwise whatsoever we eat, will but nourish and increase the corrupt Humours; so when the Soul is stuffed or clogged with sin, whatsoever is heard in the Ministry of the Word, will but be abused by it, and wrenched to the Destruction of it. 2. From worldly cares and Thoughts, which may draw away the Heart: The cares of the world, faith Christ, do choke the seed of the word, Mat. 13. 22. When Abraham went up to the Mount to sacrifice, he left his Servants in the Valley; and when we go up to the Mount where God appears, we should leave all our fervile Affections, and worldly Thoughts in the Valley; or if any eater, we should do by them as Abraham did by the Birds that would have eaten up his Sacrifice, chase them away. It is said, that in the Temple, there was much flesh for Sacrifice, yet there was not one fife appeared stirring: That it might be so with us, that not one Thought might arise upon our heart, unfitting to the place or work at hand: But this is the Misery, we have not spiritual Hearts in temporal Employments, and therefore we have carnal Hearts in Spiritual Employments, the less of the Sabbath in the Week, the more of the week we find in the Sabbath.

5. In a right Disposition of our hearts: We must have Hearts seasoned,
With Softness, for if the Heart be not soft and flexible, the Power of the Word will not make any print or deep Impression upon it; all holy Admonitions, Reproofs and Instructions will be but as Arrows shot against a stone Wall. 2. With Humility, For them that be meek will be guide in judgment, and teach the humble his way, Psalm 25:9. The proud Heart is so swelled with the Wind of Vanity and Vain-glory, of Self-love and over-weening conceit, that there is left no room in it for the precious Treasures of laying Grace to enter. 3. With Honesty, For honest Hearts are the profitable and faithful bearers, Luke 8, 15. resembed by the good Ground; Hearts that have no Manner of purpose to live and continue in any one known sin; Hearts ready and resolved to serve and please God in all the Ways of his Commandments, and that sincerely and continually. 4. With Faith, for this makes the Word sink and soak into the Soul with Power and Profit: The old Jews heard the word but it profited them not, because it was not mixed with faith in them that heard it, Heb. 4:2. Faith animates and inspires the promises of the Gospel with such a sovereign Sweetness, that they are able to raise us from the depth of Fears, yea to put us into a Paradise of spiritual pleasures, and possession of Heaven, as it were already. 5. With Teachableness: Sacrifice and burnt-offerings thou wouldst not, saith David, but mine ears hath thou prepared, Psalm 40. 6. q. d. Thou hast bowed new Ears in my Heart, that I can now reverently attend unto, rightly conceive, and with an holy Greediness devour, as it were, the Mysteries of Grace.

6. With Openness or Readiness to receive every truth that God shall teach us: It is said of the Bereans, That they received the Word with all readiness of mind, Acts 17, 11. When there is such an holy Disposition in us as to receive both in Judgment and Practice whatsoever God shall reveal to us out of his holy Word, this is a precious Disposition.

Thus much of Preparation, before we hear: What follows, but that we open our Hearts and Hands? Surely the windows of Heaven will be set wide open, that all Manner of Spiritual Comforts, all the Blessings of peace and happiness, may in Abundance be showered down upon us; the rich Treasury of everlasting Glory and Immortality shall be now unlocked to us, and we may roll and tumble our souls amidst the Mountains of heavenly pearls, and golden pleasures, joys that no Heart can comprehend, but that which is consecrated from all worldly pleasures, and set apart, and sanctified for all holy Services and Blessings of Heaven.

S E C T. III.

The Duties of the Soul in hearing the Word.

O U R Duties in hearing, consists in the following particulars:

1. That we set our selves in God's Presence whiles we are hearing the Word, and that we consider it is God we have to deal withal in this Business, and not Man, and that it is God's Word, and not Man's: This was the great commendation of the Thessalonians, ch. 2. 13. That they received the word as the word of God; and it is the express saying of our Saviour Luke 10. 16. He that heareth you, heareth me: The Lord himself is present in a special Manner, where his Word is preached; Surely the Lord is in that place. as Jacob said of Bethel, Gen. 28. 16. Now this Apprehension of God's Presence in the Assemblies of his People, will preserve our Hearts from roving and wandering Thoughts: I hate vain thoughts, but...
Hearing the Word.

but thy law do I love, Psalm 119. 1, 3.
yea, it will keep us in that awful and reverent Disposition that is meet for the Majesty of Heaven.

2. That we diligently attend to what we hear; thus all the people were very or as it is in the Original, They hanged upon him to hear him; they so carried themselves, as if their Ears and Minds had been tied to his very tongue: Look as a Prifoner will hearken to the Sentence of a Prince, every word he speaks being Life or Death; or as the Servants of Benbadad, when they were in their Enemies power, oberved diligently if any Word of Comfort would come from the King of Israel, and they did hastily catch at it; so should we with all Diligence and Attention hearken to the good Word of God.

3. That we labour to understand what we hear; to this purpose, Christ called to the multitude and said, Hear and understand, Mat. 15. 10. Now the Means to understand the Word are these, 1. Come to the word with a willing Mind to learn; tho the Eunuch understood not what he read, yet because he had a mind to learn, the Lord provided for him, and we know what a comfortatle Success Philip’s Sermon had with him:
Men love to teach willing Scholars, so doth God when we come with willing and ready Minds to be taught of him; 2. Be well acquainted with the Grounds and principles of Christianity; it is the want of this that makes Men dull in Understanding; they that are not first well nour-rished with Milk, will not be fit to receive and digest stronger Meat; if the Foundation be not well laid, it is in vain to build.
3. Walk according to the Light revealed;
A good understanding have all they that do his Commandments, Psalm 111. 10.
If we employ well the little Knowledge we have, there is a promise to give us more.

4. That we hear the Word with all spiritual Subjection, as that word which hath power to command the Soul and Conscience: God to this purpose looks into a Congregation, to see what Hearts will yield to his Word;
the Spirit of God hovers over the Congregation, and here it waits and there it expects, to this Man it comes, and knocks at the Door of his Heart, to that Man and the other Man it goes, saying, Open your Hearts, you overlast-Ings Doors, that the King of Glory may come in: Surely now should we say,
These are God’s Testimonies, this is the
the word the Minister of God speaks to me in God’s stead, I must give Account of it, and therefore I will submit myself to it.

5. That we hear the Word, with Application of it to our own Hearts and Lives; Hear this, and know it for thy self, Job 5: 27. So did Christ’s Disciples when our Saviour told them, that one of them should betray him, They were exceeding sorrowful, and began e-evry one of them to say, Lord, is it I?
Mat: 26: 21, 22. As no Plaister can do the Patient any Good, unless it be applied; and as no Meat is able to do us good, unless it be eaten and digested, no more can the Word preached profit us, unless it be mixed with Faith, one principal work whereof is to apply those Things that are delivered in the Word, and this is the Meaning of the Prophet, Hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, Isaiah 55: 2:

6. That in hearing, we look to our Affections, that they be rightly exercided: Thus Isaiah his Heart is said to melt at the reading of the Law, 2 Chro-34: 27: Thus the Jews at Peter’s Sermon were pricked in their Hearts, and said,
Men and brethren what shall we do? Acts
2: 37: Thus the Hearts of the two Disciples that went to Emmaus, burned within them, when Christ opened Hearing the Word.

Answ. I answer, 1. Most of them have no Delight at all in God's Ordinances: To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot bearken; behold, the Word of the Lord is to them a reproach, they have no delight in it, Jer. 6. 10. and if this be our case, if we can hear sweet Gospel-preaching, the free Offer of Jesus Christ, with all his Glories and Excellencies, to poor Sinners, to vile, loft, undone Souls, and are no whit taken therewith; wo to our souls, can we sleep away such a Sermon? can we flight or neglect such Gospel-offers? nay, do we attend them coldly? have we not Heart-risings? no Stirrings and Workings? no Longings and Defires? and thus we pass Sermon after Sermon, and Sabbath after Sabbath? O then, we are wholly dead unto the Life of Grace, Jesus Christ as yet hath not given us his true Light, no Work of Conversion doth all appear in us: The End which Jesus Christ had in sending out Preachers, was to discover his Love to poor perishing Sinners, that so they might be affected with him, and long after him, and if we have no such Relish, our condition is sad.

2. Some unregenerate Men may have some Delight in the Word: They seek me daily (said God) and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinances of their God; they ask of me the ordinances of Justice, they take delight in approaching to God, Isaiah 58: 2: The second ground received the word with joy, Mat. 13: 20: and Herod heard John Baptist gladly, Mark 6: 20: Ungodly Men may delight in God's Word, as in these Cases; -

1: When the Ordinances are a leading Way unto some End that suits with corrupt Nature: Thus Jesus shewed Abunopened to them the Scriptures, Luke 24. 32. Now the Means to stir up these Affections, are, 1. A Belief of the Word, as that which is undoubtedly true; God cannot lie, Titus 1. 2. Nor will he change his mind, Numb. 23. 19. 2. A Love to the Word, for its Purity, Perfection, Usefulness, and wonderful Benefits to us. 3. An Appropriation of the Word unto ourselves, for that which affects us, is that which most nearly concerns us; without this Means of quickning our Hearts, they remain dead and senseless, and the Word becomes utterly unprofitable. 4. A Consideration of the Nature of the Word, which ever requires and calls for suitable Hearts and Affections; it is a pure Word, Psalm 119. 140. and therefore we must cleanse and purify our Hearts for the receiving of it; it is spiritual and heavenly, Rom. 7. 14. and therefore we must labour for spiritual and heavenly Minds to entertain it, James 3. 17. it is a Word of Power and Authority, the very Voice of Christ, and therefore our Hearts must submit and stoop to receive it with meekness and trembling of heart, James 1. 21. It is a pure word, 2 Pet. 1. 19. A faithful word, Titus 1. 9. A vision that will not lie, Isaiah 66: 2. Heb. 2. 3. and therefore we must embrace it with faithful and believing Hearts, without which the Word cannot profit us at all, Heb. 4. 2.

7. That above all other Affections, we make sure to delight in the Word: It is said of Christ's Heaters, that they heard him gladly, Mark 12. 37. and it is noted for an especial Sign of Grace, to hear the Word with Delight; I rejoiced at thy Word (said David) as one that findeth great spoils, Psalm 119. 162.

Quest. 1. But whether may not unregenerate men have a Delight in God's Ordinances?
Abundance of Zeal in destroying the the Houfe of Abab, and the Idolatry of Baal, that thereby he might establish the Kingdom to his Posterity, and get himself a great Name; Come with me, and fee my zeal for the Lord, 2 Kings 10: 16: He was fo full of Vain-glory, that he could not hold in, but was forced to burst out:

2. When the Manner of Dispensation of the Ordinances doth fuit with their disposition: An understanding judicious man may love preaching that is judicious and understanding; a Man of Meeknes may delight in a Sermon of Peace, peace; a temperate Man may like a Sermon that is tart and bitter againft Drunkenness, Uncleanness; the liberal Man may delight in severe preaching against Covetousnes; as a Man musically affected, may delight in finging of Psalm, because these Things fuit with their Dispositions: The Gifts of Minifters may have an affecting Pleasingsness; they may express their Minds in fuch fit Terms, or fo pathetically, or they may have fuch a Grace in Utterance, as may affect: Lo, thou art unto them, as a very lovely fong, of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an Instrument; for they hear thy words, but do them not, Ezek. 33.
32.

3. When there is a common Work of the Spirit of God upon them for a Time; They may taste of the heavenly gifts, and be made partakers of the holy Ghost; they may taste the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come, and yet fall away, Heb. 6. 4, 5.
But this Work is rather a Work upon them, than in them, a forced Work, not natural, rather a flash, than a Fire of Affection; the Affections are lifted up, they cannot be alter'd and changed, acted only by an outward Principle; the Experience that the Spirit hath forcibly and powerfully wrought on them, not by an outward and inward Principle also, both by the Spirit of God, and suitableness of Affection to that which is Good: it was otherwise with David,
I delight to do thy will, 0 God; sea, thy law is within my heart, Psalm 40. 8.
and otherwise with Paul, Rom. 7. 22.
I delight in the law of God after the in-er man; Till the Law of God be within us, we cannot from within taste
the Sweetness of God's Ordinances:
in true and solid Delight, there must be a suitableness betwixt the Heart and the Ordinances; therefore faith the wife
Man, It is joy to the just to do judgment, Prov. 21. 15. The Justice that is in him, is suitable to the Judgment to be done by him, and this makes the Joy.
Hence it follows, that fo much Grace, fo much Delight: Were we more holy, spiritual, heavenly, as the Ordinances are, we should be more affected therewith. Thus it is not in the wicked, they have no fuch Delight.

Queft. 2. Why is the word fo brim full of comfort to the dear Saints of God?

Anfwr. Because in the Word they have Communion with God, who is the God of all Comfort; and with the Spirit of God, who is called the Comforter: Now as a Man that walks amongst Perfumes, muft needs smell of the Perfume; fo they that converse with the God of all Joy, muft needs be filled with all Joy; and therefore David calls God his exceeding Joy, Psalm 43. 4. The Saints go to the Word, as one that goes to hear news of a Friend, they look upon the Ordinances, as that whereby they have to do with God, and therefore it is precious and sweet to them. No wonder, can a Man who is cold come to the Fire and not be warmed? Can he that is in the dark come into the open Air and not be inlightned
lightned? God is the Spring of all comfort, and therefore sure their Hearts must needs be comforted that meet with God in the Ordinances; on the contrary, if they meet not with God, if they miss of their communion with the Lord Jesus Christ, then is comfort afar off: But we must not argue against a general Truth, from a particular Temptation. The Position will stand, That God's Word is brim-full of comfort to God's People tho' every Experiment comes not up to it.

Sect. IV.

The Duties required after Hearing.

The Duties required after Hearing the Word, are these;

1. That we carefully remember, and keep that which we have heard; Prov. 4. 21. My son, let thine heart retain my words, keep them in the midst of thine heart. As a Man that hath a Jewel will be careful to lock it up in his safest chest, so should we keep the Word in our Hearts, in the Midst of our Hearts. Many hear the Word desirously, but, as we say, it goes in at one Ear, and out at the other; it stays not for any After-use, but a little present Admiration: Others hear, and the Word smites them a little on their consciences, and wounds them, and one would think some good Thing would be wrought on them, but they go away, and the Motion dies, like unto Mettals which are soft and pliable whilst they are in the Fire, but shortly after they become harder than before. Take earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip; or, let them run out as a leaking vessel, for so the Original bears it, Heb. 2. 1.

2. That we meditate and seriously think of what we have heard; Medit-of the Flowers away with us, and smell of them again and again. Repeating, con\ling, examining the Word, is, as the pounding of spiccs that will make them smell more.

4. That we put in practice whatsoever we hear; Be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own souls, James 1. 22. we must do it, we must bring it nearer to us, that it may be an ingrafted Word in our Understanding and Affections, that it may be written in our souls, and in the Tables of our Hearts, that it may be incorporated and naturalized into our inward Man, so we may speak and think, and do nothing but that which is divine; and in so doing, observe we this Frame of Spirit, to be quick and speedy about it: I made haste, and prolonged not the time, to keep thy commandments, Psalm 119. 60. This speedy, this immediate putting of the Word into Practice, is, much Advantage to the Hearer; the Affections of the Heart are then lively and quick, which, with Delays, die and decay suddenly.

5. That (when the Word is heard, and we are returned home) we pray again for a Blessing on that we have heard, and as our Memories will bear, let us turn the Word unto Prayer, especially the Heads or principal Parts of it; Prayer must be the Alpha and Omega, the Beginning and Ending of this Spiritual Duty; we must pray in Preparation, and pray in Conclusion, and pray alway. And thus much concerning our Duties before, in, and after the Hearing of the Word, Luke 21. 36.

CHAP. XIII. Sect. I.

Of the Two Sacraments of the New Testament.

The next Duty of a Christian, as it hath Reference only to the publick, or church Assemblies, is, a right receiving of the Sacraments, which are Two, Baptism and the Lord's Supper: Baptism is the Sacrament of our Incorporation into Christ, of our Initiation or investing into the glorious State of Christianity; The Lord's Supper is the Sacrament of our continuance in Christ, of our confirmation in spiritual Life, and the Power of Grace already planted within us: By Baptism we are washed, we are sanctified, we are justified in the Name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God: By the Lord's Supper we grow in spiritual Strength; we lay better hold by the Hand of Faith, upon the Merits and Mercies of Christ; we feel more soundly and sensibly the Power and Virtue of his Blood, we see more clearly, and are more fully and feelingly ascertained of the Forgivenetis of our sins; concerning the former, it is to little Purpose to give any Directions, because Infants (who only in our Days are baptized) are merely subjects receptive, not active, and to far as concern the Parents, in relation to their Infants, we have dispatched elsewhere.

Sect. II.

Of Duties in general, before we receive the Lord's Supper.

SHALL now therefore proceed to the second Sacrament, and for a right Receiving of the Lord's Supper, there are Duties of Necessity required before
The Lord's Supper

before, in, after the Sacrament.

My Meaning is not to speak of the habitual Dispositions, but of the actual Dispositions of the Heart, in reference to which—

Before Sacrament, the Duty is Self-examination, 1 Cor. 11. 28. Let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of this bread, and drink of this cup. Of this Self-examination, we have spoken before; but in reference to this Sacrament we shall handle it more fully, and so consider it,

1. In its Subject.
2. In its Object.

1. In the Subject-matter, or the Nature of this Self-examination: Self-examination is a holy Work of the Soul, whereby it casts its Eye, and reflects upon itself, and looks through itself, and takes a true Scantling and Estimate of its Spiritual Estate; for Instance, I find such and such sins forbidden in the Word, such and such Graces required in the Word, whereupon comparing my present condition with the Scriptures, I examine, Am not I guilty of these sins? do I practise these Duties? or am I possessed of these Graces? The Conscience being thus closely and sincerely examined, it will return a true Answer to every Question, whence it will be easy to give a true centre of our Spiritual Estate or Condition.

2. For the Object of our Examination, it is generally
  { Our Sins.
  { Our Graces.

Of which in Order.

S E C T. III.

Of the Manner of examining our Sins before the Lord's Supper.

For the right examining of our Sins, observe we these Rules:

1. Procure we a double Catalogue of our sins, the one before, the other since our conversion: Let us search and try our ways ( faith Jerem. ) and then turn again to the Lord, Jer. 3. 40. If we will not, we may be sure God will: Thou inquiring after mine iniquity ( faith Job, chap. 10. 6. ) and searchest after my sin.

2. Confess we our sins: Bring we them out, as they brought the vessels of the temple, by number and weight, Ezra 8. 34. Aaron, confessing for the People, he was to confess all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their transgressions in all their sins, Levit. 16. 21: As Three make All, to here's three Alls to make up a right confession; not only must be confessed All their iniquities, and all their sins, but all their transgressions in all their sins; q. d. Aaron must number, and Aaron must aggravate their sins, by laying out how many Transgressions were wrapped up in their several sins.

3. Labour we for Grief and Sorrow of Heart for sin, otherwise all is to no purpose: I will declare my iniquity ( faith David, Psalm 38. 18. ) I will be sorry for my sin: His confessions were dolorous confessions; he felt sin, and this wrought upon him, as an heavy burden, they are too heavy for me. Psalm 38. 4. there's nothing in the World can make an Heart more heavy, than when it feels the Weight and Heaviness of sin.

4. Judge we and condemn ourselves for our sin: This is that Duty instanced in by the Apostle, 1 Cor. 11. 31. If we would judge our selves we should not be judged: O Lord, I am not worthy ( could the Centurion say ) that thou shouldst come under my roof: But, O Lord, I am not worthy ( should every one of us say ) that I should come to thy Table.

5. Pray for Mercy, Pardon, and Acceptance in, for and through the Lord Jesus Christ.

Sect. IV.

Of Examination of the Wants of Graces, that should be feelingly in us.

For the right examining of our Graces, observe we this threefold Search or Scrutiny of,

1. The Wants of our Graces.
2. The Truth of our Graces.
3. The Growth of our Graces.

1. That we may rightly examine the Wants of our Graces, practise we these Particulars:

1. Procure we a Catalogue of Graces, such as that is Gal. 5. 22, 23. Love, Joy, Peace, Long-suffering, Gentleness, Goodness, Faith, Meekness, Temperance; or such as that in 2 Pet. 1. 5, 6, 7, 8. Add to your faith, virtue; and to virtue, knowledge; and to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness; and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, charity: if these things be in you, and abound, they will make you that you shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

2. This Catalogue procured, let we the same before us, and consider which of these Graces we have, and which of these Graces we want. I know it is a Question, Whether all Graces are not so connex'd and chained together, that one of them cannot be severed from another? But however we may distinguish, quantum ad habitum & actum; in respect of Habit, we grant they are always connex'd and chained together, but not in respect of Act or Exercise: Add grace to grace, that the Apostle, q. d. a Christian at first doth not exercise all Graces; but as a Man lives first the Life of a Plant, then of Sense, then of Reason, the all were radically there at first: so it is in Graces, there are many Forms that Christians go through, as Scholars at School do: The first Form is to teach them their sins and miseries, and to they go to School to the Law, and are set to study it; and then after they have learn'd that lesson thoroughly, they are led up higher, to have their Faith drawn out, and to be exercised about Free-grace, and about Christ his Person, and Union with him, and about the Art and Way of drawing Virtue from him, and doing all in him: Nay after this, tho a Believer in his Conversion hath the Substance of all these taught him, yet he goes over them again throughout his whole Life; and sometimes his thoughts dwell more about the Emptiness of his own Righteousness, sometimes about that Fulness that is in Christ, sometimes about the spiritual Straightness he ought to walk in; and this is to add grace unto grace: Nay, there may be Addition concerning one and the same Grace, as when a Man's Grace and the Fruits thereof grow bigger, and more plentiful, when there are new Degrees of the same, ex. gr. for Faith, when from a Man's casting himself upon Christ, he comes to find Sweetness in Christ, and from that grows up to an assurance of Faith: So for Prayer, when we find our Prayers to grow better; when more spiritual Corruptions are put into our Confessions, and stronger Grounds of Faith are put into our Deprecations, or Petitions for Pardon; when we have more Enlargedness to Thankfulness, more Zeal to pray for the Churches, when we go to pray with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, Eph. 6. 18. So for Obedience, when we abound more and more in the work of the Lord, as it is said of the Church of Thyatira, that their last works were more than their first, Rev. 2. 19. when as the Boughs are laden, and we are filled with the fruits of righteousness, Phil.
The Lord's Supper.

Phil. 1: 11. This is to add grace unto grace, or one degree of grace unto another. Now if in this Sense, there be an Addition of Graces, or an Addition of Degrees, examine, what is the Grace? or what is the Degree of any Grace that we want?

3. Pray we fervently for a Supply of those Wants in this Ordinance: Imagine we saw Christ compassed with all his Privileges, and Promises, and Pardons, and Mercies, and Merits; imagine we heard him say, Come hither poor Souls, you that are sensible of your wants, and of your spiritual poverty, there is in me bowels of compassion, and pardons in store; it is that am your Wisdom, Righteousness, Salvation, and Redemption; what is it you want? what is it you would have me do for you? shall not these fugred Words of your Saviour melt your Hearts, and bring you low on your Knees: O Lord (thou the Soul say) I beg of thee saving knowledge, justifying Faith, sincere Repentance, fervent Love: O Lord, I would fain have Assurance of pardon, Strength of Faith, power against some special lust, healing virtues, to lanch my bloody issues: O Lord, that thou wouldst be showed on me Meekness, or Temperance, or Patience, or Obedience, or Quicknings in thy Spirit: Lord, that a pardon might be sealed for all my sins, that I might receive the virtue of thy death, the comforts of thy Spirit, the mortifying of such and such a lust: Lord, that my unclean Heart may be sanctified, that I may be enabled with more Strength to perform such a Duty: O Lord, upon this very Errand, and for this very End do I now come to thee, for help in this or that particular do I now come to thy Ordinances: And, O Christ, I beseech thee, supply all my wants, and let me draw virtue from thee: If thus we would pray, and come to Christ, then would Christ out of his Bowels and Mercies, answer our Souls: Receive, would he say, the Grace you feel want of; receive my Spirit, receive power against lusts, receive Strength to Obedience, receive all the Graces of my Spirit, for I am all in all to you.

4. Raise and rowze we up our souls, and go we to the Ordinances, with strong Expectations to receive the Benefits and Graces we have prayed for; never any came to Christ to be healed, but they came with a strong Expectation to receive health; if a Leper came, he came with Expectation of cleansing; if a blind Man came, he came with Expectation of seeing; if a lame Man came, he came with Expectation of walking, and we never read that any coming with such Expectation, was turned empty away: The Creple asking an Alms of Peter and John, they said to him, Look on us, and then, faith the Text, he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them, Acts 3. 4. If we would come to the Sacrament, with our Eyes on Christ, to his Graces and promises, Of his fulness (for he is full of grace, a Fountain ever flowing, and overflowing) we should receive grace for grace, Joh. 1. 16. Say then, Christ hath promised to give in the Sacrament his Body and Blood, the Benefits of his Death and precious blood-shed; he hath promised to seal pardons, to manifest himself, to give power against lust, I will now therefore go to this Sacrament, with a particular Expectation of such and such a Blessing as my Soul stands in need of.

Examination of the Truth of our Graces, and first of our Conversion.

O U R Sins and Want of Graces thus examined, the Soul is in good Measure prepared, yet because the Lord
The Lord's Supper.

Lord Jesus abhors to be food to nourish, where he was not Seed to beget, it concerns all who desire to taste of the healing power of the second Sacrament, first to prove the healing power of the former Sacrament; before they come to be nourished as Saints, let them know whether they are begot and made Saints: and to that End they must examine further,

1. The Truth of their Graces.
2. The Growth of their Graces.

1. For the Truth of their Graces, it is good to begin with the Beginning; and first to examine their Conversion, and secondly, the individual companions of their conversion, as their Knowledge, and Faith, and Repentance, and Love, and Obedience, and Desires after this Ordinance.

1. For Conversion: A Man may by such Marks as these, try and consider whether he be truly and soundly converted or no.
1. If he have turned from Satan in all sins, and turned unto God in all Duties, if he have left all gross sins, as, Lying, Swearing, Usury, Drunkenness, Uncleanness, &c. (Ezek. 18. 5, &c.) in Practice and in Action, and all Frailties and Infirmities, at least in Allowance and Affection, so that with watchful Resistance, and earnest Groanings of Spirit, he strive and prays against them, and be humbled and kept in Awe by them, and that he perform Obedience to all God's Commandments, tho' not in Perfection or Height of Degree, yet in Truth and sincerity of Heart.
2. If he be willing in all his Purposes, Desires, Endeavours and Actions to set himself in the Presence of God, and in them to be wholly, unreservedly and entirely guided by his Word, Psalm 16.
8. Gal. 6. 16.
3. If he can with an holy comfort, and humble triumph, think upon death, the Law, that great judgment, Hell, and those endless Torments, 1 John 4. 17, 18.
4. If he lovingly hunger and thirst after spiritual Nourishment, the Growth in Grace by the Word, Sacraments, Christian conference, sanctifying the Sabbath, and all other Godly Exercises, both publick and private, 1 Pet. 2. 2.
5. If truly and heartily he love and long after the coming of Christ, and love such as are true Christians, and that because they make conscience of sin, and serve God with singleness and sincerity of Heart, Titus 2. 13. 1 John 3. 14.
6. If his chief Delight and best comfort be in holy Duties and heavenly Things, and that he infinitely prefer them before Gold, Honours, Pleasures, yea, the whole World, Psalm 1. 2. and 19. 10.
7. If he would not change his present Station, tho' never so base, poor, and neglected in the World (yet accompanied with the State of Grace, and Christianity) for the most rich and glorious State of the greatest Man upon Earth, where there is nothing but Prophaneness and Unregeneration; if all this whole great World about, were turned into Gold, Honour, and Pleasures, and in respect of the comfort of Grace, it were Dung, Vanity, nothing, Heb. 11. 25, 26.
8. If he would not be in the State and case he was before, tho he then thought that good enough, for any worldly Good, for ten thousand Worlds, Phil. 3. 7, 8, 9.
9. If he be truly humbled with consideration of the long Time, of his Prophaneness and Impenitency, and very sorry he began no sooner, nor made greater Haste into the royal and glorious State of Christianity, Jer. 31. 19.
10. If those sinful Pleasures and Vanities be most tedious, irksome and displeasing unto him, which formerly he pursued with Greediness and Delight, Rom. 6. 21.
11. If he mourn for the Abomination of the Times; grieve at the wicked course of others, and be very glad, and heartily joyful when Godliness and Sincerity gets the upper-hand, and when anyone is converted, Psalm 119. 136. 2 Pet. 2. 7.

12. If to the Power of his Gifts at all Occasions, he be still plotting, working and labouring the conversion of others, with zeal and sincerity, especially those that are nearest about him, any ways depend upon him, and belong to his charge, Ezek. 18. 30.

S E C T. VI.

Examination of Knowledge.

NOW for the individual Companions of sound Conversion; we must enquire within ourselves for those Graces of Knowledge, Faith, Repentance, &c.

The first of these Graces which every worthy and fit Receiver must necessarily find in himself, is Knowledge; and by such Marks as these, he may try and consider, whether his Knowledge be a saving and sanctifying Knowledge or no.

1. If it beget Humility and Lowliness of Mind; if the sight of God's Purity, Majesty, just Indignation and Vengeance against sin; if the sense of his own Blindness, Vanity, inward Filthiness, and natural corruption, make him willingly entertain Humility, and a lowly conceit of himself.

2. If it be drawn into Practice, and joined with conversion of the Heart from sin unto God, and with Reformation of Life from Evil to Good, otherwise Knowledge without Practice will increase the Guilt of Conscience, and the Damnation in Hell, Deut. 4.

3. If it be edged and energized with a longing Desire and insatiable Thirst after more of those rich and saving

Treasuries: There issue from out of the Sanctuary Waters of Life, (see their Increase) first to the Ankles, then to the Knees, then to the Loins, afterwards a River that no Man could pass:

If we have once tasted how sweet the Lord is, there will be a Desire to increase more and more, Ezek. 47. 1 Pet. 2.

4. If it be diffusive and communicative of itself, it shine round about, and work all the Good it can in all Places: The lips of the righteous feed many: The lips of the wise disperse knowledge, but the heart of the foolish doth not so, Prov. 10. 21. It is as new Wine in Vessels, desirous to vent; not to purchase a little Vain-glory, or proflane Praises, but to work spiritual Good, and for the conversion of others.

5. If it beget a Reverence of that great Majesty and Love, to that holy Truth it knows and apprehends in the Word, and an holy Estimation of it above all Possessions, Counting all things but loss, for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord, Jer. 9. 24. Psal. 119. 97. 98. Phil. 3. 8.

6. If by it the Soul knows God in Christ, and knows Christ as his own Saviour, and knows the power of his resurrestion, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death, John 14. 17. Phil. 3. 10.

7. If by it the Soul knows the things given it of God, and especially the Inhabituation of the Spirit of Christ, John 14. 17. 2 Cor. 13. 5.

8. If it extinguish or greatly dull the Savour of earthly Things, and makes the Soul heavenly minded, favouring of spiritual things, 2 Cor. 2. 14.

Examination of Faith.

A S E C O N D Grace which every worthy Receiver must find in him-himself, is Faith; and by such Marks as these, he may try whether his Faith be a true and justifying Faith.

1. If it sprang in the Heart by the publick Ministry of God's holy Word, Rom. 10. 14. if the Heart was broken, and bruised, and brought to an holy Desperation, whereby it wholly renounced, disclaimed, and disfavoured itself, Gal. 3. 24. as unworthy of Life, of Breath, or Being: if then it began to lift up its Eyes upon the precious Promises of Salvation, revealed in the Gospel, and shining gloriously in the Face of Christ: And if lastly it perceived some Glimpses of Comfort, Hopes of Pardon in the Blood of Christ, whence arose an hungering Desire, and longing Thirst after the Mercies of God, and Merits of Christ Jesus; and so it cast itself with strong Cries and Prayers into the Arms of Christ his blessed Redeemer.

2. If it grow, and daily foring up towards height of Affurance, and fulness of persuasion, Rom. 8. 38. Ordinarily Faith is weak at first, full of many Doubts and Distractions, Fears and Tremblings, but after long Experience of our own Sincerity, godly Life, and good Conscience, it grows up in time and by Leasure to be a strong faith, Rom. 4. 20, 21.

3. If it purifie the Heart, Acts 15. 9. Formalists may watch over their open outward Actions, but true Believers set themselves with special Care, and all good Conscience, to bridle and bring under all wicked Stirrings of the heart. The desire of the righteous is only good, Prov. 11. 23. i.e. the main Streams of his Desires, the Course and Current of his Heart is to Godliness and Goodness, tho sometimes his corrupt Nature and Satan's boisterous Temptations, do unawares and violently carry his thoughts another Way, for which he finds out many a Prayer for pardon and purging.

4. If it bring forth a true and through Evangelical Repentance, Zech. 12. 10. Where God's comfortable Favour shines, and is shed in to the Heart, it immediately melts and resolves into Tears of sorrow and Grief for former Rebellions, and makes unseigned and retolute Vows, for ever after, by God's Grace, to throw out of his Heart and Life, those sins which have grieved so good a God.

5. If it beget in him whom it poffeth, a Sanititution of all Parts, both in Soul and Body, tho not in perfection, 2 Cor. 1. 12. If the Understanding be enlightened with Knowledge in the great Mysteries of Godliness; if the Will be bent with the best things; if the Memory be a store-house of heavenly Treasures; if the stream of our affections be turned from the World towards God's glory and good Causes; if the heart be weaned from lufts, and fall in love with eternal Pleasures and heavenly Things; if the Conscience be watchful to discover, and sensible to feel the Approach and Prickings of the least sin, &c.

6. If it work by love, First towards God and Christ, in that all his sins are remitted, and he is eternally beloved of God in Christ. 2. Towards Christians, in that the saving graces of God's Spirit shine in them. 3. Towards himself, with Relation unto God, and Reservation of his Glory. 4. Towards Kindred, Friends, not so much because they are of the same Blood, as because of the mutual Interest they have in the Blood of Christ. 5. Towards Enemies, because of the precious Command of Christ, Gal. 5. 6. Psalm 16. 3. 1 John 3. 14. Mat. 5. 44.

7. If it cause a forsaking the World: No Man can do this if it be his sweet
The Lord's Supper. 235

fin, until his Soul have received by the Hand of Faith from the Spirit of God, an Assurance of an immortal Crown in the Heavens, sealed unto him by the Blood of Christ: But then how willingly doth he bid the World farewell? how resolutely doth he cast out of his Affections all greedy Thoughts, and exeçsive Desires of Earth and earthy Treasures? Heb. xi. 23. 1 John 5. 4, 5.

8. If it speak comfort in distress, joy in tribulation, glorying in afflictions: Faith teacheth that God caufls us in the fire, not to burn us, but to refine us, and make us more orient in his sight: This is the beaten Path to Heaven, cries Faith, which all the glorious Saints have trodden before us, Rom. 5. 1. Acts 5:41. 2 Tim. 1. 12. Rom. 8. 18. 1 Pet. 1. 7.

9. If it will maintain a Christian in some Measure of Sufficiency and Contentment in all Estates: The just shall live by Faith, Gal. 2. 20. not by Friends, Mony, earthly Hopes, or Helps, &c. If it makes a Man lay hold on God's Promises, and work an inward Trust in God's never failing Providence, so as he will leave the Succes of all his Labours to the Lord.

SECT. VIII.

Examination and Repentance.

A Third Grace which every worthy Receiver must find in himself, is Repentance; and by such Marks as these, he may try whether his Repentance be a found and sincere Repentance.

1. If it be ashamed of sin: not as a Thief is ashamed, which shame ariseth from the Effect of sin, as Punishment or Disgrace; but as a Son is ashamed (whence it is called a filial shame) out of a sight of the filth and loathsomness of sin; the impenitent glory in their shame, but the truly penitent are ashamed of such glorying, as of every sin, Jer. 31. 19. and 6. 15. and 8. 12. Ezek. 16. 61. 63. Ezra 9. 6: Zeph. 3. 5.

2. If it mourn for sin: Thus David mourned (not for the Punishment, he is willing to bear it, but) for sin, as it was sin. I deny not but sorrow may be godly, even for Judgments, and then our Trial will be if we can mourn rather for spiritual Judgments than for temporal; and especially if we can feel and bewail Hardness of Heart, mourning because we cannot mourn as we ought, Psal. 42. 3. and 51. 3. 4. 2 Sam. 24. 10. 17. Isaiah 63. 17.

3. If it cause a great mourning, at least so great as our mourning would be for outward Losses: Thus Zachary, ch. 12. 10. &c. Incanteth, the Spirit of God should cause them to mourn, as in the Family one would mourn for the loss of their only Son, or as in the Commonwealth the Subjects would mourn for the loss of a most worthy Prince.

4. If it rest not without cleanness: True Repentance is not Water, but washing, nor every washing, but such as maketh clean; could a Man weep his Eyes out, yet if he weep not his sins out, what is he better? Sorrowing after a godly sort, what carefulness, what clearing hath it wrought? If I have done iniquity, I will do it no more, Isaiah 1. 16. Job 34. 32. 2 Cor. 7. 11.

5. If it bring forth fruits meet for repentance, Mat. 3. 8. This was the sum, as of John's, to of Paul's preaching, that few and Gentiles should repent, and turn to God, and do works worthy amendment of life, Acts 26. 20. Nay it is the very sum of the Gospel, to mourn, to be comforted, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified, Isaiah 61. 3.

X x 6. If
The Lord's Supper.

6. If it be stirred up by the sense of God's Goodness: So that nothing more fires a Man to abase himself in the lence of his own vileness, than to feel and find the gracious Goodness and readiness of God in Christ, to shew him mercy; He saith, the Lord and his goodness, Hosea 3. 5.

7. If the same spiritual means assuage it, that first raised it in the Heart: Repentance that can be healed by sports, merry company, &c. was never found; It is the Voice of the Church, Come and let us return unto the Lord, for he is bountiful, and he will heal us, be bath smitten, and he will bind us up, Hosea 6.

8. If it be joined with a secret trust in the Acceptation of God in Christ: If no Miserly can beat thy soul from inward Alliance, or Hope of Mercy; if in the very quietness of the heart, the Desire of the Soul be to the Lord; if he be never so much cast down, yet he waits upon God for the help of his countenance, Psalm 38. 9. and 42. 5, 11. and in some measure condemn the Unbelief of his own Heart, and supports himself with the Hope of the never-failing Compassions of God in Christ, wherein it differs from the Repentance of Cain and Judas.

Sect. IX.

Examination of Love to the Brethren.

A Fourth Grace which every worthy Receiver must find in himself, is Love to the Brethren: and by such Marks as these, he may try whether his Love be a true Love.

1. If it be to the Saints as Saints; not because they are rich, learned, wise, but merely because they have God's Image upon them: Love one another with a pure heart, 1 Pet. 1. 22. Love must be pure, not mixt, and then it is pure, when it springs from other Fountain but Grace and Holiness, and Love of God in Christ.

2. If it be to the Saints above others: Others may have Love and Honour according to their Relations, Qualities, Worths; but true Love beffows its Benjamin's Portion (the specialty and choice of its Affections) upon the Saints, 1 Pet. 2. 17. Rom. 12. 10.

3. If it be to all the Saints, Philem. 5. if it love grace in rags, as well as in robes; if it love the absent, as well as present; if it love for the Truth's sake those he never say, yet this binder not the Difference of degrees of Love, which by the special Providence of God some Christians may have to others, in some special Eminency of Respects.

4. If it extends as to all Saints, so to all Times, as well in Adversity, Dishace, Temptation, Sickness, &c. as in Prosperity, Health, good Estimation, &c.

5. If it delight in the fellowship of Saints: Such as find no need of, nor delight in the society of Saints, may doubt their Condition, and be humbled for it, Psalm 16. 3. and 119. 63.

6. If it cause Forbearance of one another, Forgiveness of one another, Gal. 3. 13, 14. It in Case the Person injuring desires no Reconciliation, yet the Person injured is willing to let fall all Wrath, Malice, or Desire of Revenge, Gal. 3. 13, 14.

7. If it make a soul to honour them that fear the Lord, Psalm 15: 4: This Honour hath in it,

1. An Estimation of them, as the only excellent People in the Word, Psalm 16. 3.

2. A free Acknowledgment of their just Praises in all places for their Grace, 3 John 6.

3. A willing proposing of them as Examples to imitate, 1 Thess. 1. 7, 8.

4. An holy Endeavour to cover their Infirm-Infirmities, taking things in the best Part and sense, 1 Peter 4. 8.
5. An Apology for them, against the Reproaches and Scorns of the World.

Sect. X.
Examination of Obedience.

A Fifth Grace which every worthy Receiver must find in himself, is Obedience: and by such Marks as these he may try whether his Obedience be true.

1. If it arise out of Love to God in Christ Jesus; if it be voluntary and not constrained; if the Heart be inflamed with the Sense of God's Love in Christ; and if it be humbled when it hath doth its best, that it can bring no more Glory to God, John 14. 15. Jn 22. 5.

2. If it be in all things, with all respect to all God's Commandments; if as Noah, we walk with God, i. e. if in a settled even course of Obedience, we keep close to him all the Days of our Life, Psalm 119. John 15. 14. Gen. 6. 9.

4. If it obey the commandments of faith, as well as life, submitting to the Lord by believing, as by doing, yielding to the Gospel as to the Law, Romans 16. 26. and 10. 16.

Sect. XI.
Examination of our Desires after this Ordinance.

A Sixth Grace which every worthy Receiver must find in himself, is holy Desires after this holy Ordinance; and by such Marks as these he may try whether his Desires be holy.

1. If they carry the Soul after Christ, Fellowship with Christ, Communion with Christ, a Fruition of Christ and his Benefits, Psalm 42. 1, 2. John 7. 37, 38.

2. If they spring from any sense of the Want of Christ, or from sense of former sweetness or Goodness in Christ, found in the Use of the Ordinances.

3. If there accompany them an holy kind of Impatience in the Want of the Ordinance: What shall I come and appear before God? Psalm 42. 2.

4. If nothing but Christ will content the soul; If Christ be desired for himself, and not for any base Ends; If the soul be content with Christ, though he be cast into Prison and Banishment.

5. If there follow a great and sweet contentment in the Use of the Ordinances; if (as it was with Samson drinking of the Water that God sent him out of the Hollow of the Jaw) our Spirits come again and revive upon it; so that sometimes the Heart is filled with strange Exaltations, with Excess of Spiritual Pleasures, with an heavenly kind of Satisfaction, contentation and Delight, Judges 5. 19. Psalm 62. 5. Jeremiah 31. 25.

6. If there follow after the Ordinance holy Vows and Wishes of infinite and eternal thankfulness; as also a growth and bringing up as among the grass, or as willows by the water-courses, Psalm 63. 4, 5. Isaiah 44. 3. 1 Peter 2. 2.

Sect. XII.
Examination of the Growth of Graces:

The Truth of Graces thus found out; In the last Place, examine we the Growth of Graces: True grace is ever growing grace, Mark 4. 27. and if a Man grow, it will appear by these signs:

\[ X \times X \] 1. By Christ's Sorrows and Sufferings for Sin: There are many Things in the Ordinance, which if but looked upon with the Eye of Faith, will open all the Springs of true spiritual sorrow, or Repentance in the Soul; but we name only these two Particulars:

1. Here is a Discovery of the Love and Sweetness of God in giving his Son to die for us: So God loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, John 3. 16. enough to cause us to mourn that ever we offended: O that God should be more tender to us, than to his Son, not sparing his Son that he might spare us; give him to die, that we might live: pour out the curse upon him, that the Blessing might be poured upon us: who can think on this, and withhold from Tears!

2. Here is presented to us the Sufferings and Breakings of Christ, enough to break our hardest Hearts: Consider them,

1. In themselves: What Breakings, Woundings, Scourges, Crownings, Piercings did he endure in his Body? what Conflicts, Struggles with the Wrath of God, Terrors of Hell? what Weight, Burden, Wrath did he undergo, when his Soul was heavy unto Death, when he drank that bitter Cup, that Cup mingled with Curles, which if Man or Angel had but sipt of, it would have sunk them into Hell? nay, it made him who was God as well as Man, sanctified with the Spirit, supported with the Diety, comforted by Angels, sweat such a Sweat, as never Man swet, Drops, very Clods of Blood.

2. In the meriting Cause of all our Good, the Procurers of all our Peace, Salvation, He was wounded, that we might be healed; scourged, that we might be solaced; He was slain, but not for himself: He was wounded for our transgressions, broken for our iniquities, the

Of the Duties in Sacrament, of the Exercise of Repentance.

Thus far of the Duties before Sacrament: Now follow the Duties in the Time of the Sacrament; viz. The Exercise of our Graces, I mean such Graces as are suitable to the Quality and Nature of the Sacrament, as, Repentance, and Faith, and Thanksgiving, and Love, and Charity.

The first of these Graces, which must be stirred up or exercised, is, Repentance: And this will be actuated, if we consider God's Love in Christ, and
The Lord's Supper: 239

Chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed, Dan. 9. 16. Isai. 53. 5, 8.

3. As the Effects of our fin, as those Things our fins brought upon him, and needs must this melt and thaw our icy ftony Hearts: It was I (should the Soul say) who was the Traitor, Murderer, Judas, Herod, Pilate; they were my fins which were the bloody Instruments, to slay the Lord of Glory: Lord, I have sinned, and thou suffered, 'twas I that ate the sour Grapes, and thy teeth were set on edge: This consideration must needs fill the Heart with torrow: They shall look upon him whom they have pierced; And how then? They shall mourn, and be in bitterness of soul, as one in bitterness for their first-born, Zech. 12. 10. O how should we look upon Christ, as wounded, scourged, pierced for us, and not be affected with, afflicted for our fins, the cause of it? If thou wilt be conformable to Christ (faith Bernard) as thou beholdest here a broken bleeding Christ, so labour to behold him with a broken bleeding Heart: O who can with the Eye of Faith look upon a broken Christ, but with a broken Heart? a wounded Christ, but with a wounded Spirit? a bleeding Christ, but with a bleeding Soul? God hath made in Nature the fame Organ for seeing and weeping; and in Grace he who sees clearly, weeps throughly; The eye will affect the heart, Lam. 3. 5. O Christ, that my eye should affect my heart; that whiles I behold Christ shedding his blood for my sins, my heart would melt out at my eyes, and shed tears for those sins for which I see Christ shed his blood: That I could turn the Sacrament of the Supper into a baptism of tears, that I could wash and baptize myself with tears of Repentance.

Sec. XIV.

Of the Exercise of Faith.

The second Grace, which in time of Sacrament must be actuated and exercised, is Faith; then should a Communicant speak to his Faith, as Deborah to her Soul, Awake, awake, Deborah, awake, awake, utter a song: Judg. 5. 12. So awake, awake, O my Faith, bestir, and rouze up thy self, to receive Christ in this Sacrament.

But how, or in what Manner is Faith to be actuated, and set on work in the Use of the Sacrament?

In the Sacrament we must consider three things: 1. Sacramental Representation. 2. Sacramental Offers. 3. Sacramental Promises; all which are in the Words of Institution: In the night that he was betrayed, he took bread and brake it: He took the cup, and gave it, saying, Take, eat, this is my Body which is given for you: And drink ye all of this, for this is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for you, and for many, for the remission of sins, Mat. 26. 28. Mark 14: 22. Luke 22. 19. 1 Cor. 11. 23, 24. He took the bread, and brake it, and cup, and gave it. There is the Representation: 2. He bad, Take, and eat, drink of this, there is the Offer. 3. He said, This is my body, which is given for you: This is my blood, which is shed for many for the remission of sins; there is the Promise: Now upon every of these must our Faith be bufhed and set on work: as thus in Order;

For sacramental Representations:

1. In the breaking of Bread, and pouring out of the Wine, there is a representation of Christ's Death and Passion, both of his Body broken and wounded, and his Blood poured and shed.

1. Of his Body broken and wounded: He was wounded for our transgressions, and with his stripes we are healed, Isaiiah 53. 5, 6. What sweet Comfort may Faith fetch hence? Look now upon the Wounds of Christ, as healing Wounds, as a City of Refuge, whither thy pursued soul by the Avenger of Blood, may fly for safety and sanctuary: Indeed I am a grievous master, I have wounded my conscience with my transgressions, but behold my Saviour here wounded for my transgressions: I may well have a troubled conscience for the wounds my transgressions have made therein; yet my conscience needs not sink in a dependency of spirit, while I look at the wounds of Christ: Here are Wounds for Wounds, healing Wounds for stabbing Wounds, curing Wounds for killing Wounds: O what Comfort is here for Faith in the Wounds of Christ crucified, the Nails, the Spear, the Wounds, all preach unto Faith a reconciling God, that God is in Christ reconciling the world to himself: The Lord's Bowels are laid open by these Wounds, so as thro' them we may see the tender Bowels of his Mercy, and so as thro' them, Mercy flows from those Bowels unto us: O my Dove, that art in the clefts or holes of the rock, Cant. 2. 14. Some of the Ancients understood by these clefts of the rock, the Wounds of Christ, in which the Dove, the Church, lies and shelters her self: This is one Work of Faith in the Sacrament; when it sees these clefts of the rock opened, like a dove to betake herself thereunto for shelter, security against all Fears that Wrath and Guilt may put their Confidence to: Do any Fears of Wrath trouble thee? doth any Guilt of Conscience disquiet thee? why now for thy Comfort, behold the holes in the rock, where thou mayst shelter: Dwell now in the rock, and be like the dove that makes her nest in the sides of the holes mouth, Jer. 48. 28. See, and fully believe thy Peace to be with God thro' Christ, and look upon him broken and wounded for thy Transgressions: Faith thus actuated, cannot but send the soul from the Sacrament with much Comfort.

2. Of the Blood poured and shed: and what is to be done now when I see this Blood in the Sacrament, but to actuate my Faith, and apply this Blood to myself? Christ's blood is a reconciling Blood, Rom. 3. 25. A justifying blood, Rom. 5. 9. A pacifying blood, Col. 1. 20. A pardoning blood, Eph. 1. 7. A sanctifying blood, Heb. 13. 12. A purging blood from dead works, Heb. 9. 14. A cleansing blood, 1 John 1. 7. A mortifying, crucifying blood, Gal. 6. 14. A blood that sets prisoners free, Zech. 9. 11. A blood that makes men kings and priests, Rev. 1. 5. 6. A softening, mollifying blood, that makes the heart tender, a foolish heart, Zech. 12. 10. Goats Blood, some say, breaks the Adamant, which neither Iron nor Fire can do; but surely the Blood of this Lamb breaks the Adamant Heart of a Man, which nothing else can break: It is a quickening Blood, that brings Life and Strength with it; it is Life-blood, Blood full of spirit, that fills the soul with excellent Vigor to holy Performances, Heb. 13. 20, 21: Now what a deal of Comfort may Faith draw from all this? True, my Person is unrighteous, but O Christ, thy blood is justifying Blood; my Heart is unclean, but thy blood is a sanctifying blood; my Lufts are many and mighty, but thy blood is mortifying blood; my Heart is wondrous hard, but thy blood is softening blood; my Heart is exceeding dead, but thy blood is quickening blood; In this blood of thine I believe, this blood of thine I thirstily drink down; this blood of thine I heartily apply, with a comfortable Expectation of all these blessed Benefits: Be of good cheer, O my Soul, here is pardoning blood against thy Guilt, sanctifying blood against the pollutions of thy nature, crucifying
The Lord's Supper.

Flying blood against thy lust, softening blood against thy hardness, quickening blood to help thee against thy deadness.

2. For sacramental Offers, in the Words, Take, eat, drink,] Christ himself is offered with all his Benefits: Here then must Faith assuage itself, and let itself on Work, striving with all its Might to take Christ, to eat and drink Christ offered: When Christ is offered to us, the Act of Faith then is that of the Psalmist, Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors; and why must these Gates and Doors be lift up? that the King of glory may come in, Psalm 24:7. Christ makes Offer to come into our Hearts, and therefore we must open the Gates, we must lift them up, even from off the Hooks, that fair and foul Way be made for ready Entrance. If a great Man, especially a King, comes to a Man's House, he will not only open the small Wicket, his little Door, but he lets open his great Gates, he throws them wide open, to make spacious Way for his Entrance; lo it thus it be, that Christ in the Sacrament offers himself to come to us, let our Faith busily besit himself in widening the Passage, and opening our Hearts to make Christ way, let us strive with might and main, to stretch open our hearts to such a breadth and largeness, as a fit way may be made for the King of glory to come in, let us hasten, open, claspe, embrace, welcome and receive Christ offered to us.

3. For sacramental Promises: This is my body which is given for you; this is my blood which is shed for you: for remission of sins: Here's a precious promise of Christ's body and blood, which may abundantly set Faith on work: For understanding whereof, I shall propound some Questions; As Quest. 1. What is meant by Body and Blood?

By the Body of Christ, and by the Blood of Christ, we mean whole Christ, God and Man, as he is Mediator, Christ himself crucified, with all the Benefits and Graces flowing from him: In all which observe these four Things;

1. The Person of Christ, God and Man; in which Person are two Natures,

1. The Godhead, which makes his Manhood meritorious.

2. The Manhood assumed into the Godhead, and hypostatically united thereto.

2. His Merit, which is Lutren, the Price, and Worthiness, and Excellency of his Person and sufferings: Christ's Death was it that merited Man's Salvation, that there might be an infinite Satisfaction for an infinite Debt.

3. His Virtue, which is the power and efficacy of his Godhead, by which he freed both himself and all Believers from Death and Imputations of sin.

4. His Benefits both of Grace and Glory.

All these are included in the Body of Christ, and in the Blood of Christ; viz. The whole Person of Christ, God and Man, with his Merits, and Virtue, and Benefits, into which we are incorporated, and made Comforts, and Joint-fellows with him in his Divine Nature, 2 Peter 1. 4. yet mention is made, especially of the Manhood and Body of Christ.

1. Because we could not be Partakers of his Divine Nature, but by Means of his Manhood; for the Flesh of Christ is the Conduit that conveys the Graces of the Godhead, and the Graces of the Spirit of Christ into our Souls; they are given by the Spirit to Christ's Manhood, without Measure, that so they might be derived to us in Measure by the same Spirit, which otherwise than by this Body we could not receive.
2. Because Christ performed those Parts of the Work of Man's Redemption in his Body, or human Nature, which were not compatible to the Divinity, or Divine Nature; and therefore mention is made more especially of Christ's Body, which is symbolically in the Sacrament, and really the Soul.

2. And this begets another Question: How should the Body or Blood of Christ, thus understood, be in the Soul of a Man?

We answer, In the Soul there is a double Nature: 1. An human Nature, as it is natural, defiled with sin. 2. A Christian inward Nature, animated by the Spirit of Christ, which we call the inward Man, the new Man, which is sanctified by Regeneration. For the First, the human Nature, as it is natural, it is not in Christ, nor is Christ in it; it hath no Being or Existence in Grace, or in Christ, but is altogether void and defitute of spiritual Life; and hence it is called the natural Man, the old Man, the fleshly carnal Man. For the Second, the Christian, inward Nature, it is upholden in the Children of God, by Things answerable to its Nature; and to this inner spiritual Nature, indeed the Lord offers in his Sacrament, Christ's Body and Blood, as its own proper Food; Christ therefore is in the soul spiritually, in the spiritual Part of it; it is the inner Man, the spiritual Nature that receives Christ's Body and Blood.

3. Our next Question follows, How is Faith here to be exercised for the drawing down of Christ's Body and Blood into our souls?

For Answer of which, 1. Faith looks upon Christ as the Treasury and common Stock of Grace, in whom dwells all Fulness, all our Fulness: Faith looks on him as the universal Principle of Life, and Root of Holiness: God gave not him the Spirit in Measure, no, it pleased the Father, that in him all Fulness should dwell, Col. 1. 16. There is in him Fulness, and all Fulness; whatsoever is to be required in a Mediator is fully in him, yea, in him doth all Fulness dwell: He is not like a full Vessel, that now is full, and anon is emptied, it dwells in him, it is an Inhabitant, a Resident, and a permanent Fulness so that Christ is full, and ever shall be full to the Brim; there is in him a Fulness of Merit, for our Justification, and a Fulness of Spirit, and habitual Graces for our Sanctification, In him are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge, Col. 2. 2. vaft Heaps, for some Pieces of silver and gold, are not Treasures; all the Treasures, all the Heaps of Knowledge and Wisdom that are in the World, all are in him, he is All in All.

2. Faith casts its Eye on the Promise for the conveyance of Christ, and Grace from Christ: Faith works by Virtue of the Promise; where there is no Promise, there can be no Faith, and therefore Faith discovers the Promise, That of his fulness we shall receive grace for grace; That his Body is given for us; That his Blood is shed for us, and for many, for the Remission of sins, John 1. 16. Hence the Schools admit of a double Fulness, i. e. Of Abundance, and Reburnance: The Promise speaks not only of the Fulness of Abundance in Christ, whereby he is sufficiently full in himself, but also of a Fulness of Reburnance, by which he overflows and fills all his Saints: He is the Well-head or Fountain, which is not only full itself, but springs and flows over to the filling of the Streams below it.

3. Faith looks upon this Ordinance, as an Instrument, a Means which God hath set up for the conveying of Christ, and Nourishment from Christ: In Zachariah, ch. 4. 12. we find mention of two two olive-branches, which through two golden pipes, emptied the golden oil out of themselves, Zech. 4. 4. 12. We may thus interpret, Christ is the Olive-branch, and the Olive-tree, and from whom comes all the golden Oil of Grace and spiritual Comfort, and he it is that empties it out of himself into our Hearts; but how? it is by his Ordinances, they be the golden Pipes, by which this golden Oil is conveyed unto us: Christ doth not immediately empty the Oil into our Hearts, but first into the golden Pipes of his Ordinances, and so through them into us.

4. Faith being steeled by such Coniderations as these, it goes over to Christ, and, by Virtue of the Promise, draws down his Body and Blood into the Soul; this therefore is the main Work to awaken, and to actuate our Faith, to set it to Work upon Christ, and to to draw forth the Efficacy of Christ in the Sacrament: Lord, I believe that thy Body was given for me, thy Blood shed for me, and for the Remission of many sins: Lord, I cheerfully and gladly believe that I am now Partaker of thy Body and Blood, and that my sins are pardoned in thy Blood: I believe that Christ is mine, his Death is mine, his Resurrection is mine, Remission of sins is mine, Pardon and Heaven are mine: Lord, I accept, I believe this sealed Pardon of my sin; Lord, I believe that all Christ, whole Christ is mine from Top to Toe; Lord, I believe his Person is mine, his Godhead is mine, his Manhood is mine; Lord, I believe his Merit is mine, his Virtue is mine, his Benefits both of Grace and Glory are mine; Lord,
I believe that in Christ all Fulness dwells, and that of his Fulness we shall receive Grace for Grace: Lord, I believe that through this golden Pipe of the Lord's Supper, I shall receive the golden Oil of Grace from Christ, now be it to me according to my Faith; Lord, I believe, help thou my Unbelief: O come down into my Soul, and fill it full of the Lord Christ, of the Body and Blood of Christ.

In this Manner, as one said of the Tree of Christ's Ascension, tho the Fruit were high, and above our Reach, yet
if we touch him by the Hand of Faith, and Tongue of Prayer, all will fall down upon us: So here, if we can but touch him with the Hand of Faith, tho a palifie Hand, tho a weak and trembling Hand, if we can go to him with a praying Heart, Christ can withhold nothing from us.

By the way, this may discover to us
where the Fault is; when we return Home, our Faith never the more strengthened, our Hearts never the more warmed, our Graces never the more nourished, our Corruptions never the more weakened, our Assurance never the more heightened, it is a shrewd Sign Faith did not play its Part in the Mount: Faith was intrusted in this Employment, to go over to Christ for these and the like Benefits, but thy Faith did fail in the Undertaking; therefore God suspends the Bestowing of these Benefits, because thou suspen dest thy Faith. Well then, if thou see not the Fruit and Benefit thou expected, to come into thy Soul in the Use of this Ordinance, charge thy Faith with it, and bewail the Weakness of it; and for the Future, put it to its Burden, let it have its full and perfect Work, and thou wilt then find the Comfort and Fruit of it: Never did Faith touch Christ in any Ordinance, but Virtue came from him.

SECT. XV.

Of the Exercise of Thanksgiving.

The Heart being warmed, and growing hot with the sense of God's Goodness, a Man should then break out, and give vent to his Heart, in magnifying the Mercy of God for the Death of Christ, and the Fruit thereof communicated to us. Now this Duty of Praise and Thanksgiving is actuated,

1. By our private Ejaculations: Our souls should praise him, and all that is within us should praise his holy Name, Ps. 103. 1, 2. especially our Affections of Joy and Love should taste largely of God. We should to this Purpose, now and then cast up such a Dart as this to heaven, We praise thee, O God, we acknowledge thee to be the Lord, &c.

2. By our publick and joint Praises: Ministers and People should both lift up their Voices with Glory to God on high, on Earth Peace, Good-will towards Men.

3. By our singing of Psalms: Thus Christ, and his Apostles, after the Celebration of the Lord's Supper, they sung an Hymn or Psalm; and some say, it was one of David's Psalms, which was to present Purpose (the Jews at their Passover used these Psalms, Psalm 113, to 119, which they called the great Alleluiah,) but others say, it was a Psalm composed by Christ himself, containing the Mystery of his Passion: howsoever, we learn our Duty, as at other Times, so at this especially, to sing unto God a great Alleluiah.

4. By our Obedience, by devoting and giving up ourselves to Christ, to be at the Will of him, who is our sovereign Lord. The Proof and Life of Thanksgiving, is, Thanks-doing; the Life of Thankfulness, is the good Life of the Thankful: Do we praise God for his Excellency? that strictly is the Object of Praise; or, do we thank God for his Goodness? that strictly is the Object of Thanksgiving: O then let it appear, that we acknowledge God in Christ to be such a one as we say in our Praises; and that we stand bound and beholden to him indeed, as we say in our Thanks. Let us carry ourselves in our Life towards him, as to God, who only is excellent, who only is God, our God, the God of our Life and Salvation.

S E C T. XVI.

Of the Exercise of Love and Mercy.

Our Love must be actuated,

1. In Respect of all Men, not only by doing them good, as we have Opportunity; but if they be wicked, by pitying their souls, and by unfeignedly desiring, even at this Sacrament, the Conversion of them, Gal. 6. 10.

2. In Respect of our Enemies, by forgiving and forgetting all Injuries, by praying for them, as Christ hath commanded, Col. 3. 13. Mat. 5. 44.

3. In Respect of the Saints, by delighting in them as the most excellent of the Earth, the only true Worthies of the World, worthy for ever of the Flower and Fervency and Dearness of our melting Affections and intimate Love, by sympathizing with them in their Felicities and Miseries, Rejoice with them that rejoice, and mourn with them that mourn, Psalm 16. 3. Rom. 12. 15.

Our Mercy must be exercised to the Poor, according to their Necessities and our Abilities; only with this Caution, That we give in Faith and cheerfulness, and spiritual Discretion, in preferring the Saints.

S E C T. XVII.

Of Examination after Sacrament, and the Result, if not a good Day.

Thus far of the Duties both before and at the Time of the Lord's Supper: Now follows the Duties after Sacrament, and they are these, Examining.

Thankfulness.

Obedience.

1. A Man is seriously and faithfully to
The Lord's Supper

Now, if upon such Examination, a Man hath found no Joy, no Comfort, no Enlargement, no Communion with nor Answer from Christ; but on the contrary, his Heart full of Deadness, Hardness, Dulness, Unfruitfulness, then two Things are to be done:

1. Let such a one suspect himself that some Miscarriage hath been in him, either in his Preparation to, or in his Performance of the Duty; and let him labour to find out where the Fail was; what it was that hindered the Efficacy of that blessed Sacrament: And having found out what hindered, let him judge himself for it, and be seriously humbled therefore: If he can but do thus, he needs not be overmuch dismayed, because this is one Fruit of the Life of Christ, which was undoubtedly received in the Sacrament; if he have not that which he would have, yet he hath that which was worth the going for: Let him conftrue this Humiliation as a Fruit of going to the Sacrament, and be thankful for that.

2. Let him endeavour by after-pains in Prayer and Humiliation, to quicken and awaken the Efficacy of the Sacrament: Sacraments do not alwayes work for the present, but the Efficacy may come afterwards; the Actions of God are of eternal Efficacy, tho' he put forth that Efficacy in such Times and Seasons, as he sees good. Physick doth not alwayes work when it is taken, but sometimes afterward: Thus also it may be with the Sacrament, when a Communicant humbled for his Unprofitableness in the Duty, endeavors by After-diligence and Humiliation, to quicken and put life into it, it may work then. What hinders but it may be in the case of the Lord's Supper, as in the Sacrament of Baptism? the Efficacy and Force of Baptism doth not presently appear, no not presently upon the Years of Discretion; many a one lives viciously in a sinful course, a Swearer, Adulterer, &c. yet afterwards when God gives a Man the Heart to be touched with the sense of sin, and he begins to beseech himself, to seek God by Faith and Repentance, the Lord then quickens his Baptism, and makes it as powerful and efficacious as if it had been administered that very Day: So in this case, possibly a Man hath been at the Lord's Table, and hath more than once been an unworthy Receiver, yet, if he shall once come to be humbled for that Unworthiness, God will make Sacraments, so often received unprofitably, to become efficacious unto him: If then we have miscarried in our Preparations and Dispositions, so as we have found no Benefit, no Comfort, yet here is a Remedy and Help. Take this course by After-diligence, and After-humiliation, to fetch Life into the Ordinances in which we were dead, and which was dead unto us.

Sect XVIII.

Of Thanksgiving, if a good Day.

If upon Examination we find that we were refreshed, had our Hearts enlarged, had Virtue from, and Communion with Christ, then must follow } Thankfulness.

} Obedience.

1. Thankfulness: Return home now, as with thy Heart full of Benefits, of the Lord, so with thy Prayer.

let our Souls say, Hath God been gracious to renew and confirm my pardon, and shall I again displease him? Hath he wiped off my former Sins, and shall I run on at length to offend him? Hath he taken off my former Burden, and cast it on the back of his dear Son, and shall I again return to Folly? No, far be it from me. I have washed my Feet, how shall I again defile them? I have put off my coat, how shall I again put it on?

2. Get we our hearts further strengthened to service: in this Ordinance is a mutual sealing of Covenants between God and us; he seals to the first Part of the Covenant, Pardon, Mercy, Grace, and we must seal to the second Part of it, Service, Subjection, Obedience. God gives Christ to us, and we are to give our selves back again to Christ. As there is matter of Bounty from God to us, so there is matter of Duty from us to God: There was never any soul, to whom God said in this Ordinance, I am thine, whose Heart did not echo again to the same God, Lord, I am thine. Let us then labour to get our Hearts further strengthened to Service. And thus much concerning our duties before, in, and after the Sacrament of the Lord’s Supper.

CHAP. XIV.

Of PRAYER.

SECT. I.

Of Preparation to Prayer.

HITHER TO of all the Duties in reference only to secret, private or publick Ordinances; now follow such Duties as have reference jointly to all three, and they are either

- ordinary as
  - Praying.
  - Reading the Word.
  - Suffering.

- extraordinary, as
  - Fasting.
  - Feasting.
The first of these Duties is Prayer, in which, as in the former, there is required some Things.

1. Antecedent.
2. Concomitant.

1. There is something required before, viz. Preparation; now this Preparation consists partly in

- Removing Impediments.

in Using the Means.

1. The Impediments to be removed are these:

- We must lay aside all carnal Thoughts, and worldly Cares, which might distract our Minds: Keep thy foot when thou goest to God's house, faith Solomon, Eccles. 5. 1: g. a. look with what Affection and Disposition thou comest to God in Prayer.

- We must put off our shoes, i. e. remove our Pollutions and corrupt Affections, as carnal Lusts, Anger and Doubting: I will that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting, 1 Tim. 2. 8.

- We must avoid Surfeiting and Drunkenness, which makes the Heart dull and heavy: Take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting and drunkenness, and the cares of this world, Luke 21. 34, 35. With ordinary Prayer we must join a moderate Diet, and with extraordinary, Fasting.

- We must cast off our sins: I will wash my hands in innocency, and so will I compass thine altar, O Lord, Psalm 26. 6.

- We must draw off from Prayer, from resting in it, or trusting upon it; a Man may pray much, and in stead of drawing nigh to God, or enjoying sweet communion with Christ, he may draw nigh to Prayer, his Thoughts may be more upon his Prayer, than upon God to whom he prays; and he may live more upon his cushion, than upon Christ: but when a Man indeed draws nigh to God in Prayer, he forgets Prayer, and remembers God, and Prayer goes for nothing, but Christ it all.

2. The Means to be used, are

- Prayer.

- Meditation.

- Prayer; a little eating prepareth a weak Stomack, and setteth an Edge upon the Appetite to eat more: To this Purpose David prayed before Prayer, Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as an evening sacrifice: set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, keep the door of my lips, Psalm 141. 2, 3.

- Meditation, 1. On our own Unworthines, that so we may pray in Humility: I am less than the least of all thy mercies, said Jacob, Gen 32. 10: O my God, I am abashed and confounded to lift up mine eyes, said Ezra, ch. 9: 6:

- On the glorious Majesty of God our Father: He that speaks to God, must remember that God is in heaven, Eccle: 5: 2: nay, what is Prayer, but a coming before God, an approaching to God, a meeting of God? in Prayer we have to do with God, and this will teach us to speak to him in Reverence.

- On the Meditation and Intercession of our Saviour Christ, which is the very ground of our Faith in Prayer: Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that I will do. 4. On the Promises of God in Christ, made to our Prayers: Thou, O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, hast revealed to thy servant, saying, I will build thee an house, therefore hast thy servant found in his heart to pray this prayer unto thee, 2 Sam. 7. 27, &c. And deliver me, I pray thee, faith Jacob, from the hands of my brother Esau; Thou saidst, I will surely do thee good, Gen: 32: 11, 12. Such Promises have we all, Ask, and and ye shall have; seek, &c. Mat. 6: 6:

Sect. II.
The general Duties of the Soul in Prayer.

The Duties in Prayer, are either internal or external: The former are the Duties of the Soul, the latter are the Duties of the Body.

1. The Duties of the Soul we shall consider in general:

The Duty in general is to pray,

1. In Truth:
2. By the Spirit:
3. In the Name of Christ.

1. In Truth, i. e. in sincerity and Uprightness of Heart: The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him in sincerity and in truth; Psalm 145. 18: Hence two Faults are to be avoided.

1. Praying with feigned Lips, this is to pray with an Heart and an Heart, as all Hypocrites do: But 'tis otherwise with the Saints: Hear the right, O Lord, attend unto my cry, give ear to my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips, Psalm 17. 1.

2. Praying with wandering thoughts, arising partly from the flesh, and partly from the Suggestions of Satan: The Speech of the Mouth must not go before, but alway follow after the Conceit of the Mind: Many Times as a Muficians fingers will run over a song which he hath been used to play, altho' his Mind be otherwise occupied; so many in Prayer will run over that Form of Words they have been used to utter, tho' their minds be roving about other Matters: such a Prayer is called, Lip-labor: O let the Absurdity of the Fault, breed in us a loathing of it; do our Minds wander in Prayer? endeavour we to join into one speech, the prayer of the Mouth, and the speech of the Heart, both which sound in God's Ears, and then consider whether we would make such a speech (I say not with Malachi, To our Prince, but) to any Man whom we regard, which yet we are not ashamed to offer unto the Lord: I will not deny in such a case, if we be grieved for, and strive and pray against such Wandrings; this Infirmitie thro' God's Mercy, and the Intercession of Christ shall not be imputed unto us: It is good to distinguish of the cause whence these wandring Thoughts may arise; if they come from Weakness in our selves, or from the Temptations of Satan, the Lord will consider this, and deal mercifully with us; but if they arise from meer Negligence, or voluntary admitting of loose Thoughts, that is our sin, and we had need to repent and mourn for it.

2. By the help of the Spirit: It is the Spirit that helps our infirmities, faith Paul, for we know not what we should pray for as we ought, but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us, with groanings which cannot be uttered, Rom. 8. 26. q. d. when we put forth the Graces of the Spirit in us, then the Spirit comes and helps, and what comes from us now, it comes from the Breathings of the Spirit. This helping of the Spirit, is very emphatical in the Original; as a Man taking up an heavy Piece of Timber by the one End, cannot alone get it up, till some other Man takes it up at the other End, and so helps him; so the poor soul that is a pulling and tugging with his own Heart, he finds it heavy and dull, like a Log in a Ditch, and he can do no good with it, till at last the Spirit of God comes at the other End, and takes the heaviest End of the Burden, and so helps the soul to lift it up. In our prayers we should eyes the Spirit of God, we should cast our souls upon the Assistance of the Spirit, we should pref press the Lord with this Promise, Lord bow hast said, that thy Spirit helps our infirmities, when we know not what we pray for, nor how to pray for any thing as we ought: now make good this word of thine to my soul at this time, let me have the breathings of the Spirit of God in me; alas, the breathings of man, if it come from Gifts and parts, thou wilt never regard, except there be the breathings of the Holy Ghost in me.

Quies. But how should we know whether the Spirit of God comes in, or no?

Answ. We may know by this; The Spirit of God carries unto God, and it makes the Prayer sweet and delightful, it leaves a favour behind it. O the Breath of the Spirit of God is a sweet Breath, and it makes sweet Prayers; it never comes into the soul, but after it hath done any work it came for, it leaves a sweet scent behind; as Civit that is put into a little Box, tho you should take out the Civit, yet there will be a sweet favour left behind; so tho the Spirit of God, in respect of the present assistance, withdraws itself, yet it leaves a sweet favour behind it.

3. In the Name of Christ: for Whate ever you ask the Father in my name, that I will do, John 14. 13. There is a Necessity of praying in Christ's Name,

1. In regard of Admission:

2. In regard of Assistance:

3. In regard of Acceptance:

1. In regard of Admission: God is a consuming fire, and we are dried stubble, there is no approaching to him, but in Christ, in whom we have access with boldness to the throne of Grace: God will not look pleasingly on us, if we come without Christ, he is no Throne of Grace without him; it is Christ who makes that which was a Bar of Justice, a Bench of Mercy; in him we have admission: Do we fall upon the Duty of Prayer? do it not in the strength of man, but in the strength of Christ: Say, Lord, I come alone in the Merits of Christ, to partake of the Merits of the Lord Jesus: I have endeavoured to prepare myself through thy grace, but I look not for admission thro' my preparations or dispositions, but thro' the blood and mediation of Jesus Christ.

2. In regard of Assistance: We pray, but we have no strength to do it without Christ; we might as well be set to move Mountains, as to pray without the strength of Christ: Without me, faith Christ, you can do nothing, John 15. 5. Without Union with Christ, without Communion with Christ, we can do nothing; from Christ we must have both operating and co-operating strength; both inherent and assistent strength; otherwise tho we have grace, we shal not be able to perform any Work, nor exercise our own graces; it is he that must work all our Works in us and for us, the inherent Work of Grace within us, and the required Works of Duty for us: And blessed be that God, who hath given to us what he requireth of us, and hath not only made precepts promises, but Promises performances.

3. In regard of Acceptance: Our Works, they are not only impotent, but impure too, as they come from us; it is Christ that must put validity to them; it is Christ that must put his own odours on them, it is Christ that must put both spirit and merit to them, his grace to work, and his Blood to own them, for whatever comes from his Spirit, it is presented thro' his Merits; Here is great comfort; do we look over our Performances, and wonder that ever God should accept them? so much Deadness, so little Life, so much coldness? consider then, that God looks upon them, not as ours, but as Christ's, in whom not only our Performances Performances are accepted: Christ gives us his Spirit, and Christ is willing to own what we present by his Spirit, and God is willing to own whatever is presented to him by Christ his Son. To this purpose there was given to Christ much incense that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar, which was before the throne, and the smoke of the incense which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the Angels hand, Rev. 8. 3.

4. This Angel is Christ, this Incense his Merits, the mingling of the Prayers of the saints with this incense is the supplying, or covering of the Defects of their Prayers with the Merits of Christ, and the ascending of this incense and their Prayers before God, is his Acceptance of them thus covered with Christ’s Merits, and the reason why the Prayers ascended was because the incense ascended; that was their vehiculum, the pillar of smoke in which they mounted up to Heaven: This rightly considered, it will cause us in every petition put up, to think ourselves so much beholding to Christ, that we shall be ready to say in our Hearts, when any petition is granted, I may thank Jesus Christ for this.

But what is it to pray in Christ’s Name?

I answer, 1. To pray in Christ’s Name, is to pray with Reliance upon the Grace, Favour and Worthines of the Merits of Christ, in whom we have believed, and have access with confidence, by the faith of him, Eph. 3. 12. Christ’s satisfaction is the Ground of our Intercession; because Christ’s blood hath purchased this (we pray) therefore, O Lord, grant this.

2. To pray in Christ’s name, is to pray from his command, and according to his will; as when we lend another in our Name, we wish him to say thus, Tell him, I sent you, and that I desire such a thing of him; so when we take those words which the Lord puts in our mouths, Hosea 14. 3. and desire those Things only that the Lord commands us to seek, whether absolutely or conditionally, this is to pray in his Name.

3. To pray in Christ’s name, is to pray for his Ends, for the sake and use of Christ: Thus the Phrase is used, To receive a prophet in the name of a prophet, Mat. 10. 41. i.e. for this End and Reason, because he is a prophet. Now let Christians observe, when they would have any Thing of God, to what Use and End, and for whose sake it is: You ask and have not, because you ask amiss, to spend it on your lusts, James 4. 3. A Lust is properly such a Desire (too for lawful Things) wherein a Man must have a Thing, because it pleaseth him: Give us water, that we may drink (was the brutish cry of Israel, Exod. 17. 2.) not that we may live to him that gives it; holy Desires or Prayers, opposed unto Lusts, are such Desires of the Soul left with God, with submission to his will, as may best please him for his Glory.

Sect. III.
The particular Duties of the Soul in Prayer.

The Duties of the Soul in particular, are such as are,
in the { Mind.
Heart.

1. In the Mind, two Things are required, { Knowledge.
Faith.

1. Knowledge of God to whom we pray.
2. Knowledge of that for which we pray.

1. We must know and acknowledge Jesus
Prayer.

251

2. In the Heart, three Things are requisite,

- Humility.
- Reverence.
- Ardency of Spirit.

1. Humility, which is derived from the Ground; intimating, that when we pray, we should humble ourselvess, as it were to the Ground: Thus the Christians in the eastern Churches were wont to cast themselves down to the Ground when they called upon God: Thus Abraham acknowledged himself but dust and ashes, Gen. 18. 27. Thus Jacob confessed himself less than the least of all God's mercies, Gen. 32. 10. Thus David confessed that he would be vile before the Lord, 2 Sam. 6. 22. Thus Isaiah cried out, I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips, Isaiah 6. 5. Thus Ezra prayed, O my God, I am ashamed, and blush to lift up my face to thee, my God, for our iniquities are increased over our head, and our trespass is grown up unto the heavens, Ezra 9. 6. Thus the Centurion, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldst come under my roof: Thus the Woman of Syrophensicia, confessed herself unworthy to be called a son: Here's a Cloud of Witnessses, concluding that Humility in the Heart is requisite in Prayer.

2. Reverence of the Majesty of God: Serve the Lord with reverence, and rejoice with trembling, Psalm 2. 11. The blessed Angels being in God's Presence, and founding forth his Praise, are described, as having six Wings, whereof two pair serve to cover their Faces, and their Feet, hereby betokening their wonderful Reverence of God, Isaiah 6. 2. How much more should we, who inhabit these Houses of clay, subject to Infirmities, and corrupted with sin, be stricken with an awful Reverence of Almighty God? Did we consider ourselves to be in the midst of Angels, before the God of Angels, performing the like Exercise as the Angels, how would this strike us with a Reverence of this great King of Heaven?

3. Ardency or Fervency of Spirit; this gives Wings to our Prayers, and causeth them to ascend before God; this effects Work all the Graces of God's Spirit, and the more fervent the Prayer is, the more they are intended, actuated, increased: I mean not thus of every Fervency; there is a Fervency of Faith; and a Fervency of mere natural Desires: In this latter, there is no Holiness, no Fire of the Spirit, but in the former there is: When Christ lived upon Earth, many came to him, and some were exceedingly importunate to be healed, or to have Devils cast out, &c. now if he answered their Requests, his usual Phrase was, 'Be it unto thee (not according to thy Importance and Fervency, but) according to thy Faith'; q. d. I heed not, I regard not this Clamour and Earnestness, if it be only out of mere natural Desires, but if it be out of Faith; if besides sense of Need, you have in you a true Hope of Mercy, then be it unto thee according to that: This Fervency is set out in the Word by divers significant Phrases; sometimes it is called, a crying unto the Lord; thus Moses cried unto the Lord, and Samuel cried unto the Lord, and Elijah cried unto the Lord, and Isaiah cried unto the Lord: Sometimes a crying mightily; Let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: sometimes a lifting up of our Prayers; wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left, said Hezekiah to Isaiah: sometimes a pouring forth of our Souls before the Lord like water, O wall of the daughter of Zion, pour out thy heart like water before the face of the Lord: Thus the Israelites drew water, and poured it out before the Lord, and saisted on that day, and said there, We have sinned against the Lord: sometimes a Groaning in Spirit, or, Groans of the Spirit: The Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered: sometimes a praying exceedingly; sometimes a praying fervently; sometimes wrestling with God, Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that you strive together with me in your prayers to God for me: sometimes a wrestling with God, Thus Jacob wrestled with a man, i. e. with God in the Form of a Man, until the breaking of the day: Exod. 3. 12. 1 Sam. 7. 9. 1 Kings 17. 20, 21. 2 Kings 20. 11. Jonah 3. 8. Isa. 37. 4. Lam. 2. 19. 1 Sam. 7. 6. Rom. 8. 26. 1 Thess. 3. 10. Col. 4. 12. Rom. 15. 30. Gen. 32. 24. All these Phrases do set forth the Excellency, the Necessity of this Ardency, Fervency of Prayer required in the Text.

Sect. IV.

The Duties of the Body in Prayer:

THUS far of the Duties of the Soul in Prayer; as for bodily exercise of itself, it profiteth little; but if it joined with the Soul, it is of great Importance: Therefore glorifie God in your body, and in your Spirit, for both are God's, 1 Tim. 4. 8. 1 Cor. 6. 20.

The Duties of the Body may be reduced to these two Heads:

1. The Gesture of the Body.
2. The Speech of the Mouth.

Concerning the First; in publick Prayer we are to follow the Custom of the Church wherein we live, if it be without scandal and superstition: In private prayer, we may take our Liberty so that our Gesture be correspondent to the Lord, all my desire is before thee; and my groaning is not hid from thee, saith David, Psalms 38. 9, and Hezekiah professeth, That he did chatter like a crane or a swallow; and did mourn like a dove, Isaiah 38. 14. And the Spirit himself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered, Romans 8. 26.

2. The articulate Voice, is the external speech itself, whereby the Prayer is expressed, wherein three Things are considerabile, \{Quantit\at.

Quality.

Form.

1. For Quality, we must not affect Prolinity, as it for Multitude of words we looked to be heard; When ye pray, use not vain Repetitions, as the Heathen do, Matthew 6. 7. The Heathen thought that their God's did not alwiss hear, as being otherwise employed (so Elias told Baal's Priests) and therefore they used to repeat the same Things often, that if they did not hear them at one Time, they might hear them at another Time; thus Christians must not pray, they must not lengthen their Prayers, as conceiving that either God hears not, or that he will hear for the Length's sake; but on the other side, where is Variety of good Matter, uttered with the Attention of Mind, and Vigour of Affection, there the longer we continue in Prayer, the better it is.

2. For Quality, we need not be curious in respect of the stile, God looking to the Heart rather than the speech: As it is not the Loudeens of a Preacher's Voice, but the Weight and Holiness of the Matter, and Spirit of the Preacher that moves a wise and intelligent Healer: so not Gifts, but Graces in Prayers are they that move the Lord: The Reason, Prayer moves not God as an Orator, but as a Child moves his Father:
good Means carefully, which the Lord hath ordained for the begetting and increasing of those Graces in us, as hearing the Word preached, receiving the Sacrament, reading the Word, and meditating on it, otherwise, our Prayers are a tempting of God, as if he must grant, not by Means, but by Miracles.

3. Carefully to look after our Prayers, and to cast up our comings in, and Gainings by Prayers, otherwise we are like foolish Venturers, who have a great Stock a going, but looks not after their Returns: In the morning I will direct my prayers, and look up, Psalm 5:3. There are two military Words in the Verfe, David would not only pray, but marshall up his Prayers, put them in Array; and when he had done so, he would be as a spy upon a tower, to see whether he prevailed, whether he got the Day: For the better unfolding this Mystery of Grace, I shall propound and give Answer to some Queries or Cares of Conscience, as;

1. Suppose I have prayed, how shall I assuredly know that God hears, and will answer in his own time?
2. Suppose the Thing I desired shall not be answered, how may I assuredly know that God notwithstanding doth hear my Prayers?
3. Suppose after Prayer, I observe all I can, and I can by no means discern, that either God will answer, or doth hear my Prayers, what shall I do then?
4. Suppose the Thing I desire is answered, how may I assuredly know it was at my Prayers, or out of common Providence?
5. Suppose that others joined with me in those Prayers now answered, how shall I know that my Prayers had an hand in obtaining those Answers, as well as any others?
6. Suppose I am assured upon former Observations, that God hath heard, and an-
We may resolve this Case, by some Observations before Prayer, in Prayer, and after Prayer.

1. Before Prayer: When God prepares the Heart to pray, when he pours upon a Man a Spirit of Grace and Supplication, a praying Disposition; when he puts in Motives, suggests Arguments and Pleas unto God, as Materials for prayer; all which you shall find to come in readily, and of themselves; and that likewise with a quickning Heat and Enlargement of Affection, with a longing and longing and restlesness of spirit to pour out the soul unto God; this is a sign that God lends his Ear, and will return Answers: Thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cause thin ear to hear, Psalm 10, 27. q. d. Thou fashionest the Heart, and compoifeft it into a praying Frame, and that is a sign, Lord, that thou meanest to hear.

2. In prayer: As, 1. When God draws nigh, and reveals himself to thy soul in and upon such and such a particular petition, when God smiles upon thee, welcomes thee, falls about thy Neck and kisseth thee; when no sooner thou comest into his presence to inquire of him, but he says, Here I am, as the promise is, Isaiah 58. 9. this thou art to observe as a sign that he hears thy prayer, and accepts both thee and it; Hear me speedily, faith David, and that I may know thou hearest me, draw nigh unto my soul, Psalm 69. 17, 18. 2. When God doth put a reflutes Importance into the Heart maugre all Discouragements, for this or that Mercy, and when this Importunity is joined with a subjection to God's Will, and runs along with it, then hath God stirred it up, and then look for something to come; You know the Parable how the unjust Judge heard the Widow for her Importunities jake, Luke 18. 5. So when God puts this Importance into the Heart, it is a sign God means then to hear and answer.

3. After Prayer: This will appear in several particulars; as,

1. When God quiets and calms the Heart after Prayer, by speaking something to the Heart, tho what is spoken be not alwise discerned; as when you see an earnest or importunate Suitor going in to a great Man, exceeding anxious, but coming out very cheerful, contented, and quiet in spirit, you would conceive that certainly something hath been said to him, which gave him Encouragement: So when thou goest to God, and haft been importunate in a Business, and thy Desires were exceedingly up for it, and then thou rifeft up with thy Mind, calmed and satisfied, and thou feekest the Anxiousness the follicitude of thy Heart, about the Thing taken off and dispelled; this is a good sign that God hath heard, and will return Answer to the full: When Hanna out of much Bitterness, and with strong Desires had poured her soul out unto the Lord, it is said, That she looked no more sad, 1 Sam. 1. 18. And then God gave her a son, a son of her Desire.

2. When God gives an obedient, dependent Heart, in walking before him, when that Consideration still comes in a curb unto sin; if I regard iniquity in my heart, God will not hear me, Psalm 66. 18. When God doth still after praying, keep the soul in a more obedient Frame of spirit; when he keeps thee from using ill Means, &c. it is a sign that God hath hath heard thy prayers, and thou shalt have Returns: David praying for his Life, Hear my prayer, O Lord, give ear to my supplications; in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness, Psalm 143. 1. Presently after, he prays for Holiness, knowing that sin would enervate and spoil all his Prayers, Caufe me to know thy way, wherein I should walk, teach me to do thy will, Verse 8.

3. When God, after Prayer, strengtheneth the Heart to wait and expect for the Mercy desired, when a Man, after Prayer; begins to wait, rather than pray (tho he prays still) because he looks now God should perform; in this case, and at this Time he may look for some good Answer from God: David having prayed, says to his soul Wait on the Lord, be of good courage, and he will strengthen thy heart: wait I say, on the Lord, Psalm 27. 14.

The Second Case: Suppose the thing I desire shall not be answered, how may I assuredly know that God notwithstanding doth bear my prayers?

We may resolve this case, if we observe these Particulars.

1. Whether thy Prayer was framed in a right Manner? didst thou not pray absolutely for such Blessings, as were never absolutely promised? if so, no Wonder thy Prayer is denied; or didst thou pray conditionally (as Christ prayed, If it be possible, &c.) then thy Prayer may be heard, and yet the Things denied? for otherwise Christ had not been heard, when yet the Text says, He was heard in that he feared, Heb. 5. 7.

2. Whether there be not a reservation in that Denial, for some greater Mercy, whereof that Denial was the Foundation? If we had many of our Desires, we should be undone: If the Child had lived for which David so earnestly prayed, he would but have been a living Monument of his own Shame; God therefore denied his Prayer, but after he gave him a Solomon.

3. Whether God doth not answer thee still according to the Ground of thy prayer? Now the Ground and Intent of thy Prayer, is after God's glory, the Churches good, thy own particular comfort; it may be God denies the particular Mercy thou desirest, and yet he answers the ground of thy Prayer, his Glory shall be advanced, his Church preferred, thy comfort made up (even for that Prayer of thine) some other Way.

4. Whether God yields not far to give thee satisfaction, as if he were tender of denying thee? So the Lord answered Abraham, when praying for Ishmael, O let Ishmael live in thy sight! God went as far in answering his request as might be, I have heard thee, said God, and I have blessed him, and I will make him fruitful, and multiply him exceedingly, and he shall beget twelve princes; but my Covenant I will establish with Isaac, Gen. 17. 18, 20.

5. What Effects that Denial hath upon thy Heart? as

1. Whether thy Heart be enlarged to acknowledge God to be holy and righteous in his Dealings with thee, and thine own Unworthines for the cause of his denying thee? I cry in the day time, faith David, but thou hearest not: Yet thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel, Psalm 22. 2, 3.

2. Whether God fills thy heart with holy contentment in the Denial?

3. Whether thou canst be thankful to God out of Faith, that God hath ordered all for the best, tho he hath denied thee?

4. Whe-
Prayer.

4. Whether thy Heart be not discouraged, but thou canst pray still, at least for other Things? it moves ingenious Natures to see Men take precautions and denials well, and so it moves God: Now if the Cause be thus, if upon Observation thou canst say, that thy prayers, tho denied, were conditional [if God will] that thou perceivedst a reservation in God's Denial, for some greater Mercy; that God answered thee at least, according to the ground of thy prayers, that God yielded far to thee; as if he were loath to deny thy prayers; that thou feelest such Effects of Denial upon thy heart, as these: 1. An enlargement, to acknowledge God holy and righteous. 2. An holy contentment in the Denial. 3. A thankful Heart. 4. An Heart not discouraged howsoever. Surely then God hears, or God hath heard thy Prayers, also the particular suits are not accomplished.

Sect. VIII.
The third Case: Suppose after prayer, I observe all I can, and can by no means discover, that either God will answer or hear my prayers, What shall I do then?

We may resolve this case by laying open the Duties appertaining to such a Soul: Canst thou not discern God's Dealings? Spy no returns of thy Prayers? it is then thy Duty

1. To examine what is the cause; and if the Fault be in our Prayer, because we did ask amiss James 4. 3. we must endeavour by God's grace to amend; or if the Fault be in our selves, because we are impenitent, we must first repent, and then renew our prayers unto God.

2. To persevere in our prayers, without fainting; Continue in prayer, as Hanna, and David, and Daniel, and Bartimeus, and that impetunate Widow, Luke 18. 1. Rom. 12. 12.

3. To expect the Lord's Leilute: I waited patiently for the Lord, faith David, and he inclined unto me and heard my Cry, Psalm 40. 1.

4. To rest in the good Will and Pleasure of God: Let him do what seemeth him good: Who can tell, but God in Time may give thee, a sign of his good Will towards thee, and that he hath heard thy Prayers? howsoever it is the Lord that gives or denies, let him do what he pleafe.

Sect. IX.
The fourth case: Suppose the thing I desire is answered, how may I assuredly know it was by my prayers, and not out of common providence?

We may resolve this case by giving these Directions to the Soul, whereby it may be enabled to discern when and how things prayed for, come in by Prayer; as

1. From the manner of God's performance: When God gives any Thing in answer to prayers, he often discovers a more than ordinary Hand of providence in it: as

1. By bringing it to pass thro many difficulties: Thus Peter was delivered out of Prison at the Prayers of the Church, Acts 12. 6. 10. and we find. 1. He was sleeping between two Soldiers, if they had wakened, he had been discoverd. 2. He was in chains, but they fell off. 3. The Keepers stood before the doors, but they minded him not.

4. When one Watch is past, he passeth quietly thro another. 5. When both those were past, an iron Gate flies open of its own accord: Now such Difficulties are there in many Busineses, which yet in the End are accomplished by Prayer; iron chains fall off, iron gates, Enemies Hearts fly open of their own Accord, and tho not in that miraculous Man-Manner, by the Means of an Angel, yet no les wonderful.

2. By facilitating all means, and causing them to conspire to accomplish the thing prayed for; thou hast wind and tide, and a fair Day, and all the Way paved and plain before thee; there falls out a great conjunction and meeting of many circumstances together to effect it, which had influence into it, wherefore if any one had been wanting, haply the Thing had not been done: Thus when Israel went out of Egypt (which was the accomplishment of their Prayers) their cry came up unto God, faith the Text, Exod. 2. 23. how were all Things facilitated? the Egyptians that detained them, then came and intreated them to go out, Rize up, and get you forth amongst my people, said Pharaoh; Yea, they were urgent upon the people, that they might send them out of the land; yea, They hired them to go out with their jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment, and Pharaoh parts himself lovingly and fairly with them, and defires their Prayers, Bless me also; yea to shew there was no resistence, the Text faith, A dog did not move his tongue, Exod. 12. 13, 33, &c. and 11. 7. the brute Creatures did not disturb them, tho at midnight, when these Creatures use to be most obftruperous through Noises, especially at Travellers.

3. By bringing it to pass suddenly and unexpectedly; as the return of the captivity of Babylon, which was the conclusion of many Prayers, was done in a Trice; they were as men in a dream, Psalm 126. 1. they could scarce believe it was so, when it was done.

4. By doing above what was desired with addition of other Mercies; so Solomon asked Wisdom, and God gave him more than he asked, Peace, Riches and Honour, 1 Kings 3. 12, 13. When Prayers are answered, usually Mercies come thick; the thing we prayed for, comes not alone.

5. By adding some special circumstance, as a token of God's special hand in it, such a token as a man him self often takes notice of, yea, and others also often take notice of it; Show me a token for good, faith David, that others that hate me may see it, and be ashamed, Psalm 86. 17. So when Abraham and Isaac, and Abraham's Servant had prayed for a Wife for Isaac; see by what a Token God shewed that he had heard their Prayers; Rebekah was the first that came out, and if she be the woman appointed for Isaac (prays the Servant) let her offer me drink, and my camels also, and thereby shall I know thou hast shewed kindness to my master, Gen. 24. 14. and God gave him the Token, and therefore the Servant bowed at it, and worshipped the Lord: If we take notice of the sign, it was such as argued in her a kind, courteous Disposition, which therefore, it may be, he fingle out as a token of a meet Wife, especially to be looked at in the marriage choice.

2. From the Time, wherein the thing prayed for is accomplished: God, who doth all Things in Weight and Measure, shews his Wisdom and Love as much in the feast, as in giving the Thing itself; God considereth all Times of thy Life, and still chueth the best and fittest to answer thy prayers in, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, faith God, Isa. 49. 8. As,

1. It may be at the very time when thou art most infatn and earnest in prayer: Whiles they are yet speaking, faith God, I will hear, Isa. 65. 24. a Time call'd out on purpose, that they might rest assured it was an Answer to their Prayers.

7. At that Time when thou haft most need, and when thy Heart is most fitted for Mercy, i.e. when thy Heart is is most subdued, and thy lusts mortified, for then thou art fittest to relish his Goodness alone, and not to be drawn away with the carnal Sweetness that is in the thing: Thou wilt prepare thine heart, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear, Psalm 10, 17. thou wilt prepare thine heart in taking it off from the thing desired, in making it quieted and contented with God in the Thing, and then thou wilt hear] this is the fittest Time.

3. From the Effects upon thy Heart that prayer; as

1. If the Thing granted by thy Prayers, draw thy Heart more near unto God: Things granted out of ordinary Providence only, do increase our lusts and are snares to us; but if thou findest God's Dealings with thee, to be a kindly Motive to cause thee to mourn for sin, and to be a restraint against sin, it is a sign it was a Fruit of thy Prayer: Away from me, workers of iniquity, (faith David) God hath heard the voice of my weeping, Psalm 6. 8. or,

2. If thou findest God's Dealings with thee, to be a kindly Motive, to cause thee to rejoice in God, more than in the Thing obtained, it is a sign it was a Fruit of thy Prayer. Hanna blessed God for her child, My heart rejoiceth in the Lord, faith she, 1 Sam. 2. 1. She rejoiceth not so much in the Gifts as in the Giver, not so much in her Child, as in his Favour that answered her Prayer.

2. If the Mercy obtained by thy Prayer, inlarge thy Heart with Thankfulness: Self-love makes us more forward to pray, than to give Thanks, for Nature is all of the craving and taking Hand, but where Grace is, there will be no eminent Mercy gotten with much Struggling, but there will be a continual, particular thankful Remembrance of it a long while after, with much Inlargement; Great Blessings won with Prayer, are worn with Thankfulness; such a Man will not ask new, but withal, he will give Thanks for old: Thankfulness of all Duties proceeds from pure Grace, therefore if thy Spirit stirr's thee to it, it is a sign he made the Prayer: See Hanna's Song when she had her Desire, 1 Sam. 2. 1.

3. If the Mercy gotten by thy Prayer, doth encourage thee to go to God another Time, to pray again more confidently and fervently, it is a sign thou hast gotten the former Mercy that Way; The Lord hath heard me, faith David, and I will call upon him as long as I live, Psalm 11. 6. 2.

4. If the Thing obtained by thy Prayer, doth make thee careful to perform thy Vows made in prayer: I will pay thee my vows, faith David, which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in my trouble; and the Reason follows, because that verily God hath heard me, when I cried to him, Psalm 66. 13. 14. So Eliphaz in Job doth connect and hang these two together, Thou shalt make thy prayer to him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows, Job 22. 27.

5. If the Thing granted by thy Prayer prove a real and stable Mercy; if the Curse be taken out, and it have few Thorns and Vexations in it; When the blessing of God maketh rich, be addeth no sorrow with it, Prov. 10. 22. It may be the Heart was put to some Trouble in the deterring, but 'tis recompened by the more settled, constant, inmixture Sweetness in the injoying.

6. If the Mercy obtained brings with it Affurance of God's Love, and an Evidence of his Favour; I need not make that a sign, for when this comes with a Mercy, it carries its own Evidence; you will then know well enough that it is the Fruit of Prayer.
Sect. X.
The fifth Case: Suppose that others join with me in those Prayers now answered, how should I know that my Prayers had an hand in obtaining those Answers, as well as any others?

We may resolve this Case by these Observations: as

1. If thy Heart did sympathize and accord in the same holy Affection with those others in praying, then it is certain thy Voice hath helped to carry it; If two of you shall agree on earth, faith Christ, Mat. 18. 19. as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven: if two of you shall agree (the Word is sumphoneisyn) q. d. if you harmoniously agree to play the same Tune (for prayers are Musick in God's Ears, and so called, melody to God, Eph. 2. 29,) if you agree not only in the Thing prayed for, but in your Affections, for it is the Affections that makes the Comfort and Melody: If the same holy Affections were touched and struck by God's Spirit in thy Heart, that was in others, then didst thou help to make up the Comfort, and without thee it had been imperfect; yea without thee the thing might not have been done, for God sometimes stands upon such a Number of Voices (as when he named ten persons in Sodom) and so one Voice may cast it.

2. If thy Heart be filled with Joy in the Accomplishment of what was prayed for, it is an evident Argument that thy Prayers did move the Lord to effect it, as well as the Prayers of others. When good old Simeon saw his Prayers answered in sending the Messiah into the World, he was even willing to die thro' joy, and thought he could never die in a better Time: Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word, Luke 2. 29.

3. If the Thing concern others, and thy Heart be thankful for a Blessing on others, prayed for by thee with others, it is a sign thy Prayers had some hand in it: Thus Paul prayed for the Thessalonians, and when Timothy came, and brought him good Tidings of their Faith and Charity, he was not only comforted, but in his Ravingment he cries, What thanks can we render again to God for you? I Thess. 3. 6, 7, 9.

4. If the Thing concern thy self which was prayed for by others, helping thee in their Prayers, what cause hast thou but to think it was granted for thy own Prayers, and not for theirs only? It may be indeed that God heard thee the sooner thro' the help of their Prayers: I know this shall turn to my salvation, through your Prayers, said Paul, Phil. 1. 19. But if God stir's up thy heart to pray for thyself, as well as others pray for thee, then God that gave thee an Heart to pray, hast heard thy Prayers also, and hast had a Respect to thee as well (if not more than) to others, because it concerneth thy self especially, as being a more special Mercy to thee than to others.

Sect. XI.
The sixth Case: Suppose I am assured upon former Observation, that God hath heard and answered my Prayers in their Particulars, what must I do then?

We may resolve this Case, by laying open the Duties appertaining to such a Soul: Art thou now assured of Answer and Return of thy Prayers, it is thy Duty then

1. To be thankful to God for his Goodness: Blessed be the Lord (faith David) because he hath heard the voice of my supplications, Psalm 28. 6.

2. To love God the more, and to resolve relieve with confidence to call upon him so much the more: I love the Lord because he hath heard the voice of my supplication; because he hath inclined his ear to me, therefore I will call upon him as long as I live, Psalm 116. 1, 2.

3. To have such a Deportment and Demeanour ever after as is suitable to such who have Commerce and Intercourse with God; as, To depart from sin, to apply our Hearts to Obedience, and to pay all our Vows: Away from me, ye Workers of Iniquity, God hath heard the voice of my weeping: And I will pay thee my vows which my lips have uttered, for God hath heard me, Psal. 6. 8. and 63, 13, 14, 19.

Sect: XIII.

§ 1. A Form of Prayer in Scripture-phrases:

In this Form observe,

A Description of God.

O God, the God of the Spirits of all Flesh. Who haft created the Heavens, and stretched them out, who haft spread forth the Earth and that which cometh out of it, who givest breath unto the People upon it, and Spirit to them that walk therein. Who haft formed the Mountains, and created the Wind, and declarest unto Man what is his thoughts, who maketh the Morning Darkness, and and treadest upon the highest Places of the Earth. Who art cloathed with Honour and Majesty. Who coverest thy self with a Light, as with a Garment, who layest the Beams of thy Chambers in the Waters, who maketh the Clouds thy Chariots, who walkest upon the Wings of the Wind. Who haft measured the Waters in the Hollow of thy Hand, and metted out Heaven with thy Span, who comprehendst the Dust of the Earth in a Measure, and weighest the Mountains in Scales, and the Hills in a Ballance. Who givest the Sun for a Light by Day, and the Ordinances of the Moon and of the Stars for a Light by Night, who dividedst the Sea when the Waves thereof rose. Who madest the seven Stars and Orion, and turnest the shadow of Death into the Morning, and makest the Day dark with Night. Who haft built thy stories in the Heaven, and haft founded thy Troop in the Earth, who callest for the Waters of the Sea, and pourest them out upon the Face of the Earth, Numb. 16. 22. Isa. 42. 5. Amos 4. 13. Psalm 104. 1, 2, 3. Isaiah 42. 12. Jer. 31. 35. Amos 5. 8. and 9. 6.

2. A begging of Audience.

Look down from Heaven thy holy Habitation. Have thou respect unto the prayer of thy Servants, to hearken to the cry, and to the Prayer which thy servants pray before thee this Day. Let our Prayer be set forth before thee as Incense, and the lifting up of our Hands as a morning sacrifice, Deut. 26. 15. 1 Kings 8. 28. Psalm 141. 2.

3. A Confession of the sins of our first Parents, and of our original Pollution.

We confess O Lord thou createst our first Parents in thine own image, and breathedst into their Nostrils the Breath of Life, but the Serpent beguiled them, and they did eat of the forbidden Fruit; whereby all Mankind (being then in their Loins) also sinned, and now come short of the Glory of God. And besides that sin which is imputed to us, we find in us inherent a proclive Disposition to all Manner of Evil; we are riven up in our Fathers Stead an increasement of sinful Men, to augment yet the fierce Anger of the Lord towards us. We know Lord, that in us, that is in our Flesh, dwelleth no good Thing, for thou wilt be present with us, yet how to perform that which is good we find not. We see an other Law in our Members warring against the Law of our Minds, and bringing us in captivity to the Law of fin which is in our Members. O wretched Men that we are, who shall deliver us from the Body of this Death? Gen. 1. 26. and 3. 6. Rom. 3. 23. Numb. 32 14. Rom. 7: 18, 23, 24.

And yet O Lord, to fill up the Measure of our Condemnation, to this sin original we have added sins actual: who can say I have made my Heart clean? I am pure from my sin? Sinners we are by imputation, having the sin of our first parents charged upon us; sinners by real communication, being Heirs to our forefathers corruption, and sinners by actual commission. We have sinned in thought; our souls which should have been seasoned with sweet Meditations on thy Goodness and Mercy, and Grace, and heavenly Things, they are and have been pestred and affaided with the black and hellish Thoughts of Atheism, Despair, Discontent, Blasphemy, and soul- vexing Fears. O what a world of Ignorance, Vanity of Mind, Dilettlem of thy Mercy, Timorousness, Discontent, Unbelief, misinterpreting the Lord's Doings, Self-confidence

dences, and solitary Musings on the Temptations of Satan, have nested in our hearts? Thou Lord seest that the Wickedness of Man is great upon Earth, and that every imagination of the Thoughts of his Heart is only evil continually. We confess Lord, we have sinned in Word; our tongues which should have been as trumpets to have sounded thy Praise, they have been deeply guilty of Blasphemy, Murmuring, Swearing, Forswearing, Lying, Slander, Railing, Reviling, Brawling, Scolding, Boasting, discovering of Secrets, Defence of Sin, Flattery, giving ill Counsel, sowing Seeds of Discord amongst Neighbours, foolish jesting, idle Words, sinful Silence, rash Confabulations; behold how great a Matter a little Fire kindleth, the Tongue is a fire, a World of iniquity; it hath defiled our whole Bodies, and hath set on fire the course of Nature, and it is set on fire of Hell; O Lord, if of every sinful word, and of every idle word we must one Day give Account, what a fearful Account have we to make? If we justify our selves, our own Mouths will condemn us, the Heaven shall reveal our iniquity, and the Earth shall rise up against us. We confess Lord, we have sinned in Deed: witness our Worldliness and Covetousness, and pride, and Malice, and lusts, and Lucas warmness, and impatience, and Discontentedness, and Vain-glory, and Self-love: O the Wrongs we have done, O the Goods we have ill-gotten, and the Time we have mispent, and the Sabbaths we have profaned! O the Pollutions, Diemperns, Estrangedness from God in our Souls! O the Villanies, Vanities, and Rebellions of our whole life! O Lord, we may as well number the Stars as our sins, but thou knowest them all, thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance, Prov. 20. 9. Gen. 6. 5. James 3. 5, 6. Math. 12. 36. Job 9. 20. and 20. 27. Psalm 90. 8.

5. Confession of sins before and since Conversion.

And however thou hast been pleased of thy rich Mercy in Christ, to translate some of us from Darkness to Light, yet Lord, how infinitely did we sin before our Conversion? O our Omissions of good Duties in that graceless Time, which were as large as the Duties enjoyed in all thy Commandments! O the actual sins, and gross iniquities, and hainous crying Crimes we then committed with all Manner of Greediness! O we cannot but say out of our own Experiences, abominable and filthy is Man, who drinketh iniquity like Water. For our iniquities are grown over our Head, and as an heavy Burden they are too heavy for us to bear. But that which infinitely adds to our Sins, how have we sinned since Conversion by our many Relapses, and Frailties, and Falls? Alas Lord, our profitable and pleasing sins in former Times have broken in upon us again and again, and notwithstanding we have confessed, and prayed, and promised, yet still we have relapsed and backslidden; in our holy Things we have been pestered with Wandering and Distractions of Heart, with Coldness, and Dullness, and Unprofitable Ends, to this Day innumerable sins pass by us that we take no Notice of, so that we cannot but with holy David complain, Who can understand his Errors? Lord cleanse us from our secret Faults, Job 15. 16. Psalm 38. 4. and 19. 12.

But O the Aggravation, that we should sin against Knowledge, that we should abuse the good Gifts of God, and turn his Grace into Wantonness, that we should sin against our Covenant many many a time renewed; that we should grieve that good Spirit of God whereby we are sealed unto the Day of Redemption; that we should wrong the blessed Name of God, his Word, Religion, and Profession of Godliness; that in the Land of Uprightness we should deal unjustly, and not behold the Majesty of the Lord: this makes our sins become exceeding sinful. We confess Lord, we have sinned against the Law, we have broke all the Commandments, from the first to the last; and now O our God, what shall we say after this? We confess Lord, we have sinned against the Gospel; we are ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, tho' it be the Power of God unto Salvation to every one that believeth. We have not thirsted after Christ, our Souls have not panted after him, as the Hart that pants after the Water Brooks. We have not loved the Lord Jesus in sincerity, we have not considered him as the Sweetness of our Hearts, and Life of our Souls. We have not counted all Things loss and dung for the Excellency of the Knowledge of Christ Jesus our Lord. We take no Pains to know him, and the Power of his Resurrection, and the Fellowship of his Sufferings, or to be made conformable to his Death. We hide as it were our Faces from him, and will not have him reign over us. We have not believed the Promises of Salvation, nor relied upon Christ for Justification, Sanctification, and Salvation: O Christ, there is none of us that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee. And howsoever Lord, thou hast given space to repent of all our Abominations that we have committed, yet we have not repented. We confess not our Transgressions unto the Lord, that thou mightest forgive the iniquity of our Sin. Thou hast indeed stricken us, but we have not grieved, thou hast consumed us, but we have refused to receive correction, we have made our Faces harder than a Rock, and have refused to return. But above all, O the iniquities, and Outrages, and Excesses, and Tyrannies of our bosom sins, of our darling Delights: these are they that rage, and tyrannize it over us more than any of the rest. These are as our right Hands, and right Eyes, and we are loath to cut them off, or pluck them out, Jude 4. Eph. 4. 30. Isa. 26. 10. Ezra 9. 10. Rom. 1. 16. Psalm 42. 1. Eph. 6. 24. Phil. 3: 8, 10. Isa. 53. 3. and 14. 7. Rev. 2. 21. Psalm 32. 5. Jer. 5. 3. Matt. 5. 29, 30.

7. An accusing, judging, and condemning our selves.

And for all these Sins, thou our God hast punished us less than our iniquities deserve. It is of the Lord's Mercies that we are not consumed, and because his Compassions fail not. If thou shouldest lay judgment to the Line, and Righteousness to the Plummet, thou mightest make thy Anger and Jealousie to smock against us, and all the Curses that are written in thy Book thou mightest lay upon us, and blot out our name from under Heaven. Thou mightest make thy Arrows drunk with Blood, and thy Sword might devour flesh from the Beginning of Revenues. Thou mightest give us our Portion with the Wicked that are turned into hell, and all the Nations that forget God, Ezra 9. 13. Lam. 3. 22. Isa. 28. 17. Deut. 29. 20. and 32. 42. Psalm 9. 17.

8. Humiliation, or Mourning for Sin.

But, Lord, thou hast said, if we confess our sins, thou art faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all Unrighteousness. Thou hast promised, be that covereth his sins shall not prosper, but he that confesseth and forsaketh his sins shall have mercy. Thou hast proclaim O let us take to us Words, and turn to the Lord, and say to him, take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously, jo will we render the calces of our lips: Ashur shall not save us, we will not ride upon Horses, neither will we say any more to the Work of our Hands, ye are our Gods.

It is true, Lord, we have many a Time idolized the Creature, and abused the Creator; we have many a Time crucified Christ, and trod under Foot the Blood of the Lamb, but if Christ would but look on us as he did on Peter, then should he look upon Christ whom we have pierced, and mourn for him as one that mourneth for his only Son, and be in Bitterness for him, as one that is in Bitterness for his First-born: Then should we make a great Mourning as the Mourning of Hada-trimmon, in the Valley of Megiddon.
Why, Lord, help us to mourn for our sins, and when thou hast cast us down, and humbled us to purpose, then lift us up again. Surely thou art nigh unto them that are of a broken Heart, and savest such as be of a contrite Spirit. When Men are cast down, then shalt thou say, there is lifting up, and thou shalt save the humble Person. To this Purpose thou hast promised, they that sow in Tears, shall reap in Joy, he that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious Seed, shall doubtles come again rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him. And to this Purpose was Christ anointed to preach good Tidings unto the Meek, to bind up the baken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the Captivees, and the opening of the Prison to them that are bound, to comfort all that mourn, to appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the Oil of Joy for Mourning, and the Garment of Praise for the Spirit of Heavyness. And is it not thine own Saying, I dwell in the high and holy Place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble Spirit, to revive the Spirit

§ 2. The Second Part of Prayer is Petition for Ourselves.

Petition for Pardon of Sins for Name's Sake.

Christ's Sake.

Promise Sake.

Mercies Sake.

O that we might have our Request, and that God would grant us the thing that we long for. Even that it would please him to cover our Iniquities, and cause our sins to be blotted out from before him. Dear Father, we are sure nothing can hinder Mercy from us but Sin, O pardon our sins for thy Name's sake, Oh pardon our Iniquity for it is great. And to this End; O look on Christ that Lamb that takes away the Sins of the World. It is he that bears our Iniquities. It is he that once appeared to put away sin by the Sacrifice of himself. It is he that by himself purged our sins. It is he that bare our sins on the Tree in his own Body. It is he that loved us and washed us from our sins in his own Blood. It is he that is the Propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole World. It is he that was wounded for our Transgressions, that was bruised for our Iniquities, the Chastisement of our Peace was upon him, and with his Stripes are we healed. O then for his sake, and in his Blood wash us throughly from our Iniquities, and cleanse us from our sin. And to this End, remember thy Promises. Thou haft laid, I will cleanse you from all your Iniquity whereby ye have sinned against me, I will pardon all your Iniquities whereby you have sinned, and whereby you have transgressed against me. Thou haft laid, I, even I am he that blotteth out thy Transgressions for my own sake, and will not remember thy sins. Thou haft laid, I have blotted out as a thick Cloud thy Transgressions, and as a Cloud thy sins. Thou haft laid, I will forgive their Iniquity, and I will remember their sins no more. Thou haft laid, Come now and let us reason together, tho your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow, tho they be red like Crimson, they shall be as Wool. And thy Prophets have said, who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth Iniquity, and passeth by the Transgression of the Remnant of thy Heritage, thou retainest not thy Anger for ever, because thou delightest in Mercy. We press thee, Lord, with thy own precious Promises: Have we nothing of our own to bring thee but sin? Why thou hast a Son, that thou lookest upon, whom thou haft set forth for our Propitiation: Would we have a Pledge of thy undeserved Favour? Why thou hast given thy only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth on him, should not perish, but have everlasting Life: Do we require further Assurance of thy unspeakable Kindness? Why thou hast made large Promises, and entered into Covenant with us, that shall never fail on thy part. Dear Father, thou waits pleased to wait long for our Conversion when we went astray, and wilt thou not much more have Mercy upon us now we pray unto thee? Thou haft commanded us to forgive our Brethren till seventy times seven Times, if they

fin and repent; and shall our God require to much of us (whose Compassions are not as the Drop of a Bucket to the Ocean, it compared with thy Mercies) and wilt thou not much more deal tenderly with us, who have sinned indeed often, and many a Time, but now desire to repent us? When we excused our Disobedience, and charged our Faults upon thee, thou settest thy Love on us; but how much more now, Lord, when we accuse ourselves, and pray for thy Mercy? Good Lord, Misery is the Object of Mercy; the greater our Distress, the more glorious will be the Grace of God in our Deliverance; if thou wilt be merciful to our sins, then shall thy Glory appear, and our Hearts shall be enflamed with thy Love, we shall walk in thy Fear, and our Tongues shall sing of thy Goodness. Yea, our Tongues shall sing aloud of thy Righteousness. Job 6. 8. Neb. 4. 5. Psalm 25. 11. John 1. 29. Isai. 53. 11. Heb. 9. 26, and 1. 3. 1 Pet. 2. 24. Rev. 1. 5. 1 John 2. 2. Isai. 53. 5. Psalm 51. 2. Jer. 33. 8. Isai. 43. 25. and 44. 22. Jer. 31. 34. Isai. 1. 18. Mic. 7. 18. Rom. 3. 25. John 3. 16. Luke 17. 34. Nehem. 5. 9. Psalm 51. 14. 2: For sealing of this Pardon in our Consciences.

And for Assurance hereof to our Souls, O shew us the Salvation of God. Seal up the Assurance of Pardon in our Hearts and Consciences by the gracious Testimony of thy holy Spirit; O let thy Spirit testify it to us, and persuade us hereof, and confirm it unto us by his Seal and Earnest. It is thy Spirit that bears witness with our Spirit that we are the Children of God. We desire thy Spirit to testify it to us, and with us; O give us the Testimony of a renewed Conscience enlightened by thy Spirit, and directed by thy Word, whereby we may come to know what God hath wrought in us. Give unto us the Spirit of Adoption, whereby we may with Confidence and Comfort cry, Abba Father. Give us Joy in the Holy Ghost, and the Answer of a good Conscience towards God.

Psalm 50. 23. 2 Cor. 1. 22. Rom. 8. 16. 1 Cor. 2. 12. Rom. 8. 15. and 14. 17. 1 Pet. 3. 21.

3. For justifying and lively Faith.

Give us even that Gift of God, a soul-saving and justifying Faith. O that we could roll ourselves upon the Lord, and stick fast unto his Mercy! We have found a rich Treasure of Promises in thy Word for the Pardon of our sin, only create in us the Hand of Faith, that we may effectually receive what in Mercy thou reachest forth: O we are of little Faith. Increase it, Lord, that it be but as a Grain of Mustard-seed. Work in us not a dead Faith, but that which may be rich in good Works, following after Peace with all Men, and Holiness, without which none shall see God. And because our Righteousness is so impure, even as menstruous Rags, O clothe us with the Robes of Christ's Righteousness, that we may be found in him, not having our own Righteousness, which is of the Law, but that which is through the Faith of Christ, the Righteousness which is of God by Faith. Eph. 2. 8. Matth. 6. 39. and 7. 20. James 2. 20. Heb. 12. 14. Phil. 3. 9.

4. For Repentance unto Life.

Give us Repentance; it is thine own Word, that unto us God hath raised up his Son Jesus, and sent him to bless us in turning every one of us from our iniquities. O that we could draw this Virtue from Christ! Oh that our Heads were Waters, and our Eyes Fountains of Tears, that we might weep Day and Night for our Sins! Oh that all the Nigh Night we might make our Beds to swim, that we could water our Couches with our Tears. That we could repent in Sackcloth and Ashes. Oh that there were such Hearts in us that we might repent, and recover ourselves out of the Snare of the Devil. Oh that we could lay our sins to our Hearts, that we could repent us of our Wickedness, saying, What have we done? Oh that we could, as Ephraim, bemoan ourselves thus, Thou hast cha-filed us, and we were chastised, as a Bullock unaccustomed to the Yoke, turn them us, and we shall be turned, thou art the Lord our God. Surely, after we are turned, we shall repent, and after we are instructed, we shall smite upon our Thigh, we shall be ashamed, yea, even confounded, because we bear the Reproach of our Youth. Oh that remembering our Ways, and all our Doings whereby we have been defiled we could leach ourselves in our own Fight for our iniquities, and for Ezek. 20. 43.

5. For saving Knowledge.

Give us saving Knowledge; give us thy Spirit of Truth, who will guide us into all Truth. Incline our Ears to Wisdom, and our Hearts to Understanding, that we may cry after Knowledge, and lift up our Voice for Understanding, that we may understand the Fear of the Lord, and find the Knowledge of God, that we may be enabled to cry unto thee, Our God, we know thee. Haft thou not promifed, saying, After those Days I will put my Law in their inward Parts, and write it in their Hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my People, and they shall teach no more eve-y Man his Neighbour, and every Man his Brother, saying, Know the Lord, for they shall all know me from the least of them unto the greatest of them? Oh that thou wouldest give us this Knowledge, that thou wouldest fill us with this Knowledge as the Waters cover the Sea. That thou wouldest give unto us the Spirit of Wisdom and Revelation in the Knowledge of Christ, that the Eyes of our Understanding being elightened, we may know what is the Hope of his Calling, and what the Riches of the Glory of his Inheritance is in the Saints. Dear Father, is not thy Secret with the Righteous? is not the Secret of the Lord revealed to them that fear him? O then, give us this Union from the holy One, that we may know all Things. John 16. 1, 3. Prov. 2. 2. Jer. 31. 33. 34.
6. For Love to God, Saints, Enemies.

Give us a Love of God, and of all Things that belong to him: Thou haft laid, thou wilt circumcise our Hearts, and the Hearts of our Seed, to love the Lord our God with all our Heart, and with all our Soul, that we may live. Set us on Fire, burn us, make us new, and transform us, that nothing besides thee may live in us: O wound very deeply our Hearts with the Dart of thy Love, and that (because our Sins, which are many, are forgiven us) we may love thee not a little, but much. Wilt thou, Lord, love the Image, and shall not the Image much more love the Pattern? O that we were sick of Love; That our Understandings, Wills, and Affections were all overflown, overcome and amazed, that our Faintings were enflamed towards thee, and even melted into thee!
O sweet Jezu, touch our Souls with thy Spirit, that Virtue may go out of thee into us, and draw us unto thee:
Let the Savour of thy Ointments,
Prayer:

whole very Breath is Love, be ever in our Nostrils; give us the Flaggons of the new Wine of the Kingdom, which may lift up our Souls above ourselves in our Loves, that we may forget the low and base Loves of this World, and by an heavenly Excess may be transpor ted into a heavenly Love, that we may embrace Christ, who is the Lord from Heaven, with a Love like himself: Nor do we desire only the Pleasures of Love, and Joys of thy Union; but that we may become generative and fruitful; for be it from us to love thee like an Harlot, and not like a Wife: O let us desire Union with thee, and to bring forth Fruit unto thee; we will not cease to cry unto thee, Give us Children, or else we die: Give us even Fruits of thy Spirit which may resemble thee, and be Pledges to us of thy Union with us. And that we may bring forth Fruits wholly thine, and not another besides thee, O burn and consume whatsoever would grow one with our Souls besides thee: O let the Fire of thy Spirit so wholly turn our Souls into a spiritual Fire, that the Dross of the Flesh, and the World being wholly consumed, we may be spiritual, and so bring forth Fruits only to the Spirit. But alas, sometimes it is, that the Ointments of Love are not seen or felt, and then our Love cools; and it so, O then, sweet Saviour, look upon us in Mercy; one Look of thine will a waken our Loves, and make us weep bitterly that we loved thee so little, whom to love sufficiently, our best and mightiest Loves are most insufficient. Prevent our seeking with thy seeking, be thou present with us in thy Providence and Power, when thou seemest to be far off us in the Taste of thy sweetnefs, and Fruition of thy Loves: and then when we have regained thee, we will hold more hardly, and keep more fastly, and love the more vehemently, and provide a Stock of Loves in the Summer against the Winter if it return any more. And give us also to love one another, as Christ hath loved us. Make our Love to abound yet more and more towards all Men, especially them that are of the household of Faith. Yea Lord, cause us to love our very ene
7. For ardent Zeal, Patience, Persevere
rane, and all other Graces.

Give us a Zeal after God, and his Truth, good Caules, and good Men. Let us not rest contented with a lukewarm Profession, being neither cold nor hot: but make our Souls to break for the longing that they have to thy Judgments at all Times. O that we were fervent in Spirit, zealously affected always in every good Thing. O that the Zeal of thy House might even eat us up. And that our Zeal might provoke very many. O that thy word were in our Hearts as a burning Fire, that we were weary with forbearing, and that we could not stay, Rev. 3. 16. Psalm 119. 20. Rom. 12. 11. John 2. 17. 2 Cor. 9. 2. Jer. 20. 9.

Give us the Grace of Patience; thou haft foretold us, that in the World we shall have Tribulation. And through much Tribulation we must enter into the Kingdom of God. Make us therefore run with Patience the Race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the Author and Finisher of our Faith, who for the Joy that was set before him endured the Cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right Hand of the Throne of God. O help us to con-der him, that hath endured such Contradiction of sinners against himself, left we be wearyed and faint in our Minds.
Let us not think it strange concerning the fiery Trial. But rather rejoice in as much as we are Partakers of Chrift's Sufferings, that when his Joy shall be revealed, we may be glad also with exceeding Joy. O teach us to reckon with our selves that the Suffering of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the Glory which shall be revealed in us. Haft thou not said, that if we be reproached for the Name of Chrift, happy are we? O therefore that it may be given to us in the Behalf of Chrift, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his Sake. Help us to deny our selves, and to take up our Cros daily, and follow our Saviour,
1 Pet. 4. 12, 13. Rom. 8. 18, 1 Pet.
Give us Perseverance; and to this End make us to build on thy Promifes;
thou haft said, the Steps of a good Man are ordered by the Lord. Tho he fall, he shall not utterly be cast down, for the Lord upholdeth him with his Hand:
Thou haft said, to your old Age I am he, and even to hoar Hairs will I carry you, I have made, and I will bear, even
I will carry, and I will deliver you.
For this God is our God for ever, he will be our Guide unto Death. O give us one Heart, and one Way, that we may fear thee for ever, and make thou an everlafting Covenant with us, thou wilt not turn away from us to do us good; and put thy Fear in our Hearts that we may not depart from thee. Help us Lord, to hold falt the Profefion of our Faith without wavering. Confirm us unto the End, that we may be blameless in the day of the 39, 40. Heb. 10. 23. Romans 11.

29.

Give us all other saving Graces: A lively Hope that may save us: Yea in these Times let us with Abraham a-against Hope believe in Hope. A Joy in the Holy Ghost, thou haft said, light is town for the Righteous, and Gladness for the Upright in Heart. A filial Fear, because thou takeft Pleasure in those that fear thee. In that Day when thou makeft up thy Jewels, they shall be thine, and thou wilt spare them as a Man spareth his Son that serveth him.
Humility, and Lowlinefs in Spirit; cafting down Imaginations, and every high Thing that exalteth itself against the Knowledge of God. Meeknefs of Mind, that the Wolf may dwell with the Lamb, and the Leopard may ly down with the Kid, the Calf, and the young Lyon, and the Fatling together, whilst a little Child may lead them.
Peace of Conscience, and Peace of God, that may keep our Hearts and Minds,
that may guard or garrifon our whole Souls, Rom. 8. 24. and 4. 18. Psalm 97. 11. and 147. 11. Mal. 3. 17. 2
Cor. 10. 4. I. 46. 6. 7. Phil. 4. 7.
8. For Growth in Grace.
And for our further Affurance, O give an increase and growth to all these Graces; O do thou guide us continually, and fatisfie our Souls in drought. O make full our Bones, that we may be like a watered Garden, and like a Spring of Water, whose Waters fail not. O let the Sun of Righteousness arise with healing in his Wings, that we may go forth, and grow up as the calves of the flall. O that thou wouldft make our path as the path of the just, even as the funning Light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect Day. O that thou wouldft be to us as Dew unto Ifrael, that we might grow as the Lily, and falt forth our roots

as

as Lebanon, that our Branches might spread, and our Beauty be as the Olive-tree, and our Smell as Lebanon. Hadst thou not said, I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground, I will pour my Spirit upon thy Seed, and my Blessing upon thy Offspring and they shall spring up as among the grass as the willows by the Water-courses? O put into our Hearts their ways, who go from strength to strength, every one of them in Zion appearing before God, Isa. 58. 1. Mal. 1. 2. Prov. 4. 18. Hosea 14. 5. 6. Isa. 44. 3. 4.

9. For purifying, and Power against sin.

Nor pray we only for Remission, but cleansing: not only for pardon and sense of Pardon, but for purifying, and Power against sin, and Deliverance from sin. Holy God, thou hast promised, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem shall be called holy, even every one that is written among the Living in Jerusalem, when the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the Daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the Blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof by the Spirit of Judgment and by the Spirit of Burning. Holy God, thou hast promised, that thou wilt put thy Law in our inward Parts, and write it in our Hearts. Holy God, it is thy Promise, the first Promise, and the Foundation of all other Promises, that the Seed of the Woman should bruise the Serpent's Head; that Christ should break the Power and Dominion of Satan. O that having these Promises we could live by Faith, that we could rest upon God and believe, that God of his free Grace in Christ will purge us from the filthy Remainers of sin, and renew us more and more after his own Image in Righteousness and Holiness; surely Lord thou hast said it, and therefore it is no Presumption, but true Obedience to assure ourselves of whatsoever thou hast promised, and entred into Bond and Covenant freely to give. He that believeth on thee, as the Scripture saith, out of his Belly shall flow Rivers of living Water. Christ is a Fountain of Grace, ever flowing, and ever full, and of his Fulness we receive Grace for Grace; there is no Grace but from Christ, and no Communion with Christ but by Faith; O therefore that we could embrace him by Faith for our Sanctification, that to we might be filled with the Gifts of his Grace in our Measure. It is Christ is our Wisdom and Sanctification, as well as Righteousness and Redemption; It is Christ who took upon him our Nature, and sanctified it by his holy Spirit, that we being made one with him might receive the self-same Spirit, that in measure, to sanctifie us. O that our Jesus would justifie our Persons, and sanctifie our Natures, and enable us to those Duties of Holiness that he requires, that he would make us unto him a Kingdom of Priests, an holy Nation, Isa. 4. 3. 4. Jer. 31. 33. Gen. 3. 15. Heb. 10. 38. Eph. 4. 24. John 7. 38. and 1. 16 1 Cor. 1. 30. Exodus 19. 6.

10. Against all evil of sin, the World, Flesh, and Devil.

O Lord, we have many potent Enemies that daily war against us, the World, Flesh and Devil; and our Strength is too weak to vanquish the Allurements of this World, to repress the Lusts of our rebellious Hearts, to defeat the Policies of Satan, much more to change and cleanse our own Hearts, but Lord thou hast promised, O help us to believe, that God will aid, assist and bless us in our Endeavours, yea and do the whole Work for us. Grant Lord, that we may not love the world, that our Hearts may not be overcharged with with Surfeiting and Drunkenness and the Cares of this Life. Grant Lord, that we may not suffer sin to reign in our mortal Bodies, that we should obey it in the Lusts thereof; neither suffer us to yield our Members as Instruments of Unrighteousness unto sin, but unto God, as those that are alive from the Dead, that being now made free from sin, and become the Servants of God, we may have our Fruit unto Holiness, and the End everlasting Life. Grant Lord, that we may be sober and vigilant, because our Adversary the Devil as a roaring Lion walketh about, seeking whom he may devour. O make us strong in the Lord, and in the Power of his Might, that we may be able to stand against all the Wiles of Satan: Why Lord, we wrestle not against Flesh and Blood, but against Principalities and Powers, against the Rulers of the Darkness of this World, against spiritual Wickednesses in high Places. O therefore strengthen us that we may stand, having the Girdle of Truth, the Breast-plate of Righteousness, the shield of Faith, wherewith we may be able to quench all the fiery Darts of the Wicked,

11. Against all Evil Punishment, National or Personal.

Thou haft plagued our Nation; the stout-hearted are spoiled, they have flept their Sleep, and none of the Men of Might have found their Hands. O heal the Land. Let no Evil betal us, neither let any Plague come nigh our Dwellings. Our Souls are among Lions, our Soul also is sore vexed, but thou, O Lord, how long? 2 Chron. 7. 14. Psalm 76. 5. and 91, 10. and 6. 3.

12. For the Catholick militant Church of Christ.

And as we pray for ourselves, so for the Catholick Church of Christ. Let thy Delight be to Mount Zion, grave her on the Palms of thy Hands, let her Walls be continually before thee, let her Builders make haste, and cause her Destroyers, and such as would lay her waste, to depart from her. Thou hast said, I the Lord do keep it, I will water it every Moment; left any hurt it, I will keep it Night and Day. And we have a Promise, that the Lord will create upon every Dwelling-place of Mount Zion, and upon the Assemblies, a Cloud and Smoke by Day, and the shining of a flaming Fire by Night, for upon all the Glory shall be a Defence. Now, Lord, make good thy Word, and look upon Zion the City of our Solemnities, let thine Eyes see Jerusalem a quiet Habitation, a Tabernacle that shall not be taken down, let not one of the Stakes thereof be removed, or any of the Boards be broken. I I. 49. 16, 17. and 27. 3. and 4. 5.

13. For all that belong to God's Election, though uncalled as yet.

Call home the Jews, thou hast revealed that they shall be grafted in again and thou art able to graff them in again, as it is written, there shall come out of Zion the Deliverer, and shall turn away Ungodliness from Jacob. O that thou wouldst raise up the Tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the Breaches thereof, and be gracious to the Remnant of Joseph. O that as a Shepherd seeketh out his Flock in the Day that he is among his Sheep that are scattered, so thou wouldest seek out thy Sheep, and deliver them out of all Places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark Day, and bring them to their own Land, and feed them upon the Mountains of Israel.
Prayer.

Israel by the Rivers, and in all the inhabited Places of the Country. Bring in the Gentiles; thou hast promised, I will lift up my Hand to the Gentiles, and set up my Standard to the People, and they shall bring their Sons in their Arms, and their Daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders. It is prophesied that the Days shall come (even the last Days) when the Mountain of the Lord's House shall be established in the Top of the Mountains, and shall be exalted above the Hills, and all Nations shall flow unto it. Yea, Lord, the Gentiles shall come to thy Light, and the Kings to the Brightness of thy Riving; the Abundance of the Sea shall be converted unto thee, the Forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee. Nay, is it not at hand? Who are these, Lord, that fly as a Cloud, and as the Doves to their Windows? O the Matter of Rejoicing! O the blessed Day is at hand! Sing, O Barren, thou that didst not bear, break forth into singing, and cry aloud thou that didst not travail with Child; for more are the Children of the Detolate, than the Children of the married Wife. Enlarge the Place of thy Tent, and let them stretch forth the Curtains of thy Habitations, spare not, lengthen thy Curtains, and strengthen thy Stakes. Blessed God, hasten these Times, accomplish the Prophecies, bring on the Days when Violence shall be no more heard in our Land, nor Wanting nor Destruction in our Borders; when thou shalt call our Walls Salvation, and our Gates Praise, when the Sun shall be no more our Light by Day, neither for Brightness shall the Moon give Light unto us, but the Lord shall be unto us an everlasting Light, and our God our Glory. Rom. 11. 23, 26. Amos 9. 11. and 5. 15: Ezek. 34. 12, 13. Isai. 49, 23. and 2. 2. and 60. 3, 5, 8. and 54. 18 and 60. 18, 19.

14. Against the Churches incurable Enemies.

Consume Antichrist with the Spirit of thy Mouth, and destroy him with the Brightness of thy Coming, even him whose Coming is after the Working of Satan with all Power and Signs, and lying Wonders. We bless thee, Lord, for that thou hast begun his Downfall, we beseech thee at last bring in these ten Horns of the Beast that may hate the Whore, and make her defolate and naked, that they may eat her flesh, and burn her with fire. Hasten the Ruin of all other the Churches Enemies, now it is that Gog and Magog are gathered to the Battle, and the Number of them is as the sand of the sea; Lord, they are gone upon the Breadth of the Earth, and they have compassed the camp of the Saints about, and the beloved City; O let fire come down from God out of Heaven and devour them, 1 Thef. 2. 8. Rev. 17. 16 and 20. 8.

15. For the Reformed Churches abroad, and at home.

Look tenderly on these Western Churches, Germany, the Palatinate, Bohemia, &c. Thine Heritage O Lord, is unto thee as a speckled Bird, the Birds round about her are against her. Many Pastors have devoured thy Vineyard, they have trodden thy portion under Foot, they have made thy pleasant Portion a desolate Wilderness; they have made it desolate, and being desolate, it mourns unto thee. Awake, awake, put on Strength, O arm of the Lord, awake as in the ancient Days, in the Generations of old; art thou not it that hast cut Rahab, and wounded the Dragon? Art not thou it that hath dried the Sea, the Waters of the great Deep, that hath made the Depth Depth of the Sea a Way for the Ransomed to pass over? Take pity on Scotland, Ireland, &c. Shew thy marvellous Loving-kindness, O thou that fauvest by thy right Hand, to them which put their Truft in thee; from those that rise up against them keep them as the Apple of thine Eye, hide them under the shadow of thy Wings. Preserve that little flock, to whom thou haft promised, and reserved the Kingdom. Have Mercy on miserable, sinful England; dear Father, haft thou utterly rejected Judah? Hath thy Soul loathed Zion? Why haft thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? We looked for Peace, and there is no good, and for the Time of healing, and behold Trouble; we acknowledge O Lord, our Wickedness, and the Iniquity of our Fathers, for we have sinned against thee, do not abhor us, for thy Name’s Sake, do not disgrace the Throne of thy Glory, remember, break not thy Covenant with us. O Lord, hear, O Lord, forgive, O Lord, hearken and do, defer not for thine own sake, O our God: O that ever it should be said of England, God hath forfaken his House, he hath left his Heritage, he hath given the dearly beloved of his Soul into the Hands of her Enemies. Look down from Heaven, and behold from the Habitation of thy Holiness, and of thy Glory, where is thy Zeal and thy Strength, the founding of thy Bowels, and of thy Mercies towards us? Are they restrained? Doubtless thou art our Father, tho Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not, thou Lord art our Father, and our Redeemer, thy Name is from everlasting, Jer. 12, 9, &c. Isaiah 51. 9. 10. Psalm 17. 7. 8. Luke 12. 32. Jer. 14. 19. 20. 21. Dan, 9. 19. Jer. 12. 7. Isaiah 63. 15, 16.

16. For Magistracy, Ministry, People. Bless the Magistracy, and provide for us out of all the People able Men, such as fear God, Men of Truth, hating covetousnes. And that Judgment may not be turned into Gall, nor the Fruit of Righteousnes into Hemlock; give courage to our Rulers that they may execute Justice truly in the Gates. Bless the Ministry, let their Words be upright, words of truth. As goads, and as nails fastned by the Masters of the Assemblies, which are given from one Shepherd. Set Watchmen upon our walls, that shall never hold their Peace Day nor Night, those that make mention of the Lord let them not keep silence, nor give him rest till he establish, and make Jerusalem a praise in the earth. And O let their Doctrine drop as the Rain, let the Speech distill as the dew, as the small rain upon the tender herb, and as the flowers upon the grass, to open the blind eyes, and to bring out the prisoners from the Prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison-house. Bless all from Dan to Beersheba, call them thy holy people, the redeemed of the Lord, Exod. 18. 21. Amos 6. 12. Ecclef. 12. 10, 11. Isaiah 62. 6, 7. Deut. 32. 2: Isaiah 42. 7. and 62. 12.

17. For all afflicted in Soul, or Body. Behold the Tears of such as are oppressed, and have no Comforter. O Lord, thou haft at this Time especially laid Affliction on the loins of many of thy Servants, and haft made them drink of the Wine of Atonishment, thou haft fed them with the Bread of Tears, and given them tears to drink in great Measure. And yet thou haft said, that howsoever two Parts in the Land shall be cut off and die, yet a third Part shall be left therein, and thou wilt bring the third Part thro’ the Fire, and wilt refine them, as silver is refined, and wilt try them as Gold is tried; they shall shall call on thy Name, and thou wilt hear them, thou shalt say, it is my People, and they shalt say, the Lord is my God. Lord, to it is, that a third part of the land is now in the fire, and thou art refining them as silver is refined, and thou art trying them as gold is tried; Ask now, and see whether a Man doth travel with Child? Wherefore then (may we say with Jeremy) do I see every Man with his Hands on his loins as a Woman in Travail, and all Faces are turned into Paleness? Alas for the Day is great, so that none is like it, it is even the Time of Jacob's Trouble, but he shall be saved out of it. Blessed be God for this Promise; thou mayst indeed lift the house of Israel among all Nations, like as Corn is sifted with a five, but the least Grain shall not fall upon the Earth. Dear Father, look to thy afflicted ones, and speak to them as once to Ephraim; Is Ephraim my dear Son, is he a pleasant Child? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still, therefore my Bowels are troubled for him; I will surely have mercy upon him, faith the Lord. Come Lord, and take away thy Wrath, make good thy Promise, that the Lord our God in the midst of us is mighty, he will save, he will rejoice over us with Joy, he will reit in his Love, he will joy over us with singing. O Lord, prepare us for the worst of evils, for Death the King of Terrors, that it may not come upon us as a snare. O make us know our End, and the Measure of our Days, that we may know how frail we are. Teach us to number our Days, that we may apply our Hearts unto Wildom. Come Lord Jesus, and be as the Roe on the Tops of the Mountains, our Life is hid with thee, O appear quickly, that we may quickly appear with thee in Glory; thou haft given us some Earnefts of thy Love, and the very Voice of thee Earnefts is Come, Come Lord Jesus, come quickly. And is it not thy Promise, surely I come quickly? O Hony, and sweetenes itself to the Soul that loves, and longs for the coming of Christ, for her perfect Happiness, and consummate Marriage. Amen, Even so, Come Lord Jesus. Amen, and Amen, Eccl. 4. 1. Psalm 66. 11. and 60. 3 & 80. 5. Zech. 13. 8. Jer. 30. 6. 7. Amos 9. 9. Jer. 31. 20. Zeph. 3. 15, 17. Job 18. 14. Psalm 39. 4, and 90. 12. §. The third Part of Prayer, is Thanksgiving for Private Blessings

We blest God for our Election, with all the golden Chain of Graces hanging on it.

We give thanks to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, whereby we are beloved for the Father's Sake, and for that golden chain of graces hanging thereon, having predestinated us to the adoption of children, by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will. Having accepted us in the Beloved, in whom we have redemption thro' his blood; Having given us the forgivenes of our sins, according to the riches of his grace; Having quickned us who were dead in trespasses and sins: Walking in times past according to the course of this World, according to the prince of the power of the air, the Spirit that now worketh in the children of Disobedience: But God who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickned us together with Christ: And hath raised us together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus, that in ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace unto

1. We beseech thee, Lord, art thou very far from them that call upon thee? or art thou far from them that cry? hath my voice gone astray from thee? or are my words, which thou dost require, not in thee? hast thou hid thy face against the prayer of the poor? turn thy ear, O Lord, and answer me: for I am poor and needy. My soul is in the midst of the bowels of hell; therefore do I drawers of law and equity understand? who is the contented soul, who is a man in whom is not taken the deceit? whom may I in the generation of thy children? whom may I in the generation of thy children? and to whom may I speak, that they may hear me? them that are near my table in my生成念。Thou hast shewed thy word unto Jacob, thy statutes and thy judgments unto Israel; Thou hast not dealt so with all nations, and as for thy judgments they have not known them: Thou hast been pleased by the foolishness of preaching, to save them that believe, by preaching as the first or second re-bound, by lively voice, or printed Sermons, Psal. 147. 19, 20. 1 Cor. 1. 21.

3. We beseech God for any Power over sin, Satan, or our own Corruptions.

We acknowledge Lord to thy Glory, that all our Strength is in thee, and in the power of thy might, Ephes. 6. 10.

4. We beseech God for our Creation, Preservation, Life, Health, Peace, Deliverance, Victories.

We beseech thee for our creation after thine own image, for our preservation, by thy loving kindness and truth, for our life once and again redeemed from Destruction; for our health once again restored; for our liberty, prosperity, peace in our walls and palaces; for our food and raiment convenient for us; for deliverance from judgments national and personal, for a little moment didst thou forsake us, but with great mercies hast thou gathered us: For all the victories over thine and thy Churches enemies; well may we sing, The Lord is our strength and our song, and he is become our salvation; He is our God, and we will prepare him an habitation, our fathers God, and we will exalt him: Awake, awake, O my soul, awake, awake, utter a song: Give thanks unto the Lord, call upon his name, make known his deeds among the people; sing unto him, sing Psalms unto him, and talk of all his wondrous works; glory in his name, let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord: Let the heavens be glad, and let the earth rejoice, and let men say among the nations, The Lord reigneth: O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for ever and ever, and let all the people say Amen, praised be God, Gen. 1. 27. Psal 40. 11. and 103. 4. Jer. 30. 17. Psal. 122. 7. Prov. 30. 8. Isa. 54. 7. Exod. 15. 2. Judg. 5. 12. 1 Chron. 16. 8, 9, 10, 31, 34, 36.

CHAP. XV.

Of Reading the Scriptures!

Sect. I.

Of the Nature of reading the Scriptures, what it is.

The second Duty in reference both to secret, private and publick Ordinances, is reading the holy Scriptures, which is nothing else but a kind of holy Conference with God, wherein we enquire after, and he reveals unto us himself and his Will: When we take in hand therefore the Book of Scriptures, we cannot otherwise conceive of our selves than as standing in God's Presence, to hear what he will say unto us: So much the Prophet seems to imply, when he expresseth his consulting with God's Word, C C C 2 by by that Phrase of going into the sanctuary of God, Psalm 73. 17: i. e. in going in unto God; as going into the sanctuary is termed, 2 Sam. 7. 18. So by reading the Word we come in unto God, we stand in the presence of God, to enquire at his Mouth.

S E C T. II.

Of fit Times and Seasons for reading the Scriptures.

There is a season to every purpose under the sun, faith Solomon, Eccl. 3. 1. The Observation whereof not only adds Grace to every good Action, but many Times facilitates the Work it self we have in hand: Now the Times and Seasons most convenient to this Duty of reading the Scriptures, are (besides the Sabbath) left to christian Wisdom; only we have general Commands to be frequent and diligent in Meditation of the Word, Josh. 1. 8. Psalm 119. 97. and the particular Times may be either uncertain and occasional, or constant and set.

For the first, we may have Occasions to read the Scriptures, to resolve us in Doubts, to comfort us in Afflictions, to direct us in Matter of Advice, to guide us in our Way, to assist us in Temptations, Psalm 73. 17. and 119. 50, 24, 105. Eph. 6. 17. Such or the like Occasions may make us to have recourse to the Word extraordinarily.

For the second, respect must be had both to Order and Proportion; for the former, viz. Order, godly Men have accustomed to begin the Day with religious Exercises, as with Prayer, Psal. 5: 3; and 55: 17; and 88: 13. Now altho' Prayer and the reading of the Word be two distinct Exercises, yet they mutually help one another, and consequently are fit to be joined together: And as we must thus begin the Day, so it is very fit to close up the day with the same Duties: The evening was David's Time, Psalm 55. 17. and Isaac's Time, Gen. 24. 63. For the latter, viz. Proportion of Time to be allotted for this Exercise, it must indifferently respect both the Duty, that we read all Scripture, and the Person that undertakes it; for more Time is required of Husbands, Parents, Magistrates, Ministers, than of others; tho' all must set apart some time for this Duty; but that I may in general commend the practice of this Order and Proportion to all, I shall compose a Calendar, to shew how we may read all the Scriptures over in a Year.

S E C T. III.

Of the Manner of preparation before the reading of the Scriptures.

There is a double Preparation needful, as 1. To the Undertaking. 2. To the Performance of the Duty, 1. For the Undertaking of the Work, we had need to be prepared with a firm and constant Resolution before we go about it, partly because of the slowness and inconstancy of our carnal Natures to holy Duties, and of our Unconstancy and Unsteadfastness in persisting and going through with them to the End; and partly because we know how dangerous it is to put one's hand to the plough and look back, Luke 9. 62. Now the Grounds upon which our Hearts must be settled in the Firmness of such Resolution, must be drawn

1. From the Sense of our own Blindness and Ignorance, who of our selves have not the knowledge nor understanding of a man, as Agur acknowledgeth, Pro. 30. 3.

2. From Assurance that this is the Means ordained by God to help us out of Ignorance: We have a more sure word of prophecy, whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth
Reading the Word.

3. From the Delight which we may find in the Ue of it: "This Delight drew holy David to the continual meditation of it, Psalm 119.96, 97. the Sweetness of the Word arising out of its suitableness to his sanctified Nature, overcame David.

2. A Man's Heart (being thus confirmed, with a full Purpose and settled Resolution to undertake and continue constantly in the Study of the holy Scriptures) must be more particularly prepared to the Work itself.

1. By cleansing the Heart of all superfluity and naughtiness, James 1.21, of all worldly Thoughts and Cares, of all unquiet Passions of Anger, Fear, Joy, Sorrow, etc.

2. By awing the Heart with due reverence of God before whom we stand, because he can find us out in all our Failings, as knowing our very thoughts afar off, much more having all our ways before him, Psalm 139.2. and 119.178. and being one who will not forgive our willful Transgressions: Such Considerations will cause us to receive the Word with that trembling of Heart which God so much respects, Isa. 66.2.

3. By stirring up in our selves a spiritual Appetite to the Word, such as Job found in himself, who esteemed the words of his mouth more than his necessary food; and David in himself, who opened his Mouth, and panted, and longed for his commandments, Psalm 119.131. which Appetite ariseth both from the Sense of our Emptiness (for the full soul loadeth the heavy comb, Prov. 27.7.) and from the Finiteness of the Word to supply unto us whatsoever we want and hunger after, as being the Food of our Souls.

4. By awaking our Faith; and to this Purpose we must consider, that it is the Word of him that speaketh righteousness, whose faithfulness is to all generations; and that God hath made it his power to salvation, mighty thro' him to cast down strong holds, and hath promised that it shall not return empty, but shall surely execute that for which it was sent, Isaiah 45.19. Psalm 119.90. Rom. 1.16. 2 Cor. 10.5. Isaiah 55.10, 11.

5. By softening the Heart, and making it pliable; and to this Purpose we must cast aside our Will and Wildoms, which stiffens our Hearts against God's Counsels, and seek after the Spirit of Tendersnes, which is called, The opening of the heart, Acts 16.14.

6. By lifting up the Heart unto God in Prayer, to open our eyes, to enlarge our hearts, to incline our hearts to his testimonies, to keep them to the end, and (according to his Promise) to send his Spirit, and to lead us into all truth, Psal. 119.18, 32, 36, 112. John 14, 16, 30. Some short effectual Prayer to this Purpose, to close up our Meditations in this Preparation of our selves to the reading of the Word, representing unto God our Dependence on him alone, to prosper us in the use of his own Ordinance, seldom returns without a gracious Answer.

Sect. IV.

Of the necessary Duties in reading of the Scriptures.

The Duty now fallen upon, it is good for our profiting to observe these Particulars:

1. That in the Beginning of our reading in the Bible, or of each Book in the Bible, we view and read over some analytical Table, that so we may better mark the Drift and Scope of the Holy Ghost, and that we may with singular Ease-
Ease and Delight remember the same:
To that Purpofe I have added fuch a Table towards the End of this Chapter which may well serve for the proposed Ends.

2. That we attend diligently to what we read: Now there is good Reason to this Attention, 1. Because of the Authority and Wisdom of him that speaks; A child muft hear his father, Prov. 4. 1. and a Subject muft attend reverently to the Words of a Ruler, Job 29. 21. yet none of them is our Potter as God is, Isaiah 63. 4. nor made us as he did, Psalm 100. 3. nor confequently can challenge fuch refeft from us as he may. 2. Because of the Matter or Subject which the Scriptures handle, not only for the Weight and Importance of those high Mysteries which are therein revealed, but for the great Interfet which we ourfelves have in those Things, as containing our Evidences and Directions, which we and our children muft observe, that we may do them, John 5. 39. Deut. 29. 29.

3. That we keep fill Jesus Chrift in our eye, in the Perufal of the Scripture, as the End, Scope and Substance thereof:
What are the whole Scriptures, but as it were the spiritual twading-clothes of the holy Child Jesus? 1. Chrift is the Truth and Substance of all the types and Shadows. 2. Chrift is the Substance and Matter of the Covenant of Grace, under all Administrations thereof; under the Old Testament, Chrift is vailed; under the new Covenant, revealed. 3. Chrift is the Centre and meeting place of all the promifes, for in him all the promifes of God are Yes and Amen, 2 Cor. 1. 20.
4. Chrift is the thing signified, sealed and exhibited in the Sacraments of the old and new Testament. 5. Scripture- genealogies use to lead us on to the true line of Chrift. 6. Scripture-chrono-logies are to discover to us the Times and Seafons of Chrift. 7. Scripture-laws are our School- master to bring us unto Chrift, the Moral by correfting, the Ceremonial by directing. 8. Scripture-gospel is Chrift's light, whereby we know him;
Chrift's Voice, whereby we hear and follow him; Chrift's cords of love, whereby we are drawn into sweet union and communion with him; yea, it is the power of God unto fcvation, unto all them that believe in Chrift Jesus, Rom. 1. 16.
and therefore think of Chrift fmall as the very Substance, Marrow, Soul and Scope of the whole Scriptures.

4. That we obferve fome special Paffa-ges, where we find things reprefented unto us, either more weighty in themselves, or more proper to our felves, for our particular felfe and occasions. I deny not but all God's testimonies are wonderful in themselves; All of them pure: All profitable to give understanding; And to cleanfe our way; And to make the man of God perfect to every good work. Psalm 119. 129, 140, 130, 9. 2 Tim. 3.
16. Yet there are fome Things in Scripture more important than others, and more ufeful than others, for fome Persons, Times and Occasions: And to this Purpofe, I have in the End of this Chapter compos'd fome heads, or common Places, for Observation of fuch profitable Things.

5. That we approve and affent to that we read, both because it is the truth of God, and because till our judgment approve it, we cannot believe it, nor possibly bring our hearts to yield to it true and fincere Obedience: It is true, that evry godly Man at all times gives his Af-fent to every Truth of God revealed unto him, yet that Affent is not alike firm at all Times, because the Evidence by which he acknowledgeth it, is not alike clear at all times; but when it shines flaies to us clearly, when Men clearly discern the Glory and Beauty of those heavenly Mysteries, and taste of the Goodness of them, they cannot but ravish Readers with Admiration, yea transport them with strong and heavenly Affections of love, joy, and desire, Psalm 119. 97, 111, 131, 162. Observe, that it happens sometimes such spiritual Raptures may seize on a Man, even while he is reading the scriptures, as the Disciples hearts burned within them, whilst our Saviour talked with them going to Emmaus, Luke 24. 32. And if so, then the Heart opens itself to close with and draw in that ravishing Object, which will necessarily inflame the Soul to make a Pause; And these Pauses rather further than hinder us in our Work; for a godly Spirit quickned by such sweet refreshings, receives Increase of Alacrity, and is thereby strengthened to go on with much greater Life, to the End of this holy Exercise.

SECT. V.
Of Duties after reading the Scriptures.

The End of studying the Scriptures is not only knowledge, but practice; wherefore after we have read any Part of the Scriptures, our special care must be,
1. To recount and revolve in our Minds thofe Things we have read, and seriously to meditate on them.
2. To search out the true Sense and Meaning of the Words, together with the Scope unto which they are directed, and if our own Understanding be too weak, we may do well to make use of other Men's Writings or Conference.
3. To single out and apply what is of more special Use to our Selves in such Sort, as if we were specially named in any Precept, Reproof, Promise, Commination, Consolation, or the like, which is the most effectual Means to awaken and stir up Affections, and to set on our Endeavours, as manifestly appears in good Job; his Example, 2
Chro. 34. 20, &c.
4. To work thofe Things upon our Hearts, till they warm our Affections:
This is best done;
1. By appropriating them unto our Selves; for that which affects us, is that which must nearly concerns us.
2. By believing what we read as undoubtedly true; thus David believed,
Psalm 119. 138, 151, 160.
3. By loving thofe Counfels of God which we embrace by Faith, for their Purity, Perfection, Righteousness, and especially for the Usefulnes and wonderful Benefit of them to our Selves, in quickning the Spirit, in giving wisdom, in converting the Soul, Psal. 119. 63, 98, 99.
and 19. 7. Thofe eminent excellencies of the Word, cannot chofe but make these heavenly Counfels precious in our Eyes, and bring the Soul to delight in them exceedingly.
5. To advise about, and to resolve upon the Means to bring all into practice, especially for thofe Duties which are laid before us in reading the Word, or some Part of the Word at fuch a particular time.
6. To examine our Ways, how near they come up to the Rule, or come short of it; that on the one Side we may be encouraged in conforming our practice to the Law, and withal rejoice in the grace of God, working in us with thankfulness; and on the other Side, that we may be humbled and grieved for our Failings, and driven to seek unto Chrift to make up our Peace, and then look better to our Ways for time to come, as David doth, Psalm 119. 131, 132, 133, &c

SECT.
Reading the Word.

Sect. VI.
A Kalendar purposed to shew how we may read over the Scripture several ways once in a Year.

In Reading the Scripture, we spake of a Proportion of Time to be allotted for this Exercise; and that we may so proportion our reading with our Time, that we read all the Bible or Scriptures over in a Year, I had composed a Kalendar, shewing how we might read it over several Ways.

1. By reading every Day three Chapters or more in the Old Testament, and two or more in the New.
2. By reading three Chapters a Day, and some more of the Psalms. 3. By reading strictly three Chapters a Day of those that edifie most.
4. By reading two Chapters a Day, most of the Old Testament, and all of the New.
5. By reading only one Chapter a day out of such Books as are principal, and a Rule for the rest: But every private Christian may with a little Industry find out this, or some other Kalendar more beneficial to him; and therefore (not to swell this Book needlessly) I shall leave it to him; only with this Note, that after all these Forms, it were not unprofitable, if he read at least every Morning a Psalm, and every evening a Chapter of those that edifie most in their Order, which is now the constant Uie of a weak Christian in his Family-Duties.

Sect. VII.
Of Heads or common Places of Observations for profitable Things.

Declared before (Sect. 4.) that in reading the Scripture, it were good for our profiting to observe some special Passages, where we find things represented unto us, either more weighty in themselves, or more proper to our selves, for our particular use and occasions; and to that Purpose I shall now compose some Heads or common Places for Observation of such profitable Things: Some I know herein advise these four Points: 1. That every Christian following this Direction, should make a little Paper book of a sheet or two, and write on the Top of every Leaf, the Title that he would observe in his reading. 2. That he would observe such Places as strike him in the Face, that are so evident, that the Heart cannot look off them. 3. That he set down under each Title, only the Book, Chapter and Verse, and not the Words, for that would tire him in the End; only when he hath done his quarter-tasks, or Years-tasks, then he may write out the choicest Things, as he thinks good. 4. That he look not at the profit of this Course the first Week or Month, but let him consider how rich it will make him at the Year's End; surely after he hath gathered them, he would not sell his Collections for a great Price, if it were but for the good they may do him in the evil Day, when it shall come upon him: Of these I shall give you the experience of a weak Christian, the unworthiest Servant of Christ, in the following Section and Paragraphs.

Sect. VIII.
Common places observed by one in his private reading of the Scriptures.

PlACES that in reading he found Rebuke of Corruption in his Nature or Practice.

Reading the Word.

1 Pet. 2. 1, Rev. 2. 5. and 3. 15, 16, 17, 19.
2. Places that hold forth Comforts against the Burden of his daily Infirmitie, inward Temptations and Afflictions of Spirit.

3. Places that establish his Heart against the Fear of falling away.

4. Places that directed him in his particular Calling.

Job 33. 23, 24. Isaiah 49. 4, 5, and 50. 4. and 52. 11. and 58. 1. and 62. 1. 6, 7. Jer. 15. 19. and 23, 22. and 48. 10. Ezek. 3. 1. 18, 19, 20, 21. and 33. 2, 3, 4, 5. 6, 7, 8. 9. and 34. 10. Mat. 2. 7. Mat. 10. 16. 17, 18. Acts 20. 20, 21, 23. 1 Cor. 1. 5. and 14, 1. 12. 2 Cor. 4. 5, 6. 7, and 6, 3. 45, 5. 6. and 7. 12. 15. Phil. 2. 3. 1 Thess. 1. 23. 3, 4, 5. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 17. 1 Tim. 1. 4. and 4. 12.
5. Promises that comfort him against outward Crosses.

6. Places that hold forth his Privileges in Christ, above all the Wicked in the World.

8. Places containing sweet Passages, which melted his Heart.

Reading the Word.

Sect. IX.

Of the Use of these Collections.

The first Head was, Places that in reading, he found Rebuke of Corruption in his Nature and Practice: The Use hereof is to open his Eyes, and to let him see the Anatomy of his corruptions, and plainly to perceive what Things are in his Nature, that God hath a quarrel against; so that now it is Time, that as such a one is guided by the finger of God to know his Corruptions, so he should go to the Spirit of God for Mortification.

The second Head was, Places that hold forth Comforts against the Burden of his daily infirmities, inward Temptations, and Afflictions of Spirit: The Use hereof is, when such a particular Temptation comes, to eye the Promises, and to betake the Soul unto the Lord for Succour promised: This is the Voice of Faith, Be of good courage, here is a word of comfort, and there is help enough in heaven; the Devil may thrust sore at thee, but he shall not get the victory, for God is with thee; no question, but for these sins the Lord blesseth thee a pardon of course, only be vigilant and watchful at all Times, in all places, upon all occasions, against all sins, with all the degrees thereof, especially against sin of constitution, calling, company, corrupt education: Indeed, this is the Property of Faith, both to rest on the Promises, and to keep waking, for nothing is more wisely fearful than Faith, nor more cautious and circumspect than holy Fear.

The third Head was, Places that establish his heart against the fear of falling away: The Use hereof is, in case of any such Doubt, to learn and think upon these precious Places, that we may our own particular, I esteem most precious, and of singular use.
Reading the Word, 285

may be settled in believing our Perseverance. This will encourage and quicken us in our Christian Course, stablish us in Well-doing, and hearten us against the greatest Difficulties: Their Objection, who say, The Doctrine of Assurance of not falling away, doth set open a Door to all Licentiousness, is most false; for the more Assurance of Salvation in a Man's Soul, the more Fear and Trembling in a Man's course, he who is best assured, hath most power of God's Spirit, and the stronger the Spirit of God is within, the more Holines and Fruits of Grace are without.

The fourth Head, was, Places that directed him in his particular Calling: The Uie hereof, is to consider the several Texts, as the crowing of Cocks, which ring in his Ears: When wilt thou arise? why tarriest thou so long? why stirrest thou so slowly? See how the Sun rejoiceth as a Giant to run his Race, why then dost not thou sharpen thyself to the Work which God hath laid on thee? it may be thou meetest with many Troubles, Disgraces, Oppositions; but what then? is not this God's Command? is not this a service to the Lord Jesus? doth not the Lord assist? and is not he Payer-sufficient? it may be thy Labour is in vain, thy Work is without Fruit; and what then? is not thy Labour thy Duty? and goodSuccess God's Work, what hast thou to do with Thoughts about the Blessing and Success of thy Labours? look thou to thy Duty, view the Texts well, and obey them, and leave the Blessing of thy Endeavours to the good Will and Pleasure of God: lay aside all care of the Event, and roll thy Burthen upon the Lord, who will justify thee: Thus these Texts cry upon him to submit to God's Direction, and to depend thereupon his Help and Assistance. This is the double Duty we all owe, 1. To ask Counsel at the Word, and to follow the Determination of it; for a true Heart is ever obedient, subjecting itself to the Will of God, as the Rule of Holiness, acknowledging his Sovereignty, subscribing to his Wisdom as most absolute, and to his Ways as most true, just, and merciful. 2. To put over all our Business into God's Hands, in a Manner out of our own, trusting in him for Ability to work, and for good Success to come by them.

The fifth Head, is, Promises that comforted him against outward crosses: The Uie hereof, is, to live by Faith in Afflictions; for then is Faith in these Promises the only stay and support of the Heart: I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the Goodness of the Lord in the land of the living: This is my comfort in mine affliction, for thy word hath quickned me, Psalm 27. 15. and 119. 49, 50. In daily and lighter Trials, a Man of mild and patient Temper, may hold up the Head; but when one Deep calleth unto another, and the Waves flow over our Head, when Nature yieldeth, and the Heart fainteth, then to stand fast, and be of good Courage, is the only Property of Faith, which is grounded upon the rich Mercy of God made over to us in these precious Promises. I cannot deny, but Distrust many Times wrings from a Christian such Voices as these, Were it anything but this, I could bear it; but now, if in Confidence of his Impotency, he will seek to Christ to make him able, and he will fasten himself upon him by a true and lively Faith in these Promises, he may find strength enough through his Might, whereby to bear that comfortably, which otherwise he may find most intolerable. Faith drives a Man out of himself, as not able to bear the leafy Cross as he ought, and through the Power of God, it enables him to bear bear that best with which God is pleased to try him.

The sixth Head, is, Places that hold forth his privilege in Christ, above all the wicked in the World: The Use hereof is, 1. To believe and to rejoice in them: All these privileges are mine, will a soul say, the Lord hath given them for my portion, how then should I glory in God, triumph over Death, Sin, and Hell, through my Saviour? 2. To live unto him who hath bestowed them on the Soul: And now, O Israel, (after all his Kindness) what doth the Lord require of thee, but to fear the Lord thy God, and to love him and serve him with all thy Heart, and to keep his Commandments? Deut. 10. 12, 13. Oh (faith the soul) how should I now think much of Christ? and speak much of Christ? and converse much with Christ? and do much for Christ? and suffer much for the Lord Jesus Christ? and if I cannot do much, how should I desire and will to do much, which is accepted as if I did it? how should I continually go to him, to enable me to do more, than of myself I can do? nay, how should I mourn and lament for what I have not done, either through want of Ability or Will: This is the Use of such glorious Privileges, to believe in Christ, and to live unto Christ, 2 Cor. 8. 12.

The seventh Head, was, Places containing Passages that even melted his heart: The Use hereof, is to call such Passages to remembrance in Times of Mourning, only be sure that our Affections prove spiritual, and not merely natural: I make no question but David's longing after God, Psalm 42. 1, 2. his panting after the Word, Psalm 119. 140. his Delight in the Sweetness of it, Psalm 119. 103. his trembling at God's Presence, Psalm 119. 120. his Grief for the Breach of his Law, Psalm 119. 136. were spiritual Affections; for they were raised by spiritual Objects, so it is good for us to see to our Affections that they be raised by spiritual Objects, and then they prove singularly useful; it may be indeed that when a Christian peruseth over again the fame Texts, he shall not have the like Operation as before: all the Godly shall find by their own Experience, that thofe Instructions, Reproofs and Conformations, which at sometimes awaken, wound and revive their Spirits, at another Time move them nothing at all; sometimes the spiritual Sense is benum'd, and they hear only by the hearing of the ear, Job 42. 5. but at other Times, when thofe Senses are awakned, they taste and fee, and feel the fame, and consequently are affected, as Job was in that Place, chap. 42. 5. so it at any Time we find thofe Meltings stirred in us by a spiritual Object, and that they are answerable to God's Dealings with us, then we can rejoice or mourn reasonably, when God calls us to either, Eccles. 7. 14. I take this to be an holy and happy Use made of thofe Places.

Now the eighth Head, was, Places that in reading, he found sensible comfort and Ravifhing of Heart in: The Use hereof is not only for present, but whiles he lives in any Diffrefs, for then he may have recourse to these Places, as to fo many Wells of Joy; and if, in this Grief, one, or two, or ten will not comfort him, yet it may please God that none of them will have Spirit and Life in them; besides, it cannot but marvellously eftablish his Faith, when he remembers in how many distinct Places of Scripture the Lord was pleased to comfort his Soul.

The ninth Head, is, Places hard to be understood, of which he desired and endeavoured after Resolution: The Use hereof is specified in the very Title itself; and the Resolution of the hard Texts cited (viz. those Titles of severa
one of these three Words at the conclusion of their Writings or Sentences, or, in the End of their Prayers, Amen, Selah, or, Salem, which signifies, Peace: And 'tis noted to be a Word to express an Affirmation, or giving Assent to that which is prayed, or said, as Amen is, or else it imports a Wish, Vow, or Desire that the Thing spoken be certain or may be for ever, i. e. that it may be performed: And it is to be noted, that it is usually placed, when some special Thing, worthy Attention or Observation, is spoken or delivered, or some Desire to be performed, whether it be in the End, or in any sentence of the Psalm, Prayer, &c. that by a little stop or pause of the Breath, the Matter, Worth or Excellency of the thing may better be considered: And you shall not find it in any part of the Scripture, saving in the Psalms, and the prayer of the prophet Habukkuk, ch. 3. 3. whereupon 'tis observed by Drusius and others, to be a Word of Note, used in those Ditties and Musick, to make a stop or slay, that the Matter uttered may be better minded of the Hearers, either to affirm it by their Assent, or to desire the performance of what is sung by that intermission, which seems to be most probable, because the Greek Translators of the Hebrew Bible express the Word Selah, by the Greek Word Diaisma, which signifies a stop or intermission, and so comes to be used in the Psalmody, and is rithmi commutatio, a change of the Note, or, vicissitudo canendi, or, as some say, alterius sensus exordium.

Psalm 4. To the chief Musician on Neginoth, a Psalm of David.

The Meaning is this, The King's Prophet David composed this Psalm, and delivered it to be sung and played in the Congregation to him that was the chief Overseer, Matter, and set over the rest of that Musick or Comfort, upon the Instrument called, Neginoth, which

Reading the Words

Psalm 3. The Title is, A Psalm of David, when he fled from Abolom his Son.

In which three Things are contained, 1. The Author thereof, David King of Israel, who composed it. 2. The Kind of the Psalm; which Word [Psalms] is a Word generally appliable to all those spiritual Hymns, without particular Application to the Ceremonies of Persons, Time, or Manner of singing, as many others are: It was usually delivered to the whole Quire, on the Sabbaths and Festival-Days, to be sung by Voice, and to be fitted to the Instruments used to be played upon in the Temple. 3. The Expression of the Time, and Occasion of the composing thereof; i. e. when he fled from Abolom: The story is set down, 2 Sam. 15. Many were the Troubles wherewith this good King was afflicted, especially after his sin in the Matter of Uriah, but never any so grievous, as to be driven out of his own Kingdom by his own Son, and his subjects to fall away from him, and to follow his Enemy, that fought his Life and Thorne.

Hereupon he makes his sorrowful Complaint to God in this Psalm, and appoints it to be sung in the Church for his own comfort, and instruction to himself and the whole Church, in such Times of calamities.

And to this his pathetical Moan, he joins this Word Selah, as a Note of the Attention of the Mind, and stop or pause in the Song.

For understanding the Meaning and Use of the Word Selah, note, that Selah is an Hebrew Word, and signifies as much as Amen, for ever, temper, in sempiternum, in seculo, &c. eis ton aiona, in æternum.

Hierom observes, that the Jews used which founded by playing on with the Hand: To understand this the better, we may observe, that some Instruments used in the Jewish Temple were \textit{pneumatics}, windy, such as founded by Breath, and Motion of the Fingers, as, Organs that are blown by Bellows, and all hollow Instruments, as, Trumpets, Rams-horns, Cornets, \textit{c.} such as the Priests and Levits used in the holy Ordinances, from the Hebrew Word \textit{Neshiloth}, which signifieth, born through or bellow.

Others were \textit{pulsatilia}, such as were played upon with the Fingers only, either by a Quill, or otherwise; as the Harp, Dulcimer, \textit{c.} and had Strings; and of this sort was the Instrument in the Title of this Psalm, called \textit{Neginoth}; now to every one of these several Kinds of Instruments, there was one who excelled therein, appointed Overseer, or Chief of the Comfort, and to direct those under him in the Song, as there was of such as were the Singers also for the Song: Hence it is, that the Psalm being committed to be sung to the Master of that Order, 'tis said, \textit{To the chief Musician, or, to him that excelleth: A Psalm of David.}

\textbf{Psalm 5. To the chief Musician upon Nebiloth, a Psalm of David.}

The Title of this Psalm may be understood by that which is said in the Title of the fourth Psalm, differing in nothing but in the Name of the Instrument, which were one of those that were hollow, and founded by Breath, as the Hebrew Word shews, as atore, \textit{c.} Some of the Hebrew Writers say, It was a Musical Instrument, whole found was like the Buzzing of Bees, or, in regard of the Multitude of them which are like an Army for Number, and for that the Master of that Quire was appointed to pray for all Israel, as for all the Armies of the Israelites against the Armies of their Enemies that came against them in Multitude and Noise, like a swarm of Bees; thereupon he gives the Title, \textit{Super exercitus Psalmus Davidis, &c.} but improperly, the Title having no Conformity with the Substance of the Psalm, nor is it approved by our Interpreters, &c. but the first followed.

\textbf{Psalm 6. To the chief Musician on Neginoth upon Sheminith, a Psalm of David.}

The Meaning of this Title may be understood by that which is said afore in the fourth Psalm, saying that there is added, upon \textit{Sheminith}, that is, it was played with the eighth Tune, Note, or Strain, and sung with a very clear and high Voice; we may better understand it by what is said, 1 Chr. 15. 21. Mattithia, Eliphaleb, and others were set over the Bases and Tenor, which is the Sheminith, or the Eighth, or Diaplan, as Musicians call it so, the Meaning is; this Psalm was to be ordered by the chief Musician of that Comfort, to be sung and played upon the Instrument \textit{Neginoth}, with the highest and utmost Strain of Sound and Voice, or Instrument of ten Strings.

\textbf{Psalm 7. Shiggaion of David, which he sang unto the Lord, concerning the Words of Cush the Benjamite.}

This was a Psalm of David, sung according to an ordinary Song, the Beginning whereof was \textit{Shiggaion}, for 'tis usual with us also to make Songs to be sung according to the Tune of some others that were made before.

\textit{Tremelius and some others, from the Hebrew Word, which signifies errare, &c. titles it, Ode erratica, a wandring Sonnet, because it is mixt, and confis of divers Forms and Distinctions of Voice and Sound, in playing artificially, joined to complete the Musick, as we see resembled in Prick-song.}

And
And where it is said, Concerning the Words of Cuib, it shews the Occasion of the Psalm, namely, That when David was most unjustly flandered by his Enemies, and especially by Cuib, &c: he makes his Complaint to God in this Psalm, desiring him to revenge his Innocency, &c. and to be delivered from the Persecution of Saul and his Flatterers, such as this Cuib was; \[ Words \] i.e. Accusations, &c. who this Cuib was, is doubtful. Hierom affirms it to be Saul, and gives his Reasons for it: Others, which I think is more probable, think it to be some Courtier of Ethiopia, whom Saul entertained in his Court, and was his special Favourite, as if he had been of his Family or Stock; for Cuib is the Name of, and taken for Ethiopia; this Man, for Hatred against David, and Flattery towards Saul, falsely accused him to Saul, and practised all the Mischiefs he could against him.

Psalm 8. To the chief Musician upon Gittith, a Psalm of David.

The Title of this Psalm is diversly given, some thus, To the chief Musician, pro torcularibus, for Winepresses; as if it was a Prayer for Fruitfulness of that Fruit. Others, that it was composed by David in the city of Gaith, when he was banished: Others, that that Kind of Instrument was invented and used there: That which is most probable and agreeable with the Scripture, is, That Gittith was an Instrument which Jedusban and his Posterity, being chief of the third Classis, or Order of Musicians, used to play upon, the custody whereof was committed to Obed-Edom the Gittite, and his Family, that was of the Posterity of Jedusban; who for himself and his Brethren, for his Time, ministrad and used them in the holy service, 1 Chron. 16, 37, 38.

Psalm 9. To the chief Musician on Muth Labben, a Psalm of David.

Muth-Labben was the Beginning of a Tune, after which this Psalm was to be sung by the Quire, which contains a Thanksgiving for his Victory, and for the Death of Goliah, the Champion of the Philistines against Israel; therefore some read the Title thus, Magistro Symphonie de morte illius bellatoris, i.e. Goliah, &c. which typically is applied to Christ, as a Song of Joy of the Church and Saints of God, for Christ’s triumphant Victory over the Tyranny of Satan, and his Kingdom of sin and death: Some divide the Words, and make Muth-labben two distinct Words, and make the Sense to be this, Victor, super mortem filii, Psalmus David, as it David had made it for the Death of his Son, as Seldan; which Sense Austin millikes, and yields his Reasons for the former, arguing from the Substance of the Psalm, in that he mourned, and rejoiced not for his Son’s Death, therefore the first Sense is best.

Psalm 16. The Title is, Michtam of David, i.e. A golden or excellent Psalm.

The Meaning is, it is a Psalm made by David, to be sung after a certain Tune, named Michtam, well known among the Jews, which for the Excellency, is compared to Gold, the Beginning of which Tune was Michtam; or else it is taken for a musical Instrument of special Esteem amongst them.

Psalm 22: To the chief Musician on Aijeleth Shahar; i.e. The Hind of the Morning.

Some take Aijeleth Shahar, to be the Name of some common song, or to be the Beginning of some ordinary Tune, according to which this Psalm was sung; that’s the Geneva Note, which may be so: But Tremelius, Lyria and divers, take it to be another, and better, as I think, who interpret those Words, in, or at the Dawning of the Day, as you would would say, between Break of the Day and Sun-rising; because, at that Time, the comfortable Light or shine of the Day begins to break forth.

The Meaning of the Title being this, David made this Psalm, and appointed it to be sung in the Church by the Priests and Levites every Morning, so soon as the Day brake out; at which Time it was by the Law and Custom their Duty to exercise their Ministry in the Quire, and to sing Psalms, which service the Lord would have to be done by the Church, that their Faith and Expectation of Christ might daily be renewed and had in Memory; the Prophecy of whose Kingdom and Sufferings are represented in this Psalm, looking (as the Day springs from on high) that Christ should visit them.

Psalms 30. Title, A Psalm or Song of David, at the Dedication of the House of David, which he composed to be sung at the Dedication of his House.

Which Title sheweth the Occasion of this Song, and Time when it was used, which was at such a Time as he had built and finished his House of Cedar upon Mount Zion, which many good Authors think probable, and follow.

Or else, when he was returned to his House again in safety, after Absalom in his Rebellion had profaned it, and defiled it by his incestuous Wickedness with his Father's Concubines; and so to purge it from all Uncleanliness, he dedicates it to the Lord, praying him to sanctifie and make it holy again, that it might be blessed and acceptable to himself, 2 Sam. 16. 22 which is the Opinion of learned Tremellius, and the Matter of the Psalm serves to imply as much; for it was a Custom prescribed by the Law, Deut. 20. 5. that who-after the Lord had afflicted him with sickness, and grievous Chastisements, to put himself (and others of God's Children in like case) in remembrance of his sin, which caused them; (which some think was the Matter of Urias) and to admonish him of God's Goodness, who had delivered him from those Punishments, and pardoned his fin.

Some apply this to the Agonies of Christ; and his powerful Victory over sin, Death, &c.

Psalm 39. Title, To the chief Musician, even to Jeduthun, a Psalm of David. [Magistri Symphoniae Jeduthun.]

This Psalm was composed by Davil, and appointed to be sung and played on Instruments to Jeduthun, even to Jeduthun, i.e. To that excellent Musician, who for the Excellency of his skill, was the chief of his Order, and Father to thole of his Stock, which prephesied with a Harp, to give Thanks and Praise to the Lord, as 1 Chron. 25.3.

Psalm 42. Title, To the chief Musician, Maschil, for the Sons of Korah.

A Psalm committed to the Sons, i.e.
Posterity of Korah, of whom it seems Heman was chief, for the third Classis, or Order of these Musicians, to whom the holy Service belonged, 1 Chron. 25.
5. All these were under the Hand of the Father, viz. Heman, who sung in the House of the Lord with Cymbals, Pflasteries and Harps, &c. that it might not only be kept, but sung by them in the Tune beginning with the Word Maschil, that both the Singers and Hearers might be instructed in the Matter thereof, according to the Signification of the Word.

Some think the Psalm was made by the Sons of Korah, after his Rebellion against Moses; to whom, after their Repentance, &c. God gave the Spirit of Prophecy, whereby they made divers Psalms, whereas this was one, and therein foretold Things to come of Christ, &c. which conceal Augustin mis-likes, neither doth it agree with the Matter of the Psalm; besides, the Hebrew Letter Lamed, being prefixed to note the Dative Case, shows it was made by David, for them to act by their Mu-fick, and not of them; and that David in his Banishment, to shew his Grief and Zeal for the House and Temple, and to quicken his Faith and confidence in God for his Comfort, made this Psalrn for his own and the Churches Instruction in the like calamity, and delerived to Heman and his Sons, to be used in the Song.

Psalm. 45. Title, To the chief Musician, Shoshannim, for the Sons of Korah, Maschil, a Song of Loves.

Shoshannim was an Instrument amongst the Jews, that had six strings, according to the Lily that hath six leaves or stems, thereby called Hexachordum, on which Instrument this Psalm was delivered by David to be sung to, and played to by Korah and his Posterity; it begins with the Word Maschil (as a-tore) i.e. To give instruction to God's People touching the spiritual Marriage and Love between Christ and his Church, whereof Solomon's Marriage with Pharab's Daughter was a Figure and Type;
and likewisr to shew the perfect Love that ought to be between the Husband and Wife; hence called, A Song of Loves, not unlike to Solomon's Canticles:
And some put this Difference between a Song and a Psalm, that, where no Instrument, but the Voice only is;
this, the contrary: The Song is, when the Instrument begins, and the Voice follows; a Psalm, when the Voice or Ditty begins, and the Instrument fol-

Psalm 46. Title, To him that excelleth upon Alamoth, or the chief Musician for the Sons of Korah upon Alamoth.

Some understand this Alamoth, to be the Tune of a Song; I take it otherwise, after the best Expositions, to be meant of an Instrument, not a Tune, the meaning being thus much, A Psalm committed by David to be sung, and to him that was chief of the Sons of Korah, to be played upon the Instrument called Alamoth; for, 1 Chron. 15. 10. it is expressly said, that Zacharias played with Psalteries upon Alamoth, and then they played first upon that Instrument, and so then sung the Psalm or Ditty.

Psalm 50. Title, A Psalm of Asaph.

Some think it is so called, for that Asaph was the Author of it, having the Gift of Prophecy, which is but a weak Reason, because all the rest were indeed with a prophetical Spirit as well as he. Augustine and other learned Divines, take it to be so called, not for that Asaph made it, but because it was committed to him and his Posterity to be the Singers thereof, 1 Chron. 25. 2.

Psalm 53. Title, To the chief Musician upon Mabalath Maschil.

Hieronymus thinks Mabalath to signify a Tune of the whole Quire, or Company of Singers, and that David committed it to be sung by the whole Company of Levites, &c. But others better take it to be an Instrument, such as was made to sound by breath and blowing, by reason of the Hallownefs thereof; the rest is expounded before.

Psalm 56. Title, To the chief Musician upon Jona
d Ebenezer, and Micham of David, when the Philistines took him in Gath.

The Words of this Title in the Original, have a double Signification, and may be interpreted either metaphorically, a dumb Dove, for to Jonah signifies; in a far or strange country; to Jeremiah: or more properly, for a soul suffering violence in a far country; for however usually the first Word is interpreted, Columba, a Dove, yet it is taken also in the other Sense properly, and in its natural signification, as Jonah suffering Violence; in both which Sense David applieth this Title to himself in his great Distresses: For David by a Metaphor, compares himself to dumb Doves in a far country, because when he was driven out of Judea, his own Country, by Saul, that fought his Life, and from the Worship of God, and forced to flee to Gath amongst the Philistines, yet with Patience, Meekness and Silence, escaping, he neither fought Revenge, tho' it was in his Power, nor shewed any Impatience, but betook himself in silence unto God, as if he had been Dumb, and mourning like a Dove; and we may apply this Psalm to Christ, of whom he was a Type.

Or which is better approved by Junius, he referreth it (which Sense the Words likewise bear) to the soul-suffering Violence, enclosed by a Band or Multitude of Philistines, Enemies both to him and his God. Some read the Words, To the Master of the Harmony, which is all one in Sense, as, To him that excelleth, or chief Musician, Micham of David; i.e. The Excellency of this Psalm is as precious as Gold.

Psalm 57. Title, To the chief Musician, Alatsabith Micham of David, when he fled from Saul in the cave, or into the cave.

The general Notes on this Title intimate, that the Words are either the Beginning of the Song, Destroy not, or else Words uttered by David in his Extremity, staying and bridling his Passion, &c. Michtam of David; as if he should say, This was the golden or excellent Sonnet which David composed and delivered to the Levites to be sung, and after the Tune of the Psalm beginning with Altasibith, when he was in some wonderful Fear and Danger of Death in the Cave of Adullam or Engedi, whither he was driven by Saul, and so compassed about by his Guard, that he saw nothing but Death in the Cave, or Destruction if he came out, and thereupon prayeth, that he would not destroy, i.e. suffer him to be destroyed, which was the Occasion of this: See the Story, 1 Samuel 22. and 24.

Psalm 60. Title, To the chief Musician upon Shubhan-Eduth, Michtam of David, to teach when he strove with Aram Naharaim, and Aram Zobah, when Joab returned and smote of Edom in the valley of Salt, twelve Thousand.

Shubhan-Eduth is either the Name of some Instrument to be played upon in singing this Psalm, or the Beginning of some Song, so called according to the Tune wherewith David would have this Psalm sung; or Michtam i.e. an excellent Song which may be sung either upon the Instrument or Tune Shubhan-Eduth, or that of Michtam.

Some Titles have it Magistro Symphoniae in Hexachorda, and then it signifies an Instrument of strings, upon which David would have this Psalm played, to testify unto the whole Church his Faith, and the Benefit of his Victory given him by God, against the Aramites of Mesopotamia, and the other Aramites that inhabited Zobah, for which Cause the Word, in signification, is put in that Title; for further Explication of the Words declaring the Time and Occasion of the making this, see the Story, 2 Sam. 8. and 1 Chron. 18.

Psalm 72. Title, A Psalm for Solomon, or of Solomon.

Not that Solomon made it, or was the Writer thereof, but that it concerned him, or was composed on his Behalf by his Father David, when being ready to die, he commends his Son Solomon, created King, to God, &c.

Psalm 88. Title, A Psalm or Song for the Sons of Korah, to the chief Musician upon Mabalah-Leannoth, Maschil of Heman the Ezrahite.

Heman and Ethan were Brothers, endued with an excellent Spirit of Prophecy and Wisdom, wherein they were compared with Solomon, 1 Kings 4. 31. Heman was the Author that composed and made this Psalm, and Ethan the next Psalm, and committed them to be sung and played to the Sons of Korah, to the chief of that Company, upon Mabalah Leannoth, which was the Beginning of a Song, after which he would have the Psalm sung, as some think, or else some Instrument to which he would have the Tune of it played and sung; and for the Excellency of the Matter contained therein, would have them preferred for a Form of complaint unto the Church, in any private or singular Distress (as in this Psalm) or in the Time of Affliction, or in Persecution of Church or Common-wealth, as in the next.

And it is to be noted, that some skilful in the holy Tongue, affirm the Hebrew Word Mabalah to be of divers significations; signifying both a musical Instrument, or a Quire and Company of Musicians, or Infirmitie; according

according to every of which Acceptations it may be taken in this Place, and applied to the Instrument so called, to be sung by the whole Company of the Levites, as well by Voice as playing, in Times of Affliction of that People or others.

Psalm 90. Title, A Prayer of Moses the Man of God, i. e. A Psalm of Prayer made by Moses.

It is thought this Psalm or Prayer was made by Moses for himself and the people, at such Time as the Spies came back from viewing the Land of Canaan, murmuring and bringing an ill Report thereof, for which the Lord threatened that they should not enter into the land of Promise:

Psalm 92. Title, A Psalm or Song for the Sabbath day.

This Psalm was made to be sung and used in the Service of God in the Assembly, upon the Sabbath-day, when the People met for the publick Exercises of the Church.

Some Hebrew Writers say, it was made by Moses, in Celebration of the Memory of the Creation; there is no Author thereof Expresseed in the Title.

This Psalm for the Sabbath, and 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, Psalms, which the Jews call their Hallelujah, or Praises of God, were sung at the Passover, and are the Psalms or Hymns which are mentioned in the Gospel, which were sung during the Celebration.

Psalm 119.

In this 119 Psalm, we find no less than ten several Names or Appellations, whereby David expresseth God's revealed Will; sometimes he calls it God's Law, sometimes his Way, sometimes his Word, sometimes his Precepts, sometimes his Commandments, sometimes his Judgments, sometimes his Statutes, sometimes his Promises, sometimes his Righteousness, sometimes his Testimonies; but above all, notable it is, that there is not one Verte (excepting one, viz. 122.) in this long Psalm, containing according to the Hebrew Alphabet, two and twenty Octonaries, where we may not find one or more of these ten Words or Names: Hence we may gather, if David were so exact throughout the Psalm, that in every Division, according to the Letters 22, and in every Subdivision, every Verse beginning with the self-same Letter, he still makes mention of some one or more of these, so many Appellations: O then, how were his Affections inkindled, how was his Love inflamed towards God's holy Word.

Psalm 120. The Title, A Song of Degrees.

The Title of this Psalm hath more Relation to the Ceremony and Manner of singing, than to the Matter and Contents of the Psalm, and I do not find so many different Opinions touching the Reason of the Title in any other, as in this.

Some suppose this and the 14. others next following to be so called, for that they were sung in some high and eminent Place: Some refer it to the Extension or lifting up of the Voice in singing, or rising of the Tune, that they might be better heard of the people; so Calvin: Some, that they were sung by the Priests and Levites, after the Form and Melody of some known and esteemed Song, beginning with this Title: Some latter Expositors conceive nothing to be meant hereby, but the Excellency of the Psalms above the rest, because those Places are accounted chiefest, whereunto we do ascend by Degrees; therefore the Word is used in the plural Number [Degrees] as being choice Epigrams, as one would say, Most excellent Sonnets; because the Hebrews

brevs use to express the superlative Degree or Excellency of a Thing, by Substantives of the plural Number, as here, A Song of Degrees, i.e. an excellent Song; so to the Canticles of Solomon, called A Song of Songs, i.e. excellent; to the Lord is called, The God of gods, Deut. 10. 18. Lord of Lords, Rev. 19. 16. i.e. without all comparison, above all other Gods or Lords: Daniel called him, A Man of desires, ch. 9. 23. i.e. to be esteemed or desired above others; in this Senfe Junius takes it: Others think they were composed for Psalms of Thanksgiving, at the Return of the Jews from their Captivity in Babylon; and in that Jerusalem was situated amongst Hills, whence they came, they must rise or ascend to come at it, as they do that climb up a Hill; these Songs therefore were appointed to be sung at every Ascent and Cleit, as the Places they went up did arise; and for this Cause called Psalms of Degrees.

Carolus Siggonius. de rep. Hebreaorum (whose Judgment is more to be approved, as more agreeable to the Truth) understands them to be so called, for that they were sung by the Priests and Levites, upon the several Stairs that went out of the great Court or Porch where the People were, into the higher or inner Part of the Temple, whither none but the Priests might come; and in Nehemiah 9. 4. mention is made of the Stairs whereon the Levites stood in the solemn feasts, crying unto God, &c.

For Solomon in building the Temple of Jerusalem, made certain Terrestres, stairs or steps rising one above another, 2 Chron. 9. 11. by which the Priests and Levites went up from that outward and great open Court or Room adjoining to the Temple, 2 Chron. 4. 9. where the People prayed, brought and attended the Sacrifice, called, John 10.

29. Solomon’s Porch, or the Court of the People, because it was open to all the People, into an higher Room or Place in the Temple, called The inner Court, or Lord’s House, 2 Chron. 24. 21. or Altarium Sacerdotale, because none but the Priests must enter thither: Now upon every Feast-day, the Levites, or they of them appointed for the Song, sung these 15 Psalms, upon each stair one, being in Number 15. as they went up into that Court of the Temple, making a Pause upon each stair, from whence they had the Title of Psalms of Degrees.

This Ceremony was used then as an outward Means of Preparation to the worshipping of God, to admonish all People to do it with cheerful Hearts, renewed and lifted up to him by faith, from whence Cyprian observes, that in the Church-liturgy of his time, the Deacon called upon the People to lift up their Hearts unto God, using this Speech, Surfum corda.

Observation.

It may be observed, that in Titles many things seem strange, and hard unto us, because we know not, nor do the latter Jews of these times themselves, the particular Instrument, Form of singing, or the Tunes used in specie, whether they be the same that we use in these Days; or some Resemblance of ours, in respect of the playing by the Hand, or by Breath; as Decem-chorda, an Instrument of ten strings, is a Resemblance of the Lute we use, &c. Cymbals, of our Cornets, &c. otherwise we know no more of theirs, than our songs, Tunes or Instruments are known to other strange Nations and Tongues, to whom we and our Language is unknown and unheard of.

Again, where in some Titles it is laid to be sung after such a Tune, is is no more but as in our Psalms it is laid.
Reading the Word.

This is to be sung after, or according to each Psalm, because neither their nor our Psalms have for every several Psalm a several Tune, but the Tune of one is and may be referred to another.

Thus much of such hard Places in the Psalms, as the weak Christian spoken of, desired and endeavoured after Resolution in: For other difficult places of Scripture, because they would too much enlarge this Book, I purposely omit them.

HHH CHAP.
Hitherto of Doing, one Chapter I would add of Suffering; And the rather because of the Times into which we are cast; or, howsoever, be the Times what they will, we cannot expect but that God will sometimes be honoured by the Sufferings and Afflictions of Saints. There is a strict and near Dependance and Connection between Christianity and the Cross, and that from the Pleasure and Providence of God, and Dispensation of Things under the Gospel: Christ hath so ordered it, that we should not serve the Lord our God of that which costs us nothing, but that true Christian Piety should bring Sufferings upon us. This course of Divine Oeconomy is so general and without Exception, that the Apostle is clear, Heb. 12. 6, 7, 8, Whom God loveth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth; if ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons, for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not? but if ye be without Chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons. Words of a large unlimited Latitude, which I cannot discern any Way in the World to soften, so as they may be supportable to him that hath no changes, that hath enjoyed an Age of an uninterrupted continued Prosperity, without ever having the Cross on his shoulders. When this Text is set down as an Aphorism of Divine Observation under the Kingdom of Christ, as an Axiome of Gospel-providence, there will be no safety in disputing or labouring to avoid the literal Importance of it. 'Tis true indeed, under the Old Testament, we find not any such Oeconomy, but Promises of a long and happy Life, in a temporal Canaan, to God's Servants; but under the Gospel it is quite contrary; through much tribulation we must enter into the kingdom of God. Our way to Zion is through the valley of Baca, we cannot follow Christ, and be his Disciples, but upon these Terms. All that will live godly in Christ Jesus must suffer persecution. Acts 14. 22. Psalm 84. 6. Mat. 16. 24. 2 Tim. 3. 12. And therefore, as we have learned what to do, let us learn how to suffer; it is not Duty only that we should seek God's Honour, but that we should seek it in his own Way; while God is pleased to offer us Opportunities of doing, while we see his Mind in improving us thus, let us follow it on with all our Might, let no Opportunity slip, do to the utmost that we can for God; but when we see his Mind to lay us aside, and to use us in another Way, altho' it be in a Way of Affliction and grievous Sufferings, let us now be as willing to yield to God in this, as in the former Way. And for our Help therein I shall direct. 1. How to prepare for Sufferings before they come. 2. How to carry in Sufferings when they are come. 3. What to do, and how to carry when Sufferings and Afflictions are gone.

Sect II.

Of the Manner of Preparation for Sufferings before they come. Why? are we now at Ease? are these Sun shine Days of Peace?
furely we should consider of the Days of Darknes which may be many. Ofttimes we are thinking of, and seeking after great Things when we should be preparing to suffer hard Things. Be not deceived, the clouds seem to gather, and 'tis Time for us to prepare. Now this Preparation consists in these Particulars.

1. Make we account of Afflictions: Do not say, I shall never be removed; altho we know not what particular afflictions shall befall us, yet make an account that an afflicting Condition will be our Portion. Thus did the Apostle, Acts 20. 22, 23. And now I go bound in the Spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there, save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying, that bonds and afflictions abide me. It is our Wisdom thus to make account of Afflictions, that when they come they may be no other than were expected before. As it is reported of Anaxagoras, that when News came to him of the Death of his Son, and it was thought he would have been much troubled at it, he answered only thus, I knew that I begat one mortal: so when any Troubles befall us, we should entertain them with these Thoughts, I knew my Condition to be an afflicting Condition: I entred upon the Ways of Godliness upon these Terms, to be willing to be in an afflicted condition, this is God's ordinary Way toward his People, it is God's Mercy that it is no worse, I expect yet greater Trials than these.

2. Let us deny ourselves, and so take up the Cross: Where Self is renounced, the Cross is easily born; it is Self that makes the Cross pinch. Now there is a six-fold Self that in this Cafe must be denied. 1. Self-opinion, we must be willing to ly quietly under the Truth, to be convinced and to be guided by it. 2. Self-counsels, and Self-reasonings, we must take heed of Conferring with Flesh and Blood, as it was the Care of Paul, immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood, Gal. 1. 16. furely if he had, he would have been in Danger. 3. Self-excellencies, our Parts, our Privileges, our Credits, and all those Things that are great in our own Eyes, and that make us great in the Eyes of the World. 4. Self-will, we must not think it so grievous a Thing to have our Wills crostled, we must not expect to have our Conditions brought to our Wills, and therefore it is our Wisdom, whatsoever our Conditions be, that we bring our Wills unto them. 5. Self comforts, those that give Liberty to themselves to satisfy themselves to the utmost, altho in lawful Comforts, they will be unfit to suffer Hardship, when God shall call them thereunto. I fear that neck(saidTertullian)that is used to Pearl-chains, that it will not give itself to the sword. 6. Self-ends, we must aim at God, and not at ourselves in all our Ways; and then how easie will it be for us to bear Closses, considering that God's Ends do go on, tho our Ends be crostled?

3. Be we sure to lay a good Foundation in a Through-work of Humiliation. The Seed that fell upon the stony Ground withered, and altho for a while it was received with Joy, yet, when Tribulation and Persecution arose, by and by he was offended, Matth. 13. 21. Mark the Expression, by and by, he was presently offended, and all because there was no Depth of Earth, there was not a Through-work of humiliation. Some think the Burthen of Afflictions great, because they never felt what the Weight and Burthen of Sin meant; but that Soul which constantly exerciseth itself in the Work of Humiliation for sin, which burtheneth itself with the Weight of its sins, and is will-ling to ly under fin for further breaking of Spirit; that Soul (I say) will be able to endure Crosses, and to stand under sore Afflictions.

4. Be we careful to preserve our inward Peace with God and our own Consciences. If Vapours be not got into the Earth, and for there, all the Storms and Tempests abroad can never make an Earth quake; so where there is Peace within, all Troubles and Oppositions without cannot shake the Heart. Having peace with God, we glory in tribulations, Rom. 5. 1, 3. We are not only patient under them, but we glory in them. O then let that Time that God gives us yet any Respite from Afflictions be spent in making up our Peace with God, let us now labour to get clearer Evidences, and deeper sense of his Love; then shall we suffer any Thing for God, O then we shall go through Fire and Water, then shall we triumph with the Apostle, Rom. 8. 38, 39. I am persuaded that neither life, nor death, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come shall ever be able to separate me from the love of God in Christ Jesus.

5. Labour we to see more into the Fullness of all Good in God. The Lord told Abraham, that he was God all-sufficient, Gen. 17. 1. as the only Means to strengthen him against whatsoever Evils he was like to meet withal. In God is all the Excellency, Beauty, Comfort, and Good of the Creature in a most eminent and glorious Manner, and God takes infinite Delight in communicating himself, in letting out his Goodness to his Creature; and if to, what is the Loss of any Thing to me, when I see where I can have it made up? What is any Bitterness, when I see such infinite Sweetness to sweeten all? When Tempests come upon Ma-runners, and they be in narrow Seas where they want sea-room, there is danger, but if they have sea-room enough, there is no Fear; thus, if we are acquainted with the infinite Fullness of Good in God, we should see ourselves safe in the Midst of all Tempests, we should feel our Spirits quiet under the forest Afflictions.

6. Do we humbly and cheerfully submit to our present Condition whatsoever it is. Many cast about in their Thoughts what they shall do hereafter, if Troubles should befall them, and yet, in the mean Time, they neglect the Duties of their present Condition: Surely, if we would go on humbly and patiently in the Performance of the Duties that God now calls for, they would prepare us for whatsoever Duties should be required hereafter. Mr. Bilsley the Martyr used to put his Finger in the Candle to prepare him for the burning of his whole Body; a patient bearing of less Troubles, for the present, will prepare the Heart for the bearing of greater afterwards.

7. Be we often renewing our Resignations of all unto the Lord. Let us renew our Covenant with him to be at his Disposal, that so when any Trouble comes at any Time this Resignation of Heart and Renewal of Covenant may be fresh upon our spirits. Experience tells us that sometimes immediately after a Day of solemn Humiliation, the soul thinks it could then do or suffer any thing; but in a little Time after (except this to be renewed again) the Heart grows drowsy, and cleaves to present Things, and mingleth itself with them again; the often renewing of this keeps the Heart very loose from the Creature.

8. Lay we up provision against an evil Day. There is a threefold Provision we should treasure up to prepare us for for Afflictions. 1. We should treasure up the consolations of God that he affords upon occasion, that at any time we feel in the performance of duties, in the exercise of Gracés, in the Use of Ordinances. 2. We should treasure up the Experiences of God’s Ways towards us, and his gracious Dealings with us in former Straights. 3. We should treasure up soul-supporting, soul-quickening, soul-reviving, soul-comforting Promises, and that of several Kinds, suitable to several Afflictions, for we know not what Kind of Afflictions we may meet withal.

9. Labour we much to strengthen every Grace; it is strong Grace that is suffering Grace; a strong Wing will fly against the Wind, but so will not every Wing. It is true a Candle will hold light in the House, but if we go abroad in the Air there is need of a Torch, there must be a stronger Light there; weak Grace may serve our turn to uphold us now, but in Time of Afflictions it had need be strong; a little Grace will be soon spent then, as a Candle is soon spent when it stands in the Wind.

10. Set much before us the Example of Jesus Christ, and God’s People, who have endured very hard Things. In the Example of Christ consider 1. How it was that suffered, he was the Son of God, the Glory of the Father, God blessed for ever; when we suffer, nothing but base Worms troden under foot do suffer. 2. What he suffered; even the Wrath of God, and curie of the Law, he was made a Curse in the Abstract as the Scripture speaks, which was an other Manner of Thing than any of our Afflictions. 3. For whom he suffered; it was for us vile Worms, wretched, sinful Creatures, who are Enemies to him; we suffer for God who is infinitely blessed, to whom we owe all we are or have. 4. How freely he suffered; it was of his own accord, his own free grace moved him to it, he laid down his Life, none could take it from him; but for us, it is not in our Liberty whether we will suffer or no, we are under the power of another. 5. How meekly he suffered; he was as a sheep before the shearer, his sufferings no way disquieted his Spirit, but still it kept in a sweet quiet Frame in the midst of all. Thus set we Christ before us, let these Meditations be meat and drink unto us. In the Example of God’s suffering Saints, consider what precious choice-spirited Men they were, how holy, how spiritual, how heavenly; what are we in comparison of them? Consider what they did, what they endured for the Lord Jesus Christ. To this purpose there’s a notable Chapter, Heb. 11. Read and consider; is it not enough for us that we have such a cloud of witnesses, such a noble Army of Martyrs before us and with us?

Thus of Preparations for Afflictions before they come.

S E C T. III.

Of the Manner of bearing Sufferings when they come.

If any will come after me, saith Christ, let him deny himself and take up his cross, and follow me, Mat. 16. 24. This Cross is Sufferings; in which Condition one Way or other we may be (if God so pleased) continually; the Soul might say, If I must bear this cross, I hope it is but now and then; nay faith Christ, Let him take up his Cross daily, Luke 9. 23. But if every Day, may the Soul say, I hope it is an ease Cross. Nay faith Paul, it is a killing Cross, I die daily; Cor. 15. 31. Yet may the Soul say, if it be a killing Cross, I hope there are refreshings some part of the day. Not so neither; For thy sake, faith David, are we killed all the day long, Psalm 44. 22. i.e. In Regard of the Saints Sufferings.

the Danger of Death. 2. In regard of some Beginnings that we suffer. 3. In regard of our Willingness to undergo it. But tho' we tie not these actual Sufferings according to the Letter, to every Time and Moment; yet certainly there is a Time for that: And the Duties that concern us when God now calls us to suffer Afflictions are these.

1. That we be willing to come under them.
2. That we contentedly submit our selves and quietly behave ourselves in them.
3. That we labour to improve them.

§. 1. We must be willing to come under Sufferings.

It was the Honour of the three Children in Daniel, ch. 3. 28. that they yielded their Bodies to those fiery flames they were cast into. Let us not seek to put off Sufferings by Distinctions; certainly the best Policy in dangerous Times is the greatest Purity. The Lacedemonians were wont to say, It was a shame for any Man to fly in time of danger, but for a Lacedemonian it was a shame to deliberate. How much more truly may this be said of a Christian, when God calls him to suffer? He should before hand be resolved, that it should be a shame for him ever to deliberate. And yet be way of Caution, before we come under Afflictions, let us look 1. That our Cause be good. 2. That our Call be clear. 3. That our End be right.

1. Look that our cause be good. It is not for every Cause that a Christian should engage into Sufferings. Let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil doer, or as a busy-body in other men's matter, 1 Pet. 9. 15. to suffer in these or the like Cares is not Christian, neither will it be comfortable.

2. See that our Call be clear. Christ calls not all to Martyrdom; To you it is given to suffer, faith the Apostle, Phil. 1. 29. not only that you should believe in Christ, but also suffer for his sake. Affliction is a gift of love, even as Faith is; 'tis Grace as well to bleed for Christ, as to believe in Christ. Let us be wise therefore to clear our Call: For Example, if Truth suffers by our silence, then are we called to speak; if the saving of our Life should be Christ's Denial, then are we called to die; if we are before a Magistrate for the Name of Christ, Christ then calls us not to be ashamed of him; if him and suffering surround us, as that we are necessitated to take the one, and to leave the other, then we may conclude that Christ calls us to Suffering.

3. Let us eye our End in all our Sufferings; if our End be Self, how should we expect Comfort? Some have died that their Names might live; a Roman spirit can hold to suffering and Death it self; an opposing spirit will put on some to die rather than yield: the Apostle hath left it a clear thing, that 'tis possible to give one's body to be burnt, 1 Cor. 13. 3. and yet to want true divine Love. One may (I wish none did) suffer as much for selfish as sublime Receptions, i.e. for his own Glory. Or let us mind Christ's Glory, Truth's Propagation, the Maintenance of Equity and Righteousness in all our Sufferings; And if so, go on, fear not, flinch not, if we draw back, his soul will have no pleasure in us; What? are we fhy of the Ways of Religion because of affliction? If such Thoughts work in us at any time, take these Considerations.

1. At what low Rate do we prize the Ways of God, that such and such more more low Comforts must not be laid down for them, that such light Afflictions must not be endured for the Maintenance of them?

2. Consider if Christ had stood on such Terms as to have said, I could be content indeed that these poor creatures might be delivered from Misery, but seeing such grievous sufferings must be endured for their Deliverance, let them perish for me, I am not willing to save them on such hard terms as these: O then what had become of us?

3. They who are so shy of suffering, may be forced to suffer in sight of their Hearts, and what a sad Thing will that be to them? What a sad Thing was it to Cranmer after he had recanted for Fear of Sufferings, that yet he was forced to suffer? What a darkning was it to his Spirit, to his Cause, and to his good Name?

4. Whatsoever Prosperity we enjoy, when God calls us to suffer for him, it is cursed unto us: If we blest our selves in our Name, in our Estate, our Liberty, our Life, and avoid the way of suffering that God calls us unto, we deceive ourselves, for there is no Blessing in them, they are all accursed unto us.

5. All the Duties of Religion that now we perform out of a suffering condition are not accepted of God. We must not think now, having avoided suffering for God’s Truth, that because we are willing to perform Duties, therefore God now accepts of us; no it was another Work that God called us unto, a work of suffering, and seeing we have refused this, do what we can, God calls it as Dung in our Faces, and he regards it not; this is a sad condition, what Joy can such a Man have of his Life, if he had but an enlightened Conscience?

6. What intollerable Pride and Delicacy is this in us that we will not venture the Loss of any Thing, the enduring of any Thing for God and his Truth? the least Truth of God is more worth than Heaven and Earth, and what is our Eafe, our Name, our Liberty, our Life to it.

7. How vile is the Unbelief of our Hearts who dare not trust God with our Name, our Estate, or Liberty, how can we trust God with our Souls, our eternal Estate? How lightly do we regard the Faithfulness, Mercy, Goodness, Wisdom, Power of God, working for his People in their suffering Conditions? Of what little Account are all those gracious blessed Promises of God to us in this Condition? Our bafe shyness, and cowardise of spirit is such, as if there were no God, no Faithfulness, no Mercy, no Wisdom, no Power to help us, as if there were no Promise to support and relieve us.

8. How little Love is there in our Hearts to God, when we are so shy of any Thing to be suffered for God? Love rejoices in suffering for the Beloved: The avoiding Hell, and the getting Heaven are no great things (with Chrysostom *) where the Love of God is.

9. What is the Iffue of Iou! Apostacy? If we draw back from Persecution, we draw on Perdition. Christ is not so sweet in his Dealings with Martyrs, but he is as dreadful in his Discovery to Apologists. Ask Spirit how doleful a Condition denying is? He’ll tell you, that he could feel no Comfort in his Heart, that there was no place there but full of bitter Torments and hideous Vexings of Spirit; he’ll tell you of God's Wrath burning in him like the Torments of Hell, and that his Conscience was afflicted with Pangs unutterable.

10. What Honour should God have in the World? Where would there be any Witness to Truth against the rage and malice of the Devil and wicked Men, if all should do as we do? If there be any Christian Blood left in us, if any Spirit worthy of our Profession, O be we ashamed of our Baseness this way, and be not to fly of Sufferings.

§. 2. We must contentedly submit our selves, and quietly behave our selves in Sufferings.

Seeing we are now under an Ordinance of God, take heed of the least murmuring or repining against God as if he were an hard Master. If our Spirits at any time begin to rise in such Workings, let us charge our souls to be silent to God; it is a shame for a Christian not to be well skilled in that Art, instructed in that Mystery of Christian Contention; let us say with our Saviour; Shall not I drink of that cup which my Father hath given me to drink? It is the Cup of my Father, and shall not I quietly and contentedly drink of that Cup? Now we have an Opportunity to manifest the Power and Excellency of our Grace, to shew what our Grace can enable us to do: Strength of Reason will go far in quieting and calming of the Heart under Afflictions, but Grace surely where it is true, will go further; it will teach us to submit ourselves, and to resign our Spirits unto God, to be willing that God should deliver us when he will, and as he will and how he will, so that our Wills are melted into the very Will of God. It is true we may be sensible of it, and make our moan to God concerning it, and desire to be delivered of it, and seek it by all good and honest and lawful Means; yet we must not murmur or repine, we must not fret or vex, there must not be any Tumultuousness or Unsettledness of Spirit in us, there must not be any distracting Fears in our Hearts, nor any sinking Discouragements, base shiftings, rebellious Risings against our God. Now that we may attain this Frame, this Grace of Contentment and Quietness of Spirit, observe these Directions.

1. Be we humbled in our Hearts for the Want thereof, or that we have had too little of this Grace in us; there is no Way to set upon any Duty with Profit, till the Heart be humbled for the Want of the Performance of the Duty before: Many Men when they hear of a Duty that they should perform, they will labour to perform it, but first they should be humbled for the Want of it. Oh that I had this Grace of Contentment (should every one say,) what an happy Life might I live? What Abundance of Honour might I bring to the name of God? But O Lord, thou knowest it is far otherwise with me, I feel a Kind of murmuring, and vexing, and fretting within me, every little Cross puts me out of Temper and Frame of Spirit: Oh the Boisterousness of my Spirit! what a Deal of Evil doth God see in my Heart? Oh the vexing, and fretting, and murmuring, and repining that is in me!

2. Pore not too much upon our Sufferings. Many Men have all their Thoughts taken up about their Crosses and Afflictions, they are ever thinking or speaking of them; when they awake in the Night their Thoughts are on them, and when they converse with others, nay it may be when they are praying to God, they are thinking on them. Oh, no Marvel tho we live discontented Lives, if our Thoughts be always poring on such Things, we should rather have our Thoughts on those Things that may comfort us. It is very observable of Jacob, that when his Wife died in child-birth, his wife called the child Benoni, that is, a Son of Sorrows, Gen. 35. 18. Now Jacob he thought with himself, if I should call this Child Benoni, every Time that I name him it will put me in mind of the Death of my dear Wife, which will be a continual Affliction unto me, and therefore I will not have my Child have that Name; and so the Text saith, that Jacob called his name Benjamin, and that was the Son of my right hand. Now this is to shew us thus much, that when Afflictions befall us, we should not give way to have our Thoughts continually upon them, but rather upon these Things that may stir up our Thankfulness to God for his Mercies. It is the similitude of Basil; It is in this Case as it is with Men and Women that have sore Eyes; now it is not fit for those to be always looking on the fire, or on the Beams of the Sun, but on some things that are suitable, upon such objects as are fit for one that hath sore eyes, as upon green colours or the like: So Men or Women that have weak spirits must not ever be looking upon the fire of their Afflictions, upon those things that distress them or cast them down, but they are to look up those things rather that may be suitable for the healing and helping of them. It will be of great use and Benefit to us if we lay it to Heart, not to be poring always upon Afflictions, but upon Mercies.

3. Let us make a good Interpretation of God's Ways towards us, if possibly we can. Should our Friends always make bad Interpretations of our Ways towards them, we would take it ill. It is ill taken of the Spirit of God when we make ill Interpretation of his Ways towards us, and therefore if we can make any good Interpretation of God's Ways towards us, let us make it. Ex. gr. If any Affliction befall us, let us think thus, It may be God only intends to try me by this; it may be God saw my Heart too much set upon the Creature, and so intends to show me what there is in my Heart; it may be God saw that if my Estate did continue I should fall into sin, and so the better my Estate were, the worse would my Soul be; it may be God intended only to exercise some Grace in me; it may be God intends to prepare me for some great Work which he bath for me to do; thus we should reason. It is usual with many otherwise to interpret God's Dealings, just as they did in the Wilderness, God hath brought us hither to try us, or to fall by the sword, Numb. 14. 3. This is the worst Interpretation that possibly we can make of God's Ways: Oh why will we make these worst Interpretations when there may be better? Love thinketh no Evil. Love is of that Nature that if there may be ten Interpretations made of a Thing, if nine of them be naught, and one good, love will take that which is good, and leave the other nine; and so there might be ten Interpretations presented to us concerning God's Ways towards us, and it but one be good, and nine naught, we should take that one that is good, and leave the other nine. Oh retain good Thoughts of God. Take heed of judging God to be an hard Matter, make good Interpretation of his Ways, and that will further our Contentment in all our Afflictions.

4. Let us look upon all our Afflictions as sanctified in Christ, as sanctified in a Mediator. This is to see all the sting, and Venom, and Poison of them to be taken out by the Virtue of Jesus Christ the Mediator between God and Man.
Saints Sufferings.

Ex. gr. Would a Christian have Contentment? say then, what is my Affliction? Is it Poverty that God strikes me withal? Christ had not an House to lay his Head in, the foxes had holes, and the fowls of the air had nests, but the Son of man had not an hole to lay his head in, Mat. 8. 20.

O then how is my Poverty sanctified? I see by Faith the Curfe, and Sting, and Venom of my Poverty taken out by the Poverty of Jesus Christ. Christ was poor in this World to deliver me from the Curfe of my Poverty. Again, am I disgraced, dishonoured? Is my good Name taken away? why Christ had dishonour put upon him, he was called Beelzebub, a Samaritan, and they said he had a Devil in him, Mark 3. 22. John 8. 48.

All the foul Aspersions that could be, were cast upon Christ, and this was for me, that I might have the Disgrace that is cast upon me to be sanctified unto me. Again, am I jeered and scoffed at? why so was Jesus Christ when he was in his greatest Extremity; they could put thorns on his head, and a reed in his hand, and bow the knee before him, and mock him, and say, Hail King of the Jews, Mat. 27. 27. How then may I attend Contentment in the midst of Scorns and Jeers, by considering that Christ was scorned, and by acting Faith upon that which Christ suffered for me? We see many Christians lie under grievous Pains and Extremities very cheerfully, and some wonder at it; why this is the Way that they get it, viz. by acting their Faith upon what Pains Jesus Christ suffered: Are we afraid of Death? Let us exercise our Faith upon the Death of Christ: are we troubled in Soul? Doth God withdraw himself from us? Let us exercise our Faith upon the Sufferings that Christ endured in his Soul when he was in his Agony, and when he sweat Drops of Blood. And this will bring Contentment to our Souls.

5. Let us fetch Strength from Christ to bear all our Burdens. Now this is done by going out of our selves to Jesus Christ, and by acting our Faith upon Christ, and by bringing the strength of Christ into our Souls. A Man may go very far with the Use of Reason alone to help him to Contentment, but when Reaon is at a non-plus, then let Faith on work: This is above Reason. It would be a ridiculous Thing in the Schools of Philosophy to say, If there be a Burden upon you, fetch strength from another; for another to come, and to stand under the Burden they would eaily grant, but that any one should be strengthned by another’s strength, that is not near him in outward View, this they would think most ridiculous; O but true Believers find Contentment in every Condition by getting strength from another; there is strength in Christ, not only to sanctifie us and save us, but to support us under all our Burdens and Afflictions. And Christ expects that when we are under any Burden, that we should act our Faith upon him, to draw Virtue and Strength from him. O sweet Consolation! If a Man have a Burden upon him, yet if he have Strength added to him, if the Burden be doubled, yet if his Strength be trebled, the Burden will not be heavier but lighter, than it was before to his natural Strength; so if our Afflictions be heavy, and we cry out, Oh we cannot bear them! Yet if we cannot bear them with our own Strength, why may we not bear them with the Strength of Jesus Christ? Do we think that Christ could not bear them? or if we dare not think but that Christ could bear them, why may not we come to bear them? Some may question, can we have the Strength of Christ? Yes; that that very Strength is made over to us by Faith, for so the Scripture faith frequently, The Lord is our strength, God is our strength, and Christ is our Strength, Psal. 28, 7. and 42, 2. and 118, 14. Isaiah 12. 2. Heb. 3. 19. And therefore is Christ's Strength ours, made over unto us, that we may be able to bear whatsoever lies upon us. This was Paul's prayer for the Colossians, that they might be strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power unto all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness, Col. 1, 11. 1. Here's strengthening.

2. Here's strengthening with all might.

3. Here's strengthening with all Might according to the glorious power of God in Christ.

4. Here's the End, unto what? It is unto all patience and long-suffering with joyfulness. Oh you that are now under sad and heavy Afflictions more than ordinary, look upon this Scripture, and consider how it is made good in you, that so you may with Comfort say, Through God's mercy I find that Strength coming into me, that is here spoken of in this Scripture.

6. Let us fetch contentment from the Covenant, and from the particular promises in the covenant for the supplying of every particular want. There is no Condition that a godly Man can be in, but there is some Promise or other in the Scripture to help him in that condition: and this is the way of his Contentment to go out to the promise, to plead the promise, to fetch from the Promise that which may supply. But hath Faith warrant to believe whatsoever we find in the Promise literally? I dare not say so, but howsoever it may act upon it, and believe that God will make it good in his own Way. But I am in affliction, and here is a promise that God will deliver me out of it, I act faith upon it, but I am not delivered, what good now is there in this promise to me? I answer, 1. Notwithstanding our non-deliverance, yet now are we under the Protection of God more than others are.

2. Notwithstanding the Affliction continues, yet the Evil of the Affliction is now taken away.

3. Notwithstanding God makes use of this Affliction for other Ends, yet he will make it up to us some other way, which shall be as good. q. d. Let me have your Health, your Liberty, your Life, you shall not loose by it, I will make it up to you some other Way.

7. Let us by Faith realize the glorious things of Heaven in us. Faith, we know, is the substance of things hoped for, and the evidence of things not seen. Heb. 11. 1. Faith makes the Kingdom of Heaven, and the Glory that is to come as now present: Hence the Martyrs had such Contentment in their Sufferings, Tho we have but an hard break-fast, say some, yet we shall have a good dinner, we shall presently be in Heaven. Let us but shut our eyes, said others, and we shall be in Heaven presently. It is but a little cloud, said Athanasius, and it will be presently over. We faint not, said the Apostle, why? Because these light afflictions that are but for a moment, work for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory, 2 Cor. 4. 16, 17. The Saints in their Afflictions see Heaven by them, and that contents them. As the Mariners tho they were troubled before they could see Land, yet when they come nigh the shore, and see such a Land-mark, that contents them exceedingly: So the godly tho they may be tossed in the midst of Waves and Storms, yet seeing the Glory of Heaven before them, they content themselves. One Drop of the Sweetness of Heaven is enough to take away all the sour and bitter of all the Afflictions in the World.

8. Pray for this Grace of Contentment ment. It is God's Gift, and it is a soul-business; it is an inward, quiet, gracious Frame of Spirit, which comes not so much from any outward Arguments, or any outward thing, as from the Disposition of our own Hearts; that Contentment that comes meekly from external Arguments, will not hold long; if it be habitual and constant, it ever comes from the gracious temper of a Man's own Spirit, and therefore we had need to pray that God would create in us clean hearts, and that he would renew right spirits (or constant spirits, as it is in the Original) within us, Psal. 51. 10. All the Rules and Helps in the World will do us little good, except we get a good Temper within our Hearts: you can never make a ship go steady with propping of it without; you know there must be ballast within the ship, that must make it go steady; and so there is nothing without us that can keep our Hearts in a steady constant Way, but that that is within us; Grace is within the Soul, and that will do it. O pray we to God to create this christian Contention within us, open we our Hearts unto God, and then with Hanna we shall come from prayer, and look no more sad, 1 Sam. 1. 18.

§. 3. How we must improve Sufferings.

We must not only be contented under God's afflictive Hand, but we must labour to thrive under it. Certainly there is a Blessing in every Ordinance of God, if we have Wisdom and Care to draw it forth, and to make it our own. Austin cries out against such who did not profit by afflictions (Thou, faith he, have lost the profit of this calamity. * As it is a sign of great Wickedness to turn Blessings into Curles, so it is a sign of great Grace to turn curles into blessings; by this Improvement we shall not only get Water, but holy out of the Rock. But how should we improve our Afflictions.

1. Be jealous of our selves, lest that our Sufferings should pass away unsanctified. Be we more afraid of the affliction leaving of us, than of its continuing upon us; lay out our strength more for a sanctified use of it, than for Deliverance from it, that we may say with David, It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I might learn thy statutes, Psalm 119. 71.

2. Labour to know God's mind in our Afflictions. The Man of Wisdom sees God's Name upon this Rod, and he understands what God intends, viz. whether he sends them for sin, or for some other Ends. Only observe, tho' God sends Afflictions sometimes for Trial, and other Ends, rather than for sin, yet it is sin that makes us capable of such a way of Trial; were we not sinful, God would not deal with us that Way, therefore it is good in all to be humbled for sin. But here two Questions are to be discussed,

1. How we may discern God's Ends in our Afflictions?

2. If it be rather for sin, how we may find out the particular sin?

For the First, God's Ends in affliction us may be discerned thus.

1. If the Affliction be extraordinary, and come in an extraordinary Way: and upon Examination we find our selves not guilty of any special Evil besides daily Incursions, then we may comfortably hope God's Intentions are not specially for sin, but for some other End; so it was in Job and Joseph.

* Periculae utilissimae calamitatis, Aug. de civitate Dei. l. 2. c. 3.

2. We may know from the Work of the Affliction, which Way it tends, and how God follows it; whether in it God settles not sin upon our Heart for Humiliation more than ordinary; or, whether the Work of God's Spirit be not rather for the stirring up of the Exercise of some other Grace: For God in his Dealings with his People will work for the attaining the Ends he aims at.

3. Much may be learned from the Issue of an Affliction; when God comes chiefly for Trial, in the Issue his Grace does much abound towards his servants, as it did in Joseph and Job: What Honour was Joseph advanced unto? and how had Job (chap. 42. 10.) given him thrice as much as he had before? But when the Affliction is for sin, it doth not use to have such an Issue; it is well if the sinner be restored into such a comfortable Condition as he was in before: When David was afflicted for his sin, some scars stuck by him after his Deliverance, he scarce ever was brought into that comfortable Condition he was in before.

For the Second, If the Affliction be for sin, how may we find out the particular sin? I answer.

1. Look what sins and affictions the Word hath coupled together; although every sin deserves all Kinds of Afflictions, yet the Word joins some special Correction to special Transgressions; as God sorts several Promises to several Graces, so he sorts several Afflictions to several Sins.

2. Consider what sins and affictions Providence couples in respect of similitude: God often stamps the Likeness of the Sin upon the Judgment, Judges 3. 7, 8.

3. Enquire at the Mouth of God by Prayer and Humiliation, as 'David did, 2 Sam. 21. 1. and as Job did, Job 42. 2. and as those in Jeremiah did, Jer. 16. 10. 11.

4. Hearken to the Voice of Conscience, that is God's Officer in our souls; especially after Humiliation and seeking of God, then listen to the Voice of Conscience: For, as it is with an Officer whom you would have search the Records, if you would have him diligent indeed in the search, you must give him his Fee, else he will do the Work but lightly; so we must give Conscience, God's Register his Fee, i. e. we must let Conscience have much Prayer and Humiliation, which it calls for, and then it will tell us God's Mind more fully.

3. When we have found out our sins, Let us, 1. take notice of God's Displeasure against us. 2. Let us be humbled for it. 3. Let us stir up our Hearts against it with Indignation. This is that which hath caused me all this Wo, that hath brought upon me all this Trouble and Smart. As the Jews took hold on Paul crying, Acts 21. 28. Men of Israel help, this is the Man that teacheth everywhere against the people: So should we take hold on our sin that we have found out, and cry to the Lord; Help, O Lord, this is that sin that hath made the Breach; this is that sin that hath been the cause of so much Evil unto me. As we read of Antony after Julius Cesar was murdered, he brought forth his Coat all bloody and cut, and laid it before the People: Look here, says he, you have your Emperor's coat thus bloody and torn. Whereupon the People were presently in an Uprore, and cried out to slay those Murderers: Thus the looking upon our Afflictions, and considering what Mischief Sin hath done us, our Hearts should be raised to fly upon our Sin with Indignation, and not be satisfied.
fied without the Destruction of that which would have destroyed us.

4. Let us promise and covenant Reformation, and begin the Work while the Affliction is on us. Do something now presently, do not put off all till the Suffering be over, till we be recovered or delivered, and think, then I will do it, Psalm 66. 14. There is much Deceit of the Heart this Way; many miscarry in their Vows to God upon this Ground, because they put off all till they be out of their Affliction; for by that Time, the Impression that was upon their spirits is abated, their Hearts are cooled, and so the Duty is neglected. Wherefore do something presently, and be alwise in doing, till that which was vowed be fully performed.

5. Let every Affliction drive us much to God in Prayer. James. 5. 13. Is any man afflicted, let him pray. It is a Similitude of Chrysolith's, As Clouds darken the Heavens, and cause lowering weather, but being distilled into Drops, then sweet Sun shine, and fair Weather follows: So sorrows and cares in the soul cloud the soul, till they be distilled in praying into Tears, and poured forth before the Lord, but then the sweet Beams of God's Grace comes in, and much Blessing follows.

6. Let us not cease to seek and sue till we have some Assurance that we have made our Peace with God: This is that the Lord looks for at our Hands in all our Crosses, and the chief End he aims at in afflicting his Children, to caufe them to seek him more diligently, and to get better Assurance of his Favour; Isaiah 27. 5. Let him take hold of my strength ( faith God ) that he may make peace with me, and he shall make peace with me. This is done these three Ways. 1. By acknowledging unto God freely our manifold sins, and to justifying him in his Judgments, as David did, Psalm 32. 5. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord, and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah. 2. By praying for, and seeking Assurance of his Favour in the Pardon of our sins, Isaiah 26. 16. Lord, in trouble have they visited thee, they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them. 3. By forfaking our sin whereby we had provoked him, Isaiah 27. 9. By this shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruit to take away his sin. It is good that we practise all these three Ways; and never ceafe practifing, till God hath assured us that he is at peace with us.

7. Let us now ( if ever ) try, exercise, and improve our Faith, Wisdom, Zeal, Patience, and all other Graces of the Spirit.

1. Let us try our Graces: What Graces? 1. Our Faith: It is an easy Matter to truft God when our Barns and Coffers are full, and to say, Give us our daily Bread, when we have it in our Cup-boards; but when we have nothing, when we know not how nor whence to get any Thing in the World, then to depend upon an invisible Bounty, this is a true and noble Act of Faith. 2. Our Wisdom: Plato, being demanded how he knew a wise Man, answered: When being rebuked he would not be angry, and being praised he would not be proud. Our Disposition is never well known to ourselves, until we be crossed. 3. Our Zeal: A little Water cast upon the Fire makes it burn hotter and brighter; so should our Afflictions make us more zealous and fiery for God, and for good causes and for good Men: The Wicked, in Afflictions, are many Times furious, but never zealous, they are often like wild Beasts that grow mad with Beatings, if Crockes or Loffes ruth in upon them, they fall to the Language of Job's Wife, Curse God and die; or, to that that of the King of Israel's Messenger, 2 Kings 6, 33. Why should I serve God any longer? 4. Our Sincerity: Thus was Job's sincerity discovered by Satan's Malice; after all his Losses he says no more but, The Lord giveth, and the Lord taketh ----. In all this Job did not sin with his lips. 5. Our Patience: When it is calm Weather, the Sea is quiet, and still as any River, but let the Winds arise once, and we shall see a Difference: for then the Sea foams and rages, and casteth out mine and dirt. We are that indeed which we are in Temptation; if we cannot abide a drawing Plaister to drain away corrupt Blood and Humours, how should we abide cutting of Joints and Members? how pulling out Eyes, which Repentance must do?

2. Let us exercise our Graces: Afflictions give Opportunity for this, it calls forth whatsoever Grace there is in the Heart to the Exercise of it. The Apostle speaking of Saints-sufferings, faith thus, Rev. 13, 10. Here is the patience and faith of Saints, i.e. Here is Matter for their Patience and Faith to be exercised about; this calls for the working of their Patience and Faith; and so for other Graces, as, Humility, Self-denial, Love to God, Meekness, Waiting on Christ, Loving our Enemies, not resisting of Evil, fervent Prayer. O what mighty Prayers, and lively stirrings of Spirit are there many Times in Afflictions? Isaiah 26, 16. They poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them; our Prayers do but drop out before, now they are poured out. And this is it that many Times makes God to afflict us, because God delights much to see the Exercise of our Graces: When Spices are beaten, then they send forth their fragrant smell; so when God's servants are in Afflictions, then their Graces send forth their sweetness in the Activeness of them: Grace is ever better for wearing.

3. Let us improve our Graces. John 15, 2. Every branch in me (faith Christ) that beareth fruit, he purgeth it that it may bring forth more fruit. This is the End of Christ's Purging us, that we may be more fruitful; as Vines are made more fruitful by pruning, so are God's People by the Pruning-knife of Afflictions: Now they find more Peace, more Assurance, more Strength than ever they did before: Never such sweet Joy, never such full Assurance, never such Use of Faith, and Patience, and Love, as in the forest and longest Afflictions: Is it thus with us now? O this may be a sweet Seal to our Souls of their Sincerity ever after Afflictions. God's People never thrive so much in Grace, as when they are watered in their own Tears; Manafess his chain was more profitable to him than his crown. There is a great deal of Difference (could Luther say) between a Divine in outward Pomp, and a Divine under the Cross: They that are afflicted do better understand Scripture; but those that are secure in their Prosperity, read them as Verses in Ovid. But what Graces must we improve? I answer, Every Grace, only I shall instance in thete. 1. Our spiritual Wisdom. To this Purpose God is said to open the Ears of Men even by their Afflictions, Job 33, 16. We are best instructed when we are afflicted: It is good for me that I have been afflicted, said David, that I might learn thy statutes, Psalm 119, 72. Algerius, a Martyr, could say, that he received more Light in the dark Dungeon, than ever he received before in all the World. And Luther professed, that he never understood some of David's Psalms till he was in Affliction: When all is done, said he, Tribulation is the plainest and most sincere Divinity. Prayer, Reading, Meditation
Saints Sufferings.

2. Our Patience. To this Purpose, We rejoice in tribulation, saith the Apostle, Rom. 5. 3. knowing that tribulation bringeth forth patience, My brethren, faith James, chap. 1. 23. count it exceeding joy when ye fall into divers temptations, knowing that the trial of your faith bringeth forth patience. The Malice of our Enemies both proves and improves our Patience. See it exemplified in David, when Shimei cursed, and cast stones at David, and called him Murtherer, and wicked Man; poor afflicted David was so far from revenging it, or suffering others to revenge it, that he makes that very Thing an Argument of his Patience which was the Exercise of it. Behold my son, faith he, which came forth of my bowels, seeketh my life, how much more may this Benjamite do it? 2 Sam. 16. 12.

3. Our Faith. To this End God afflicts us that our Faith may increase: As it is said of the Palm-tree, that it groweth higher and stronger, and more and more fruitful, by how much the more Weight it hath hanging upon it; or, as it is said of the Lion that she seems to leave her Young-ones till they have almost killed themselves with roaring and howling, but at last Gasp she relieves them, whereby they become the more courageous; so it pleaseth the Lord sometimes to leave his Children. Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, faith David, Psalm 130. 1. and then, and not till then it follows, the Lord heard me. The Lord saw him flinking all the while, yet lets him alone till he was at the Bottom, and then hearing him, David is stronger in Faith. This is the Height of Faith, and the Worth of Faith; to have a strong Confidence in God, even in the worst of Affliction, this is thank-worthy: Hope in a State hopeless, a Love to God when there is nothing but signs of his heavy Displeasure, Heavenly-mindedness when all worldly Affairs draw contrary-way, is the chief Praise of Faith. What made our Saviour say to that Woman of Canaan, O woman, great is thy faith, Matth. 15. 28. but this, in that neither his silence, nor his flat Denial could silence her? Such a Faith had Job, ch. 13. 15. Though he kill me, yet will I trust in him. Here is Faith to the Purpose; to love that God who croseth us, to kiss that Hand which strikes us, to trust in that Power which kills us, this is the honourable Proof of a Christian, this argues Faith indeed.

8. Be we thankful to God for our Afflictions: Thus Job was, notwithstanding he was bereaved of his Estate, of his Children, and in a great Measure given up into the Hands of Satan, yet he blesseth the Lord, The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lord, Job 1. 21. And this is the Meaning of the Prophet, Isa. 24. 15. Wherefore glorify ye the Lord in the fires, even the name of the Lord God of Israel in the isles of the sea. And thus advieth the Apostle, 1 Pet. 4. 16. If any Man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God on this behalf. And a little Time before, If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye, for the Spirit of glory, and of God resteth on you. As Noab's Dove hovered over the Water, and found no place to rest her Foot on, until she returned to the Ark; so doth the Spirit of God, as it were, hover over the Souls of Men, it wanteth Rest, and when it sees a Soul that suffereth for the Truth, there it lights, there it rests, The Spirit of God and of Glory there resteth upon you. A Christian is more bound to be thankful for the Opportunity of exercising one Grace, than for all the Prosperity in the World: Now there there are some Graces that cannot be exercised but only in Affliction, the Saints in Heaven never exercise Patience, and without Affliction the Saints on Earth have no Opportunity to exercise Patience: But what have we the Opportunity of exercising that Grace that we had not before? be we thankful to God.

9. Let us with joy draw out of the wells of salvation, Isa. 12. 3. Let us comfort ourselves in our suffering Condition: We should not only be thankful, but joyful. Me-thinks I hear some suffering Saint sigh and say, What? is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? I weep sore in the night, and my tears are on my cheeks; among all my lovers there is none to comfort me, all my friends have dealt treacherously with me, they have heard that I sigh, and there is none to refresh me. I stand for Christ, but there is none stands by me, I own him, but none owns me, Lam. 1. 2, 12.

Bleeding Christian, bear up, thy Men forfake thee, yet Christ will own thee; tho Men, as thankful-thanks Friends, do leave thee in the Winter of Afflictions, yet Christ, as a constant Friend, abides: It is thy Glory that thou suff'rest for Christ, rejoice, as Paul did, in thy sufferings, sth in them thou fillest up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ, Col. 1. 24. Know this for thy Comfort, that thou that sufferest with him, thou shalt also reign with him, 2 Tim. 2. 12. In the mean while, what sweetness dost thou feel from Christ? It is thy Privilege, and surely thou mayst, I hope thou dost expect more than ordinary sweetness from thy Saviour, feelst thou not Heaven clear over thee? doth not Christ lead thee gently, the Cup in thy Hand, the it taste bitter to the Flesh, doth not the Spirit make it sweet? What's that in the Bottom of thy bloody Cup? Is it not Love? are not thy draughts of Suffering sweeter and sweeter? What Glory is that which rests upon thee? Is not Christ with thee in the Fire, and doth not he pass with thee thro Water? in this thy Storm of Wind and Rain, doth not the Sun shine? Ah no, I suffer for Christ, and yet I am without Christ; could I but have his Presence, I should flight Persecutions; did he smile, I should laugh at my Foes Browns; were I but in the light of him, I could sing in this Darkness; did I but enjoy the least of his Love, I could triumph in the Flame of their Wrath; but alas, alas, wo, &c. Stay, O Soul, I speak not out thy sorrows too speedily, Christ cannot be long away, hark! He comes leaping over the Mountains, see how the Clouds fly away; surely the Sun will shine presently, he cannot be long away; thy very fins shall not, therefore thy sufferings cannot separate between him and thee; Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, my way is hid from the Lord: Hast thou not heard, hast thou not known the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth? He faileth not, he giveth power to the faint, Isa. 41. 27, 28.

Sing, ye Sufferers, rejoice, ye Prisoners of Hope, the Lord whom ye look for, and long after, he is with you, he cannot be absent from you; Christ is in your Prison ( tho it may be you are not aware of it) however, cast not away your confidence, for he that shall come will come, and will not tarry. Now the just shall live by faith, ( 'tis spoken to Sufferers) But if any man draw back...my soul shall have no pleasure in him, Heb. 10. 35, 37, 38.

But that I may draw out many Arguments for your Comforts, consider of these Particulars.

1. Christ is especially present with his suffering Saints. Thus run the Promiser, I will be with him in trouble, and will deliver him. Fear not, O Israel, when thou passest through the water, I will be with thee; when thou walkest through the fire fire, thou shalt not be burned, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee, Isa. 43. 1, 2. Oh what sweet Promises, what Flagonns of Wine are these to comfort the distressed Soul. As Cesar said to the trembling Mariners, Be not afraid, for you carry Cesar: so may I say to poor, persecuted, afflicted Christians, Be not afraid, for he that is your King is in you, for you, with you. Upon this ground David comforted his Soul, The 1 will walk thro the valley of the Shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me, thy rod, and the staff comfort me, Ps. 23. 4. When Paul was bereaved of his sight, then, as some conceive, he was rapt into the third Heaven, and heard those words from Christ not fit to be uttered, 2 Cor. 12. 4. When Stephen was at the Bar, and the flower of Stones was ready to fall upon his Head, then he saw heaven itself open, and the Son of man standing at the right hand of God, Acts 7. 56. When the three Children were in the Furnace, Christ was there to make the Fourth, I saw four men loose walking in the midst of the fire, and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God, Dan. 3. 25.

2. Christ is not only present, but supportingly present with his in their Sufferings. Thou art with me, faith David, thy rod and thy staff comfort me, Ps. 23. 4. Thou all Men forsook Paul when he was to answer before Nero, Notwithstanding, faith Paul, Christ the Lord stood by me, and strengthened me, 2 Tim. 4. 16, 17.

3. Christ gives his Saints Cordials suitable to their Sufferings. They shall put you out of the synagogue, faith Christ, and kill you, Joh. 16. 2. 1. They shall excommunicate you; now as suitable to this Christ told them that he went to prepare mansions for them in his Father's house, John 14. 2. 2. They shall kill you; now as suitable to this Christ tells them that their Lives should be as sure as his; Because I live, ye shall live also, Joh. 14. 19. Thus Christ hath suitable cordials; if Men drown, he hath Smiles; if Men disgrace, he hath honour; if you lose perishing Riches, he hath endurable, unsearchable. Whatsoever you suffer most in, he will make it up.

4. Christ sympathizeth with his suffering Saints. In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them, Isa. 63. 9. Christians, suffer when and where you will, Christ suffers then, and there with you. Had Persecutors Eyes, they would see this, and they would be afraid of this. If we perish, Christ perisheth with us, could Luther say. Suffering saints! Christ so loves you, as that he suffers with you; are you in Dungeons? Christ is there too; are you with Job on the Dung-hill? Christ there sits by you; every drop of blood that you bleed, goes to the Heart of Jesus Christ: the Baptism of Affliction wherewith ye are baptized is Christ's. Count not, call not that yours, which is his; surely he rather suffers in you, than you for him; or if you will say, you suffer for him, yet know he sympathizeth with you in those Sufferings.

5. Christ ordreth all the Sufferings of his Saints for Quality, Quantity, and Duration. 1. For Quality, Christ ordres to some Mockings, Bonds, Imprisonments; to others Stoning, Sawing, killing with the Sword; Christ tells Peter, by what death shall he glorifie him, Joh. 21. 19. 2. For Quantity, Thou tell'st my wandrings, Pial. 56. 8. he means the Wandrings whilst he was persecuted, such Wandrings as the Apostle means, They wandered about in sheeps skins, and goats skins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented, Heb. 11. 37. David must not wander a step more than Christ would: nor shall saints weep a Tear, nor bleed a drop, nor bear a stripe more than Christ will number out. 3. For Duration, he orders that 100; Ye shall have tribulation ten days.
days. The Gentiles shall tread the holy city under foot forty-two months. The witnesses shall lie in the streets three days and an half. Rev. 210, and 11. 2, 9. So many Days, Months, Years, Christ orders all.

6. Christ often gives to his saints most gloriousVisions in their grievous sufferings: Was it not thus with John, and Stephen? and how many Martyrs have spoke of spiritualVisions, Visits, Incomess, which they have had in prisons, the like unto which they never found nor felt at other times? We give our Rings, Jewels, Chains, Net-works to our Children if they be in pains, which we lock up in Closets and Cabinets at other Times; Christ gives Cabinet-comforts lockt up, and unusual Discoveries to his Members in Prisons and Dungeons, of which many have had sweet and gracious Experiences. Revelation 1. 12. Acts 7. 54, 55.

7. Christ rewards all the sufferings of his Saints. To you that have continued with me in my temptation, I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed me, Luke 22. 29, 30. For our light affliction which is but for a moment worketh for us a far more exceeding, and eternal weight of glory, 2 Cor. 4. 16, 17. I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory that shall be revealed in us, Rom. 8. 18. And blessed is the man that endureth temptations for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, Jas. 1. 12. Tortures are but tradings with God for glory, said Groitus. And persecutors are but my Father’s goldsmiths who are working to add pearls to the crowns of saints, said Bernard. Christians, comfort yourselves with these Words.

S E C T. IV.

Of the manner how to carry ourselves when Sufferings and Afflictions are gone.

The Duties that concern us when Affliction are gone, is these.

1. That we treasure up all the Experiences we have had of God, and of our own Hearts in the time of our affliction: keep we them fresh in our hearts, and work them upon our own spirits, and make use of them as God offers occasion.

2. Whatever we wished that we had done then, be sure now to set about, and never rest till it be done, that when affliction comes again, it may not find it undone, if it doth, it will make the affliction very bitter unto us; if this Rule were well observed, we should have glorious Reformations. 3. Be we careful to perform the Vows we have made in our Afflictions. Most Hypocrites have many good Motions and Purposes, and seem to be new Men in their Afflictions, but when God’s Hand is removed, they return their old Bias again, yea become worse than before; only the Elect are better for their Afflictions afterwards.

Before I was afflicted, I went astray, but now I have kept thy word, Ps. 119. 67.

4. Take heed of trusting to our own promises that we have made to God for Obedience, rather than his promises he hath made to us for Assistance. 5. Often call yourselves to account after the Affliction is over, what is become of it? how was it with me then? and how is it now? have I more peace now than I had then? and how comes it about? hath my peace grown upon good Grounds, so as that it may hold? I had Workings of Spirit then, what are become of them? Have I been faithful to God and my own soul?

Thus much of the Sufferings of Saints.
HITHERTO of Duties ordinary; now follow the extraordinary, Fasting and Feasting: but because the Book is swollen bigger than I had purposed it, and that much of the extraordinary is contained in the ordinary Duties, I shall therefore deliver in few Words what I have to say of these Duties.

The first of these is fasting, in which there is required something

\{ Antecedent. \\
Concomitant. \\
Subsequent. \}

1. The Antecedent, or Preparation thereto, consists in these Particulars.

1. Take but a moderate Supper the Night before; for if a Man glut himself over Night, he will be more unfit for the Duty of Humiliation the next Day.

2. Immediately after Supper, all servile Works of our Calling laid aside, begin the Preparation, and continue so long as we can conveniently fit up, even longer and latter than on other Days: From even to even shall ye celebrate your Sabbath, * faith God, Lev. 23. 32. and therefore then let the Time allotted apart for that holy Work, propounding to our selves the End of our intended Fasting, resolving to keep it to God according to his Will, adding serious Petitions to God in our Prayers, in that Behalf.

3. When we awake that Night, let not our Thoughts be upon worldly Business, much less upon any wicked Thing, but let them be holy, such as may tend to the Furtherance of the holy Actions to be done the next Day.

4. Arise early the Day of our Fast; this agrees well with a Fasting-day; it is probable, that for this Caution some lay on the ground, 2 Sam. 12. 16. others in sackcloth, Joel 1. 13. in the Nights of their Fasts, not only to express, but to further their Humiliation, by keeping them from sleeping over much or over sweetly.

5. In the Morning, after some renewing of our Preparation, and Prayer for God's spiritual Grace to enable us to sanctifie a Fast that Day, apply we our selves to the main Work of the Day, of which in the next Section.

SECT. II.

Of the Duties required in Fasting.

In the Action of Fasting there are Duties \{ inward.

\{ outward. \}

1. The inward Duties are \{ more special. \}

1. The Duties that more generally concern the Nature of the Day, are such as these:

1. In the true spiritual Fasting, there must be fasting from sin, or the forfaking of all our sins; for while we abstain from lawful Things, we are admonished much

---

* I speak not this in reference to our Lord's Day; indeed the seventh day Sabbath among the Jews began at evening, and ended the next day evening, according to the beginning and ending of natural days from the Creation (as it is said The evening and morning made the first day) but our Lord's Day begins in the morning from the resurrection of Christ on the morning on that day; and that's not without a mystery, that the legal Sabbath began with Darkness, and the Evangelical began with Light.

† This Text hath only reference to this occasional Sabbath of fasting, or humiliation for sin.

Religious Fasting.

more to abstain from all Things that are utterly unlawful at all Times. It is the Lord's Complaint, Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and fasting with the filth of wickedness, ye shall not fast as ye do this day, Isa. 58. 4. It is plain, the Lord will endure no Fast of those that go on still in their Wickedness.

2. The Word and Prayer must be added: I fasted and prayed before the God of heaven, said Nebemiah: And they stood up in their place, and read in the book of the law of the Lord their God, one fourth part of the day, and another fourth part they confessed and worshipped the Lord their God, Neh. 1. 4. & 9. 3. But whereas Prayer is a daily and ordinary Exercise of the Saints, it is manifest, that by Prayer coupled with Fasting, is understood a special and peculiar kind of Prayer, wherein two Things are required. 1. Fervency of Desire; now we must not only pray but cry unto the Lord, Joel 1. 14. yea as the Ninevites speak, We are to cry mightily unto him, Jon. 3. 8. For the Use of our outward Abstinence, is but the wing of Prayer, wherewith it might more easily fly up to heaven. 2. In such a Prayer there should be an Assurance of Faith: The Lord hath made a gracious Promise in many Places to this Ordinance, 2 Chro. 7. 14. Isa. 8. 13. Joel 2. 18, 19. and let all the Fast of the Church of Christ, both in the old and new Testament, be look'd at, as Judg. 20. 23. Ezra 9. 6. Esth. 4. 16. Acts 13. 2. 3. and it will appear, that the End of their Fasts (kept in any Measure of Truth and Sincerity) was a Fasting, and the Flue of their mourning, great rejoicing; all which may serve wonderfully to strengthen our Faith in this holy Performance.

3. Works of Mercy must be added; Is not this thy Fast that I have chosen, to loose the bands of wickedness, to deal thy bread unto the hungry, to bring the poor that are cast out, into thine house, and when thou seest the naked, to cover them? Isa. 58. 6, 7. In all our Fasts this must be observed, that the Poor may have the Gain of our Fasting; if their Loins and Bowels bless us, the Lord also will bless us abundantly.

4. We must ever in these Days of Humiliation, renew our Covenant with the Lord; and not only unfeignedly purpose, but faithfully promise Amendment of Life; this making, renewing and keeping our Covenant, is the Life and Sum, and the one most necessary thing in this excellent and extraordinary Exercise of Fasting and Prayer.

2. The particular Duties, wherein we must seriously exercise our Souls on such a Day, are these:

1. In a right Survey and full Comprehension of all our Vilenes, Iniquities, Transgressions, and sins.

2. In a right apprehension of God's dreadful Wrath and flaming Vengeance against sin.

3. In a feeling Sense of our own unspeakable, and inconceivable Misery by Reason thereof.

4. In a vile and base Conceit and Esteem of ourselves, abhorring ourselves in dust and ashes.

5. In an inward Sorrow, resting of the Heart, bleeding of the Soul, accompanied with an outward bewailing, with a plentiful and heart piercing Confession of all our sins before God's gracious Throne.

6. In a resolute Hatred, Dislike and Aversion in the Will; in an impregnable Resolution and strong Reasoning of mind; in a constant Endeavour and watchful Opposition against sin.

7. In a Heart-grieving, that we cannot perform all these more heartily, sincerely, and soundly.

2. The outward Duties consist especially in outward Abstinence: As,

1. From Sleep, whence that Exhortation in some sense, Watch unto Prayer, Col. 4. 2. 1 Pet. 4. 7.
Religious Fasting.

2. From costly Apparel, from Ornaments and better Attire, Exod. 33. 4, 5, 6. Jonah 3. 6.
3. From matrimonial Benevolence, from that Society which God hath sanctified by his Word to married Persons, 1 Cor. 7. 5. Joel 2. 16.
5. From Food wholly; and yet this total Abstinence from Meat and Drink is not so strictly required, but that they whole Health cannot bear it, may, in case of true Necessity, take some little Refreshing, left otherwise they hazard and hurt their Health, and unfit themselves for the spiritual Exercise and Duty; indeed we have no Example in this case propounded in Scripture, yet we have sufficient Ground for it, Hosea 6. 6. Matth. 12. 7.
6. From all carnal Delights and Pleasures of this Life, Joel 2. 16. David and Daniel would not anoint themselves at such a Time, 1 Sam. 12. 20. Dan. 10. 3. And all these outward Duties are to be obeyed, 1. Partly as Helps to our Humiliation, in renouncing the Hindrances thereof, 2. Partly as signs of our Humiliation, whereby we acknowledge ourselves unworthy of these Delights. 3. Partly as Evidences of our Repentance, in that by Way of godly Revenge we deprive our sensus, which have all sinned, of their several Delights.

SECT: III.
Of the Duties after Fasting.

When all is done and performed, observe these Particulars; 1. Take heed of inward Pride, and retarding the Performance: Spiritual Pride is that Worm that will breed in the best Fruits of the Spirit, that Poison which the Devil (that hellish Spider) will suck out of the best Flowers in God's Garden; and if he can but prevail over us to be self-conceited with our Enlargements, or to trust to that Service we have done, he hath what he looks for, and deprives us of all the Comfort of our Humiliation: Labour therefore, as much as we can, to humble ourselves with a through View of our Failings in the best of our Performances; and for our Enlargements, consider we the Fountain of them, which is not any Ability of our own, but the good Spirit of God, breathing when and where it listeth, and setting out our frail Hearts, which otherwise would be utterly closed and shut up; let Christ have the Glory of all our Abilities, who hath given us his Grace, but will not give his Glory to another.

2. Hold the strength which we have got that Day as much as we can; keep we still our Interest and holy Acquaintance, which we have gotten, with God, and with the holy Exercises of Religion; unloose not the bent of our care and affections against sin, and for God; it is a corruption of our Nature, and it is a Policy of Satan to help it forward, that like some unwise Warriors, when they have gotten the Day of their Enemies, we grow full of Presumption and security, by which the Enemy taketh advantage to recollect his Forces, and coming upon us unlooked for, gives us the foil, if not the Overthrow; we are too apt, after a Day of Humiliation, to fall into a Kind of Remissness, as if then we had gotten the Matter; whereas if Satan fly from us, if sin be weakened in us, it is but for a season, and but in part, and especially if we stand not upon our Watch, Satan will take Occasion to return, and sin will revive in us, Luke 4. 13. Matth. 12. 44.

3. Wait upon God for Return; we must not presume that presently upon the Work done, God must grant our asking; as Hypocrites that could say, We
We have fasted, and thou hast regarded it, Isaiah 58. 3. we may and must expec-t a gracious Hearing, upon our un-feigned Humiliation, All things whatsoever we shall ask in prayer, believing, we shall receive, Matth. 21. 22. but as for when and how, we must wait patiently; it is true, Faith secureth us of good Suc-cess, This is the confidence that we have in him, that if we ask any thing accord-ing to his will, he heareth us, 1 John 5. 14. but Faith neither prescribeth un-to God how; For who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord? or who being his counsellor hath taught him? Isaiah 40. 13. nor yet doth it make haste, Behold, I laid in Zion a foundation stone, a tried stone, a precious corner-stone, a sure foundation; he that believeth shall not make haste, Isaiah 28. 17. Faith waits God’s Leisirne, when he in his Wisdom shall judge it most faa-sonaible, that is the Time.

And thus much of our Duty before, in, and after religious Fasting.

C H A P. XVIII. S E C T. I.

Of the Duties before Thanksgiving, or Feasting:

The Second Duty extraordinary, is, Holy Feasting or Thanksgivi-ng; and the Preparation thereto consists in these particulars:

1. In stirring up ourselves to the performance of this Duty: Bless the Lord, O my soul, and all that is within me, bless his holy name: Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits; Psalm 103. 1. 2.

2. In Meditating on God’s under-served Bounty towards us, and of our own Unworthinesse to God: O God of my fathers, which saidst to me, I will deal well with thee: I am not worth-y of the least of all thy Mercies, and of all the truth which thou hast shewed unto thy servant, Gen. 32. 9. 10.

3. In craving the Assistance of God’s Spirit (because of ourselves we are unable) to open our lips, that we may shew forth his praise, Psalm 51. 17.

S E C T. II.

Of the Duties required in Thanksgiving.

In the Action of Thanksgivi-ng there are Duties outward,

1. The inward Charis, Thankfulness.

Duties are Charis, Thankfulness.

1. Thankfulness; Mindfulness, of the Soul, Acknowledgment, which implies Affection.

2. We must acknowledge God’s Goodness, James 1. 17. Deut 8. 18. and our Beholdedness, in respect of our own Nullity and Unworthinesses, 1 Cor. 4. 7. 1 Chron. 17. 16.

3. We must prize and esteem God’s Benefits, endeavouring to amplify them, in respect of their Greatness, Excellency, Profit, Necessity, Sufficiency, acknowledging therein God’s Wisdom, Power, Goodness, Fatherly Providence and Bounty towards us, Psalm 16. 5. 6. Mark 7. 37. Rom. 8. 28. and this Acknowledgment, if it be effectual, will work Affection in the Heart, a sense of God’s Good-ness and Bounty towards us, caufing us to love God, and to be obsequious towards God in all the Duties of Thankfulness.

2. Cheerfulness and Alacrity of Spirit; as the Lord loves a cheerul Giver, so a cheerful Thanksgiver; charis Thans Holy Feasting.

Thanks, comes from chaira, to rejoice; charis must be meta charis, with joy, Phil. 1. 4. James 5. 13. The Holy Ghost in many Places hath joined them together, I will be glad and rejoice in thee. I will sing praises unto thy name, O thou, most High: Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteous, for praise is comely for the upright: It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most High: For thou hast made me glad through thy works, I will triumph in the works of thy hands, Psalm 9. 2. and 33. i. and 92. 1. 4.

2. The outward Duty, is to express our inward Thankfulness and Cheerfulness: Our Thankfulness, by celebrating and praising the Name of God, by extolling his Goodness, by recounting his Mercies, and by exciting others to praise the Lord: Our Cheerfulness, by making a joyful Noise and singing unto God: Sing aloud unto God our Strength, make a joyful Noise unto the God of Ja-sect. IV. Of Psalms suitable to Psalms 100. To the Tune, Have mercy, &c.

Almighty God, let the earth, dwell in all the earth, the nations all among:

2. O make a Noise to God with joys, and serve the Lord with virtue.
O come before his throne with singing every one:

3. For certainly the Lord most High, even he is God alone.
He made us, and not we, not we ourselves, but he.
His folk and flock, and pasture flock, be made us for to be:

4. With praise come to his gate, and to his courts relate.
His land and name, and blest his name, his honour celebrate.

5. For God is good for ever, his mercy faileth never.
His truth doth lift all ages past, and constant doth preserve.

Psalms 108. First Part:

God, I fix my heart, my glory bears a part,
And as my tongue fo shall all my song
praise thee with my words:
Wake harp and psaltery, right early wake will I:
Thy praises, Lord, will I record, the people standing by.

This Duty, translated by Mr. W. B.

I'll praise thee with my song, the nations all among:

4. To heavens high, to clouds of sky, his truth and mercey strong.

5. Exalted be thy name above the heavens frame,
Let earth below the trumpet blow of thy renowned fame.

Psalms 110.
Praise, praise the Lord most high, within his sanctuary, in topmost tower of his great power, with praise his magnificence.

2. Praise him for all renown'd, with excellency crown'd;
According to his greatness, do praise him with trumpet sound.

3. O praise him cheerfully with harp and psaltery:

4. And let the dance his praise advance, and timbrels melody:
Praise him with jointcontents of stringed instruments.

5. The organs bring, loud cymbals ring, each one his praise preface.

6. High sounding cymbals ring, let every treauring thing The praise record of this great Lord, and Hallelujah sing.

Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Amen, Hallelujah.

HEN Pharaoh was Egypt's King, Joseph, Pharaoh's Steward, and Jacob, Joseph's Father, there was a great Famine which Pharaoh had dreamed, Joseph foretold, and Jacob suffered: God, that sent Joseph to Pharaoh, brings Jacob to Joseph, the same Providence for disposing of all, that yet some Food must be in Egypt, when nothing was found in all the Land of Canaan: Thither come and welcome, as you may see the Story: Pharaoh salutes Jacob with this Question, What is thy Age? How many are thy Days? How many? alas, but few: What are they? alas, but evil: Thus we find Jacob at his Arithmetick, the Bill is short, and the Number but a Cypher: Will you hear him cast his Accounts? 1. They are Days, and without all Rule of Falsehood, by Subtraction few, by Addition full of evil: contract all, and this is the Sum of all, Few and evil have the days of my life been.

This Text, briefly, is the Leafe of Jacob's Life; God the chief Lord enriched his Substance, yet limits the Grant of his Time: Will you question the Leafe? for what Time? no more, but my Life, faith Jacob; but a Life? what Years? no Years, but Day, faith Jacob: but Days? how many? not many, but few, faith Jacob; but few? how good? not good, but evil, faith Jacob: Who can blaze the Arms of Life, that finds not in it Crofs and Croslet? the Leafe, but a Life, the Term, but Days, the Number, few, the Nature, evil, nay when all is done, we see all is out of date; the Days are not, but are past, they have been, Few and evil have the days of my life been.

We must, you see, invert the Text, and begin with that on which all hangs; it is but my Life, faith Jacob.

Life.]

Would you know what is that? Take but a View of Nature, and Scripture, and these will sufficiently describe our Life.

1. Nature, whose dim Eyes see thus far: What is it? but a Rose, faith Tifernas, * which if you view in its Growth, the cold nips it, Heat withers it, the Wind shakes it; be it never so fair, it withers; be we never so lively, immediately we die and perish.

* Ut rosa Praetano languet adepta jugo. Tifernas.
A Rose? that is too beautiful? Life is but Grasfs, faith * Plautus, green now, withered anon; thus like the Flower that is cut in Summer, as soon as we are born, Death is ready with his Scyth; as soon as we are dead, Angels gather in the Harvest, on whose Wings we are carried to that Barn of Heaven: Grasfs? No, faith Philemon, Life is no better than a counterfeit Picture? what if the Colours be fair, and the resemblance near? the shadow of Death, and the Curtains of our Grave will darken all. A Picture? that is to honourable; Life is (a worte resemblance) but a Play, faith † Cato. Here is a true Picture of our Frailty, Life is like Death, indeed to like, to near together, that we cannot differ each from other.

See here the Condition of our Life, what is it but a Rose, a Grass, a Picture, a Play, a Show, a Sleep, a Dream, an Image of Death? such a Thing is Life, we so much talk of.

Use. And if Nature give this Light, how blind are they that cannot see Life’s Frailty? you need no more but mark the Destinies (as Poets feign) to spin their Threads; one holds, another draws, a third cuts it off: What is our Life but a Thread? some have a stronger Twift, others a more flenider: some live till near rot, others die when scarce born; there’s none endures long, this Thread of Life is cut sooner or latter, and then our Work is done, our course is finifhed. Are these the Emblems of our Life? and dare we truft to this broken Staff? how do the Heathen precede us Christians in these Studies? Their Books were skulls, their Desks were graves; their Remembrance an Hour-glass. Awake your Souls, and bethink you of Mortality; have you any Privilege for your Lives? are not Heathens and Christians of one Father Adam? of one Mother Earth? the Gospel may free you from the second, not the first Death; only provide you for the first, to escape the second Death. O Men, what be your Thoughts? nothing but of Goods and Barns, and many Years? you may boast of Life, as Ora-mazes the Conjurer of his Egg, which, helaid included the Felicity of the World, yet, being opened, there was nothing but Wind: Think what you please, your Life is but a Wind, which may be stopt soon, but cannot last long by the Law of Nature.

But, 2. as Nature, so Scripture will inform you in this Point. The Life of Man is but of little Esteem; what is it but a Shrub or a Briar in the Fire?
As the crackling of thorns under the pot,
so is the life or laughter of the fool;
momentary and vanity, Eccl. 7. 6. Nay, a Shrub were something, but our Life is less, no better than a Leaf, not a Tree, nor Shrub, nor Fruit, nor Blossom: We all fade as a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, have swept us away, Isai. 64. 6. Yet a Leaf may Glory of his Birth, it is decended of a Tree: Life is a Reed, sometimes broken, at least shaken, so vain, so infirm, so unconstant is the Life of Man: What went ye out to see? a reed shaken with the wind? Matth. 11. 7. Nay, a Reed were something, our Life is bafer, indeed no better than a Rush or Flag. Can a rush grow without mine? tho it were green and not cut down, yet shall it with-ther before any other herb, Job. 8. 11.
12. What shall I say more? what shall I cry? a Rush? All flesh is grass, and the grace thereof as the flower of the field;
the grass withereth, the flower fadeth;
surely the people is grass, Isai. 40. 7. I am descended beneath Patience, but not so low as the Life of Man; as all these resemble Life, so in some Mea-Sure they have Life: But Life is like a Smoke without any Spark of Life in it, thus cried David. My days are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burnt like an hearth, Psalm 102. 3 Yet is here no Stay, the Smoke engenders Clouds, and a Cloud is the fittest Remembrance of our Life: My welfare passeth away as a cloud, faith 'tis but, and our life shall pass away as the trace of a Cloud, and come to nought as the mist that is driven away with the beams of the sun, Job 30.
15. Neither is this all, Clouds may hang calm, but Life is like a Tempest, it is a Cloud and a Wind too; Remember that my life is but a wind, and that mine eye shall not return to see pleasure, Job 7. 7. Nay, we must lower, and find a weaker Element, it is not a Wind, but Water, said that Woman of Teaboah, We are as water spilt upon the ground, which cannot be gathered up again, 2 Sam. 14. 14. Yet Water is both a needful and necessary Element; Life is the least part of Water, nothing but a Foam, a Bubble: The king of Samaria, that great king, is destroyed as a foam upon the water, Hof. 10. 7. I can no more, and yet here is something less, a Foam or Bubble may burst into a Vapour, and What is your life? it is even a vapour that appeareth for a little time, and afterwards vanisbeth away, James 4. 14. Less than this is nothing; yet Life is something less, nothing in Substance, all it is, it is but a Shadow, We are strangers and sojourners as all our fathers were; our days are like a shadow upon the earth, and there is none abiding, 1 Chron. 29. 15. See whither we have brought our Life, and yet ere we part, we will down one Step lower; upon a strict View we find neither Substance nor Shadow, only a mere nothing, a very Vanity. Behold, thou hast made my days as an hand-breadth, and my age is as nothing in respect of thee; surely every-man living is altogether vanity, Psalm 59. 5.

Lo here the Nature of our Life; it is a Shrub, a Leaf, a Reed, a Rush, a Grass, a Smoke, a Cloud, a Wind, Life's Leafl

a Water, a Bubble, a Vapour, a Shadow, a Nothing.

What mean we to make such a do about a Matter of Nothing? I cannot choose but wonder at the Vanity of Men, that run, ride, toil, travel, undergo any Labour to maintain this Life, and what is it when they have their Desire which they so much toil for; we live, and yet whilst we speak this Word, perhaps we die. Is this a Land of the Living, or a Region of the dead? We that suck the Air to kindle this little spark, where is our standing, but at the gates of death? Psal. 9. 13. Where is our Walk, but in the shadow of death? Luke 1. 79. What is our Mansionhouse, but the body of death? Rom. 7. 24. What think ye? Is not this the Region of Death, where is nothing but the Gate of Death, and the Shadow of Death, and the Body of Death? Σ Sure we dream that we live, but sure it is that we die; or if we live, the best hold we have is but a Leafe: God our chief Lord may bestow what he plealeth, to the rich Man Wealth, to the wife Man Knowledge, to the good Man Peace, to all Men somewhat: Yet if you ask Who is the Leslor? God. Who is the Leslee? Man. What is leased? This World. For what Term? My Life. Thus Jacob tells Pharaoh, as the Text tells you; Few and evil have the days of my Life been.

This is the Leafe, and now you have it, let us see what Ufe you will make of it.

Ufe. 1. It is a bad Life some live; Come, say they, and let us enjoy the pleasures that are present, and let us cheerfully use the Creatures as in youth, let us fill our cellars with costly wine and ointments, and let not the flower of life pass by us, Wild. 2, 6, 7. What a Life is here? Can it be that Pleasures, Wine and Ointments should have any Durance in this Vale of Misery? Suppose thy Life a continued Scene of Pleasures: Hadst thou Dives' Fare, Solomon's Robes, David's Throne, Cæ- fus' Wealth; livedst thou many Years without any Cares, yet at last comes Death, and takes away thy Soul in the Midst of her Pleasures: Alas, what is all thy Glory, but a snuff that goes out in stench? Couldst thou not have made Death more welcome; if he had found thee lying on a Pad of straw, feeding on crusts and crumbs? Is not thy Pain more grievous, because thou wait more happy? Do not thy Joys more afflict thee, than if they had never been? O deceitful World, that grievest if thou crostleft, and yet to whom thou art best, they are most unhappy!

2. Ufe. But to speak to you who have passed the Pikes and Pangs of the new Birth, would you have Life indeed, and enjoy that Joy of Life which is immortal? then hear, revive, watch and awake from sin: were you sometimes dead in sin? O but now live in Chrif: Chrif is the Life, John 14. 6: Were you sometimes dumb in your dying Pangs? O but now abide in Chrif: Chrif is the word of Life, John 1. 1. are you as yet Babes in Chrif, feeble and but weak through Life's Infirmities? why, then use all good Means, eat and be strong, Chrif is the bread of Life, John 6. 48. Here is a Life indeed, would you not thus live for ever? Then Believe in God, and in Chrif whom he hath sent, and this is life eternal, John 17. 3. O happy Life, which many a Man never dreams of? So must they strive to protract this brittle

† An non & hac regio mortis, ubi porta mortis, umbra mortis, & corpus mortis?
Life, which but adds more Grief, that they forget Christ; nay they forget their Creed, which begins with true Life, God, and ends with Life never-ending, Life everlasting. Others that hope for Heaven, fix not their thoughts on Earth; if you be God's Servants, lift up your Hearts above, for there is Life, and the God of Life, the Tree of Life, and the Well of Life, the Life of Angels, and the Life everlasting.

One day is run, and the Text is lessened; but as you have the Leafe, so you may now expect to know the date: the leafe is but a Life, the date lasts but Days.

Days.]

Not Weeks, nor Months, nor Years; or if a Year, the best Arithmetick is to reduce or break it into Days: so we have it in the last Translations, The days of the year.

Here then \{ Fraction, Days. \

1. A Year; in the Spring is the youthful Spring of our Age; in the Summer is the aged Time of our Youth; in the Autumn is the high Noon or Middle of our Age, when the Sun (which is our Soul) rules in the equinoctial Line of our Life; in the Winter we grow old and cold, the Nips of Frost strip the Tree of our Life, we fall into the Grave, and the Earth that nourished us, will then consume us.

See, what is Man! a Spring of Tears, a Summer's Dust, an Autumn's Care, a Winter's Wo: Read but this Map, and you need travel no further to enquire of Life.

The first Quarter is our Spring, and that is full of sin and Misery; the Infant no sooner breathes, but he sucks the Poison of his Parents: In Adam all finned, and since his Time all were defiled by his sin. Is it not Nature's Rule, that Every man begets one like himself? And is it not God's Rule, that Every sinner begets another no better than himself? How may a soul Vessel keep sweet Water? or how may an earthly sinner beget an heavenly Saint? We are all in the same state of sin, and so we fall into the same plunge of sorrow: The Child in his Cradle sleeps not for secure, but now he wakes, and then he weeps, Cold starves him, Hunger pines him, Sores trouble him, Sickness gripes him; there is some Punishment, which without sin had never been inflicted.

It is wonderful to consider, how Nature hath provided for all Creatures; Birds with Feathers, Beasts with Hides, Fishes with Scales, all with some Defence; only Man is born stark naked, without either Weapon in his Hand, or the least Thought of Defence in his Heart; Birds can flee, Beasts can go, Fishes can swim; but Infant-man, as he knows nothing, to neither is he able to do any Thing: Indeed he can weep as soon as born, but not laugh (as some observe) till forty Days old; fo ready are we born to wo, but to far from the least spark of Joy. O meer Madmen of Men, that from so poor, naked and base Beginnings, can persuade our selves we are born to be proud!

And if this be our Spring, what think ye is our Summer? Remember not the sins of this time, prays David, Psal. 25. 7. and why? Their remembrance is bitter, faith Job, ch. 13. 26. If Mirth and Melody should never meet with End, this were an happy Life; Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth, let thine heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes; but remember, for all these things God will bring thee to judgment, Eccles. 11. 9. This Judgment is the Damp that puts out all the Lights of Comfort; could not Lift's But fhew Our What that yet alas, What Muft a If Nay then cries vain not ever we enjoy, but in grievous Sadness we repent our Follies. The wife man that gave Liberty to his Ways, what cries he but Vanity, and after, Vanity of vanities; and at last, All is vanity? What was the Wifdom of Achitophel? a vain Thing: What the Swiftness of Hazael? a vain thing: What the strength of Goliath? a vain Thing: What the Pleasures of Nebuchadnezzar? a vain thing: What the Honour of Haman? a vain Thing: What the Beauty of Absalom? a vain Thing. Thus if we see but the Fruit that grows of fin, we may boldly say of laughter, Thou art mad: and of Joy, what is this thou doft? Eccl. 2. 2.

And if this be our Autumn, what may be our Autumn? an Hour of Joy, a World of Sorrow: If you look about you, how many Miferies ly in wait to enflaie you? there is no Place secure, no State sufficient, no Pleasure permanent; whither will you go? The Chamber hath its Care, the Houfe has its Fear, the Field hath its Toil, the Country hath its Frauds, the City hath its Factions, the Church hath its Sects, the Court hath its Envy, here is every Place a Field where is offered a Battel: Or, if this were better, consider but your States; the Beggar hath his Sores, the Soldier hath his Scars, the Magistrate hath his Troubles, the Merchant his Travels, the Nobles their crofles, the great Ones their Vexations; here is every State a Sea tossed with a World of Tempefts: Or yet if this were happier, bethink a little longer of your fleeting Joys, the sweet hath its towre, the Crown hath its Care, the World hath its want, Pleasure hath its Pain, Profit hath its Grief, all these must have their End: Here is a Dram of Sugar mixt with an Ephah of Bitter. Is this Manhood that is subject to all these Miferies? Nay, what are these in comparison of all it suffers? It is deformed with fin, defiled with Lust, outraged with Passions, overcarried with Affections, pining with Envy, burthened with Gluttony, boiling with Revenge, trnspor ted with Rage, all Man's Body is full of Iniquity, and his foul (the bright Image of God) through fin, is transformed to the ugly shape of the Devil.

And if this be our Autumn, what I pray is the Winter; then our Sun grows low, and we begin to die by Degrees; shew me the light that will not darken, shew the flower which will not fade, shew me the fruit which will not corrupt, shew me the Garment which will not wear, shew me the Beauty which will not wither, shew me the Strength which will not weaken: Behold, now is the Hour that thy lights shall darken, thy cheeks wrinkle, thy skin be furrowed, thy Beauty fade, and thy Strength decay. Here is the Ambiton of a long life; thy leafe lies a bleeding, and Death raps at the Door of thy Heart to take Possession: O forcirole Entry! will not pleasures delay? cannot Riches ransom? dares not Strength defie? Is neither Wit nor Wealth able to deceive nor bribe? What may rent this House that the Soul may not lodge but one Night longer? Poor Soul! that dies, or departs in unremedied Pangs: Our fins may run on score, and Repentance forget her days of Payment; yet our Leafe shall end, the Date expire, this Body suffer, and the Soul be driven from her Houfe and Harbour. See the Jwift Course of our mortal Sun, at North and South, in our Mother's Womb and Tomb both in one year.

Uic. Consider this, ye that forget God; you have but a Year to live, and every every Season yields some Occasion to tell you, ye must die. In Childhood, what is your Chest of Clouts, but a Remembrance of your Winding-sheets?

In Youth, what is your Mirth and Music, but a Summon to the Knell?
In Manhood, what is your House and Enclosure, but a Token of the Coffin?
In Age, what is your Chair or Litter, but a shew of the Beer, which at last shall convey you to your Graves?
Man, ere he is aware, hath drest his Herie; every Season adding something to his Solemnity. Where is the Addulterer, Murderer, Drunkard, Blas-phemers? Are you about your sins?
look on these Objects; There is a Sun now setting, or a Candle burning, or an Hour-glass running, or a Flower decaying, or a Traveller passing, or a Vapour vanishing, or a sick Man groaning, or a strong Man dying; be sure there is something pulls you by the sleeve, and bids you beware to commit such Enormities: Who dares live in sin, that considers with himself he must die soon?
And who will not consider, that sees before his Eyes to many a Remembrance? Alas, we must die, and howtoever we pass from Childhood to Youth, from Youth to Manhood, from Manhood to Age; yet there is none can be more than old; Seneatatem nemo exceedit.
Here is the utmost of our Life, a Spring, a Summer, an Autumn, a Winter; and when that is done, you know the whole Year is finished.

The Sum is a Year, the Items are Days. And what Days can ye expect of such a Year? My Text, in relation to these Days, gives us two Attributes, the First, is, Few; the Second, is, Evil: If you consider our Days, in regard of the Fewness (which this Word seems rather to intimate) you may see them in Scripture brought to fewer and fewer, till they are well near brought to nothing.

If we begin with the Beginning, we find first, that the first Man Adam had a Lease of his Life in fee, and as Lawyers say, To have and to hold, from the Begining to everlasting: but for eating the forbidden Fruit, he made a Forfeiture of that Estate; of this he was forwar-ed, In the day that thou eatest thereof, you shalt die the death, Gen. 2. 17.
And this he found too true, Because you have eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee, Thou shalt not eat, what then? amongst other Curles this was one, Dost thou art, and to dust thou shalt return, Gen. 3. 10. After him, the longest Life came short of the Number of a thousand Years; The days of Methusalem, faith Moses, were nine hundred, sixty, and nine years, Gen. 5. 27. And had he come to a Thousand, which ne-ever was attained by Man; yet a thousand years are, but one day with God, 2
Pet. 3. 8. Yes, but as Yesterday, faith
Moses; A thousand years in God's sight, are but as yesterday, Psalm 90. 4. But what speak I of a thousand Years? no sooner came the Flood, but the Age of Man (of every Man born after it) was shortned half in half. These are the generations of Shem (faith Moses) Gen.
11. 10, to wit, Arphaxad, and Shelah, and Eber; none of which three could reach to the Number of five hundred Years; the longest Liver was Eber, and yet all his Days, before and after his first-born Peleg, were but four hundred, sixty, and four years, Gen. 11. 16, 17.
Nay, as if half a Thousand were more than too much, you may fee God halts their Ages once again: Peleg lives as long as any Man after him, and yet his Days were neither a Thousand, nor half a Thousand, nor half of a Thousand; no, no more than two hundred, thirty and nine years, Gen.
11. 18, 19. But this was a long Life too: If we come to arrive at the Time
M-m
of Jacob, we shall find this little Time well near halved again; when he spoke this Text, he tells he was one hundred and thirty years old; and after this he lived no longer than seventeen Years more; so that the whole age of Jacob was but (seven score and seven) an hundred, forty and seven years, Gen. 47. 28: Nay, to leave Jacob a while, and to come a little nearer our selves, in Moses' Time we find this little Time halved again; he brings seven score to seventy; The days, faith he, of our age are three-score years and ten, and the men be as strong that they come to fourscore years, yet is there strength then but labour and sorrow, so soon passeth it away, and we are gone, Ps. 90. 10. Here is half of halfs, and if we half it a while, sure we shall half away all our Time: Nay, we have a Custom goes a little further, and tells us of a Number a great Deal shorter, we are fallen from seventy to seven, in Life's Leases made by us. Nay, what speak I of Years, when my Text breaks them all into Days? Few and evil have the days been; so our former Translation, without any Addition of Years at all; and if you mark it, our Life in Scripture is more often termed Days than Years: The Book of Chronicles, which writes of Mencs Lives, are called according to the Interpretation, Words of days: To this Purpose we read, David was old, and full of days, 1 Chro. 23. 1. And, In the days of Jehoram, Edom rebell'd, 2 Chro. 21. 8. So in the New Testament, In the Days of Herod the king, Mat. 2. 1. and, In the days of Herod the king of Judah, Luke 1. 5. In a Word, thus Job speaks of us, our Life is but Days, our Days but a Shadow: We know nothing, (faith Job) and why so? our days upon earth are but a shadow, Job 8. 9.

Lo here is the Length of our little Life, it is not for ever; no, Adam left that Estate, and he that lived longest after Adam, came short of the Number of a thousand Years, nay, that was halved to somewhat less than five hundred, and that again halved to little more than two hundred; Jacob yet halves it again to a Matter of seven score, and Moses halves that again to seventy, or a little more; nay, our Time brings it from seventy to seven; nay, Jacob yet brings it from Years to Days, Few and evil have the Days of the Year of my Life been.

Use 1. Teach us, O Lord, to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom, Psalm 90. 12. Moses Arithmetick is worthy your Meditation; learn of him to number, pray to God your Teacher, think every Evening there is one Day of your Number gone, and every Morning there is another Day of Misery coming on; Evening and Morning meditate on God's Mercy, and your own Misery. Thus if you number your Days, you shall have the less to account for at that Day, when God shall call you to a final Reckoning.

Use 2. But miserable Men, who are not yet born again, their Days run out without any Meditation of this Kind: What think they of but of long Days and many Years? And were all their Days as long as the Days of Jobuah, when the Sun stood still in the Midst of Heaven, yet it will be Night at last, and their Sun shall set like others. True, God may give some a liberal Time, but what Enemies are they to themselves, that of all their Days allow themselves not one? If any Man long after life, and to see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile, 2 Pet. 3. 10. How live they that would needs live to long, and follow no Rules of Piety Piety? Many can post off their Conversion from Day to Day, tending Religion before them to Thirty, and then putting it off to Forty, and not pleased yet to overtake it; promise it Entertainment at Three score; at last, Death comes, and allows not an Hour: In Youth, these Men resolve to reserve the Time of Age to serve God in; in Age, they shrieve it off to Sickness; when Sickness comes, Care to dispose their Goods, Loathness to die, Hope to escape martyrs that good Thought. O miserable Men! if you have but the Leafe of a Farm for twenty Years, you make use of the Time, and gather Profit; but in this precious Farm of Time, you are so ill Husbands, that your Leafe comes out before you are one Peny-worth of Grace the richer by it. Why stand ye here all the day idle? Matth. 20. 9. there are but a few Hours or Days that ye have to live; at last comes the Night of Death, that will shut up your Eyes in Sleep till the Day of Doom.

You see now the Term of our Leafe, our Life lasts but Days. And altho we live many Days, yet in this thy Day, faith Chrifl, Luke 1. 42. and, Give us this Day our daily Bread, Matth. 6. 12. say we, as if no Day could be called thy Day, but this Day: If there be any more, we shall soon number them; my Text tells you, they are not many, but few; Few and evil have the Days of my Life been.

Few.

Our Leafe is a Life, our Life is but Days, our Days are but few. The Phoenix, the Elephant, and the Lion fulfill their Hundreds; but a Man dieth when he thinks his Sun yet riseth, before his Eye be satisfied with seeing, or his Ear with hearing, or his Heart with Lufting; Death knocks at the Door, and often will not give him leave to meditate an Excufe before he comes to Judgment: Is not this a wonder, to see dumb Beasts outstrip Man’s Life? The Phoenix lives Thousands, say some; but a Thouland Years are a long Life with Man. Methuselah, (you saw) the longest Live, came short of this Number; and yet, could we attain to a ripe an Age, what are a thousand Years to the Days everlasting? It you took a little Note to compare with the whole Earth, what great Difference were in these Two? and if you compare this Life, which is so short, with the Life to come, which shall never have End, how much less will it yet appear? As drops of rain are unto the sea, and as a gravel-stone is in comparison to the sand, so are a thousand years to the days everlasting, Eccl. 18. 9. But will you have an exact Account, and learn the just Number? It was the Arithmetick of holy Men to reckon their Days but few; as if the shortest Cut were the best Account. The Hebrews could subduct the Time of Sleep; which is half our Life; so that if the Days of Men were Three- score Years and ten, Psalm 90. 10. Here’s Five and thirty Years struck off at one Blow. The Philosophers could subduct the Time of Weakness, which is most of Life, so that if vivere be valeere, that only a true Life which enjoys good Health; here’s the Beginning and Ending of our Days struck off at a second Blow. The Fathers could subduct all Times not present, and what say you to this Account? were the Days of Life at Noon, Man grown to Manhood? Look ye back, and the Time past is Nothing; look ye forward, and the Time to come is but uncertain; and if Time past and Time to come stand both for cyphers, what is our Life but the Present? and what is that but a Moment? Nay, as if a Mo-number our Days: We can number our Sheep, our Oxen, our Fields, our Coin; but we think our Days are infinite, and never go about to number them. The Saints that went before us cast another Account; Moses had his Tables, Job had his measures; all agree both for Measure and Number, Magnitude and Multitude, our Life is but short, our Days are but few. Few and evil they have been,

Give me leave a little to amplify this point: Would we thoroughly know the Shortness of our Time, the Fewness of our Days? I shall then set before you the Magnitude of the one, and the Multitude of the other,

And, 1. For the Magnitude of the Time of our Relief: A Man, say the Philosophers, is Micوسan, a little World; little for Goodness, but a World of Wickedness. Of this World, it you'll have the Dimensions according to the Rules of Geometricians, the Length, Breadth, and Depth, of our short Life: Then first, for our Length from East to West, from our Birth to our Burial. I need not to take so many Paces, as will make millia passus, a Mile; our little Life bears no Proportion to such a Length: I dare not lay, as Stobæus relates, That our Life hath the last of a Cubit's Length; for that's more than the Scripture will afford it: It is but a Span, or Hand-breath, faith David, Psalm 39. 5. that's little; nay, Alcaeus in Carmine Lyrico, faith, it is but an Inch long, that's less; nay, faith Plutarch, All our Life is but a Prick, a Point; yet less, faith Seneca, It is a Point that we live, and less than a Point *; that's less than either I can say, or you conceive. What is it? Not a Mile, but a Cubit, but a Span,

* Punctum est quod vivimus, & adhuc punдо minus.
but an Inch, but a Point, nay, less than that: Here's little Longitude of Life. Well, but our Latitude is perhaps greater: No, take a Measure, if you please, from one Pole to another, as we stand betwixt the Terms of Life and Death, and wheresoever we are, Death is within an Hand-breadth of our Life; if we be on the Sea, there's but a thick Board between us and drowning; if on the Land, there's but a Shoe-sole between us and our Grave; if we sleep, our Bed is our Bodies Grave, and there's but a Sheet, perhaps a Winding-sheet, betwixt us and it: When we are awake, our Body is our Grave, and there's but a few Skins (as say Physicians) betwixt Death and us. What is it? but the Breadth of Hand, of a Bord, of a Shoe-sole, of a thin Sheet, of a small Skin; there's little Latitude, you fee. Well, but our Profundity may help all this: Go to further, and see what it is. I shall not lead you down many Steps, for, indeed there are not many Steps to lead you down. In one word, come to the Centre of the Heart of Man: The Grecians, to express the Shallowness of this Life, give the same Name to the Heart, that they do to Death; Kear is the Heart, the Author of Life; and Kear is Deftiny, the Worker of Death; to shew, that as every Man hath an Heart, so Death hath a Dart for every Man. Christians! Mortals! consider your Magnitude in all these Dimensions; alas, how is it that many of you make yourselves so great? What mean those Titles which you take upon you? Your Greatness, your Highness, your — I know not what. O consider the Mortality of your Bodies, and that will tell you the just

2. For the Multitude of our Days; He was branded with the Name of a Fool, that thought he had many Years to live. Moses tells us, The days of our years are three score years and ten; Psalm 90. 10. But now, as you heard, we value our Life, but at seven Years, as if six Years we had to labour, and to do all we had to do; but the seventh were a Sabbath to rest with God, Rev. 14. 13. Nay, yet the Scripture comes somewhat lower, and because a Plurality might cause a Security, it bestows but an Unity upon our Years: Thus Jacob, in this Text, reckons of a great Number of one Year, The days of the year of my life are an hundred and thirty year, Gen. 47. 9. nay, Austin comes shorter, and compares our Life to a Quarter of a Year, like Jeboablah Reign which lasted about three Months Time, 2 Kings 23. 31. nay, the Scripture descends from Months to Days; Few and evil are my Days faith Jacob, implying that this Life is but a few Days, or but one Day, as some would have it, which is the Meaning of Christ's Prayer, Give us this day our daily bread, Matth. 6. 11. And yet that we may not think our Death a great Way off; the Scripture tells us, it is not a Day to come; no, Boast not of to morrow, for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth, Prov. 27. 1. Thy Day is this present Day, and therefore, faith the Apostle, To day if ye will hear his voice, Heb. 3. 7. nay, to speak farther, this Day, faith Job, is past already, We are but of yesternow, Job 8. 9. nay, as if a Day were too long for the Life of Man, Moses resembles it to the grafts.
that grows up in the morning, and is cut down in the evening, Psalm 90. 6. and Gregory compares it to Jonah's Gourd, that came up in a night, and perished ere the day was come, Jonah 4. 10. The evening and the morning make but one day, Gen. 1. 5. but * our Day is oftentimes an Evening without a Morning, and oftentimes a Morning without an Evening. Nay, yet to go lower, as if half a Day were more than our Life could parallel. Moses compares it to a Watch, which is but the fourth Part of a Night, Psaln 90. 4. Yea, and as if this were longer than our Life doth last, the Scripture calls it but an Hour, John 5. 25. * The hour is coming, and now is, faith Christ; nay, our Life is but a Minute, or, if we can say less, a Moment, In a moment they go down to the grave, faith Job; and, in a moment shall they die, faith Elihu, Job 21. 13. * and 34. 20. And, a lying tongue is but for a moment, faith Solomon, Prov. 12. 19. and, our light affliction is but for a Moment, faith Paul, 2 Cor. 4. 17. Lo, here the Length of our little Life, this is the Gradation that God makes of it. At first, a Matter of Seventy Years, but these were tythed from Seventy to Seven, this Number again was made no Number, one single Year; a Year? nay, a Month, nay, a Day, nay, an Hour, nay, a Minute, nay, a Moment; as soon as we were born, we began to draw to our End, Wisd. 5. 13. There's but one poor Moment which we have to live, and when that is spent, our Life is gone: How? but one, and a Moment? One is the least Number that is, and a Moment the shortest Time that ever was: O what mean Men to plot and project for the Time to come, as if this Life would never be done?

O consider of the Littleness of the Time that thou hast to live! O consider of the Greatness of the Matter that depends upon it! thy Body, Soul, Heaven, and Hell, all hangs on this Thread; a short Life, a few Days. Few and evil have the days of my Life been.

You have learned Moses' Arithmetick to number our Days; practice a while, and you will find this Use.

Use 1. God shortens your Time, you that are unregenerate, lest you defer your Repentance. It is said of the Devil, that he is busy, because his time is short, Rev. 12. 12. * and are you worse than Devils? Is not your Time shorter? and yet are you more negligent? How do you give way to that old Serpent? He delays no Time to bring you to Hell, and you neglect all Times to get you Heaven: What is your Life but a Jonah's Gourd, suddenly sprung up, and by and by withered again, and gone? whatsoever ye do, your Wheel whirls about space: In a Word, Ye die daily, and you all know thus much, that you have every one of you a poor Soul to save. I have wondered at Men, that desire Time after Time, one Time after another; why, if your Souls perish, the Day will come soon enough. It makes me weep, said one of a better Stamp, when my Hour-glass is beside me, and I see every Drop of Sand follow other so speedily. Your Days are but few, and yet who knows whether this Day his Sun may set? Take heed, you Unregenerate, if Death comes unawares, it is the Price of your Souls, how you are provided! Who, alas! would defer to be good, that knows not how soon he may go to Judgment? The Enemy keeps a daily Watch, a Friend prepares for your Welcome, and are you such Enemies to yourselves, that never are prepared to welcome Death?

Uf e z. But to speak to thee, who-ever thou art that readest, Regenerate, or Unregenerate, the best Counsel thou canst learn, is to be still in a Readines; think every Day thouliest to be thy Day of Death, and every Night thou goest to Bed, that thou art laid down in the Grave: If thou shouldst forget, will not each Object be a Remembrancer? Thy Sheets, of thy Winding-sheet; thy Coverings, of thy Clasping-duft; thy Sleep, of thy Death, with whom, I may lay truly, thou shaltst Hands every Night: Who can forget his Grave, that lies him down in his Bed? And who then would not to provide himself, as if every Night he went to his Grave? Our Days are but few, and the Night will be ere long that we die indeed. What are we but Tenants at will in this Clay-Farm? The Foundation of all the Building is but a small Substance, alwaise kept cold by an Intercourse of Air; the Pillar is but a little Breath, the Strength, some few Bones tied together with dry Strings, howsoever we piece and patch this poor Cottage, it will at last fall into the Lord's Hands, and we give surrender only in this Tenour, Few and evil have the days of my life been.

You now see the Time of our Lease to the full, our Life lasts but Days, our Days are but few; who is so fond to settle his Care on this Lease, that so soon is expired; nay, with a Blad is gone out? The Man that is wedded to this World, enjoys neither Length of Days, nor a Day of Joy; as he is mortal, so is he miserable: You shall see my Text join both the Hands, nothing indeed but Death can loose the Bonds, the Days of my Life are few, the few Days of my Life are evil; few in Number, evil in Nature; neither many nor good, but few and evil.

Evil.

Our Life is but Days, our Days are but few, our few Days but evil: Into what a Sea of Misery have I now rushed sail? Evil Life, evil Days; but few, yet evil.

There waits on our \\

Life

Sin.

Punishment.

Both these are evil: Sin, as the Father plays the Bankrupt; and Punishment, the Son, must pay the Debt: First, Lust conceives and brings forth Sin, then Sin being finished, brings forth Death, James 1. 15. Here is both the Work and Wages; first, we commit, and then we suffer Evil.

The Evils we commit are sins, and see what a Troop of Enemies march about us; if you expect the Battel in Array, what say you to those Evils original? these are the Inheritance which we have from our First Parents: It is the same Infection that distilled from them, abides in us, and therefore the same Punishment is due to us, that fell on them. O the Flood-gate of Evils that now are opened! Adam's sin is ours by Imputation, we are Twigs of one Root, Streams of one Fountain, and, by the same Reason, Partakers of one Sin. And, as no Evil is alone, to besides that imputed, we have another inherent, this is the proclive Disposition that we have to Evil, because of the Loss of those Powers that we had to Good. * First, the Sin of the Person in-

Life's Lease.

You know a Day will come, when a Bill of Negatives shall be framed against the Wicked, not what ye have done, but what ye have not done: I was hungry, and ye gave me meat; I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink; I was a stranger, and ye lodged me not; I was naked, and ye clothed me not; sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not, Matt. 25. 42. It is the not doing your Duties must incur that heavy Sentence, Depart from me ye cursed. Mere harmless Men are no fit Members for God's Kingdom; if you mean to avoid evil, you must neglect no good: alas, who would slip any Occasion, that considers the just Reward of this Evil of Omifion.

But these are not half the Count, there be Evils of Commision whereby we fight against God, and provoke his Justice against us: Of all the Commandments which we should perform, there is not one Precept which we have not broken; God himself is dishonour'd, his Worship is neglected, his Name is blasphemed, his Days are prophan'd: If we go any farther, Parents are disobey'd, Injury is maintained, Adultery is committed, Robbery is practis'd, False-witnesses is produced, Covetousness is followed: Thus is the Manner of our keeping the Commandments from the First to the last, having transgressed against all. Hide thy face from my sins, and put away all my iniquities, Ps. 51. 9. We had need to pray, Hide them, if by they be not hid, how many of these Evils will rise up in Judgment against us?

But here is no End; there be Evils external that accompany the Body, and what Part of the Body is not posiesed with some Evil? Look at the Senses, and wherein haft thou employed thine Eyes, but in beholding Vanity; wherein thine Ears, but in hearkning to Lies? wherein thy Touching, Touching, Smelling, but in sensual Pleasures? And as the Senses, so are the Members full of Evil, The Head is sick, the Heart deceitful, the Tongue unruly, the Teeth as Swords, the Faws as Knives, the Hands are full of Blood, and the Feet swift to shed blood, Isa. 1. 5. Jer. 17. 9. Jam. 3. 8. Prov. 30. 14. Isa. 1. 15. and 59. 7. Thus from the Soal of the Eect to the Crown of the Head, there is nothing whole, but wounds, and swellings, and fores full of corruption, Isa. 1. 6.

And if these be our outward, what be those inward Evils? should I thrust my Hand into your Bofoms, O how leprous should I pluck it out again! that Understanding created full of Light, is now so blind, that it perceives not the things of the Spirit of God, neither can it know them, for they are spiritually discerned, 1 Cor. 2. 14. No Doubt there is in us a remaining Spark of Nature, and that is the Light of Reason which makes us men; but if you look at this Reason, it perceives only natural and external Things; it can perceive thy House adorned, thy Land tilled, thy Grounds stocked; but those spiritual Blessings, celestial Promises, eternal Privileges it cannot see, nor so much as think of: What are all our Thoughts but Vanity, and Imagination of man's heart, but only evil? Gen. 8. 21. Neither is this all, God framing Man's Soul, planted it in two Faculties, the Understanding that knoweth, and the Will that followeth; and as the Understanding, so is the Will; it receives from Reason (her Counsellor) sensual Advice, and sends forth the Affections (her Courtiers) Injunctions of Vanity; here is a Counsellor indeed, what is it but Reason without Reason? and here is a Will indeed; what is it but a Slave to Sin, without any Will to Good? Man is so holden Captive with the Yoke of Sin, that of his own Nature he can neither aspire by Desire, nor travel by Endeavour to any Goodness. * I say not, but (as Bernard) to will is in us all; but to will Evil is of Nature, to will Good is of Grace; away then with our Abilities, and confess we with the Apostle, that To will is present with me, but I find no means to perform that which is good, Rom. 7. 18.

And yet this is not all; take a View of those Affections which attend the Will, and how are all Evil? It is God should be the Object both of our Will and Affections; and what say you? do you love him, and fear him, and trust in him, and serve him? your Sins say, No: we can do nothing that good is, but we run upon Evil; see thine Anger like a Serpent, thy Desire like a Wolf, thy Fear like an Hart, thine Envy like a Viper, all thy Passions are become sensual, and Every man is a beast by his own knowledge, Jer. 10. 14.

Blessed God! what a World of Evils are within us? We have sinned, O Lord, above the number of the sands of the seas, our transgressions, O Lord, are multiplied, our offences are exceeding many: Many sure, that contain these Streams, and yet how many are the Rivolets that issue from them? There be Evils of Weakness against God the Father, whose Attribute is Power; there be Evils of Ignorance against God the Son, whose Attribute is Wisdom;
there be Evils of Malice against the Holy Ghost, whose Attribute is Love. Can we add any more? Mark but our Thoughts, our Delights, our Content to Evil: Or, if these be not enough, see a Swarm indeed that continually assault us, Anger, Hatred, Envy, Dilatory, Impatience, Avarice, Sacrilege, Pride, Despair, Presumption, Indecency, Suspension, Contention, Derision, Exaction, give me leave to breathe in the numbing of this Bedroll.) Perjury, Blasphemy, Luxury, Sin, Perplexity, Inconstancy, Hypocrisy, Apostasy; here is a Number numbers, gross sins, little sins, known sins, hid sins: Psalm 19. 12. Who can understand his errors? O Lord, cleanse me from my secret faults. The Days of Life are few, but the Evils God knows how many; he that would number them, may tell a Thoufand, and yet not tell one of a Thoufand: Can the proudest Pharifee justify himself? Remember the Swarms that lurk in thy venomcd Conſcience, number thy wanton Words, thy carnal Thoughts, thy unhchristian Gestures, thy outrageous Sins, and come they not in by Troops and Herds, thicker than the Frogs in Egypt? Well may we stand amazed at their Number, and as convicted Prisoners, cry for that Psalm of Mercy, Lord, have mercy on us most evil wretched Sinners.

Thus you see, Beloved, how evil be our Days, fitb every Day we do evil: Then to wander no further, now we have found such a World of them, will you see them in a Map? Here is Evils original, Evils actual, Evils of Omission, Evils of Commission, Evils of the Body, Evils of the Soul; well may we pray, Deliver us from Evil: what, so many Evils of sin? now the Lord deliver us.

Use 1. Remember yourselves, and who will not sing David's Burden, Mine iniquities have gone over mine head, and as a weighty burden, they are too heavy for me to bear? Psalm 14. 4. There is in sin, faith Austin, both Weight and Number, and is any one so dull or dead, that he is sensible of neither? Go ye to the Balance, and what a Mass lies upon you? enough, and enough again to sink you down to Hell: Go ye to the Count, and what a swarm comes upon you? a Million, and a Million of Millions to keep you out of Heaven; when all your sins must be called to account before that Judge of the World, what account shall be given of this Account that is endless? See them like the Stars, only these set and rise, but your sins rise, and never set; see them like your Hairs, only these shed and lose, but your sins grow ever more and more; see them like the sands, only these are covered with the Floods and Waters, but your sins ly still open, and are ever before you: Think on these Stars, these Hairs, these infinite innumerable sands of sins, and when all is done, let your Tears be the Flood to hide them over. It was David's Saying, Every night wash I my bed, and water my couch with my tears, Psalm 6. 6. If your Days be evil, let not your Night slip without Repentance; go not to Bed, but beat your Breast, with the Publican; ly you not down, but withal lift up your Voice, Lord, be merciful to me a sinner: How sweet a Rest doth that Night bring, whose sleep is prevented with the Consideration of our sins? Those we are begirt with a thousand Devils, this would be as the Watch of our Souls, and the Safe-guard of our Persons.

But I must speak with a Difference: I stand over some of you, who are to far far from * washing away your sins with Tears, that I fear you never took much notice of the Multitude of your sins: Should I tell you that you brought sin enough with you to damn you, when you first came into this World; should I tell you, that you have every one committed Thousands, and Thaund of Thousands of actual Sins, and yet any one of those Thousands is enough to send you packing to Hell: You would think these strange Points; but if God be true, there is no sin of Man, either original or actual, either of Omission or Commision, either of the Body, or of the Soul, which without Repentance will not produce eternal Death; and therefore in God's Fear take notice of your sins, yet before you the Commandments of God, and thereto comparing your Life, you may find out such a Catalogue of your sins, that will thoroughly convince you of your damnable Estate:

You may ask, To what End should we be so careful to find out our sins?

I answer, To a very good End, both in respect of the \{ Unregenerate. \\ \} Regenerate.

1. In respect of the Unregenerate: This is the first Step of Repentance, this is one of those Passes that will lead you towards Heaven. You may be sure, without Repentance, no Heaven, without Confession no Repentance, and without finding out sin, there can be no Confession. It were good therefore, and a singular Means to bring you out of Corruption into Christianity, and out of the State of Nature into the Kingdom of Grace, that you would every one of you have a Catalogue of your sins. If you will not, I can tell you who will; there is an Adversary called Satan (the Adversary of Mankind) that stands at your Back, and, I may say figuratively, with a Scroll in his Hands, wherein he writes down your sins; not a Day passeth on, but he can easily tell how many sins you have committed all Day. Lord, that men would think on't! Are you about any sin? At that very Time Satan is registrating the Act, and Time, and Place, and every Circumstance: now woe to Man, that lets Satan do his Work for him! Would you do this yourself, would you but study for a Catalogue of your own sin, that so you might confess them to God, and repent you thereof; this would be a Day in the Devil's Book, so that he could not have whereof to accuse you; but if still you go on securely in sin, and never go about to call your sins to Remembrance, a Day will come, too worth the Day, when that raving Lion shall set all your sins and transgressions in order before you; then shall you read, persevere, your sins original and actual, of omission and commission, of your Bodies and Souls. And I must tell you, herein is a great Policy of Satan, he lets you alone in your Security a while, if you will not trouble him, he will not trouble you; if you will not tell your own sins, neither will he tell you of them; but he will change his Note, at furthest, when your few evil Days finish: It is the very Case, as many Creditors deal with their Debtors, while they have any Doings, as they say, and are in trading, they will let them alone, in Policy they will say nothing; but if

* When I speak thus of Tears or Repentance, I argue not a Causality or Merit; only I infer a necessary Presence of Repentance in those that obtain Pardon of Sin. All that I positively affirm, is this, That Repentance is the Means or Way which God hath appointed antecedently to Pardon, Acts 3:19. Jer. 4:14.
once down the Wind, in Sicknels, Poverty, Disgrace, or the like, then comes Serjeant after Serjeant, Arrest upon Arrest, Action upon Action: just thus is Satan’s Dealing with the unregenerate Man; if you will but sin, and never call your selves to a reckoning, in Policy he will say nothing, but when the score is full, and Death comes to arrest you, then will he bring out his black Book of all your sins committed all your Days. O, I tremble to speak of it! then shall your sins fall as soul on your souls, as ravens on the fallen sheep, and keep you down for ever in the Dungeon of Despair.

2. In respect of the regenerate; that you have ready by you, or by Heart, a Catalogue of your sins, is necessary in many Respects.

1. To humble you: For no sooner shall the poor Soul look on all the sins he hath committed, both before and after his Regeneration, but confessing them in Prayer, it will pull down his Heart, and make the Wound of his Remorse to bleed afresh, as before; and therefore this Catalogue is most necessary in Days of Humiliation.

2. It is necessary to prepare you for the receiving of the Sacrament; for indeed I would have none to presume to taste on that Supper, but first to view over all his sins, and to confess them in Prayer to his heavenly Father: there be many that in Confession look on their sins, as they do on the stars in a dark cloudy Night, they can see none but the great ones, of the first or second Magnitude, it may be here one and there one; but if they were truly enlightened, and informed aright, they might rather behold their sins, as those innumerable stars that appear in a fair frosty Winter’s Night; they are many and many; and therefore take a little Pains in composing your Catalogue, that so you may confess all (at least for the Kinds) before you presume to come near the Table of the Lord.

3. It is necessary in Times of Desertion, or Visitation: Yea, if the Lord shall please to exercise you with any Cross, or Disgrace, or Discountenance, Loss of Goods, Diseaе of Body, Terror of Soul, or the like; you may be sure, as no Military comes but for sin, to them the Enumeration of your sins from a bleeding broken Heart, is the prime and first Means to cause that Sun of Mercy to break thro’ the Clouds, and to beget a clear Day; alas! our days are evil, and sure we have as good Reason as ever Jacob had to confess it: For my Part, tho I keep my Catalogue to myself, yet in the general I cannot but confess to you all. My Days have been evil, evil, evil: few and evil.

And now we have done with the Work; it rests that you should know your Ages; there be days of sin, and then days of Sorrow; as you have spent your Days, so must you have your Rewards; first we trespass, and then we pay for it; first we sin, and then we suffer evil.

2. The Evils that we suffer may be ranked in this Order; first, Evils original fill up the Scene, and what a Multitude of Evils do enter with them? No sooner had Adam sinned, but a World of Miseries fell on Man, so that as the Infection, in like Manner the Punishment distils from him. By one man (faith the Apostle) entered sin into the world, Rom. 5. 12. What? sin alone? no, but death by sin, and so death went over all men. Infants themselves bring their Damnation with them from their Wombs; or if that be omitted, how many are the Miseries of this Life, as the For-runners of that Judgment? Look at the Mind, and what what think ye of our Ignorance, not only that of willful Disposition, but as the Schools distinguish, of pure Negation; if it be not a sin, what is it but a Punishment for sin? that our Understanding should be obscured and darkned, our Knowledge in Things natural wounded, in supernatural utterly extinguished. O the miserable Issue of that Monster Sin! But as Evils come by Heaps, so of the same Parent here is another Bread, Ignorance and Forgetfulness; and is not this a Misery, after all our Time and Study to get a little Knowledge, quickly to forget that we are so long a learning? Man in his whole state, before the fall, could not forget Things taught him; but now, as the Hour-glass, we receive in at the one Ear, and it goes out, at the other; or rather, like the sieve, we always keep the Bran, but let the Flour go, so apt are we to retain the bad, but we very easily forget the good. And is this all? Nay, yet more Evils; see but our Affections, and to what a number of infinite Sorrows, Griefs, Anguish, Sufferings, Fears, Malices, Jealousies, is the Soul of Man subject? So prone are we to these miserable Passions, that upon any Occasion we fall into them; or for Want of care from any other, we begin to be passionate with our selves; Why hast thou, O Lord, let me against thee? I am become irksome and burdensome unto mine own self, Job 7. 20.

Alas, poor Man, how art thou beset with a world of Miseries? and yet, as if all these summed up together, could not make enough; look at the Body, and how many art its Sufferings? In the sweat of thy Face shalt thou eat thy bread, saith God, Gen. 3. 19. The Spider spins and weaves, and wafes her very Bowels to make her net; and when all is done, in what purpose serves it, but to catch a Flie? If this be vain Work, how vain is Man in his fond Imitation? The Birds and Beasts can feed themselves, without any Pains, only Man toils Night and Day, on sea and land, with Body and Mind; yet all is to no purpose, but to catch a Flie, to protract a Life, or to procure some Vanity. And yet, as if Misery had no mean, besides our Industry, how is this Body stuffed with many an Infirmity? All the Strength of Man is but a Reed, at best shaken, perhaps broken, howsoever weakened by every Wind that blows upon it. The Physicians distinction of Temperamentum ad pondus, & justitiam, gives us thus much to learn, That no Constitution is ever so happy, to have a just temper according to its weight: some are too hot, others too cold, all have some Defects, and so are disposed to all Kind of Infirmities: Man cannot carry himself, but he must needs carry about with him many Forms of his own Destruction.

The Books of the Physicians tell us of many Diseases, and yet many are the Diseases which their Books cannot tell of: We see in our own Days, most Labour of new Sicknesses, unknown to our Fathers; or if any of us be free from any of these, yet every ones Body nouriseth the Causes, and may be a Receptacle of a thousand Diseases. How evil is Sin, that incurs so many Evils of Punishment.

But as if all were too little (because our fins are so many) if you will number any more, here is yet another reckoning, Evils original, and Evils adventitious, Evils of Necessity, and Evils of Chance. Austin faith, What shall we say of those innumerable Accidents that besal a Man? as Heat, and Cold, and Thunder, and Rain, and Storms, and Earthquakes, and Poisons, and Treasons, and Robberies, and Wars, and Tumults, and what not? Go whether you will, and every Place is full of some of these Evils; if you go on Sea, every Wave threatens you, every Wind scares you, every Rock and Sand is enough to drown you: if you go on Land, every Step dangers you, every wild Beast scares you, every Stone or Tree is enough to kill you. If you go no whither, you cannot be without Danger: Eli was fitting, and what more secure? Yet at the News of God's Ark, that it was taken by the Philistines, he falls down backwards, and his neck was broken, 1 Sam. 4. 17. Korah was standing, what more safe? yet as soon as Moses had made an End of speaking, The earth opened her mouth, and swallowed him and his family, and all the men that were with him, Numb. 16. 32. Indeed Absalom was riding, and what way more easy to escape the Enemy? yet, As the mule carried him under a great oak, his head caught hold of the oak, and he was taken up between the heaven and the earth, and the mule that was under him went away, 2 Sam. 18. 9. Whate'er we do, or whither soever we go, so long as we do evil, these Evils will meet us. Go into the ship, there is but a Board betwixt thee and the Waters; walk on the Ground, there is but a shoe-sole betwixt thee and thy Grave; take a turn in the streets, and so many Perils hang over thee, as there are Tires on the Houses; travel in the Country, and so many Enemies are about thee, as thou meetest Beasts in the fields; if all these Places be to dangerous, then retire to thy House, and yet that is subject to Fire, or Water, or if it escape both, it may fall on thy Head: whither soever we turn us, all things about us seem to threaten our Death. Our Days are evil indeed, and who is it that is exempted from every of these Evils? Sinners are corrected, good Men are chastned, there is none escapes free.

To see a little the state of God's own Friends and Children: Was not Abel murdered by his Brother? Noah mocked by his Son? Job scoffed by his Wife? Eli flain for his Sons? will you all at once? take one for all, and see Jacob our Patriarch, a notable Example of extreme Infelicity: He is threatened by his Brother, banished from his Father, abused by his Uncle, defrauded of his Wife; was not here Misery enough to break one's Heart? But after this, for another Wifes Sake, see him enter into a new Service; In the day he is consumed with heat, in the night with frost, Gen. 31. 40. an hard Service sure! Nay after this that he got his Rachel, see then a Division betwixt her and Leah, two sisters brawling for one Husband, yet neither content, after both enjoyed him. Blessed Saint! how wait thou haunted with Afflictions? Yet after this, he agrees his Wives, and they all run from their Father; and now see a fresh Pursuit: behind him Laban follows with an Hue and Cry; before him EsaU meets him with 400 Men: to go forward intollerable, go backwards unavailable; which Way then? It was an Angel of God, nay the God of Angels that now must comfort him.

And yet again after his first Entry into his own Country, his Wife Rachel dies, his Daughter Dinah is ravish-

ed, his Son Reuben lies with his Concubine; and if the defiling of a Wife be so great a Grief to the Husband, what forrow and shame, when the Wickedness is committed by a Man's own Son? what can we more? If yet his Heart be unbroken, here's another Grief great enough to match all the rest; his Son, his Joseph, they report, is lost; and what News hears he of him, but that he is torn with wild Beasts? And now see a Man of Miseries indeed! He rents his cloaths, he puts sackcloth about his loins, he will not be comforted; but surely, faith he, I will go down into the grave unto my Son mourning, Gen. 37. 34, 35. Alas poor Jacob! what can they say to comfort him? To comfort, said I? Nay, yet hear the Tidings of a new Miser; a Famine is begun, and another of his Sons is kept in Prison: What a Grief is here? Another in Prison, and nothing to redeem him but only Benjamin; here is the Loss of Son after Son, Joseph is not, and Simeon is not, and now ye will take Benjamin, all these Things are against me, Gen. 42. 36. We need no more, if Jacob thus number, how many are the Miseries he did daily suffer? Would you have the Sum? He himself, the best Witnesses of himself, affirms it to Pharaoh, Evil, Evil. Few and evil have the days of the Years of my life been.

So miserable is our life, that no Man can take his Breath before some Evil or other do seize on his Person: If you would that we knit up all in one Bundle; there be Evils original, Evils adventitious, Evils of the Mind, Evils of the Body, Evils that are common, Evils of the Chosen; we had need pray again, Deliver us from Evil. What so many Evils of Suffering? Now the Lord deliver us.

Use 1. What is sweet in this Life, which so many Miseries will not im- bitter? If this be a Vale of Tears, where is thy Place of Pleasure? If this Life be a Nest of Cares, how canst thou settle to great a Vanity as Sin in a Field of such Miserie as the World? O sons of men, how long wilt ye blaspheme mine honour, and have such pleasure in vanity, and seek after leading? Psalm 4.

2. Were Men not mad in their Ways, or utterly belotted in their Imaginations, well might these Miseries of our Life breed their Neglect of the World. Can we chufe but wonder to see how busily thou heapest up Riches, yet knowest not who shall eat the Grapes of thy planted Vineyard? God gave thee a Countenance erected towards Heaven, and must it ever be grovelling and poring on the Earth? God gave thee a Soul to live with his blessed Angels, and wilt thou make it a Companion fitter for no other than brute Beasts? There is an evil sickness, faith Solomon, that I have seen under the Sun; and what is that? but Riches referred to the owners for their evil, Ecclef. 5. 12. See here the just Judgment of a righteous God, to this End is thy Riches, thou wouldst live at Ease, and outlast many Years, therefore thy Life is but miserable, and thy Death must be sudden; thy Days are but few, and thy few Days evil.

Use 2. But to comfort all you that live in the Fear of God, it may be your Days are evil, and what then? this is to make Trial of your Love to God, and a Trial it is of God's Love to you.

1. It makes a Trial of your Love to God: Certainly if you have but a spark of this Love, your Days cannot be so evil, but in the Midst of those Evils you shall find some inward Contolations that will sweeten all. It is memorable, how Jacob for Rachel serves Laban.

Have been ]

Our Life is but Days, our Days are but few, our few Days but evil, and now when all is done, we find all is out of Date. Few and evil have the days of my life been.

This
This last word is the Leale's Expiration; and why have been? If you will needs know the Reason.

The Time that is past is best known to Jacob.

And the Life of Jacob is but as the Time that is past.

1. The Time that is past is best known to Jacob: Old Men can tell old Stories, and something it delights them to remember the Storms gone over them.* We all know how Many Years we have lived.

Great miseries we have suffered.

Jacob tells you, as you may tell each other, Our Years have been few, our few Years have been evil. To make this good, Have they not been few? Let me ask some old Man, whose Hairs are dipt in Snow, whose golden erew is broken, whose silver cord is lengthened, Eccl. 12. 6. How many be thy Years? It may be thou wilt answer, as Moses gives the Number, a Matter of three-score years and ten, or four-score years, Psal. 90. 10. I cannot say but it is a long Time to come; but alas, what are these four-score Years now they are gone? Tell me you that have seen the many Changes both of Moon and Sun, are they not swiftly run away? You may remember your Manhood, Childhood; and I pray what think ye? Was it not Yesterday? is it not a while since? Who will not wonder to see how quickly it is gone, and yet how long it was a coming? The Time to come seems tedious, especially to a Man in Hope of Bliss, the Time now past is a very nothing, especially to a Man in Fear of Danger: Go down to those cast-away Souls that now suffer in Hell Flames; and what say they of their Life, but

As soon as we were born, we began to draw to our end, Wisd. 5. 15. Go down to those putrified Bodies, and find amongst them the Dufts of Adam, Seth, Enoch, Kenan, Mahalaleel, Jere, Enoch, Methusalem, every one of whom lived near to the Number of a thousand Years, are they not dead? and what is their Epitaph, but, They lived and died? Gen. 5. To sum up all in one, and to make this one serve for all, Jacob is an hundred and thirty years old, for so you see it registred in God's Book, Gen. 47. 9. Yet now being demanded to tell his Age, he answers but Days, and his Days are but few; how should they be many that now are gone already? these few Days, they have been.

2. And as Time past tells our Days, so it counts all our Miseries; Who cannot remember the Miseries he doth suffer? The Poor, the Sick, the Banished, the Imprisoned, the Traveller, the Soldier, every one can write a Chronicle of his Life, and make up large Volumes of their several Changes. What is the History of the Bible but an holy brief Chronicle of the Saints grievous Sufferings? See the Miseries of the Patriarchs described in the Books of Moses: see the Wars of the Israelites set down in the Books of Joshua: See the Afflictions of David in the Books of Samuel: Ezra, Nehemiah, Esther, Job, every one hath a Book of their several Calamities; and it all our Miseries were but thus abbreviated, I suppose the World would not contain the books that should be written. There is no Man so cunning to know his future Condition; but for these Things which have been, every one can read them. Look then, Beloved, at the Time now past, and will you not say with Jacob, Your Days have been evil? Evil for your Sins, and evil for your Sufferings: If you live more Days, what do you but increase more Evils? The just Man sins seven Times a Day, and every one of us perhaps seventy Times seven Times: Do we thus multiply sins? and think we to subtract our Sorrows? Think but of those Storms that already have gone over our Heads, Famines, Sores, Sicknesses, Plagues; have we not seen many fations unseasonable, because we could find no season to Repentance? Our Springs have been Graves rather than Cradles, our Summers have not shot up, but withered our Grass; our Autumns have took away the Flocks of our Sheep, and for our latest Harvest, the Heavens themselves have not ceased weeping for us, that never yet found Time to weep for our selves. And as this procured the Famine, so Famine ushered the Pestilence. O the Miseries miserable that at this Time fell upon us! Were not our Houses infested? our Towns depopulated? our Gardens made our Graves? and many a Grave a Bed to lodge in it a whole Family? Alas, what an hideous noife was heard about us: In every Church Bells tolling, in every Hamlet some dying, in every street Men watching, in every Place, every where, wailing and weeping, or groaning and dying. These are the Evils that have been, and how should we forget them that have once seen them with our Eyes? Call to mind Time past, was the Rule of Bernard; and what better Rule have we to square our Lives, than the Remembrance of those Evils which our Lives have suffered? Look back then with Jacob, and we have good reason to redeem the time past, because our days have been evil.

2. But there is yet another Reason why these few evil Days have been. As the Time past is best known to Jacob, so the Life of Jacob is but as the Time past. Go to now, faith James, ch. 4. 13, ye that say to day or to morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain, and yet ye cannot tell what shall be to morrow. It is a mere Presumption to boast of the Time to come: Can any Man say he will live till to Morrow? Look back ye that trust to this staff of Egypt, there is no Man can assure you of this day; Man knoweth not his time, faith the Preacher, Eccles. 9. 12. As near as it is to Night, it may be before Evening some one of us may be dead, and cold, and fitter to lodge in our Graves under Earth, than in our Beds above it; nay assure yourselves, our Life is of no long Continuance: What speak we of to morrow, or this day? we are not sure of (that least of Time's division) a very Hour: Watch therefore, faith our Saviour: and will you know the Reason: For ye know neither the day, nor the hour when the Son of man will come, Mat. 25. 13. The Man with ten or twenty Dishes set before him on his Table, when he hath full Intelligence that in one of them is Poison, will he not refuse all, least in eating of any he run upon the Hazard of his Life? What is our Life but a few Hours? and in one of them Death must needs come; watch then, for the Hour is at hand, and we know not how soon it will seize upon us. This Hour the Breath thou drawest may be thy Infection; this Hour the Bread thou eatest may be thy Poison, this Hour the Cup thou takest may be that cup that shall not pass from thee. But what speak we of this Hour, seeing it is come, and gone? The sweet of Ditty that Missouri, were his Brief, and Snippets of Life, and what is it but a Watch? Psalm 90. 4. What is it but a Sleep? Psalm 90. 5. We watch when it is dark, we sleep when it is Night: If then our Life be no more but a Night-work, what is truer than this Wonder, our Life is done, our Days they have been?

You may think we go far to prove to strange a Paradox, yet Job goes further; what are we but of yesterday, for our days upon earth are but shadow? Job 8. 9. See here the Chronology of Man's Fraility, we have a Time to live, and when is it, think you? Not to Morrow, nor to Day, nor this Hour, nor last Night, it is as long since as Yesterday itself. Are not we strangely deceived? What mean our Plots and Projects for the Time to come? why, our Life is done, and we are now but dead Men. To speak properly, in the Midst of Life we be in Death, our whole Life being truly (if not past, yet) as the Time past that is gone and vanished. The Similitude or Resemblance will run in these Respects.

The Time past cannot be recalled. Suddenly is vanished.

And so is our Life: Can we recall that which is fled away? the Life that we led yesterday, you see it is gone, the life that we led last Night, it is past and done; the Life that we led this Morning, it is now a going, nay, it is gone aloof as we have spoken. Nicodemus' Saying, according to the Flesh, was true, How can a Man be born which is old? can he enter into his mother's womb again, and be born? John 3. 4. How should a Man recall that is past? can he receive again the Soul once given, and begin to live? Man never so great in Power, and spreading himself like a green Bay-tree; a Tree most durable; a Bay-tree most flourishing; a green Bay tree that is most in Prime, if any Thing will stand at a Stay, what is more likely? yet be passed away, (faith the Psalmist) and to be was gone; I fought him, but he could not be found, Psalm 37. 35, 36. We cannot stay Time present; how should we recall Time past? See here the Man on whom the Eyes of the World are fixt with Admiration, yet for all this he paseth without Stay, he is gone without Recall, I fought him; but to find him is without all Recovery. Time was that Adam lived in Paradise, Noah built an Ark, David slew Goliab, Alexander overcame the World: Where be these Men that are the Wonder of us living? we all know they are long since dead, and the Times they saw shall never come again. How fond was that Fiction of Plato, that after the Revolution of his tedious Year, then he must live again, and teach his Scholars in the same Chair he fate in? Our Faith is above Reason, for, The heavens shall pass away, the elements shall melt with heat, and the earth with the works therein shall be burnt up, 2 Peter 3. 10. Where then is the Life of Plato, when all these Things shall turn to nothing? We may now for his Learning praise him where he is not, and he may then for his Error be damned and tormented where he is. Is there any Man with Skill or Power can call back but Yesterday? once, only, we read of such a Miracle, but it was only by the Hand of God Almighty. Hezekiah was sick, 2 Kings 20, and to confirm the News that he must recover, he requires a Sign, What shall be the sign that the Lord will heal me, and that I shall go up into the house of the Lord the third day? This was no Temptation, for you see how the Prophet gives him Satisfaction, This sign shall thou have of the Lord; wilt thou that the shadow go forward ten degrees, or, go back ten degrees? Hezekiah thinks of Death, and the Prophet restores his Life; not only a Time of fifteen Years to come, but of ten Degrees now gone, and thus it was observed in the Dial of Abax. This was a Miracle that but once happened since the Beginning of the World. He then that sleeps away his Time in Expectation of Hezekiah’s Sun, may sleep till his Death, and then not recall one Minute of his Life; as the Time, to our Life; if once past, it is irrevocable, irrecoverable.

2. And as it cannot be recalled again, so suddenly it is vanished. Nothing makes Life long, but our Hope to live long: Take away those Thoughts of the Time to come, and there is nothing swifter than the Life that is gone. Suppose then thou hadst lived so long, as from Adam to this Time; as Austin faith, Certainly thou wouldst think thy Life but short: and if that were short, which we think so long; how long is our Life, which, in Comparison of that, is so extremely short? The Time once past, we think it suddenly past, and so is Life gone in a Moment, in the Twinkling of an Eye, so soon indeed, before it can be said, This it is: In every one of us Death hath ten thousand Times as much as Life, the Life that is gone is Death’s, and the Life yet to come is Death’s, our Now is but an Instant; yet this is all that belongs to Life, and all the Life which any of us all is at once possessed of: Here is a Life indeed, that so soon is vanished, before it can be numbered or measured; it is no Time but now, yet stays not till the syllable now may be written or spoken: What can I say? the Life that I had when I began to speak this Word, it is now gone since I began to speak this Word. May we call this Life that is ever postling towards Death? Do we what we can, and could we do yet more, all we do, and all we could do, were to no purpose to prolong our Life: See how we store this ruinous House of our Body with Food, with Raiment, with Exercise, with Sleep, yet nothing can preserve it from returning to its Earth: we go, and we go suddenly, witnesses these two Cæsars, who put off themselves whilest they put on their Shoes; Fabius stiled Maximus for his Exploits, and Cunctator for his delaying, yet could not delay Death, till Notice might be taken he was sick; but how many Examples in this Kind have we daily amongst us? You know how some lately have gone safe to Bed, and yet in the Morning were found dead and cold: Others, in Health and Mirth laid down by their Wives, and yet, ere Midnight found breathless by their sides. What need we further Instances? You see how we go, before we know where we are; the Life that we had, what is it but a Nothing? The Life that we have, what is it but a Moment? and all we can have, what is it but a fleeting Wind, begun and done in a Trice of Time, before we can imagine it. In a Word, our Sun now sets, our Day is done; ask Jacob, the Clock-keeper of our Time, the Text tells the Hour, and now struck, you hear the sound? our Days are gone, Few and evil they have been.

THE CONCLUSION,

Occasioned by the Death of Charles Bridgeman, who deceased about the Age of Twelve, in the Year of our Lord, 1632.

He was a most pious Son of a most pious Mother, both now with God.

Go a little further, we left him at School, but how learned he Christ, and him crucified? 1 Cor. 2. 2. this was the Knowledge taught him by the Spirit of God in a wonderful Manner; Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings hast thou, O God, ordained strength, Psalm 8. 2. To consider again his religious Words, his upright Actions, his hearty Devotions, his Fear of God, all then concluded, as they did at John, What manner of Child shall this be? Luke 1. 66. No question the Grace of God was with him. If I should instance in any of these, his Frequency in Prayer, his Reading of Scriptures, his Reasoning with others to get Knowledge to himself, we may wonder at God's Power in this Child's poor Weakness: Excuse me whilst I tell nothing but Truths, and I hope they will tend to our own Instruction. In the Morning he would not stir out of Doors, before he had poured out his Prayers; at Noon he would not eat any Meat, before he had given the Lord Thanks; at Night he would not lie down on his Bed, before he had knelt down on his Knees; we may remember those Times, when sometimes that he had forgotten this Duty, no sooner Lif e's Lease.

The Answer given, By Faith applying Christ's Merits: he heard it, and had it, anon telling them, who before had taught it him. Resolved in these Questions, he questions no further, but will now answer them that go about to question him: One asks him, whether he had rather live or die? He gives the Answer, and not without Paul's Reason, I desire to die, saith he, that I might go to my Saviour. O blessed Spirit, how didst thou inspire into this Child thy Wisdom and Goodnes! This done, his Pains begins again to afflicthim, and this occasion another thus to question him, whether he would rather still endure those Pains, or fortake his Christ? Alas! (said he) I have not what to say as a Child, for these Pains might flatter a strong Man; but I will strive to endure the best I can. Upon this he prefently calls to mind that Martyr, Thomas Bilney, who being in Prison, the Night before his Burning, put his Finger in the Candle, to know how he would endure the Fire; O, (said he)had I lived then, I would have run through the Fire to have gone to Christ. Sweet Resolution of a filly Child! who can hear, and not wonder? wonder, and not desire to hear that he may wonder still? Blessed Child, hadst thou lived, that we might have wondered at thy Wisdom! but his Days were determined, and now is the Number turned to this poor Cypher, they are not, they have been.

I cannot leave him yet, his Sickness lasts long, and at least three Days before his Death, he prophesies his Departure, and how strange a Prophecy? not only that he must die, but foretelling the very Day: On the Lord's Day (said he) look to me. Neither was this a Word of Course, which you may guess by his often Repetition; every Day
Day asking, till the Day came indeed,
What, is Sunday come? At last, the look'd for Day came on, and no sooner had the Sun beautified that Morning with his Light, but he falls into a Trance: What, think ye, meant this blessed Soul, whilest the Body itself used such an Action? His Eyes were fixed, his Face cheerful, his Lips smiling, his Hands and Arms clasping in a Bow, as if he would have received some blessed Angel that there was at hand to receive his Soul; but he comes to himself, and tells them how he saw the sweetest Boy that ever Eyes beheld, and bids them, Be of good cheer, for he must presently go with him. One standing near, as now suspecting his Time of Disolution, bids him say, Lord, into thy Hands I command my Spirit: Yes, (said he) Into thy Hands, Lord, I commit my Spirit, which is thy due; for why? thou hast redeemed it, O Lord my God most true, Psalms 31. 5. Who will not believe this Child now sings in Heaven, that so soon had learned this David's Psalm on Earth? I cannot hold myself, nor will I hold you long; but how may I omit his heavenly Ejaculations? Beloved, I beseech you pardon me whilst I speak his Words, and I will promise you to speak no Word, but the very fame formally which were his own:
Pray, pray, pray, nay, yet pray, and the more Prayers the better all proppers:
God is the best Physician; Into his Hands.
I commend my Spirit: O Lord jehus, recieve my Soul. Now close mine Eyes, Forgive me, Father, Mother, Brothers, Sister, all the World. Now I am well, my Pain is almost gone, my Joy is at End; O Lord, have mercy upon me, recieve my Soul unto thee. Where am I whilst I speak these Words? Blessed Saint, now thou finishest in Heaven,

God hath bid thee Welcome, the Angels are hugging thee, the Saints rejoice with thee, this Day is the Crown et on thy Head, this Day is the Palm of Victory in thy Hand, now art thou arrayed in the shining Robes of Heaven, and all the Host do triumph at thy Coronation. Sweet Soul, how am I ravished to think upon thee!
What Joy is this? The Patriarchs salute thee, the Prophets welcome thee, the Apostles hug thee, all Hands clap for Joy, all Harps warble, all Hearts are merry and glad. O thou Creator of Men and Angels, help us all to Heaven, that when our Days have been, we may all meet together in thy blessed Kingdom.

I have done: Turn back by the same Threading that led you through this Labyrinth, and you shall have in two Words
the Sum of this whole Text.

The Time of our Lease, what is it but our Life? What is this Life, but a Number of few Days? What are these Days, but a World full of Evil? But a Life, but Days, but few, but evil; can we add any more? Yes, Life is Life howsoever we live, and better you think to have a bad Lease in being, than our Life to be quite extinguished; nay, be not deceived, this Life is but Death, the Days that we spend, they are past and done, few and evil they have been. Thus ends the Text with the Expiration of our Lease; yet is not all done: When we lose this Life, we have another Freehold prepared in Heaven, and this is not leaied, but purchased; not for Life, but Inheritance; not for Days, but for ever: Crofs but the Words of my Text, and many and happy shall the Ages of thy Life be in Heaven, for ever an ever. Amen.
Death's Arrest.

Luke xii. 20. This night thy soul shall be required of thee.

Man's Body, we say, is cloathed up within the Elements, his Blood in his Body, his Spirits in his Blood, his Soul in his Spirits, and God or Satan in his Soul. Who holds the Possession we may guess in Life, but then it is most apparent when we come to Death: The Tree may bend East, or West, or North, or South; but as it falleth so it lieth: Our Affections may look up or down, towards Heaven or Hell; but as we die we receive our Doom, and then whose we are shall be fully manifest to all the World. There is a Parable of poor Lazarus, Luke 16, whose Life was nothing but a Catalogue of Militeries, his Body full of Sores, his Mind full of Sorrows; what Spectacle could we think more pitiful, whose best Dainties were but broken Crumbs, and his warmest Lodging but the rich Man's Gates? Here is a Parable of a certain rich Man, who enjoys, or at least purposeth, a delicious Fare, he hath Lands, v. 16. Fruits, v. 17. Buildings, v. 18. and if this be the Inventory, what is the Sum? See it collected in the Verse succeeding, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; now live at ease, eat, drink, and take thy pastime. These two Estates, thus different, how should they be but of divers Tenures? No man can serve God and Mammon, Mat. 6. 24. See Lazarus dying, and the Angels carry him into Abraham's bosom. See this rich Man dying, and they (that is, Devils) require his Soul. God receives one, and his soul is in Heaven; Satan takes the other, and drags down his soul to hell; He is comforted that received Pains, and thou art tormented that was full of Ease: This is the Doom, and that he may undergo this, Death now gives the summons, This night thy soul shall be required of thee.

The Text we may christen Death's Arrest; it is we that offend his Majesty of Heaven, and his Precepts are given unto Death, to attach our Souls. See here a Precedent, a rich Man taken on a sudden, who must instantly appear before the Judge of Heaven: When? This Night. What? Thy Soul. Why? It is required. Of whom? Of thee. Or if this will not find the Offender, see yet a more narrow search; every Word is like some dark Closet, therefore we will open the Windows that you may have full Light. This Text is Death's Arrest, which as it must be executed, so it admits of no other time but This. This, what, This Day, whilst the Sun gives light to the world, and the Light gives pleasure to the Eye? This were some Comfort: No, but then suddenly whilst all sleep securely, not not this Day, but this Night. And what, this Night? Is it to attach the Body of some great personage, whose looks might affrighten officers had they come by Day? No, let his Body rot in dust, whilst the Soul must answer his defaults; it is not thy Body, 'tis thy Soul. And what of his Soul? Is this a subject liable to arrests? rather can they beg it at his Hands, or will he yield it at their fair Intreaties? No, it is neither begg'd nor intreated; but by virtue of God's Writ, it is required. And how required? Of his sureties bound for his appearing? He hath many friends, and all, either have, or would have entered bonds: No, he must go without bail or main-prize, it is not required of his sureties, but himself; not of others, but of thee is thy soul this night required.

You hear the Text's Harmony, of each string we will give a touch, and first note the time. This night.

This.

No other but this? Were it a fourthnight, a se'venth-night, any but this Night, and his griefs were lessened; the News is more heartless in that it comes more sudden. You may observe, then are the greatest losses when they come on us by heaps, and without fear or suspicion of any such matter. Here was a man swimming in his fulness, and a sudden death robs him of all his treasurers. To give you a full view, see his possessions, and how great was the loss, because of the suddenness, this Night.

1. Those goods, whereof he boasted, are now confiscate; not a penny, not a dram, not a mite shall be left him, save only a token of remembrance, (I mean his winding-sheet) which he carries along with him to his grave.

2. His goods and grounds both were took from him at his death: He that commanded so much of earth, must now have no more earth to pleasure him but a grave: What a change was this? His grounds were fertile, and they brought forth plentifully, but a blast of death hath struck both the fruit and ground; and nothing is now left him but a barren tomb.

3. His lands and houses both went together. You may guess that great Demeanores must have stately halls: We read of his building, and especially of his barns; when these were too little for his store, he tells us, He will pull them down, and he will build greater. He never thinks of any little room in the bowels of the poor. Was his harvest so great that his barns would not hold it? Whence came the blessing but from God? How is it then he forgets God that bestowed this blessing? It is written, Lev 19, 9, 10. When ye reap the harvest of the land, ye shall not reap every corn of your field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of the harvest. How? not reap it? not gather it? What then? why, thou shalt leave them for the poor, and for the stranger: I am the Lord thy God. When Ruth came to glean in the fields of Boaz, that good master commands his servants, let her gather among the sheaves, and do not rebuke her, Ruth 2. 15. Had this worldling been so pitiful to the poor, his barns might have stood, himself might have lived, his soul have been saved. But now what a strange lot happens on him? his halls, houses, barns, buildings, all run round in a dance of death before his eyes.

4. His house and friends both left him when death came. The parable is common: A man hath three friends, two whereof he loved most entirely, the third Death's Arrest.

Third he made no Account of: This Man being sent for to come before the King, he desired his first Friend to go with him, but he could not, only he would give him something for his Journey: He desired his second Friend to go with him, but he would not, only he would bring him a little Piece of his Way: When both these forsook him, he goes to the left, which before he esteeme least, and this Friend was the Party that went with him to the King, and answered for him in all his Causes. This is the Cafe of every dying Man; the King our Judge sends Death his Serjeant to summon you to your Judgment. Come to your first Friends, I mean your Riches, alas! they cannot go with you, but give you a Sheet as necessary for your Journey: Come to your second Friends, I mean your Acquaintance, alas! they will not go with you, but bring you to your Graves, and there leave you to yourselves: Come to your last Friends, which you now least think of, I mean your Consciences, and you shall find that is the truest Friend that will go with you to the Judge, answer for you to the King, and either acquit you, or condemn you; bring you to the Gates of Heaven, or deliver you to the Goal of Hell. Have a Care of your Consciences, if you mean to speed well at this Day: How blessed a Man had this Worldling been, if only a good Conscience had accompanied him to the Judge of Heaven? but now when Death summons him, there is no Friend to sollicite, no Advocate to plead, no Man to speak one Word in his Soul's Behalf; it is his bad Conscience keeps him Company, and tho' all others leave him, he can devise no Means to shake this from him.

5. There is a Jewel irrecoverable, of which this sudden Death robs him, I mean his Time, and what a Lot's was this? All his Goods, Grounds, Barns, Buildings, were they more worth than the World itself, yet were they not able to restore one Minute of his Time: If this could be purchased, what a Rate would he give for a little Reprieve? nothing is now so precious as a Piece of Time, which before by Months and Years he lavishly misspent: they that pass away Time with Mirth and Pastime, shall one Day see to their Grief what a Loss they have; now we revell it out, daily it away, use all Means and Occasions to make it short enough; but when this golden Shower is gone, and those Opportunities of Salvation lost by Negligence, then we may wish, and wish again, Oh had we a little Time, a little space to repent! Imagine that this Worldling (whom now you must suppose to be frying in Hell-flames) were dispensed with for a little Time, to live here again on Earth amongst us; would but the Lord vouchsafe him one Hour of new Trial, a Minute-seaason of a gracious Visitation, Oh! how highly would he prize, how eagerly would he apprehend, with what infinite Watching, Praying, Fasting would he improve that short Time, that he might repent him! I know not how effectually this may work on your Hearts, but I am fully persuaded, if any damned Creature had but the Happiness to hear this Sermon, you should see his very Heart would bleed within him; bleed, said I? nay, break and fall asunder in his Breast like Drops of Water. Oh with what inflamed Attention, would he hear and listen? with what indigestable Groping would he lay hold on Christ? with what streaming Tears, would he bathe his Cheeks, as if he would moisten himself, like Niobe, into a Fountain? Blessed God, how fond are foolish Men that never think of this till their Time be lost! We that are alive have have only this Benefit and Opportunity, and if we neglect it, a Day will come (we know not how soon) that we shall be past it, and cannot recover it, no not one Hour, if we would give a thousand, ten thousand Worlds for it. What can I say? reflect on yourselves, you that have Souls to save; you have yet a little Time, and the Time present is that Time, what then, but so use it now, as when you are gone, you need not with Grief to wish you here again.

6. Yet more Loses, and that is the Loses of Losses, the Loses of his Soul; his Riches, Lands, Houses, Friends, Time, and all were nothing to his Soul. This is that Paragon, Peer, Rofe and Spouse of our Well-beloved Christ. How many a Tear shed he to save it? what Groans, Cries, Prayers, Tears and Blood poured he before God, that he might redeem it from the Jaws of Satan! And is this lost notwithstanding all this Labour! O sweet Jesus, what a Los is this! Thou wast born, lived, died, and that a shameful Death, the Death of the Cross, and all this Suffering was to save poor Souls: Yet see a Soul here lost, and the Blood of God, the able, not effectual to redeem it. Whole Heart would not melt into Blood, that but knew this Miser? Suppose you could see but the Soul of this wretched Worldling, no sooner had it left the Body, but immediately was it seized on by infernal Fiends, now lies it on a Bed of Fire, tortured, tormented, scourged, and torched in those furious Flames; there his Conscience stings him, his Sorrow grips him, his Pain to handles him, that he cries and rores, Wo, wo, and alas, for evermore, Who now for Shadows of short Pleasures, would incur these Sorrows of eternal Pains? In this World we can weep and wail for a Los of Trifles; an

House, a Field, an Ox took from us, enough to cruciate us: But how shall we bewail the Loses of a Soul, which no sooner plunged into that Pit of Horror, but it shall feel a Punishment without Mercy, Sorrow without Succour, Crying without Comfort, Torment without Ease, a World of Mischief without all Measure or Redress? Such is the Los of this Man’s filthy Soul; whilst he was cheering it with a homebred Solace, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many Years; God whispers in his Ears, and tells him other News: What? of his Soul: how? it is required: When? this Night: a fearful Sound, unlookt for Message, speedy Dispatch, no more Delays nor Days, only this Night, for then his Soul must be taken from him.

You see all his Losses; and now to contract them, there is one Grief more than all, that all is lost on a sudden. Losses that come by Succession are better born with, but all on a sudden is the worst of all; yet such is the Misery of Man when he goes, all goes with him, and he and all pass away on a sudden: As in the days of Noah, they ate, and drunk, married, and gave in Marriage, and knew nothing till the Flood came, and took them all away: So is the coming of the Son of Man, Matth. 24. 38. How many have been thus took tripping in their Wickedness! Belshazzar in his Mirth, Herod in his Pride, the Philetimes in their Banqueting, the Men of Ziklag in their Feasting, Job’s Children in their Drunkenness, the Sodomites in their Filthiness, the Steward in his Security, this Churl in his Plenty: Miserable End, when Men end in their Sin. Call to mind this, O my Soul, and tremble; sleep not in Sin, lest the Sleep of Death surprize thee: The Hour is certain, in nothing but Uncertainties;
Certe moris, incertabunda; for sure thou must die, yet thou knowest not on what Day, nor in what Place, nor how thou shalt be disposed when Death must be entertained. Do you not see most die, while they are most busie how to live? he that once thought but to begin to take his Ease, was fain that very Night, whether he would or no, to make his End: Would you have thought this? He but now flourished like a green Bay-tree, his Thoughts full of Mirth, his Soul of Ease, but I passed by, and lo he was gone, Psaln 37. 35, 39. Gone, whither? his Body to the Grave, his Soul to Hell;
in the Midst of his Jollity, God threaten Destruction; Devils, Execution; Death, Expedition, and thus like a Swan he sings his Funerals. There is that faith, I have found rest, and now will I eat continually of my Goods, and yet be knowneth not what Time shall come upon him, and that he must leave those things to others, and die, Ecclel. 11. 19.
The higher our Babel-tower of Joy is raised, the nearer it is to Ruin and Confusion; Sodom, in the Heat of their Sins, had that Shower of Fire poured on their Heads; Nebuchadnezzar, in the Height of his Pride, became suddenly a Beast, that ruled before as a King:
Once for all, here was a Man folacing, f sing, warbling out pleasant Songs of Ease and Pastime: but, O the Misery, in the Midst of his Notchere is a sudden Stop; he dreams of Longs and Larges, he hears of Briefs, and Semi-briefs, no longer a Day, but this very Night, and then shall thy Soul be taken from thee.

See here the many Losses of one Man, his Goods, his Grounds, his Houses, his Friends, his Time, his Soul, and all on a sudden, whilst the Word is spoken, this Night.

Use 1. Our Neighbours Fire cannot but give Warning of approaching Flames. Remember his Judgment, thine also may be likewise: Unto me yesterday, and unto thee to day, Eccluf. 38. 22.
Whole Turn is next, God only knows who knows all. Is not madness in the hearts of men whiles they live? Ecclel:
9. 3. In the least Suspicion of losing worldly Riches, all watch and break their Sleep; you shall see Men work, and toil, and fear, and care, and all too little to prevent a Loss; but for all these Losses which are linked together,
our Riches, Lands, Houses, Friends, Time, and Soul, and all we have,
there is few or none regards them: O that Men are so careful in Trifles, and so negligent in Matters of a great Importance! It is storied of Archihedes, that when Syracufe was taken, he only was sitting secure at Home, and drawing Circles with his Compass in the Duff. Thus some we have, that when the eternal Salvation of their Souls is in question, they are handling their Duff, nothing but Suits or Money-Matters are their daily Objects: but, alas! what will your Goods, or Grounds or Houses, or Friends avail you, when Death comes? Where did ever that Man dwell, that was comforted by any of these, in that last and forest Conflict?
Give me a Man amongst you, that spends the Span of his tranitory Life in grafting Gold, gathering Wealth, growing great, enriching his Potterity, without any Endeavour or Care to treasure up Grace against that fatal Hour; and I dare certainly tell him, whenever he comes to his Death's Bed, he shall find nothing but an horrible Confusion, extremes Horror and Heavinesse of Heart; nay, his Soul shall preently down into the Kingdom of Darkness, and there ly and fry in ever-lafting Fires. Nor speak I only to the Covetous, tho my Text seems more directly to point at them, but whofeever thou art that goest on in a daily Courie
Course of sin, in the Fear of God be-think you of Mortality: Some of you may think I speak not to you, and others I speak not to you; the Truth is,
I speak to you all, but to you more es-specially that to this Day have sinned with Delight, but never as yet felt the smart for Sin upon your Souls or Con-sciences: O Beloved! this is it I call for, and must call for till you feel a Change, a thorow Change in you:
would but some of you at this present examine your Consciences, and say, Whether have I not been inordinate in Drunkennefs, or Wanontonnefs, or Covet-tonnefs? Whether have I not sworn an Oath, or told a Lie, or difsembed in my Heart, when I have fpoken? O who can fay among you, I am clean, I am clean? and affure yourselves, if you are guilty, you must either feel Heart's Grief, or you can never be provided for Death's difmal Arrest. If you were but fenfible of sin, if you felt but the Weight and Horror of God's Wrath for Sin, I am verily perfuated you would not take a quiet Sleep in your Beds for fear, and Horror, and Heavenfs of Heart: What is it but Madnefs of a Man to ly down in Eafe upon a Feather-bed, and to lodge in his Bafom that deadly Enemy, Sin?

But, Horror of Horrors, what if this Night, whilst you fleep in your Sin, Death fhould arrest you on your Beds? This I tell you is no Wonder, are not fudden Deaths common and ordinary among the Sons of Men? How many have we heard that went to Bed well over Night, for ought any Man could tell, and yet were found dead in the Morning, I will not fay carried away out of their Beds, and cast into Hell-fire? whether it be fo or no, the Lord our God knows: But howsoever it is with them, if we, for our Parts, commit Sin, and repent not thereof by crying and Sobbing, and trorowing for Sin, it may be this Night, and that is not long to, you may fleep your laft in this World, and then fhall your Souls be hurried by Devils to that infernal Lake, whence there is no Redemption.
O Beloved! O Wrath, whomfeover thou art! Canft thou paffively fleep in fuch a Case as this? Canft thou go to Bed with a Confeience laden with Sin? Canft thou take any Sleep which is the Brother of Death, when thou liest now in Danger of eternal Death? Consider, I pray, what Space, what Distance, how far off is thy Soul from Death, from Hell, from Eternity? No more but a Breath, one Breath and no more; no more but a fleep, one fleep, and no more; O Beloved! we're not this lamentable, that some one of us that now are standing or fitting, should this Night fleep his laft, and to Morrow have his Body brought to be buried;
vea, and before to Morrow Morning have his Soul (which the Lord forbid) call from his Bed of Feathers, to a Bed of Fire? And yet, alas! alas! if any of us this Night die in his Sin, or in a State unregenerate, thus will it be with him whomfeover he be; to Morrow may his Body ly cold under Earth, and his Soul lodge in Hell with this wiferable rich Man.

Use. 2. But let me fpeak to you, of whom I hope better things; it is good Counfel for you all to expect Death every Day, and by this means, Death foreseen cannot possibly be sudden; no, it is he only dies suddenly, that dies un-preparedly: Watch therefore, faith our Saviour, be ever in a readiness: and finally, that this rich Man may be your warning, you that tender your fouls, learn that leflon of our Saviour; Lay not up for your fafes treafures upon carth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and fteel: but lay up for your fafes treafures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through

through, nor heal, Mat. 6. 19, 20. You will say, What treasures are those? I answer; Those Treasures are those stocks of Grace that will last for ever; it is that circumspect walking, Eph. 5. 15. that fervency of spirit, Rom. 12. 11. that zeal of good works, Tit. 2. 14. that purity, which John makes a Property of every true hearted Professor, i John 3. 3. In a Word, it is the Work, the Life, the Power of that Prayer, that the rest of our life hereafter may be pure and holy: These are heavenly Hoards indeed. O that we would treasure up such Provision against the Day of Calamity! If while it is called to day, we would make our Peace with his heavenly Highness, by an humble continued Exercise of Repentance; if in this Time of Grace we would purchase God's Favour, and those rarest Jewels of Faith and a good Conscience; if now before we appear at the dreadful Tribunal, we would make God and his Angels our Friends in the Court of Heaven; O then how blessed would our Death be to us? Came it never so suddenly, still should Death find us ready, and if ready, no matter how suddenly, yea tho' it were this, this Night.

I have ope the Writ, and you see when it must be served, this Night; but in this quando, there is both Suddenness and Sadness: It is not this Day, but this Night. Let This end this Day's discourse, and the next day we will lay open the Night's dark sadness: It is a dismal time, God give us Grace so to provide, that we may be ready with oil in our lamps, and enter with our Saviour into his blessed Kingdom.

Night.

He sins all day, and dies at Night, and why at Night? This you know is frequent, and there is Reason, Mefl are begot and born, and therefore die at night: But we must further than the Laws of Nature; this Night was more than ordinary, as being the fittest Time to aggravate his Grief: Weigh but the Circumstances.

1. It was a Night of Darkness, and this may increase the Horror of his Judgment: Think but what a Fear feized on the Egyptians, when no power of the fire must give them light, nor might the clear flames of the stars lighten the horrible night that fell upon them, Wild. 17. 5. The Husband-men, the Shepherd, the Workmen, all were bound with one Chain of Darkness, No man saw another, neither rose up from the place where he was for three days, Exod. 10. 23. Was not this fearful Darkness? You may guess it by the Effects, they were troubled, and terrified, and swooned, as tho' their own Souls should betray them. Whether it was an hissing wind, or a sweet noise of birds, among the spreading branches, or a pleasing fall of waters running violently, or a terrible sound of stones, or the running of skipping beasts, or the noise of cruel beasts, or the echo that answered again in the hollow mountains, these fearful things made them to swoon for fear, Wild. 17. 18. And if thus the Egyptians, how was it with this Worldling? a Darkness feized on him that engendered a thousand times more intollerable Torments. This was the image of that darkness which should afterward receive him, and yet was he unto himself more grievous than the darkness, Wild. 17. 21. It was not an outward, but an utter Darkness, not only to be not seen, but to be felt and feared. Imagine then what Visions, what Sounds, what Sights, what sudden Fires appeared unto him? Unhappy Worldling, look round about thee; altho' it be dark, here is something to be seen: Above is the angry Judge, beneath is the burning Lake Lake, before is gloomy Darkness, behind is infallible Death, on thy right and left Hand a Legion of evil Angels expecting every Moment to receive the Prey. Here is a sight indeed, able to break the very Heart-strings of each Seer. It some have lost their Wits, by means of some dreadful sight; yea if the very supicion of Devils have caused many Men to tremble, and the Hairs of their Heads to stand staring upright; what then was the Fear and Terror of this Man, when so many dreadful, horrible, hellish Monsters stood round about him, now ready to receive him? O ye Sons of men, stand in awe and sin not, commune with your own hearts, and in your chamber, and be still, Psal. 4. 4. Will not this fear you from your sins? Suppose then you lay on your Beds of Death, were the Judge in his Throne, your Souls at the Bar, the Accuser at your Elbows, and Hell ready open to shut her Mouth upon you: O then, how would you curse your selves, and bewail your sins? What horrible Visions would appear to you in the dark? horrible indeed? In so much (saith one*) that were there no other Punishment than the appearing of Devils, you would rather burn to Asbes, than endure their sight. Good God! that any Christian should live in this danger, and yet never heed it till he sees its Terror. How many have gone thus fearfully out of this miserable World? I know not what you have seen, but there is very few which have not heard of many, too many, in this case. What were Judas' Thoughts, when he strangled himself, that his Bowels gushed out again? What were Cain's Visions, when he ran like a Vagabond roaring and crying, Whosoever findeth me shall put me? Gen. 4. 14. What are all their Affrights that cry when they are dying, They see Spirits and Devils flying about them, coming for them, roaring against them, as if an Hell entred into them, before themselves could enter it? I dare instance in no other but this wretched Miler: What a Night was that to him, when on a sudden a Darkness seized on him, that never after left him? Thus many go to bed, that never rise again, till they're wakened by the fearful Sound of the last Trumpet: and was not this a Terror? Whole Heart doth not quake? Whole Flesh doth not tremble? What Senes are not astonished whilst we do but think on it? And then what were the Sufferings of himself in his Person? He might cry, and roar, and wail, and weep, yet there is none to help him; his Heart-strings break, the blessed Angels leave him, Devils still expect him, and now the Judge hath pronounced his sentence, This Night, in the dark, they must seize upon him.

2. Yet this was not all the Horror, it was a Night both of Darkness and Drowsiness, or security in sin. He that reads the Life of this Man, may well wonder at the fearful End of so fair Beginnings: Walk into his Fields, and there his Cattel prosper; come nearer to his House, and there his Barns swell with Corn; enter into his Gates, and there every Table stands richly furnish'd; step yet into his Chambers, and you may imagine Down-beds curtain'd with gold hangings; nay, yet come nearer, we will draw the Curtains, and you shall view the Person; he had toiled all Day, and now see how securely he takes his Rest: This Night, he dreams golden Dreams of Eafe, of Death's Arrest.

Mirth, of Paftim, (as all our worldly Pleasures are but waking Dreams) but stay a while and see the Issue: Just like a Man, who starting out of sleep, sees his House on Fire, his Goods ransacked, his Family murdered, himself near loft, and not one to pity him, when the very thrusting in of an Arm might deliver him: This, and no other, was the Case of this dying Miser: as that Night, while his Senes were most drowsie, most secure, Death comes in the dark, and arrests him on his Bed: Awake, rich Cormorant! What Charms have lulled thee thus asleep? Canst thou slumber whilst Death breaks down this house, thy body, to rob thee of that Jewel thy Soul? What a deep, dull, drowsie, dead sleep is this? O Fool! this Night is thy Soul affaulted, see Death approaching, Devils hovering, God's Justice threatening; canst thou yet sleep? and are thine Eyes yet heavy? Behold, the Hour is at hand, and thy Soul must be delivered into the hands of thine Enemies: Heavy Eyes! he sleeps still, his Care all day had call'd him into so dead a sleep this night, that nothing can warn him until Death awake him. That Thief is most dangerous that comes at night, such a Thief is Death, a Thief that steals men; which then is most busie, whilst we are most drowsie, most secure in sin: Hark the sluggard that lulls himself in his sins, Yet a little more sleep, a little more slumber, is not his destruction sudden, and poverty coming on him like an armed man? Pro. 6. 11. Watch, faith our Saviour, for you know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at mid-night, at the cock-crow, or in the morning, least coming suddenly he should find you sleeping, Mark 13. 35. Was not this the Wretchedness of the foolish Virgins? How sweetly could they slumber? how soundly could they sleep until Midnight? They never awake, nor so much as dream to buy Oil for their Lamps; imagine then how fearful are those Summons to these Souls: Behold the Bridegroom, go ye out to meet him, Matth. 25. 16. Sudden Fears of all others are most dangerous: Was it not a fearful Waking to this rich Man, when no sooner he opened his Eyes, but he saw Death's Ugliness before his Face? What a Sight was this? at his Door enters the King of Fear, accompanied with all his abhor'd Horrors, and stinging Dread: On his Curtains he may read his Sins, arrayed and armed in their grisliest Forms, and with their fieriest Stings; about his Bed are the Powers of Darkness, now presenting to his View his damnable State, his deplorable Misery: What can he do that is thus befet with such a World of woful Work, and hellish Rage? His Tongue faulters, his Breath shortens, his Throat rattles, he would not watch, and now cannot reft; the Cry is made, the Mid-night come, God sounds Destruction, and thus runs the Proclamation, This Night so drowsie, thy Soul must be taken from thee.

3. And yet more Horrour; it was a Night of Drowstness and Sadness. How is he but sad, when he sees the Night coming, and his last Day decaying? Read but the Copy of this rich Man's Will, and see how he deals all he hath about him; He bequeaths his Garments to the Moth, his Gold to rust, his Body to the Grave, his Soul to Hell, his Goods and Lands he knows not to whom; Whose shall these things be? Here is the Man that made such Mirth all day, and now is he forced to leave all he hath this night. It is the Fruit of merry Lives to give sad Fare-wells. You that sport yourselves, and spoil others, that rob God in his Members, and treasure up your own Damnation nations; will not Death make sorry Hearts for your merry Nights? A Night will come as sad as Sadness in her Eternest Looks, and then what a Lot will befall you? O that Men are such cruel Captiffs to their own Souls! Is this a Life, think ye, fit for the Servants of our God, revelling, swearing, drinking, railing? what other did this Miser? He would eat, and drink, and revel, and sing, and then came Fear as Deformation, and his Destruction on a sudden as a Whirlwind. If this be our Life, how should we escape his Death? Alas for the filly Mirth that now we pleasure in! You may be sure a night will come that must pay for all, and then shall your Pleasures vanish, your Grieves begin, and your numberless sins (like so many envenomed Things) run into your damned Souls, and pierce them thro' with everlasting sorrow: away with this fond, foolifh, sottifh vanity; The end of mirth is heaviness, faith Solomon, Prov. 14. 13. What will the Sons and Daughters of Pleasure do then? all those sweet Delights shall be as scourges and scorpions for your naked Souls. Then, tho' too late, will you lamentably cry out, What hath pride profited us? or what profit hath the pomp of riches brought us? all those things are passed away as a shadow, or as a post that passeth by, Wild. 5. 8, 9.

Look on this Man as he lies on his Bed of Death, here is neither Smile nor Dimple; All the daughters of mirth are brought low, Eccl. 12. 4. His Voice is hoarse, his Lips pale, his Cheeks wan, his Nostrils run out, his Eyes sink into his Head, and all the Parts and Members of his Body now lose their Office to assist him: Is this the merry Man that made such Pastime? Sweet God! what a Change is this; In stead of sweet smell, there is a stench; in stead of a girdle, a rent; instead of well set hair, baldness; in stead of beauty, burning, Isa. 3-24. In stead of Mirth, Mourning and Lamentation, weeping and wailing, and gnashing of teeth. Must not Sadness fenfe on that Soul which incurs this Doom? Here is a Malefactor stands at Bar, indicted by the Name of Fool, charged with the Guilt of Treason, condemned by the Judge of Heaven, and this Night, the faddest that ever he saw, is that fearful Execution, that his Soul is taken.

4. And yet more Horror: It was a Night of Sin, and this doth increase the Sorrow. How dear in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints, Psal. 116. 13. and we may say on the contrary, How abominable in the Sight of the Lord is the Death of the wicked? Was not this a Grief to be took thus tripping in his Wickedness? even now whilst he was busily plotting his Eafe and Pastime, Death stands at his Door, and over-hears all his Plots and Projects. It was a Death to his Soul to be took in his Sin: hear how he rores and cries, O that I had lived so virtuously as I should; had I embraced the often Inspirations of God's blessed Spirit; had I followed his Laws, obeyed his Commands, attended to his Will, how sweet and pleasant would they now be unto me? Wo and alas! that I had not foreseen this day, what have I done, but for a little pleasure, a fleeting Vanity, lost a Kingdom, purchased Damnation? O Beloved! what think ye of your selves whilst you hear this voice? You sit here as tenderly of this Judgment, as the Sear, the Pillars, the Walls, the Dust; nay, as the dead Bodies themselves on which you tread: But suppose, and it were a blessed Meditation, you that are so fresh and frolick at this day, that spend it merrily, use it profanely, swearing, revelling, singing, dancing; what if this night, while while you are in your sin, the Hand of Death should arrest you? Could I speak with you on your Death-beds, I am sure I should find you in another Case: how? but sorrowing, grieving, railing, that your Time were lost; and these Words not heeded, while the Time well served? how would you tear your Hair, gnash your Teeth, bite your Nails, seek all Means possibly to annihilate your selves? and can no thing warn you before Death seize on you? take heed, if you go on in sin, the next Step is Damnation. It was the Apostle's Advice, Now it is high time to wake out of sleep; for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed, Rom. 13. 11. If this wretched Man had observed the present Time, how happy had he been this Hour of his Departure? But as Officers take Malefactors, drinking or drabbing, to be he nearest Danger, when deepest in the Mire of Pleasure. Look at those that are gone before us, and which of them thought their End so near, while they lived so merry? I must needs tell you, there is a Fire, a Worm, a Sting, a Darkness, an Hell provided for all wicked Wretches, and there most certainly must you be this Night, if you die this Day in your natural State of Sin. Lord! that Men should be so strangely bewitched by the Prince of the Air, as for the momentary Enjoyment of some glorious Miseries, bitter-sweet Pleasures, heart-vexing Riches, desperately and wilfully to abandon God, and to call themselves head-long into the Jaws of Satan. Such a prodigious Madnefs feized on this Worldling, he sings, he revels, he dallies, then dies. Thus greatest Evils arise out of greatest Joys, as the Ears with vehement Sounds, and the Eyes with brighter Objects; so many by Felicity have lost both their Sense and Being. Gallus dies in the Act of Pleasure, * Iphigeth dies in the midst of Sleep, 2 Sam. 4. 7. the Israelites die in their Day of Lust, Num. 11. 33. This Worldling dies in that Night of Sin, even then on a sudden his Soul is taken.

5. And yet more Horrour, it was a Night of Death, and this was the worst of all; the Darkness, Drownings, Sadness, Sin, all were nothing to this, all nothing in themselves, if Death had not followed: this is that most terrible of all Terribles †; all Fears, Griefs, Suspicions, Pains, as so many small brooks are swallowed up, and drowned in this Ocean of Misery. Now rich Man! what sayest thou to thy Barns, Buildings, Riches, Lands? Do these pleasure thee in this thy extream and dying Agony? Thou liest this Night on thy departing Bed, burdened with the heavy Load of thy former Treipasses, Pangs come fore and sharp upon thee, thy Breast pants, thy Pulse beats short, thy Breath itself smells of Earth and Rottenness; whither wilt thou go for a little Eafe or Succour? What Help canst thou have in thy Heaps of Gold, or Hoord of Wealth? should we bring them to thy Bed, as we read of one dying, † Commanded that his golden vessels and silver plate should be set before him, which looking on, he promised to his soul, it should have them all, on condition of his stay with him; but the remedy being silly, at last most desperately he commends it to the Devil, seeing it would not stay in his body, and so gave up the Ghost. Alas, these trifling

Treasures can no more deliver thee from the Arrest of that inexorable Serjeant, than can an handful of dust. Wretched Men! what shall be your Thoughts when you come to this miserable Case? Full sad and heavy Thoughts, Lord, thou knowest; you may lie upon your Beds, like wild Bulls in a Net, full of the Fury of the Lord; In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were evening; and at even thou shalt say, Would God it were morning: for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see, Deut. 28. 67. Here is the Terroir of that Night of Death, when you may with with all your Hearts, that you had never been born, if the Lord once let loose the Cords of your Conscience, what account will you make of Crowns, of Possessions? all these will be too far from healing the Wound, that they will turn rather into fiery Scorpions, for your further Torments. Now, now, now is the dismal Time of Death, what will you do? whither will you go? to whom will you pray? The Angels are offended, and they will not guard you; God is dishonoured, and he will not hear you; only the Devil had your Service, and only Hell must be your Wages. Consider this, ye that forget God, lest ye be torn in pieces, and there be none to deliver you, Psalm 50. 22. It is cruel for your souls thus to suffer, to be torn, and torn in Pieces, and so torn in Pieces that none may deliver you. Better this Worldling had been a Worm, a Toad, an Adder, any venomous Creature, then so to live, and thus to have died; yet hither it is come, his sickness is remediless, his Riches comfortless, his Torments endless, still he must suffer, and there is none to deliver, he is torn, torn in pieces, and none may deliver him. What need you more, now we are come to this Period? His Glass is run, his Sun is set, his Day is finished, and now this Night, the very Night of Death, his soul is required, and is received of him.

Lo here, the dismal, dreadful, terrible Time of this Man's Departure, it was in the Night, a Night of Darkness, Drowsiness, Sadness, Sin, Death, and Destruction.

Use 1. Who will not provide each Day against this fearful Night? Howsoever we pass away our Time in sin, we must of Necessity, ere it be long, ly grasping for Breath upon our Dying-beds, there shall we grapple Hand to Hand with the utmost Powers of Death and Darkness: What should we do then, but sow our Seed while the seed-time lasteth? we have yet a Day, and how short this Day is, God only knows: Be sure the night cometh where-in none can work, John 9. 4. and then what a fearful Time will come upon us? I know there be some that dream of doing good in another World, or at least will defer it longer, till some Time hereafter; such vain Hopes of future Performances have undone many a soul: I must work the work of him that sent me, while it is day, faith our Saviour, John 9. 4. The wayfaring Man travels not in Darkness, but while the Day shines on him, then he knows he is under the Protection of the Laws, the Light of the Sun, the Blessing of Heaven; Are there not twelve hours in the days? if any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of the world; but if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him, John 11. 9. Do good then, and lay hold of every season which may get you to Heaven. Let the whole Course of your Life be a conscionable Preparative against Death. Suppose every Day your last, as if at Night you should be called to account.
before that high and great Tribunal: in a Word, whatsoever you think, speak or do, say thus with yourself, Would I do thus, and thus, if I knew this Night to be my Last? Who is it would fin, if he thought at that Instant to go to Judgment?

Ut e 2. But if we neglect the Day, be sure the Night will come to our Condemnation: where be those Wonders that so dazzled our Eyes, while the Day shone on them? Where is Absalom's Beauty, Jezebel's Paint, Saul's Personage; nay, where is this wretched Worldling? he had a Day to work out his own salvation, and that being left, at last came Night, before he had gone two steps towards Heaven. O Beloved! Walk while ye have light, that ye may be children of the light, John 12. 35. You may be sure the meanest soul that hath the Work of Grace upon it, Death is to him no Night, but the Day break of eternal Brightness. This may make us in Love with the sincerity of Religion, this may make us to labour, and never cease labouring till we have gotten out of the state of Nature, into the state of Grace. O that I could say of every one of you, as Paul of the Ephesians, Ye were once darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord, Eph. 5. 8. Ye were once carnal, but now are ye spiritual; ye were once unregenerate, but now are ye First-fruits dedicated to God, If it were thus with you, then, to your comfort, upon your Dying-beds you should meet with a glorious Train of blessed Angels, you should feel the glorious Presence of the sweetest Comforter, you should see the glorious Light of God's shining Countenance, you should have a Night, if it were Night, turn all into a Mid-day. Now the Lord give you such a Day, whensoever you die; through Christ our Lord. You have heard the Time of Death's Arrest, This Night. Now for the Party we'll make a privy search, and if we find one Word, we shall find him at next Door, it is thy Soul.]

Thy Soul.

The Party under Arrest, is the rich Man's Soul. No Warranty could prevail, no Riches satisfies, no Strength rescue, Death now demands it, and there is none can redeem it, therefore This Night they will have his Soul.

Obier. Every Man hath a Jewel better worth than a World, and the Loss of this is so much more dear, by how much it is more precious. What profits it a man to gain a world, and to lose his soul? (said our Lord and Saviour) Matt. 16. 26. Nay, what are a thousand Worlds when the Soul is valued? Give me leave to open the Cabinet, and you shall see the Jewel that is arrested; it is the Soul.

The Soul; what's that? It is, faith Austin, a Substance that is created, invisible, incorporeal, immortal, most like to God, as bearing the Image of its Creator *. Please you that we illustrate this Description, and you shall see how every Word shews forth some Excellencies, as the glorious Lustres of this glorious Pearl the Soul.

1. If you ask, what is the Soul? 'Tis a Substance. How fond were the Opinion of some Philosophers? one would have it to be nothing [† vox &

* Substantia creata, invisibilis, incorporea, immortalis, Deo simillima, imaginem habens Creatoris sui. Aug. in Lib. de Definitione animae.
† Diezarchus.
The spirit (faith our Saviour) hath not flesh and bones, as you see me have, Luke 24. 39. It is the Body is the Flesh, but the Soul is the Spirit; the Body you may see and handle, but the Soul is not seen, not handled: As the Disciples then did err in supposing a Spirit when they saw his Body, no less is their Error, in supposing a Body where is only a Spirit. The worst Soul is better than the best of Bodies. O precious Soul, (faith Bernard † †) espoused to thy God, endued with his Spirit, redeemed by his Son, what art thou to the Flesh, whose being is from Heaven? Others, again have penned this Opinion, and they call it a Form: but what? only material,  not substantial, and such as are the souls of Beasts that die with their Bodies, as being deduced from the Matter of some Bodies pre-existent. It is not so with the souls of Men, which tho for a while they are knit and united to this House of Clay, yet may they be separated from it, and subsist without it; this is that Goodness of God, that as our Souls are intellectual, so their Being is perpetual, not but that our Souls might die (seeing every Thing that is of nothing may return into the same nothing whence it sprung) but that God sustaineth them by his glorious Goodness, that as he gave the first Being, so he would continue that he gave, What have we, that we have not received? 1 Cor. 4. 7. Or to speak of the soul, what are we that God, and God only hath not bestowed upon us? our Parents begot our Bodies, God only gave our Souls; our Bodies are buried again in the Womb of our common Mother, but our Souls return to God, as to their chiefest Good. So immaterial is the Soul, that neither Will nor Understanding depend on the dying Organ. What then is the Soul? a Nothing, an Accident, a Body, a Form only material? no but on the contrary, an Ens, a Substance, a Spirit, a Form, a substantial Being of itself subsisting.

But we'll ascend a little higher, it is a Substance created, not traduced, as some would have it, I must confes the Opinion was not a little strong, that as our Bodies, so our Souls were both propagated from our Parents. *Tertullian, and the Fathers of the West, as Jerom witnesses, were most on that Side: The Reason of this Opinion was because of Original Sin, which defiling the Soul, as well as the Body of each Man sprung from Adam, they could see no Means how both were corrupted, except withal the Soul were propagated. But are not our souls as the Angels? and therefore if our souls, then may the Angels beget one another; nay, if this were true, what soul were generated, but another were corrupted: For the Rule is infallible, There can be no Generation without a Transmutation, and so would every soul be subject to Corruption. Concerning that Objection of Original sin (if the soul were not traduced from the Loins of Adam, how then should that sin be imputed to our souls? ) I must confess the Question is intricate, we should rather believe it, than enquire of it, and we may better enquire of it than understand it, and yet more easily understand it than express it. But so well as we can, we shall unite the Knot. First, then, We say it is a Fallacy to divide Soul and Body, for not the Soul without the Body, nor the Body without the Soul, but the whole Man sinned in Adam, as the whole Man is begot of Adam; so soon therefore as the Soul is conjoined to the Body, and of the Soul and Body is constituted whole Man, that Man being made now a Member of Adam, is said to sin with him, and to derive that sin from him. But for a further Satisfaction, altho the Soul depend on God according to its Substance, yet it is created in that Body which is produced of the Parents: Thus, in some sort we may say that the Soul is begotten, non quod effentiam, sed quod einit, † God only gives the Essence, but to exist comes from the Parents. What is the Soul, but a Form of the Body? and of what Body but that which is organisable, as being apt for the Soul? This Aptoness then whereby it is prepared for the Form, being received from the Parents, we may say of the Soul, that thus it is generated, as not beginning to subsist before the Body is prepared. This is true in some sort, tho not properly. Consider then the Excellency of Man's Soul, which is not born, but created, and howsoever now it is beftitted with fin, yet was it then pure and undefiled, as the untouch'd Virgin: How is it but pure, which the Hands of God have made? it was the Devil that caused sin, but all that God made was good, and very good ‡‡, Gen. 1. 31. and such a Soul hath every Man. It is created by God, infused by his Spirit, of nothing made something, and what something, but an excellent Work, befitting such an excellent Workman?

3. And yet there be more stairs to ascend, it is, Thirdly, Invisible. Hath any Man seen God? or, hath any Man seen God's Image, which is the Soul, and lived? Substances that are more pure, are less visible. We see but darkly thro a Glass, nay, the best Eye upon Earth looks but through a Lattice, a Window, an obfuscaring Impediment, mortal Eyes cannot behold immortal Things; how then should this corruptible flesh, see a spiritual soul? The Object is too clear for our weak Eyes, our Eyes are but earthly, the soul of an heavenly Nature. O divine Being! not only heavenly, but Heaven itself: As God and Man met both in Christ, so Heaven and Earth met both in Man: Would you see this Earth? that is the Body, Out of it was thou taken, and into it must thou return, Gen. 4. 19. would you see this Heaven? that is the Soul, The God of heaven gave it, and to the God of heaven returns it, Ecclef. 12.

7. The Body is but a Lump, but the soul is that Breath of Life: Of Earth came the Body, of God was the soul; thus Earth and Heaven met in the Creation, and the Man was made a living soul, Gen. 2. 7. the sanctified soul is an Heaven * upon an Earth, where the Sun is Understanding, the Moon is Faith, and the Stars gracious Affections: What Heaven is in that Body, which lives and moves by such a soul? Yet so wonderful is God's Mercy to Man-kind, that as Reason doth posses the soul, so the soul must posses this Body. Here is that Union of Things visible, and invisible; as the Light is spiritual, incorruptible, indivisible, and so united to the Air, that these two is made one, without Confusion of either; in like Manner is the soul united to this Body, one together, discerned aunder; only here's the Diffe-

ly immortal. It was the Error of many Fathers, † That Bodies and Souls must both die till Doomsday, and then the Bodies being raised, the Souls must be revived. Were this true, why then crys Stephen, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit, Acts 7. 9. Or why should Paul be dissolved, that he might be with Christ? Phil. 1. 23. Blest Men are but Men, and therefore no wonder if subject to some Error. Others absolutely deny the Soul’s Immortality; We are born, say they, at all adventures, and we shall be hereafter, as tho we had never been; why so? for the breath is a smoke in our nostrils, and the words as a spark raised out of our hearts, which being extinguished, the body is turned into ashes, and the spirit vanishes as soft air, Wisd. 1. 2. 3. What is the Soul a smoke? and the spirit no better than the soft vanishing Air? Wretched Men! Have you not read what is spoken of God, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? Now God, faith Christ, is not the God of the dead, but of the living, Mat. 22. 32. Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, they are not dead then in the better Part, their Souls, but passed indeed from the Valley of Death, unto the Land of the Living. Whosoever liveth and believeth in me, saith our Saviour, shall never die, John 11. 26. Not die, against some; never die, against others: what can we more? only live and believe in him that redeemed us, and be sure his Promises shall never fail us; our Souls must live, live for ever. Sweet Soul, blessed with the Felicity of eternal Life! here’s a Joy unspeakable, that this Soul now clogged with Cares, Vexations, Griefs, Passions, shall one Day enjoy those Joys immortal, not for a day or two (tho this were more than we can imagine) but thro’ all Eternity; There shall be no Defect, nor End: * After Millions of Ages the Soul must still live in her Happines; it is not of a perishing, but an everlasting Substance.

6. And yet the Perfection of the Soul goes higher; it is most like to God. So far it transcends all earthly Happines; I cannot say, but in some sort all Creatures have this Likeness; every Effect hath at least some similitude with its Cause, but with a Difference; some only have a Being, as Stones; others Being and Life, as Plants; but Man above all hath a Being, Life, and Reason, and therefore of all other most like unto his Creator.

7. Can we any more? Yes, one step higher, and we are at the Top of Jacob’s Ladder: The Soul is not only like God, but the Image of God. I cannot deny, but there is some Appearance of it in the outward Man, and therefore the Body, in some Measure, partakes of this Image of the Deity, it was Man, and whole Man that was corrupted by sin, and, by the Law of Contraries, it was Man, and whole Man that was beautified with this Image. Pleaie you to look at the Body, Is it not a little World, wherein every Thing that God made was good? as therefore all Goodness comes from him, so was be the Pattern of all Goodness, that being in him perfectly, which only is in us partly. This is that Idea, whereby God is said to be the Exemplar of the World: Man then in his Body being as the World’s Map, what is he but that Image, in which the Builder of the World is manifest? But if you look at the Parts of his Body, how often are they attributed, ( tho in a Metaphor, yet in Remembrance ) to his Maker? Our Eyes are the Image of his Wisdom, our Hands are the image of his Power, our Heart is the Image of his Knowledge, and our Tongue the lively Image of his revealed Will: God therefore, before he made the Body, said, Let us make man in our own image, Gen. 1. 26. and what was the Meaning, but that Soul and Body should both bear the Image of his Majesty? Be aflonished then, ye Men of the Earth, If this Dust, this Clay, this Body of ours be so glorious, what think ye of the Soul, whose Sub stance, Faculties, Qualities, Dignities, every way represents God's Omnipotent Essence? Look on this Glass, and first, for Substance, Is the Soul invisible? why, so is God; No man hath seen God at any time, John 1. 18. Is the Soul incorporeal? why, so is God; We ought not to think him like unto silver, gold, or stone graven with art, Acts 17. 29. Is the Soul immortal? why, so is God; He is King of kings, and Lord of lords, who only hath immortality, 1 Tim. 6. 16. Is the Soul spiritual? why, so is God; God is a Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit, John 4. 24. Is the Soul one Essence? why, so is God; There is one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all, Eph. 4. 6. See here the lively Image of God in every Soul of Man. But there is another Character imprinted in every Faculty, so that not only the Substance, but the Powers of the Soul bear this Image in them: As there is One God, and Three Persons, so there is one Soul and three Faculties: The Father, Son, and Holy Ghost are but one God; the Understanding, Will, and Memory are but one Soul; the Father is not the Son, nor the Son the Holy Ghost; so the Understanding is not the Will, nor the Will the Memory: And yet the Father is God, the Son is God, and the Holy Ghost is God; so the Understanding is the Soul, the Will is the Soul, and the Memory is the Soul. I dare not say but there is some Difference, * This Trinity in us, we rather see it than believe it; but that Trinity of Persons we more believe it than see it: Howsoever then our soul is no Proof of the Godhead, yet is it a true sign of that Image of God in the soul. Nay, yet (as if this stamp were of a deeper Im pression, see the Dowry of God's spouse, and who wonders not at the Qualities, and Conditions with which the soul is arrayed? The King's daughter is all glorious within, her clothing is of brodered gold, Psalm 45. 13. What say you to that heavenly Knowledge inspired into us? God, that created Man, filled him with knowledge of understanding, and shewed them good and evil, Ecclus. 17. 6. What say you to those heavenly Impressions that are stampt upon us? Such are the new man's marks, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness, Eph. 4. 24. These make the soul like God, and God loving to the soul; is it not clothed with Righteous nes as with a Garment? witness the Integrity of Adam, in that sweet sub jection, his soul to the Lord, his Affections to the Soul, his Body to the Affections, the whole Man to God as to the chiefest Good; and as Truth and Mercy meet together, so Righteousness and Holiness kiss each other:

Rrr Oblef-
O blessed Image! How nearly doth thou resemble thy Creator? He is the Pattern of Perfection, and we bear the Image of that Pattern, Be ye holy, for I am holy, 1 Pet. 1. 15. And yet again, as if this Picture were of deeper Dye, how like is the soul to its Creator in her full Dominion over all the Creatures? Thou art beautiful, O my soul, as Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners, Cant. 6. 3. What is it will not stoop to this God's Vice-gerent? Beasts, and birds, and serpents, and things of the sea are tamed, and have been tamed of the nature of man, James 3. 7. What a Thing is this Soul? She can tame the Wild, command the Proud, pull down the Lotty, do what she will by compounding, comparing, contemplating, commanding. O excellent Nature! that fittest on Earth, canst reach to Heaven, mayst dive to Hell, nothing being able to resist thy Power, so long as thou art subject to that Power of God. Is this the soul? Lo, what is man that thou art mindful of him? thou hast made him to have dominion in the works of thy hands, thou hast put all things in subje&ion under his feet, Psal. 8. 6.

O my Soul, my Soul! what can we say of such a Creature? To sum up all; she is in Nature a Substance, created by God, invisible of Men, incorporeal with Angels, immortal through Grace, most like to God in a Way of Nearness, and bearing his Image in the glorious stamp of her created Likeness.

Is this the Darling of our Lord? where then is the rich Man that hath loft this Pearl? He that could tell his soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years, live at ease, eat, drink and take thy psalme. Now on a sudden his soul is taken, and whose shall those things be which he hath provided? The Lost of all Losses is the Lost of a Soul, without which, had we never so much, we could truly enjoy nothing: What, trust then in your earthly Treasures? What stay in such broken staves of Reed? One Day you shall find them most deceitful, leaving your naked souls to the open Rage of Wind and Weather, to the Icours and scorpions of Guiltiness and Fear: Could you purchase a Monopoly of all the World, had you the Gold of the West, the Treasures of the East, the spices of the South, the Pearls of the North, all is Nothing to this incarnate Angel, this invaluable soul. O wretched Worldling! what hast thou done then to undo thy soul? Was it a Wedge of Gold, an Heap of silver, an Hoard of Pearl to which thou trustest? fee they are gone, and thy soul is required. Alas, poor soul! whither must it go? To Heaven? to its Creator? to God that gave it? No; there is another Way for wandring sinners; Go ye into everlasting fire prepared for the devil and his angels, Matth. 25. 41. Thither must it go with Heaviness of Heart into a Kingdom of Darkness, a Lake of Burning, a Prison of horrible Confusion of terrible Tortures: O poor soul! what a Misery is this? Darkness, Burning, Confusion, Torments, are these the Welcome of his soul to Hell? What meant the rich Man in his unhappy Fore-cast? He propounded to his soul a World of Ease, of Pleasure, of Pastime; it proves far otherwise: This other World is a World of Torments, which, like infinitive Rivers of Brimstone, feed upon his soul without Ease or End. What avails now his pompous Pride at his doleful Funerals? The News is founded, He is dead; Friends must lament him, passing Peals ring for him, an Heart-Cloth wraps him, a Tombstone
stone ly over him, all must have Mourning-fuits, and, may be, rejoicing Hearts; but all this while his soul is going to Judgment, without one Friend, or the least Acquaintance to speak in his Cause: O that his soul were mortal, and Body and soul to be buried both together in one Grave! Must his Body die, and his soul live? in what World or Nation? in what Place or Region? it is another World, another Nation, where Devils are Companions, Brimstone the Fire, Horror the Language, and eternal Death the Soul's eternal Life, never to be cured, and never must be ended. O my Soul, faith Bernard, * what a terrible day shall that be, when thou shalt leave this Mansion, and enter into an unknown Region? who will deliver thee from these rampant Lions? who can defend thee from these hellish Monsters? God is incensed, Hell prepared, Justice threatened, only Mercy must prevent, or the soul is damned. View this rich Man on his Death-bed, the Pain hoots through his Head, and at last comes to his Heart, anon Death appears in his Face, and suddenly falls on to arrest his soul: Is it Death? what is it he demands? can his Goods satisfy? no, the World claims them: Must his Body go? no, the Worms claim that: What Debt is this, which neither Goods, nor Body can discharge? Habeas animam eis coram nobis: God's Warrant bids fetch the soul: O miserable News! the soul committed sin, sin mortgaged it to Death, Death now demands it; and what if he gain the World, he must lose his soul: This night thy soul shall be required of thee.

Use 1. Animula vagula, blandula, laid dying Adrian; Pritty, little, wandering Soul, whither goest thou from me? wilt thou leave me alone, that cannot live without thee? O what Conflicts sufferst the poor soul? when this Time is come, must the soul be gone? help Friends, Physick, Pleasure, Riches; nay, take a World to reprieve a soul; so different are the Thoughts of Men dying from them living; now are they for their Pleasure, or Profit, the Body or the World, but then nothing is esteemed but the soul: What can we say? but if you mean your souls must be saved, O then let these precious, dear, everlasting Things breathed into your Bodies for a short Abode, scorn to feed on Earth, or any earthly Things: it is Matter of a more heavenly Metal, Treasures of an higher Temper, Riches of a nobler Nature, that must help your souls. Do you think that ever any glorified soul, that now looks God Almighty in the Face, and tramples under Foot the Sun and Moon, is so bewitched as was Adam with a Wedge of Gold? No, it is only the Communion of saints, the society of Angels, the Frution of the Deity, the Depth of Eternity which can only feed and fill the soul. So live then, as that when you die, your souls may receive this Bles, and the Lord Jesu our Saviour receive all our souls.

Use 2. I must end, but gladly would I win a soul: If the Reward be so great, as you know it, to recover a sick Body, which for all that must die, of what Reward is that Cure to save a Soul, which must ever, ever live? O sweet Jesus! why sheddest thou the most precious only to save souls? Thou wait scourged, buffeted, judged, condemned, hanged; was all this for us? and shall we do nothing for ourselves? What is it thou wouldst have had, if thou couldst wish it good? * Not thy House, nor thy Wife, nor thy Children, nor thy Goods, nor thy Clothes, but no matter for thy soul: I beseech you, value not your souls at a less Price than your shoes; you can please the Flesh with Delicates, which is naught but Worms Meat; but the soul pines for want, which is a Creature invisible, incorporeal, immortal, most like to God: Are we thus careful of Pelf, and to carcellers of this Pearl? Certainly, I cannot chuse but wonder, when seeing the Streets peopled with Men that follow Suits, run to Courts, attend and wait on their Counselors for this Case, and that Case, this House, or that Land; that not one of these, nor one of us all will ride, or run, or creep, or go to have counsel for his Soul! I must confess, I have sometimes dwelt on this Meditation; and, Beloved, let me speak homely to you; Be our Counselors in this Town every Week solicited by their Clients? And have we no Clients in foul-cafes? not one that will come to us with their Cases of Conscience? sure you are either carcellers of your souls, or beline you have no Need of particular Instructions: O let us not be so forward for the World, and so backward for the soul! Yet, I pray mistake not; I invite you not for Fees, as noble Terence, when he had petitioned for the Christians, and faw it torn in Pieces before his Face, gathered up the Pieces, and said, I have my Reward; I have not sued for Gold, Silver, Ho-

Thus far you see the rich Man's Arrest: God injoins it, Death serves it, the Time was this night, and the party is, his Soul: God give us Grace to provide our Souls, that when Death arrests, we may be ready and then, O God, have thou mercy on our Souls.

Shall be required.

The Original is apaitus, They shall require it: wherein you have, The { Serjeants, Arrest.

The Serjeants, They; and the Arrest itself, They require his Soul.

We'll first take a View of the Serjeants.

They: who? not God, he knows not sinners, what should he do with a drunken, profane, covetous, sensual Soul? He that never so much as thought on God in this Life, will God accept of the commending of his Soul to him at his Death? no, the Lord of Heaven will none of it: he that forsook God, is justly forsaken of God: See the true Weight of this Balance, he would not receive God's Grace into his Soul, and God will not receive his graceless Soul into Heaven. But who then? will the Angels take it? No, they have nothing to do with the Soul of a dying sinner; the Angels are only Porters for the Souls of the just: Poor Lazarus that could neither go, nor sit, nor stand for Sores; it is he must be carried on the Wings of Angels; but for this rich Man, not the lowest Angel will do him poorest service. Who then? will the Saints receive it? no, they have no such Commission to receive a soul: that blind Opinion, which every one may blush at, that Saint Peter should be Heaven's Porter, and that none may go in, but to whom he will open: if it be true, why may not a Saint help a departing soul? Away with this dreaming Folly! not Peter, nor Paul, nor all the Saints of Heaven have any such Privilege; if God will not hear us, what will our Prayers do to Saints? Heaven is too far off, they cannot hear, or were it nearer they will not, cannot help. It is God must save us, or we perish ever. Who then are the Serjeants? not God, nor Saints, nor Angels: No, there is another Crew, Death and Devils stand in a Readiness, and they are the Parties that arrest this Prisoner.

Stay, what would Death have? the Soul cannot die, and for the Body, no matter who receives it. O yes! there is a Death of the Soul, as well as of the Body: I mean not such a Death whereby it may be annihilated, but a second Death that shall ever accompany it: This is a Death of the Soul, that will always keep it in Death's Pangs. But not to speak of this Death, there is another Death temporal, that shall sever the Soul and Body each from other: these two Twins that have lived together since their first Espousal, these two lovely ones that were made, and met, and married by the Hands of God, these two made one, till Death them depart, and make them two again, now is their rueful Time of Devorce: When Death comes he gives over the Body to the Grave, and arrests the Soul, to appear in Presence before God's high Tribunal. Such a Bailiff hath now laid Hands on this rich Man's Soul, when he least thought on't, Death comes on a sudden, and arrests his Person. O wretched Worldling! who is this behind thee? call we this God's Serjeant? What grim, ugly, monstrous Visage is this we see? have ever any of you seen the griefly Picture of Death before you? How was it but with hollow Eyes, open skull, grinning Teeth
Death's Arrest.

Teeth, naked Ribs, a few Bones knit together with dry strings, as presenting to your Eyes the most deformed Image of a Man in Molds? But what's that in his Hands? an Hour-glass, and a Dart: the one expressing the Decreasings of our Life, and the other Death's Stroke, that he gives us in our Death. Such Emblems are most fit to express Mortality: And imagine such a Thing to arrest this rich Man, would it not terrifie him; whilsts looking back, Death suddenly claps him on his shoulder, away he must with this Messenger, all the Gold and Pearl of East and West, cannot stay him one Hour: Now rich Man, what avails all thy worldly Pleasure? Hast thou in thy Hands the Reins of all earthy Kingdoms; were thou exalted as the Eagle, and thy nest set among the stars, Obed. 1. 4. yet all this, and whatsoever else thou canst imagine, is not worth a Button: where did that Man dwell, or of what Cloth was his Garment, that was ever comforts by his Goods, or Greatness, in this last and safest Conflict? See, Worldling, Death requires thy Soul, no Bribe will be taken, no Intreaty will prevail, no Riches rescue, nothing at all redeem Death; Death is impartial.

But, O Horror! Death is not all, see yet more Serjeants; Devils and Dragons are about thy Bed, and these are they that will hurry away thy Soul to Hell. How? Devils; O Worldling, stay thy Soul, and never yield it! better to die a thousand Deaths, than to leave it in their Hands; but alas, thou canst not choose, thy last Hour is come, and here is neither Hope nor Help, nor place of any longer tarrying. See but the Misery of a miserable Soul! what shall it do? whither shall it flie from these damned Furies? would they take it, and tear it into nothing, it were somewhat tolerable: but to tear it in Pieces, and never to make end of tearing, to give it Torments without all Patience or Restistance; this is that Load which it cannot bear, and yet, O Extremity! it ever, ever must be born: Think on this, O my Soul! and whilst thou hast a Minute's Stay in this Body, call upon God to prevent this Arrest of Devils; was it not think ye a Terror to this rich Man, when so many Hell-hounds waited for his Soul? We read of * one Man, who being took away with a Devil thro' the Air, was said so to rose and yell, that many miles distant his Noise was heard, to many a Man's trembling. And it the Soul had but the Organs of a found, what a shriek would it make, being seiz'd on by a Devil? witnesses the Cry of many desperate Souls, when as yet they are safe in their Beds, how do they roar and rage? how do they call and cry, Help, help us, save us, deliver us from these fiends about us? These are those evening Wolves enrag'd with hellish Hunger, these are those ramping Lions ever ready to devour our Souls; these are those Walkers up and down the Earth, which are now come and entred into this rich Man's Lodging. Whereforever the dead careals is, thither, faith our Saviour, will the eagles resort, Mat. 24. 28. and wherefoever a damned Soul is, thither with alacrity will these spirits come: O how they fly and flutter round about him! what fires do they breathe, to enkindle them on his soul? what Claws do they open, to receive her at the parting? and what Astonishment is that poor Soul in, that perceives these Servants even ready to Zee, clasp her in their burning Arms? See, O Cosmopolite, what thy fin hath caused! Luft hath transported thine Eyes, Blasphemy thy Tongue, Pride thy Foot, Oppression thy Hand, Covetousness thy Heart, and now Death and Devils, they are the Serjeants that require thy Soul.

Use, Reflect these Thoughts on your own Souls, and consider with yourselves what may be your Cafes; it may be as yet thou standest upright without any Changes, hitherto thou hast seen no Days of sorrow, but even washed thy Steps with butter, and the rock hath poured thee out rivers of oil, Deut. 32. 13, 14. Alas! was not this the Case of this poor wretched Worldling? yet for all this, you see a Night came that paid for all; and so it may be with thee; a Day, an Hour, a Moment * is enough to overturn the Things that seem to have been founded, and rooted in Adamant; who can tell whither this Night, this Storm may fall upon thee? Art thou not strangely nailed and glued unto sense? Art thou not stupidly senseless in spiritual Things, that for Pelf, Vanity, Dung, Nothing, wilt run headlong and wilfully into eareless, endless and remediless Torments? Yet such is thy Doing, if thou beest a Worldling, to get Riches to thy Body, and let Death and Devils have thy Soul. O Beloved, confider in Time, and feeing you have such a terrible Example set before you, let this Worldling be your Warning.

We have done with the Serjeants, but what's their Office? to beg? to sue; No, but to force, to require, thy Soul is required. How? required? is any so bold to approach his Gates, and make a forcible Entry? Yes, God hath his special Bailiffs that will fear no Colours, Riches cannot ransom, Caffles cannot keep, Hollows cannot hide, Hills nor their Forts protect: Sits Herod on his Throne? there's a Writ of Remove, and the Worms are his Bailiffs; is Dives at his Table? Death brings the Mitternus, and Devils are his Jailors: fits Lazarus at his Gates? the King greets him well, we may say, and Angels are his Keepers: poor, rich, good, bad, all must be served at the King's Suit; no Place can priviledge, no Power secure, no Valour rescue, no Liberty exempt; with a non omittas propter a-liquam libertatem, runs this Warrant: O rich Man! what wilt thou now do? The Sorrow of Death compas thee, and the fluids of Belial make thee afraid. What? no Friends to help? no Power to rescue, is there no other way but yield and die for it? O Misery! enough to break an Heart of Brass again: Imagine that a Prince a while possession some royal City, where, if you walk the streets, you may see Peace flourishing, Wealth abounding, Pleasure waiting, all his Neighbours offering their service, and promising to affift him in all his Needs and Affairs: if on a sudden this City were besieged by some deadly Enemy, who coming, like a violent stream, takes one Held after another, one Wall after another, one Castle after another, and at last drives this Prince only to a little Tower, and there sets on him; what Fear, Anguifh and Misery would this Prince be in? If he looks about, his Holds are taken, his Men are slain, his Friends and Neighbours now stand aloof off, and they begin to abandon him, were not this a woful Plight trow you? even so it fares with a poor Soul at the Hour of her Departure: the Body wherein she reigned like a jolly Prince, then droops and languishes; The keepers tremble,

the strong men bow, the grinders cease, and they wax dark that look out at the tear be in the way, when the Arms, the Legs, the Teeth, the Eyes, as so many Walls wherein the Soul was invironed, are now surprized and beaten to the Ground: her last Refuge is the Heart, and this is the little Tower wherther at last she is driven: But what is she there secure? No, but most fiercely affailed with a thousand Enemies, her dearst Friends, Youth, and Physick, and other Helps, which soothed her in Prosperty, do now abandon her: What will she do? the Enemy will grant no Truce, will make no League, but Night and Day assails the Heart, which now like a Turret struck with Thunder begins all to shiver? Here is the woful state of a wicked soul, God is her Enemy, the Devil her Foe, Angels hate her, the Earth groans under her, Hell gapes for her: The Reason of all, Sin struck the Alarm, and Death gives the Battel; it is but this Night, a Minute longer, and then will the raging Enemy enter on her.

Death is no Beggar to entreat, no suttor to wooe, no Petitioner to ask, no solicitor to crouch and crave a Fa-avour: * She runs raging, ruling, charging, requiring. Hark this Man's Arrest, Thy soul shall be required: It shall? Yes, the Word is peremptory: What? be required? Yes, it comes with Authority. Here's a fatal Requiring, when the soul shall be forced by unwilling Necessity, and Devils by Force hurry her to her endless Fury. Adieu, poor soul! the Writ is serv'd, the Goal prepared, the Judgment past, and Death, the Executioner, will delay no longer; This night thy soul shall be required of thee.

Ufe 1. But to whom speak I? Think of it, you miserable Covetous, that join house to house, and call the lands after your own names: You may tryst in your wealth, and boast yourselves in the multitude of your riches, but none of you can by any means redeem his brother, no, or himself, Psalm 49. 6, 7. When Death comes, I pray, what Composition with the Lord of Heaven? could ever any buy out his Damnation with his own Coin: howsoever you live merrily, deliciously, go richly; yet Death will at last knock at your Doors, and, notwithstanding all your Wealth, Honours, Tears and Groans of your dearst Friends, will take you away as his Prisoners, to his darkeft Dungeon.
Your Cate is, as with a Man, who lying fast asleep upon the Edge of some sheep, high Rock, dreams merrily of Crowns, Kingdoms, Possessions; but upon the sudden, starting for Joy, he breaks his Neck, and tumbles into the Bottom of some violent Sea: Thus is your Dangers every Hour, Satan makes you a Bed, lulls you asleep, charms you into golden Dreams, and you conceive you are wallowing in the Sea of all worldly Happiness; at last Death comes, against which there is no Resistance, and then are you suddenly swallowed up of Despair, and drowned in that Pit of eternal Death and Perdition.

I have read of some, whom in some fort we might parallel with this rich Man, concerning their fearful horrid Departure out of this miserable World: yea I suppose the Books are so working, that any Man whatsoever he is, that would

* Qua quæ ruít, foribunda ruít.
but read them, and ponder them in a ferious Way, they would certainly work in him much Matter of Humiliation, and make him to flie sin, as the very sting of a Scorpion.

One of them I mean to speak of, was an Englishman. Abbot that relates the ftoy, tells indeed of two in one Year that died thus uncomfortably; the one to many Ways looking homewards, that he died miserably rich; the other so lathing outward, that he died miserably poor, both of different ways of Life, yet both of uncomfortable Passages out of the World. The one coming to his Death's-bed, the Author reports of him, that firt the Devil presented himself unto him to be his Physician, and after Chrift appeared to him fittiing on the Throne, condemning his unprofitable Life, and bidding him shift for himself, for he would have nothing to do with him. The other, of whom I mean to speak, as if he would prevent Chrift, condemned himself to Hell for ever and ever: O said he, that I might burn a long time in that fire, fo I might not burn in Hell, I have had, faid he, a little pleasure, and now I muft go to the Torments of Hell for ever. Then praying to God (as he was prifled by others) to forgive him his sins, and to have mercy upon him, he would add, but I know God will not do it, I muft go to Hell for evermore. Whatsoever came between whiltes, this was the clofe, I muft be burned in Hell, I muft to the Furnace of Hell, millions, and millions of ages. The Author of this story, who was Minister of the Place where he lived, went to him, offered him the Comforts of the Gospel, opened to him the Promises of the largest fize, shewed him that God was delighted to save Souls, and not to deftroy them, and that his sweet Promises were without Exception of Time, Place, Perfon, or fin, except that againft the Holy Ghost, which he affured him too, was not committed by him: And what was the Ifue? all this could not fatten on him, but ftil he would answer, Alas, it is too late, I muft be burned in Hell. That Man of God, the Shepherd of his fou, feeing his Soul in this danger, came to him again and again, and at laft secluded the Company, he prifled him with Tears in his Eyes, not to caft away that Soul for which Chrift died; he told him, that Chrift rejected none that did not reject him: but for all this he could have no other Answer, but that he had call off Chrift, and therefore muft go to Hell. The Minister replies, Yet pray with me, faith he, that Chrift would come again; there is yet an Hour in the Day, and if Chrift come, he can and will affift you to do a great Deal of Work on a sudden: no, he would not hear of that; Former Coun-fels and Prayers might have done me good said he, but now it is too late.

O Horrour, that ever any foul should suffer these Conflicts for fin! But what fins were they? He was, faith the Author, no Swearer, no Whoremonger, no Thief, no Scoffer at Religion, no perjured Wretch, no wilful Liar at all, only Drunkennefs, and Negleff of Mens Bodies, (for he was an Apothe-cary ) Negleff of Prayer, God's Word, and his Sacraments, fo awaked his trem-bling Conscience, that he was forced to pass this fearful Doom upon his Soul, I muft be burned in the Furnace of Hell, millions of millions of Ages: And at laft, the Lord knows, in Idlenefs of Thought, and Talk, he ended his mi-ferable, miserable Life.

The other I mean to speak of was an Italian, under the Jurisdiction of Venice, called, Francis Spira, who being excessively covetous of Money, and for Fear of the World, having renounced the Truth, which before he professed, he thought at last he heard a direful Voice speaking to him, Thou wicked Wretch, thou hast denied me, thou hast broken thy Bow: Hence, Apostate, and bear with thee the Sentence of thy eternal Damnation: * At this Voice, he trembling and quaking, fell down in a swoon; and after recovering himself, he professed that he was captivated under the revenging Hand of the great God of Heaven, and that he heard continually that fearful Sentence of Christ now past on his soul. His Friends, to comfort him, propounded many of God's Promises recorded in Scripture: Ob but my sin, said he, is greater than the Mercy of God: Nay, answered they, The Mercy of God is above all sin; God would have all Men to be saved: It is true, said he, he would have all Men that he hath elected, to be saved; but he would not have Reprobates to be saved, and I am one of that Number: After this, roring out in Bitterness of spirit, he said, It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.
These Troubles of Mind brought him to a Distemper of Body, which the Physicians perceiving, they wish'd him to seek some Spiritual Comfort: Those Comforters come, and observing the Distemper to arise from the sense and Horror of Hell-pains; they ask him, whether he thought there were any worse Pains than what he endured? he said, He knew there were far worse Pains; yet do I desire nothing more, said he, than that I may come to that Place, where I may be sure to feel the worst, and to be freed from Fear of worse to come.

As on this Manner he was speaking, he observed, (faith my Author) divers Flies that came about him, and some lighted on him; whereat presently remembering how Beelzebub signifies, the God of Flies; Behold, said he, now also Beelzebub comes to his Banquet, you shall shortly see my End, and in me an Example to many of the Justice and Judgment of God. Then he began to rock-on up what fearful Dreams and Visions he was continually troubled withal, That he saw the Devils come flocking into his Chamber, and about his Bed terrifying him with Strange Noises; and that these were not Fancies, but that he saw them as really as the Standers by; and that besides these outward Terrors, he felt continually a racking Torture of his Mind, and a continual Butchery of his Conscience, being the very proper Pangs of the damned Wights in Hell.

But of all the rest, most desperate was that last Speech of his, when finaching a Knife (as intending to mil-chief himself, but stopped by his Friend) he rored with Indignation, I would I were above God, for I know he will have no Mercy on me; and thus living a long while, he appeared at length a very perfect Anatomy, expressing to the View nothing but fines, and Bones, vehemently raging for Drink; ever pining, yet fearful to live long; dreadful of Hell, yet coveting Death; in a continual Torment, yet his own Tormentor; confuming himself with Grief and Horror, Impatience and De-pair, till at last he ended his miserable-miserable Life.

And now, Beloved, if such be the departure of a sinfull Soul, O who would live in fin, to come to such a departure! For my part, I dare not say these parties, thus miserable in their own apprehensions, are now among Devils in hell: I find the Authors themselves incline to the right hand; besides, what am I, that I should sit in God's Chair? onely this I say, that their miserable deaths may very well give warning to us all; nor need you think much at me for uttering the (terribilia) terrible stories: for if sometimes you did not hear of God's Judgments against Sin; a day might come, that you would most of all cry out on the Preacher: To this purpose, we have a story of a certain rich man, who lying on his death-bed, My Soul! (said he) I bequeath to the Devil, who owns it, my wife to the Devil, who drew me to my ungodly life, and my Chaplain to the Devil, who flattered me in it. I pray God I never hear of such a Legacy from any of you: Sure I had better to tell you afohand to prevent it, then not telling you to feel it. And let this be for my Apology in relating these Stories.

Use 2. But for a second Use, give me leave, I pray you, to separate the Precious from the Vile: Now then to sweeten the Thoughts of all true Penitents, the Souls of Saints are not required, but received. Rejoice then, ye Righteous that mourn in Sion; what tho' a while ye suffer? Death is a Goal-delivery to your Souls, not bringing in, but freeing out of Thraldom. Here the good Man finds sharpest Miferie, the evil Man sweetest Felicity; therefore it is just, that there should be a Time of changing Turns: The rich Man's Table stood full of Delicates, Lazarus lakes Crumbs, but now he is comforted, and thou art tormenteed. It do unto you that laugh, for you shall mourn, Luke 6, 25. Blessed are you that mourn, for you shall rejoice, Matth. 5, 4. Happy Lazarus! who from thy Beggary and loathsome sores were carried by Angels into Abraham's Bozom: Happy Thief, who upon thy true Repentance, and unfeigned Prayer, wert received from the Cross into the Paradise of thy Saviour: Happy are all they that suffer Tribulation, Death shall loose their Soul from Bonds and Fetters, and instead of a Bailiff to arrest them, shall be a Porter to conduct them to the Gates of Heaven: There shall thou tread on serpents, trample on thine Enemies, sing sweet Trophies: Were not this enough? thy Conquests shall be crowned by the Hands of the Seraphims, triumphed with the sound of Angels, warbled by the Quire of Spirits, confirmed by the King of Kings, and Lord of Hosts. Happy Soul! thou art not required by Devils, but received by Angels; and when we die, Lord Jesus, send thine Angels to receive our souls.

You see now Death's Arrest, and what remains further, have to accept of some Bail? But what Bail, where you have the King's Commandment from his own Mouth? This requiring is not of any other, but himself; of no Surety, but of thee (faith God) must thy Soul be required.

Of thee.

Once more, you see, I have brought this rich Man on the Stage, his Doom is now at Hand, and Death, God's Messenger, summons him to appear by requiring of his Soul; but of whom is it required? had he any Sureties to put in? or was any Bail sufficient to be taken for him? no, he must go himself, without all Help or Remedy, it was he that finned, and it he must pay for it; Of thee it is required.

How? Of thee? Sure Death militakes; we can find Thousands more fit, None more fearful; there stands a Saul, near him his Armour-bearer, behold a Judas; such will outface Death's Fury;
Fury; nay, rather than it fail in its Office, they will not much question to be their own Death's-men: But this Of thee, who art at League with Hell, in Love with Earth, at Peace with all, is most terribly fearful.

Stay Death! there stands a poor Lazarus at the Gates, like Job on his Dung-hill, his Eyes blind, his Ears deaf, his Feet lame, his Body struck with Boils, and his soul choosing rather to be strangled and die, than to be in his bones, Job 7. 15. Were not this a fit Object for Death's Cruelty? Would he spare the Rich, he should be welcome to the Poor: But Death is inexorable, he must not live, nor shall the Beggar beg his own Death for another: Of thee it is required.

But Death, yet stay thy Hand, here's a better surety; what needs Death a Pref, when he may have Volunteers? There stands an old Man as ready for the Grave, as the Grave for him; his Face is surrowed, his Hairs hoary, his Back bowing, his Hammes bending, and therefore no Song is fitter than old Simeons, Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in Peace, Luke 2. 29. Youth is laath, but Age is weary to depart from Misery; let Death then take him that stands nearest Death's Door: No, the Old must die, but the Young may; be must die soon, yet be sure thou shalt not live long, Of thee it is required.

Cannot this serve? Let Death yet stay his Hand, there stands a servant waiting at this rich Man's Beck, as if he would spend his own Life to save his Master's, he can make a Pageant of Cringes, act a whole speech of Flatteries, every Part owes him service, Feet to run, Hands to work, Head to crouch, and as the Eyes of a Maiden unto the Hand of her Mistress, so the Eyes of his servants look unto the Hands of their Master: But where be these Attendants when Death comes? Was ever any Master better than Christ? Were ever any servants truer than his Apostles? Yet see their Fidelity: Must their Saviour die? One betrays him, another forswears him, all run from him, and leave him alone in the Midst of all his Enemies. What then is the Trust of servants? The rich Man may command, and go without, it Death should require them, they would not; or if they should desire Death, he will not; his Arrest concerns not the servants, it is for the Master himself, he that commands others, now Death commands him: Of thee it is required.

Will not all do? Let Death but stay this once: There stands a Friend, that will lose his own, to save his Life: Greater love than this hath no man (faith our Saviour, John 15. 13.) when any man be slovenly his life for his friends. Riches may perhaps procure such Love, and get some Friend to answer Death's Quarrel which he owes this Man: Jonathan loves David, David Absalom; and sure it was a Love indeed, when Jonathan prefers the Life of David, and David wished a Death to himself in the stead of Absalom, 2 Sam. 18. 33. O my son Absalom, would God I had died for thee; O Absalom, my son, my son: But where be any Friends fo respective of this Worldling? He wants a Jonathan, a David; upon a strict Enquiry we find no Friend, no Father, no son, neither Heirs nor Assigns to whom he may bellow his Lands. But what if he had Friends as near to himself as himself? No Man can die for another; or, as the Psalmist, No man may deliver his Brother, nor make agreement unto God for him: for it cost more to redeem their souls, so that he must let that alone for ever, Psalm 49. 7, 8. Should the poor Man beg, the old Man pray, his servants kneel, his Friends lie at Death's Feet, and all these offer up all their Lives Lives for this rich Man's Recovery, all were but vain; it is thy Soul is arrested, and it is thy self that must yield it: Of thee it is required.

You see there is no Way but one with him: To conclude then, we'll bid him his Farewel, this is the last Office we can do this rich Man, and so we'll leave him.

The Hour is come, and the Dawn- ing of that dreadful Day appeareth; now he begins to wish that he had some space, some Piece of Time to repent him; and if he might obtain it, O what would he do? or what would he not do? Relieve the weak, visit the sick, feed the Hungry, lodge the Stranger, clothe the Naked, give half his Goods to the Poor, and if he had done any wrong, restore it him again seven-fold: But alas! all is too late, the Candle that but follows him, cannot light him to Heaven; a sudden Death denies his suit, and the increasing of his fickness will give him no Leasure to fulfill those Duties: What cold sweats are those that seize upon him? his fentes fail, his speech talters, his Eyes fink, his Breast swells, his Feet die, his Heart faints, such are the outward Pangs: What then are the inward Griefs? if the Body thus suffers; what Cares and Conflicts afflic the soul? Had he the Riches of Cæsars, the Empires of Alexander, the Robes of Solomon, the Fare of that rich Man that lived deliciously every Day; what could they do in the Extremity of these Pangs. O rich Man, thou couldst tell us of pulling down Barns, and building greater; but now imagine the vast Cup of Heaven thy Barn, and that were large enough, and all the Riches of the World thy Grain, and that were Crop enough; yet all these cannot buy a Minute of Eafe, now that Death will have thy Body, Hell thy soul. O dark Dungeon of imprisoned Men! whose Help wilt thou crave? whose Aid wilt thou ask? what Release canst thou expect from such a Prison? The Disease is past Cure, the Fickness wants Remedy; alas! what may recover; now the Heart-strings break a-finder? Thy Date expires, thy last Breath goes, and now is thy soul and Body required of thee.

I have hitherto with Nathan beat sinful David on a Stranger's Coat. You must give me leave to take off the Mask, and shew you your own Faces in this Glass.

Use i. Believe thou, O Man, who readest this, that shortly there will be two Holes where thine Eyes now stand, and then others may take up thy skull, and speak of thee dead, as I have done to thee living: How soon I know no, this I am sure of, Thy Time is appointed, thy Months are determined, thy days are numbered, thy very last Hour is limited, Job 14. 5, 14. Psalm 90. 12. John 11. 9. And what follows, but that thy Body ly cold at the Root of the Rocks, at the Foot of the Mountains? Go then to the Graves of those that are gone before us, and there see; are not their Eyes wafted, their Mouths corrupted, their Bones scattered? where be those ruddy Lips, lovely Cheeks, sparkling Eyes, comely Nose, hairy Locks? are not all gone as a Dream in the Night, or as a Shadow in the Morning? Alas! that we neglect these Thoughts and set our Minds wholly upon the World and its Vanities! we are careful, fearful and immoderately painful to get tranitory Riches, like Children following Butter-flies; we run and toil, and perhaps miss our Purpose: But if we catch them, what is it but a Flie to a befmear our Hands? Riches are but empty, and yet be they what they will be, all at last will be nothing. Saladine that great Turk, after all his Conquests, gets his shirt fastened to his Spear in Manner of an Ensign.
frighted; suppose thy Feet beginning even to die, thy Knees to wax cold and stiff, thy Nostrils to run out, thine Eyes to sink into thy Head, and all the Parts of the Body to lose their Office to affist thee; upon this supposal, lift up thy Soul, and look about thee, ( O, I can tell thee, if thou livest and diest in sin ) there would be no where any Comfort, but a World of Terror and Perplexity: Look upwards, there shouldst thou see the terrible sword of God's Justice threatening, look downwards, there shouldst thou see the Grave in Expectation ready gaping; look within thee, there shouldst thou feel the Worm of Conscience bitter gnawing; look without thee, there shouldst thou see good and evil Angels on both sides, waiting whether of them should have the Prey. Now alas! then wouldst thou say, The Soul to depart from the Body were a Thing intolerable, to continue still therein were a Thing impossible, and to defer this Departure any longer, supposing this Hour were thy last Hour, no Physick could prevail, it were a Thing unavoidable: What then would thy poor soul do, thus invironed with so many affairs? O fond Fools of Adam's seed, that neglect the Time till this terrible Passage! How much wouldst thou give, if thus it were, for an Hour's Repentance? At what Rate wouldst thou value a Day's Contrition? Worlds are worthles in respect of a little Respite, a short Truce will seem more precious than the Treasures of Empires, nothing would then be so much esteemed as a Trice of Time, which before by Months and Years thou lavishly mispent. Think on thy fins, nay, thou couldst not chuse but think, Satan would write them on the Curtains of thy Bed, and thy agased Eyes would be forced to look upon them, there wouldst thou see Thouands committed, not one confessed, or thoroughly repented, then too late thou wouldst be

Beloved Christian! whosoever thou art, say a while, I pray thee, and practice this Meditation: Suppose thou now feltst the Cramp of Death wrestling thy Heart-strings, and ready to make that ruful Divorce betwixt thy Body and thy Soul; suppose thou liest now panting for Breath, swinling in a cold fatal sweat; suppose thy Words were fled, thy Tongue struck dumb, thy Soul amazed, thy Senses gin to wish,

O had I led a better Life,
and were it to begin again,

O how then would I fast and pray, how repent, how live!

Certainly, certainly, if thou goest on in Sin, thus would be thy Departure, thy Carcase lying cold among the stones of the Pit, and thy soul, by the Weight of Sin, irrecoverably sinking into the Bottom of that bottomless, burning Lake.

Use 2. But to prevent this Evil, take this Use of Advice for thy Farewel: Whilst yet thy Life lasteth, whilst yet the Lord gives thee a gracious Day of Visitation, ply, ply all those blessed Means of Salvation, as Prayer, and Conference, and Meditation, and Sermons, and Sacraments, and Fastings, and Watchings, and Patience, and Faith, and a good Conscience; in a Word, so live, that when this Day or Night of Death comes, thou mayst then stand firm and sure: As yet thou art in the Way of a transitory Life, as yet thou art not entred into the Confines of Eternity: If now therefore thou wilt walk in the Holy Path, if now thou wilt stand out against any Sin whatsoever, if now thou wilt take on thee the Yoke of our Saviour Christ, if now thou wilt associate thy self to that Sect and Brotherhood that is every where spoken against; if now thou wilt direct thy Words to the glorying of God, and to give Grace unto the Hearers; if now thou wilt delight in the Word, the Ways, the Saints, the Services of God; if now thou wilt never turn again unto Folly, or to thy Trade of Sin, the Satan set upon thee with his Baits and Allurements to detain thee in his Bondage, but by one darling Delight, one Minion-Sin; then I dare assure thee, dear, right dear will be thy death in the sight of the Lord, Psal. 125. 15. With Joy and Triumph wouldst thou pass through all the terrors of Death, with singing and rejoicing would thy soul be received into those sacred Mansions above. O happy soul, if this be thy Cafe! O happy Night or Day, whenever the News comes, that then must thy Soul be taken from thee!

You may think it now high Time, that we bid this Farewel-assembly farewell. Then for Conclusion, let every Word be thy Warning. Left this be thy Time, provide for this and every Time; left the night be dreadful, Do not sleep, as do others, but watch and be sober, 1 Thess. 5. 6. Left thy soul should suffer, desire the Sufferings of thy God to satisfy; Left Death require it of thee by Force, offer it up to God with a cheerful Devotion; and left this of thee be fearful, who haft lived in Sin, correct these Courses, amend thy Ways, and the Blessing of God be with thee all thy Life, at the Hour of Death, now, henceforth, and for ever. Amen.
DOOMS-DAY.

MATTH. xvi. 27. Then shall he reward every Man according to his Works.

The Dependance of this Text is limited in few Lines, and that your Eyes wander no further than this Verse, therein is kept a general Affize: the Judge, Officers, Prisoners stand in array; the Judge is God, and the Son of Man; the Officers, Angels, and they are his Angels; the Prisoners, Men, and because of the Goal-delivery, every man. If you will have all together, you have a Judge, his Circuit, his Habit, his Attendants, his Judgments: A Judge, the Son of Man; his Circuit, he shall come; his Habit, in the glory of his Father; his Attendants, with his Angels: What now remains, but the Execution of Justice? Then without more ado, see the Text, and you see all; the Scales in his Hand, our Works in the Scales, the Reward for our Works,* of just Weight each to other; Then shall he reward every man according to his works.

The Text gives us the Proceeding of Dooms-day, which is the last Day, the last Sessions, the last Affize, that must be kept on Earth, or is decreed in Heaven; if you expect Sheriffs or Judges, Plantiffs or Prisoners, all are in this Verse, some in each Word. Then is Time's Trumpet that proclaims their Coming. He is the Judge that examines all our Lives: Reward is the Doom, that proceeds from him in his Throne. Man is the Malefactor, every Man stands before him as a Prisoner. Works are the Indictments, and according to our Works must go the Trial howsoever we have done, Good or Evil.

Give me yet leave, this Judge sits on Trials as well as Prisoners; it is an high Court of Appeal, where Plantiffs, Counsellours, Judges, all must appear and answer. Would you learn the Proceedings? There is the Term, Then; the Judge, He; the Sentence, shall reward; the Parties, every Man; the Trial itself, which you may find

* I mean not an Arithmetical, but a Geometrical Weight; Rewards, especially of Heaven, are not equal according to Justice, but proportionable according to Promise.
in all to be just and legal, every man his reward according to his works.

We have opened the Text, and now you shall have the Hearing.

Then.]

Then? When? the Negative. Answer is {Positive.

First, Negative, Then; not on a sudden, or, at least, not at this Present. This Life is no Time to receive Rewards, the Rain and Sun pleasure both the Good and Bad; nay, oftentimes the Bad fares best, and God's own Children are most forcibly fined in the Furnace of Affliction; The earth is given into the hands of the wicked, faith Job, Chap. 9. 24. but, If any man will follow me, he must take up his cross, faith our Saviour, Mat. 16. 24. Joy and Pleasure, and Happines attend the Ungodly, while God's poor Servants run thow the Thicket of Briars and Brambles to the Kingdom of Heaven: But, Shall not the Judge of all the world do right? Gen. 28. 25. A Time shall come when both these must have their Change: Mark the upright, and behold the just, for the end of that man is peace; but the transgressors shall be destroyed together, and the end of the wicked shall be cut off, Psalm 37. 37, 38. The Effect of Things is best known to us in some Issue of Time, and then shall we have our Rewards, when the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father. Let this admonish us to have Patience in all our Expectations: What is it to suffer a while, an Inch of Time, considering the Reward is great indeed, everlasting in Durance? Rest in the Lord, faith David, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself for him which prospereth in his way, Psalm 37. 10, 11. And will you know the Reason? For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be; but the meek shall inherit the earth, and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace, Psalm 37. 10, 11. So they shall indeed, if only they will expect a little Time; not now, but Then; stay yet a little while, and be sure anon the Reward shall be given.

2. But to answer positively, this Then is no other than Dooms-day, and when that shall be, will be known best by, § Conjectures.

§ Signs.

We will begin with the former.

1. Some would have it in the Year 6000, from the Beginning of the World: This was the Sentence of Elias, say the Jews, whose Prophecy thus runs, Two thousand Years before the Law, Two thousand Years under the Law, and Two thousand Years under the Gospel: How untrue this sounds, any one may guess that considers; In the first Number he fails, because it was too little; in the second Number he errs, because it was too much; and if Elias say amils for the Time now past, how should we believe him for that yet to come? Others, besides Testimony, produce Reason, That as God was creating the World six Days, so he must be a governing it six thousand Years; here's a seeming Proportion, but upon what Reason? Every Day, say they, must be a thousand Years with Man, because a thousand years are but one day with God, Psalm 90. 4. It were too frivolous a Pains to repeat any more, or to answer these: Is not this Sacrilege, to break into God's Place, and pry into his Sanctuary? Why should we presume to know more than God would have us? Look at the Apostles, were they not God's Secretaries? Look at the Angels, are they not God's Heralds? Look at Christ himself, is he not the Son of God? and yet, as he is the Son of Man, he speaks of all,
Of that day and hour known to no man,
no angel, neither the Son, but the Father only, Mark 13. 32. * It is not for us to seek, where the Lord hath not a Tongue to speak. Why should we know more than other Men, than all Men, than Angels, than Christ himself, who (as Man) was either ignorant of it, or, at least, had no Commination to reveal it. It is not for you to know the times and seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power, Acts 1. 7. It is a better Ule which our Saviour makes, Take heed, watch, and pray; for ye know not when the time is, Mark 13. 33. As a thief in the night, 1 Thess. 5. 2. so is Dooms-day, it comes suddenly, it will come shortly: Would you needs know when? Why then you leaft iagine such a Matter, then when worldly Honours profit nothing, then when Kindred and Acquaintance fail, then when the World shall be set on fire, then, then he shall reward every man according to his works.

But, 2. If Conjectures fail, the Signs are certain: † Jerom reports of fifteen Miracles for fifteen Days, which he writes to have found in the Hebrew's Annals, and immediately must precede the Judge's Coming. The first Day, faith he, the Sea shall swell, and lift up her Waves, at leaft, fifteen Cubits above the Height of the highest Hills. The second Day, unlike to the former, the Sea shall ebb again, and the Waves be fallen till they scarce be seen. The third Day the Sea must return to its ancient Course, and so abide that Day as it was before.
The fourth Day, Sea-monsters shall ap-ppear above the Sea, whose bellowing Rores shall fill the Air with Cries, which God alone understands, and Men shall tremble at. The fifth Day, all the Fowls of the Air shall flock together, and meeting in the Fields, shall there chatter, and flarve for Fear of the approaching Times. The sixth Day, Floods of Fire shall rise up against the Firmament, which kindling at the falling Sun, shall run like a Lightning to the rising Morn.
The seventh Day all Stars and Planets shall shoot out fiery Comets. The eighth Day, there shall be a general Earthquake, and the Motion so violent, that the Ground shall hop, and the Living-creatures not stand on their Feet that walk on the tottering Floors. The ninth Day, Trees shall sweat Blood. The tenth Day, all the Stones of the Earth shall war together, and with a thundering Noise break one upon another. The eleventh Day, all Buildings shall be ruined, and all the Hills and Mountains melt into Dust and Powder. The twelfth Day, all Beasts of the Field shall come from their Woods and Dens, and so abatining from their Food, shall roar and bellow up and down the Plains. The thirteenth Day, all Graves shall be open, from the rising up of the Sun unto the going down of the same. The fourteenth Day, all Men shall come abroad, and such a Di draction seize on their heavy Hearts, that they shall lose the Speech and Volubility of their Tongues. And the fifteenth ( which is the last Day ) the living Men shall die, and the Dead shall live again, all abo-ove Earth be changed, and those † Tolle, Thum. Aquin. Supplem. ad 3 Part. 9. 7; et al. C. 1.

in their Graves be raised and recovered.

I will not say these Things are certain (I leave you to the Author that recites them) but, if any whit true, why, blest Lord! what a Day of Appearance shall this be? I know not, faith one, what others may think of it, but * for myself, it makes me tremble to consider it: It is a Day of anger and wrath, a day of trouble and heaviness, a day of obscurity and darkness, a day of clouds and blackness, a day of the trumpet and alarm against the strong cities, and against the high towers, Zep. 1. 15. I will but run through the Signs, as we find them in God’s Writ, and then see if your Hearts will fail for fear.

Then shall the sun be darkned, Matth. 24. 29. Can Nature Sland and suffer a general Eclipse? When God died the Sun could discolour its Beauty, and suit itself in Black to its Maker’s Condition; and now Man dies, the Sun is clad again in Mourning-robés. Alas! what can it do but mourn? God lives, but Mankind dies: Tho he was the Creator, yet we are the Creatures for whom it was created: † When the Householder dies, the Family grieves: Were all Eyes dry, here is the Eye of the World weeps itself blind to see this Dissolution: Is Man bereft of Compassion, for whom the Sun itself undergoes this Passion? Think on those Times, when Darkness that may be felt shall spread over all the Earth; how should Plants but wither? or, Beasts of the Field but waste? how should Men but die, when they stumble at Noon-day? Their Eyes shall fail them, the Light forfake them; miserable Men! the Sun shall not shine on them, because God will judge them. But this not all.

Then shall the moon not give her light, Matth. 24. 29. As the Day and Night are both alike with God, so the Day and Night shall be alike with Man; the Sun will not lend its Lustre, nor can the Moon borrow any more Light: But what strange War makes this Confusion of Nature? The Sun shall look back; and the Moon be turned into Blood, Joel 2. 31. Here is a new Moon, and such a Change as before was never seen: There is no Increafe, no Full, no Wane, but all the Light is at once extinguished: Unhappy Creatures that depend upon her Influence! how should they live, when the herself wades in Blood? God made these Lights for Signs, and for Season, for Days, and for Years: But now Signs are out, Seasons past, Days are done, Years abolished; The Angel hath sworn by him that liveth forever and ever, that time shall be no longer, Rev. 10. 6. Who will not believe that pays this sacred Oath? was it a Man? No, an Angel: Did he say it? No, he swore it: How? by himself? No, it was by him that lives for ever and ever: And what? that Time must be little? Nay, it must be no longer, Time shall be no more. How shall it be no more? The Sun is disfigured, the Moon disrobed, both eclipsed. But this is not all.

Then shall the Stars be shaken: The Powers of Heaven shall move, and the Lamps of Heaven shall tremble; these were God’s Threats against the Babylonians, Isai. 13. 10. For the Stars of heaven, and the planets thereof shall not give their light: Against the Egyptians,
Dooms-day,

Ezekiel 32. 7. I will cover the heaven, and make the stars dark over thee. Against all his Enemies. Joel 3. 15. The Sun and Moon shall be darkned, (but not they alone, nor) and the stars themselves shall withdraw their shining: But what speak we of Darkness, or the stars not shining? they shall not only dim, but down. In those days, saith our Saviour, Mark 13. 15. after that tribulation the Sun and Moon shall darken, and the stars of heaven shall fall: How thick? So thick (say Expositors * ) that the Firmament shall seem to be without all Manner of Light. I cannot say these Signs shall be real; whether it is by Subtraction of their Light, or the Conceit of Brain troubled Sinners, or the Fall of some inflamed Vapours, or the Apostasie of some enlightened Persons: For certain, to speak literally, there shall be some Change in the whole Order of Nature: Sun and Moon, Stars and Planets, all must lose their Lights, and by all Likelihood, it is the Glory of the Judge that will dazzle those Candles, Neither is this all.

Then shall the elements melt: The Fire shall fall down from Heaven, the Air turn itself into Vapours, the Sea swell above all Clouds, the Earth be full of yawning Cliffs, and violent Tremblings, 2 Peter 3. 18. A Fire shall first usher the Judge, and such a Fire as shall have the Property of all Fires: That Fire in its Sphere, this Fire on Earth, the fearful Fire which torments in Hell, all shall meet in one, and according to their several Qualities, produce their several Effects: * The Just shall be refined by one; the Wicked shall be tormented by another; the Earth be consumed by a third: There is no Creature but it must be Feul for this Fire; as the first World was destroyed with Water, to quench the Heat of their Luft; so must this be destroyed with Fire, to warm the Cold of our Charity. But not the Fire alone.

Then shall the Air breed Wonders: What shall be seen but Lightnings, Whirl-winds, Coruscations, Blazing-stars, Flashing-thunders? Here a Comet runs round in a Circuit, there a Crown compasseth that Comet; near them a fiery Dragon surnes in Flames, every where appears a shooting Fire, as if all above us were nothing but inflamed Air. Yet not the Air alone.

Then shall the Waters rise, Luke 21. 25. Rivers shall wax dry; the Sea troth and foam, and smue: Those that dwell near shall wonder at the swelling Tides; others afar off shall tremble at the roaring Noise: What Threats are those which the Surges murmur? War is proclaimed by Noise, let on by Blasts, continued by Storms, the Floods and Tides shall run over all the Plains, the Sea and Waves shall mount up to the very Skies; now would they war with Heaven, then overwhelm the Earth, anon will they sink to Hell; and thus shall they rove and rage, as if they would threat all the World with a second Inundation. Nay yet again.

Then shall the earth be shaken in divers places (saith Matthew, Chap. 24. 7. ) in all places, (saith Joel, Chap. 1. 10. ) for all the earth shall tremble before him, Here is an Earth-quake indeed; not some Part of the Land, by Reason of some cloistered Wind, but the Rocks, Mountains, Castles, Cities; some Countries shall remove, others be ruined: Thus all the Earth shall be as a swallowing Gulf, that all Things here situated, may be then devoured? What can I more? Then shall Plants cease their Growth, Beasts want their Sense, Men lose their Reason: Were this but little, you may wonder more.
Dooms-day.

The Sybils could affirm, That Nature should both cease and change her Being; the Trees in stead of Growth should sweet out Blood, the Beasts should bellow up and down the Fields, then want their Sense. Men should have disfigured Faces, astonisht Hearts, affrighted Looks; then lose their Reason: Nay, what Marvel then, if at the World's End, they be at their Wits End? O fearful Signs, enough to move flinty Stones! If this be the Term, what is the Suit, the Bill, the Doom, the Execution? A Trump shall summon, Death will arrest, God must have Appearance, and Then is the Day: Then he shall reward every man according to his works. What a Chaos is here, when the World must be thus turned topsy turvy? The Sun, the Moon, the Stars; come yet a little lower, the Fire, the Air, the Sea, the Earth; nay, Trees, and Beasts, and Men, all must be out of Order in the whole Course of Nature.

Use 1. Who can read or hear this Prognostication of Dooms-day, and not wonder at the Signs which shall hang over our Heads? We see by Experiences when any outrageous Storm happens on Sea, or Land, how wonderfully men are disquieted, how strangely astonisht: Now then, when the Heavens, the Earth, the Sea, the Air shall be wholly disdizempered and disorder'd; when the Sun shall threaten with mourning, the Moon with Blood, the Stars with their Falling; yea, when all the Heavens shall shrink and pass away as a paper Scroll, who then dares eat, or drink, or sleep, or take a minute's Rest? Be sure these Days shall come, and the Signs shall pass: Awake ye drunkards, and weep, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine; for it shall be pulled from your mouths. Gird yourselves, and lament ye Priests, bow to Ministers of the Altar: Alas! for the day, for the day of the Lord is at hand, and as destruction from the Almighty shall it come, Joel 1.5. & 13.15. What are ye insensible of these Signs? The imprisoned Thief fears at the News of the Altar: And is the Sinner so impudent that he fears nothing? The Day shall come when the men of Earth shall fear, and be full of Fear; every Sign shall breed a Wonder, and every Sight shall breed a wondrous Terror, men shall hide themselves in the Caves of Beasts, and the Beasts seek to save themselves in the Houtes of men: Where then shall the Wicked stand when all the World shall be thus in Uprore?

Use 2. Yet a Word for us all, we have all Warning, and we had best to provide; yet the Weather is fair; we may frame an Ark to save us from the Flood; yet are the Angels at the Gates of Sodom; yet is Jonas in the Streets of Nineveh, yet the Prophet woeest, O Judah, how shall I intreat thee? Hosea 6. 4. yet the Apostle prays, nay, We pray you in Christ's stead, that ye will be reconciled unto God, 2 Cor. 5. 20. To conclude, yet the Bridegroom stays the Virgin's Leasure; Lord that they would make speed, seeing the Joys of Heaven tarry for them. This Term is at Hand, and is it not Time to petition the Judge of Heaven? What a dangerous course is it never... never to call to mind that Time of Times, until we see the Earth flaming, the Heavens melting, the Judgment hastening, the Judge with all his Angels coming in the Clouds, to denounced the last Doom upon all Flesh, which shall be unto some Wo, Wo, when they shall call to the Mountains to cover them, and for shame of their sins hide themselves (if it were possible) in Hell-fire: If we have any Fear, this should move Fear; if we have any Care, this should move us all to be careful indeed. We have not two Souls that we may hazard one, neither have we two Lives that we may trust to another, but as thy last Day leaves thee, so will this Dooms-day find thee. Who would not but accept of the Fatherly Fore-warning of Christ our Saviour? See you not now many signs, as the Heralds and Fore-runners of his glorious Coming? The abounding of iniquity, the waxing cold of charity, the rising of nation against nation, Matth. 24. 7. 12. Was there ever less Love? was there ever more Hatred? Where is that Jonathan that loves David as his own Soul? nay, where is not that Joab, that can embrace freely, but carries a malicious Heart toward Abner? sure we are near the End indeed, when Charity is grown thus cold. You then that would have the Comfort of the Day, take these Signs for Warnings, provide for him who hath thus long waited for you; and seeing you look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless, 2 Pet. 3. 14. Who would endanger their souls for a little sin? Bushy Clients heed nothing but their Guile, and if you would recover Heaven, be sure that ye mark this Term.

The Time draws on, now the Writers are out, anon comes the Judge, and then is the Day. Then shall reward every man according to his work.

You see the Term, and now you may expect to view the Judge: The Term is Then, the Judge is He. Stay a while, and the next Time, you shall see him in his Judgment-seat.

He.]

E? Who? If you look at the foregoing Words, you may see who he is: The Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father, and it is he that shall reward us according to our works. This Title of the * Son of man, denotes unto us the Humility of the Son of God; what is the Son of Man, but Man? and this tells us how humble he was for us, that being God was made Man, or the Son of Man, which is as all one, according to that, Psalm 8. 4. What is man that thou art mindful of him, or the son of man that thou visitest him?

It is true, God is the Judge of all, Heb. 12. 23. and yet it is as true, this God is Man, Acts 17. 31. God (faith Paul) will judge the world, but it is by that Man whom he hath ordained. God hath the Power, but God as Man hath only the Commission. He (who is God) hath given him Authority to execute Judgment, and would you know the Reason? it is only because he is the Son of man, John 5. 27. In a Word, God shall judge, the whole Trinity by Prescription, Christ only in Execution: The Father judgeth, but by the Son; or, as the Evangelist John, The Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment to the Son, John 5. 22.

* Hoc factit ut ad inanimam fo rtem hominum abjiciat, Muscules in Matth. cap. 58.
Dooms-day,

But because, as Man, there appears in him a double Form, as humbled, as glorified; we'll discuss these Questions which resolve all Doubts.

1. Whether Christ shall appear unto us, when he shall not appear as Man?

2. Whether Man... us?

To the first, we say, That only as Man he will appear our Judge, who as Man appeared when himself was judged; what better Reason to express the Benefit of our Redemption, than so to judge us as he did redeem us? Was he not Man that suffered, died, and was buried? and is he not Man that one Day shall come to judge both the Quick and the Dead? * He that came obscurely to be judged by the Unjust, shall then appear openly to judge all the Just: The same Man, who is God and Man, shall be our Judge in his human Nature, by his divine Power. Thus we say, God, who is the Ancient of Days, hath the Power original; but Man, who is the Son of God, hath the Power traduced; and therefore, faith Daniel, One like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him, and there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, Dan. 7. 13, 14.

Use. Consider this, ye that are going to the Bar: What a Sight will this be to the faithless Jews, stubborn Gentiles, wicked Chriftians, when every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him, Rev. 1. 7. This is the Man (shall they say) that was crucified for us, and again crucified by us: Why, alas! every Sin is a Cross, every Oath is a Spear, and when that Day is come you must behold the Man whom thus you do crucify by your daily sins. Sure this will be a fearful thing! Where is the bloody Sinner that can tear his Wounds, and Heart, and Blood, and all? at this Day of Doom? those Wounds shall appear, that Heart be visible, that Body and Blood be seen both of good and bad, and then shall that fearful Voice proceed from his Throne, This was the Heart thou piercedst; these are the Wounds thou razedst, and this is the Blood thou spilledst: Here is the fearful Judgment, when thou that art the Murtherer shall see the slim Man fit thy Judge; what Favour canst thou expect at his Hands whom thou hast so vilely abused by thy daily sins? Be sure, the Son of man will come, as it is written of him, but wo unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed, it had been good for that man if he had not been born, Matt. 26. 24.

To the second Question we answer, That as Christ shall appear in the Form of Man, so this Man shall appear in a glorious Form: He that is a Mediator between God and Man, must both intercede for Man to God, and communicate those Things which are of God to Man: To this Purpose, both these Offices are agreeable to him, in that he participates of both Extremes; he is Man to abide the Judgments due from God; he is God to convey all his Benefits unto Man: As then, in his first Coming, he pleased God by...
Dooms-day.

taking the Infirmities of Man upon him; so in his second Coming will he judge us Men, by appearing in that Glory which he derives from God. But look about you, who is this Judge arrayed in such a Majesty? A fire devours before him, and behind him a flame burns up, on every side the people tremble, and all faces shall gather blackness, Eccl. 2. 3, 6. Here is a Change indeed, he that was in a Cratch, now sits on a Throne; then Christ stood like a Lamb before Pilate, now Pilate stands like a Malefactor before Christ; he that was once made the Foot-stool of his Enemies, must now judge till be hath made all his enemies his footstool, Psalm 110. 1. Where shall they run? and how shall they seek the Clefts of the Rocks, and hollow Places? The Glory of his Majesty kindles a Flame, while the heaven and earth shall fly from the presence of this Judge. O ye heavens, why do ye flee away? what have ye done? why are ye afraid? Rev. 21. 17. It is the Majesty of the Judge that will amaze the Innocent, the Greatness of whose Indignation, will be able to strike all the Heavens with Terror and Admiration: When the Sea is outrageous and tempestuous, he that stands on the shore will be struck into a kind of Fear; or, when the Father goes like a Lion about his House, in punishing his Bond slave, the innocent Son stands in great Fear and Trouble; and how then shall the Wicked tremble, when the very Heavens shall be afraid? * If the goodly Cedars of Lebanon be shaken, what shall become of the tender Twigs of the Desert? if the sturdy Rams stope and tremble, how will the bleating Lambs cry, and run away? And, if the just and righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and sinner appear? 1 Pet. 4. 18. The Mountains and Heavens shall melt before the Lord; and what stony Hearts have we, that for all this are nothing at all yet moved?

But, may be, I prevent your Expectation, if here be a Judge, where is the Guard? Behold him coming from above with great Power and Glory: Would you know his Habit? He is clothed with Majesty: Seek you the Colour? 'Tis the Brightness of his Father: Would you view his Attendants? They are an Host of Angels: Look you for the Guard? They are a Troop of shining Cherubims; nay, yet see a longer Train, a further Company, the Souls of Saints descend from their imperial Seats, and attend the Lamb with great Glory, and glorious Majesty: Never was any Judge Lord of such a Circuit; his Footstool are the Clouds, his Seat the Rain-bow, his Justices Saints, his Officers Angels, and the Arch-angel’s Trump proclaims a Silence, whilst a just Sentence comes from his Mouth on all the World. Thus are the Affairs begun to be solemnized; The thrones, as Daniel saw in his Vision, were set up, and the Ancient of days sate down, his garments white as snow, and the hair of his Head like pure wool, his throne like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire, Dan. 7. 9. This is the Judge, whose Coming is so fearful, ushered by a fiery Flood, apparelled in snowy White, carried in his Circuit on burning Wheels, and attended with the Number of Thouand thoufands. O ye Jews, behold the Man whom before ye crucified like a Malefactor, behold him in his Throne, whom you said, his Disciples had stolen by Night out of Behold him in his Majesty, whom you would not deign to look upon in his Humility; the bafer you esteemed his Weakness, the heavier must you find and feel his Mightiness. The Son of Man appears, and the Kindreds of the Earth must mourn; such a shout of Fury follows the flight of his Majesty, that the Vaults shall echo, the Hills refound, the Earth shake, the Heavens change their situation, and all be turned to a Confusion; then shall the Wicked weep and wail, and yet their Tears not serve their turn, their sins past betray them, their shame present condemns them, and their Torment to come confounds them; thus shall they bewail their miserable Hap, their unfortunate Birth, and their cursed End: O fearful Judge, terrible as an army with Banners, Cant. 6. 4, 5. turn away thine eyes from us, which o-vercome the proudest Potentates: the Kings of the Earth shall be astonished, and the Nations of the Isles shall fear from far: Every Eye shall see him whom they have pierced, and tremble at the Presence of his Sight. Conceive the guilty Prisoner coming to his Trial, will not the red Robes of his Judge make his Heart bleed for his Blood-sed? doth not that scarlet Cloth present a monstrous Hue before his Eyes? O then! what sight is this, when the Man slain, sits in the Judgment Seat, the rose Wounds of our Saviour still bleeding, as it were, in the Prisoners Presence? These are the Wounds, not as Tokens of infirmity, but Victory, and these now shall appear, not as if he must suffer, but to shew us he hath suffer-ed *. See here an Object full of Glory, Splendor, Majesty, Excellency, and this is He, the Man, the Judge, the rewarmer of every man according to his works.

The Judge we have set in his Throne, and before we appear, let us praise our Repentance, that we answer the better.

Use 1. Think but, O Sinner, what shall be thy Reward, when thou shalt meet this Judge; The Adulterer for a while may flatter Beauty, the Swearer grace his Words with Oaths, the Drunkard kifs his Cups, and drink his Bodies Health, till he bring his Soul to Ruin: But remember for all these things God will bring thee to judgment, Eccl. 11. 9. Cold Comfort in the End: The Adulterer shall tatifshe his Luft, when he lies on a Bed of Fire, all hugged and embraced with thole flames; the Swearer shall have enough of Wounds and Blood, when Devils torture his Body, and rack his Soul in Hell; the Drunkard shall have plenty of his Cups, when scalding Lead shall be poured down his Throat, and his Breath draw flames of Fires in stead of Air; as is thy fin, so is the Nature of thy Punishment; the just Judge shall give just Measure, and the Balance of his Wrath pozie in a just Proportion.

Use 2. Yet I will not discomfort you who are the Judge's dearest Favourites: Now is the Day if you are God's Servants, that Satan shall be trod under your Feet, and you with your Lord and Master Christ, shall be carried into the Holiest of Holies. You may remember how all the Men of God in their greatest Anguish here below, have fetched Comfort by the Eye of Faith at this Mountain: Job rejoiced being cast on the Dung-hill, that his Redeemer lived, and that he should see him at the last day stand on the earth:

--Quin. supplem. q. 50. A. 2: ad secundum
Dooms-day.

John longed and cried, Come, Lord Jesus, come quickly; and had we the fame precious Faith, we have the same precious Promises: Why then are we not ravished at the Remembrance of these Things? Certainly there is an happy Faith, wheresoever it shall be found, that shall not be ashamed at that Day: Now therefore, little children, abide in him, that when he shall appear, we may have confidence, 1 John 2. 18. Confidence? what else? I will see you again (faith our Saviour Judge) and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you, John 16. 22. O blessed Mercy, that do triumphs against Judgment; our Hearts must joy, our Joys endure, and all this occasioned by the light of our Saviour; for He shall reward every man according to his works.

We have prepared the Judge for Sentence: He hath rid his Circuit in the Clouds, and made the Rain bow his Chair of State, for his Judgment seat; his Sheriffs are the Saints, that now rise from the Dust to meet their Judge, whom long they have expected: The Summons is sent out by a shout from Heaven; the Cry no sooner made, but the Graves sile open, and the dead arise: Stay a while till ready them; you have seen the Judge, and now we prepare the judged. He, is the Judge; every Man, the judged: and he shall reward every man according to his works.

Every Man.

The Persons to be judged, are a World of Men, all Men of the World, good and bad, elect and reprobates, but in a different Manner: To give you a full View of them, I must lead your Attention orderly thro' these Passages; there must be a Citation, Resurrection, Collection, Separation: follow me in these Paths, and you may see both the Men and their Difference, before they come to their Judgments.

1. There is a Summons, and every Man must hear it: it is performed by a shout from Heaven, and the Voice of the last Trump: the Clangor of this Trump could ever found in Jerom's Ears, Arise, ye dead, and come to Judgment *. The Clangor of this Trump will found in all Men's Ears, it will wake the dead out of their drouifie sleep, and change the living from their mortal state, make devils tremble, and the whole World shake with Terror: A terrible Voice, a trumpet shall sound that shall shake the world, rend the Rocks, break the mountains, dissolve the Bonds of Death, burst down the Gates of Hell, and unite all spirits to their own Bodies †. What say you to this Trump, that can make the whole Universe to tremble? no sooner shall it sound, but the earth shall shake, the mountains skip like rams, and the little hills like young sheep: It shall pierce the Waters, and fetch from the Bottom of the Sea the Dust of Adam's Seed; it shall tear the rocky Tombs of earthly Princes, and make their haughty Minds to stoop before the King of Heaven; it shall remove the Center, and tear the Bowels of the Earth, open the Graves of all the dead, and fetch their Souls from Heaven or Hell, to reunite them to their Bodies.

A dreadful Summons of the Wicked.

whom this sudden Noise will no less astonish than confound; the dark pitchy Walls of that infernal Pit of Hell, shall be shaken with the shout, when the dreadful Soul shall leave its Place of Terror, and once more re-enter into her flinking Carrion, to receive a greater Condemnation: What Terror will this be to the wicked Wretch: what woful Salutations will there be between that Body and Soul, which living together in the height of Iniquity, must now be reunited to enjoy the Fulness of their Misery? The Voice of Christ is powerful, The dead shall bear his Voice, and they shall come forth, they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life, and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of condemnation.

You hear the Summons, and the next is your Appearance; Death the Goaler brings all his Prisoners from the Grave, and they must stand and appear before the Judge of Heaven.

The Summons is given, and every Man must appear: Death must now give back all their Spoils, and restore again all that she hath took from the World. What a ghastly fight will this be, to see all the Sepulchres open, to see dead Men rise out of their Graves, and the scattered Dust to fly on the Wings of the Wind, till it meet together in once compacted Body? Ezekiel's dry Bones shall live: thus saith the Lord, I will lay fine dust upon you, and make flesh grow upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and you shall know that I am the Lord, Ezek. 37. 7. This Dust of ours shall be devoured of Worms, consumed by Serpents, which crawl and spring from the Marrow of our Bones: look in a dead Man's Grave, and see what you find; but Dust, and Worms, and Bones, and Skulls, putrefied flesh, an House full of Stench and Vermin: Behold then the Power of God Almighty, out of this Grave and Dust of the Earth; from these Chambers of Death and Darkness, shall arise the Bodies of the buried, the Graves will fly open, and the dead go out; not an Hair, not a Dust, not a Bone shall be denied, but whatsoever holds their Dust shall yield their Bodies: I saw the dead, faith John, small and great stand before God; and the sea gave up the dead which were in it, and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them, and they were judged every man according to their Works, Rev. 20. 12, 13. What a wonderful sight will this be, to see the Sea and Earth bring forth in all Parts such Variety of Bodies; to see so many sorts of People and Nations to come together? Huge Armies, innumerable, as the Caterpillars of Egypt, all shall arise, and every one appear before the Lord's Tribunal: Worms and Corruption cannot hinder the Resurrection: He that saith to Corruption, thou art my father, and to the worm, Thou art my sister and mother, said also, I know that my Redeemer liveth, and mine eyes shall behold him. O good God: how wonderful is thy Power! this flesh of ours shall turn to Dust, be eaten of Worms, consume to nothing; if there be any Reliques of our Ashes, the Wind may scatter them, the Beasts divide them, our Feet trample them, the Beasts digest them, the Vermin devour them; if nothing, yet Time will consume them. But for all this, God is as able to raise us from the Dust, as to create us of the Dust; not one Dust of this Clay shall perish, the scattered, divided, trampled, devoured, consumed, it shall be gathered, recovered, revived, refined, and raised; and as one Dust shall not be lost of one Man, so neither shall one Man be lost of all the World: this is that general Day that shall congregate all, they shall come from the four Winds and Corners of the World, to make an uni-

terial Appearance; all the Children of Adam shall then meet together, yea all the kindreds of the earth shall meet together and mourn; Assemble yourselves, and come, all ye heathen, to the valley of Jeho-baphat, for there will I sit to judge all the heathen, Joel 3. 11, 12.

The Summons are founded, the dead raised, and yet to give you a ful-ter View of the Parties, see how

God the Judge now sends his Mes- sengers, to fetch the living Bodies to his Court.

3. He shall send his angels, faith our Saviour, and they shall gather together his flock from the four winds, from one end of heaven to another, Mat. 24. 31.

True it is, all shall be gathered, yet with a Difference; some with a swifl

Pace fly to the Throne, where is the Hope of their Deliverance; others draw and pull back, while the Angels hale them to the Judgment-seat; the Righteous have nimble swift Bodies, that fly to the Judge, as a Bird to her Nest and young Ones; but the wicked have their Bodies black and heavy, they cannot fly, but flag in the Air, and the Angels do not bear, but drag them to the Judgment-seat; how can this chafe

but fear the wicked, when like Male-factors they are brought before the wrathful Judge? as they were born or buried, so must they rise again naked and miserable; what a shame is this?

and yet the more horrible, in that their Nakedness shall be covered with a filthy Blackness; needs must desperate

Fears seize on the Soul, when it is again united to her Body, transformed to such an ugly Form: is this the Body fed with Delights and Delicates? Is this the flesh pampered with Eafe and Lust? is this the Face masked from the Wind and Sun? are these the Hands decked with Rings and Diamonds?

how become these so swarthy horrible, which before were so fair and amiable? this is the Change of the Wicked, when through Sorrow and Confusion they shall cry to the Rocks, Cover our ra-kedness, and to the Hills, Hide our Ugliness; nay rather than appear, Let the infernal Furies tear and totter us into a thousand Pieces. Look your Beauties, Beloved, in this Glass: such is the End of this World's Glory, so vain the Pleasure of this Body. Now is the End of all things come, and what remains, but a Sea of Fears and Miseries rushing on them? before shall the Angels drag them, behind shall the black Crew follow them, within shall their Consciences torture them, and without shall hot flames of Fire fume, and fry, and furiously torment them; Fear within, and Fire without: but worse than all, a Judge above all, thither must they go, Angels usher them, Devils attend them, the Crier hath called them, the Angels Trump hath summoned them, and now they must appear.

We have brought all together, now we must part them asunder, the sheep shall be put on the right Hand, and the Goats on the left, as every Man hath been qualified.

Two Travellers go together, feed together, lie together, sleep together, out in the Morning their Ways part asunder: Thus the Sheep and Goats eat together, drink together, sleep together, rot together, but at this Day there shall be a Separation; Let them grow together, corn and tares, until the harvest, Mat. 13. 30. This World is the floor; fan while you will, there will be some Chaff; love Peace like Lambs, there will be some Goats to trouble; the sheep and Goats live both together in one Fold, the World; lie, both together in one cote, the grave: The World is a common Inn, which interains

Dooms-day,

intertains all manner of Passengers: the Rod-way to Death, is the King’s Highway free for all Travellers: after the Pas-slage of this weary Day, Death hath provided a large Bed to lay all in, the Grave:
all live together, and all lie together; all rest together, and all rot together: but when this Night is past, and the last Day is sprung, then is the woful Separation; some turn on the right, and those are the blessed; others on the left Hand, and those are the curfled. Here is the Beginning of Woes, when the wicked shall curse, and howl, like the Fiends of Hell, * O Lord, punish me here, faith one devoutly, rack me in pieces, cut me in shreds, burn me in fire, so that I may be there placed at thy right Hand: Blessed are they that have a Place amongst thofe elect Sheep; what now remains but their Doom, which is a Lot that must befall every Man? For he shall reward (not one, or some, but every one) every Man according to his Works.

The Summons are given, the Dead are raised, the Prisoners conducted to the Bar, and the Sheep and Goats severed afunder each from other.

Use 1. And now see the Parties thus summoned, raised, gathered, severed: Is not here a World of Men to be judged all in one Day? Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision, for the day of the Lord is near in the valley of decision, Joel 3. 14. Blessed God! what a multitude shall stand before thee? all Tongues, all Nations, all People of the Earth shall appear at once; all we shall then behold each Son of Adam, and Adam our Grand-father shall then see all his Posterity. Conider this, High and Low, Rich and Poor, one with another, God is no Acceptor of Perfons. Heark, O Beggar, Petitions are out of Date, and yet thou needeft not fear, thou shalt have Justice; this Day all Causes shall be heard, and thou, the poor one, must appear with others to receive thy Sentence. Heark, O Farmer, now are thy Lives and Leafe together finifhed; this Day is the new Harvest of thy Judge, who gathers his wheat into his garner, and burns up the chaff in fire unquenchable, Matth. 3. 12. No Bore, no Bribe, no Prayers, no Tears can avail thy Soul; but as thou haft done, so art thou sentenced at the first Apppearing. Heark, O Landlord, where is thy Purchase to thee and thy Heirs for ever? This Day makes an End of all, and happy were thy Soul, if thou hadft no better Land than a barren Rock, to cover and shelter thee from the Judge’s Presence. Heark, O Captain, vain now is the Hope of Man to be saved by the Multitude of an Host: hadft thou Command of all the Armies on Earth and Hell, yet couldft thou not refit the Armies of Heaven: See the Trump sounds, and the Alarm summons thee, thou muft appear. Heark, O Prince, what is the Crown and Scepter against Thunder? the Greatness of Man, when it comes to encounter with God, is Weakness and Vanity. Heark, all the World, From him that fitteth upon the glorious throne, unto him that is beneath in earth and abyss: From him that is cloathed in blue filk, and weareth a crown, even to him that is cloathed in fimple linen, Ecclus. 40. 3, 4. all must appear before him, the Beggar, Farmer, Landlord, Captain, King, and Prince, and every Man (when that day is come) shall receive his Reward according to his works.

Use 2. But, O here is the Mifery,
Every Man must appear, but every Man will not think on it: Would you know the sign of that Man which this Day shall be blessed? It is he, and only he that again and again thinks on this Day, that Jeremiah, meditates on this Summons, and Resurrection, and Collection, and Separation. Examine then yourselves by this Rule: Is your Mind often carried to these Objects? soar you on high with the Wings of Faith, and a Sound Eye to this Hill? Why then, you are right Birds, truly bred, and not of the Bastard brood? I pray you mark it, every Crow, and Disgrace, and Slander, and Discountenance, Love of Goods, Disease of Body, or whatsoever Calamity, if you are the Children of God, and destined to fit at the right Hand of our Saviour, they will ever and anon be carrying your Minds to those Objects of Doomsday. And if you can but say, that experimentally you find this true in yourselves; if ordinarily in your Miseries, or other Times, you think on this Time of Refreshing, then be of good Comfort, for you are of the Bride's Company, and shall enter into the Marriage Chamber to abide there for ever. But if you are destitute of these Kind of Motions, O then strive for these Properties that are the inseparable Breathings and Movings of an holy Heart, found Mind and blessed Person; every Day meditate that every Man shall appear one Day, and receive his Reward according to his Works.

You see how we have followed the Cause, and well near brought it to final Sentence; the Term is dissolved, the Judge revealed, the Prisoners prepared, and the next Time we shall bring them to the Bar, to receive their Rewards. This Time depart in Peace, and the God of Peace keep your Souls spotless without Sin, that you may be well prepared for the Day of Judgment.

According to his Works.

We have brought the Prisoners to their Trial, and now to go on, how should this Trial be? I answer: Not by Faith, but Works; by Faith we are justified, by Works we are judged: Faith only causeth, but Works only manifest that we are just indeed. Here then is the Trial, that every soul of Man must undergo that Day. Works are the Matter that must be first enquired of; and is there any wicked Man to receive his sentence? let him never hope to be saved by another supererogating; the Matter of enquiring is not aliena, but sua; not another's, but his works. Or is there any good Man on whom the smiling Judge is ready to pronounce a blessed Doom? Let him never boast of meriting Heaven by his just deservings; see the Reward given, not propter, but secundum, (as Gregory tells us) not for his Works, as if they were the Cause, but according to his Works, as being the best Witness of his inward Righteousness.

But the better to acquaint you with this Trial, there be two Points, of which especially we are to make Enquiry.

1. How all Men's Works shall be manifest to us?

2. How all Men's Works shall be examined by God?

1. Of the Manifestation of every Man's Work. John speaketh, And I saw the dead small and great stand before

* Gr. 1. Io illa verba, 7 Psalm penit. Auditem fac mihi mane miserecordiam.
Dooms-day.

God, and the books were opened, and another book was opened, which is the book of life, and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books according to their works. Rev. 20. 12. God is said to have Books, not properly, but figuratively; all Things are as certain and manifest to him, as if he had Registers in Heaven to keep Records of them. Remember this, O forgetful! you may commit, add, multiply your sins, and yet run on score till they are grown so many, that they are out of Memory; but God keeps them in a Register, and not one shall be forgotten; there is a Book and Books, and when all the Dead shall stand before God to receive their sentence, then must these Books be opened.

That is, the Book of \{ God's Memory.

Man's Conscience.
Eternal Life. \}

There is a Book of God's Memory, and herein are all the Acts and Monuments of all men whatsoever enrolled and registred; A book of remembrance was written before God, for them that feared the Lord, and thought upon his name, Malach. 3. 16. This is that which manifests all secrets, whether mental or actual; this is that which reveals all Doings, whether good or evil. In these Records are found at large Abel's Sacrifice, Cain's Murther, Abrahams Rebellion, David's Devotion, the Jews Cruelty, the Prophets Innocency, good Men's Intentions, and the Sinners Actions; nothing shall be hid when this Book is opened, for all may run and read it, stand and hear it. How fond are we that imagine Heaven's Eye (such is this Book) to be shut upon us? Do we not see many run to Corners to commit their sins? there can they say, Let us take our fill of love until the morning, for darkness hath covered us, and who seeth us? who knoweth us, Prov. 7. 18. Is. 29. 15. But are not the Angels of God about you? We are a spectacle to the angels, faith the Apostle, 1 Cor. 4. 9. I am sure we must be to both, to Angels, and to Men, and to all the World: O do not that before the Angels of God, yea before the God of Angels, which you would shame to do in the Sight and Presence of an earthly Man! Alas! must our Thoughts be known, and shall not dark corner-sins be revealed? must every Word and Syllable we speak be written and recorded in God's memorable Book, and must not ill Deeds, ill De-meanours, ill Works of Darkness be disclosed at that Day? Yes, God will bring every work unto judgment, with every secret thing, be it good or evil, Ecl. 12. 14. Wait, ye Wicked, and tremble in Astonishment. Now your Closet-fins must be disclosed, your private Faults laid open, God keeps the Account-book of every sin, every Transgression: Imprimis, for Adultery; Item, for Envy, Blasphemy, Oaths, Drunkenness, Violence, Murder, and every Sin, from the Beginning to this Time, from our Birth to our Burial, the total Sum, Eternal Death and Damnation: This is the Note of Accounts, wherein are all thy Offences written, the Debt is Death, the Pay Perdition, which Fury pays over to Destruction.

But there is another Book, that shall give a more full, I cannot say, but a more fearful Evidence than the former, which is, The Book of every Man's Conscience: Some call it the Book of Testimony, which every Man still bears about him, There is within us a Book and secretary, the Book is Conscience, and the Secretary is our Soul; whatsoever we do is known to the Soul, and writ in our Book of Conscience: There is no Man can so much as commit one sin, but his soul, that is privy to the Fact, will write it in this Book. In what a woful Case will thy Heart then be? in what strange Terror and Trembling must it stand possesse, when this must be opened, and thy sins revealed? * It is now perhaps a Book shut up and sealed, but in the Day of Judgment shall be opened; and if once opened, what shall be the Evidence that it will bring forth? There is a private Sessions to be held in the Breast of every condemned Sinner; the Memory is Recorder, Grief an Accuser, Truth is the Law, Damnation the Judgment, Hell the Prison, Devils the Jaylors, and Conscience both Witnesses and Judge to pafs Sentence on thee. What hopes he at the general Affize, whose Conscience hath condemned him before he appear? Lock well to thy Life, thou bearest about thee a Book of Testimony, which tho for a Time it be shut till it be full Fraught with Accusations, yet then, at the Day of Doom, it must be opened, when thou shalt read, and weep and read every Period, stop with a sigh, every Word be enough to break thy Heart, and every Syllable reveal some Secret, thy own Conscience upon the matter, being both Witnesses, Judge, Accuser and Condemner.

But yet there is another Book we read of, and that is the Book of Life. Herein are written all the Names of God's Elect, from the Beginning of the World till the End thereof: these are the golden Leaves; this is that precious Book of Heaven, wherein if we are registred, not all the Powers of Hell, or Death, or Devils shall blot us out again. Here is the Glory of each devout Soldier of our Saviour; how many have spent their Lives, spilt their Blood, run upon sudden Deaths to gain a perpetual Name? and yet for all their Doings, many of these are dead and gone, and their Memories perish'd with them; only Christ's Soldiers have immortal Fame; he, and only he is write in that Book that must never perish. Come hither ye ambitious! your Names may be write in Chronicles, yet lost; writ in durable Marble, yet perish; writ in a monument equal to a Colossus, yet be ignomious. O were you but write in this Book of Life, your Names should never die, never suffer any Ignominy! It is an Axiom most true, They that are written in the eternal Leaves of Heaven, shall never be wrapped in the cloudy sheets of Darkness. Here then is the Joy of Saints, at that Day of Doom this Book shall be opened, and all the Elect whom God hath ordained to Salvation, shall see it, read it, hear it, and greatly rejoice at it. The Disciples casting out Devils, return with Miracles in their Mouths; O Lord, say they, even devils are subject to us through thy name. True, faith Christ, I saw Satan as lightning fall from heaven; notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you, but rather rejoice because your names are written in heaven, Luke 10. 20.

And well may the Saints rejoice that have their Names written in God's Book, they shall see them, to their Comfort, writ in Letters of Gold, penned with the Almighty's Finger, ingraven with a Pen of a Diamond: thus will this Book give in the Evidence, and accordingly will the Judge proceed to Sentence.

Use 1. Consider (thou that readest) what Books one Day must be set before thee; a Time will come when every Thought of thy Heart, every Word of thy mouth, every Glance of thy Eye, every moment of thy Time, every Office thou hast born, every Company thou hast used, every Sermon thou hast heard, every Action thou hast done, and every Omision of any Duty or good Deed thou hast left undone, shall be seen in these Books at the first Opening of them; thy Conscience shall then be suddenly, clearly, and universally enlarged with extraordinary Light to look upon all thy Life at once; God's Memory shall then shine forth, and shew itself, when all Men looking on it as a Reflecting-glass, they shall behold all the Passages of their misspent Lives from their Births to their Burials. Where is the wicked and deceitful Man? wilt thou yet commit thy Villainies, Treacheries, Robberies, Murders, Debates, and Impieties? Let me tell thee, if so be ye to thy Heart's Grief, all thy secret Sins, and Closet-villainies, that no Eye ever lookt upon, but that which is a thousand Times brighter than the Sun, shall be disclosed and laid open before Angels, Men, and Devils, and thou shalt then and there be horribly, universally, and everlastingly ashamed: Never therefore go about to commit any sin, because it is Midnight, or that the Doors are lockt upon thee; suppose it be concealed, and ly hid in as great Darkness as it was committed, till Dooms-day again, yet then shall it out with a Witness, and be as legible in thy Fore-head as if it were writ with the brightest Stars, or the most glistering Sun-beam upon a Wall of Crystal.

Use 2. As you mean the Good of your Souls, amend your Lives, call yourselves to Account while it is called to Day, search and examine all your Thoughts, Words and Deeds, and prostrating yourselves before God, with broken and bleeding Affections, pray, and sue that your Names may be written in Heaven, in that Book of Life. This will be the Joy of your Hearts, the Peace of your Souls, the Rest of your Minds; yea, how glad will you then be to have * all these Books laid open? By this Means, I speake it to the Comfort of all true-hearted Christians, shall your Obedience and Repentance, and Faith, and Love, and Zeal, and Patience, &c. come to Light, and be known. God is not unrighteous to forget your Works of Labour and Love. No, all must out, especially at that Day when the Books shall be open, our Works manifested, and as we have done, so must we be rewarded, for then shall reward every Man according to his Works.

The Books are opened, and now are the Matters to be examined: There is first, a View; and then a Trial.

2. The Law-book whereby we are tried, contains three Leaves, Nature, the Law, and the Gospel: The Gentiles must be tried by the First, the unbelieving Jews and Gentiles by the Second, and the Faithful Jews and Gentiles by the Last. Those that confefs

* It is a Question, whether the sins of God's People shall be manifested at that Day? Some say they shall be manifested, not for their Ignominy or Confusion, but only that the Goodness and Grace of God may be made the more illustrious; and for this they urge, Matt. 12. 37. 5* 10. Rev. 20. 12. Others say, they shall not be manifested; 1. Because Christ in his Sentence only enumerates the good Works they had done, but takes no Notice of their Sins. 2. Because this agrees best with those Expressions that God blottheth our sins, and that they are thrown into the Bottom of the Sea. 3. Because Christ is their Bridegroom, Friend, Advocate, and how ill would it become one of such Relations to accuse or lay open their sins? Which of these Opinions is truest, is hard to say. Heb. 6. 10.

no God by Nature, must be judged by the Law of Nature: Those that confess a God, no Christ, must be judged by the Law of God without the Merits of Christ; those that confess God the Father, and believe in God the Son, shall be judged by the Gospel, which reconcileth us to God the Father by the Merits of Christ. Atheists, by the Law of Nature; Infidels by the Law of God, Christians by the Gospel of our Saviour Christ. To the Statutes of the former, who can answer? Our Hope is in the latter, we appeal to the Gospel, and by the Gospel we shall have our Trial; They that have sinned without the law, shall perish without the law; and they that have sinned under the law, shall be judged by the law. But God shall judge the secrets of all hearts (of all our hearts) by Jesus Christ, according to my gospel, Rom. 2. 12. 16.

Use. Let this then forewarn us what we have to do: * It is the Gospel will either thoroughly justify thee, or extreamly condemn thee. The Spirit shall convince the world of sin, faith Christ; and why so? but because they believe not on me, John 16. 9. There is no sin, but Inidelity; no Righteousness, but Faith: Not that Adultery, Intemperance, Malice are no sins; but if Unfaithfulness remain not, all these sins are pardoned, and so they are as if they were no sins indeed. How quick a Riddance true repenting Faith makes with our sins? They are too heavy for our shoulders, and we cannot bear them; Faith only turns them over unto Christ, and we are disburthened of them; whereas there would go with us to Judgment an huge Knelle of Lufts, an Army of vain Words, a Legion of evil Deeds, Faith instantly dischargeth them all; and kneeling down to Jesus Christ, beleeche eneth him to answer for them all, howsoever committed. O then make we much of faith! but not of such a Faith neither as goes alone without Works: It is nothing at this Judgment to say, I have believed, and not well lived; the Gospel requires both Faith to believe, and Obedience to work; not only to repent, and believe the Gospel, Mark 1. 15. but to obey from the heart that form of doctrine, Rom. 6. 17. True indeed, thou mayst be saved for thy Faith, not for thy Works; but for such a Faith as is without Works thou shalt never be saved; we say, therefore, * Works are disjoined from the Act of Justifying, not from the Person justified; Heaven is given to us for Christ's Merits, but we must shew him the fair Copy of our Lives. O then, let this move us to abound in Knowledge, and Faith, and Repentance, and Love, and Zeal, and clothing, and feeding, and lodging the poor Members of Christ Jesus, and howsoever all these can merit nothing at God's Hands, yet will he crown his own Gifts, and reward them in his Mercy. Say then, Doth thou relieve a poor Member of Christ Jesus? Doth thou give a cup of cold water to a prophet in the name of a prophet? Matth 10. 42. Christ doth promise thee of his Truth, he will not let thee lose thy Reward: Certainly he will not, so thy Works be done in Faith: Why, this is the Covenant, the glad Tidings, the Gospel, to live, and believe well. O let not that which is a Word of Comfort to us be a Bill of Indictment against us! Albeit in our Justification we may say, Be it unto us according to our faith; yet, in our Re-

Dooms-day.

There is a Reward on the right Hand bestowed on the Blessed, and an heavy Judgment which falls on the left Hand upon the Heads of the Wicked.

To begin with that in our Meditation, which our Saviour begins with in Action: Imagine what a blessed Day this will be to the Godly, when standing on the right Hand of the Judge, they shall hear the heavenly Musick of their happy Sentence, Come ye blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you, from the beginning of the World, Matth. 25. 34.

In which gracious Speech, we may observe four Gradations. 1. A gentle Invitation, Come. 2. A sweet Benediction, ye blessed of my Father. 3. Heaven's Possession, inherit the Kingdom. 4: A glorious Ordination to Felicity, prepared for you from the beginning of the world.

1. You have, Come. It is the sweet Voice of Christ inviting the Saints before, and now giving their Welcome to his heavenly Canaan: He hath called often, Come, all that labour; come, all that travel, Matth. 11. 28. The Spirit and the Bride say, Come, and let him that heareth say, Come; and let him that is athirst come, Rev. 22. 17. Thus he calls all Men to his Grace, but only the Elect to his Glory. Now he desires every Man to come, but the Righteous alone shall have this Welcome. O how leaps that Soul with Joy, that hears this Voice of her sweet Saviour! All the Music of Angels cannot so ravish the Mind, as this Voice of our Saviour glads the Soul: Now are the Gates of Heaven open, and the Judge, who is Master of the Feast, bids the Guests come and welcome.

But who are they? Ye blessed of my Father. A Word able to make them blessed, when pronounced. Down on your Knees rebellious Sons; and so long as you live on Earth, beg, pray, sue for the Blessing of your Father in Heaven. They that are God's Servants, are no less his Sons; therefore every Morn, Night and Noon, ask Blessing boldly, and God will bestow it liberally. The first Sermon that ever Christ preached was full of Blessings, Matth. 5. Blessed are the poor in spirit. Blessed are they that mourn. Blessed are the meek. Blessed are the merciful. And as he began, so he concludes, Come ye blessed, ye blessed of my Father.

Must they come? For what? To inherit the Kingdom. Of all tenures Inheritance is best, of all Inheritances a Kingdom is most excellent: but that all shall inherit, and that there is no scantling, this is Heaven's Wonder, and the Angels bliss. An heavenly Inheritance sure, that is continued without succession, divided without diminution, common without envy, for ever happy, and without all misery*. This is the Inheritance of the Just, the Possession whereof makes every Saint no less glorious then a King. Kings are they indeed, whose Dominions are not limited nor their Borders bounded, nor their People numbered, nor the Time of their Reign prescribed. Such glorious things are spoken of thee, O thou City of God.

Is this your Inheritance? But upon what right? It is prepared for you from the beginning of the World. Had the Lord such care to provide for his Children before they were? How may his Sons triumph born to such Dignity? God will so certain their salvation, that he hath prepared it for them from before the foundation of the World. O blessed Souls, if you be God's Servants! Though a while you suffer Sorrow and Tribulation, yet here is the Hope of Saints, It is your Father's good pleasure to give you the Kingdom, Luke 12. 32. Heaven is prepared of old, there is the Place of God's Majesty, and there the Saints of God shall receive the Crown, the Reward of Victory.

Use. I cannot express what this Joy affords to the one half of it. Come blessed Souls bathed in repenting Tears: Here is a Sentence able to revive the Dead, much more the afflicted. Are you now forrowing for your Sins? Leave it a while, and Meditate with me on this enuing Melody. Hear, yonder a quire of Angels, a Song of Sion, an heavenly Comfort founding to the Judge whilest he is pronouncing of thy Sentence. Blessed Souls! How pant you Dances at the uttering of each syllable? Come, faith our Saviour, and if he but say Come, Joy, Happines, Glory, Felicity, all come on Heaps into the indered Soul. Ye blessed, faith our Saviour, and if he but say Blessed, the Angels, Archangels, Cherubims, seraphims, all joy at the enjoying of this blessed Company. Inherit the Kingdom, faith our Saviour, and if he but say inherit, Crowns, Scepters, Garlands, Diadems, all these are the Inheritance of God's adopted Children. Prepared for you, faith our Saviour, and if he but say, Prepared, the Love, Mercy, Election, Compassion of our Lord will shine forth to the soul to her everlasting Comfort. O ravishing Voice! I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if you find my well-beloved, that you tell him I am sick of love. Cant. 5. 8. What else? You that are God's Servants are no

But I must turn to the left Hand, and shew you another Crew prepared for another Sentence.

And what terrible Sentence will that be, which at first hearing will make all Ears glow and tingle? His lips, faith the Prophet, are full of Indignation, and his tongue like a consuming fire, Isa. 30. 27. What a Fire so hot as that fiery Sentence, Depart, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels? Matth. 25. 41. Here is every Particular full of Horror, gradually enhancing their Judgment. 1. A grievous Refusal, Depart. 2. The Loss of Salvation, From me. 3. That deserved Malediction, ye cursed. 4. The horror of Pains, into everlasting fire. 5. The preordination of their torments, prepared for the devil and his angels.

First, They must depart: This seems nothing to the wicked now; depart? Why, they are contented to be gone, much more delight have they in sin, than in God's Service. But as when a gracious Prince opening his long locked up Treasury, bids in some to receive, but others to depart, this must needs be a disgraceful vexation: So when the Glory of Heaven, and those invaluable Treasures shall be opened, and dealt about to the faithful, what Horror will it be to the Reprobates to be cast off with a depart? No Share accrues to them, no not to much as one glimpse of Glory must clear their dejected Countenances, but as illmeriting followers they are thrust from the Gates with this Watch-word to be gone, Depart.

But whence? There is the lost, from me, and if from me, then from all that is mine, my Mercy, my Glory, my Salvation. Here is an universal spoil of all Things, of God in whom is all Goodness, of the Saints in whom is all holiness, of the Angels in whom is all Happiness, of Heaven, wherein all Pleasures live ever and ever, Whither, O Lord, shall the cursed go that depart from thee? Into what heaven shall they arrive? What Master shall they serve? Is it thought to great a Punishment to be banished from our Native Soils? What then is this to be banished from Almighty God? And whither but into a Place of Horror; to whom? but to a cursed Crew of howling Reprobates. Depart from me.

Who are they? Ye cursed. Christ hath before invited you with Blessings, but these refused, now take you the Curse to your Despight: The wicked man, faith the Prophet, as he hath loved cursing, so let it come unto him, Psal. 109. 17. Hath he loved it? let him take his Love: As he hath clothed himself with cursing, as with a garment, so let it come into his bowels, like water, and like oil into his bones, Psal. 109. 18. No sooner our Saviour cursed the Fig-tree, but Leaves and Boughs, Body and Root, all wither away, and never any more Fruit grows thereon; and thus shall the wicked have a Curse, like the Ax which put to the root of the tree, shall hew it down, and be cast into the fire. Go, ye cursed, Matth. 3. 10.

But whither must they go? into everlasting fire: O what a Bed is this for delicate and dainty Persons? no Feathers but Fire, no Friends but Furies, no Eafe but Fetters, no Light but Smoak, no Chimes nor Clock to pass away the Night, but timeless Eternity. A Fire? intollerable, a Fire burning, their never dying? O immortal Pains! Which of you, faith the Prophet, is able to dwell in the burning fire? who can endure the everlasting flames? Isa. 33. 14.

It shall not be quenched Night nor Day, the Smoak thereof shall go up evermore: The pile is fire, and much wood, and the breath of the Lord like a river of brimstone kindles it, Isa. 30. 33.

What Torment, what Calamity can be compared with the shadow of this? the wicked must be crowded together like Brick in a fiery Furnace: there is no Servant to fan cold Air on their tormented Parts, not so much asa Chink, where the leaf Puff of Wind might enter in to cool them; it is a fire, an everlasting fire.

For whom? prepared for the devil and his angels; heavy Company for distressed Souls: The Serpent's Policy could not escape Hell, nor can the Craft of our Age so deal with this Serpent, as thereby to prevent this Fire: it was sure prepared for some, as some have prepared themselves for it; burning in Luft, in Malice, in Revenge, until themselves, their Luft, Malice, Revenge, and all burn together in Hell. Tophet is prepared of old, Isa. 30. 33: whither that Day-star is fallen from Heaven, and a black Crew of Angels guard him round in that Lake of Hell: there must thee howling Reprobates keep their Residence; the last Sentence that never is recalled, is now pronounced: What? Go; Who? Ye cursed, Whither? into everlasting fire.

To what Company? to a crew of devils and their angels. O take heed that ye live in God's Fear! left that leaving his Service he give you this Reward, Depart ye cursed.

Use. And is not this worthy your Meditation? Consider, I pray you, what fearful Tremblings seize on their Souls that have their Sentence for eternal Flames? If a Lord have mercy on thee, Take him away Taylor, will cause such shedding of Tears, folding of Arms, and wrenching of Hands, what will this Sentence do, Go ye cursed, &c. O which Way will they turn? or how will they escape the Almighty's Wrath? to go backward is impossible, to go forward intolerable; whose Help will they crave? God is their Judge, Heaven their Foe, the Saints deride them, Angels hate them, all Creatures cry for Vengeance on them. Good Lord! what a World of Misery hath seized on these miserable Souls? their Executioners are Devils, the Dungeon Hell, the Earth stand open, and the cruel Furnace ready boiling to receive them: In to what a shaking Fit of Distractions will thefe Terrors drive them? every Part shall bear a Part in this doleful Ditty, eyes weep, hands wring, breasts beat, hearts ache, voices cry, horror, dread, terror, confusion are lively equipages of this tragic Scene, Now, O Man of Earth! what will all thy Wealth avail thee? what can all thy Pleasures profit thee? one Drop of Water to cool thy fiery Tongue in Hell, is more worth than a World of Treasures; all the Gold and precious Stones the World affords, will not buy one Bottle of Water; all thy golden Gods, and silver Plates cannot prevail one Dram of Comfort; but rather as they were thy Bane on Earth, so they will aggravate thy Pain in Hell. Who pities not the vilest Creature, to see it suffer Torments, and no way to release it? Who then will not pity this End of the wicked, when they must suffer, and suffer, yet never feel Ease of Pain, nor End of Torments? A Sentence not to be revoked, yet unfavourably to be endured; Torment on Torment, Anguish on Anguish, Fire upon Fire, and the a River, nay a Sea of Tears drop from their their Eyes, yet cannot one Spark be quenched: The worm never dies, the fire never goes out, Mark 9. 44. Go ye into everlasting fire, not piled of consuming Wood, or the black Moulds turning to white Ashes, but kindled by the Judg's Breath, of Pitch and Sulphur: Rivers of boiling Brimstone run from everlasting Springs; in these hot Baths was that Dives dived, when these fiery Words came flaming from his Mouth as spitting fire: Let Lazarus dip the tip of his finger in water to cool my tongue, Luke 16. 24. Alas! what should a Drop of Water do on a Finger, when Rivers cannot quench the Tip of his Tongue? He lies on a Bed of never dying Flames, where Brimstone is the Fuel, Devils the Kindlers, the Breath of an offended God the Bellows, and Hell the Furnace, where Body and Soul must ever lie and try in scorching Torments. O let the Heat of these flames quench the Heat of our sin: If once the Sentence pafs, there is no Reprieve to be hoped for; this is the last Day of Doom, when our sins must be revealed, our Reward proportioned, and as we have done, so we must be sentenced: For then shall reward every man according to his works.

Thus you have heard the Sentence of the Just and Wicked: And now is the Judge rising from his glorious Seat: The Saints that were invited guard him along, and the sentenced Prisoners are delivered to the Tylors to be bound in burning Steel and Iron, the Reward of Execution.

The Sentence being past in all prescribed Order, the Execution must needs follow: but as there is a double Sentence, so a double Retribution: 1. For the Wicked, who immediately after the Sentence shall be chased into Hell, the Execution being speedily and fearfully done upon them, with all Horror and Hastle by the Angels. O what a Shriech of Horror will be heard? what Woes and Lamentations will be uttered, when Devils and Reprobates, and all the damned Crew of Hell shall be driven into Hell, whereunto they shall be thrust with Violence, never to return again? How desperate is their Cafe, when none will comfort them? The Saints deride them, Angels mock them, their own Friends scoff them, Devils hate them, the Earth groans under them, and Hell will swallow them. Down they go howling, and shrieking, and gnashing their Teeth, the Effect of a most impatient Fury. The World leaves them, the Earth forfakes them, Hell intertains them, there must they live and die, and yet not live nor die, but dying live, and living die; Death in Life, Life in Death, miserable ever. If the drowning of the old World, swallowing up of Korah and his Complices, burning up of Sodom with Brimstone, were attended with such Terrors and hideous Out-cries, how infinitely transcendent to all Possibility of Conceit, Expreffion, or Belief, will the Confusions and Tremblings of that red-dread-fiery Day be? It is not a few, but many; not many only, but all the wicked of the Earth, being many Millions of Men, shall be dragged down, with all the Devils of Hell to Torments without End, or Eafe, or past Imagination; then to speak it again, that I may the deeper imprint it in your Minds and Memories: Sure there was horrible shrieking, when those five filthy Cities first felt fire and brimstone drop down upon their Heads: When those Rebels saw the Ground cleave asunder, and themselves and all theirs go down quick into the pit, Numb. 16, 33. when all all the Sons and Daughters of Adam found in the Flood rising, and ready to overflow them all at once. But the most horrid Cry that ever was heard, or ever shall be heard in Heaven or in Earth, in this World, or in the World to come, will be then when all the forlorn, condemned Reprobates, upon Sentence given, shall be violently, and unresistably haled down to Hell; neither shall any Tears, or Prayers, or Promises, or Suits, or Cries, or Yellings, or calling upon Rocks and Mountains, or Wishes never to have been, or now to be made nothing, be then heard, or prevail in their behalf; nay, yet more to increase their torments, there is not one in Earth or Heaven that will speak one Word in their behalf: But, without Mercy, without Stay, without any Farewel at all they shall be immediately and irrecoverably cast down into the bottomless Pit of endless, endless, and remediless Torments. Oh! what then will be the Gnawings of the never dying Worm? what Rage of guilty Consciences? what furious Despair? what Horror of Mind? what Distractions and Fears? what tearing their Hair, and gnawing of teeth? In a Word, what Wailing, Weeping, Roaring, Yelling, filling Heaven, and Earth, and Hell? O miserable Catiffs, catch and wrapt in the Snares of Satan! What need we more? This is the Judge's Charge, the Sheriff's Commission, the Sinners Execution, Take them away, cast them into utter darkness, there shall be weeping and gnawing of teeth. A Darkness indeed, that must never be debarred from the sight of Heaven; no Sunshine ever peeps within those Walls, no Light, no Fire, no Candle; alas! Nothing is there but Clouds and Darkness, thick Smoak and fiery Sulphur; and such is the Portion of Sinners, the Reward of the Wicked.

Use. What Faith or Fear have the Wicked, that go dancing and leaping to this Fire, as it were to a Banquet? or, like Solomon's Fool, that runneth, and swiftly runneth to the Stocks? Prov. 7. 22. Is this our Pleasure, to sin a while, and burn for ever? For one small spark of silly Joy, to suffer universal and perpetual Pains? Who buys at so dear a Rate? Fear, and the pit, and the snare are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth; and be that fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he that cometh up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake; the earth isutterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly, the earth shall reel to and fro like a drunken man, and shall be removed like a tent, and the iniquity thereof shall be heavy upon it, so that it shall fall, and rise no more, Isa. 24. 17. &c. O miserable Fear to the Wicked! If the Earth fall, how shall the sinner stand? Nay, They shall be gathered together as prisoners in the pit, and shall be shut up in the prison, never more to be visited, released, or comforted. Be forewarned then, O Beloved, lest you also come into this place of torment, Luke 16. 28. It is a fearful Prison, and God give us Grace so to arraign, judge, cast, and condemn ourselves here, that we may escape this Execution of the Damned hereafter.

I have no will to end with terror:

Then to sweeten your thoughts with the Joy of Saints, look upwards, and you may see a blessed Company.

After the Wicked are cast down into Hell, Christ, and the blest Saints ascend into Heaven. From the Tribunal-seat of Judgment Christ shall arise, and with all the glorious Company of Heaven, march towards the Heaven of Heavens. O what comely March is this
Dooms-day.

What a strange Affize was this, where every Circumstance was to the Wicked so terribly fearfull? The Term of Horror, the Judg full of Majesty, the Prisoners full of Anguish, the Trial full of Fear, the Doom full of Grief to the Wicked, as of Comfort to the Elect. Seeing therefore that all these things are thus, what manner of persons ought ye to be in holy conversation and godliness? 2 Pet. 3. 11. A Word of Judgment could make Jeremiah weep, soft Job be afraid, Felix to tremble; and cannot this usual sound of the Hammers a little mollifie our stony Hearts? How is the gold become dross, and the silver iron? Isaiah 1. 22. We run over Reason, and tread upon Conscience, and fling by Counsel, and go by the Word, and post to Death; but will you remember, that for all these things you must come to judgment, Ecclef. 11. 9. Be sure there is a Term for your Appearance, Then there is a Judg that will fit upon us, He; there is a Band of Prisoners, Every man; there is a Bill of Indictment framed, according to our works; And last of all, there is a Sentence, after which follows the Execution, the reward due to us, which then he will give us: Only, now bestow on us these Graces of thy Spirit, and then, O Lord, reward us according to our works. Amen.
Hell's Horror.

MATTH. xiii. 30. Bind them in bundles to burn them.

This Text is the Harvest of Tares, and that you may know the Husbandry, here is 1. The sowing, ver. 25. 2. The coming up, v. 26. 3. The overseers of it, v. 27. 4. Their Intent to weed it, v. 28. 5. The Sufferance of its Growth till the harvest, v. 29. 6. The harvest itself, v. 30. Or, yet to give you the Parable in a more ample wife, here is a Man sowes good Seed in his Field, and the Enemy whilst his Servants sleep, sowes Tares amongst the Wheat: The feeding done, and the fertile Soil made fruitful by Heaven's showers, the Blade of the Corn springs up, and the Tares appear in their kind amongst them. Those heavenly Angels, who are God's Stewards of this Field, pitching their watchful Eyes about, first see, then run to their Master with this Message, Master, sowest thou not good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? God, whose all-knowing Wisdom can resolve all Doubts, tells them expressly, An Enemy hath done this: Yea, as Peter calls him, a devouring enemy, 1 Pet. 5. 8. Such is the Fruit inflowing from so bad an Author. Yet see the sedulous Care of God's holy Servants, they will not spare to root up what Envy sowes, and with a willing Obedience expect only his Commands. Wiit thou that we go and gather them up? Nay, see the Almighty disparking a while his Beams of Mercy; all must stay till the Harvest, and then goes forth his royal Command to the Reapers: Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them. But methinks, I hear you say to me as the Disciples to our Saviour, Declare unto us this parable, v. 36. for the doing of which I shall place before you a Field, the World; the Reapers, Angels; the Householder, God; good Men, as corn; the Wicked, as tares; the Harvest that must gather all, is the end of the world, and then are the Reapers enjoyed this heavy Task, Separate the bad from the good, and cast them into hell fire to burn them. See here the miserable Condition of impenitent impenitent Souls, each circumstance aggravates their torment; and that ye may in this Text view a Series of the Causes, here is first the Efficient, Bind; the material, them; the formal, in bundles; the final, to burn them. Every Word like so many Links, makes up this fiery Chain of Torment. Bind; heavy Doom to be fettered in Hell-fire! them; miserable Souls to be captivated in those Bands! in bundles; cruel! Anguish to be crowded in throng! to burn them; intolerable Heats to be tormented, blistered, burned! And yet see here at once, this heavy, miserable, cruel, intolerable Doom fall on the Wicked: The Command is out, what? Bind; whom? them; how? in bundles; for what? to burn them. Not a Word, but it speaks Horror to the Damned, either binding, or bundling, or burning: Bind them in bundles to burn them.

The Work, you see, is ordered; now we put in our fickle; only God prosper our Labour, till we have done the Harvest.

W e will begin first with the Subject, that you may know of whom it is spoken, Bind them: Them? Whom? If you will view the precedent Words, the Text tells you they are Tares; gather ye first the tares, and bind them. In God's Field there is Corn and Cockle, and as for the one there is provided a Barn, to for the other there is nothing better than Binding and Burning.

The Greek Word calls them Xizania, Tares; the Hebrews call them Hadul, Thistles or Thorns; and both are apt Expressions of the Matter in Hand: What are Tares for? but to be gathered, bound, and burned, faith our Saviour: And what are Thorns for? but to be rejected, cursed, and burned, faith the Apostle, Heb. 6:8. Such is the Penalty of this Weed of the Earth (for they are neither better) that as Men deal with Thorns, who first cut them up with Bills, then lay them up to wither, and, lastly, burn them in the Furnace; to God deals with Tares, he weeds them, binds them, burns them; not a Tare escapes the Fire, but all come to Combustion.

But, only to follow the Original, they are called, Ta xizania, Tares; and that of a double Derivation; the first is, Xizanion quo quis sitanion, para to ton fiton sinein, because they hurt the Corn wherewith they are joined; the second is, Xizanon quo quis to fite ixainon, because they initiate, associate, and so unite themselves with the Corn, as if they were the very fame. To begin with the last.

We all come together to the Church, and amongst us are Tares and Wheat, Good and Bad; in all Companies there will be evil Intruders, Satan among the Angels, Saul among the Prophets, Judas among the Apostles, Demas among the Professors, yet who can discern the Tares, but God alone who knows our Hearts? Hypocrites can work Diffimulation in a Web, and this so cunningly is platted, that no Difference is discerned: Such are hot Meteors in the Air, which shoot and shew like Stars, but are indeed nothing less: Your Eyes may be fixed on Heaven, your Ears all listning to this Sermon, yet, as I condemn none, so I never knew but Dannel hath been in God's Field. The Church, Christ calls a net, a house, a floor, a field: A Net that takes Fish good and Bad; an House that harbours Vessels of Wrath and Honour; a Floor whereon is poured Wheat and Chaff; a Field, wherein is sowed Corn and Cockle: Thus good and bad Seed are a... while as that Treasure hid in the field, Matth. 13. 44. Which cannot be discovered: But is there not a God that searcheth both the heart and the reins? Be not deceived, Gal. 6. 7. Ye Deceivers of the World, God is not mock-ed; it is not a false Heart with a fair Look, it is not a mere shew of Religion God will accept: Silly Tares, hide close your sins in the darkest Furrows, or mount up your Heads amongst the most flourishing Wheat, yet know there is a fan that will purge the floor; Matth. 13. 12. You would grow, and you shall grow till the Harvest, God suffers that seed till the Fruit grows ripe, but then, Gather the tares and bind them ( wicked Dissemblers) bind them in bundles to burn them.

 zdly, As the Tares are hypocritical, so are they hurtful; they seem at unity, but are at enmity with the Wheat about them: and these Tares are either Hereticks, as most Fathers understood them; or any Sinner whatsoever, that is a Child of the wicked one, as our Saviour did expound them.

 1. They are Hereticks; wicked Tares indeed: And that you may know who are these: Aries is a Choice, or Election, at first_N Word in Philo-sophy, taken for a right Form of Learning; but now in Divinity it is a word of Disgrace, and intends a stubborn diviation from the deceived truth. This Infection (like the Tares) first begins whiles Men sleep, the Pastors Negligence gives way unto it, and because of its little feed, or small begin-ning, it is never heeded, or regarded, till the whole House be infected: Thus Papery crept up in the Dark, like a Thief putting out the Lights, that he might rob the House more securely; and as it began with a little, so it went on by degrees, till an univerfal Apol- tacy was (as it were) over the face of the World. * Aulis' faith of Arius his Here-fic, It was at first but a little Spark, but it spread to at last, that the Flame of it spread the whole World: So the Pope rose by degrees, first above Bishops, then above Patriarchs, then above Councils, then above Kings, then above Scriptures, even to the A poltle speaks of Antichrift, He hath exalted himself above all that is called God, 2 Thef. 2. 4. Herefie creeps in at a little Hole, like a Plague that comes in at the Windows; and then propag- gats it fell beyond all measure: O that these Tares were weeded, that Sinsneel were cast out of Doors, so that Sarah and her Son Isaac might live in quiet and peace; or if they must grow until the Harvest, what remains; but, I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences, contrary to the doctrine that ye have learned, and a void them, Rom. 16. 17.

 But as Hereticks, so all Reprobates whatsoever are the Tares here spoken of, they are offenders on all Hands, both in Doctrine and Conversation: And thus our Saviour Interprets, The good seed are the children of the kingdom, but the tares are the children of the wicked one. Verfe 38.

 And most filthy are the Reprobates called Tares, in respect of their

 1. As the Tares grow amongst Corn, so the wicked all their Life associate themselves with the Godly; the Church (faith Aulis) is full both of Wheat and Chaff: I avoid the chaff lest I be-come chaff, but I keep the flour lest I be-

Heaven and Hell, so as that Abraham tells the rich Man, They that would pass from hence to you cannot, neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence, Luke 16. 26. This is that endless divorce of the Wheat and Tares, this is that unpassable Distance 'twixt Heaven and Hell, through all Eternity. O miserable Tares! What a Lot's hath befallen you? Now you live with the Wheat, and you o'vertop them, trouble them, vex them with your Society; but hereafter you must shake Hands for ever; for the Wheat must be gathered into God's Barn, his Kingdom, whilst the miserable Tares are gathered by Angels, and bound up in bundles for the burning.

Lo here a World of Tares, and that I may give you them in a Map, what are they but Hypocrites, Heretics, Reprobates; all Children whatsoever, that have Satan to their Father, for of them is this spoken.

The Proverb is, Ill Weeds grow apace, nay they are so common, that it is hard to set the Foot besides them. Look into your Hearts, you Sons and Daughters of Adam, are not your Furrrows full of Cockle and Darnel? The Earth (faith the Philosopher) is now an own Mother to Weeds, but a Stepmother to good Herbs; Man of his own Inclination is apt to produce Weeds and Tares, but ere he can bring forth Herbs and Graces, God must take Pains with him indeed. No Husbandman so labours his Grounds, as God doth our Hearts; happy Earth that yields him an expected Harvest; and that our Parts may be herein, what shall we say unto thee, O thou President of Men? Awake, O north wind; and come, thou south, blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out, yea let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits, Cant. 4. 16.
And yet again, that I may weed the Tares amongst us, consider with your selves, that you go on in your sins, will you run upon Ruin, and can we say nothing to keep you out of the fire? O sweet Saviour! what didst thou endure for us, that we might escape this Durance? and yet we are secure, and care not, vilifying that Blood that was of more Value than a World. Think of it, you that are in the blade, ere the Harvest come: No Man desires to purchase Land, that will bring forth nothing but Weeds; and shall God buy so bale a Ground, that will be no better, at so inestimable a Price, as the incorruptible Blood of his only Son? O ye Weeds of the Earth, turn your selves, or be ye turned into Wheat; call, and sue, and cry for the Mercy of God in Christ our Saviour: yea again and again, beg of your Jesus that he may root up your Weeds, and plant in you his Graces, that like good Corn you may fructifie here, and when the Harvest comes, you may be gathered into his Barn, and remain in his Kingdom.

Thus far you see the Prisoners, the next Point is the Chains wherewith these Prisoners are bound; but of that hereafter. Remember in the mean time the Tares, and as good seed bring ye forth good Fruit, some thirty, some sixty, some an hundred fold, that when the reaping comes, we may be ready for the Barn, and then, Lord Jesus, come when thou wilt, even, Lord Jesus, come quickly. Amen.

Bind.

The Malefactor, whose Hands are pinioned, Legs chained, Feet corded, may lie restless in his Thoughts, eafeless in all Parts; the Wicked are cast into a Prison under Lock and Bolts, where the Devil is Jaylor, Hell the Prison, and the Bolts such other as burning Steel and Iron. See here a Jaylor, Goal, and Manacles, all which are provided for the Damned: And because of their Relation each to other, give me Leave to produce them in their Order.

The Tares must be bound, and for the executing of this Doom, the Judge here delivers them over to the Jaylor: Jaylor? whom? Good and bad Angels; for both these are the Executioners of God's direful Sentence. 1. The good Angels, so faith our Saviour, The reapers are the angels, v. 39. And he will say unto the reapers, v. 30. Gather ye first the tares, and bind them up in bundles. They which are all Mercy to the Good, are here the Executioners of God's Judgments on the Wicked. Thus was Sodom destroyed by an Angel, Gen. 19. The Army of Senacherib was overthrown by an Angel, 2 Kings 19. Seventy thousand Men of Israel were struck with Pestilence by an Angel, 2 Sam. 24. Blasphemous Herod was smitten by an Angel, Acts 12. 23. Yea the Tares themselves must be gathered by Angels, who will bind them in Heaps like Faggots, and cast them into Hell-fire to burn them.

How fearful is it to fall into the Hands of God's Host? No Power can resist, no policy prevail, all the stratagems of War are but folly to God's Wisdom; then into what moats and atoms shall the pride duct of sinful Man be torn? What, dares he struggle against Heaven? See God and Angels are become his Enemies, and whose help should he have, when Heaven itself makes War? Mountains and Rocks are no Defence against God: shields and spears cannot keep tafe the Tares: no, God hath his Wariours that that will pluck, and tear, and torture Reprobates: the Angels are his reapers, that must gather the Tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them.

But zply, Good and bad Angels both join in this Office to bind the Tares: If there be any Difference, it is in this, the good Angels begin, and the bad continue to make the binding everlasting. Here is a Taylor indeed, and if you would see him in his Form, you may take the description from that great Leviathan, By his neesings a light doth shine, and his eyes are like the eye-lids of the morning, out of his mouth go burning lamps, and farks of fire leap out; out of his noztrils goeth fmoak as out of a seething pot or cauldron; his breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth, Job 41. 18, 19, 20, 21.

What an ugly Devil is this, whom God only mythically describes with such terrible shapes? His Neesing flames, his Eyes stare, his Mouth shoots fire, his noztrils fmoak, his very Breath sets all a burning round about him. Such a Taylor hath God prepared for Hell-Prisoners. As God hath fettered him, so he lays fetters on them, revenging his own Malice on his fellow-sufferers. The Devil first tempts and then he fetters Tares: While Men live on Earth, he lays snares for Souls: Thus he prepared flatterers for Reboobaam, liars for Abab, Concubines for Solomon, forcers for Pharaoh, witches for Saul, wine for Benhaddad, gold for Achan, a Ship for Jonas, and a Rope for Haman: But he that makes Gins, and Nets, and Snares on Earth, makes Bolts, and Hammers, and Whips in Hell; thus he hath prepared Darkness for Herod, a fire for Dives, Plagues for Pilate, brimstone for Judas, snares for Demas, and fiery fetters for all Reprobate Tares:

What need poor Souls any farther fetters, whom the Devil once shuts within his Den; dare you live in such a nest amongst speckled Poisons? There? Serpents girdle the Loins, and Cockatrice kill with their Eyes, and Dragons spit fire from their Mouths, and Wolves all devour Mens Souls, and Lions roar for the prey, and Vipers sting and strike with their Tails: O fearful Taylors! what strange kind of Furies live in Hell!

You see the Taylor, now turn your Eyes from so bad a spectacle, and let us view the Den where this Monster lies.

The Hebrews call it Sheol, a great Ditch or Dungeon; the Greeks Zophes, even darkness itself; the Latines Infernus, a place under Ground: All agree it is a Dungeon under Earth, containing these two properties.

Deepness.

Darkness.

1. It is deep: As Heaven is high, so (most probable it is) that Hell is deep. John calls it, a bottomless pit, Rev. 9. 1. As if Reprobates were always falling, yet never could find bottom where to rest; or howsoever this be a Metaphor, yet without question, Heaven and Hell are as opposite as many be: And whether the Center be the place of torment, or (as others think) * all the gulfs of the sea, and hollows of the earth, as being more capable to contain the damned, I leave it to the Schools; as for the Pulpit, I think this Prayer more fit, Lord, show us what it is, but never where.

2. The Deepness is yeaked with Darkness; such a Dungeon fits the

* Kecker, Syft. Theo. de inferna.
Tares, they committed Works of Darkness, and are cast into utter darkness; a Darkness that may be felt, thick Clouds that may be handled, Damps and Mists that strike at their Hearts with fenible Griefs. This is that bottomless Pit in the Heart of the Earth; there shines no Sun, no Moon, no Stars; there is no Light of Candle, Torch, or Taper; shine the Sun never so fair, it is still Night there; the Dungeon is dark, and this makes the Place more sad, more uncomfortable. Let Poets feign of Tantalus' Tortures, Prometheus' Vultures, Ixion's Wheel, and Charon's Rowing; these come far short to express the Pains of those that rage in Hell; there Plagues have no End, Cries have not Help, Time has no End, Place no Redemption; it is the dark Prison where the Tares are chained, and the Wicked bound in Fetters of Fire and Darkness. Could Men have a fight of Hell while they live on Earth, I doubt not their Hearts would tremble in their Bosoms; yet view it in a Way of Meditation, and see what you find? Are there not wonderful Engines, sharp and sore instruments of Revenge; Fiery Brimstone, pithy Sulphur, red hot Chains, flaming Whips, sorching Darkness? Will you any more? The Worm is immortal, Cold intolerable, Stench indurable, Fire unquenchable, Darkness palpable: This is that Prison of the Damned, then whose Eyes dare behold such amazing Objects? But if not see, yet listen with your Ears; Is there any Charm in Hell to conjure away Devils, or to ravish Souls? What Music affords the Place, but roaring, and crying, howling? Cursing, their Hymns; Howling, their Lutes; Blasphemies, their Ditties; Lachramas, their Notes; Lamentations, their Songs; Shrieking, their Strains; these are their Evening and Morning Songs; Moab shall cry against Moab, one against another, all against God. O fearful Prison! What torments have the Tares that ly here fettered? Their Feet are chained in the Stocks, and the Iron pierceth their Souls; it is a Dungeon where the Light never shined, but the Walls are as black as Pitch, the Vaults are smoked as Chimneys, the Roof as dark as Hell, nay, the Dungeon is Hell, where the Tares by bound and fettered. Think of this Goal, ye Offenders of God's Law and Majesty; the Angels see our Doings, the Judge now expects our Returning, the Tares grow till the Harvest, and, if still they offend, Death apprehends them, God will judge them, the Jailer take them, Hell imprison them, there are they bound. You hear the Evidence brought in, and the Sentence gone out, Take them, bind them, bind them in Bundles, and burn them.

And if this be the Jailer's Goal, what then be the Bonds or Chains? The angels, which kept not their first estate (faith Jude) God hath referred in everlasting chains, Jude 6. And, God spared not the angels that sinned, faith Peter, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, 2 Pet. 2. 4. Thus Christ doomed him that had not on his Wedding-garment, Bind him hand and foot, Matth. 13. 22. and what may these Chains and Bonds insinuate, but that the Tares are tied to their Torments? Might they but remove from Place to Place, this would afford some Ease; might they but stir a Foot, or turn about, or, have any little Motion to refresh their tormented Parts, this would yield some Comfort; but here is an universal Binding, Hand and Foot, Body and Soul, all must be bound with everlasting Chains. The Reprobates are packt and crowded together, like Bricks in a fiery Furnace, having having not so much as a Chink where any Wind may enter in to cool them,
O ye that live in the sinful Wealth of this World, consider but this one Punishment of Hell, and be afraid! if a Man, enjoying Quiet of Mind, and Health of Body, shall ly chained on a soft Downed for a Month, or a Year, how would he abide it? But this is nothing: If a Man should ly sick of a Fever, jellon in a Dropse, pained with the Gout, and, tho it were for the Recovery of his Health, without any Turning, Tossing, Shivering, this were a great Torture sure, and a Question it were, whether the Disease or the Physick were more intolerable? Witness poor Patients, who change their Sides, with other Beds, seek other Rooms, and all these Shifts but to mitigate their Pains: How wretched then are the Tares bound in Chains? They are not in Health, nor bound for a Month, nor sick of a Fever, nor ly for a Year, their Pain is grievous, their Bonds heavy, their torments durable, their resiles Rest eternal. The Worm shall gnaw their Spirit, the Fire torture their Flesh; were these nothing, yet small Sorrows grow great with Continuance; the Fire shall torture, yet never cease; Worms gnaw the Heart, yet never gnaw in under the Strings: Wretched Souls are bound indeed, whose Bonds are never out of date: A seven Years Prenticeship would ere long expire, but what are seven Years to a World of Ages? The Reprobates must serve Years, Ages, even to a million of millions, and yet are never free: O Bondage not to be uttered, yet must be endured! Is it not a Bedlam-survey, that must have such Bonds? a little to express their Torments by our Sufferings, which yet are nothing, nothing in comparison: What means these Chains, and Whips, and Links, and Scourges? Iron Chains, Whips of Steel, fiery Links, knotty Scourges? Furies shake their Belts to affrighten Souls, the Irons Strike through their Ears, and the Bastard Engines tear their Bowels, as if the Torment of Tares were the Delight of Devils. Here is a Prison indeed, where is Nothing heard but Yells, and Groans, and sudden Cries; the Fire flares not, the Worm dies not, the Chains loose not, the Links wear not, Revenge tires not, but for ever are the Torments fresh, and the Fetters on Fire, as they came first from the Forge.

What a strange Kind of Torture fall upon the Wicked? they are bound to fiery Pillars, and Devils latch at them with their fiery Whips: Is there any Part of Man escapes free in such a Frame? The Flesh shall fry, the Blood boil, the Veins be search’d, the Sinews raked, Serpents shall eat the body, Furies tear the Soul; this is that woful Plight of Tares, which lie bound in Hell. The sick Man at Sea may, go from his ship to his Boat, and from his Boat to his ship again; the sick Man in his Bed may tumble from his right side to his left, and from his left to his right again; only the Tares are tied Hand and Foot, bound Limb and Joint; their Feet walk not, their Fingers move not, their Eyes must no more wander as before; lo, all is bound, O these Manacles that rot the flesh, and pierce the inward Parts! O unwatchable Torments, yet most fit for Tares! Sin made them furious, Hell must tame their Phrensie; the Judge thus commands, and the Executioners must dispatch; fetter them, fire them, Bind them in bundles to burn them.

I have led you thro’ the Dungeon, let this sight serve for a Terror that you never came nearer: To that Purpofe, for Exhortation, consider.

Alas! all hangs on Life, there's but a Twine-thread betwixt the Soul of a Sinner, and the scorching flames; who then would live, as to run his Soul into Hazard? The Judge threatens us, Devils hate us, the Bonds expect us, it is only our Confiences must clear us, or condemn us. Search then thy Ways, and stir up thy Remembrance to her Items: Haft thou dishonoured God, blasphemed his Name, decayed his Image, subduing thy Soul to Sin, that was created for Heaven? Repent these Courfes, ask God Forgivenefs, and he will turn away thy Punishments. I know thy fins are grievous, and my Soul grieves at the Knowledge; many Evils have poffeffed too many, Drunkenfens, and Oaths, and Malice, and Revenge, are not these Guests entertained into all Houfes? Banifh them your Hearts, that the King of Glory may come in: As I live, faith the Lord, I defire not the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live. Ezek. 33. 11. Would God beflow Mercy? and fhould we refuse his Bounty? as you love Heaven, your Souls, your felves, leave your fins.

Use 2. And then, here is a Word of Confolation, the Penitent needs not fear Hell, God's Servant is freed from Bonds: yea, if we love him who hath first loved us, Eph. 5. 2. all the Chains and Pains of Hell can neither hold, nor hurt us.

Use 3. O then ye Sons of Adam (fuffer a Reproof) what do ye, that ye do not repent you of your fins? is it not a Madness above Admiration, that Men, who are reafonable Creatures, having Eyes in their Heads, Hearts in their Bodies, Understanding like the Angels, and Confiences capable of unspeakable Horrour, never will be warned, until the Fire of that infernal Lake fhall and flame about their Ears? Let the Angles blufh, Heaven and Earth be amazed, and all the Creatures stand aftenifhed at it. I am sure a Time will come, when the Tares shall feel, what now they may juftly fear; you hear enough, such Weed must be bound, thus trials is the Lord's Command: Bind them in bundles to burn them.

But all is not done, Chains have their Links, and we must bring all together. Sinners are coupled in Hell as Tares in Bundles; but of these when we next meet; in the mean while let this we have heard, bind us all to our Duties, that we bear attentively, remember carefully, praife conftantly, that so God may reward accordingly, and at laft crown us with his glory. The Tares must be bound up in Bundles; but, Lord, make us free in heaven, to fit with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob in thy bleffed Kingdom.

In Bundles.

The Command is out: what? Bind; whom? them; how? in bundles: The Tares must on Heaps, which gives us a double Obedience.

General.

Special.

In the General it intimates these two Points; the gathering of the Weed, and its fevering from the wheat; both are bound in bundles, but the Wheat by itself, and the Tares by themfelves; as at that Doom, when all the World must be gathered, and fevered, fome stand at the right Hand, others at the left: fo at this Execution, fome are for the fire, and others for the Barn; they are bundled together, yet according to the the Difference of the several Parties, each from the other.

1. Observ. The Tares must together: Who is me, (faith David:) that I am constrained to dwell with Mesech, Psal. 120. 4. And if David think it woful to converse with his living Enemies, then what Punishment have the Wicked, whom the Devil and Damned, the black Angels and everlasting Horror must accompany for ever? The Tares must be gathered, and bundled, and the more Bundles, the more and more Miseries: Company yields no Comfort in Hell-fire; nay, what greater Discomfort than to see thy Friends in Flames, thy Fellows in Torments, the Fiends with flaming Whips, revenging each others Malice on thy self and Enemy? It was the rich Man's last Petition, when he had so many Repulses for his own Ease, to make one Suit for his living Brethren; he knew their Company would increas his Torment; to prevent which he cries out, I pray thee, father Abraham, that thou wouldst send Lazarus to my father's house, for I have five brethren, that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment, Luke 16. 27. 28. Why, it may be God will hear him for them, especially making such a reasonable Request as this was, that Lazarus might only warn his Brethren of future Judgment; no, but to teach you, if you sell your Souls to fin, to leave a rich Posterity on Earth, you shall not only your selves, without all Remorse and Pity, be damned in Hell; but your Posterity shall be a Torment to you whilst they live, and a greater Torment, if they come to you when they are dead. To converse with Devils is fearful, but altogether to accompany each other, is a Plague fit for Tares: In this Life they flourished amongst the Wheat, Let them grow both together, corn and tares until the harvest. But the Harvest come, God will now separate them both abunder, and as in Heaven there are none but Saints, so in Hell there are none but Reprobates: To encrease this Torment, as they grow together, so all their Conference is to curfe each other: Moab shall cry against Moab, Father against Son, Son against Father; what Comfort in this Company? The Devil that was Author of such Mitchiefs, appears in most grizzly Forms, his Angels, the black Guard of Hell, torture poor Souls in Flames: there live Swearers with their flaming Tongues, Ufurers with talent Hands, Drunkards with scorched Throats, all these Tares like fiery Faggots burning together in Hell-flames; this is the first Punishment, all the Tares must meet, they are bundled together.

Observ. 2. As the Tares must together, so they must together by themselves; thus are they bundled, and sever'd; bundled all together, but from the Wheat all abunder.

Hell is called Damnation, because it brings Heaven's Loss; and this by consent of most Divines, is the most horrible Part of Hell: So Basil, * To be alienated or separated from the Presence of God, his Saints and Angels, is far more grievous than the Pain of Hell. So Chrysostom, † The Pain of Hell is intolerable indeed; yet a thousand Hells are nothing to the Loss of that most glorious Kingdom. So Bernard, ‡ It is a pain far surpassing all the Tortures in Hell, † Quia damni possumus infert.

Hom. 24.

* Basil Afer. in c. 2. pag. 155.

‡ Bern. de interdomo, cap. 38.
Hell's Horror.

But to see God, and those Joys immortal, which are prepared for his Children. O then what Hells are in Hell, when besides the Pains of Sense, there is a Pain of Loss, the Loss of God, Loss of Saints, Loss of Angels, Loss of Heaven, Loss of that beatific Vision of the most sovereign Good, our ever-blessed Maker? Consider with your selves, if at the parting of the Soul and Body there be such Pangs and Grips, and Stings, and Sorrows: what Grief then will it be, to be severed for ever from the highest and supremest Good? Suppose your Bodies, as some Martyrs have been used, should be torn inunder, and that wild Horrors, driven contrary ways, should rack and pull your Arms and Legs, and Heart and Bowels, one Piece from another, what an horrible Kind of Death would this be, think you? and yet a thousand Rentings of this Member from that, or of the Soul from the Body, are infinitely less than this one Separation of the Soul from God. When Jacob got the Blessing from his Brother Esau, it is said in the Text, that he roared with a great cry and bitter, saying to his Father, Halt thou not revered one blessing for me also? Gen. 27. 31. Imagine then, when the Wheat must have the Blessing, how will the Tares (figured in Esau) roar and cry, and yet and howl again? and yet notwithstanding this unspeakable Rage, all the Tears of Hell shall never be sufficient to bewail the Loss of Heaven. Hence breeds that Worm that is always gnawing at the Conscience; A worm, faith our Saviour, that dies not, Mark 9. 44. It shall lie Day and Night, biting and gnawing, and feeding upon the Bowels of the damned persons. O the Stings of this Worm! no sooner shall the Damned consider the Cause of their Misery, to wit, the mis-spending of their Time, the greatness of their fin, the many Opportunities lost, when they might have gotten Heaven for a Tear, or a sign, or Groan from a penitent Heart; but this Worm, or Remorse, shall at every Consideration give them a deadly Bite, and then shall they roar it out. Miserable Wretch, what have I done? I had a Time to have wrought out the Salvation of my Soul, many a powerful searching Sermon have I heard, anyone Passage whereof (had I not wickedly and wilfully forsock mine own mercy) might have been unto me the Beginning of the new Birth; but those golden Days are gone, and for Want of a little Sorrow, a little Repentance, a little Faith, now am I burning in Hell-fire: O precious Time! O Days, Months, Years, how are ye vanished, that you will never come again? And have I thus miserably undone myself? Come, Furies, tear me into as many pieces as there are Mates in the Sun, rip up my Breast, dig into my Bowels, pull out my Heart, leave me not an Hair on my Head, but let all burn in these flames, till I moulder into nothing. O Madnes of Men, that never think on this all the Days of your Visitation! and then when the bottomless Pit hath shut her-self upon you, thus will this Worm gnaw your Heart with un conceivable Griefs. Be amazed, O ye Heavens! tremble thou Earth! let all Creatures stand astonish'd, whilst the Tares are thus sentenced, Bundle them, and burn them.

Thus far of the Word in general: But if we look on it with a more narrow Eye, it gives to our Hands this special Observation.

Observe. The Tares must have Chains proportionable to their Sins: Bind them in Bundles, faith my Text, not in one, but in many Faggots, an Adulterer with an Adulteress, a Drunkard with a Drunkard, a Traitor with a Traitor.
As there be several sins, so several Bundles, all are punished in the same Fire, but all are not punished in the same Degree; some have heavier Chains, and some have lighter, but all in just Weight and Measure. The Proud shall be trod under Foot, the Glutton suffer inestimable Hunger, the Drunkard feel a burning Thirst, the Covetous pine in Wants, the Adulterer ly with Serpents, Dragons, Scorpions. Give me leave to bind these in Bundles, and so leave them for the Fire; they are first bundled, then burned.

1. Where is Lady Pride and her Followers? see them piled for the Furnace: You that set with your Balls and Bracelets, Tyres and Tablets, Rings and Jewels, and changeable Suits, Isa. 3. Think but what a Change will come, when all you (like Birds of a Feather) must together, to be bound in Bundles. What then will your Pride avail, or your Riches profit, or your Gold do good, or your Treasures help, when you must be constrained to vomit up again your riches, the increase of your house departing away, and a Fire not blown utterly consuming you and them, Job 26. 26. The rich Man in the Gospel could for a Time go richly, fare sumptuously, and that not only on Sabbaths or Holy-days, but, as the Text, every Day; yet, no sooner had Death feized on his Body, but he was fain to alter both his Suit and Diet; here him how he begs for Water, that had Plenty of Wines; and see him, that was clothed in Purple, now appareled in another suit, yet of the same Colour too, even in purple Flames: O that his delicate Morfels must want a Drop of Water, and that his fine Apparel must cost him to dear, as the high Price of his soul! Why, rich Man, is it come to this? The Time was, that Purple and fine Linen was thy usual Apparel, that Banquets of tumefious Dishes were thy ordinary Fare; but now, not the poorest Beggar, even Lazarus himself, that would change Estate with thee: Change, said I? No; Remember, faith old Abraham, t hat thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and like wife Lazarus evil things; but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented, Luke 16. 25.

2. But there are other Bundles, where is Gluttony and her Surfeits? Do we not see how the Earth is plowed, the Sea furrowed, and all to furnish one Epicure's Table? Serves sends Fruit, Canary Sugars, Molucces Spices, Egypt Balsamum, Candy Oils, Spain sweet Meats, France Wine; our own Land cannot satisfy, but foreign Kingdoms and Countries must needs be sacrificed to our Belly-gods: But what Dainties have such Nabals when they come to Hell? There is a black Banquet prepared for Devils and Reprobates; the first Dish is Weeping, the second, Gnashing of Teeth, and what Mirth is there where these two Courses must last all the Feast? The lazy Friar sweating at his long Meats and Meals, Heu quantum patimur, cries he, Alas, how much do we suffer which are Friers! But alas, how much must you suffer at this Supper, where the Meat is Poison, the Attendants, Furies; the Music, Grains; and Time without End, the Sauce of every Dish? See here the Provision for the Damned, their Chains loose not, their Fire cools not, their Worm dies not, their Woes ends not, such Gall and Vinegar bitterness every Morzel. God hath proportioned this Punishment for these Sins, they are sent from Surfeits to an empty Dungeon, that sent away Beggars empty from their Doors.

3. But more Bundles yet, where is Drunk
Drunkennels with her Rioters? Lo, they are trodden under foot, faith the Prophet, they whose tables are full of vomit and filthiness, Isaiah 28. 3. are now driven to that scarciety and Want, that not a Cup of Wine, nor a Drop of Water can be got in all Hell for them. Sin must have its Punishment in a just Proportion; the Tongue of that rich Man that had turned down so many Tuns of Wine, cannot procure one Drop of Water in Hell to cool it: In his Tongue he sinned, in his Tongue he is tormented; Fiery Heats breed a scorching Thirst, yet because he denied Lazarus a Crumb of Bread, Lazarus must not bring him a Drop of Water: How? a Drop of Water? Alas! what are ten thousand Rivers, or the whole Sea of Water unto that infinite World of Fire? Here is a poor suit indeed, what begs he but a Cup of Water, an Handful of Water, a Drop of Water; nay, were it but a wet Finger to cool the Tip of his scorch'd Tongue? Hearken, ye Drunkards, and fear these Flames that one Day must parch your Tongues. Here you may recreate yourselves by sleep, when you have too much, or by idle Company when you would have more, but hereafter you shall find no Means to qualify these Pains; sleep there is none, tho' it be nothing but an everlasting Night; Friends there be none, tho' all could profess their everlasting Loves; you may indeed commerce with some Company, but who are they, save Devils and Reprobates, (miserable Comforters!) in the same Condemnation? Who is not sober, that knows what Portion must befall these Reprobates? Their Mouths dry as Dust, their Tongues red as Fire, their Throats parch'd as Coals, all their Bowels clung together as the burning Parchment. He that forces iniquity shall reap vanity; the Drunkard that abuseth so much Wine, muft there want a little Water, his Tongue shall cleave to the Roof of his Mouth, and Goblets of boiling Lead run down his Throat; as the Pleasure so the Pain; he was comforted and is tormented.

4. And yet more Bundles, where is Covetousness and her Gripers! O the iron Age we live in! was there ever less Love? ever more dissimbling? The Covetous hoardeth, holdeth, oppresseth, or, it may be, puts out to Usury, but never without Sureties, Pledges, Morgages, Bills or Bonds: Think of those Bonds, ye Covetous, that must bind you in Bundles; had you ten thousand Worlds, and were they all composed of purest Gold, and brimful of richest Jewels, yet would you caft them all at the Foot of some Lazarus, for one Drop of Water, or one Puff of Wind to cool any Part or Piece of your tormented Members. See the cruel Effect of sin; he that hath no Pity shall not be pitied; no, He shall have judgment without mercy, that hath showed no mercy, James 2. 13. Thus to pay the Covetous in his own Coin, Coffers and Chests shall be brought before him, there shall Devils ring him a Peal of his damned Coin, of Pounds, of Shillings, of Pence, these Accounts shall found through his Ears; and to satisfy his Heart, melted Gold shall be poured down his Throat, yea, he shall be served too with his Meat in Plate, and Plate and Meat all boil together to his loathed supper; thus hath God satisfied him that could never satisfy himself, his Gold now wants no Weight, his silver is not scarce, Mountains and Loads are prepared for him to his greater Torments.

5. Yet again more Bundles, where is Adultery with her Minions? Lo, ugly fiends do embrace them, and the Furies of of Hell be as their bosom concubines, I have read some-where (but I will not deliver it as a Truth) that a voluptuous man dying and going to this place of Torment, he was there saluted in this fearful manner: First, Lucifer commands to fetch him a Chair, and forth- with an iron chair and red-hot with sparkling Fire was brought, and he set thereon: This done, Lucifer commands again to fetch him Drink, and a Drink of melted Lead was brought in a cup, which they straightway pouring into his open Mouth, anon it came running out of all his Members: This done, Lucifer commands again, that according to his use they should fetch him Musicians to make him merry, and a sort of Musicians came with hot glowing Trumpets, and sounding them at his Ears (whereunto they laid them) anon there came sparks of fire leaping out of his Mouth, his Eyes, and Nostrils, all about him; this done, Lucifer commands again, that according to his wonted manner he should have his Concubines, and upon this they bring him to a Bed of fire, where Furies give him Kisses, fiery Serpents hug about his neck, and the gnawing worm fixes Blood from his Heart and Breasts, for ever and ever.

Howsoever in this Story, it may be altogether Truth was not brought a Bed, yet imagine what a welcome shall be to the damned souls? Their Eyes shall startle, their Ears glow, their Nostrils suck up flames, their Mouths taste Bitterness, and for the sense of Feeling, (according to the measure of their sin) they are wrapped in the gristy embraces of stinging and stinking flames; where now are those dainty delights, sweet Muffick, merry Company? Are all left behind? And is their no recreation in those Smoky Vaults? Unhappy Dungeon, where there is no order but horror, no singing but howling, no ditties but their woes, no cons-fords but shrieks, no beauty but blackness, and no perfumes or odour, but pitch and Sulphur. Let the heat of this Fire cool the heat of your Luft, pleasure ends with pain. In as much (as upon Bitterness) as the harlot glorified her self, and lived in pleasure, so much give ye to her torment and sorrow, Revell. 18. 7.

You see now (Beloved) what Tares are in bundles, the Proud, Gluttons, Drunkards, Covetous, Adulterers; these and such others are bundled by the Reapers at the general Harvest.

Ufe, O then, having yet a little Time, how should we labour to escape Hell's Horror? Let the Proud be humbled, the Epicure flain, the Drunkard pray, the Adulterer chastise himself to pull down his Body; and for the Covetous Wretch, let him with all holy greedines lay out his Bags for the eternal good of his Soul: Alas, one foot in Heaven is better than all your Lands on Earth. I had rather be a Door keeper in the House of my God, than to dwell in the Tents (in the houses, in the Palaces) of the wicked, Psal. 84. 10.

Now then in the fear of God reform your Lives, and your Harvest, without Question, shall be the joy of Heaven; or if Tares will be Tares, what remains but Binding, and Bundling? Bind them, bundle them, burn them.

The Harvest is done, and the Angels sing and shout for their ended task: the Tares are reaped, the furrows cleansed, the sickles laid aside, the sheaves bundled: And to shut up all, they must be burned: But stay we them a while, and at our next meeting we will let them on Fire. God make us better Seed, that we may receive a better Crop, even that Crown of Glory in the highest Heavens.
To burn them.

We have followed the Prisoners from the Bar, and brought them to the Stake, what remains further but to kindle the Faggots, and so to flux up all with the Burning?

Hell fire (at the first naming) makes my Soul to tremble, and would the boldest Courage but enter into a serious meditation, what it were to lie everlastingly in a red-hot scorching Fire, how could be chuse but stand astonished at the Consideration? It is a furious Fire: Rouze up (beloved) for either this, or nothing will awake you from the sleep of Sin wherein you short too securely.

Some differences there are about this Fire: Many think it a metaphorical, others a material Fire; be it whether it will, it is every way fearful, and far above the reach either of human, or, angelical thoughts to conceive.

If it be metaphorical (as Gregory and Calvin are of mind) then is it either more, or nothing less terrible: When the Holy Ghost shadows unto us the joys of Heaven by Gold, and pearls, and precious stones, Rev. 21. There is no one thinks but those joys do far surpass these shadows: And if the pains of hell are set out by Fire, and Flames, and Brimstone, and burning, what pains are those, to which these are nothing but dumb shows or Types?

Or if Hell-fire be material (as Austin and Bullenger do conjecture) yet is it far beyond any fire on Earth: Mark but the differences, our Fire is made for Comfort; Hell-fire is created for nothing else but Torment: Our Fire is blown with some Airy Breath of Man, but Hell-fire is blown with the angry Breath of God: Our Fire is fed with the Fuel of Wood or Coal, but Hell-fire is tempered with all the terrible tor-

uring Ingredients of Sulphur, and Brimstone; or (to cut the way nearer) I will reduce all the Differences to some of their four, and so proceed in their Order: They differ; First, in Heat; secondly in Light; thirdly, in their Objects; fourthly in Durance.

First, in Heat: The pile thereof is fire and much wood, and the Breath of the Lord, like a stream of brimstone doth kindle it, Is. 30. 33: This Fire is not made by the Hand of Man, nor blown from the bellows of some Forge, nor fed with any fuel of combustible matter: No, it is the Arm of God, and the Breath of God, and the Anger of God that kindles it sharply, and continues it everlastingly; and, I pray, if the Breath that kindles it be like a Stream of Brimstone, what is the Fire itself? You know there is a great difference between the heat of our Breath, and the Fire in our Chimneys: Now then, if the Breath of God that kindles Hell-fire be dissolved into Brimstone, what a fearful Fire is that, which a great torrent of Burning Brimstone doth ever mightily blow? A torrent of Brimstone said I? No, it is not Brimstone, but like Brimstone, like to our capacity, although, for the Nature, this like is not like; nay, could we know exactly what this breath were, you would say (I warrant you) it were far more hotter than ten thousand Rivers of Brimstone, were they all put together: Our God (faith the Apostle) is a consuming Fire, Heb. 12. 29. And if God be a Fire, what then is Hell-fire, kindled by the Breath of God? O my soul, how canst thou but tremble at the thought of this fire, at which the very Devils themselves do quake and shiver: Pause a while and consider; were thou arraigned at some earthly Bar, thy doom past, the Execution at hand, and thy Body now ready to be cast, (as many a Martyr's was) into some burning fire, or boiling Cauldron: O how wouldest thou shout and rore, and cry through the extremity of Torment? But what is a boiling Cauldron to that boiling Sea of fire and brimstone? Pitch and sulphur, boil altogether, were not this enough? See there the perplexing Properties of such heats; they burn as Brimstone, darkly to grief the Sight, sharply to afflict the Sense, loathsomely to perplex the smell: It is a Fire that needs no Bellows to kindle it, nor admits of the least Air to cool it; the Fuel waftes not, the smoke vents not; the Chimneys are but Reprobates Candles, where they lie scorching, burning, howling their lullabies, and their Nurtures Furies. The Flames of Nebuchadnezzar's Fire, could ascend forty nine Cubits, but if Hell be a bottomless Pit, sure these Flames have an endless Height: How hot then is that glowing Oven, where the fire burns lively, the blasts go strongly, the wheels turn roundly, and the darkened Fuel are those damned Souls that burn in an Heat surpassing ours, unspeakable of us; here is one difference:

| 2dly, As Hell-fire differs from ours in Heat, so in Light; Call that unprofitable Servant (faith our Saviour) into utter darkness. Mat. 25. 30. | Utter, to perplex the Mind; Darkness, to confound the Eye. Consider but the Terrore of this Circumstance; if a Man alone in Darkness should suddenly hear a Noise of Ghosts and Spirits coming towards him, how would his Hair bristle, his Tongue faltter, his blood run to the Heart? Yea, (I dare say) although he felt never a lash from them on his Body, yet the only howling of Devils would make his very inmost Heart to shake and shudder? Othen, what horror is that, when Darkness must surrouud thee, and Devils hollow to thee, and Reprobates shrick at the leaking of their Bodies, and all Hell be filled with the Cries and Echoes of Wo, wo, wo for their Torments, and the Darkness? May be you will object, if there be Fire, there is assuredly Light: nay, (without Question) this Fire hath Heat, no Light: it is a dark smoky Flame, that burns dim to the Eye, yet sharp to the Sense; or it may be, as some do imagine) this Fire affords a little Sulphurous or obfcur Light, but how? Not for Comfort, but Confusion. Conceive it thus, he that in the twilight sees deformed Images, or in the Night beholds shapes of Ghosts, and Spirits, by a dim dark Light, why better he saw nothing, then such terrible Visions; such fears may a thousand Times worse are presented to the Eyes of Reprobates; they may discern through Darkness, the ugly Faces of Fiends, the foul vifages of Reprobates, the furious Torments of their Friends, or Parents, while all lie together in the fame Condemnation. What Comfort affords this Light, where nothing is seen but the Judge's Wrath, and the Prisoners Punishment? O (will they cry) that our Eyes were out or the Flames were quenched, or that some period were put to this endless Night of Darkness! But all in vain; lo, pillars of smoke arise out of the internal Pit, which darken the Light, as the Fire lightens the darkness: And this the second difference.

3. There is yet another Difference in the F ewel or Object of this Fire; ours burns not without Materials, this works also on Spirituals. It is I confess, a Question whether Devils suffer by Fire? and how may that be? Some are of Opinion, that they are not only Spirits, but have Bodies; not organi- cal as ours, but aerial; or somewhat more Lastly, There is a difference in Dura-ance, our Fire dies quickly but Hell-fire lasts for ever. This is done (laith Aussin*) admirably, yet actually, the burning Bodies never consume, the kindled fire never wanes with any length of Time. We read of a certain Salt in Sicilia, that if put into the Fire, it swims as in Water, and being put into Water crackles as in fire: We read of a Fountain in Libya, that in a cold Night is so hot, that none can touch it, and in a hot Day so cold that none could drink it: If God thus work Miracles on Earth, do'st thou seek a Reason of God's high and heavy Judgment in Hell? I see the pit, I cannot find the depth; there is a Fire that now stands as it were created; it must be endured, yet never, never must be ended. The custom of some Countries, that burn Malefactors, use the least Fires for greatest Offenders, that to the Heat being lessened, the pains might be prolonged; but if this be so terrible to them, whose Fire is but little, and whose Time cannot be long;
what an exceeding horrible Torment is this in Hell, where the Fire is extreem great, and the Time for ever and everlasting? Suppose you, or any one of you should lie one Night grievously afflicted with a raging fit of the Stone, Cholick, Strangury, Tooth-ach, pangs of Travel, and a thousand such misa-tries incident to Man, how would you toss and tumble? How would you turn your sides, tell the Clock, count the Hours, expect every Moment for the gay-bright Morn, and till then esteem every Hour a Year, and every Pang a Misery matchless, and intolerable?
O then what will it be (think you) to lie in fire and brimstone, kept in high-

et flame by the unquenchable Wrath of God; World without End? How tedious will be that endless Night, where the Clock never strikes, the time never passes, the Morn never dawns, the Sun never rises; where thou canst not turn, nor toil, nor tumble, nor yet take any Rest; where thou shalt have nothing about thee but Darkness, and Horror, and wailing, and yelling, wringing of Hands, and gnashing of Teeth for evermore? Good Lord, that for a smile of present pleasure, Men should run upon the Rock of eternal Vengeance! Come, ye that pursue vanity, and see here the Fruit of Sin at this Harvest of Tares,* Pleasures are but momentary, but the pangs are eternal: Eternal? How long is that? Nay, here we are silenced, no Limner can set it forth, no Orator can express it; - if all Times that ever were, and ever shall be, should be put together, they would infinitely come short of this fiery eternity; the latitude thereof is not to be measured, neither by Hours, nor Days, nor weeks, nor Months, nor Years, nor Lustra's, nor Olympiads, nor Indictions; nor Julies, nor Ages, nor Plato's Years, nor by the most slow Motions of the eight Spheres, though all these were multiplied by Thousands, or Millions, or the greatest Multiplier, or number numbering that can be imagined. Plainly in a Word, count if you please, ten hundred thousand Millions of Years, and add a thousand myriads of Ages to them, and when all is done, multiply all again by a Thousand, thousand, thousand of thousands, and being yet too short, count all the Thoughts, Motions, Mutations of Men and Angels; add to them all the sands of the Sea, Piles on the Earth, Stares in the Heavens; and when all this is done, multiply all again by all the Numbers, squares, cubicks of Arithmetick; and yet all these are so far short of Eternity, that they neither touch end, nor middle, nor the least part or parcel of it: What then is this which the damned suffer? eternal Fire? we had need to cry out, Fire, fire, fire; Alas, to what End? There is no help to extinguish Fire that must burn for ever: Your Buckets may quench other Fires, not this; No Milk nor vinegar can extinguish that wild Fire: It is a Fire which no means can moderate, no Patience can endure, no Time can tor ever change, but in it whosever wofully lies, their Flesh shall fry, their Blood shall boil, their Hearts consume; yet they shall never die, but dying live, and living die; Death in Life, Life in Death, miserable ever. This is that Consideration, which shall bring all the damned Reprobates to shriek and howl everlastingly: Were they persuaded that after Millions of Years they should have one Year of Pleasure, or after thousands of Millions they should have some End of Torment, here would be a little Hope; But this Word Ever, breaks their Hearts under: This ever, ever, gives new Life again to th'insufferable Sorrows; and hence it is, that when all those Millions of Years are done and gone, then (God knows) must the Wheels of their Torment whirl about and about: Alas, the Fire is durable, the Heat continual, the Fuel immortal, and such is the end of Tares, they will Burn without end: Bind them in Bundles to burn them.

Lo here the fire of Hell, which compared to ours on earth, it differs in Heat, in Light, in Fuel, in Durance: Let your Souls work on these Objects, that they never come nearer to those flames.

* Momentaneum quod deletat, aeternum quod cruciat.
Hell's Horror.

Use 1. Who amongst us would dwell with devouring fire? who amongst us would dwell with everlasting burnings? Isaiah 33. 14. Beloved, as you tender your Souls, and would escape the Flames, reform your Lives while you have yet a little Time. You hear it found in Synagogues, and preached in Pulpits: What found? but Heaven or Hell, Joys or Torments; the one befalling the good, and the other the just End of the wicked. Do we believe this Truth? And dare we commit Sin, whose reward is this fiery Death? Upon due Consideration, how is it that we sleep or rest, or take a Minutes Eafe? Lesser Dangers have bestraffed some out of their Wits, nay bereaved many of their Lives; how is it then that we run headlong into this Fire, yet never weigh whether we are going, till we are dropping into the Pit, whence there is no Redemption. Look about you while it is called to Day, or otherwise wo and alas that ever you were born; be sure a Time will come, when miseries shall march, Angels bear alarms, God found Destruction, and the Tents of his Enemies be all set on Fire: Bind them in Bundles to burn them.

Use 2. Or yet, if Comparisons can prevail; suppose one of you should be taken, and brought along to the mouth of an hot fiery Furnace, then (comparing sin with its Punishment) might I question you, how much Pleasure would you ask, to continue there burning but one Year? How much (would you say?) surely not for all the Pleasures and Treasures that all this world can afford you. How is it then, that for a little sin, that endures but a Moment, so many of you so little regard eternal Punishment in Hell-fire? If we should but see a little Child fall into the Fire, and his very Bowels burnt out, how would it grieve us, and make our very Hearts bleed within us? How much more then should it grieve you to see, not a Child, but your own Bodies and Souls cast away for a momentary sin into the Lake of Fire, that never shall be quenched? If a Man should come amongst us, and cry, Fire, fire, thy House is all on Fire, thy Corn, thy Cattel, thy Wife, thy Children, and all thou hast are burning altogether, how would this astonish us, making both the Hair to stand upright on our Heads, and the Tears to gush out of our Eyes? Behold then, and see the Spirit of God cries out, Fire, fire; even the dreadful Fire of Hell gapeth ready to devour, not thy House, thy Corn, or thy Cattel, but thy poor Soul, and that for evermore: O then how should this break your flinty hearts afunder, and make your Souls bleed again and again; if you have any Spark of Grace, this methinks should move you to a strict Course of Life; if you have any Care of your Souls, this methinks should make you to walk humbly, and purely, carefully and conscientiously towards God, and towards Man; if not, what remains but fire, fire; Bind them in bundles to burn them.

3. Or yet, if Example can persuade us more, meditate on the miserable Condition of that nameless rich Man: Suppose you saw him in Hell-torments, compass about with Furies, Fires, and all that black Guard below, his tongue flaming, his Eyes staring, his Conscience biting, his Soul suffering, his Body all over burning in that Fire of Hell. O lamentable Sight! but to make it more lamentable, hearken how he rores and cries through the Extremity of Pains. O Torment, Torment! how am I tormented in this Fire? my Head, my Heart, my Eyes, my Ears, my Tongue; my Tongue is all on Fire, what shall I do: whither shall I fly for Succour? Within me is the Worm, without me is Fire.
The text on the page reads:

"Hell's Horror.

Fire, about me are Devils, above me is Abraham, and what glorious Star is under I see, but Lazarus, poor Lazarus in his Bosom? what, is a Beggar exalted? and am I in Torments? Why, Abraham, Father Abraham, have mercy on me: See here a Man burning, scourging, frying in Hell flames, one Dram of Mercy, one Drop of Water to a tormented Soul: Oh I burn, I burn, I burn without ease or end, and is there none to pity me? Come, Lazarus, if Abraham will not hear, let me beg of thee, a Beggar, and bowsoever I denied thee a crumb of Bread, yet be so good, so charitable, as to dip the tip of thy Finger in Water, and cool my Tongue. It is a poor Suit I ask; not to dive, but dip; not thy Hand, but Finger; not all, but the Tip of it; not in Snow, but Water; not to quench, but to cool; not my Body, but my least member, be it my Tongue only: No Eafe so little, no grant so poor, no Remedy so small, but happy were I if I could obtain it, tho I begged it with Tears and Prayers of a thousand thousand Years Continuance: But see Abraham and Lazarus deny my Suits; I burn, and neither God, nor Saint, nor Angel takes pity on me; and shall I cry for help on Devils? alas! they are my Tormentors that left me, and cut me with their Whips of burning Steel and Iron. O Beloved! what shall we say to the raging Rage of this tormented Wretch? Alas, alas! how little do Men think on this? they can pass away Time sporting and playing, as if they went to Prision but for a few weeks or days; just like Men, who having the Sentence of Death past upon them, run fooling and laughing to the Execution; but when once Hell-mouth hath shut herself, then shall they find nothing but Eternity of Torments: In the Fear of God take heed of this Eternity, Eternity, lest you also come into this Place of Eternity, Eternity of Torment: It is the Doom of Tares, who to them whatsoever, that are of the number, for they, they must be gathered, and bound, and bundled, and burned.

We have now done our Tare, and ended the Harvest: if you please to cast back your Eye upon the particular delivered, they amount to this Sum. Whosoever a man sows, that shall he reap, Gal. 6. 7. If the Enemy sow Tares, and we nourish the Seed, what think you is the Harvest? Gather ye together first the Tares, faith our Saviour to the Angels; they are branded in their Name, Tares; Isped in the Time, first; curst in their Doom, gathered; but worst in the Hands of their Executioners, it is by Angels; and yet what is all this to the latter Work in hand? If the Tares weeded up might rot in the Furrows, the Punishment were less, but as they are gathered, so they must be bound. Is that all? nay, as they are bound, so they must be bundled. Is that all? nay, as they are bound and bundled, so they must be burned. Bind them in bundles to burn them. I must end this Text, yet am loath to leave you where it ends: As there is an Harvest of Tares, so there is a better Harvest of Wheat. They that sow in tears, shall reap in Joy, Psalm, 126. 5. If we repent us of our sins, we shall have a blessed Harvest indeed; how? forty Grains for one? Nay, by the Promise of our Saviour, an hundred fold. A measure heaped, and shaken, and thrust together, and yet running over, Luke 6. 3. 8. Every Saint shall have Joy and Glory, Fountains of Pleasure, and Rivers of Delight, where they may swim, and bathe their Souls forever and ever: what the Tares must to the Fire? the Wheat is gathered into Heaven. Pray you then with me, That we may be Wheat, not Tares; and God so bless the Seed, that every Soul of us may have a joyful Harvest in the Kingdom of Heaven. Amen."
RIGHT PURGATORY.

Hebr. i. 3. When he had by himself purged our sins.

The Point is not full, but to make it up, the Text stands compact with Words of Wonder, concerning the Word, our Saviour, he that is the Son of God, Heir of all things, Creator of the World, the Brightness of his Glory, the Image of his Person, and Upholder of all things by the word of his Power, stands here as the Subject of Humility and Glory. He purged our sins, and sits at the right Hand of the Majesty on high. He purged our sins, by his suffering on the Cross; He sits at God’s right hand, by obtaining the Crown; He purged our sins, by dying for them; He sits on God’s right hand, by ruling with him: What need we more? here is his Passion and Session in the same Order he performed them; for then He sat down on the right hand of his Father, when he had by himself purged our sins.

But to come nearer the Words, they are as the Drugs of an Apothecary, and we will examine the Ingredients. O I am sick of Love, faith the Church, Cant. 5. 8. Sick indeed, not of Love only, but of sin also; a Disease that infatuates the Mind, gripes the Conscience, distempers the Humours, disturbs the Passions, corrupts the Body, indangers the Soul: Is not he blessed that can help this Malady? Come then, ye that labour of sin, and to your endless Comfort see here the Manner of the Cure; there is a Physician, He; the Patient, himself; the Physick administered, when he had purged; the ill Humours evacuated, when he had purged our sins.

Or to gather up the Crumbs, left in this costly Receit or Physick any thing be lost; see here the Remedy given and compact with each necessary Circumstance; the Time, When; the Person, he; the Matter, purged; the Manner, by himself; the Disease, sin; the Extent of it, our. Observe all, and you find no Time more dismal than this When; no Person more humbled than this he; no Physick more operative than this Purge; no Disease more dangerous, no Plague more spreading than sin, our sin, for which he suffered, When he by himself had purged our sins.

We have opened the Body of the Text, now look on the Parts, and you may see the Anatomy of our Saviour in every Member of it.

When.

The Text begins with the Time,
When, he had purged; and this Time, faith * Erasimus, according to the Original denotes the Time past, left that we had thought He bad purged our sins by his setting him down at the right hand of God. First therefore, faith the Apostle, he purged, and then sate: he first purged by his Death, and when that was done, He sat at the right hand of the Majesty, in the highest places. Whence observe;

Doct. The Time that Christ purged, was in the Days of his Humiliation.
Then he was born, Mat. 1. 18. then he was tempted, Mat. 4. 1. then was he circumcised, Luke 2. 21. then was he traduced, Mat. 11. 19. then was he persecuted, John 8. 59. then was he betrayed, Mat. 26. 16. then was he apprehended, Mat. 26. 56. then was he mocked, Mat. 27. 29. then was he crucified, Mat. 27. 35. But as all his Life was full of Infirmity, so according to the Nature of all Infirmities, he had those four Times mentioned by Physicians in his Life; The Beginning, the Increase, the Akmen or State, and Declination. Give me leave but to prosecute these Times, and by that time we have done, the Hour
I know, will summon us to a Conclusion.

his Ministry, he hath no House to repose him, no Money to relieve him, no Friends to comfort him. See him first set on by Satan, then by Men; he is led into the Wilderness by the Spirit, and there he falls forty Days and forty Nights, without bit of Bread, or drop of Water. The Devil (seeing this opportunity) begins his Temptation, who presently overcome, the Jews follow after him with hue and cry: Mark but their Words and Works: In Word they call him a glutton, a drunkard, a deceiver, a sinner, a mad-man, a Samaritane, and one possessed with a devil. Mat. 11. 19. and 27. 63. John 9. 24. and 10. 20. and 8. 48. Good Words I pray! is not he the anointed of God? The Saviour of Men? yes; but They rendered me evil for good, and hated for my good will, said the Psalmist in his Peril, Psal. 35. 12 When therefore he did Miracles, he was a Sorcerer; when he reproved Sinners, he was a seducer; when he received Sinners, he was their Favourer; when he healed the sick, he was a breaker of the Sabbath; when he cast out Devils, it was by the Power of Devils; what and how many unjust contumelies indured he of the Pharisees, who sometimes cast him out of the City, accused him of Blasphemy, cried out upon him, he was a man not worthy to live. And as they say, they do; observe but their Works: First, They send Officers to apprehend him, but they being overcome with the Grace of his Speeches, return only with this Answer, Never man spake like this man. John 7. 46. Then took they up Stones to stone him, but by his miraculous Passage (while they are a conspiring his Death) he escaped out of their hands. John 10. 36. Then led they him to an hill, thinking to throw him down headlong, and yet all would not do, or ere they were aware of it, hefairly passeth through the midst of them all. Luke 4. 10. At last his last Passion draws near, and then Men and Devils combine in one to make him at once wretched and miserable: He is despised and rejected of men; yea, he is a man full of sorrows, (faith the Prophet) and hath experience of infirmities, Isa. 53. 3.

Or for a further Inquiry, let us do what our Saviour bids, Search the Scriptures, for they are they which testify of him. John 5. 39. We have but two Testaments in the whole Bible, and both these give full evidence of Christ's miserable Life. In the Old Testament it was prefigured by Adam's Penalties, Abel's Death, Abrahams Exile, Isaacs offering, Jacob's wrestling, Joseph's Bonds, Job's Suffering, David's Mourning; yea, the Prophets themselves were both Figures; and delivered Prophecies of our Saviour's afflictions. Thus Isaiah of him: Surely he hath born our Griefs, and carried our sorrows, yet we did esteem him Stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted, Isa. 53. 4. Thus Jeremiah of him: He gives his Cheeks to him that smites him, he is filled full with reproach, Lam. 3. 30. Thus Daniel of him, After threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be slain: And shall have nothing, Dan. 9. 26. Thus Zechariah of him, What are these Wounds in the midst of thy hands? And he shall say, With these wounds was I wounded in the house of my Friends, Zach. 13. 6. But come we to the New Testament; and in every Gospel, we may not only read, but see him suffer: Matthew, who relates the History of his Life; what writes he but a Tragedy, wherein every Chapter is a Scene? Look through the whole Book, and you read in the first Chapter, Joseph will not father him; in the second, Herod seeks to kill him; in the third, John the Baptist would needs needs out of his Humility deny him Baptism; in the fourth, he faits forty Days, and forty Nights, and is tempt- ed in the Wilderness; in the fifth, he foretells Persecutions, and all manner of evil against his Apostles; in the sixth, he teacheth his Church that strict couer of Life, in Fastling, Praying, giving of Almes, and forgiving of Enemies; in the seventh, he concludes his Sermon made on the top of a Mountain; in the eighth, he comes down, and towards Night hath no Houfe to harbour in, nor Pillow to rest his Head on; in the Ninth, he is rebuked of the Pharisees for not fasting; in the tenth, all Men hate his Disciples for his sake; in the eleventh, they call him that knew no Exces, a Glutton and a Drunkard; in the Twelfth, they tell him how he casts out Devils through Beelzebub Prince of Devils; in the thirteenth, they offend at him, and derive his pedigree from a Carpenter; in the Fourteenth, Herod thinks him to be John Baptift's Ghost; in the Fifteenth, the Scribes reprehend him for the breach of their Traditions; in the Sixteenth, the Sadducees tempt him for a Token; in the Seventeenth, he pays tribute to Cesar; in all the rest he foretells and executes his Passion: Now count not Chapters, but Hours, from that Hour wherein he was sought for, until the fiqh Hour of his crucifying; one betrays him, another apprehends him, one binds him, another leads him bound from Pilate to Herod, from Herod back again to Pilate; thus they never leave him, till his Soul leave the World, and he be a dead Man amongst them.

You have seen the Beginning and Increase, and we'll now draw the Curtains, that you may behold the Bridegroom where he lieth at Noon-day, to wit, in the state or vigour of his grievous sufferings.

This state, or Akmen (say Physicians) is when nature and the disease are in greatest contention, when all the symp- toms are become most vehement; so that either Nature or the infirmity must needs have the victory; and although (says Divines) all Christ's Life was full of miseries, yet principally and chiefly is that called his Passion, in Scripture, which he endured two Days before Death: And to this extrem Passion (faith a Modern*) is the purging of sins chiefly attributed. Come then, ye that pass by, behold, and see, if there was ever any Sorrow like unto this sorrow, which is done unto him in the Day of God's Anger. Lam. 1. 12. His Infirmities are now at full, and the Symptoms which made it evident unto us, are some inward, some outward; inwards in his Soul, outward in his Body: We'll take a view of them both.

1. His Soul, It began to be sorrowful, faith Matthew, Mat. 26. 37. To be a- mazed, and very heavy, faith Mark, Mark 14. 33. To be in an Agony; faith Luke, Luke 22. 44. To be troubled, faith John, John 12. 27. Here is sorrow, and hea- viness, and agony, and trouble, the estimate whereof we may take from his own Words in the Garden; My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: Matth. 26. 38. Now was the Time he purged, not only in his Body, but his Soul too; Now is my soul troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save me from this Hour, but for this cause came I unto this Hour, John 12. 27. A total Hour sure, of which it was said before often, His hour was not yet come; but being come, he could then tell his Disciples, The hour is at hand; Mat. 26. 45. and after tell the Jews, This is your Hour, and the power of darkness: Luke 22. 53. Now was it that Christ yielded his Soul for our Souls, to the intemperance of sorrow, perseverance of Pain, and dissolution of Nature: And therefore even sick with Sorrow, he never left Sweating, weeping and crying, till he was heard in that which he feared. Heb. 5. 7.
Right Purgatory!

1dly, As his Soul, so his Body had her symptoms of approaching Death: Our very Eye will soon tell us, no Place was left in his Body where he might be smitten, and was not: His Skin was torn, his Flesh was rent; his Bones unjointed, his Sinews strained; should we sum up all? See that Face of his, Fairer than the sons of men; Psal. 45. 1. How it is defiled with Spittle, swolln with Buffets, masked with a cover of Gore blood; See that Head, white as white wool, and Snow; Revel. 1. 14. how it is crowned with Thorns, beaten with a reed, and both Head and Hair dyed in a sanguine Red that issued from it: See those Eyes, that were as a flame of Fire, Revel. ibid. How they swim with Tears, are dim with Blood, and darken at the last approach of dreadful Death: See that Mouth, which spake as never Man spake; John 7. 46. How it is wan with strokes, grim with Death, and embittered with that tartest portion of Gall and Vinegar: Should we any lower? See those Arms that could embrace all the Power of the World, how they are strained and stretched on the Cross; those Shoulders that could bear the frame of Heaven, how they are lafted with knotty Cords, and Whips; those Hands that made the world, and all therein; how they are nailed and clenched to a piece of Wood; that Heart where never dwelt Deceit nor Sin, how it is pierced and wounded with a Soldier's Spear; Those bowels that yearned with Compassion of others Infirmities, how they are dry and pent with straining Pulls; those Feet that walked in the Ways of God, how they are boared, and fastened to a Cross with Nails: From Hand to Foot, there is no part free, but all over he is covered in a Mantle of cold Blood, whose Garments were doft before, and took of them that were his Hangmen: Poor Saviour, what a woful Sight is this? A bloody Face, thorny Head, watery Eyes, wan Mouth, strained Arms, lashed Shoulders, nailed Hands, wounded Heart, gripping Bowels, boared Feet: Here is sorry Pains, when no Part is free; And these are the outward Symptoms of his State that appear in his Body.

We have thus far seen our Son (the Son of righteousness Mal. 4. 2.) in the Day-break, and Rising, and height of his Suffering: What remains further, but that we come to the Declination, and so end our Journey for this Time?

This Declination (say Physicians) is,

* When Nature overcomes Sickness, so that all Diseases attain not this Time; but those, and those only that admit of a Recovery; yet howsoever (faith my Author) there is no true Declination before Death: There is at least a seeming Declination, when sometimes the symptoms may become more remiss, because of weak Nature yielding to the fury and tyranny of Death overcoming it. I will not say directly, that our Savi-are declined thus, either in Deed or in Fhew: for neither was the cup removed from him, nor died he by Degrees: but in perfect Sense, and perfect Patience both of Body and Soul, he did voluntarily, and miraculously resign his Spirit (as he was praying) into the hands of his Father. Here then was the true Declination of this Patient; not before Death, but in Death, and rightly too: For then was it that this Sun went down in a ruddy Cloud: Then was it that this Patient received the last Dregs of his Purge: then was it that God's Justice was satisfied, the consummum eff was effected, all was finished; as for his Burial, Resurrection, and Ascension, which follow after this Time, they serve not to make any satisfaction for Sin, but only to confirm it, or apply it, after it was made and accomplished.

Use. 1. But what Use of all this? Give me leave (I pray) to shake the Tree, and then do you gather the Fruit. From the first Part, his Birth, we may learn Humility, a Grace most prevailing with God for the obtaining of all Graces; this was it that made David a King, Moses a Governor; nay, what say we to Christ himself, who from his first Entrance, until his Departure to his Father, was the very Mirror of true Humility it self? Learn of me (faith he) to be humble and lowly in spirit, and you shall find rest unto your souls. Matth. 11. 29. Hereunto accorded his Doctrine, when he pronouncèd them Blessed who were poor in spirit, Matth. 3. 3. Hereunto accorded his Reprehension, when he disliked their manner who were wont to choose out the chief Rooms at feastvs: Luke 14. 7. Hereunto accorded his Practice, when he vouchsafed to wash his Disciples feet; and to wipe them with the towel where with he was girded. John 13. 5. O Humility, how great are thy Riches, that are thus commended to us! Thou pleast Men, delightest Angels, confoundest Devils, and bringest thy Creator to a Manger, where he is lapped in Rags, and cloathed in Flesh! Had we Christian Hearts to consider the Humility of our Redeemer, and how far he was from our haughty disposition, it would pull down our Pharisaical humours, and make us far better to remember our selves.

Use. 2. As we learn Humility from his Birth, so we may learn Patience from his Life. If any man will come after me (faith our Saviour) let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow me. Matth. 16. 14. Dear Christian, if thou wilt be faved, mind thy Christ: Art thou abused by Lies, Reproaches, evil sayings, or doings? We cannot more fhow how we have profited in Christ's School, than by fending them all: If Patience be in our Calamities: they are no Calamities, but Comforts: This is that Comfort that keeps the Heart from Envy, the Hand from Revenge, the Tongue from Contumely, and often overcomes our very Enemies themselves, without any weapons at all. Come then, and do you learn this Lesson of our blessed Redeemer! Are you stricken? So was Christ of the Jews: Are you mocked? So was Christ or the Souldiers: are you betrayed of your Friends? So was Christ of his Apostles. Are you accused of your Enemies? So was Christ of the Pharifees: Why complain you of being injured, and maligned, when you fee the Master of the Houfe himself called Beelzebub? Hereunto ye are called, (faith Peter) for Christ alfo suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps, 1 Pet. 2. 21.

Use. 3. As Patience from his Life, so we B b h b 2 may may learn Remorse from his Passion;
Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?
Lam. 1. 12. O look on him, and let this Look breed in you a Remorse and Sorrow for your sins: Our Saviour labouring in the Extremities of Pangs, his Soul is sick, his Body faints, and would you know the Reason? Why, thus is the Head wounded, that he might renew Health to all the Body; we sin, and Christ Jesus is heavy, and fore and sick, and dies for it; his Soul was in our Souls stead, his Body endured a Purgatory for us, that we both in Body and Soul might escape Hell-fire, which our sins had deserved; Who but considers what Evils our sins have done, that will not grieve and mourn at the sin he hath committed? Oh that my Head were a Fountain of Tears, that I might weep Day and Night for the sins of the Daughters of my People! We have sinned, we have sinned, and what shall we say to thee, O Saviour of Men! Alas! our sins have whipped thee, scourged thee, crowned thee, crucified thee, and if I have no Compassion to weep for thee, yet, O Lord, give me grace to weep for myself, who have done thus to thee: O my Saviour! O my sins! It is I that offend, it is thou must smart for it.

4. We may yet learn another Lesson, Christ, faith Paul, humbled himself, and became obedient to the death, even the death of the cross, Phil. 2. 8. and is it not our Parts to be obedient to him who became thus obedient for us? We may gather Humility from his Birth, and Patience from his Life, and Remorse from his Passion; and to make up the Poise, here is one Flower more, Obedience, which that Tree also yielded whereon he suffered. If you love me, faith our Saviour, keep my commandments. How, blessed Saviour? If you love me? Who will not love thee, who hath so dearly loved us, as to give up thy dearest Life for the Ransom of our Souls? But to tell us that there is no better Testimony of our Love, than to obey his Commands, he woos us with these sugared Words, (whose lips like lilies, are dropping down pure myrrhe, Cant. 5. 13. If you love me: if you love me, learn obedience of me, keep my commandments: And to move us the more, if all this cannot, what Love and Obedience was there in him, think you? Consider and wonder! That the Son of God would banish himself thirty three Years from his glorious Majesty; and what more? would be born Man; and what more? would be the meanest among Men; and what more? would endure the Miseries of Life; and what more? would come to the bitter Pangs of Death; and what more? would be made obedient to the death, even the death of the cross; a Degree beyond Death. O Son of God, whither doth thy Humility descend? But thus it must be, the Prophets had foretold it, and according to their Prophecies the Days were accomplished, When he himself must be purged: He was born, he lived, he suffered, he died, and thus run round the Wheels of those miserable Times; When he had by himself purged our sins.

You see the Time's past, and a new Time must give you the Remainder of the Text; the Time is When; the Person He; and He is that in Order will next come after; only have you the Patience, till we have the Leisure to draw out his Picture, and then you shall see him in some mean Proportion, who had by himself purged our sins.

He.]

We have observed the Time when he had purged, and now Time it is that you know the Physician who administers it: The Apostle tells you it is He, that is, Christ our Saviour, who seeing us labour in the Pains and Pangs of sin, he bows the heavens and comes down; he takes upon him our Frailty, that we thro' him might have the Remedy to escape Hell-fire. Come then, and behold the Man, who undertakes this Cure of Souls; He cometh leaping upon the mountains, leaping upon the hills, faith Solomon in his Song, Can. 2. 8. And, Would you know his Leaps, faith Gregory †? See then how he leaps from his Throne to his Cratch, from his Cratch to his Cross, from his Cross to his Crown; downwards and upwards, like a Roe or a young Hart upon the mountains of spices.

1. His first Leap downwards was from Heaven, and this tells us how he was God from everlasting; to said the Centurion, Surely this man was the Son of God, Mark 15. 39. How else? the fin of Man could no otherwise be expiated, but by the Son of God; Man had sinned, and God was offended, therefore God became Man, to reconcile Man to God: Had he been Man alone, not God, he might have suffered, but he could not have satisfied; therefore this Man was God, that in his Manhood he might suffer, and by his Godhead he might satisfy: O wonderful Redemption! that God must take upon him our Frailty: Had we thus far run upon the score of Vengeance, that none could satisfy but God himself? could he not have made his Angels Ambassadors, but he himself must come in Person? No; Angels, or Saints could neither supererogate; but if God will save us, God himself must come and die for us: It were sure no little Benefit, if the King would pardon a Thief; but that the King himself should die for this Malefactor, this were most wonderful, and indeed beyond all Expectation; and yet thus will the King of Heaven deal with us; he will not only pardon our Faults, but satisfie the Law: We sin against God, and God against whom we sin, must die for it: This is a Depth beyond founding, an Height above all human Reach: What is he? God.

2. But we must fall a Note, the Creator is become a Creature; if you ask what Creature? I must tell you tho' it were an Angel, yet this were a great Leap, which no created Understanding could measure; what are the Angels in Respect of God? He is their Lord, they but his Servants, Ministers, Messengers, and howsoever it would dazzle us to behold their Faces; yet cannot the brighteft Angels stand before God, but they are fain to cover their own Faces with a pair of wings, Isa. 6. 2. The Difference may appear in Rev. 5. 13, 14. where the Lamb is said to sit upon the throne, but the four Beasts and four and twenty elders fall down and worship him. Is not here a great Distance betwixt the Lamb in his Throne, and the Beasts at his Feet? and yet thus far will the Lamb descend, that for our sakes he will dethrone himself, reject his state, take the Office of an Angel, to bring us the glad Tidings of Salvation in purging our sins.

3. And was he an Angel? Nay, that was too much; He was made, faith the Apostle, a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, Heb. 2.

9. What? the Son of God to be made lower than the Angels? Here was a Leap beyond the Reach or Compass of all human Thoughts; he that made the Angels, is made lower by a little than the Angels; the Creator is not only become a Creature, but inferior to some Creatures that he did create: O ye Angels, how stand ye amazed at this Humility? that God your Master should become meaner than his Servants; that the Lord of Heaven should deny the Dignity of Power, Principalities, Cherubims, Seraphims, Arch-angel, or Angel: O Jesu! how contrary art thou to thy aspiring Creatures? Some Angels thro’ Pride would needs be as God, but God thro’ Humility is made lower than the Angels, not equal with them. But a Note below them, as David that sweet Singer of Israel sung, Thou madest him little lower than the angels, Psal. 8. 9.†

4. But how much lower? By a little, faith Paul; and if you would know what that little was; he tells you again, that He took not on him the nature of Angels, but he took on him the seed of Abraham, Heb. 2. 7, 16. Here is that great Abyss, which all the Powers of Heaven could no less but wonder at: Abraham’s Lord is become Abraham’s Son; the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath taken upon himself the seed of Abraham, the seed of Isaac, and the seed of Jacob; Wonder above Wonders! that God should take the shape of Angels is more than we can think; but to take on him the Nature of Man, is more than the Tongue of Angels can express; that the King of Heaven should leave his glorious Mansion, and from the Bottom of his Father come into the Womb of his Mother, from that Company of Angels, and Arch-angels, to a rude Rout of sinful Men: Tell ye the daughter of Zion. Behold, thy king cometh unto thee, faith the Prophet Isaiah in the 62. ch. v. 11. What could he less? and what canst thou more? wonderful Love that he would come, but more wonderful in the manner of his coming; he that before made Man a Soul after the Image of God, now makes himself a Body after the Image of Men; and he that was more excellent than all Angels, becomes leffer, lower than the Angels, even a mortal, miserable, wretched Man.

5. But what Man? as he is King of Heaven, let him be King of all the World; if he be Man, let him be the Ruler of Mankind: no, thou art deceived, O few, that expectest in thy Saviour the Glory of the World; fear not, Herod, the Loss of thy Diadem; for this Child is born; not to be thy Successor, but to be thy Saviour: Was he a King on earth? alas! look thro’ the Chronicles of his Life, and you find him so far from a King, that he is the meanest Subject of all Men: Where was he born, but at Bethlehem a little City? where did the Shepherds find him, but in a forry Cottage? who were his Disciples, but poor Fishermen? who his Companions, but Publicans and Sinners? Is he hungry? where stands his Table, but on plain ground? what are his Dainties, but Bread and a few Fishes? who are his Guests, but a Rout of hungry fam’d Creatures? and where is his Lodging, but at the stern of a ship? here is a poor King, without either Presence or Bed-chamber; The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of man hath not whereon to lay his head, Mat. 8. 20.

6. Descend we a little lower, and place him in our own rank; what was he but a Carpenter? Say the Jews in scorn, Is not this the carpenter, Mary's son? Mark 3. 6. A poor trade sure; but to shew us that he was Man, and how much he hated Idleness, some Time he will be flow in the Labours of Man's Life; but O Wonder! if he will reject Majesty, let him use at least some of those liberal Arts; or if he will be mechanical, let him choose to some noble Trade; Thy merchants were the great men of the earth, said the Angel to Babylon, Rev. 18. 23. Ay, but our Saviour is no Adventurer, neither is he so fick to follow any such Profession; once indeed he travelled into Egypt with Joseph and Mary; but to shew us that it was no Prize, you may see Mary his Mother steal him away by Night, without further Preparation: What, gone on a sudden? it seems there was no Treasure to hide, no Hangings to take down, no Lands to secure; his Mother needs do no more but lock the Doors and away; what Portion then is for the Lord of Heaven? O sweet Jesu! thou must be content for us to hew Sticks and Sticks; besides which (after his coming out of Egypt, about the seventh Year of his Age, until his Baptism by John, which was the thirtieth) we find little else recorded in any Writers, profane or ecclesiastical.

7. And are we now at our just Quantum? Alas, what quantity, what bounds hath the Humility of our Saviour? is he a Carpenter? That were to be Master of a Trade; but he took on him (faith the Apostle) the form of a servant, not a Master, Phil. 2. 7. It is true, he could say to his Apostles, To call me Master, and Lord, and ye say well, for so I am, John 13. 13. And yet at that very Infant mark but his Gestures, and you may see their Lord and Master become a Servant to his Servants: His many Offices express his Services; when He rose from Supper, and laid aside his upper garments, and took a towel and girded himself, and after that he had poured water into a basin, begun to wash his Disciples Feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded, John 13. 4, 5. O ye blessed Spirits, look down from Heaven, and you may see even the Almighty kneeling at the Feet of Men! O ye blessed Apostles, why tremble ye not at this so wonderful Sight of your lovely, lowly Creator? Peter, what do'ft thou? Is not be the Beauty of the Heavens, the Paradise of Angels, the Brightness of God, the Redeemer of Men? And wilt thou (notwithstanding all this) let him wash thy Feet? No, leave, O Lord, leave this bale Office for thy Servants, lay down the Towel, put on thy apparel: See Peter is resolute, Lord, do'ft thou wash my Feet? No Lord, thou shalt never do it. Yes, Peter, thus it must be, to leave thee and us a Memorial of his Humility; I have given you an example, (faith Christ) that ye should do as I have done unto you. Ver. 25. And what hath he done? But for our Sakes is become a Servant, yea his Servants Servant, washing and wiping, not their Hands or Heads, but the very meanest, lowest Parts, their Feet.

8. And yet there is a lower Fall, How many hired servants (said the Prodigal) at my father's house have bread enough, and I die for hunger? Luke 15. 17. And as if our Saviour's Cafe were like the Prodigal's, you may see him little lower than a Servant, yea a little little better then a Beggar: Ye know (faith the Apostle) the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, 2 Cor. 8. 9. Poor indeed, and so poor, that he was not worth a Penny to pay Tribute, till he had borrowed it of a Jew, Mat. 17. 27. See him in his Birth, in his Life, in his Death, and what was he but a Pilgrim, that never had House to harbour in? A while he lodges in an Oxen-stall, thence he flies into Egypt, back he comes into Galilee, anon he travels to Jerusalem, within a while (as if all his Life were but a wandering) you may see him on Mount Calvary hanging on the Cross; Was ever any Beggar's Life more miserable? he hath no House, no Money, no Friends, no Lands, and howsoever he was God the Disposer of all; yet for us he became Man, a poor Man, a mean Man, yea the meanest of all Men: And this another Step downwards.

9. But this not low enough, Men are the Image of God: Ay but the Son of God is not used as a Man, but rather as a poor dumb Beast appointed to the slaughter: What was he but a sheep, saith Isaiah of him? ch. 53. 7. A sheep indeed, and that more especially in these two Qualities. 1. As a sheep before the shearer is dumb, so he opened not his mouth: and to this Purpose was that silence of our Saviour; when all those Evidences came against him, he would not so much as drop one syllable to defend his Cause; if the high Priests question him, What is the matter that these men witness against thee? Matthew tells us, that Jesus held his peace, Mat. 26. 63. If Pilate say unto him, Behold, how many things they witness against thee; Mark tells us, that Jesus answered him nothing, Mark 15. 6. If Herod question with him in many words, because he had heard many things of him, Luke tells us, that he answered him nothing, Luke 23. 9. As a poor sheep in the Hands of the shearer, he is dumb before his Judges and Accusers; whence briefly we may observe, Christ came not to defend, but to suffer condemnation. 2. As a sheep he is dumb, and as a sheep he is slain: He was led, faith the Prophet, as a sheep to the slaughter, Isa. 53. 7. O Jesus! art thou come to this? to be a Man, who art God; a sheep, who art Man, and so for our sakes far inferior to our selves; nay worse, a sheep; how? not free, as one that is leaping on the mountains, or skipping on the hills: no, but a sheep that is led; led whither? not thither as David was, who could say of his Shepherd, that He feed him in green Pastures, and led him forth beside the waters of Comfort, Psal. 23. 2. No, but led to the slaughter. He is a sheep, a sheep led, a sheep led to the slaughter; and such a slaughter, that were he a dumb creature, yet great Ruth it was to see him so handled as he was by the Jews.

10. And yet will his Humility descend a little lower; as he was the poorest of Men, so the least of Sheep; Like a Lamb, faith the Apostle, Acts 8. 32. and, Behold the Lamb, faith John the Baptist, even the Lamb of God, which takes away the sins of the world, John 1. 29. This was that Lamb which the Paschal Lamb presfigured, Your lamb, faith God to the Israelites, shall be a lamb without blemish, and the blood shall be a token for you, Exod. 12. 5, 13. But was ever Lamb like the Lamb of God? He is without Blemish; faith Pilate, I find no fault in him, Luke 23. 4. and the sprinkling of his blood, faith Peter, is the right token of election, 1 Peter 1. 2. Such a Lamb was this Lamb, without Blemish in his Life, and whose Blood was sprinkled at his Death, in Life and Death ever suffering ing for us, who, had he not done so, should for ever and ever have suffered ourselves. Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest? faith the Church in Canticles. Tell me? Yes: If thou knowest not, faith our Saviour, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, Cant. 1. 8. Our Saviour is become a Man, a Sheep, a Lamb, or if this be not Humility enough, he will yet take a Leap lower.

What is he but a worm, and no man, yea the very scorn of men, and the outcast of the people? Psalm 22. 6. Did you ever think we could have brought our Saviour to thus low a Degree? What, beneath a Lamb, and no better than a Worm? Heaven and Earth may well ring of this, as being the greatest Wonder that ever was: There is not any bitter Portion due to Man, which the Son of God will not partake of to he utmost Dregs; and therefore, if Job say to the worm, Thou art my sister and mother, Job 17. 14. nay, if Bildad say, Man is a worm, and the Son of man is but a worm, Job 25. 6. which is more than Kindred: Behold our Saviour flooping thus low himself, what is he but a Man? nay, as if that were too much, a worm, and not a man, as sung the Psalmist of him.

I am so low, that unless we think him No-body, we can down no lower; and yet here is one Leap more, that if we take a View of it, we may suppose him to be nothing in Esteem; a No body indeed. Look we at every Man in respect of God, and the Prophet tells us, All nations before him are as nothing, Isa. 40. 17. And if Man be thus, why sure the Son of Man will be no less; see then, to the wondrous Astonishment of Men and Angels, how Greatness itself, to bring Man from nothing, exinanivit se, hath made himself nothing, or, of no reputation, Phil. 2. 7. How? Nothing? Yes, faith Beza; He that was all in all, hath reduced himself to that which is nothing at all: And Tertullian little les, Ex-baftis se, He hath emptied himself, or, as our Translation gives it, He hath made himself, not of little, but of no reputation.

Lo here those Steps, the Scripture lighting us all the Way, by which our Saviour descended; he that is God, for us became an Angel, a Man, a Serving-man, a poor Man, a Sheep, a Lamb, a Nothing in esteem a Worm, a Man of no reputation.

Use 1. Let every Soul learn his Duty from hence; what should we do for him who hath done all this for us? There is a Crew of Unbelievers that hear and heed not; all the Sufferings of our Saviour cannot move them a Jot, either towards God, or from fin; and is not this a woful lamentable Cafe? I remember a Passage in Cyprian, how he brings in the Devil triumphing over Christ, in this Manner; As for my Followers, I never died for them, as Christ did for his; I never promised them to great a Reward as Christ hath done to his; and yet I have more Followers than he, and they do more for me than he do for him: Hear, O Heaven, and hearken, O Earth! Was ever the like Phrensie? The Devil, like a roaring Lion seeks ever and anon to devour our Souls, and how many thousands and millions of souls yield themselves to his service, tho he never died for them, nor will ever do for them the poorest Favours whatsoever, but pay them everlasting with Pains and Pangs, Death and Damnation?

Right Purgatory.

On the other side, see our Saviour, God Almighty, take on him the Nature of a Man, a poor Man, a Sheep, a Lamb, a Worm, a Nothing in Esteem; and why all this? but only to save our souls, and to give them Heaven and Salvation; yet such is the Condition of a stubborn Heart, that, to choose, it will spurn at Heaven's Crown, and run upon Hell, and be a Slave to Satan, and scoff at Christ's Suffering, yea, and let out his Blood, and pull out his Heart, and bring him a Degree lower than very Baalzaphim, rather than it will submit to his Will, and march under his Banner to the Kingdom of Heaven. Hence it is, that the Devil to triumphs over Christ, As for my Followers, faith he, I never died for them, as Christ did for his: No, Devil, thou never diedst for them, but thou will put them to a Death without all Ease or End. Think of this, ye Unbelievers: Methinks, like a Thunder-bolt, it might shake all your Hearts, and dash them into Pieces.

Use 2. But a Word more to you, of whom I hope better Things; let me exhort the Saints, that you for your Parts will ever love, and serve, and honour, and obey, and praise the Lord of Glory for this so wonderful a Mercy; I pray, have you not Caufe? Had your Saviour only sent his Creatures to serve you, or some Prophets to advise you in the Way of Salvation; had he only sent his Angels to attend you, and to minister unto you; or had he come down in his Glory, like a King that would not only send to the Prison, but come himself to the Dungeon, and ask, saying, Is such a man here? Or, had he only come and wept over you, saying, Oh that you had never sinned! all these had been great Mercies: But, that Christ himself should come, and strive with you in Mercy and Patience; that he should be so fond of a Company of Rebels and Hell-hounds, and yet we are not at the lowest, that he would for us become a Man, a mean Man, a Lamb, a Worm, a Nothing in Esteem. O all ye stubborn Hearts, too much stubborn are we all, if Judgment and the Hammer cannot break your Hearts, yet let this Mercy break you, and let every one say, O Jesu, hast thou done all this for me? certainly I will love thee, and praise thee, and serve thee, and obey thee as long as I live. Say so, and the Lord say Amen to the good Desires of your Hearts. To whet this on the more; remember still, it is you that should have suffered, but to prevent this, it was he that was humbled, it is he that was crucified, it is he that was purged: What needs more? I am he, (John 18. 5. ) said Christ to the Jews when they apprehended him: He what he? I know not what; but he what he will, he it is our Saviour, Redeemer, Physician, Patient, Who had by himself purged our sins.

Thus far we have measured his Steps downwards, and should we go up again the same Stairs, we might bring him as high as we have placed him low; but his Ascent rather belongs to the Words following my Text; for, after he had purged, then he sat down on God's right Hand on high. Come we then to the next Words, and as you have seen the Person, so let us look for a Companion: This may in Misery yield some Comfort, if but any Society bears a Share in his Misery: But methinks I hear you say to me, as the Ashenvar said to Paul, We will hear thee again of this Matter another Time, Acts 17. 32.
Right Purgatory.

By himself.

The Time and Physician have prepared a Purge; but who is the Patient to receive it? It is Man is sick, and it is Man must purge, or otherwise he dies without all Remedy or Recovery: But alas! what Purge, what Purgatory must it be which can evacuate sin? Should Man take all the Virtue of Herbs and Minerals, and distill them into one sublime and pure Quintessence, yet impossible were it to wash away sin, or the least Drops of its Corruption: Not Galen nor Hippocrates, nor all the Artists, or Naturalsists that ever lived on Earth could find out, or invent any Remedy for sin; this must be a Work of Grace, and not of Nature; yea, and such a Grace as neither Man nor Angel could afford: Behold then, who is it that both administers and takes the Receipt prepared; it is Man that sinned, and God is become Man, that so being both, he might administer it as God, and receive it as Man, the same Person being Physician and Patient, Compoudner and Purger.

But, what a Wonder is this? Are we a-dying, and must he purge for it? can Physick given to the found heal the Party that is sick? It was the Saying of our Saviour, The whole need not a Physician, but they that are sick, Matth. 9. 12. And Christ Jesus, for his Part, is whole indeed, No fault in this man, faith Pilate, Luke 23. 14. and he is a just man, said Pilate's Wife of him, Matth. 27. 19. To what End then should he purge that is whole, and we escape it that are sick? O this is to manifest the dearest Love of our Soul-

Physician, our endeared Saviour: The whole indeed need not a Physician, but they that are sick; he needs no Physick, no Purge, no Physician at all, but for us he is become a Physician himself, for us he became Physician and Patient; for us he was sick, for us he purged, that we through him might escape that Danger of eternal Fire.

But how purged he? By himself? Was there none to associate him in this Misery? No, he purged by himself only, and that without a Partner.

1. Without a Partner: There was none that laid a Finger in the Burthen of his Cross to ease him: Why, blessed Saviour! thou hast Myriads of Angels waiting on thee, and can they not a little lighten thy heavy Yoke? No, the Angels are blessed, but they are finite and limited, and therefore unable to this Expiation of sin.

But what say we of the Saints? If you will believe the Rhemists, they can tell you that the Sufferings of Saints (sanctified in Christ's Blood) have not only a forcible Satisfaction for the Church, and its Members; but withal they are the Accomplishments of the Wants of Christ's Passion: An horrible Blasphemy; as if Christ's Death were not sufficient in itself, but his Wants must be supplied by the Satisfaction of others; my Text tells me, Christ purged by himself; therefore not by another, but sufficiently in his own Person; and as for that Text they urge against us, Coloss. 1. 24. Now rejoice I in my sufferings for you, and fulfill the rest of the Afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake which is the Church: Whence they argue these two Points; 1. The

Cccc2 Want
Want of Christ's Sufferings; and, 2. The Abounding of Saint's Sufferings for the Satisfaction of others. To the First, we answer, That the Afflictions of Christ, which the Apostle faith, I fulfill, are not meant of the Afflictions which Christ suffered in his Person, but in his Members; thus * Augustine, The Apostle faith not, my Afflictions; but Christ's, because he was a Member of Christ, who is usually said to suffer both with, and in his Members. To the Second, we answer, That Paul's Sufferings for his Body which is the Church, served not for Satisfaction, but for Confirmation of their Faith; thus † Ambrose, Christ's Passion sufficeth to Salvation, Peter and Paul's Passion serve only for Example: so then if you will have the true Sense of the Words, they run thus; Now rejoice I in my sufferings for you, whereby I fulfill the Measure of those Tribulations which remain yet to be endured of Christ in his mystical Body, which I do for the Body's sake, not to satisfy for it, but to confirm it, or strengthen it in the Gospel of Christ: And good Reason have we to admit of this Comment, otherwise, how is Christ a perfect Saviour, if any Act of our Redemption be left to the Performance of any Saint or Angel? No, it is Christ, and only Christ Jesus, and only Jesus, Nor is there salvation in any other, for there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved, Acts 4. 12.

3. But if not Angels, or Saints, what say we of good Works? Cannot they expiate sin? Yea, say our Adversaries, they are meritorious, and applicable, and expiatory; so here is a threefold Use of them: What? hath Christ purged by himself? and is there any other Means whatsoever to expiate sin? No, faith the Apostle; to incompatible are these two, his Grace, and our Works, that if it be of grace, it is no more of works, or else grace were no more grace; and if it be of works, it is no more grace, or else works were no more works, Rom. 11. 6. By grace then ye are saved, not of works, lest any man should boast himself, Eph. 2. 8, 9.

4. But if no purging by Angels, Saints, nor good Works, what say we to Purgatory itself? We say it is a Fable; or were it an Article of Faith (as the Pontificians affirm) let us have Scripture for it; Yes, faith Roffensius ‡, We went through fire and water, Psal. 66. 12. And Sir Thomas Moor will have more Scripture yet, I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit, wherein is no water, Zach. 9. 11. Here are two Places for Purgatory, and one faith, there is Water, the other faith, there is no Water; but to say Truth of both, The catholick Faith, resting upon divine Authority believes Heaven and Hell, but a third Place (faith Austin ), we know none, neither find we in holy Scripture, that there is any such place: Neither speaks he only of Places eternal that are to continue for ever, for he purposely disputes against Limbus Puerorum; and rejects all Places temporary; Yea, elsewhere he acknowledgeth, There is no middle Place at all; but he must needs be with the Devil, that is not with Christ ††. Away then with those Paper-walls, and painted Fires, a Bug (could Harding † once say) meet only to fray children: God will have no Rival in Sin's Purge, no Angel in Heaven, no Saints, no Works on Earth, no Purgatory under Earth, it is he himself will purge it by himself; my Text affirms it (and who dares gain say it?) that he by himself (by no other) hath purged our sins.

Thus far you have seen Christ purging without a Partner; He trod the wine-press alone, and there was none to help him, Isa. 63. 3. But O the Bitterness of this Purge that admits of no Help, no Ease! As he had no Partner to help him, so no Comforter to cheer him in his somberable Sufferings.

Some Ease it is to have one or other touched with the sense of our Miseries †† and if they cannot help us, yet to do what they can (be it only to condole us) it were a comfortable Refreshing; say, but our Saviour finds no refreshing at all, he purged by himself without a Partner, without a Comforter, not any one on Earth or in Heaven, that afforded his poor Heart any Cure or Cordial. First, Look on Earth, for to them doth he address that Speech in Lamen. 1. 12. Is it nothing to you all ye that pass by? The most grievous Torments find some Mitigation in the Supply of Friends, and what Friends hath our Saviour to comfort him in his Torments?

1. If you say the Gentiles; I must confess he found Faith in some, and a seeming Favour from others; the Centurion is witness of the one, of whom our Saviour himself confessed, I have not found so great faith, no not in Israel, Mat. 8. 10. And Pilate gives a Token of the other, when he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just man, Mat. 27. 24. But alas! did Pilate to favour him as to free him? No, he fears to condemn him being innocent, and yet dares not absolve him, being so envied as he was by the Jews; what then can a little Water? what can Jordan's floods? what can Rivers of Wine, and Oil do, towards the washing of those Hands, that had power to release him, and would not? He knew they had delivered him of envy, Mat. 27. 18. He confesses, I find no Fault in this man, Luke 23. 14. He tells him that he had power to crucifie him, and he had power to loose him, John 19. 10. and yet fondly would he waft away the Guilt of his unjust Sentence, with a little Water on his Hands; no, Pilate, that Ceremony cannot waft away thy fin, that fin I mean, which thou and the Gentiles in thee committed, in delivering of Jesus to the will of the Jews.

2. But if delivered to the Jews, sure it is well enough; he is their Countryman, Kinman, of the flock of Abraham, of the Tribe of Juda, of the Family of Joseph; but this rather aggravates than allays his Misery, that his own People should degenerate into Traitors: not a Gentile, but a Jew to be his Executioner: what Torment had not been a lenitive, and a Recreation in comparison of this? Daniel's Den, the three Childrens Furnace, Isaiah's wooden Saw, Israel's fiery serpents, the Spanish Inquisition, the Roman Purgatory, are all as far short in Torture, as the half of them in Truth, to the Maleice of a Jew; witness our Saviour's Death, when they all conspired not only to scourge him, mock him, buffet him, flay him;
but to slay him in such a manner, as to hang him on Nails, and to make the Crois his Gibbet.

But what? no Comforter amongst them all; do the Gentiles condemn him? will the Jews crucifie him? and is there none to pity him? Yes; what say we of his Disciples, that heard him, followed him, and were sent of him by two and two into every city and place, whether he himself should come, Luke 10. 1. Would you think that these Seventy (for they were so many in Number) which for a time did his Embassage with joy, Luke 10. 17. would now have forsaken him? Yes, if you mark it, Many of them went back, and would walk no more with him, John 6. 66. Some stumble at his Doctrine, others at his Passion, but all were offended, as it is written, I will finite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered, Mat. 26. 31.

Yet if the Gentiles reject him, they do but like Gentiles who were ignorant of God; if the Jews hate and malign him, it is but their old wont of killing the Prophets, Mat. 23. 31. If the Disciples that are weaker, faint and waver in Faith, it was no more than was said of them, O ye of little Faith! But what say we to the twelve Apostles, those Secretaries of his Mysteries, stewards of his Mercies, Almmers of his Bounties, will they also go away, and leave him comfortless alone? no, can Peter say, Master, to whom shall we go, thou hast the words of eternal life, John 6. 68. Or if he will have deeper Protections, I am ready to go with thee, faith Peter, into prison and to death, Luke 22. 23. To Death? Yes, Though I die with thee, I will not deny thee, and thus said all his Disciples, Mat. 26. 35. and yet like Jesus Gourd when the Sun beats hottest, how soon are they all gone, and vanished away? lo, one betrays him, another forswears him, all run from him, and leave him alone in the midst of all his Enemies.

5. And yet if his Apostles leave him, what say we to Mary his Mother, and other his Friends? These indeed wait on him, seeing, fighing, waiting, weeping; but alas! what do those Tears but increase his sorrows? might he not justly say with Paul, What mean ye to weep and to break my heart? Acts 21. 13. Pity, and of all other feminine Pity, it is the poorest, helpless falve of Misery; but howsoever it was to others, this was so far from any falve to him, as 'tis one of his greatest, tenderest Sorrows about him: Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for your selves, and your children, Luke 23. 28. O see the Wonder of Compassion which be bears to others in his Passion; he hath more Care of the Women that follow him weeping, than on his own mangled self, that reels along tainting and bleeding even unto Death: The Tears that drop from their Eyes is more to him, than all the Blood in his Veins; and therefore careless as it were of his own sacred Person, he turns about his blessed bleeding Face to the weeping Women, affording them Looks and Words too of Compassion, of Consolation, Weep not for me, but weep for your selves, and your children, Luke 23. 38. But O blessed Saviour! didst thou flow unto us showers of Blood, and may not we drop a Tear for all those purple streams of thine? Yes Lord, thou dost not here forbid us weeping, only thou turnest the stream of our Tears the right Way; that is to say, homewards into our own Bottoms, pointing us to our sins, the truest Cause of thy sufferings.

6. But as for Comfort to our Saviour, whence, trow ye, may it come? If we we compass the Earth, the Gentiles, Jews, his Disciples, Apostles, Mary his own Mother, and all other his Friends, they are but as Job's miserable comforters all: But let us go up into heaven, John 16. 2. and there, if any where, be his Comforters indeed; alas! what Comforters? If you imagine the Angels, it is true they could attend him in the Desart, and comfort him in the Garden; but when he came to the main Act of our Redemption, not an Angel must be seen; how, not seen? No, they must not so much as look thro' the Windows of heaven to give him any Ease at all; nor indeed were it to any Purpose if they should; for who can lift up, where the Lord will cast down? O ye blessed Angels! how is it that your Hallelujahs cease? that your Songs which you warbled at his Birth, are finisht at his Death? that your glorious Company, which are the Delight of happy Souls, is denied to him who is the Lord and Maker both of you and them? Why, thus it must be for our Sakes: I am full of heaviness, said our Saviour in his Type, and I looked for some to take pity, but there was none: and for comforters, but I found none, Psal. 69. 20.

5. And yet if the Angels be no Comforters, he hath a Father in Heaven that is nearer to him; I and my Father are one, faith our Saviour, John 10. 30. and, It is my Father that honoureth me, John 8. 34. It is my Father that loveth me, John 10. 17. It is my Father that dwelleth in me, John 14. 10. and howsoever others forfake me, and leave me alone, as himself proclaims it, yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me, John 16. 32. Is it so, sweet Saviour, whence then was that sorrowful Complaint of thine, My God, my God, why hast thou forfake me? Let it be that first reconciled it, and all Antiquity allow of it: The Union was not dissolved, but the Beams, the Influence was restraiied: Affectione justitiae, faith St. Scotus, he was ever united to his Father, because he ever loved, trusted, and glorified him; but Affectione commadi, that Delight ever emergent from that divine Vision, was for a Time suspended, and therefore was it that his Body drooped, his Soul fainted, he being even as a scorched Heath-ground, without any Drop of Dew of the divine Comfort on it.

8. Yet be it that his Father now forfakes him, will he to forfake himself? O yes! he burns in the fiery Furnace of Affliction without all Manner of Refreshing; and this was it that was figured in the Law by those two Goats offered for the sins of the People, whereof the one was the Scape-goat, and the other was the Offering: The Scape-goat departed away, and was sent into the Wilderness, but her Companion was left alone in the Torments, and made a Sin-Offering for the People; even so was this Sacrifice of God man, Man-God, blessed for ever, the Humanity was offered, but the Divinity escaped; the Humanity suffered for the Sins of the World, but the Divinity departed away in the Midst of sufferings, and left her sister and Companion all alone in the Torments: Thus he purged, himself only in his Humanity, no other with him, all other left him; the Gentiles, Jews, Disciples, Apostles, Mary his Mother, and God his Father, may be himself is bereaved of himself, the Humanity of his Divinity, if not in respect of the Union, yet in respect of the Consolation, when he had by himself (in his human Nature without any Comforter purged our sins. Lev. 26. 10.

Thus far you have seen Christ drink the Cup of his bitter Pains, pure, and without Mixture of any Manner of Ease; what now remains, but that we make some use of it?

Use. I will take the cup of salvation, faith David, and call upon the name of the Lord, Ps. 116. 13. And what can we less? If our Saviour hath begun to us in Pains, shall not we afford him our Thanks? The Cup of Death could not pass from him, and must the Cup of Salvation be removed from us? O praise him, praise him, all his Hosts, Psalm 148.

2. Howsoever he was alone in his Sufferings, let us all bear the Burden in a Song of Thanksgiving, and in this Song, let us sing weep, and weeping sing; our sins may draw the Tears which were the Cause of his Sufferings, and our Salvation may make us sing, which those his sufferings did effect: What needs more? he suffered by himself; the Cause, our sins; the Effect, our Salvation; let us mourn for the one, and praise him for the other; praise him, and him alone, for he had no Partner in his sufferings, nor will he have any in our Thanks; he had no Comforter in his Miseries, nor must any share with him in the Duty we owe him of praising his Name: Alas, have we not Reason (think you) to give all the Glory unto him? it was he that suffered that which we deserved, he purged by himself when we ourselves lay sick of sin, in Peril of Death and Damnation; thus gracious is he to us, that when there was no other Remedy for our Recovery, then he by himself in his stead came and purged our sins.

Thus far you have seen the Patient, and Order now requires that we prepare the Receipt; the Patient was himself, the Receipt is a Purg, but, to confess this Purne, we must crave a further Time; and in the mean while, and ever remem-ber him in your Thoughts, who hath done all this for you, and the Lord make you thankful.

Had purged.]

You see who it is that hath freed us from sin, to wit, Christ our Saviour without a Compurgator; he purged by himself; but what did he by himself? do we say he purged? what need he to purge, who never committed any sin in Thought, Word, or Deed? it is without Doubt he needs not, and yet do it he will, not to clear himself, but us.

But this Purg doth imply a Medicine, and so we must apply it; a Medicine it was, and many Medicines he iled for the curing of Man’s Soul; the first by Diet, when, he fasted forty days and forty nights, Mat. 4. 2. The second by Election, when he gave his most precious body and blood in his last Supper, Mat. 26. 26. The third by Sweat, when great drops of blood issued from him falling down to the ground, Luke 22. 44. The fourth by Piaflter, when he was spit upon by the Jews, Mark 15. 19. The fifth by Potion, when he tasted vinegar mingled with gall, Mat. 27. 34. The sixth by letting of blood, when his Hands and Feet were pierced, yea, when his Heart-vein was stricken, and his side gaured with a spear, John 19. 34. The last, which contains all the rest, was by Purg, when by all his Sufferings, and especially by his Bloodshed, he washed us from our sins, Rev. 1. 5. Here was the Cure of all Cures, which all the Galenists in the World may admire with Reverence, that our Lord and Saviour should become our Surety.
Surely, that our Soul-physician should become our Purger: how? not by giving us Physick, but by receiving it for us; we miserable Wretches, lay ftick of fin, and he our Physician hath by himself purged and delivered us of it.

Observe. But that we may the better see how this Purge wrought with him, we must know, That purging in general is taken for any Evacuation whatsoever: And to say Truth in a Word, The Evacuation of Christ's Blood was the right purging of our sins. Hence is it, that, as Scriptures affirn, the Blood of Christ doth redeem us, cleanse as wash us, justify us, sanctifie us: To were redeemed by his blood, 1 Pet. 1. 19. and, His blood cleanseth us from all sin, 1 John 1. 7; and, He washed us from our sins in his blood, Rev. 1. 5. and, Being now justified by his blood, Rom. 5. 9. and, Therefore Jesus suffered, that he might sanctifie the people with his own blood, Heb. 13. 12.

This Blood was it that was believed by the Patriarchs, witnefed by the Sacrifices, shadowed in the figures of the Law, expected of all the Faithful from the Beginning of the World; and therefore the Apostle concludes, Almoft all things are by the law purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission, Heb. 9. 22. It is true, Christ purged by his Death and other his Sufferings, and yet are all these contained in the shedding of his Blood: This Blood is the Foundation of true Religion, for other foundation can no man lay, Wherefore neither was the first testament ordained without blood, Heb. 9. 18. Nor is the New Testament otherwise sealed, than with blood, Mat. 26. 28. What needs more? If the blood of bulls and of goats (in the old Testament) sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh, how much more shall the blood of Christ (in the New Testament) purge your conscience from dead works, to serve the living God, Heb. 9. 13, 14.

O sweet Blood of our Saviour that purgeth our Consciences, evacuates our dead Works, restores us to our God, will bring us unto Heaven!

But, O my Saviour, Wherefore art thou red in thy apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine-fat? Isa. 63. 2. Is it thy precious Blood that hath given this Hue? Yes, an Hue often dipped in the Wine-fat; and that we may the better see the Colour, let us distinguish the Times when his Blood was shed for us.

Six Times, faith a * Modern: seven Times, faith † Bernard, did Christ shed his Blood for us; and to reduce them into Order, the first was at his Circumcision, when his Name Jesus was given him, Which was so named of the angel, before he was conceived in the womb, Luke 2. 21. And was this without Mystery? No, faith ‡ Bernard, for by the effusion of his blood he was to be our Jesus, our Saviour. Blessed Jesus! how ready art thou for the Sacrifice? What? but eight Days old, and then to shed thy Blood for the Salvation of our Souls? Eternum hoc martyrium, here is a mature Martyrdom indeed. It is a Superstition took up with the Egyptians and Arabians, that Circumcision should fright away Devils . And the Jews have a Conceit not much unlike; for when the Child is circumcised, one stands by with a Veil full of Dust, into which they cast the Preface: The Meaning of it is, that whereas it was the Curfe of the Ser-

Dust shalt thou eat all the Days of thy life: They suppose therefore the Prepuce, or Fore-skin, being cast into the Dust, the Devil by that Covenant eats his own Meat, and so departs from the Child. But howsoever they err, of this we are sure, that Christ delivered his flesh as a bait to Satan, held him fast with the Book of his Divinity thro' the shedding of his Blood.* This Blood was at first shed at his Circumcision; and we cannot imagine it a little Pain, seeing the flesh was cut with a sharp stone, which made Zipperah to cry out against Moses, Surely a bloody husband art thou to me, Exod. 4. 25.

What a Love is this, that Christ newly born should so early shed his Blood? but all was for our sakes, for the salvation of our Souls.

2. You see one Vein opened; but in his second Effusion not one, but all the Veins in his Body fell a bleeding at once, and this was at his Passion in the Garden, when, as the Evangelist testifies, He fell into an agony, and his sweat was like drops of blood, trickling down to the ground, Luke 22. 44. Here is a Phy-fick purgative indeed, when all his Body evacuates sweat like drops of blood: But what? be the Pleurisie never so great, how strange is the Phlebotomy? it seems not to consult where the sign lies; you see all his Body falls at once to sweating and bleeding; nor is the Cure less strange than the Phyfick; for we had forfeited, and it is he that purge-th: we had the Fever, and it is he that sweats and bleeds for the Recovery of our Health. Did you ever hear of such a Remedy as this? Oft-times a bleeding in the Head, say Physicians, is best stop'd by striking a vein in the Foot; but here the Malady is in the Foot, and the Remedy in the Head; we silly Wretches, lay sick of sin, and Christ our Saviour purgeth it out by a sweat like drops of blood trickling down to the ground: Here is a Wonder, no Violence is offered, no Labour is sustained, he is abroad too in the raw Air, and laid down grovelling on the cooler earth; or if all this be not enough to keep him from sweating, the Night is cold (so cold that harder Soldiers were faint to have a fire within doors) and yet notwithstanding all this, He sweats, faith the Text. How sweats? It is not su-der diaphoreticus, a thin faint sweat, but grumosus, of great Drops, and those so many, so violent, as they pierce not only his skin, but clothes too, trick-ling down to the ground in great Abun-dance; and yet may all this fall within the Compa's of a natural Possibility. But a sweat of Blood puts all Reason to silence; yea, faith * Hilary, It is against nature to sweat blood; and yet, howsoever Nature stands agast, the God of Nature goes thus far, that in a cold Night, which naturally draws Blood inwards, he sweats without Heat, and bleeds without a Wound. See all his Body is besprinkled with a crimson Dew, the very Veins and Pores, not waiting the Tormentors Fury, pour out a shower of Blood upon the sudden: Foul sin that could not be cleansed save only by such a Bath! what, must our Surfeits be thus sweat out by our Saviour? Yes, faith † Bernard, we sin, and our Saviour weeps for it, not only with his Eyes, but with all the Parts of his Body; and why so? but to this End, That the whole Body of his Church might be purged with the Tears of his whole Body. Come then, ye Sons of Adam, and see your Redeemer in this heavy Case! If such as be kind and loving are wont, when they come to visit their Friends in Death or Danger, to observe their Countenance, to consider their Colour, and other Accidents of their Bodies: Tell me, ye that in your Contemplations behold the Face of our Saviour, What think you when you see in him such wonderful, strange and deadly signs? our sweat, howsoever caused, is most usual in the Face or Forehead; but our Saviour sweats in all his Body; and how then was that Face of his disfigured when it flood all on Drops, and the Drops not of a watry sweat, but of scarlet blood? O my Heart how canst thou but rend in to a thousand pieces? O my Beloved! Well may our Eyes shed tears at this, when his Veins thus shed their blood for us.

3. But here is yet a third Effusion of Blood, and that, as Bernard tells us, was in the Nippings and Tearings of his sacred Cheeks: To this bears the Prophet witness, Isa. 50, 6. I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to the nippers; or as our latter Translation, I give my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: Whether his Cheeks were torn, or his Beard plucked off, some vary in Opinion: Bernard thinks both might be true; or howsoever we believe, most probable it is that neither of them could be effected without Effusion of Blood. And now methinks I see that Face fairer than the sons of Men spit on by the Jews; nor is their scorn without some Cruelty; for in the next scene they exercise their fits, which that they may do with more Sport to them, and Spite to him, they first blindfold him, and then smiting him on the face, they bid him read who it is that strikes him, Luke 22, 64. And yet, as it Whiteness of their Spittle, and Blewness of their Strokes had not caufed enough colours, they once more dye his rofic Countenance in a bloody red; to this End do they nip his Cheeks with their Nails, and (as others) pluck off his Hair with their Fingers, whereby tears and strokes of Blood roll down his Cheeks, and drop down at his Chin to his lower Garments: O sweet Face of our Saviour! what mean these Sufferings, but to tell us, if ever Confusion cover our Face for him, that we consider then how Blood and Sweat thus covered his Face for us?

4. But yet here's a fourth Effusion at his Coronation; the Blows drew not Blood enough from his Face, and therefore the Thorns must fetch more from his Head; if mine adversary, says Job, should write a book against me, surely I would take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a crown unto me, Job 31, 36. The Jews in stead of writing a Book, they wreath a Crown, and see how our Saviour binds it to him; not only on his shoulder as a Cross to bear it, but on his Head too, as a Crown to triumph in it: but neither is it for Triumph only, but for Torture; it is a Crown woven of Boughs, deck'd with Thorns, and Drops of Blood in Lieu of precious stones. O Jesu! was that Spittle thy Ointment, that Reed thy Scepter, those Thorns thy Crown, that Purple dyed with Blood, thy royal Robes? Unthankful People, thus watered with his Blood, that bring forth nothing but Briars and Thorns to crown him! but wherefore Thorns, save only to crush into his tender Head? and to this Purpose they do not only flick his Head full of them, but after the putting it on, to fasten the Crown better, they strike him on the Head with their Reeds, or Canes. Matth. 27. 30. See here Thorns, not like ours, but (as the Country afforded) stronger and greater to pierce his Scull with more Ease; and see here Canes, not as ours, but heavier and follower (as Jewry had plenty of them) to beat and hammer that Crown of thorns deeper and deeper into his Head. O then imagine, what Streams of Blood gushed out, when all those sharp Prickles were shot in? no less then a flower of Blood now rained on his Neck, his Face, his Shoulders; and all this for us, to make us Members of that Head, his Head thus bleeds down upon all his Members.

And his head-vein being opened, there is a fifth effusion of Blood issuing out of his Body; this was caused by the whips wherewith the merciless Tormenters fetched Blood from his sacred Sides: Is not here matter for our Meditation to work on? Consider (I pray you) how rude are the Hangmen that strip our Saviour of his Garments, and then go about to bind his holy Body to a Pillar? he (poor man!) stands at the post alone, without any Friends to comfort, or Eye to compassionate him, whilst they strike on their Lashes, redouble their strokes, again and again fall upon him afresh, as if they would not leave a drop of Blood in all his Body: But stay, what Justice in all this? the Law of Moses commanded, that Malefactors should be beaten with whips, Deut. 25. 2, 3 and it shall be if the wicked be worthy to be beaten, that the Judge shall cause him to ly down, and to be beaten before his face, according to his fault by a certain number: what number? forty stripes he may give him, and not exceed, lest if he should exceed and beat him above these with many stripes, then his brother should seem vile unto thee. Thus indeed were Jews tied, but the Gentiles neither bound by Law, nor moved with Compassion, far exceed this number; I have read, that he received no less than 5400 stripes; which if we consider these things, is not altogether improbable. Firstly, the Law of beating, that every guilty should be stricken by every one of the Souldiers, a free-man with Staves, and a bond-man with whips. Secondly, the cause of this Law, that the Body of him that was to be crucified, should be disfigured, that the nakedness should not move the beholders to any dishonest Thoughts, when they should see nothing pleasing or beautiful, but all things torn, and full of Commiseration. Thirdly, The purpose of Pilate, who hoped to spare his Life by this to great cruelty used against him. Fourthly, The great care and haste the Priests used in carrying of the Cross, left Christ should have died before he was crucified: Every one of these Reasons argue an unreasonable whipping, which our poor Saviour endured. But (O joy of the Angels, and glory of Saints!) who hath thus disfigured thee? who hath thus defiled thee with so many bloody blows? certainly they were not thy sins, but mine, that have thus evil intreated thee: it was Love and Mercy that compast thee about, for I should have suffered, but to prevent this, thy Mercy moves thee, and so thou takest upon thee all Miseries.

But all this would not satisfy the Jews, Behold the man, John 19. 5. 6. laid Pilate, to them; when he thought to have pacified their Wrath by that doleful Sight, but this nothing moved them, though (presently after) it moved Rocks and Stones to shiver in pieces: Behold then a sixth Effusion of Blood, when his hands and feet were pierced through with Nails: He bears indeed upon his Shoulders an heavy and weighty Crows of fifteen foot long; which must needs (say some) cause a great and grievous Wound: But (to omit that which is questionable) here be those woful sufferings; now come the barbarous inhuman Hang-man, and begin to loose his Hands that were tied to the Post, to tie them to a (a worser Pillary) the Cross; then strip they off his gore-glued Cloths, which did so cleave to his mangled battered back, that they pull off Cloths and Skin together; nay, yet more (and how can I say it without Tears for Sin?) the Cross is ready, and nothing wanting but a measure for the holes; down therefore they lay him on it, and though the print of his Blood gives them a true length, yet spitefully they take it longer, that so they may stretch and rack him on the Cross, till you may tell his Bones Psal. 22. 17. And now all fitted, his Hands and Feet are bored, the greatness of whose Wounds David fore-shewed by those words, They digged my hands and my feet, Psal. 22. 16. And well may we think so, for (as Ecclesiastical History† reports) so big were the very Nails, that Constantine made of them an Helmet, and a Bridle. O then what Pain is this, when all the weight of his Body must hang on four Nails: And they to be driven (not into the least sensible parts, but) through his Hands and his Feet, the most Sinewy, and therefore more sensible parts of all others whatsoever; yet to hang thus for a time were (it may be) somewhat tolerable, but thus he hangs till he dies, and so the longer he continues, the wider go his Wounds, and the fresher is his Torture. And now (my Brethren) behold and see, if there were ever any sorrow like unto this sorrow: Lam. i. 12. Alas! what else appears in him, but bleeding Veins, bruised Shoulders, scourged Sides, surrowed Back, harrowed Temples, digged Hands and Feet? digged, I say not with small Pins, but with rough boistrous Nails, and how then shot the Blood from those Hands and Feet thus digged; and digged through? O, I am the rose of Sharon, Can. 2. 1. It is truly said of Christ; Look on one Hand, and on the other, and you may find roses in both; look on one Foot, and on the other, and you may find Roses in either‡: In a word, look all over his Body, and it is all over roty, and ruddy in Blood.

Can we any more (yea, after all these Showers of Blood, here is one Effusion; for after his Death, One of the soldiers with a spear pierced his Side, and forthwith came there out Blood and Water, John 19. 34. The Soldier that gave this Wound (they say) was a blind Man; but our Saviour's Blood springing out on his Eyes, restored him to his sight, and so he became a Convert; a Bishop, and a Martyr*: A strange Cure, where the Physician must bleed; but so full of Vertue was this Blood, that by it we are all faved. And yet (O Saviour!) why didst thou pour to us so many streams of Blood? one drop had been enough for the World, but thy Love is without Measure. Physicians are usually liberal of other Mens Blood, but sparing of their own; here it is not so: For instead of the Patient's Arm, it is the Physicians own fide that bleeds; instead of a Lancet yet fee in here his future Vein of his Heart? that Heart where never dwelt Deceit; see how it runs Blood and Water for our sins; here is the Fountain of his Sacraments, the beginning of our Happiness: O Gate of Heaven! O Window of Paradise! O place of Refuge! O Tower of strength! O Sanctuary of the Just! O flourishing bed of the spouse of Solomon! who is not ravelled at the running of this stream? methinks I still see the Blood gushing out of his sides, more freely and fully than these sweet golden streams which run out of Eden to water the whole World. But is it his Heart's Blood? what? keeps he nothing whole without him, nor within him? his Apostles are scattered in the Garden, his Garments at the Cross, his Blood how many wheres? his skin they rent with their whips, his Ears with their Blasphemies, his Back with their Furrows, his Hands and Feet with their Nails, and will they yet have his Heart too cloven with a Spear? what a wonderful thing is this, that after all these Sufferings he must have one Wound more? Why (Lord what means this open clift and Wound within thee? what means this Stream and River of thy Heart's blood? O it is I that sinned, and to wash it away, his Heart runs Blood and Water in abundance.

Lo here those seven Effusions of our Saviour's Blood, the first at his Circumcision, the second in the Garden, the rest when his Cheeks were nipped, his Head crowned, his back scourged, his Hands and Feet nailed, his side opened with a spear, whence came out an Issue of Blood and Water.

Use. And be our Sins thus purged? Lord, in what miserable case lay we, that Christ our Saviour must endure all this for us! were our Sins infinite, for which none could satisfy but our infinite God? were not our Iniquities as the Sands, for which no less than an Ocean of Blood could serve to cover them! sure here is a Motive (if nothing else) to draw from us the confession of our manifold Sins. Lord, we have sinned, we have sinned grievously, heavily, and with a mighty Hand; and what now remains, but that we never cease weeping, crying, praying, beseeching, till we get our Pardon sealed in the Blood of Christ. O beloved! let me intreat you for Christ's sake, for his Blood's sake, for his Death's sake that you will repent you of your Sins which have put him to these Torments: And to this End I shall intreat you thus to order your Repentance: First, (after Confession of your manifold Sins) look upon him whom you have pierced; and by your Meditation supposing him to lay afore you, weep, and weep over him, whom you see by your Sins thus clothed in his Blood. Why thus shall it be with the House of David, Zach. 12. 10, 11. I will pour upon the House of David (faith God) and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the Spirit of grace, and of supplication, and they shall look upon him whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one that mourneth for his only Son; and be sorry for him, as one that is sorry for his first-born: In that day there shall be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon. What is the House of David? and what are the Inhabitants of Jerusalem, but the elect People of God? And if you be of that number, then do you look on him whom you have pierced, and mourn for him, or mourn over him, as one that mourneth for his only Son, yea, be sorry for him, or be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his first first born. Is it not Time, think you? Do you not see how every Part of our Saviour bleeds afore you, his Head bleeds, his Face bleeds, his Arms bleed, his Hands bleed, his Heart bleeds, his Back bleeds, his Belly bleeds, his Thighs bleed, his Legs bleed, his Feet bleed; and what makes all this Blood-fed but our fins, our sins? O that this Day, for this Cause we would make a great mourning as the mourning of Hadadrinmon in the valley of Megiddon! O weep, or if you will not weep for him, yet weep for your selves, and your own sins: Alas, have you not Cause? your fins were his Murderers, your Hands by your fins were imbrued in his Blood.

2. Stay not here, but when you have mourned and wept over your Saviour, then hate those fins that wrought this Evil on your Saviour: Which that you may do effectually, send your Thoughts afar off, and see your Saviour in his Circumcision, in the Garden; and when you have done so, then follow him a little further; behold the Tears in his Eyes, and the clodd Blood that came from him, when his cheeks were nipped, his head crowned, his back scourged, his hands and feet nailed, his side opened; and then, O then see if you can love those fins that have done all this Villainy! Love them, said I? no if you have any share in Christ, I hope you will rather be revenged on your sins; rather you will every one lay, O my Pride, and my Stubbornness, and my Leofeness, and my Uncleanness, and my Drunkenness; these were the Nails, and the Whips, and the spear that drew blood from my Saviour; therefore let me be far ever revenged of this proud, stubborn, rebellious Heart of mine own; let me for ever loath my sin, because it brought all this sorrow on my Saviour. Is not this ordinary with Men? Should any one murder your Father or Friend, whom you highly regarded and honoured, would you brook his sight, or endure his Campany? Nay, would not your Hearts rise against him? would not you prosecute the Law to the uttermost? and if you might be the Executioner, would you not wound him and mangle him, and at every stroke cry out, Thou wast the Death of my Father, thou wast the Death of my Father. And is the Heart of a Man thus enraged against him, that hath but murdered his Friend, or his Father? O then how should our Hearts be transported with infinite Indignation (not against the Man, but) against Sin that hath shed the precious Blood of your Father, your Master, your God, your King, your Saviour? O follow, follow after these sins with an Hue and Cry, bring them to the Bar, set them before the Tribunal of that great Judge of Heaven, and cry, Justice, Lord; Justice against these sins of mine: These slew my Saviour, Lord, slay them; these crucified my Saviour, Lord, crucifie them: Why thus pursue and never leave them, until, if it possibly may be, you see these fins bleed their last; never think you have done enough, but still give your Corruptions one back more, confess your sins once more, and lay, Lord, this Pride, and this Stubbornness, and this Looseness of Heart, these are they that killed my Saviour, and I will be revenged of them.

3. Stay not here neither, but when you have mourned for your sins, and sought Revenge on them, then by Faith cast them all on the Lord Jesus Christ; eafe your own Souls of them, and hurl your Care on him that careth for you all. Certainly, there is no Way to wash you clean from your sin, but only by Christ's Blood, and how must you apply this but by Faith? Now then then, in the last Place have Faith, rente your Soul, as it were, in the Blood of this immaculate Lamb, and tho you are polluted and defiled, yet question-less the Blood of Jesus Christ will purge you from all sin. If the blood of bulls and goats, faith the Apostle, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh, how much more shall the Blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your Consciences from dead works, to serve the living God, Heb. 9. 13, 14. You may talk of a Purgatory; why, here is the Purgatory, that true Purgatory, the fountain that is laid open for the house of Judah to wash in; and I pray you mark it, it is not only for Justification, but being applied by Faith, as effectual for Sanctification; not only for the expiation of Sin, that it be not laid to your Charge, but withal to purge your Consciences from dead Works to serve the living God. O then (as you tender your Souls) believe, and cast your selves upon Christ, for salvation and for pardon of sins: Do you not see him bleeding on the Cross? Do you not hear him graciously offering to receive your sin-wearyed souls into his bleeding Wounds? What should you do then but cast your selves with all the spiritual strength that you can (at least with infinite Longings, and most hearty desires) into the Bottom of our Saviour? say with your selves, The Fountain is opened, and here will we bath for ever: Come Life or come Death, come Heaven or come Hell, come what come can, here will we stick for ever; Nay, if you must perish, tell God and Man, Angels and Devils, they shall pluck you out of the Hands, and rent you from between the Arms of your blessed bleeding Redeemer, your soul purging Saviour. Thus if you believe, you need not to droop for your sins, but to go on with Comfort to everlasting Happiness: The Blood of Christ (no question) will make way for you into Heaven: Yea, (faith the Apostle) By the Blood of Jesus we may boldly enter into the holy places, by the new and living way which he hath prepared for us, through the Vail which is his Flesh. Heb. 10. 19, 20. Such is the blessed Fruit of this Blood, and the Lord make it effectual unto us, to bring us into Heaven, even for his sake, who by himself thus purged our Sins.

You see the Purge given and taken, only a Time it must have, and then follows the Evacuation: He purged; What? the ill Humour is Sin; the Extent of it, Our Sin, Of both these together at our next meeting. Now the Lord do prepare us, that this Purge may work in us the everlasting Welfare, and Health of our Souls.

Our Sins.

Sin is our sickness, and to cure us of it, the Law yields Corrosives, the Gospel Lenitives, but especially Christ yields that Phyick purgative, which evacuates Sin. To consider Christ as a Man of Sorrow, and not a Saviour of sinners, were but a melancholick Contemplation; to behold his Wounds, and not so to think on them as they were our selves, adds but more sorrows to our other Miseries; but when we call to mind that his Blood was our Ransom, that his Stripes were our Cures, then with all our Hearts we pray, His blood be upon us and our children. And why not? His blood, faith the Apostle, speaks better things than the blood of Abel, Heb. 12. 24. For Abel’s Blood cried Revenge, but Christ’s Blood speaks Mercy; and so to our Comfort be it spoken, if God heard heard the servant, he will much rather hear the Son: Yea, if he heard his Servant for spilling, how much more will he hear his Son for saving and regaining our Souls? In the Words are two Parts.

1. The ill Humour evacuated, Sin.

2. The Extent of this sin, it is mine, yours, Ours, every ones.

What is it but Sin which our Saviour purged? this is that ill Humour derived from our Parents, inherent in ourselves, imputed to our Saviour, and therefore, faith the Prophet, he bare the sins of many, Isa. 53. 12. to whom agrees the Apostle, that he his own self bare our sins in his own body, 1 Pet. 2. 24. What a Load then lay on his shoulders, when all our sins, the sins of all the World were fastned upon him? One Man's sin is enough to sink him into Hell; and had not our Saviour intervened, every one of us had known by a woful Experience, how heavy sin would have been upon the soul of each man: But, O happy we! the snare is broken, and we are delivered. To prevent sin's Effect, Christ Jesus hath purged and washed it away.

And is this all the Matter wherefore our Saviour suffered? was sin all the Dittafe of which he laboured, when he had by himself purged? Yes, it was all, and if we consider it rightly, we may think it enough to cause sufferings in him, when merely for its sake God was so wroth against us. O loathsome sin, more ugly in the sight of God, than is the fouleast Creature in the sight of man! he cannot away with it, nor (so righteous are his Ways) could he save his own Elect because of it, but by killing his own Son: Imagine then what a sickness is sin, when nothing but the Blood of the Son of God could cure it; imagine what a Poison is sin, when nothing but a spiritual Mithridate compounded and con-

fected of the best Blood that ever the World had, could heal it: We need not any further to consider its Nature, but only to think of it how hateful it was to God, how hurtful to his Son, how damnable to Men.

Use 1. And was it Sin he purged? 1. This may teach us how hateful sin is, that put him thus to his Purge: Every sin is a Nail, a Thorn, a Spear, and every sinner a Jew, a Judas, a Pilate: Howsoever then we may seek to shitt it in others, yet are we found the Principal in this Act ourselves; you know it is not the Executioner that properly kills the Man, sin only is the Murderer, yea, our sins only are the Crucifiers of the Lord of Glory; yea, if you will please to hear me, I will yet say more, our sins only did not crucify him, but do crucify him afresh, Heb. 6. 6, and herein how far do we exceed the Cruelty of the Jews? then his Body was passible and mortal, but now it is glorified and immortal; they knew not what they did, For had they known, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory, 1 Cor. 2. 8. but we know well enough what we do and say too; they buried Christ in the Earth, and the third day he rose again from the dead; but we, through sin, so bury him in Oblivion, that not once in three days, three weeks he ariseth or shineth in our Hearts; O shame of Christians to forget so great a Mercy! O sin past shame to crucifie afresh the Son of God! Think of it, Beloved, sin is the Death of Christ, and would you not hate him that kills your Brother, your Father, your Master, your King, your God? Beware then of sin, that does it all at a Blow! and if you are tempted to it, suppose with yourselves that you saw Christ Jesus coming towards you, wrapt in Linens, bound with a Kercher, and crying after you in this ghastly Manner; Beware, E e e e take.

...take heed what you do, and have your sins most vilely murdered me, but now seeing my wounds are whole again, do not, I beseech you, rub and revive them with your multiplied sins; pity, pity me your Jesus, save me your Saviour, once have I died, and had not that one Death been sufficient, I would have died a thousand Deaths more to have saved your Souls, why then do you sin again to renew my Sufferings? O my Saviour, who will not leave to sin that but bears thy Voice in the Gardens? Lo, the Companions hearken unto thy Voice, cause me to hear it, Cant. 8. 13. It is I that have sinned, and if this be the Fruit of it, let me rather be torn of Beasts, be devoured of Worms, be violently pulled or haled with Racks, than wittingly, or wilfully commit a sin.

Use 2. This may teach us what was the End, and Meaning, and Intent of Christ in his Sufferings. It was to purge away sin, and therefore our Faith must chiefly eye that; without this, the Contemplation of Christ’s Death, or the Mediation of the story of his sufferings, and of the Greatness of them, will be altogether unprofitable. Christians, learn this for ever; that Faith which is true, faving, justifying Faith, it chiefly mind, and is most taken up with the main scope and drift of all Christ’s sufferings, which is to obtain Forgiveness of sins in Christ crucified. This was the true End of Christ’s Death, To be a Propitiation for sin, to bear our sins on the Tree; he was made Sin for us, that we might be made the Righteousness of God in him. This was the Plot which God by an ancient Designment aimed at in the sufferings of Christ; and thus our Faith must take it up: O let our Faith look mainly to this Design, and Plot of God and Christ in his sufferings, to satisfy for our sins, and to justify us sinners. Surely this Intent of Christ in all that he did or suffered, is that welcome News, and the very Spirit of the Gospel, which true Faith preys and feizeth on.

Secondly, He purged sin; whose? but our sin: And this tells us of the Universality of this gracious Benefit, together with its Limitation.

1. Of the Universality: He tasted of death for every man. Heb. 2. 9, and, He gave himself a ransom for all men, 1 Tim. 2. 6. and, He purged our sins, faith my Text; what, ours only? No, faith the Apostle, He is the propitiation not for our sins only, but for the sins of the whole world, 1 John 2. 2. You will say, all do not actually receive the Fruit of his Death: You say indeed truly; but I wonder through whose Default: Our blessed Saviour, what is he but like a royal Prince, who having many of his subjects in Captivity of Thralldom under a foreign Enemy, pays a full Ransom for every one of them, and then sending forth his Ambassadors, he woos them to return to their Home, and to enjoy their Liberty; some there are that reject the Offer, they will rather serve the Enemy than return to the Freedom of their Lord; and are these all the thanks they give their Redeemer? O sweet Saviour! be made upon the Cross a full, perfect, and sufficient Sacrifice, Oblation, and Satisfaction for the sins of the World; but not all receive the Benefit, because many by their own Demerit have made themselves unworthy; and yet howsoever some despise Liberty; Is the Arm of the Lord shortened? Numb. 11. 23. No, see his Arms spread on the Cross to embrace all; and here is the Universality of this gracious Benefit.

Use. The Use hereof is full of Comfort: If any Man, any Sinner, will now come in with a truly penitent soul thirsting heartily for Christ Jesus, and resolve unfeignedly to take his Yoke upon him, there is no Number or Notoriousness of Sin that can possibly hinder his gracious Entertainment... ment at God's Mercy-seat. O then how heinous is the offended, who refuse to take Christ Jesus offered thus universally? If you ask, Who are they? I answer, They are Offenders on both Hands; 1. Those that too much despair. 2. Those that too much presume: To begin with the latter.

1. Some there are, that howsoever Christ, and Heaven, and Salvation be offered unto them, yet so close do they flick and adhere to their sins, that they are loath to leave them, and they hope God is so merciful, that they can have Christ and their sins too. Alas! deceive not yourselves, tho' the Dearness, and Sweetness, and Freeness, and Generality of Christ's Offers be a Doctrine most true, and we propound it unto you as a Motive and Encouragement to bring you in; yet not so much as one Drop of all that bottomless Depth of Christ's Mercy and Bounty doth as yet belong unto any that lie in the State of Unregenerate, or in any Kind of Hypocrisy whatsoever. Away then with this Presumption, and bethink you what a grievous and fearful sin you commit Time after Time, and Day after Day in neglecting so great a salvation, by chusing, upon a free Offer of his soul-saving Blood, to cleave rather to a Lust (O horrible Indignity!) than to Christ Jesus blest for ever: What Height and Perfection of Madness is this, that whereas a Man, but renouncing his base, rotten, transitory Pleasures might have Christ Jesus, and with him a full and free Discharge of Hell-pains, a sure and known Right to Heaven's Joys; yet should in cold Blood most wickedly and willingly, after so many Intreaties, Invitations and Offers, refuse this mighty Change? Heaven and Earth may be astonished! Angels and all Creatures may justly be amazed at this prodigious fottishness and monstrous Madness of such miserable Men! They are the Words of a late Divine; The World, faith he, is wont to call God's People precise Fools, because they are willing to sell all they have for that one Pearl of great Price; to part with Profits, Pleasures, Preferments, their right Hand, their right Eye, every Thing, any Thing, rather than to leave Jesus Christ: But who, do you think, now are the true and great Fools of the World? and who are likelyest one Day to groan for Anguish of Spirit, and say within themselves, This is he whom we had sometimes in derision, and a Proverb of Reproach; we Fools accounted his Life Madness, and his End to be without Honour, now is he numbered among the Children of God, and his Lot is among the Saints, Wifd. 5. 3. 4. Nay, if once come to this, with what infinite Horror, and reftlesse Anguish will this Conceit rent a Man in Pieces, and gnaw upon his Conscience, when he considers in Hell that he hath lost Heaven for a Lust; and whereas he might at every Sermon had the Son of God his Husband for the very taking, and have lived with him for ever in unspeakable Bliss; yet, neglecting to great Salvation, must now lie in unquenchable Flames without all Ease or End. Sure it is the highest Honour that can be imagined, that the Son of God should make such an unfitness of him for his own Eeke; and the Conscience, though a man, as though God did beseech you by us, we pray you in Christ's stead, to be reconciled to God, 2 Cor. 5. 20. We are Christ's spokesmen, that I may to speak, to woo you and win you unto him; now what can you say for yourselves, that you stand out? Why come you not in? If the Devil would give you leave to speak out, and in plain Terms, one would say, I had rather be damned than leave my drunkenness; another, I love the world better than Jesus Christ; a third, I will not part with my ease and gainful trade of Injury for the treasure hid in the field; and so on; so that upon the Matter, you must needs all confess that you hereby judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting Life, that you are willful bloody Murderers of your own Souls: Nay, and if you go on without Repentance, you may expect that the hellish gnawing of Conscience for this one sin of refusing Christ may perhaps hold scale with the united Horrors of all the rest whatsoever. O then make Halfe out of sin, and come, come to Christ, so freely offered unto you! Hear how he calls, Come unto me, all sinners; see my Arms spread, my Heart open. O how gladly would I entertain you, if you would come unto me: Here is a general Invitation indeed, all Men, all Sinners, of all Estates, of all Kinds, of all Conditions, whoever you are, he keeps open House for you, Come and welcome.

Secondly, They offend on the other side, who after Invitation come not through a kind of unmannersly Modesty, or bashful Discouragement: Some there are, that may perhaps go so far as to acknowledge their sins, and to confess that without Christ they are utterly undone, and everlastingly damned; that may be raved with the Thoughts and apprehensions of this Invitation of Christ, and would ever think themselves happy if they had their hungry souls filled with Christ Jesus; but yet so it is, that (considering their manifold grievous sins, sins of a Scarlet Die, of an horrid Strans against Knowledge, against Conscience, and that which troubles them most, for all these sins, their forrow being so little, and poor, and scant, and in no Proportion answerable to them) they cannot, dare not, will not meddle with any Mercy, or believe that Christ Jesus in any ways belongs unto them. To these I speak, or rather let them hear our Saviour himself speak to them; Whosoever will, (faith he) let him come, and drink of this water of Life freely: Revelation 21. Yea, those that think themselves farthest off, he bids them come. Matthew 11. 28. Come, all that are weary and heavy laden: If they find sin a burden, then Christ invites them, they (whoever they are) that stand at the staff's End, he desires them to lay aside their Weapons and come in; or if they will not do it, he lays his Charge on them, for this is his Commandment, that we should believe on the Name of his Son Jesus Christ: 1 John 3. 23. Nay, he counts it a sin worse than the sin of Sodom, a crying sin, not to come in when the Gospel is proclaimed; and therefore let them never pretend their sins are great and many, but rather (because of his Offer, Invitation, and Command, it being without any Restraint of Person, or Sin, (except that against the holy Ghost) if they will not come in, and cast themselves upon Christ, let them say, it is not the greatnes of their sin, but a willingness to be still in their sins, which hinders them; or otherwise let them know, that sins, when Men are only sensible of them, should be the greatest Incouragement, (rather than Discouragement) to bring them in to our Saviour: These shall be whole need not a Physician, but they that are sick: Matthew 9. 12. Is it not for the Honour of a Physician to cure great Diseases? A mighty God and Saviour loves to do mighty things, therefore in any case let them come in, and the greater sinners they are, no question the greater Glory shall Christ have by their coming: And indeed to take away all scruple, it is a Maxim most true, That he which is truly weary of his sins fins, hath a sound seasonable, and comfortable calling to lay hold upon Christ. Matth. 11. 28. Do they feel the heavy Load of their sins? Just then is Christ ready to take off the Burthen; do they thirst after Righteousness? Just then is the fountain of the water of life set wide open unto them: Rev. 21. 6. are they contrite and humble in spirit? Just then are they become Thrones for the high and lofty one that inhabiteth eternity to dwell in for ever. Isa. 57. 15. O then come and welcome! Christ excepts none that will not except themselves: He died for all, and he would have all Men to be saved.

But yet let us be courteous: Secondly, be purged our sins, and ours] with a Limitation; the use of Physick (we say) confihts in Application; and howsoever our Saviour hath purged our sins; yet this Purge of his is nothing beneficial to us, unless there be some Means to apply it. As then it is in all other Phyfick, so in this; we must first take it; secondly, keep it.

1. Take it; for as the best Plaister if not laid to, can cure no Wound: so Christ himself, and all his precious Merits are of no vertue to him that will not apply them by Faith: when you hear the Gospel preached, believe it on your parts; believe Christ is yours; believe that he lived and died, and forrowed, and suffered, and all this for you, to purge your souls for your sins.

2. But having taken it, you must Secondly keep it; as Men take Physick, not only in belief that it will do them good, but in hope to keep it by the vertue and strength of the retentive parts: So we take Christ by Faith, but we retain him by Holiness; these two Faith and Holiness, are those two Bonds wherewith Christ is united unto us, and we unto Christ: So that if we be of this number, then truly may we say that he purged our sins: For he both died for us, and by vertue of our Faith and Holiness through him, his Death is applied to us; to us, I say, not in any general Acceptation, but as we are of the number of his Saints; for we had sinned, and they were our sins] only that he effectually purged, and walked away.

Ufe. And this Leffon may afford us this Ufe, that howsoever the Free-grace, and Mercy, and Goodness of Christ Jesus is revealed and offered to all Men, universally, yet our Saviour takes none but such as are willing to take upon them his yoke; he gives himself to none but such as are ready to fell all and follow him: he saves none but such as deny ungodliness and worldly Lusts, and live soberly, righteously and godly in this present World: In a Word, he purgeth none, or clear-eth none by his Blood from all sin, but such as walk in Light, as God is in the Light; who make Conscience of detesting and declining all Sins, and sincerely set their Hearts and Hands with Love and careful Endeavour to every Duty enjoyned them; why, these are the Men only to whom his Death is effectual; and therefore, as we mean to partake of his Merits, or to have God by his Death, let us become new Creatures. It is true indeed and we cannot but maintain it, that to justification nothing but Faith is required; but this Caution must be added, it must be a Faith that purifies the Heart, that works an universal Change, that shews itself in the Fruits: If therefore any of us would come in, let us have ready our Answer, as a late Divine speaks, the Dialogue betwixt Christ and a true Christian on this Manner: First, (faith he) when God hath enlightened the Eyes of a Man, that he can see where this Treasure is, what then? Why, (faith the Christian) I am so inflamed with the Love of it, that I will have it what whatsoever it cost me: Yea, (faith Christ) but there is a price upon it, it must cost thee dear, a great deal of Sorrow, and Trouble, and Crosses, and Afflictions: Tyburn, tell me not of Price, (faith the Christian) whatsoever I have shall go for it, I will do any thing for it, that God will enable me: Why, (faith Christ) wilt thou curb thine Affections? wilt thou give up thy Life? wilt thou be content to sell all thou hast? I will do it (faith the Christian) with all my Heart, I am content to sell all that I have, nothing is so dear unto me but I will part with it, my Right-hand, my Right-eye: Nay, if Hell itself should stand between me and Christ, yet would I pass through it unto him. This (beloved) this is that violent Affection which God puts into the Hearts of his Children, that they will have Christ whatsoever it cost them: Yet understand me, I pray you: It is not to sell our Houses, or Lands, or Children, but our sins that I mean: The Lord Jesus and one Lust cannot lodge together in one soul: No, if we are but once truly incorporated into Christ, we must take him as our Husband and Lord; we must love, honour, and serve him, we must endeavour after Sanctification, Purity, new Obedience, Ability to do, or suffer any thing for Christ; we must consecrate all the Powers and Possibilities of our Bodies and Souls to do him the best Service we can; we must grieve and walk more humbly, because we can do no better: And thus if we do, though I cannot say but still we shall sin so long as we live on this Earth, yet here is our comfort. 1 John 2. 1, 2.

[We have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous, and he is the propitiation for our sins. I say, for our sins] effectually, if we believe in his Name, for it was for us he died, and they were our sins he purged, and this is that great Benefit we receive from our Saviour, in that he by himself hath purged our sins.]

And now our sins being purged, our souls recovered, I may well end this Text, only I shall give it one Visit more and so Farewel.

You see the Malady, Sin, [the Remedy, a Purge,] the Physician, he, [the Patient, himself,] our selves, [for our Infirmities were laid on him, and his Sores became our soves, by whose Virtue we are healed. Bless we then God for the Recovery of our Souls; and be we careful for the Future of any Relapse whatsoever: These Relapses are they we had need to fear indeed, for in them the Diseases are more dangerous, sins are more pernicious, and Men become seven times more the Children of Satan than ever they were before. Matth. 12. 44. Now then we are healed, be we studious to preserve it all the Days of our Life, and we shall find at our Death, that he that purged our sins will save our Souls; we need not any other Purgatory after Death; no, when our Souls shall take their Flights from our Bodies, then are the Angels ready to conduct them to his Kingdom: and thither may we come for his sake, and his only, who by himself hath purged our sins. Amen.
HEAVEN's HAPPINESS.

Luke xxiii. 43. To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

He that purged our sins is here disposing of Paradise, at the same Time when he hung on the Cross, even giving up the Ghoft, he is dealing Crowns and Kingdoms to a poor penitent Soul: Thus like a glorious Sun that breaks thro' the watry Clouds ere it appear unto us, our Saviour, the Sun of Righteousnefs, shoots forth his Rays of Majesty thro' all his Sufferings on a dejected Sinner. Two Malefactors suffer with him; the one rails on him, faing, If thou be Christ, save thy self and us: but the other prays to him, Lord, remember me when thou comest to thy kingdom. In the midst of his Thraldom he proclaims his Kingdom, and whom he sees a Captive, he believes a Lord: Lord, remember me; is it not strange, that thro' so many, such thick Clouds of Mifery, this dying Thief should behold his Glory? but where Grace aboundeth, what Marvel is it? The natural man knoweth not the things of God, but he that is spiritual, discerneth all things. 1 Cor. 2. 15.

No sooner was this penitent Thief converted a Christian, but on a sudden, even on the very Rack of Torture he confefseth himself a Sinner, and Christ his Saviour, and therefore desires to be remembered of him when he comes to Heaven. Thus pouring out his Soul in Prayer, the Bridegroom that became an Harp, faith Bernard, (his Cross being the Wood; himself stretched on it, the Strings; and his Words, the Sound) heark how he warbles the most heavenly Music that was ever chanted to a departing Soul, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

The Words are a Gospel, such as the Angels brought to the Shepherds, Luke 2. 10. Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy. Here is Tidings, good Tidings; Joy, and great Joy, the greatest Happiness that could ever befall a Mortal, now waits on a Malefactor, at that Time when the Execution was a doing, Death approaching, and the Horrors of Hell layin' hold upon him; when a Word of Comfort would have been most meetable, like apples of gold in pictures of silver, Prov. 26. 11. then comes our Saviour (as a Messenger with a Pardon) and he bids him be of good Cheer, there was Happiness pinefs towards him; when? to day; what? thou shalt be with me; where? in paradise. Not a Word but speaks Comfort to the afflicted Soul; be ye howsoever afflicted for the present, yet there shall be a Change, and the more to sweeten it, Celerity, to day.

Certainty, thou shalt be.
Society, with me.

Here is the

Ubi, or Place, where all Joy is enjoyed, in paradise.

These are those four Heads that influe out of Eden; may God give a Blessing to the Watering, that you may bear good Fruit till you are planted in that Garden whereof it is spoken, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise. We begin with the Certainty of this Promife, Thou shalt be, &c.

Thou shalt be.

To this Purpose was that Affeveration, Verily, verily I say unto thee. Nor is it enough that he affirms it, but he assures it, efe, thou shalt be. Will and shall is for the King, and what is he les that bestows Kingdoms on his Servants? Here was a poor Man desires only to be remembred of him, and in stead of remembreding him, he tells him he shall be with him; how? but as a Coheir of his Kingdom. Blessed Thief, that had such a Gift, and that made unto him with such Assurance as this was! It is the Promife of our Saviour, who to put him out of all doubt, he tells him it shall be so, Thou shalt be, with me in paradise. Whence observe.

Obferv. That Salvation may be made sure to a Man. If you would needs know the Means, howsoever it was true in this Thief, is not by any immediat Suggestion or Revelation; Christ is now in Heaven, and the Holy Ghost works not by Enthusiasms or Dreams: The Assurance of our Salvation depends not upon Revelation, but on the Promises of the Gospel.*: There then must we search and fee, and if our Hearts be rightly qualified, thence may we draw that Fulness of Persuasion with Abraham, who staggered not at God's Promises, being fully persuaded, that what he had promised he was able to perform, Rom. 4. 21. This Doctrine we have confirmed by David, Psalm 35. 3. Say unto my soul, I am thy salvation. By Peter in the 3 Pet. 1. 10. Make your election sure. By Paul, in the 1 Cor. 9. 26. I therefore so run, not as uncertainly. From all which we may argue, David would never pray for that which could not be; nor would Peter charge us with a Duty which stood not in Possibility to be performed; nor would Paul serve God at Random, uncertain whether he should obtain any Good, or prevent any Mischief; no, but as one that was sure, that by so doing he should attain everlasting Life, and without so doing he could not avoid eternal Death. We may then before, it Conditions rightly concur; and seeing this is a Point we would all be glad to know, that we are sure to be saved, I shall beg others Help, God's Assistance, and your Patience, till we have opened the Windows, and given you a Light of the Lodging, where securely our souls may rest at noon, Cant. 1. 7.

Some lay the Order thus, That to assure us of Heaven, we must be assured of Christ; and, to assure of Christ, we must be assured of Faith; and, to assure us of Faith, we must be assured of Repentance, and to assure us of Repentance, we must be assured of Amendment of Life.

* Fidelium piloboria non nititur revelazione, sed promissionibus Evangelii.

Others tell us of more Evidences, and we shall reduce them to these Heads; The Testimony of our Spirits, and the Testimony of God's Spirit: It is not our spirit alone, nor God's Spirit alone makes this Certificate, but both concurring; and thus Paul tells us, Rom. 8. 16. The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

1. Our first Assurance then, is, the Testimony of our spirit; and this witnesseth two Ways:

By Inward Tokens.

Inward Tokens are certain special Graces of God imprinted in the spirit of a Man, as, godly Sorrow, Desire of Pardon, Love of Righteousness, Faith in Christ, for he that believeth on the Son of God, hath the witness in himself, faith the Apostle, John 5. 10.

Outward Fruits, are, all good Deeds, holy Duties, new Obedience, and hereby we are sure that we know him, if we keep his commandments, 1 John 2. 3. To say then we are sure of Heaven, and to live a Life fitter for Devils, what a fond saying is this? No, if we have a true Testimony we must be of good Lives; it is our Holiness, and Justice, and Mercy, and Truth that will be our best Assurance; and so the Apostle assures us; If ye do these things ye shall never fall, 2 Pet. 1. 10. See more of this in Media, Self-trial, Sel. 8.

2. Our second and best Assurance, is, the Testimony of God's Spirit, which sometimes may fugges and testifie to the sanctified Conscience, thus, or, in the like Manner, Thou shalt be saved, thou shalt be with me in Paradise.

But here I must satisfie two Doubts: 1. By what Means the Spirit of God gives this particular Assurance? 2. How a Man may discern betwixt the Assurance of this Spirit, and the Illusion of Satan, who is the Spirit of Lies?

To the first, we say, the Means is either by an immediate Revelation, or by a particular Application of the Promises in the Gospel in Form of an experimental Syllogism; as, Whosoever believes on the Son shall be saved, John 3. 36. But I believe on the Son; Therefore I shall be saved. The major is Scripture, the minor is confirmed by our Faith, which if I have, I may say I believe: True, Flesh and Blood cannot say this, it is the Operation of the Holy Ghost; but if the Work be wrought, and I feel this Faith within my Soul, what need I doubt but this Assumption is true, I believe on the Son? Yet I hear some complain, they have neither sight nor sense of Faith; and thus it is often with God's dearest Children: The Sun, that in a clear sky discovers and manifesteth itself, may sometimes with Clouds be overcast and darkned; and Faith, that in the Calmness of a Christian Course shines, and shews itself clearly to the sanctified Heart, may sometimes in the Damp of spiritual Defertion, or Darkness of Temptation, lie hid and obscured: There is therefore in the Saints, the Assurance of Evidence, and the Assurance of Adherence*: The Assurance of Evidence, is that which is without scruple, and brings an admirable Joy with it, and this more especially appears, either in our fervent Prayers, or in our heavenly Meditations, or, in Time of *Certitudo evidentiæ, & adherentiae.

Martyrdom, or in some quickening Exercises of extraordinary Humiliation, or in beginning of our spiritual, or end of our natural Life, as most needful Times; then doth God’s Spirit speak comfortably to us, whispering to our Souls the Assurance of our Happiness, that we should be Inheritors of his Kingdom. The Assurance of Adherence is that, which I doubt not the Saints have in their greatest Extremity; for instance, many a faithful soul that makes Conscience of sin, lies and languishes upon the Rock of Fears and Terrors, he feels nothing but a dead Heart, and a spiritual Detention, yet in the mean time his soul cleaves unto Christ, as the surest Rock, he cries and longs after him, and for all his sorrows he will still rest upon him, Job-like, Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him, Job. 13. 15. Now this Adherence unto Christ may assure him of Salvation, for (if we speak punctually and properly) faith justifying is not to be assucred of Pardon, but to trust wholly upon Christ for Pardon; and thus if he do, then may he with freedom of Spirit say, I believe on the Son, whence ariseth this Conclusion, which is the Testimony of God’s Spirit, therefore I shall be saved.

To our second Doubt, How we may discern betwixt the Testimony of God’s Spirit, and the Illusion of Satan? I answer.

First, The Testimony of God’s Spirit is ever agreeable to the Word, and thus to try us, the Scripture tells us, that whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin, 1 John 3. 9. which is not to be understood simpliciter of the Act of sinning, for who can say, my Heart is clean? but in this sense, he hath not committed sin, that is, he makes not a Trade of Sin, it doth not reign in him; if then thou allowest any Lust in thine Heart, or goest on in the willing Practice of any one known sin, and yet hast a conceit that thou art sure of Salvation, alas, thou art deceived; Thou hast made a Lie thy Refuge, and bid thyself under Fulness.

Secondly, God’s Spirit breathes in the soul a reverend Love, and infatiable Longing after all good Means appointed and sanctified for our spiritual good: And therefore that Heart which sweetly is affected and inflamed with the Word and Prayer, and Meditation and Conference, and Vows and singing of Psalms, and use of good Books, we doubt not but it is breathed on by the Spirit of God; which others that use all these Ordinances out of Custom or Formality, or some other finister End, alas, their Conceit of being Right, is built on the Sands, and therefore down it falls at Death’s Flood, and is over-whelmed in Destruction.

Thirdly, God’s Spirit is ever attended with the Spirit of Prayer; and therefore faith the Apostle, We know not how to pray, but the Spirit itself maketh Intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered, Rom. 8. 26. O the blessed Operation of this Spirit! It even warms the Spirit of a Man with quickening Life, to pour out itself in the Presence of the Lord his God, sometimes in more hearty Prayers, and sometimes in more faint and cold, yet always edged with infinite Desires that they were far more fervent than they are: But on the other side, every decluded Pharisee is a mere stranger to the power of Prayer, if he prays often (as I make it a question) yet never prays he from a broken Heart, and this argues that all his Confidences is no better than a Weed which grows of its own Accord, and therefore like Jonah’s Gourd, when Affliction comes, it withers in a sudden.

Fourthly, The Testimony of God’s Spirit

rit is often exercised and accompanied with Fears, and Jealousies, and Doubts, and Difficulties, and varieties of Temptations, which many times will drive the soul thus difficult to cry mightily to God, to re-examine her Grounds, to confirm her Watch, to rest for counsel where it may be had; whilst on the contrary the Pharisee's Groundless Conceit lies in his Bofom without Fears, or Jealousies, or Doubts, or Difficulties, or any such Ado; why so? alas, Satan is too subtle to trouble him in that case; he knows his Foundation is Falshood, his Hope of Heaven no better than a golden Dream, and therefore in Policy he holds his Peace, that he may hold him the faster.

Fifthly, The Testimony of God's Spirit is ever most refreshing at those times, when we retire our selves to converse with God, in a more solemn manner; when we feel that we have conquered, or well curbed some Corruption of Nature; when we are well exercised in the Ordinances of God, or in our Sufferings by Man for a good Cause and Conscience fake; then (or at such Time) shall we feel that sweetness of the Spirit cherishing our Hearts with a lightsome Comfort that cannot be uttered; which on the contrary the deluded Man is always alike peremptory in his Conscience; you shall not take him at any Time without a bold Perswasion, that he hopes to be saved, as well as the best, thus like a Man who lying fast asleep on the edge of a Rock, he dreams merrily of Crowns and Kingdoms, and will not off it, but on a sudden starting for Joy, he tumbles into the Bottom of the Sea, and there lies drowned in the Deep; that Assurance which is ever secure is but a Dream, whereas the Testimony of God's Spirit is sometimes mixed with Doubts, and sometimes (to our unutterable Comfort) with a secret, still, Heart-ravishing Voice thus speaks to our Consciences, Thou shalt be] with me in Paradise.

You see the Testimony of God's Spirit how it works in us, and how it is discerned by us; it works in us by a particular Application of the Promises in the Gospel, and is discerned by us by the Word, by our Love, our Prayers, our Fears, our Joys at sometimes while we are doing our Duties. But for this see our best Evidences in Media. Self-trial ch. 4. Sect. 8. third Edition.

Use. O blessed Man that feels in his soul this blessed Testimony! what is here comparable to it? Riches are deceitful, Pleasure is a Toy, the World is but a Bubble, only our Assurance of Heaven is the only real Comfort that we have on Earth; who then would not study to make this certain? If we purchase an Inheritance on Earth, we make it as sure and our Tenure as strong as the brawn of the Law, or the Brain of Lawyers can devise, we have Conveyance, and Bonds, and Fines, no Strength too much; and shall we not be more curious in the settling our eternal Inheritance in Paradise? A Man can never be too sure of going to Heaven, and therefore in God's Fear let us examine the Testimony of our Spirits by the inward Tokens, and by the outward Fruits: Let us examine the Testimony of God's Spirit by the means and the difference; and if we find both these Testimonies to accord within us; how blest are we in the Vale of Tears! it is an Heaven upon Earth, a Paradise in a Wilderness; in a Word, a Comfort in all Miseries, be they never so embittered. See a Thief hanging on the Cross, an Engine of most grievous Torture; but who can tell the Joy that entred into him before he entred into Heaven? You may guess it by his defire to be remembered of Christ when he came into his Kingdom; he begs not for Life, nor Pleasure, nor Riches, nor Honour, no, There is one thing necessary; give him Heaven and he cares for nothing; to this Purpose doth he address himself to our blessed Saviour, and he asks,--- What? If thou be Christ, save thyself Luke 23. 37. 39. said the Jews in Derision, and If thou be Christ, save thyself and us, said the other Thief to him; but this was only for the Body's safety: And here is a Man quite of another Mind, let the Jews rack him, tear him, break all his Bones, and pull him into Atomes, if our Saviour will but do to much as remember him in his Kingdom, he desires nothing more: Our blessed Christ, speak comfortably to his Soul that begs it thus vehemently at thy Hands! but why do I prevent? the Bowels of our Saviour yearn to hear him; remember him? Yes, he will remember him, and he shall be with him; comfortable News! how leaps his Heart at these fo-blessed Words? his Desire is granted, and Heaven is assured, and the Spirit of God, yea, the God of Spirits thus testifies it unto him, To day shall thou be with me in Paradise.]

Thus far of the certainty of Salvation, thou shalt be but as the Grant is sweet that is certain, so is it yet more acceptable if done with Expedition: and here is both the Certainty and Expedition, Thou shalt be. When? to Day. with me in Paradise.

To Day.]

Our Saviour defers not that he promises, but as he quickly hears, and quickly grants: so he quickly gives him Paradise, and a Kingdom. This sudden unexpected Joy makes all more grateful; to tell us of Crowns and Kingdoms that we must inherit, and then to put us off with Delays, abates the sweetness of the Promise: Men that go to Suits for Lands and Livings, the Lawyers feed them with Hopes, yet one Order after another, spinning our Time to a Multitude of Terms, makes them weary of the Business: It is the Happines of this Sufferer that he comes to an Hearing, but the highest Degree of his Happines was the Expedition of his Suit; no sooner he motions, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom, but the Lord gives him what he asks upon his first Motion, To Day, ere the Sun be down, the Kingdom shall be thine, thou shalt be with me in Paradise.

But you may object, Was there no Limbus Patrum, no Purgatory to run through? but the very same Day he died, he must then go to Paradise? No; unless Limbus or Purgatory be Paradise itself, there is no such Thing at all. Some there are, that rather than say nothing, speak thus; * Christ giving up the Ghost, his Soul descended into Hell, and the very same Day was this Malefactor Partaker of Christ's beatific Vision, with the other Patriarchs in Limbus. But of how great Difference is Paradise and Limbus, we shall hear another Time: Sure it is, Christ promised not a Dungeon instead of a Kingdom, nor is Paradise a Place of Pleasure, of any such Imaginary melancholy Nature: We conclude then, To day thou shalt be with me in Paradise, it is all one to say, To Day, thy Day of Death, shalt thou be with me in Heaven, and there enjoy me in my Kingdom.

But again, you may object, That Christ rather that Day descended into Hell, than ascended into Heaven: The Creed teacheth, that after he was crucified, dead, and buried, he descended into Hell.

To answer the Objection, some go about thus: By Hell, say they, is meant Paradise, where the Soul of Christ was all the Time that his Body lay in the Grave: If this be not a Misconstruction, I am sure it is no literal Exposition, and methinks a very strange Kind of Figure it is, to express Christ's Ascent into Paradise by his Descent into Hell. Others, more probably, understand Christ's Abode in the Grave for the space of three Days: Austin, after some Turns and Wrenches concludes thus: † Est autem sensus multo expeditioni, &c. It is a far easier Sense, and freer from all Ambiguity, if we take Christ to speak these Words, This Day shalt thou be with me in Paradise, not of his Manhood, but of his Godhead; for the Man Christ was that Day in the Grave according to the Flesh, and in Hell as touching the soul, but the same Christ, as God, is alwayseverywhere. Thus he: But this will not satisfy all, and therefore they argue thus against it; † These Words (say they) must be understood of his Manhood, not of his Godhead: And why so? For, they are an Answer unto a Demand, and unto it they must be suitable: Now the Thief (seeing that Christ was first of all crucified, and therefore, in all Likelihood should first of all die) makes his Request to this Effect; Lord, thou shalt shortly enter into thy Kingdom, remember me then: To which, Christ's Answer, as the very Words import, is thus much: I shall enter into Paradise this Day, and there shalt thou be with me: But the Godhead, which is at all Times in all Places, cannot be said properly to enter into a Place, and therefore not into Paradise. Again, when Christ saith, Thou shalt be with me in Paradise; be doth intimate a Resemblance between the first and second Adam; the first Adam sinned against God, and was presently cast out of Paradise; the second Adam having made Satisfaction for Sin, must presently enter into Paradise. Now there is no Entrance but in regard of the Soul, or Manhood, and therefore to apply it to the Godhead, were to abolish this Analogy betwixt the first and second Adam.

These Reasons are weighty, but should we say with Austin, That Christ in his Soul went down into Hell, one of our * Worthies can tell us, that Christ's Soul, united to his Godhead, might do all that, and yet be that Day in Paradise: God works not laxily like Man: Satan could shew Christ all the Kingdoms of the World in the Twinkling of an Eye, and God's Expedition exceeds his. To this agrees †† another; that we have no Warrant in God's Word, so to fasten Christ's Soul into Hell for all the Time of his Death, but that it might be in Paradise before it descended into Hell. That he was in Paradise must be received, because himself doth affirm it; and that he descended into the Deep must be received also, for the Apostle doth avouch it, Rom. 10. 7. but how he descended, or what time he descended, as also what Manner of Triumph he brought thence, cannot be limited by any mortal Man. To conclude, I will not deny, but that according to the Creed, he descended into Hell, yet howsoever we expound it, metaphorically.

Heaven's Happiness.

cally, or literally, it hinders not this Truth, but that immediately after Death his Soul went into Paradise.

The Objections thus solved, now come we to the Thief thus comforted by Christ, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise. What? To Day? without all Doubts or Delays? Here is a blessed Dispatch, if we either consider the Misery endured, or, the Joy to be received.

1. In regard of his Miseries, he was a Thief condemned and crucified: We read of four Kinds of Death in Use amongst the Jews; Strangling, Stoning, Fire and Sword; the Cross was a Death, whether for the Pain, the Shame, the Curse, far above all other: We may see it in that Gradation of the Apostle, He became obedient to death, even to the death of the Cross, Phil, 2. 8. What Engine of Torture was that? it spins out Pain, it flows his Death, yet a little and a little, till it be more than any Man can think: See his Hands bored, his Feet nailed, his Legs broken, every part full of Pain from Top to Toe; and thus hangs this Thief, the poise of his Body every Moment increasing his Pain, and his own weight becoming his own Affliction; in this case were not a quick Riddance his best Remedy? were not the News of Death better than a lingering Life? Lo then, to his eternal comfort, Christ our Saviour (in the same Condemnation) grants him his Defier: What would he have: a dispatch of Pain? he shall have it this day] as Samuel's Appearance said to Saul, To-morrow (yea, to Day) thou shalt be with me, 1 Sam. 28. 19.

But secondly, here is a greater comfort, his Miseries have an End, and his Joys are at Hand; while he is even gasping in Death's Pangs, he is carried on a sudden from Earth to Heaven, from his Cross to Paradise, from a World of Woe to a Kingdom of Happiness and eternal Blits. O how blessed is the Change, when in the very Moment of Misery Joy enters! Suppose you a poor Man in the Night-time out of his Way, wandering alone upon the Mountains, far from Company, destitute of Money, beaten with Rain, terrified with Thunder, stiff with Cold, wearied with Labour, famished with Hunger, and near brought to Despair with the Multitude of Miseries; if this Man upon a sudden, in the Twinkling of an Eye, should be placed in a goodly, large, and rich Place furnished with all Kind of clear Lights, warm Fire, sweet Smells, dainty Meats, soft Beds, pleasant Musick, fine Apparel, honourable Company, and all these prepared for him to serve him, honour him, and to anoint and crown him a King for ever; what would this poor Man do? what could he say? surely Nothing, but rather in silence weep for Joy: Such, nay, far happier was the Case of this poor Malefactor; he was like the Man wandering on the Mountains, full of as much Pain as the Cross could make him; but on a sudden he and our Saviour crucified with him, both meet in his Kingdom: And, now, Lord, what a Joy enters into him, when he entred into Heaven! on Calvary he had nothing about him, but the Jews at his Feet, and the Nails in his Hands, and the Cross at his Back; instead whereof, no sooner comes he to Paradise, but the Angels, Archangels, Cherubims, Seraphims, all hug him and embrace him! imagine with yourselves, how was he astonished, and, as it were, besides himself at this sudden Mutation, and excessive Horror done unto him! Imagine with yourselves, what Joy was that, when he met our Saviour in his Glory, whom that very Day he had seen buffeted, scourged, crowned, crucified; blessed blessed day that ever could bring forth such a Change! Beloved, I know not to express it, but let your souls in some Meditation flee up from Calvary to Heaven; in the Morning you might have seen Christ and this Thief hanging on two Crosses, their Bodies stretched, their Veins opened, their Hands and Feet bleeding in abundance; the one desiring to be remembered of the other, and the other complaining that he was forgotten of his Father, Matth. 27. 46. In this doleful Cave both leaving the World, ere Night they meet again, and now what Hugs, what Kisses are betwixt them? When Joseph met with Jacob, he fell on his neck, faith Moses, and wept on his neck a good while, Gen. 46. 26. but never was any Meeting on Earth like this in Heaven: Here we have a Joseph lift out of the Dungeon to the Throne, where no sooner let, but our Saviour performs his Promise of meeting him in Paradise, at which Meeting the Angels sing, the Saints rejoice, all Harps warble, all Hands clap for Joy, and the poor Soul of this penitent Thief, ravished with Delight, what does it, or what can it do, but even weep for Joy (if any Weeping were in Heaven) to see on a sudden so great a Change as this?

Ufe. And if this be his Cave, who will not fly with Balaam, Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his? Numb. 23. 10. O let us (I beseech you) present unto our souls the blessed Condition to come, and this will be effectual to stir us up to every good Duty, and to comfort us in all Conditions whatsoever: What will a Man care for Crosses, and Losses, and Disgraces in the World, that thinks of an heavenly Kingdom?

What will a Man care for ill Usage in his Pilgrimage, when he knows he is a King at Home? We are all (in this Time of our Absence from God) but even Strangers upon Earth; here then must we suffer Indignities, yet here is the Comfort, we have a better Estate to come, and all this in the mean Time is nothing but a fitting of us to that heavenly Kingdom: As David's Time between his anointing and investing was a very preparing of him, that he might know himself, and that he might learn Fitness for to govern aright; so are the anointed Kings; as soon as we believe, we have the same blessed Anointing that is poured on our Head, and runs down about us; but we must be humbled and fitted, before we are invested: A little Time, and but a little, we have here to spend; and let this be our comfort, howsoever we fare here, it is not long ere we inherit. The affiliations of this Life are not worthy of the Glory that shall be shewed us, Rom. 8. 18. and therefore Ignatius, in a burning Zeal, durst say it; * Fire, Gallows, Beasts, Breaking of my Bones, Quartering of my Members, crushing of my Body, all the Torments of the Devils, let them come upon me, so I may enjoy this Treasure of Heaven; and well might he say it that knew what a Change would be one Day; for never was cold shadow so pleasant in hot Summer, never was easy Bed so delightful after Labour, as shall be this Rest of Heaven to an afflicted soul, coming thither out of this Valley of Tears. O then, what service should we do? What Pain should we suffer to attain this Rest? were it to run through Fire and Water, were it (as t S. Augustine said) to suffer every Day Torments, yea, the very Torments of Hell, yet should we be content to abide

it; and how much more when we may buy it without Money, or Moneyworth; we need not to part with any thing for it, but fin: This Thief (now a blessed Saint in Glory) * for a day's suffering, an half days repenting, was thus welcomed to Heaven; imitate we him in his Repentance, not in his delay; he indeed had Mercy at the last calf, but this Privilege of one infers not a common Law for all: One finds Mercy at the last, that none should despair; and but one, that none should presume. Be then your sins as red as scar-let, you need not despair, if you will but repent; and left your Repentance be too late, let this be the day of your conversion, now abhor sins past, fue out a Pardon, call upon Christ with this Thief on the Cross, Lord remember me, remember me, now thou art in thy Kingdom; thus would we do, how blessing fully should we die, our Consciences comforting us in Death's-pangs, and Christ Jesus saying to us at our last day here, our day of Death, our day of Disolution, To day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

Use 2. Let us admire at this free gift of Christ; it is true, I may press upon you doing, suffering, faith, Repentance, yet understand aright, Gospel-conditions make not the gift less free; if life be offered to a condemned Man, upon condition that he should beg, and wait, before he have his Pardon, and take him for his Lord who hath thus redeemed him; all this is no satisfying of the Justice of the Law, especially when the condition is also given, as it is by Christ to all his chosen; Christians! admire at this; surely we shall admire at this when we come to Enjoyment; me thinks I hear this blessed Thief thus speak in Heaven; O Jesus what didst thou see in me, that thou shouldst judge me meet for such a state as this? that I who was a Robber, a Thief, should be clad in the brightness of this Glory? that I who was but lately groaning, weeping, dying, should now be as full of joy as Heart can hold? Alas! what was my Prayer, my Tears my Repentance, to such a Reward as this? O when a self-denying, self-accusing, humble Soul, who thought himself unworthy the Ground he trod on, and the Air he breathed in, unworthy to eat drink, or live, shall be taken up into this Glory; he who durft scarce come amongst, or speak to the imperfect Saints on Earth, because he was unworthy; for this soul to find itself rapt up into Heaven, and closed in the Arms of Christ, even in a Moment, do but think with your selves, what the transporting, astonish-ing Admiration of such a soul will be? Now if such admirings be in Heaven, admire now, begin we now to admire at this free Grace, free Gift of Christ, who will one day freely say to us, To day shall you be with me in Paradise.

We have dispatched with Expedition this dispatch, this Expedition, to day ] the next day you shall hear the Happi-nefs of this grant, which is the Society of our Saviour, thou shalt be: with whom? with me ] in Paradise.

With me]

And is he of the Society of Jesus? yes, ( though no Jesuite neither, for they were not then hatcht ) but what noble Order is this, where the Saints sing, Angels minister, Archangels rule, Principalities triumph, Powers rejoice, Do-minations govern, Virtues shine, Thrones glitter, Cherubims give Light, Seraphims burn in Love, and all that heavenly Company ascribe and ever give all laud and Praises unto God their Maker? Here is a Society indeed, ( I mean not of Babylon, but Jerusalem) whither Jesus our Saviour admits all his Servants, and whereto this Thief on the Cross was invited, and welcomed, Thou shalt be with me in Paradise.

* I speak of Sufferings and repenting as Means, not as the cause.

For if with me I then with all that is with me, and thus comes in that blessed Company of Heaven; we will only take a View of them, and in some scantling or other you may guess at Heaven's Happiness.

With me] and therefore with my Saints; blessed Man that from a crew of (Thieves by one Hour's Repentance) became a Companion of Saints: And now he is a Saint amongst them: What Joy is that he enjoys with them? O my Soul, couldst thou so steal Heaven by remorse for sin, then mightest thou see-- What? all those Millions of Saints that ever lived on Earth, and are in Heaven: There are those holy Patriarchs, Adam, Noah, Abraham, and the rest, not now in their Pilgrimage toiled to and fro on Earth, but abiding for ever on Mount Zion the City of the living God: Heb. 12. 22. There are those goodly Prophets, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and the rest, not now subject to the Torments of their cruel Adversaries, but wearing Palms, and Crowns, and all other glorious Ensigns of their victorious Triumphs; there live those glorious Apostles, Peter, Andrew, James, John, and the rest not now in danger of Persecution or Death, but arrayed in long Robes, washed and made white in the Blood of the Lamb, Rev. 7. 14. There live those Women-Saints, Mary, Martha, and that Virgin-Mother, not now weeping at our Saviour's Death but singing unto him those heavenly Songs of Praise and glory, World without End: There are those tender Infants (an hundred forty four thousand, Rev. 14. 1, 3, 4.) not now under Herod's Knife bleeding unto Death, but harping on their Harps and following the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. There lives that noble Army of Martyrs, (they that were slain upon the Earth, Rev. 18. 24.) not now under the merciless Hands of cruel Tyrants, but singing and saying their Hallelujahs, salvation, glory and honour, and power be unto the Lord our God, Rev. 19. 1. There dwell all the Saints and servants of God (both small and great, Rev. 19. 5.) not now fighting in this vale of Tears, but singing sweet Songs that echo through the Heavens; As the voice of many Waters, as the voice of mighty thundrings, Rev. 19. 6. to is their Voice saying, Hallelujah, for the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth. And is not here a goodly Troop, a sweet Company, a blessed Society and fellowship of Saints? O my soul, how happy art thou to be with them! yea, how happy will that day be to thee, when thou shalt meet all the Patriarchs, Prophets, Apostles, Disciples, Innocents, Martyrs, the Saints, and servants of the King of Heaven? why thus happy and blessed is this penitent Thief: No sooner entered he into the Gates of Heaven, but there meets him with Musick and dancing, Luke 15. 23. all the Quire of Heaven, and (Lord what a Joy entred into his soul when his soul entred into his Master's Joy?) Tell me (could I speak with thee that dwelleth in the Heavens) what a day was that, when stepping from the Cross, and conducted to Paradise, thou wast there received with all honourable companies and Troops above? there did the Patriarchs meet thee, and the Prophets hug thee, and the Martyrs strike up their Harps to bid thee welcome to the Tabernacle of Heaven. Such Honour have all his Saints that attain the fellowship of the Saints in Glory.

But more then so, thou shalt be with G g g g me me, and therefore with my Angels:
Lo, here a bleffed Company indeed, there are the heavenly Chorifters eternally singing Jehovah's Praise: The Seraphims cry aloud, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of Holies, Itai. 6. 3. an Army answer to the Anthem, Glory to God on high: The whole Quire of Heaven add the Burthen, Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive honour, and glory, and power;
for thou hast created all things, and for thy fake they are and were created, Rev.
4. 11. O heavenly Harmony consisting of ten thousand times ten thousand various forts of Music! I heard ( faith Job, the morning Stars finge together, and the Sons of God shout for joy, Job 38. 7. There are thewinged Chorifters of Heaven, whom John the Divine heard finging their Songs of Hal-lelujah and Hofanna; I heard ( faith he ) the voice of a great multitude, as the voice of many waters, the voice of many Angels finging, and faying, Hal-lelujah, and again Hallelujah: There are the nimble Posts of Heaven, whom Jacob saw flying up and down the Ladder, Gen. 28. 12. There are the Protectors of the Godly, whole Aid God promifed the Israelites; Behold, I fend an Angel before thee to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee to the place which I have prepared, Exod. 23. 20. There are the Guardians of God's Children, of whom our Saviour told his Disciples, that in Heaven their angels always beheld the face of his Father, Matth. 18. 10.
There are the Armies of God, who meeting Jacob in his Journey, he faid,
This is God's Hof, Gen. 32. 2. There are the Spirits and Minifters of God, whom David defcribing by the Purity of their Subftance, and Readinefs of their Obedience, he calls the Angels Spirits, and his Minifters a Flame of Fire, Psalm 104. 4. They are finging and singing Stars, winged Chorifters, nimble Posts of Heaven, Protectors of the Godly, Guardians of Children, the Armies of the Almighty, the Spirits and Minifiters of the great Jehovah.

What bleffed Company is this we fhall enjoy in Heaven? there is Nothing in them but is amiable, Nothing in them but is admirable: O that this Clay of ours fhould come to dwell with those incorporeal Spirits! and yet fee here a Man, a Thief, the worft of Men; by his Confefion and Contrit-on, and Faith in Christ, is now become a Companion with Angels.

Nor is that all, Thou fhalt be with me, not only with my Saints and Angels, but with me ( with my Soul ) in Paradife. His Soul indeed was there, fhould come to dwell
with those incorporeal Spirits! and yet see here a Man, a Thief, the worft of Men; by his Confefion and Contrit-
on, and Faith in Christ, is now become a Companion with Angels.

Nor is that all, Thou fhalt be with me, not only with my Saints and Angels, but with me ( with my Soul ) in Paradife. His Soul indeed was there, for us became Man; it is he that for the salvation of our souls hath took upon him a Body and Soul. And think now with thyfelf, whoever thou art that readeft ( if thou wilt but spend thy few evil Days in his Fear, and to die in his Favour ) what a Comfort it will be unto thee to fee the Lamb fitting on his Sea of State? If the Wife men of the East came fo far, and so rejoiced to fee him in the Manger, what will it be to thee to fee him fiting and glittering in his Glory? It John Baptist did leap at his Presence in his Mother's Belly, what shall his Presence do in his royal and eternal Kingdom? It passeth all other Glories (faith Aubin) to be admitted into the inestimable Sight of Christ his Face, and to receive the Beams of Glory from the Brightness of his Majesty: Nay, should we suffer Torments every Day, or, for a Time, the very Pains of Hell itself, thereby to gain the fight of Christ, and of his Saints, it were nothing in Comparison. No wonder then, if Paul desire to be dissolved and to be with Christ, Phil. i. 23. Alas, who would not be so? O most sweet Saviour (faith one devoutly) when shall this joyful Day come? when shall I appear before thy face? when shall I be filled with thy excellent Beauty? when shall I see that Countenance of thine, which the very Angels themselves are so desirous to behold? An happy Time sure it will be to each faithful Soul; and thus happy was this Man, he parted sorrowfully with our Saviour on the Cross, but he met him joyfully in his Kingdom, those sweet Souls that both left the World at one Time, no sooner had Heaven-gates opened unto them, but with mutual Kisses they embraced each other in unspeakable Manner.

Nor was this all; thou shalt be with me, not only with my Soul, but with my Godhead: This indeed was the Height of Bliss, the very Soul of Heaven's Joy itself; let aside this, and crown a Man with the Empire of all the Earth, the Splendour of Heaven, the royal Endowments of a glorified soul, the sweetest Company of Saints and Angels, yet still would his Soul be full of Empiines, and utterly to seek for the purest Sanctuary whereon to rest: Only once admit him to the Face of God, and then presently, and never before, his infinite Desire expires in the Bosom of his Maker: I deny not, but the other Joys in Heaven are transcendant and ravishing, but they are all no better than Accorislories to this Principal, Drops to this Ocean, Glimpses to this Sun. If you ask, How can our souls enjoy this Godhead? I answer, Two Ways; first, by the Understanding, secondly, by the Will. The Understanding is filled by a clear, glorious sight of God, called, Beatistical Vision; We shall see him face to face, faith Paul, i Cor. i. 12. We shall see him as he is, faith John, i John 3. 2. For, as the Sun by his Beams and Brightness enlightens the Eye and the Air, that we may see not only all other Things, but also his own glorious Face; so God, blessed for ever (in whose Presence ten thousand of our Suns would vanish away as a darksome Mote) doth by the Light of his Majesty, so irradiate the Minds of all the blest, that they behold in him, not only the Beauty of all his Creatures, but of himself; and thus shall we see and know that glorious Mystery of the Trinity, the Goodness of the Father, the Wisdom of the Son, the Love and comfortable Fellowship of the Holy Spirit; nothing that can be known, but in him we shall know it, in most ample Manner.

But seeing Vision is taken from sense, it may be demanded, what our bodily Eyes shall see in Heaven? I answer, 1. The glorious Manifestations of the Presence of God in some such sort as was on the Mount, where we find mentioned a bright cloud, and his clothes were white as the light, and his face did shine, Mat. 17. 2, 5. Or, as when God appeared in Solomon's Temple, where the glory of the Lord filled the house, that the priests could not enter, 1 Kings 8. 11. Now this was a visible Glory, and surely some such, but a far more excellent ...
Manifestation is in Heaven obvious to the very Eyes of Saints. 2. The glorified Bodies of the blessed Saints full of Beauty and Brightness: it is said that at the Day of Judgment at the right Hand of Christ, shall stand a Company of glorious Creatures, but on the left Hand shall be an ugly Company, and many of them deformed; for if we credit Durandi, their sins not being taken away, the Fruit of sin will still remain upon them, as Lamens, Blindness, Maimedness, &c. but in Heaven all Comlines, and Excellency will appear in the Saints, for they shall be as Jewels made up; now a Jewel must be cut and polished, it must have a Luster set upon it, and be set in Gold before it be made up, and thus must the Saints be, and so they shall appear one to another. 3. The glorified Body of our blessed Saviour; we shall see him that is dearer than all our Friends, that died for our sins, not in his Humility, but in the Brightness of his Glory.

2. The Will is for ever satisfied with a perfect, inward and eternal Communion with God himself; Christ that is God and Man, by his Manhood assumed, unites us unto God, and by his Godhead assuming, uniteth God unto us; so that by this secret and sacred Communion, we are made Partakers (and as it were Possessors) of God himself: O bottomless Depth, and dearest Confluence of Joys and Pleasures everlasting! Here is the Perfection of all good Things; the Crown of Glory, the very Life of Life everlasting! And well may it be so, for what can the Soul define God will not be unto her? It is he that is eminently in himself Beauty to our Eyes, Music to our Ears, Honey to our Mouths, Perfume to our Nostrils, Light to our Understanding, Delight to our Will, Continuation of Eternity to our Memory; in him shall we enjoy all the Varieties of Times, all the Beauty of Creatures, all the Pleasures of Paradise. Blessed Thief, what a Glory was this to be admitted to the Society of Christ in his Diety! Thou shalt be with me; how then should he be but happy? Where could he be ill with him? where could he be well without him? In thy presence there is fulness of joy, and at thy right hand are pleasures for evermore; Psalm 16. 11. Joy, and Fulness of Joy; Pleasures, and everlasting Pleasures: Blessed are all they that live in thy house, O Lord, for they shall praise thee eternally, world without end, Psa. 84.

But a little to enlarge on this. To be with the Godhead, implies these seven Things: 1. The Presence of God. 2. The blessed Vision of God. 3. The happy Union with God. 4. The glorious Communion with God. 5. The Fruition of God. 6. The Rest that the Saints shall have in God. 7. The Enjoyment of themselves in God.

1. To be with God, implies the Presence of God; Heaven it self were not Heaven without the Presence of God: It is the Presence of God that makes Heaven whatsover it is; David would not be afraid tho he walked in the valley of the shadow of death, so that God were with him, Psalm 23. 4. + Luther would rather be in Hell with God's Presence, than in Heaven God being absent. And if the Presence of God takes away Dread of the shadow of the Valley of Death, and makes Hell to be more dreading than Heaven, what will the Presence of God make Heaven to be? The three Children in the fiery Furnace with God's Presence were happy, how happy then are the Saints with God's Presence in Heaven? God made rich Promises to Moses, yet he could not be satisfied without the Presence of God; If thy Presence be not with us, bring us not hence, Exod. 33. 15. And the Apostle when he would let out the Milestones of those that are damned, he saith, They shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, 2 Thess. 1. 9. Now the Presence of God must needs be the Happiness of the Saints:

1. Because this must needs draw out all their Graces in all the sweet favour of them, While the King sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof; Cant. 1. 12.

2. The Presence of God quickens all the Comforts of the Saints, and keeps them always in Vigour and Activity; as the Sun quickens Things that lay dead, so God's Presence hath a quickening Power, it keeps the Comforts of God's People green and lively: When they shall be presented faultless before the presence of his glory, it shall cause exceeding joy, Jude 24.

3. The Presence of God fills the Souls and Bodies of the Saints with Glory; for it fills the Heavens with Glory, much more must it fill an immortal soul with Glory, because that is more capable of Glory than Heaven: it is true we can put Glory upon these dark creatures here below, much more can the Presence of God put Glory upon the glorified Bodies and Souls of the Saints.

2. To be with God, implies the beatific Vision of God: The Saints shall be where he is, and they shall see his face, Rev. 22. 4. Behold, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that when he shall appear, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is; John 3. 2. The Glory of this may appear in these Particulars.

1. To see God as the first Being of all, or, the Principal of all Good; this is a most blessed Thing: To see Adam the first Father, or, Eve the first Mother of Mankind, or for a Child to see his Father and Mother, out of whose Loins and Bowels he came, whom he hath not seen in many Years, this is a Joy and Comfort; but to see the Creator, the first Principle of all Things, that must be a great, an infinite Contentment, and to see him that hath done all the Good in the World, hath much satisfaction in it. Show us the Father, and it sufficeth, John 14. 8.

2. To see God in his Unity; whereas now we understand God only according to his several Attributes, as the Manifestation of the infinite Simple; his Being in one Way we call Power, in another Way we call Mercy and Bounty, in another Way Justice, and so we apprehend God according unto the several Attributes that God hath manifested himself in: Whereas there are not many Things in God, but all these several Attributes that we apprehend diversely, are but one Excellency in God; as one Beam of the Sun shining through a red Glass causes a red Reflection, and the same Sun shining through a blue Glass causes a blue Reflection; and so the same Excellency of God shining one Way, we call by one Name, and the same Excellency of God working another Way we call by another Name, and yet it is all one in God; and tho we cannot apprehend it now, yet we shall see God in his Unity afterward.

3. To see God in the Trinity; tho there be but one God, yet there are divers Persons; to see how the Father begot God the Son, and how the Spirit did proceed from the Father and the Son, and the Difference between the Pro-
Heaven's Happiness

Precognition of the Spirit, and the Generation of the Son; the light of God in the Mystery of the Trinity is a most glorious Thing.

4. To see God in his Glory; there is a Promise that they shall see the King in his beauty, or, in his glory, Isa. 33. 17. There is a great deal of Difference between seeing the King at an ordinary Time, and seeing him when he is in his Robes, with his Crown upon his Head, and his Scepter in his Hand, and set upon his Throne, with all his Nobles about him in all his Glory. So God doth manifest himself a little now, but this is not all that he doth intend, he will manifest himself in his Glory; and oh, what a Happiness is that!

5. To see God in his Eminency; the Saints shall see how all Excellencies that are in the Creatures, are eminently contained in the absolute Perfection of the Divine Nature: All the Good that is in the Effect, is in the Causes; and the Good of those Causes in their Causes, and so at length they come to the first Principle: So all the Good that we can see in all Objects that give Content, we may see all eminently in God, and see God in all.

6. To see God as he is: Now there is a great deal in that to see God as he is, 1 John 3. 2, and for Explication of that, there are these three Branches.

1. Not to see him only negatively, for that is not to see him as he is: The most that we see of God now, is, by Way of Negation, rather than any positive sight: When we say of God, He is Incomprehensible, that is, he is such a God as cannot be comprehended, that is but Negation; when we say of God, He is Infinite, that is, he is such a God as hath no Bounds of his Being; this is still a Negation, to say what God is not: But now in Heaven, we shall not see God only by Way of Negation, but we shall see that positive Excellency of God, We shall see him as he is.

2. Not to see him only in his Effects in the Creature: The greatest Part that we see of God now, is, in his Effects, and not as he is in himself; we do not see the Face of God, but his Back-Parts; we look upon the Sun, and there we see somewhat of the Power of God, but it is but the Effect of God's Power, and not God's Power itself: But then We shall see him as he is.

3. Not to see him undistinguished from the Creatures. Here now we see almost Nothing of God distinguished from created Things: Say what you will of God, that he is a Spirit, that is, a created Thing; that he is wise, or holy, or just, or merciful, there is somewhat of all these in the Creature, only he is infinitely above all, and this by way of Negation: But we do not see him in that positive Excellency which does difference him from all created Things; only in Heaven we shall thus see him, We shall see him as he is.

7. To see God by a transforming sight. The Light that shall come from God upon the Mind, it shall perfect the Mind, and transform the Mind into the same Likeness with God. It shall not be a mere notional sight, as Men may speak much of God, and have a notional Vision of God; but there is a great Deal of Difference between the notional Vision of God, and Deific Vision of God: It is not only beatific, but Deific; for it doth transform a Man into the Likeness of God. A deformed Man may see a beautiful Object, and that sight shall not make him like that beautiful Object; but the Sight of God shall make the Soul glorious as God is glorious; We shall be like him, 1 John 3. 2.

8. To see God so as never to lose him:
him: This adds much to the Happiness of the Saints. To have but one Glimpse of the Face of God, tho' it were gone presently, it were a great Happiness beyond all that the World affords; but God shall not only pass by, but stand still, so as the Soul shall never lose the sight of God, but it shall have it to all Eternity, and the Eyes of the Soul shall be eternally opened to see God. If a Man looks upon a delightful Object, he is loath to have the Eye drawn from it: You shall never have your Eye drawn from God.

9. To see God in our selves. It is an Happiness to see God in the Creature, but much more to see God in our selves. The chiefest of the Glory of God, next to that which appears in Jesus Christ as God-man, shall appear in the Saints; and the chief Excellency of God that the Saints shall see, shall be within themselves; they shall see more of the Glory of God within themselves than in all the Heavens besides.

3. To be with God, implies the happy Union with God. Sight is higher than Presence, and Union is higher than Sight. And thus Christ prays to his Father, That they may be one in us, as thou art in me, and I in thee, John 17.

21. Now that there shall be such a wonderful glorious Union between God and the Soul in Heaven, appears upon these Grounds.

1. There is not such Distance between God and the Soul, but that it is capable of Union with God: One would think, how is it possibile that God should be so united to the Soul, being there is such an infinite Distance betwixt God and the Soul? But there is no such Distance, as that there should not be a glorious Union betwixt them. There is a great Deal of Likeness betwixt God and the Soul. 1. In the Spirituality; God is a Spirit, and the Soul is a Spirit. 2. In the Immortality; God is immortal, and the Soul is immortal. 3. In the high Excellency of God, the Understanding and Will; the Soul is endued with Understanding and Will.

2. God shall see nothing but himself in the Souls of his Saints. Now Things that are of a like Nature, do unite: Bring an hot Fire-brand to the Fire, and it doth unite presently, because the Fire doth find something of itself there; if there were some Moisture in the Brand, it would not so fully unite. So here we cannot have full Union with God, because tho' God see somewhat of his own in us, yet there is a great Deal in us that is not God's. But when we shall be wholly free from sin, and God shall see nothing but his own in us, that must needs be a ground of a most glorious Union.

3. There shall be an infinite inflamed Love betwixt God and his Saints: indeed here is an Union of Love, but in Heaven there will be a further Degree of Love; and Love being inflamed, there must needs be a glorious Union.

4. The Bond of Connexion of God and the Soul together, requires it; namely, the Meditation of Christ. Of this Union with God is enough to cause the Souls of God's People so to be satisfied, as to say, Tho all Things be taken from me, it is enough, I have somewhat of God's Presence here, but I shall have the glorious Presence, and vision, of God and union with God hereafter, and the mine Eyes should never see good Day after, or never see comfortable Object in this World, this is enough, I shall see God, and have full Union with God: the God should rend this Creature, or that Creature, the dearest Husband, or the dearest Wife, or the dearest Comfort in the World from me; yet it is enough that God and my Soul are somewhat uni-is a familiar Converse between God and the Saints. And herein are these Particulars:

1. God manifests himself in a suitable Way to the Conditions of his People, so condescending to their Condition, that tho’ his Majesty be infinite, yet it shall no way be a Terror unto them. The Scripture speaks of the familiar Converse that God hath with his People here, that they are called Friends: Abraham was called the Friend of God, and the Disciples were called Friends; but hereafter the Friendship shall be much more full and sweet.

2. God opens himself to his Saints. Much is said of God’s opening of himself to his People here, Psal. 25. 14. Prov. 3. 32. 1 Cor. 2. 16. Cant. 1. 4. They are brought into his chamber, that is, he discovers his secrets to them. The Mysteries of the Kingdom are revealed to the Saints here, much more in Heaven: God will there reveal all his secrets; they shall not only see his Face, but they shall see God’s Heart.

5. To be with God, implies the Fruition of God. Now this Fruition of God consists in these Things.

1. There is in Fruition a reflex Act of the Soul, whereby it comes to know what it hath. It hath a God, and it knows it by a reflex Act; and upon this it is, that there is no Creature can be said to enjoy a thing properly, but the rational Creature. And this will add much to the Happiness of God’s People, in that as they shall be filled with Happiness and Glory, filled with God, so they shall know all their Happiness.

2. There is in Fruition the having Use of all. If a Man be never so rich, and have never so great Possessions, if he have not the actual Use of what he hath, he cannot be said to enjoy them. A Man may have right to a Thing, and yet for the present not enjoy the Use of it: But now the People of God, as they shall have God to be their portion, so they shall enjoy God fully, to have what use they will of all the Attributes of God, and all that is in God: and this is an infinite good and Happiness to the People of God, that they shall have as much Use of God's infinite Wisdom, infinite Power, infinite Mercy, as they will; and they cannot will it so soon, but they shall have it, nor so easily, as they may enjoy it. Then we enjoy the Benefit of Friendship, when one Friend says to another, Make use of all I have, as your own, as you will: so shall God come to his People, and bid them make use of all his Riches, and glory, and Excellency as they will.

3. There is in Fruition the Sweet and Comfort of all that we do use, or else we do not enjoy that we have. It a Man should have the Use of his Estate, and Meat and Drink, if he have not the Sweet and Comfort of it, he cannot be said to enjoy it; but when the Comfort is let out, that the Soul is sensible of it, then he may be said to enjoy it; and hence it is that God is said to give all things to us richly to enjoy, 1 Tim. 6. 17. He gives the Thing, and he gives the Comfort with it, and so a Man is said to enjoy it.

6. To be with God, implies the Rest that the Soul hath in God. The Term of all Motion is Rest; every Thing that moves, moves that it may have Rest; Return, O my soul, unto thy Rest, Psal. 116. 7. God is the Rest of the Souls of the Saints; therefore it is an Expression of an Ancient (Aulfin) O Lord, thou hast made us for thee, and our Hearts are unquiet till they come to enjoy thee.

7. To be with God, implies the Enjoyment of the Saints in God. As they shall enjoy God, and God in themselves, so they shall enjoy themselves in God, living in God continually. Your life is hid with Christ in God, Col. 3. 3. The Life of Saints here is an hidden Life, and it is hidden in God, but then it shall be a revealed Life, and revealed in God, and enjoyed in God. Hence is that Phrase, Enter into your Master's joy; that enters not into you, but you must enter into it: it is your Master's Joy, not only that Joy that your Master gives, but the same Joy your Master hath, that you shall enter into and live in. And it was said of John, that he was on the Lord's day in the spirit, Rev. 1. 10. It is not said, that the Spirit was in him, but it is said, he was in the Spirit; that was as a beginning of the glorious Condition of the Saints of God, that they shall be in the Spirit of God; not only God in them, but they in God; as a Drop of Water in the Sea swallowed up in it. There are three Degrees of Love to God; loving of God for ourselves, and loving God for himself, and loving ourselves for God; the one is but a natural Love, the second is a gracious Love, the third is a Love of the glorified Saints; and in this Kind of Love of God, and Enjoyment of ourselves in him, the Soul shall be ravished with God, and be in a Kind of Extasie eternally.

Here you may see that most People in the World mistake Heaven; they look at Heaven and God in a Sensual Manner; where are they that look at Heaven in these Spiritual Excellencies, about enjoying God, or being with God in this Manner? As the Jews looked for a carnal Messiah, whose Kingdom should be in the Earth, and whose glory should be external, not considering the Spiritual Kingdom of Christ; so Mofi in the World look but for a carnal Heaven. It is a good Evidence of the Truth of grace, if you can look to Heaven's Happiness.

Heaven with a right Eye, in a right Manner, to look at the spiritual part, and spiritual Excellency in Heaven. I conclude,

You see now Heaven's Society, they are Saints, and Angels, and Christ, and God blessed for ever and ever.

U2. Who then would not forswear Father and Mother, the dearest Fellowship of this World to be with Christ in his Kingdom? You that love one another in the deepest Bonds, who cannot part out of this Life but with the Survivers grief, and Hearts break: tell me what a merry Day will that be, when you shall not only meet again, never more to part afunder, but when Christ our Saviour shall gladly welcome you, every one of you, into his Society, Thou shalt be with me; and let me speak to the Joy of us all, I mean all broken-hearted Christians, (as for you that are profane ones, you have your Portion here, therefore stand you by, and let the Children come to their share) a Day will come, I trust in the Lord, when I shall meet you, and you me, in the Kingdom of Heaven; a Day will come, I trust in the Lord, when you and I shall be all admitted into the society of God, and of Christ, and of his Saints, and of the Angels; a Day will come, I trust in the Lord, when with these eyes we shall behold our Redeemer, together with that Thief that was crucified with him; a Day will come, I trust in the Lord, when we shall meet again with all the saints that are gone afore us; and is not this a Comfort? What shall we say, when we see our Saviour in his Throne, waited on with Mary his Mother, and Magdalen, and Martha, and Lazarus, and Paul and Peter, and all the Apostles and Disciples of our Lord and Saviour? Yea, when this Thief shall be presented to our View, the Wounds in his Hands, and his Feet shining like stars, and pearls and Rubies, all his Body glittering in glory, and his foul magnifying the Lord for his conversion and salvation world without End.

U2. But stay, lest we be led too forward, there is no such Thing for us, if now we are not in the Covenant of grace. Heaven is both happy and holy, and if we would enjoy Heaven, then we must fit our selves to that Estate to which God hath preserved us: To this Purpose faith the Apostle, Our conversation is in heaven, from whence we look for the Saviour, Phil. 3. 20. He was assured of Heaven, and therefore he conversed as a Citizen of Heaven before he came there, every way he carried himself, as much as Earth would suffer him, like them that live in Heaven; and thus must we, if ever we go to Heaven, become like to those that are in that Place. Devote not your selves, neither whoremongers, nor adulterers, nor extortioners, nor the like, shall enter into the kingdom of God, 1 Cor. 6. 9. Do Men who live in these sins without all Remorse or Repentance ever think to go to Heaven? Is it possible that ever any flesh should go out of the Puddle into the Paradise? No, no, Away ye workers of iniquity, I know you not, faith our Saviour, Mat. 25. 41. Let no Man cherish Presumptions of an heavenly Kingdom, except he abstain from all sins against conscience. What then? but so live we here as becomes his servants, and thus when we part, it is but for better company: we lose a few Friends, but we shall find him that welcomes all his with this heavenly Harmony, Thou shalt be; with whom? with me, in paradise.

Hitherto of the Society. The last thing considerable is the Place, or Ubi, where his Soul arrived; but of that hereafter, as the Lord shall enable me.
me. God give us all grace so to live here that howsoever we go hence one after another, yet at last we may all meet together with our Lord and Saviour in his heavenly Paradise.

In Paradise.

And where was that? Our Adversaries say in Limbus, and yet, to give them their due, Bellarmine so means not as that Limbus was Paradise, but that in Limbus this Thief had his Paradise, to wit, the Vision of God: The Vision of God (faith Bellarmine +) is a true Paradise indeed, not local, but spiritual. But, with Bellarmine’s Leave, we have no such sense of Paradise in any Part of holy Writ. In the old Testament we read of an earthly Paradise, wherein Adam lived; in the new Testament we read of an heavenly Paradise, whither Paul was caught; yet both these were local; for the one, faith Moses, was a garden eastward in Eden, Gen. 2. 8. and the other, faith Paul, was in Heaven, which he calls the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2. And that Paradise in my Text must be understood of Heaven, this Resemblance confirms; the first Adam sinned against God, and was presently cast out of that Paradise on Earth; the second Adam made Satisfaction for sin, and to must presently enter into this Paradise of Heaven: because of the fin of the first Adam, both he and all his Posterity were thrust out of Eden; because of the sufferings of the second Adam, both he and we, this Thief, and all Believers are to go into Heaven: so then this Paradise whither Christ is gone, and this Thief went with him, what is it? but as Paul calls it, the third heaven?

or as the Thief himself filed it in his Prayer to our Saviour, Remember me; where? in thy kingdom.

And if this be it we call Paradise, what can we say of it? It is not for us, faith Bernard, in these earthly Bodies to mount into the Clouds, to pierce this Fulness of Light, to break into this bottomless Depth of Glory; this is referred to the last Day, when Christ Jesus shall present us glorious and pure to his Father, without Spot or Wrinkle. And yet because God in his Word doth here give us as a Taste of Heaven, by comparing it with the most precious things that are on Earth, let us follow him so far as he hath revealed it, and no further.

In the midst of paradise is a tree of life, Rev. 2. 7. and this tree bears twelve manner of fruits, yielding her fruit every month, Rev. 22. 2. What more pleasant than Life? and what Life better than where is Variety of Pleasure? Here is a Tree of Life, and the Life of the Tree; a Tree of Life that renews Life to the Eaters, and the Life of the Tree bearing Fruit every month; and as many Months, so many Fruits; such are the Varieties of Heaven’s Joys, where Youth flourisheth that never waxeth old, Change of Delights, and choice too enthrall that never knoweth End. But look we a little further; John, that calls this Place Paradise, Rev. 2. calls this Paradise a City, Rev. 21. and hereof he gives us the Quantity and Quality, the Bigness and Beauty: 1. For the Greatness of it; An Angel with a golden reed measures it, and he finds the length, and the breadth, and the height are equal. 2.

Heaven's Happiness.

For the Beauty of it, The walls (faith he, of Jasper, and the foundation of the walls garnished with all manner of precious stones, the twelve gates are of pearls, and the streets paved with pure gold: there is no need of Sun or Moon, for the glory of the Lord lightens it; and the Lamb (Christ Jesus) is the light thereof*. See here the Excellency of this City: On which Words, to give you a short Comment, We'll begin first with the Greatness of it: The Angel lets it down, twelve thousand Furlongs, Verse 16. Yet, that we may not know this certain Number, it is but figuratively taken, you may guess at the immeasurable Magnitude of this City by those many Mansions spoken of by Christ, John 14. 2. In my Father's house are many mansions: How many? So many (faith † one) as would suffice infinitis mundis, a thousand Worlds of Men; and tho' all the Men of the World attain not to it, it is not for Want of Room, but of Will, they believe not in him who hath prepared these Seats for them. And guess it you may by that incredible Distance between Heaven and Earth. Some Astronomers compute, that betwixt us only and the starry Firmament, there is no less than ‡ seventy four millions, seven hundred three thousand, one hundred, eighty Miles; and if the Empyrean Heaven (as many say) be two or three Orbs above the starry Firmament, how many more Miles is it then beyond? and the further it is distant, we all know well enough) the Heavens being Orb-wise, and one comprehending another, that which is turthest or highest, must needs be the greatest; hence it is that Scriptures compare the Height of Heaven, and consequently the Magnitude, to the Perfection of God past finding out, Canst thou by searching find out God? It is high as heaven, what canst thou do? Job 11. 8.

2. If such be the Immensity, what think you is the Beauty? It is a most glorious City, whose Walls are of Jasper, whose Building is of Gold, whose Gates are of Pearls, whose Foundation of precious Stones: And if such be the Gates and Streets, what are the inner Rooms? what are the Dinning-chambers? what are the Lodging-Rooms? O how un-speakable is the Glory of this City! Kings shall throw down their Crowns before it, and count all their Pomp and Glory but as Dust in Comparison; and well they may: For what is an earthly Kingdom to this heavenly Paradise? where is Mirth without Sadness, Health without Sorrow, Life without Labour, Light without Darkness, where every Saint is a King, adorned with Light as with a Garment, and clad in the richest Robes that God bestows upon a Creature.

But that which more especially commands the Beauty of this City, is, the Lutre of it, There is (faith John) no need of Sun or Moon, it is verus Olympos, wholly Light itself, not like the starry Firmament, bespangled here and there

* Rev. 21, from the 19 Verse to the 25; Some understand this of a glorious Church on Earth, which must be after the Destruction of the Whore, Beast, Dragon, and all covert and open Enemies; which new State will abode till Glory come: Their chief Argument is drawn from Verse 24. I shall not much contradict the Comment of others, tho' as yet I am not fully convinced of it.

Heaven's Happiness

with glittering Spots, It is all as it were one great, one glorious Sun †, from every Point it pours out abundantly whole Rivers of purest Light, and then what a Light is this?

Nor is this all: For the Glory of God lightens it, and the Lamb is the Light thereof; besides the native Luster, there is the Glory of God, the Glory of all glories; this is it for which Moses prayed, O Lord, I beseech thee shew me thy glory; to whom God answered, Thou canst not see my Face and live, but I will put thee in a cleft of the rock, and will cover thee with my hand while my glory passeth by, then will I take away my hand, and shalt see my back-parts; but my face shall not be seen, Exodus 33. 18, 20, 21, 22, 23. And if Moses' Face shone so bright with seeing God's Back-parts, that the Israelites were afraid to come nigh him, and that he was fain to cover his face with a vail while he spake unto them, Exodus 34. 30, 33. How bright then is Paradise, not only lightned with the Back-parts of God, but with his own divine glory? From the Majesty of God, (* faith a Modern,) there goes out a created Light, that makes the whole City glitter, and this being communicated to the Saints, God thereby causeth that they see him fully Face to Face.

Again, The Glory of God, and the Lamb of God both give their Lights; that Lamb that was slain from the Beginning of the World, that Body of his once crucified, now brighter than ten thousand Suns, O how infinitely glorious doth it make this Paradise, this City of God? His countenance is as the Sun that shineth in his Strength: With John, Rev. 1. 16. But what Stars are those in his Hands and Feet? Where the Nails pierced, now it sparkles; where the Spear entred, now it glittereth gloriously: If we look all over him, his Head and his Hairs are as white as Snow, his Eyes are as a Flame of Fire, his Feet like unto fine Brass, as if they burned in a Furnace, Rev. 1. 14, 15. No Wonder then if such Beams come from this Sun, the Sun of Righteousness, that all Heaven shine with it from the one End to the other.

And yet again, The Lamb and the Saints all give their Lights: For, We know that when he shall appear, we shall be like him, 1 John 3. 2. How like? why? He shall change our vile bodies, that they may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, Philip. 3. 21. In what like? even in this very Quality, for, They that be wise shall shine, Dan. 12. 3. How shine? As the brightness of the Firmament: Nay, more, as the stars, faith Daniel: Nay, more, as the Sun, faith our Saviour: Nay, yet more, faith † Chrysofom; howsoever the Righteous in Heaven are compared to the Sun, Matth. 13. 43. It is not because they shall not surpass the Brightness of it, but the Sun being the most glittering Thing in this World, he takes a Resemblance thence only towards the expressing of their Glory. Now then what a Mass of Light will arise in Paradise, where so many millions of Suns appear all at once? If one Sun make the Morning-sky so glorious, what a bright flaming and glorious Day is there, where's not a Body but 'tis a Sun? Sure it is,

Heaven's Happiness.

There shall be no night there, no need of candle, no need of Sun, or Moon, or Star, Rev. 21. 23. O that this Clay of ours should be Partakers of such glory! What am I, O Lord, that being a Worm on Earth, thou wilt make me a Saint in Heaven? This Body of Earth and Dust shall shine in Heaven like those glorious Splanges in the Firmament; this Body that shall rot in Dust, and fall more vile than a Carrion, shall arise in glory, and shine like the glorious Body of our Saviour in the Mount of Tabor.

To come near my Text: See here a Saint-thief shining gloriously; he that was crucified with our Saviour, at whose Death the Sun bid his Face with a Vail, now he reigns in Glory without need of Sun; for he is a Sun himself, shining more clearly than the Sun at Noon: He that one Day was fastned to a Cross, now walks at Liberty through the Streets of Paradise, and all the Joys, all the Riches, all the Glory that can be is poured upon him. What else? He is in Paradise, and what is Paradise but a Place of Pleasure? where sorrow is never felt, Complaint is never heard, Matter of sadness is never seen, Success is never feared, but instead thereof, there is all Good without any Evil, Life that never endeth, Beauty that never fadeth, Love that never cooleth, Health that never impaireth, Joy that never ceaseth; what more could this Penitent wish, than to hear him speak that promised Paradise, and performed his Promise, To Day thou shalt be? Thou art with me in Paradise.

And thus in a Map have I given you Paradise; for Quantity great, for Quality glorious; hereafter you may know it better, when you shall walk through the Streets, observe the Towers, fully contemplate the Glory; which that you may, one Word of Application before I end.

Use 1. * Meditate then with what sweet Delight every true Servant of God may bath himself beforehand, even in this Valley of Tears! Did we but think on this glorious Place, wherein are those heavenly Mansions prepared for us, did we spend many Thoughts upon it, and ever and anon figh and seek after it, until we came to the fingering and Possession of it; O how would these heavenly Meditations ravish our souls, as if Heaven entred into us before we entred into Heaven! Consider of this, in what Case foreever we are, whether we are vexed or injured, or oppressed, or persecuted for the Name of Christ; there is nothing so imbittered, that a thought of Heaven will not sweeten; yet I say not that we are only to think of it, withal, let us strive and strain to get into this golden City, where Streets, Walls, Gates, and all is Gold and Pearl; nay, where Pearl is Puddle, and nothing worth in Comparison of those Things which shall be revealed unto each faithful soul.

Use 2. On the other side, Consider with yourselves what Fools are they who deprive themselves willingly of this endless Glory, who bereave themselves of a Room in this City of Pearl for a few carnal Pleasures? What Bedlam's and human Beasts are they, who shut themselves out of

* For Meditation hereof, see it fully and largely in Medit. in Meditation of Heaven's Happiness, Chap. 8. Seif. 7, 8, 9, &c. Third Edition.
Paradise for a little transitory Pelf? What Sots, and senseless Wretches are they, who wittingly and wilfully bar themselves out of this Palace, for the short Fruition of worldly Trash and Trifles? As for you, of whom I hope better Things, let me advise you for the Love of God, for the Love of Christ, for the Love that you bear to your own Souls, that you will settle your Affections on Things above, and not on things beneath; and then you shall find one Day the Comfort of it, when leaving the World, the Spirit of Christ shall whisper to your Souls this happy Tidings, To Day shalt thou be with me in Paradise.

Here is an End; shall I now cast up the Account of what I have delivered you? The Total is this:

Every Sinner that repents and believes, shall be saved: You need no other Instance than this Thief on the Cross, at one hearty Tear, one penitent Prayer, Lord, remember me in thy Kingdom, the Lord gives him his Desire; see here the Fiat, Thou shalt be; the Expedition, to Day; his Admission, with me; the Place whether he is inducled, it is into Paradise; and there now he officiates, doing service to God without ceasing, World without End.

O Lord, give me Grace so to repent and believe, that whensoever I go hence, that Day I may be with thee in Paradise. A M E N.
